STUDENTS EAGERLY AWAIT HOMECOMING

SCHOOL WARRIORS TO MEET OSHKOSH IN GRID CONTEST

MAKE ELABORATE PREPARATIONS FOR HOMECOMING EVENTS

Homecoming week is here at last after much talk and planning. The fun begins to-morrow night and if there is any student in Central College who will not be present at all of the festivities, it must be because he is either deaf, dumb, or indifferent.

Homecoming at "The Point" has always been looked forward to by the students and faculty with great pleasure, and this year there seems to be even greater anticipation than before, and No Wonder! Committees have been racking their brains for every possible device that will make this a success. They have determined that no one will lack excitement. There will be something doing at every hour. The faculty and various student groups are planning individual stunts. Each one is guaranteed to be a prize winner.

PLAN LARGE BON FIRE

To-morrow evening at 7:30 a tremendous bon fire will be built on the back campus. There some alumni and local people will act as speakers and give stump speeches. After this the evening will terminate in a torch-light parade downtown.

Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock, the G. A. A. girls will give a hockey demonstration for the early risers. At the same time the final tennis match of the girls' tennis tournament will be played off.

Then at 10 o'clock comes the "Big Parade". This parade is designed to outdo all parades previously held in Stevens Point. The best part of it is that everybody rides. Nobody walks! Every organization is planning a float. Prizes will be given for the best float and for individual stunts.

FOOTBALL GAME AT 2:30

At 2:30 begins the game with Platteville. So far the Royal Purple have lost no game and with the support which will be given Saturday another win ought to be assured.

After the game everyone is given a brief chance to rest up. For what? For the dance! Where? At the Moose Temple. What time? From 8:30 to 11:30. Allen's orchestra will furnish the music. Prizes will be awarded there to the winners of various stunts and for the best float. A prize will also be given to the alumnus or alumnae who comes the greatest distance.

The G. A. A. will conduct a booth at the dance where everyone may get refreshments. They will also sell hot dogs at the game.

Science Club Plans For First Meeting

The first meeting of the Science club will be held next Wednesday evening at 7:30.

The Science Club is an honorary association of faculty members and outstanding science students. Only the faculty members hold offices. At the election last spring the following officers were elected for this year:

President — Professor T. A. Rogers.
Secretary and Treasurer — Miss Emily Wilson.

HOME-COMING ALUMNAE AND ALUMNI of CENTRAL STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE:

Words of welcome of Alma Mater to her joyous, homing children are hardly essential. For of course she welcomes you to your collegiate home, to the midst of your younger brothers and sisters.

But I do wish to say a word of personal welcome in this way, since a meeting of the Board of Regents at which Central has rather large consideration at stake compels me to forego the pleasure of being with you on this happy occasion, I shall be with you in thought and in spirit. And may I intrude upon your gaiety just to this extent, to ask that your president may be conscious of your supporting thought and spirit as together we endeavor to demonstrate with increasing certainty the present fact and future possibilities of Central's larger and more telling service to Wisconsin.

It's a challenge to the best that we have to give. And the best is none too good for Alma Mater.

ROBERT DODGE BALDWIN

School Officers Are Elected At Meetings

After assembly last Thursday all classes met to elect officers. The seniors chose as their president, Frank Lasecki. Betty Collins was chosen as Vice President, Catherine Turish as Secretary, and Lawrence Beaudin as Treasurer.

The Juniors elected La Brot, President; Gregory Charlesworth, Vice President; and Mary Agnes Boyle, secretary and Treasurer.

The Sophomore officers were chosen as follows: President, Dick Marshall; Vice President, Myron Smith; Secretary and Treasurer is to be chosen in the near future.

The Freshman class election showed these results:

President, Ray Dagneau; Vice President, Rounds Metcalf; Secretary, Vivian Culver; Treasurer, Dorothy Kahl. The Home Economics Club held its first meeting Wednesday at 4 o'clock. The business of the meeting was to elect officers and to discuss plans for Homecoming.

The following officers were elected: President, Laurretta Wickser; Vice Pres. Dora Mae Losh; Sec. and Treas., Ann Jeslin.

The new president then took charge of the meeting and plans for a float in the Homecoming parade were discussed. A committee consisting of Elizabeth Skinner, Fern Pugh, and Marguerite Engels was appointed to take charge of this. The meeting then adjourned.

Iris Staff Decides On Scenic Structure

The Iris Staff held an important meeting last Wednesday evening. Mr. Hunting and Mr. Sutte from the John-Ollier Engraving Company spoke to the members of the staff and faculty advisors and showed plans for books.

After some consideration the staff decided upon the scenic plan for this year's Iris.

The Editor states that they have a larger staff this year and that everyone is showing a great interest.

The Associate Editor and Associate Business Manager have not been appointed yet but the Junior Class will soon hold an election for that purpose.

Y. W. C. A. Puts On Assembly Program

The Y. W. C. A. last week accepted the challenge offered by the Y. M. C. A. to put on a better pep assembly today. They called a meeting Monday evening and decided to do something novel by using the plan of a schoolroom.

Miss Ruby Libbaken, president of the Y. W. C. A., acted as the schoolteacher. In the morning, the school gave a program which consisted of singing the college songs and conducting special classes in English, Art and History.

Each pupil brought a guest to the afternoon session. The guests were members of the football team and each was cleverly introduced to the teacher by his escort.

Plenty of pep was put into the yells which were led by Rounds Metcalf.

School Alumni Make Plans For Banquet

November 8—9—10 are the dates set for the Milwaukee Teachers' Convention this year. All members of the faculty are making plans to attend, and school will close at noon on Wednesday, November 7th.

The Alumni Committee for Stevens Point College consists of Mrs. Frank Spindler, President, Mr. Joe Kraus, and Miss May Roach. This committee have planned a dinner to be given at the Hotel Miller in Milwaukee. The dinner will be given on Thurs. Nov. 8th at six o'clock and all members of the faculty and alumni are invited to attend.

The price is one dollar per plate and reservations can be made through the president, Mrs. Spindler.

College Flower Sale Conducted By G.A.A.

The Chrysanthemum Sale begins today immediately after assembly. This sale is being conducted by members of the G. A. A. for the purpose of raising proceeds for Homecoming.

The chrysanthemums are of gold paper tied with purple ribbon. They serve as an excellent means for each student to exhibit his school colors at the game.

POINTERS BATTLE STOUT INSTITUTE FOR 25-7 VICTORY

CAPTAIN WERONKE AND CO. WIN FOURTH STRAIGHT VICTORY

Though Stout may have been entertaining its old graduates and likewise celebrating Homecoming, last Saturday, it was of little concern to Captain Ben Weronke and his football team. Fighting like they haven't fought before this season, the Point took the honors of the day when they capped a hard earned 25 to 7 gridiron victory.

Receiving the first kickoff, the Point eleven marched directly down the field for three first downs in a row. Something went wrong in attempting to make the fourth first down and McDonald punted out of bounds on the Stout 12 yard line. After trying the line for one play, Stout kicked. It was a poor kick and Laabs returned it to the 30 yard line, two attempts at the center of the line put the ball on the 20 yard line from where Rezatto took it over the goal on a nice run around right end. Laabs kicked the goal. Stout chose to receive the kick and Laabs kicked to Schwartz who was downed in his tracks on the 35 yard line. Thrusts at the Point line netted little yardage for the Stoutmen and they kicked to Laabs. The Point took possession of the ball and kept it the majority of the rest of the quarter.

POINTERS USE PASSES

In the second period, Rezatto made a beautiful 45 yard run behind excellent interference. A pass, Laabs to Rezatto, brought 20 yards more and after several smashes off tackle the ball was put in position to score. McDonald drove over the line to bring the Purple's total to 13, Laabs failed to kick the goal. Again Stout received and again Stevens Point held. Unable to make anything through the line the home team resorted to passing and made a few yards. In this period, Decker of Stout broke loose for a long run only to be called back because he had been forced out of bounds by Fleetham, Point tackle. As the period was nearly at an end the Pointers again found themselves in a scoring position. Laabs carried the ball across for the final score of the half. His kick was low and the half ended with Stevens Point having 19 and Stout 0.

STOUT SCORES ON PASS.

The third quarter was more or less Stout's. Coming back more determined than ever they shot passes all over the field. A number of them were successful and a long pass Schwartz to Greeley scored the only touchdown for Stout. Paciotti kicked goal. The third period ended with Stevens Point still having a total of 19 while Stout picked up 7.

The fourth quarter again showed Stevens Point's superiority. The play was mostly in the Stout territory. Laabs made a touchdown near the end of the game and failed to kick the goal.

Dagneau's blocking was spectacular for the Point. Laabs and McDonald also scintillated while Rezatto made some fine runs.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

You, students of C. S. T. C., must surely have felt an urgent need pulling at your purse strings. A student's purse is always a source of continual worry to him; yet every student feels a five dollar bill take flight each semester for apparently no reason at all. Very few of the students know where that five spot goes, yet they do not stop to question its usage. It is very well to put an unquestionable faith in the institution, but deep in every one of us is the business man; at least, it should be. A business man accounts for every dollar. Can you?

In order to know and control the usage of that five spot, it is essential that a commission be selected from the student body to act for the student's interest.

Last year two plans were explained. The students were urged to select one of them. Both of these plans were somewhat cumbersome as political machines, and both had their disadvantages.

We have here a quick-acting and efficient plan of a solid foundation, which would prove a boon to the student body. It consists of a board of four members. These members are the presidents of the respective classes. They select from the student body, outside of their own members, a man to act as head of this body. The board acts under the orders of the head man, or general, and the students act under the orders of the presidents. This general is responsible to the board for his actions or decisions, while the board, in turn, is responsible to the student body. Thus, you see, that an arrangement of this sort is very solid. It is efficient in the execution of the wishes of the student body.

It is an acknowledged fact that something must be done in this matter. The sooner it is done, the better.

Students, let's get behind the thing and push. United we progress, but divided, we remain stagnaft. See ye to it.

STOUT'S HOMECOMING

Stout certainly must be complimented upon the hospitality shown to its visitors last Saturday. The cordial reception which was given the Pointers at the game never faltered even in defeat when later at the dance, everyone was made to feel at home. That was true school spirit and the "Pointer" wishes to take this opportunity to extend its heartiest thanks in behalf of the team, the coach, and the visitors for the pleasant reception given.

Comments of students at Stout could be summed up in the following admission: "Central State certainly has a wonderful team; much credit is due your coach, Carl Eggebrecht, for the magnificent football machine which he has built for your school; this team should make athletic prospects for the future more rosy."

Though the group of students from Central State at the game was small, it far surpassed the regular student body when it came to cheering the team on to victory. The boys appreciated it and so did the coach. They also appreciated the spirit of those who made a special effort by sending them reminders in the form of telegrams. Miss Roach is more endeared to the student heart than ever before because of her demonstration at Stout.

Credit is due the boys for their win. When praising the backfield for their spectacular playing, don't forget the remarkable playing of the line that tore holes in Stout's line, that blocked and held, and that gave the ball carrier such beautiful interference.

Just what success will we have with our Homecoming this Saturday? You do your part and it will be a huge success.

Stout had between ten and fifteen floats — some artistic and some humorous. Why shouldn't we have at least that many?

Another thing that impressed one was that all freshmen had to wear the conventional green cap. That in itself created an unexplainable atmosphere which one sensed while in Menomonic.

Any good reason why we can't benefit from examples of other good Homecomings and make ours a regular "whopper" with plenty of "whoopee"?

Happy Fleetham, prominent S. P. T. C. grid man, recently sent to Sears Roebuck for a pair of glasses, due to failing eyesight.

Here's why! Happy and Jack Rezotti were sitting in the hotel lobby at Menominee, when out of a clear sky, two neat clothes-horses on spikes aukled past the window, enveloped in a breeze of French perfume. Honestly, those pictures had the best frames and Happy was all for taking them home. He waved, grabbed his hat and Jack, and he started in pursuit. Judging from the back, he grabbed ahold of the best one's arm and started to tell his past history. After a block he shut up and didn't say a word until they reached the Dorm. Jack had to keep up the chatter and was enjoying himself until Happy's girl turned around to say good-bye — Jeepers snikes, as he would say — She had a hair lip. Happy wasn't happy at all just then and hasn't been ever since. So he's ordered glasses, and has for his motto: "One look at the front is worth six at the back". This is strictly confidential so don't let him hear about it. The truth hurts!

Three Point warriors liked the baby quite so well they nearly stayed at Stout last Saturday. Anyhow Mike Smith, Pill Albrecht and Nip Chesrown decided to look the burg over, so they inspected everything from the no'ice station to the garbage collector. Everything was first rate until they hit the suburbs where they found conditions terrible. First of all — Bill was hit on the nose by some concealed marks — man with a bean shooter. The Stout team was suspected but no evidence could be secured. Then Nip was shocked by the high price on Esquimo Pies, which he consumes by the dozen (if someone else pays for them.) Then, horrors, some bold, bad men were playing Mississippi Marbles in a dark dingy room, when Mike stepped in to investigate. Smitty watched awhile until he learned how to count sevens and aces, then took a hand in the proceedings. He and his companions became so absorbed in the gentle art that they never noticed the passage of time until the police chief phoned up and said Eggebrecht was looking for three bums. Being three cents out they left their regrets and hastily joined their companions in time for the trip home. Tie me to your apron strings again — — ! Oh nurse!

Clarence Teske, who fights w'ih his lips, tongue, and molars, in other language, a debater, also went on the trip, this being the first time he's ever been away from home for such a long time. Naturally an exuberant drunk, he ordered punches for dinner and drank too much juice after his mama had told him to be careful. Feeling buoyed up by the sweet liquid, he saluted forth to make the Stout girls acquainted with him and he sure did. He was the belle of the ball in the evening, tripping the light fantastic with so much abandon that people feared for their safety, and clamored to dance with Mr. Teske just to be out of his way. According to reports he dated up two co-eds to take them home but was sadly disappointed when his Point friends put him in his straight-jacket and sailed back to the city of wonderful water before Mr. Teske could break any more hearts. We don't come to town often, but when we do ! ! According to friends, Clarence also needs glasses, especially when he picked out the two he was going to escort home. They were beautifully homely! Adios till next week.

G. A. A.

Who is going to win the tennis title? Come out Saturday morning and find out. The tennis matches have not been completed in tournament "B", but in tournament "A" Culver beat Marsh — 3-6, 6-3, and 6-3.

Riley beat Maes — 6-1 and 7-5. Culver and Riley are matched in the finals. They will play Saturday morning at 8:30.

At this same time a girls' hockey game is scheduled. You can watch both features during the morning, as the hockey field and tennis courts are close together.

The G. A. A. are setting the pace for a proper welcome to the alumni this year. They have arranged to serve a breakfast on Saturday morning to former members.

The breakfast will be served at the "Gingham Tea Room" at 9 o'clock. All alumni as well as present members are urged to come.

Y. W. C. A.

On account of Friday's vacation, Y. W. C. A. met in the assembly on Wednesday morning at 8:15 instead of Thursday evening. Hymns were sung and everyone read the ten commandments. The meeting closed with a reading by Miss Ruby Libbaken. The next meeting will be held as usual on Thursday night at Nelson Hall.

NELSON HALL NOTES

The past week end was one of the few exceptionally quiet ones that we have during the school year. Part of the time there were as few as thirty here; evidently they are the thirty who do not make the noise.

Committee meetings and all kinds of preparations are going on for Homecoming. It is somewhat like getting ready for a big company dinner at home.

Miss Hussey with Misses Allen, Church and Wilson spent Sunday in Antigo at the home of Mrs. Gibbs, a former member of the college faculty.

Misses Roohr and Haames entertained their people on Sunday.

Everybody went to a spread somewhere on Saturday evening. The refreshments ranged in elegance from hot dogs to ice cream and nabiscoes.

Why the red lantern? Nobody knew; probably not even "the befuddled" who left it.

GRAMMAR ROUND TABLE

A special meeting of the Grammar Round Table was held Monday night for the purpose of arousing interest and making plans for Homecoming. Committees to take charge of the Grammar's activities were appointed by Miss Evelyn Elliott, the new president. The paying of dues was discussed. There was no program as this was not a regular meeting.
