Student Art Exhibit Has Been Arranged

An interesting exhibit is now arranged in the college library of work done in the art and design classes of the Teachers' College, under the direction of Miss Edna Carlsen.

The tooled leather purses, bill folds, and card cases made by the freshman students of the Home Economics department were especially fine and showed a skillful regard to detail. The monograms and motifs were original designs worked out in art classes.

DISPLAY HOOKED RUGS

These students also have a display of hooked rugs, footstool covers and chair seats which show originality and variety in design and color. They are made mostly of silk stockings dyed the appropriate shades, although some woolen materials were used. The trend of patterns in rugs and lamp shades was toward the futuristic.

The pleated lamp shades were as skillfully made as the other work and consisted of colorful, modernistic patterns.

Students from the Primary and Intermediate departments have an attractive exhibit of brilliant color charts, book covers and lettering. Clever monograms show the use to which the knowledge of lettering has been put.

LOCALS LOSE CLOSE BATTLE; GROOM FOR STOUT STRUGGLE

(BY CARLTON LINTNER)

CENTRAL COLLEGE FALLS IN STANDINGS

Conrad Moll's golden-jersied courtiers slipped a notch in the conference ladder when they lost a hard-fought tussle with Whitewater on the foreign court last Saturday night, taking the short end of a 32 to 25 count.

From a second place tie with River Falls, the Pointers are down on an equal footing with the third place Oshkosh quint with a total of .714 percent for five games won and two lost.

LEAD AT HALF

The Purple and Golders started out with a rush which placed them ahead in the first period — 10 to 2, but the Southerners started a rally and climbed up close behind at half time, 14 to 13, the Centralites still leading.

During the second half, the Pointers' smoothly working offense began to weaken, letting Chick Agnew's boys romp ahead to a lead which they kept to the end. The Southerners made three field goals in a row to take a five point advantage and with seven minutes to go, were six points to the good. The disastrous finish can be concluded from the score.

Debators Enjoy Practice Joust

Both teams of the debate department went to Amherst last Friday afternoon for practice in debate with the Amherst High School team.

They also went to Weyauwega Tuesday afternoon for debate there and to Waupaca for a debate that evening.

CARLTON LINTNER DEBATES

Carlton Lintner is occupying the position on the affirmative team recently vacated by Floyd Higgins. Mr. Higgins is suffering from an illness which has not permitted him to return to school the second semester.

The negative team, which is composed of C. G. Theis, Frank Lasecke and Clarence Teske, will debate with representatives from St. Norbert College, West De Pere, Friday night at 7:30 in the College auditorium. As this occurs the same evening as the Freshman Party, students are urged to attend the debate first as it will close in plenty of time for all to participate in the fun in the gym.

The question for debate this year is: Resolved, that the public should retain and develop the principle hydro-electric power sources which it now owns.

Miss Holdregger Is Substitute Teacher

Miss Crystal Holdregger, a student of the High School department, was this week called to Auburndale to substitute for Miss Margaret Collins.

Miss Collins was a graduate from Central College in the spring of '28 and has been teaching English and Physical Education in the Auburndale High School.

Because of ill health, Miss Collins has been forced to take a vacation of a few weeks, during which time Miss Holdregger will fill the vacancy.

LOCALS FEAR TRIP-UP BY STOUT

The Purple and Gold aggregation is spending all its spare time in preparation for the meet with Stout at Menominee Friday night.

Although the Fat School has lost all eight of its conference engagements, it is not to be under-rated; it is the weak who love to trip up the mighty....

STOUT BEATEN HERE

Under former coach Eggebrecht, the Pointers defeated the Stout squad earlier in the season, and should have no trouble in disposing the tail-enders. The trip is a long and hard ordeal for the Central fellows; they need a good send off with plenty of pep. Help them, students, and let our slogan be — STOP STOUT.

Lets go!

Hold Conference For Supervisors

The North Central Music Supervisors' Conference will meet in Milwaukee April 16—19.

This conference meets nationally once every two years, the place of meeting being different each time.

Professor Frank Percival of the music department of this college, who is treasurer of the conference, has recently received a letter concerning the program to be presented.

PLAN COLLEGE CHORUS

One of the features for the furtherance of public school music will be a college chorus composed of about three hundred college people of the North Central States. Any college student from these states is eligible and is urged to come as a representative of his or her college.

This associated College Chorus will be directed by Dr. Louis Brown, director of music in the public schools of Chicago. The first rehearsal will begin Tuesday April 16 and rehearsals will continue twice a day until Friday. At the close of the conference Friday night, the concert will occur.

Science Club Will Meet On Wednesday

The Science Club will hold its next meeting Wednesday, February 27th, and extends an invitation to all members of the Margaret Ashmun Club to meet with them.

Both clubs are composed of honor students. These people are appointed for membership by faculty members, according to their excellence in science or literature.

SCHOOL FRESHMEN WILL GIVE PARTY TOMORROW NIGHT

MAKE PLANS FOR HOLIDAY DECORATIONS

The Freshman Party which is scheduled for Friday, February 22, promises to carry out an appropriate idea of the holiday as far as decorations are concerned. This is the first time, so far as we know, that a George Washington party has been given by the Freshman class.

FEATURE MYSTERY STUNT

The entertainment committee, consisting of Alex Krembs, Jean Copps and Ted Holthusen, has planned novel entertainment for those who do not care to dance. A mystery stunt has been planned, but the only information concerning it is, "Come and see George." Irv Lutz's Orchestra will furnish music for the dancers.

The decoration committee — Marian Nelson, Margaret Richards and Anne DeBase, have planned decorations befitting the occasion.

The party will begin at eight-thirty and will be held in the college gymnasium.

Refreshments will be served. Come and see George!

Mr. Percival Stirs Up Musical Interest

The Harmonica Band idea is growing and it may be said that the Rural schools are pretty well sold on Harmonica Bands and Rhythm Bands. There were no Harmonica Bands in Portage County last year. Through Mr. Percival, arrangements were made at the County Teachers' Institute last September to give instructions to the teachers of the county and Mr. A. J. McLain of Chicago was brought here to give the lessons on the Harmonica. Since then over twenty bands have been organized, some of them being uniformed.

At the Institute, Mr. Percival instructed the teachers in Rhythm Band work and about twenty Rhythm Bands are now organized and many of these have uniforms. In some of the larger schools there is both a Harmonica and Rhythm Band which may on occasions be combined.

NICKERS

AFTER renovating a very trite saying, I find the result to be this phrase: "IT'S A GREAT LIFE IF YOU OBSERVE."
 Psychologists and philosophers are our greatest observers, so perhaps one can safely say that these individuals find life "greater" than is the case with the rank and file of our human element. We cannot all be noteworthy philosophers and psychologists but we can easily develop our critical intellect sufficiently so as to yield lucrative returns.

Mere recollection of rather peculiar collegiate happenings brings infinite delight. Mayhap it will be well to dwell lightly on a few events (if such they are) of the college day.

LET us, for example, take a group of students seated in our library—studying presumably. The circulation manager of the "Pointer" had entered with a sheaf of papers—ten in number—and placed them on the desk to be filed away.

Very soon we noticed the students quickly filing out of the library; we noticed the determined far-reaching gaze—as if he or she were embarking on a momentous and hazardous quest for the Holy Grail or some such treasure.

The staff is gratified to learn that there actually is a desire to acquire a copy at the time of issue.

IT is to be observed that there is more than one way to teach the same thing. Take the topic: "What is the speed of light?" This question, in open forum, will draw many answers and also conjectures. Student thinking will be brought into being. Very well. Ask of them the manner in which such a great velocity is measured. Many will hazard guesses but few will answer correctly. It seems that up to a certain point, the greater the number of estimates given by a student, the greater will be the resulting thirst for exact knowledge on this particular problem. Obstacles, no doubt, will be met while the student is reading material on the subject presented but his interest and problem-consciousness will aid in clearing up difficult points.

This procedure is practiced by many of our instructors and appears more fruitful than the perfunctory assignment of Chapter 24 without any preliminaries.

EXCHANGE papers from colleges bring to us the message that our abundant social life is envied by the students of other schools. They are aware of our numerous social functions and entertainments and wonder why such a program does not exist in their particular school.

It seems that in many cases the social committees discourage rather than encourage an elaborate program of student recreation. Meetings, concerts, parties, etc. have an inestimable value as a unifying influence. Individualistic tendencies become fused into a harmonious whole.

Visiting athletes, win or lose, express their appreciation of a dance after the game; they find that the tense feelings of conflict are displaced by sincere manifestations of friendliness.

GIRLS—and boys, to a lesser extent—of colleges are inclined to consider their frequent week-end trips back home as the only thing worth looking forward to. This proves that they have failed to adjust themselves adequately in educational environment.

They are guilty of too much living in the future which rarely becomes an actuality.

Monday appears simultaneously with the traveler and many times we note that the one is just as "blue" as the other.

HUMOR MORE OR LESS

Dave Charles: "I've got the St. Vitus' dance."
 Klein: "So have I, let's shake for drinks."

Chester Smith (at dorm dinner table): "How would Shakespeare have said, 'Here comes the Bowlegged Man?'"
 Mr. Gustafson: "Behold, what is this I perceive walking on parenthesis?"

Gerald Olson: "Was your cousin in comfortable circumstances when he died?"

H. W. See: "Not exactly, Gerald, he was half-way under a train."

Ed Mulady: "Did you want some thing?"

Bert LaBrot: "Yes, if I'm studying when you come in, wake me up."

*A nice girl is one who walks in her sleep when the dreams of auto rides
 P. S. How about the roller skates?*

Niawadays the word "driquer" applied to furniture only.

OH! GEE!

Mary Agnes: "My, but Boletta is modest."

Margaret Reading: "Yes, indeed, she even pulls the car curtains down before she strips the gears."

OH! GOSH!

Mrs. Schmeackle: "Pritz, you know it's vulgar to chew gum!"

Mr. Schmeackle: "Yes, but a man has to exercise his jaws some way."

Glenn Roberts fills his pen with invisible ink so it wouldn't show when it was spilled on his fingers.

OH! BOY!

Lucille S.: "What did you say?"

Lucille K.: "I said that you may not necessarily be tugging at Greg's heart-strings; maybe you've got hold of his suspenders."

Collegians have found through research that the honeymoon is over when the groom lets the bride get up and turn off the alarm clock.

BEFORE.

Dorothy Oleson: "It is just as foolish to attempt to domesticate a man after he has lost his front hair as to attempt to tame a wild animal after it has gotten its second teeth."

LAST NIGHT

So many people have been singing in tubs lately, that the "Pointer" has delegated a music critic to cover bathrooms."

I NEVER DID

Earl A.: "Jack, how is your gym work coming along?"

Jack Stephenson: "Fine! I learned the half-nelson last week, and I'm learning the other half this week."

DREAM

Tony Rezatto: "What would you do if you had my range?"

Leonard Sprague: "I'd turn on the gas."

SHE KNEW

Chesrown (at Mardi Gras lunch): "What are those things on that pie? Flies?"

Mildred Barnum: "No sir, they're vitamins."

SO MUCH

Foreign labor, according to Mr. X, is so popular that it is almost impossible to get a teaching job unless you speak with an accent.

FOOLISHNESS

Lucille Highland: "I don't like Iowa because in that state a woman who shoots her husband must give a reason for it."

Now read the titles from top to bottom and you'll learn just what Ed Vetter said after a date one morning.

The Whirlpool

Respectfully submitted...

EXTRA!!!!

In the set-to with Whitewater of the sixteenth of February past, Scotty McDonald, it is claimed, was run down on the floor and severely mauled in the region of the cranium. As is usually the case—even with Scots—, a variegated galaxy of luminous heavenly bodies passed in review before his optical paraphernalia. Scotty said he didn't mind the dress parade but he'd sooner the spots had been five or ten-spots and not JUST spots.

"Slow-motion" White—"Y60 hoo, Henry, your head reminds me of a circus tent."

Custer Bannach—"Yes? And why, I prithee?"

"Slow-motion" White—"Har! Har! Because it is so full of saw-dust."

P. S. Maybe Bannach will win in the next episode.

LET US REPRESENT A CERTAIN MAN, ALSO A FATHER, ALSO VERY INDIGNANT AT THIS PARTICULAR MOMENT, BY THE SYMBOL "X". THEN:

X—"YOU SCOUNDREL, W H A T DO YOU MEAN BY BRINGING MY DAUGHTER IN AT THIS HOUR! IT'S 7 A. M!"

"MIKE" SMITH—"SORRY, BUT I HAVE AN 8 O'CLOCK CLASS THIS MORNING."

HALL OF FAME

Marguerite "Spike" Engels
 From Green Bay

Called "Spike" because she tickles all the boys. Performed admirably in the play "APPLE-SAUCE" opposite McVey (from Withee).

The two are besieged with big-time vawderville offers. Teske couldn't be considered for touring purposes because Marguerite indicates a preference for men whose beards are not raspy and for men who are built for speed rather than for comfort.

The Honorable H. G. Fors (R. F. D. 1, S. P.) objects, without reason, to having Engels on tour; it has been hinted that he does not underestimate the abilities of McVey in one particular channel of social endeavor.

Here we go!
 I shall now present.... See p. 2 of "POINTER" No. 15. Thank you.

SOCIETY

NELSON HALL NOTES

Miss Rowe gave one of her very enjoyable special dinners on Saint Valentine's Day. Every one received a Valentine and we all had a happy time and an especially good dinner eaten by candlelight.

Mr. Moll gave an excellent talk on "Keeping Fit" before a large audience at the Y. W. C. A. meeting on Thursday. Ice cream lollipops were served for refreshments.

Miss Edith Castner visited friends and relatives near Loyal last week end.

Miss Ellen Mills was snowed in at her home at Endeavor over the week-end.

Two birthday cakes with numbers of candles, shone on a special table last Saturday night. The celebrants were Miss Anita Dalton and Miss Winona Roehr. The hostesses were Misses Louise Meinke, Mildred Disrud, Lelah Shanklin, Genevieve Taylor, Hazel Thierbach, and Esther Wegert.

Miss Leota Andrew, chairman of the Religious Education Committee of the Y. W. C. A. conducted the first Sunday Vesper Service for the Lenten season. The subject was "The Standards and Ideals of some of our Greatest American Characters as Compared with Those of Jesus Christ."

Miss Margaret Wilson entertained her mother from Unity between trains on Monday.

Cupid claims another Nelson Hall girl in the person of Miss Jeanette Rice, who was married on Saturday, February 9th to Mr. Cyril Bennett, an engineer of the State Highway Commission. Mr. and Mrs. Bennett have rented an apartment in Wisconsin Rapids where they will be at home to their many college friends.

Correction

We wish to make a correction of a statement in last week's Pointer. It was stated in that issue that Miss Esther Sorenson was elected captain of the Golds. This is an error. Miss Vivian Nichols will captain the Golds in the Girls' Basket Ball Tournament.

INFORMAL TEA

Misses Allen and Church entertained at an informal tea at the Sims Cottage, Sunday afternoon. Twenty-seven were present.

Fund Drive Started By Dormitory Girls

NELSON Hall girls are proving the old saying, "People get what they go after, if they go after it hard enough." The girls have wanted a player-piano for some time and last month when a good opportunity came to get one, they began a campaign to raise the money for the purchase price.

All kinds of efforts are being made by the various corridor groups through pie and cake a la mode sales, little dances and entertainments.

But all the girls who have ever lived in Nelson Hall are being asked to contribute in order to make the piano a memorial gift for Nelson Hall's twelfth birthday anniversary.

The old girls heard from are: Eleanor Booth, Almond; Isabel Aldrich Gardner, Gilbert Minn.; Charlotte Schlottmann, Beaver Dam; Harriet Nelson, Woodruff; Verona Klauck, Abbotsford; Margaret Fond, Hawkins.

Through the gifts and the efforts at raising money the sum of $75.00 has already been paid. We are hoping to meet the entire sum by June 10.

Miss Tobias Speaks To Delzell's Prides

THE Primary Council met in Room 137 at 7:30 Monday night. Miss Lora Diek sang a few numbers, followed by Miss Helen Tisserand who played a group of piano solos. Miss Tobias gave a very interesting talk about the nursery schools which are becoming more and more prominent in the newer fields of education.

After the program refreshments were served.

Mr. Smith Speaks To Rural Life Members

THE regular Monday night meeting of the Rural Life Club was held in the Rural Assembly. The meeting started with group singing led by Miss Esther Schultz. A feature of the program was a ukelele trio composed of Misses Vivian Culver, Dorothy Georgas, and Merle Quarne who sang and played several popular pieces. The talk of the evening was by Mr. Smith who spoke on Washington and Lincoln.

Enrollment Is 368; 6 Students Finish

The enrollment for the second semester has reached the total of 368. Of this number 220 are girls and 148 are boys. This makes a total for the year of 443.

Six students finished their college work with the close of the first semester but no graduation events were scheduled. These people will be listed among the graduates at the commencement in June and will be urged to return here for that occasion. The students and the courses they have completed are:

Miss Lulu Clocksin, Westfield, who has already accepted a position to teach at Adams, four year Rural Supervisor's Course.

Miss Elizabeth Skinner, City, who has accepted a position as sewing teacher in the Sheboygan High School, four year Home Economics Course.

George Shriver, Kendall, three year High School Teachers' Course.

Miss Ethel Maes, Green Bay, Intermediate Grade Teachers' Course.

Miss Edna Carlson, Unity, two year Primary Grade Teachers' Course.

Miss Hazel Chapel, Chili, one year Rural Teachers' Course.

Two others are leaving at this time to take positions. Miss Maude Marsh, City, will teach in the High School at Fall Creek, Wis. and Miss Irene Cleaves of Scandinavia in the High School at Merrill.

ROUGH AND READY

The game was an extremely rough affair — a total of 23 fouls being called by Referee Morrow and Empire Orton, both having difficult tasks to keep pace with the lightning-like plays and spurts of both teams.

Eight-ball (Glenn) White was the only contestant removed for four transgressions of the rules; reports have it that the Whites used some of Gus Sonneberg's famous butts, combined with various neck holds commonly employed by "wrestlers". Nice day anyway.

FREE THROWS WIN

Although the Pointers scored more field goals, the down-staters won on free throws — collecting a total of 14 successful tries.

Perry, big center, was the "McDonald" of the day, making good seven out of eight tries.

Jolliffe's three ringers made him high man for the home team, while Dick Marshall looped in 9 points to lead the Point list. White eased in three before he was dismissed.
