Mr. Farbman Heard By Admiring Crowd

Students and citizens were afforded a rare treat Wednesday evening when Harry Farbman, noted violinist, entertained the public at a recital.

Mr. Farbman is an American violinist and the large crowd which was present to hear him play seemed unanimous in voicing the opinion that he is an artist of which America may be proud.

Miss Margaret Engler assisted at the piano.

The following is the program which he so ably rendered:

  - II. Concerto E. Minor ..... Mendelssohn

Coeds Make Record and Accept No Rides

The first real snow did not keep the girls in who had planned a hike. On Saturday afternoon, twelve girls hiked all the way to Plover and back. At Plover they refreshed themselves with hot chocolate. The journey back was a struggle, but no rides were accepted. The girls hiked fourteen miles in three hours. Can anyone show a better record?

The tennis courts have been in use up to the last minute. Many are hoping for better weather again so they can play tennis.

The volley ball season will begin immediately after Thanksgiving vacation. The days have not been set, but notices will be up after Thanksgiving.

Program Committee: Virginia Fish, Chairman, Marilla Roberts, and Irene Skutley.

Finance Committee: Elizabeth Skinner, Chairman, Merle Quarne, and Genevieve Pulda.

NO POINTER NEXT WEEK

Due to the fact that school will close Wednesday noon, November 28th, for the Thanksgiving recess, there will be no issue of "The Pointer" next week.

Seasonal Decorations and Events are Arranged by Committees

Students will have a last chance to celebrate before the Thanksgiving recess, Friday night in the college gymnasium at eight o'clock.

The seniors, who are sponsoring the party, have decided to make it the success of the social season. Seasonal decorations and entertainment are being planned by the committees.

This party will start a tradition, it is believed, for an annual senior entertainment just as the freshmen last year set the precedent by giving a Christmas party.

Allen's Orchestra Plays

The dance will begin promptly at eight o'clock to music furnished by Allen's Orchestra. Entertainment, both formal and informal will be furnished for intermissions. The formal entertainment will consist of trio selections by three college young men, and a dance by Kathryn Ritchey. The faculty and student body in general will participate in the informal contests and stunts.

After the stunts there will be a formal grand march. The dance program will be sprinkled with tag dances, circle two steps, etc.

Plenty of fun is assured everyone who comes and no admission fee will be charged.

RECORDS SET BY GRADUATES

It would be natural to suppose there would be included in graduates and former students in Normal schools some who had made their mark in other fields than education. Thus we have Mark Sullivan, a graduate of a Pennsylvania Normal school, who is one of the two or three foremost political writers in our country; and Mussolini, the Italian Premier, is a graduate of such a school in Italy, and taught a year or so after he graduated.

Two of our former students deserve mention as members of this class, Clifford Anderson and Donald Hay. Anderson came from near Scandinavia and Hay's father was manager of the sanatorium south of town. During the war Anderson was in the department that had charge of communication by radio between aeroplanes and the ground, and is now working in the research laboratories of the General Electric in Schenectady, N. Y., where it is understood he has done some valuable work. During the war Hay was associated with Max Mason, mathematician and member of the University of Wisconsin faculty, in developing the submarine finder electrical apparatus. It is understood that Hay got a portion of the royalty from this invention. Max Mason, as is well known, became President of the University of Chicago and has recently accepted the position as head of the research work of the Carnegie Foundation—probably so chosen because of his work referred to above. Hay is now in Madison and engaged as an engineer in searching for hidden metals by means of specially devised electrical apparatus.

Anderson and Hay were sharks when in school in the physical sciences and mathematics. Anderson's reputation in mathematics preceded him in this school. Who knows how many persons of these young men's type are now in attendance here? Dr. J. V. Collins.

ATHLETICS VS EDUCATION

Is it possible for a school to have a high standard in athletics as well as in regular curricula work? Personally I believe that the answer is yes.

Here is my reason for wishing that my school sets a high standard in the educational field and also in outside curricula activities, whether it be athletics, dramatics or forensics.

I feel that the atmosphere of personality surrounding an individual may be both personal and general. Having benefited by the quality of work required of me in the classroom, I should be in a position to impress my future business associates of the intensive training which I have undergone while in Central. That comprises the personal element in the atmosphere. It is up to each one of us, individually, to strive toward a high goal after we leave the shadow of our Alma Mater.

What about the general element of the atmosphere which our school can also contribute? Championships in athletic contests, brilliancy in forensics, unquestionable sportsmanship in any competitive contest—these are the things which we may be proud of and which we may boast of in the future.

This general element won't get us jobs—that is up to us—it will help to increase others respect for us when we do make good. C. G. L.

HIGH LIGHTS FROM GLENN FRANK

We have the habit of discovering new knowledge without assimilating it.

Half as much teaching and twice as much learning is our need educationally.

Our major outdoor sports are football and baseball; our major indoor sport is "kidding ourselves".

Our credit system is obsolete. We should use our tests and make capacity the only entrance requirement. How absurd, to refuse entrance to a student because he has not done a certain semester's work in algebra, etc., or to have him make it up in the university without credit, when it has no relation to the subject he is to make his major.

A LOVER'S KNOT

Jack: "Let's get tied."

Margaret: "Let's knot."

QUOTATIONS

Miss Davis: "All my ancestors were blondes."

Freshie: "Then you came from preferred stock."

Mc?

No. 1: "Why are Scotchmen such determined people?"

No. 2: "I'll bite."

No. 3: "Because they hate to give in."

Friend, helping inebriate fellow member up club-house stairs: "Do you think you can stand another story?"
"Well, if it's not so very funny."

The chief difference between a phonograph and a woman is that you can shut off the phonograph.

Mr. Smith had just finished a discussion on the garb of the ancient Romans.

Metelf: "What did the women wear?"

TOO BAD!

An ancient ford once climbed an oak,
It bent a fender, lost a spoke;
The front seat visited the back,
Oh, bitter end! Ye shaking hack!

The owner in another tree
Loudly wept when he did see,
His gondola, in love, embrace,
The lowly oak before his face.

"Tons of coin I've spent," he bawled,
"To keep you trim and overhauled,
And now when I am up a stump,
You ditch me for a leafy clump!"

I'm through with you, that I avow,
I'm broke and badly bent, and how!"
They hauled the wreck out to the dump,
And now it regrets its fateful jump.

The golf enthusiast remembereth the Sabbath day to keep it holey.

HOW'S THE SWIMMING?

"Now, Willie," said the teacher,
"can you give me a sentence using the word 'Deficient' in it?"

"Sure," replied Willie, "Deficient up at Jones' Creek is just dandy."

FROM THE CHESTNUT TREE

Plapper Wife: "This dress cost $100.50."

Husband: "What's the hundred for?"

PATRIOT

She: "So you kissed that painted creature."

He: "Yes, I saluted the colors."

THE FOUNT OF LEARNING

If every man knew upon entering college what he does know upon leaving, he would get an education there.

"Here's where I prove an artist
Without a brush," he cried.
And he drew a lovely maiden
Up closer to his side.

A skunk and her four baby skunks were basking in the sun when a big hound dog made his appearance.

"Children," said the mother skunk,
"let us spray."

WE AGREE

Lady (to instructor): "Don't you think that horse-back riding gives one a headache?"

Instructor: "Oh, no: quite the reverse."

ME TOO

Mother: "Oswald you should never do anything which you would be ashamed for the whole world to see."

Oswald: "Hooray! I won't have to take any more baths."

Several harmonica bands and rhythm bands also had a part in the program.

SOCIETY

NELSON HALL NOTES

The Nelson Hall family is eight dollars and sixty cents nearer the goal for an orthophonic. The wedding and dance on Saturday night provided a good time as well as a financial success.

Miss Lucille Schmidt was very happily surprised by a visit from her father and mother on Sunday afternoon.

Miss Estella Bock and Miss Lela Buttgen visited friends in Shawano over the week end.

Miss Isabel Sanderson is willing to add her name to the list of those who think that "You Never Can Tell." Friday night in her dreams she tried some unusual calisthenics with her head and as a result had to have a doctor on Saturday morning to help her move her head. She is able to nod as vigorously as ever again.

Miss Ellen Groh visited her people in Milan over the week end; Miss Alice Hougen, in Wisconsin Rapids; Miss Irene Cleaves, in Iola; Miss Dorothy Cawley, in Wausau; and Miss Eleanor Baker, in Waupun.

Rural Life Peppers Shake Out Hot Tunes

The program of the Rural Life Club which met on Monday evening, November 19, consisted of group singing, led by Mr. Neale, a piano solo, a song by a male trio, a reading, a selection by a girls' harmonica quartette, a jew's harp solo, a talk by Dr. Baldwin, a piano duet, and a violin solo.

As a fitting close to the evening entertainment, the members enjoyed a social dance, music for which was furnished by the Rural Life Peppers, a five piece orchestra.

Pretty Wedding at Nelson Hall Party

Students and faculty members were pleasantly entertained at Nelson Hall Saturday evening from 7:30 to 10:30.

A charming feature of the evening was a wedding where Miss Victory and C. S. T. C. Championship team were united in holy matrimony. Decorations costumes were very pretty and music furnished by Miss Eunice Riley and Miss Lora Dick added to the effectiveness of the performance.

The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing in the recreation room.

Advisors Entertain Students at Party

Miss Carlsten and Mr. Collins recently entertained their advisory groups at the home of Professor and Mrs. Collins.

KAMPUS KAT

It's all over with—shouting included—vacations—football games and so forth—purr purr. I believe my petitioning did do some good—we promptly got a half day's vacation. Purr—purr. I'll have to try it again when things commence getting dull. Meow!!!

Oshkosh couldn't beat us when it came to yelling—their lungs weren't strong enough. But they could and certainly did completely vanquish us when it came to Music. They had a real band, from music down to uniforms.

What's the matter with the Point beating Oshkosh in other ways than football?

If our dear officials decide to play another game, I shall organize a Cat's Chorus—only Purple and Gold Cats, instruments—vocal chords—jew's harps, and harmonicas. Can't you hear us? It'd be worse than purr—meows!

Yours for more music. Kampus Kat.

Dick Marshall, wanted to celebrate the victory last week so he takes his dame out for a buggy ride in his T Model. As he was going down Main Street he happened to put his arm around her and was spotted by Archie, our traffic officer, who shouted, "Hey, young fellow, use two hands!" "Can't", said Marshall, "Who'd steer?" Curtain!
