

SOCIAL EVENTS PLANNED FOR WEEK-END

EGGEBRECHT TO COACH HERE

LETTER MEN BACK; MANY CANDIDATES MAKE HOPES HIGH

Walter J. Hunting, Former
Coach, Leaves For Post
At Duluth

Carl Eggebrecht, former director of athletics at Marshall High School, Minneapolis, Minn., has been chosen to guide the destinies of the Point College teams this year upon the resignation of Walter G. Hunting who has left to coach in a large high school in Duluth, Minn. The new Stevens Point mentor comes praised and recommended especially from Minneapolis, where he developed, in three years, a grid machine that lost the championship by the score of 7-6. (That one point difference reminds us of last season's basket ball scores.)

To continue the biography, Eggebrecht graduated from Wausau High School and spent the following two years at River Falls Normal where he played on championship football, basketball, and baseball teams. During the next four years he attended Y. M. C. A. College at Springfield, Mass., and here developed as a football man, playing end for two years against some of the larger universities of the East. Upon his graduation he coached at Heidelberg University and at Lombard College with marked success; then at Marshall High School where he pepped up athletics to a championship basis. While we were all sorry to hear of Coach Hunting's departure and we wish him the best of luck and success, at the same time we feel sure that Coach Eggebrecht will carry on the work with lots of the old fight.

Grid Outlook Good

With practically a full line up of letter men back the football outlook is anything but gloomy. The following seasoned warriors are expected back: Albrecht, Bannach, Kennedy, Precourt and Weronke as linemen, and the Holmes duet, Marsh, Charlesworth and Captain Paukert in the back field. Prominent athletes from near and far are planning to wear the purple and gold on the field of battle this fall. Ted Lyons of LaCrosse, a football and basketball man of considerable ability, and a 10 second man in the 170 yard dash is expected. Hank Swan of Stevens Point, a former College player, is understood to be planning to return. Bill Richardson, of Stambaugh, Mich., is bringing two huskies from the Michigan wilds. Marshall, a basketball man from Red Granite, is also expected. A young Hercules from New Lisbon, Puisee by name, a Freshman student at Wisconsin last year, is another star who may be here. And last but not least, several members of last year's squads from Wisconsin Rapids and the local High School are planning to enroll under Point colors. With these and the additional yearly influx of material, Stevens Point College has a bright athletic future. LET'S GO!

McDonald Uncertain

At the time this paper goes to press, Forrest McDonald, star of last year's football and basketball teams, has not definitely decided to come back to Point College.

Debate Class To Begin At Once

It is planned to arrange the debate class this year at such an hour that anyone may join it. It will probably be held at 3:05. Last year there were thirteen members, but this year the call comes for more material. It is from this class that the teams are picked. Last year the team won second place in State Forensics, but this year first place is all that will satisfy. The teams who represent the school are picked only from this class and not from the student body in general.

Expect a Larger Enrollment Here

Enrollment outlook shows a very bright future for S. P. N. Long before the day to register arrived many inquiries had been sent in to the Registrar and even some credits.

In regard to credits of transfer, for the benefit of the new students all papers must be in the hands of the Registrar promptly upon enrollment. A physical examination is required of all new students as well and it is best to have this taken care of and the doctor's signature handed in with credit papers.

Last year there were approximately four hundred students enrolled. This year the outlook is such that there can be expected as many and more. Although of late years the faculty has been not quite as large as formerly, the school still is well equipped to take care of a student body of four hundred and fifty or more.

Nelson Hall Filled; Plan Girls' Party

Nelson Hall has filled up to its full quota this semester and at least half the girls are new. There are included in the list of old girls a few whose faces may be familiar only to third year students. These girls have returned after a year or more of teaching and are now back to get their degrees. There are certain difficulties to be experienced in settling the girls in their permanent homes, which can not be avoided in any dormitory. It is hoped this year that there may be no such trouble.

In the near future plans will be made for parties for the new girls. Custom has set certain parties down as expected affairs. Among these are the nights set aside for calling. This enables the girls to become well acquainted and relieves the stiffness. Later a big party will be held for all the girls. Miss Rowe states that Nelson Hall parties are what might be called a "big scream" since they inevitably start with a scream and end with a good many.

WHAT'S WRONG HERE?

All good debaters come back to school a week ahead of time. Allen McVey felt that it was his duty to plan to arrive at Point College on time. (If not ahead of time!)

Or was it lack of a calendar up in Withee, Allen?

Classes To Be Cut This Year

Old students will be happy to find that the eight o'clock classes are a thing of the past and the new students will come to realize the blessings of the new system, too, when they have come in late a few mornings. The school day has been considerably shortened this year. The first class in the morning will begin at 8:15. The exact schedule follows: 8:15-9:10; 9:10-10:05; 10:05-11:00; 11:00-11:50; 1:15-2:10; 2:10-3:05; 3:05-3:55. This plan cuts 35 minutes off the former school day and allows just that much more time for extra-curricular activities.

As it has been the policy of the administration to raise the standards of the school each year, it has been decided that this year the number of credit hours will be cut for almost every class. The standards will also be raised by lowering the number of hours of work a student may carry. Eighteen hours was the average schedule last year; this year it will be sixteen hours. Although students have had a little trouble in transferring their credits to universities in the past, the new ruling going into effect this year puts our school on a par with the best schools in the country.

Burroughs Plans For Big Season In Drama

Extensive plans have been laid this year toward the success of the Public Speaking classes. The classes will meet the second period and for the first eighteen weeks will devote themselves to the production of a series of one act plays. These plays will be coached by the students as well as put on by them.

The second eighteen weeks will find the classes hard at work on a Senior Class play. No doubt the great success experienced by last year's Senior Class play will be well remembered. The play chosen for last year, "The Fool" by Channing Pollock, was an exceedingly difficult one for amateurs. In spite of that, it was well put on and equally well received. The success was such that the play was repeated at the Summer session of the college.

Other small plays will be produced as well. Of note to the students is that this is a two semester course. Only Seniors will be selected for the Class Play and preference will be given those who have had some experience. Mr. L. M. Burroughs, instructor in this course and head of the English Department, states that he has great expectations for the success in dramatics this year.

Teachers On Leave To Study For Year

As well as seeing new faces in our midst the old students will be sorry to notice that several are missing from our ranks. Mr. C. Evans of the science department has been granted a leave of absence and is at present studying at the U. of Chicago. Likewise Miss Garnette Foster, Physical Director for the women, and Miss Welch are away on leaves. Both are at school. Miss Welch who was formerly our Librarian is studying at Columbia U.

FACULTY ARRANGE FIRST RECEPTION TO START SEASON

Expect Large Crowd At Mixer To Be Held Friday, Sept. 23

Following past custom the Faculty Reception will take place Friday evening September 23. The Reception will be held in the gymnasium in order that an informal dance may be held afterward. Exceptionally good music has been arranged for and as this is the first event on the social calendar of Stevens Point College it may be looked forward to with much anticipation.

Renew Acquaintances

Always difficult to start a "first affair", it is doubly so when half the people are strangers. One of the main reasons for so early a reception is to enable the students to become well acquainted with one another. The principal factor in any school is cooperation on the part of the student body and this can be obtained only among friends. In order that the reception may be a complete success every student should be present and contribute to the best of his ability. Mr. T. A. Rogers who is Chairman of the Social Committee announces that there have been special events planned to wear off the first newness. In fact there will be what may be classed as a good old-fashioned mixer after the reception and everyone will be given a splendid chance to make new acquaintances and renew old ones.

Plan Entertainment

Although it can not be definitely stated at this time it is hoped that there can be entertainment of a very interesting sort. Old students will recall with pleasure the good times experienced at past Faculty Receptions and cannot fail to appreciate the good time in store. Heretofore it has been difficult for new students to become acquainted, but this year it is hoped that old students will make even more of an effort to become acquainted with new-comers and to help the new-comers to know each other better.

All evidence points to one of the most successful receptions in the annals of Stevens Point College.

State Superintendent May Speak Thursday

The first regular assembly of this year will be on Thursday at ten o'clock. At this time it is hoped that Mr. Callahan, State Superintendent of Schools, will be present to address the student body. Mr. Callahan has been invited to do so, but the season is a pressing one and he may not be able to come.

Mr. Callahan has gained an enviable reputation throughout the state for his oratorical powers. He not only gives forth splendid arguments, but he gives worthwhile information. It is unfair to Mr. Callahan to give the impression that his speeches are prosy. They are far from that. Wit and a brilliant repertoire are sprinkled all through the Superintendent's addresses with a lavish hand.

A student body is difficult to address, but let it suffice to say that invariably just such bodies always enjoy, to the fullest extent, anything which Superintendent Callahan may have to say.

The true interest of all knowledge lies in its growth. The very mistakes of the past form the solid ground on which the truer knowledge of the present is founded. Would a mathematician be a mathematician who had not studied his Euclid? Would an astronomer be an astronomer who did not know the Ptolemaic system of astronomy, and had not worked his way through its errors to the truer views of Copernicus? Would a philosopher be a philosopher who had never grappled with Plato and Aristotle? Would a lawyer be a lawyer who had never heard of Roman law? There is but one key to the present — that is the past. There is but one way to understand the continuous growth of the human mind and to gain a firm grasp of what it has achieved in any department of knowledge — that is to watch its historical development. This is the duty of our schools and universities.

No doubt, it will be said, there is no time for all this in the hurry and flurry of our modern life. There are so many things to learn that students must be satisfied with results, without troubling themselves how these results were obtained by the labors of those who came before. This really would mean that our modern teaching must confine itself to the surface, and keep aloof from what lies beneath. Knowledge must be what is called cut and dry, if it is to prove serviceable in the open market.

Experience, however, has proved this to be false. The cut-and-dry knowledge which is acquired from the study of manuals or from so-called cramming is very apt to share the fate of cut flowers. It makes a brilliant show for one evening, but it fades and leaves nothing behind. The only knowledge worth having, and which lasts us for life, must not be cut and dry, but, on the contrary, it should be living and growing knowledge, knowledge of which we know the beginning, the middle, and the end, knowledge of which we can produce the title deeds whenever they are called for. That knowledge may be small in appearance, but remember, the knowledge required for life is really very small.

We learn, no doubt, a great many things, but what we are able to digest, what is converted in succum et sanguinem, into our very lifeblood, is by no means so much as we imagine in our youth. There are certain things which we must know, as if they were part of ourselves. But there are many other things which we simply put into our pockets, which we can find there whenever we want them, but which we do not know as we must know, for instance, the grammar of a language. It is well to remember this distinction between what we know intuitively, and what we know by a certain effort of memory only, for our success in life depends greatly upon this distinction — on our knowing what we know, and knowing what we do not know, but what, nevertheless, we can find if wanted.

It has often been said that we only know thoroughly what we can teach, and it is equally true that we can only teach what we know thoroughly.

American parents will select small colleges near their homes for their children if they follow the advice of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, noted educator and health authority.

The great universities with present-day enrollments of 5,000 to 25,000 are like factories, turning out graduates supplied with specified facts on certain subjects, but they lack the advantages of intimate contacts between teacher and students and the congenial community life which develops character and fosters culture, he declares, writing in Good Housekeeping for September.

"One dollar expended at Hanover, a small college in Indiana, gives as much culture as five at Harvard. As a graduate of both institutions I can truly make this statement.

"The real specific benefit of the small college, lies in the fact that its students are individuals. They know their professors. They are not simply a number in a huge herd, without recognition or individuality.

"The whole benefit of personal contact with the professor, the advantage of his personal and sympathetic attention and his interest in each individual character as it is unfolded before him during the years of the association, are all lacking in this mass instruction.

"The safety of the future, the purity of learning and the efficiency of teaching are all intimately bound up with the small educational unit," his article concludes.

Their tunes I love to bawl;
For, luckily, the new songs,
They need no voice at all.

SOCIETY

Social Year Ahead Announcement Soon

Beginning a heretofore unestablished custom the Pointer has been issued on the first day of school. Since the student body at large are not residents of the town it has been impossible to gather student social news. However plans have been made for various organizations and faculty members to remedy this need and we may all look forward to an extensive social year.

Among these plans are those for a student mixer. At the time the Pointer goes to press there were no definite statements at hand, but announcements will soon be made regarding the dance.

Minneapolis Fetes Coach Eggebrecht

Mr. and Mrs. Eggebrecht, formerly of Wausau, but who have moved to Stevens Point prior to Mr. Eggebrecht assuming his duties of Coach in Stevens Point Normal have been guests at many affairs in their honor while in Minneapolis. Among the parties given were a dinner at the Lafayette Club, a bridge dinner at the St. Paul Athletic Club, and a bridge luncheon for Mrs. Eggebrecht. Mr. Eggebrecht was athletic director in Marshall High School in Minneapolis.

Most of Faculty Camp This Year

Like all other humans, faculty members do go on vacations. Unfortunately it has been impossible to get to all of our teachers and wrest from them their summer experiences. Dr. Baldwin says that he spent a comparatively quiet summer working, except for two weeks which he spent at Columbia Lake with his family. Mr. and Mrs. Garby spent a week at the cottage of the Rightsell's. Miss Rowe, after departing from her tonsils, spent her time at her cottage on Pelican Lake. While there she tried to become a carpenter, but after driving sixteen nails, quit and decided she could not qualify. Mr. Steiner was in the North Woods for three weeks and although he was within boating distance of Canada, he proclaims himself still innocent. In fact, he says that it was not necessary for any boating to be done. The "Canadians" have instituted hydroplane service. Mr. Schmeekle spent some time on Mr. Herrick's farm where he got in some fairly good fishing. The past week-end he has been engaged in hunting prairie chickens. The Rogers were at Penn. State University where Mr. Rogers enrolled in the six weeks course. However he was taken ill and forced to return. Since that time they have been camping on Clark Lake. After their return they also spent some time in Bloomington, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers have recently returned from a conference which took place in Appleton. Mr. Watson, after his return from a course of study at the University of Chicago, has been visiting relatives. Mr. Burroughs, after putting in some time at institute work at Wabash College, spent a week in the North Woods. The University of Chicago again claimed one of our professors; Mr. E. T. Smith was there for the six weeks course. Afterward he and his family spent some time at Miss Rowe's cottage on Pelican Lake and at Mr. Rightsell's cottage.

Choose Miss Mansur As School Librarian

The position of Librarian is to be held this year by Miss Lulu M. Mansur, successor to Miss Eleanor Welch. Miss Mansur has been at Stevens Point since 1911. Before that time she studied at the Library School, Columbia University. Miss Mansur has also done work in public libraries and in University of Chicago Library. The positions of Assistant Librarians will be filled by Miss Ethel Malec who is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin Library School and Miss Mary Gustin of Wautoma who is a graduate of Stevens Point Normal and has had experience in Milwaukee libraries.

New Faculty Members Numerous This Year

Many new teachers have been engaged to take the places of outgoing teachers. Carl Eggebrecht, Coach and Athletic Director for the men, is successor to Coach Hunting. Mr. Eggebrecht is a graduate of River Falls Normal and Y. M. C. A. College at Springfield, Mass. He has acted in the capacity of coach at Lombard College, Heidelberg University, and at Marshall High school in Minneapolis, Minn. Miss Garnette Foster is replaced by Miss Eva M. Seen who is a graduate of Knox College, Ill., and who has received an M. A. in Education and in Physical Education. She has been teaching this summer at Illinois State Normal University. Miss Florence Brown, for three years a teacher in a Seattle school, comes here as Primary critic. She is a graduate of the State Normal of Washington and has a B. A. from the University of Washington. Miss Hanson, former critic in the Intermediate Department, will take the place of Miss Courts, as critic in the Junior High School Department. Miss Lydia M. Pfeiffer has been engaged to take the position of Supervisor of the Intermediate Department, as a successor to Miss Hanson. Miss Pfeiffer is a graduate of Oshkosh Normal and of the University of Wisconsin.
