Locals Will Attend Meeting On May 4th

Dr. Baldwin, Mr. Neale, Miss Hanna, Miss LaVigne and Miss Roach will attend the Conference of State Teachers' College Rural Educators at Eau Claire, on May 4.

This conference includes educators from State Teachers' Colleges at Superior, Eau Claire, and Stevens Point.

The subject for consideration at this meeting will be an organized system of follow-up work.

Rurals Of School To Present Play

The Rural Department play, "The Detour" by Owen Davis, is well under way and will be presented May 24.

In "The Detour", Mr. Davis has seen clearly, has sensed fully the myriad facts shaped from the material of the humblest life — shades of characters and various motives inherent in locality and tradition.

It has a tang of the soil about it; it exudes a flavor born of struggle against environment. It systematically discards the machinery of theatricalism — and is starkly simple.

It has been judged one of the author's best plays.

You will want to see it.

The characters are:

Victor Vrobel, Joseph Spatz, Herbert Sec, Dale Driscoll, John Stephenson, Myrtle Johnson, Geneva Nichols, Vivian Culver, and Pearl Burnett.

Watch for further announcements!

Drs. Griffin, Dawson Talk At Conference

Coach Conrad Moll was in attendance at the convention of the Middle West Society of Physical Education in Chicago last week.

Mr. Moll reports a very interesting meeting and one of the great educational value. He attended many meetings, particularly the sectional meetings devoted to Men's Athletics. He stresses particularly those lectures which pertained to teacher training problems and the psychology of athletics.

Especially noteworthy lectures were given by Dr. Griffin, from the U. of Illinois and Dr. Percy Dawson, from the University of Wisconsin.

Convention Against Olympics For Girls

Miss Eva Seen has returned from her attendance at the Physical Education Conference in Chicago last week. This was a national convention combined with the Mid-West Section of Physical Directors for Women. She brings a very interesting report.

The one problem discussed was that of the growing need of a better physical education program in the elementary schools. It was generally agreed that too much attention has been given to the program for the college student to the neglect of the growing child.

The association went on record as opposed to the interest of women in the 1930 Olympics. Papers were presented by experts in their respective fields and discussed.

Speech Contest To Be Held Here Tomorrow

Rhondda Club To Sing On May 11

The Rhondda Welsh Male Singers will give a concert next Saturday, May 11 in the College auditorium at 8:15.

The concert is intended to give to our college and the community a fitting climax to National Music Week.

The Rhondda singers have appeared in Stevens Point before, and they are remembered as being one of the best organizations ever appearing here. They have a reputation abroad that is second to none. This will be their third annual tour of America.

The organization has fourteen singers — everyone is a soloist, and is under the direction of Prof. Thomas Morgan. Professor Emlyn Jones is accompanist.

Their program includes part songs, quartettes, duets, and solos. Their repertoire is diversified enough to suit all tastes and furnishes one of the best examples of male singing that can be heard.

Admission will be 75c and for students 50c. For students wishing to attend both this and the music concert Monday night, tickets will be sold for 50c which will admit them to both events.

Schmeckle Receives Token From Athletes

Professor Fred Schmeckle, chairman of the Athletic committee of Stevens Point Teachers' College, is the recipient of a silver loving cup in token of the work which he has done in this connection. Ben Weronke, captain of the foot ball team, made the presentation during the regular assembly period on Thursday. Mr. Schmeckle responded with a short talk, in which he expressed his gratitude to the boys of the team.

For the last several years Mr. Schmeckle has evinced a great interest in athletics. The confidence and support which he has given to all athletics has won for him the respect of the entire student body. Always friendly and willing to back to worthwhile enterprise, Mr. Schmeckle has made a host of friends among the college students.

College Primaries Win Iris Campaign

Lawrence Beaudin, business manager of the Iris for 1929, has announced the results of the Iris campaign which has been held under the auspices of the various department heads. The report is as follows:

Primary	100%
Rural	74%
Home Ec.	41%
High School ..	No Report
Intermediate ..	No Report

Evidence shows that the Primaries, being one hundred per cent perfect, have won the prize.

As was announced some time ago, this prize is a three dollar reduction on the cost of the department picture.

Mr. Beaudin is also making plans for the annual Iris party, which will be held during the last week in May. There will be music and dancing as well as autographing. Admission is the receipt for your Iris fee.

Last year the party was under the direction of Allen McVey. The college Gymnasium was the scene of a group of busy students each one equipped with a Iris and a pen.

SENIOR NOTICE

Many people who expect to graduate in June have not yet paid their Senior dues.

No person is allowed to graduate unless he can produce the receipt for his Senior dues. Complications are sure to arise for those people who put off payment until the last minute.

Last year several people found this to be true, much to their em-barrassment. Profit by their example. Get out your check book and pay your graduate dues immediately.

This also includes all people who expect to graduate at the end of the summer school session.

National Music Week Features Scheduled

FISHING

EDUCATION is a process which causes us to act as society wishes us to act. Speaking in general, the above is quite true.

But in special instances we tend to act, many times in such a way as to display our natural desires — desires which were a part and parcel of our great-grandparents.

The desires referred to are those which are brought into being because of a natural inborn love for recreation.

We find that even recreation has become commercialized. We are surrounded by innumerable arrangements whereby we can derive the greatest amount of enjoyment in the shortest length of time; expense is practically disregarded.

The goal is efficiency. We must make every step count. It seems that the age-old forms of recreation are not concentrated enough.

In spite of the commercialism in play, we find many remnants of old time enjoyment in modern times, in spite of the fact that students at C. S. T. C. are seeking an education amid a humdrum of activity, it is to be noted that many collegians here are planning to set aside some fleeting hours for participation in one of the few non-commercialized sports — trout fishing.

It is a healthy indication of the fact that the desire for learning has not over-shadowed the yearning for healthful recreation.

Many faculty members of Central are also devout lovers of the Waltonian sport.

Hit the fish trail hard but go easy on the fish stories!

POINTER OF 1916

THE Pointer of 1916 was monthly published in booklet form. Mary Miller headed the staff in this particular year.

Among the pages of the booklet one can find names and incidents which are quite familiar to present day students at C. S. T. C. We find write-ups about Mardi Gras, the Home Economics Department, Y. W. C. A., Girls' Basketball Tournament, etc.

The advertising patrons of this booklet are, in most cases, the firms which are advertising in the Pointer of today.

It is to be noted that on the pages of the school paper of yester-years one can find names of people whose children are at present in attendance at C. S. T. C.

The Pointer of 1916 and the one of 1929 present many contrasts as to detail. Both Pointers, however, seem to achieve a common result: they give the school a written record of its spirit — a spirit, which like the record that gives it preservation and tangibility, is undying.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

Question — "How does spring make you feel?"

Orlando Johnson — "Od! Just terribly walky, starey, and romantic. Cause why? Dumt esk!

Pauline Buhlman — "Spring makes me feel surprisingly ecstastic. In thought and feeling I seem to soar to heights divine."

Carl Kitowski — "I feel so good... I don't know how to describe myself."

Lorraine Trelevan — "Well, I can't describe it, but the feeling isn't at all objectionable. I like it!

Jack Rezzatto — "I didn't even know it was here.

Courage is fire, and bullying is smoke.—Count Alarcos.

The past is for wisdom, the present for action, but for joy the future.—Alroy.

There is no doubt that great pumice stone, society, smooths down the edges of your thoughts and manners.—The Young Duke.

Politeness is nothing more than an elegant and concealed species of flattery. Richard Cumberland.

LOST —

HUMOR MORE OR LESS

Our opening number will be a selection entitled "A girl's marriageable age is somewhere between the seminary and the cemetery".

Doug Mainland: "Daddy, is that a blackbird?"

Father Mainland: "No, son; it's a dove of peace that has been flying over Pittsburg."

SPRING DOES.

Margaret Sawyer: "Darling, I hope I'm not leaning on you too hard."

Ed Mulady: "Don't mention it, the pressure is all mine."

MAKE

A Cleveland family was so poverty stricken that the wolf at their door lost fifteen pounds.

"What kind of meat have you this morning?" asked a tired, hen-pecked looking man of his butcher.

"I have the best steak we ever had in the shop," answered the butcher. "Smooth as velvet and tender as a woman's heart."

"Then give me two pounds of sausage."

"Nine women out of ten have a mission in life. And the tenth one intends to get married, too, if she can."

THE BOYS AND GIRLS

Did you hear of the coed who lost her voice from hollering at boys to "Stop"?

Coed Bride: "I want a pound of mince-meat-please take it from a nice young mince."

SUSPICIOUS

Glen White: "Does your mother know you're out?"

Ruth Pierce: "Yes, she asked me to buy a monkey; are you for sale?"

It is said that the modern girl who makes her own clothes certainly has a lot of leisure.

OF EACH OTHER

Vic Vroble: "Tell your readers that I intend to speak my mind."

Pointer Reporter: "Very good, sir; then you have nothing to say."

"Golfing is pie for me." "I notice you always get plenty of slices."

"I once loved a girl that made a fool out of me."

"What a lasting impression some girls make."

My friend is so narrow-minded he can look through a keyhole with both eyes simultaneously.

Eleanor: "Dad, I want some money for my trousseau."

Father: "But, my dear child, I didn't even know you were engaged."

Eleanor: "Good heavens, father! Don't you ever read the papers?"

And again we ask you to feed the titles from top to bottom!

The Whirlpool

Respectfully submitted....

Dear "Don Juan"; I noticed in the editorial column of last week's Pointer that a guy signing the initials 'A. P.' mentioned about our school going to the dogs. Well, I have heard everyone arguing against that idea. And I guess he is wrong. After one thinks it over, I don't believe there is much question but what old C. S. T. C. is quite a busy, bustling place.

It sure looks nice to see all our boys and girls looking and doing hale and hearty.

I believe I can win any argument on this question and will take on all comers (except Gus Sonnenberg).

"Tom Boy"

To the "Pointer", — Our school is O. K. even though A. P. stated otherwise in last week's "Pointer".

The idea of giving the Home Ecers plush rolling pins is a novel one but I seriously question its feasibility. According to my calculations, the greater the density of the rolling pin the more painless is the act of producing insensibility and somnambulance.

But it may be all right to award plush rolling pins as trophies of the chase, if you please so to speak.

"Thoughtful One"

WHO'S WHO AND WHY Answer to last week's description — Walter Wasrud.

Description: Her name (either first or last begins with an "M"... according to our records, she is not a local girl but hails from a town whose monicker starts with an "H"...

Her street name begins with an "E" while her telephone number commences, presumably, with a "6"...

Does not wear glasses nor does she play basketball... medium in weight and quite short in stature...

She knows her stuff!

HALL OF FAME

HAROLD FORS

What a boy! What a guy!

No matter what he has on, he is still Harold Fors, Esq. And he still remains cute looking. He could dress like a tramp and still remain a sheik and that's going some.

Is the pilot of an over-slung car — customarily called a Ford (for want of a better name).

Always was the football hero of Stevens Point fans. Once he became playful and teased an opposing player; the umpire, or referee, misunderstood (?) and banished "Pussy" for disorderly conduct or some such triviality.

He is supposed to live on a Rural Route, whatever that means.

Is called "Pussy" because he carries a rabbit's foot in his trouser pocket. Look, if you don't believe it.

It has brought him luck, too!

SOCIETY

To Hold Y. W. Banquet On Saturday Evening

On Saturday evening at 5:30 in the Trinity Lutheran Church will occur the annual Y. W. C. A. installation supper. This is the occasion when the old cabinet officers deliver the charge to the new officers and the latter take the vow to perform the duties of their respective offices. It is a very beautiful and impressive service, one of the college memories to be cherished for a life time.

Every student and faculty member is invited to the supper which is fifty cents a plate. The Y. W. C. A. most cordially urges everyone to come. Tickets are now on sale by Anita Dalton, Agnes Hendrickson, Hazel Schroeder, and Madge Dunham.

NOTICE!

It seems necessary to continually remind students that if they wish to own an Iris, they MUST SIGN UP FOR IT. Books will be issued only to those who have expressed a desire for them.

Lawrence Beaudin.

NELSON HALL NOTES

On Sunday Madge Dunham's people from Nekoosa were visitors at Nelson Hall; and Ruby Hand entertained her family from Marshall. On Saturday Margaret Peterson's people came down from Irma to see her.

Three old Nelson Hall girls were guests in the house the past week; Margaret Morriss of Pittsville was Lelah Buttgen's guest; Lucy Baker of Owen was Sadie Espeseth's; and Jeanette Rice Bennett of Wisconsin Rapids was Ellamae Newberry's. It is a pleasure to have the former students visit us.

Esther Schultz is still suffering from jaundice at her home in Colby.

Pearl Burnett was called home on Wednesday to attend her uncle's funeral.

Maxine Korotey visited her father at the Hospital in Milwaukee where he is recovering from an operation which he underwent about two weeks ago.

Estella Boek has returned from a week's visit at her home in Crandon where she was recuperating from a severe cold.

The piano fund is growing: $300.00 has been reached and paid. As a venture to make the fund grow still more a dance will be given in the recreation room on Saturday night at 8:30 to which every C. S. T. C. student is invited.

Lucile Hyland went to Auburndale on Thursday evening to make a personal application for a high school position. She came back with a contract.

Mr. Delzell took a group of girls to interview prospective employers: Miss Krumm brought back her contract to teach in Wittenberg as did Miss Libak; to teach in Oconto Falls, Miss Riley viewed Birnamwood, her home town for next year.
