MARGARET ASHMUN PLEDGES ELECTED

ALSO ELECT FOUR HONORARY MEMBERS

Margaret Ashmun Club, the honorary literary organization of Central State Teachers' College, elected sixteen new members at its last meeting. These students have received their invitations to become active members. Four honorary members were also elected.

The purpose of the club is to further excellence in English and speech, as well as to provide a social organization for students interested in literary activities. In order to gain membership, a student must have high grades in English, must be recommended by members of the faculty, and be voted in by the active members of the club. There can be no more than fifty members. At present there are seventeen student members, and seven faculty members.

The meetings of the club are held the second Wednesday in every month. At the last meeting, Fern Pugh was elected vice-president, and the pledges were voted on by the members. The program was in charge of Mr. Burroughs. The feature was the reading of a play, "Journey's End," by Marie Mollen; Naomi Kruse played two piano numbers. At the next meeting the old members will be allowed to sit back and enjoy themselves, for the pledges are to furnish the evening's entertainment. The initiation is in charge of Miss Davis. Every pledge who accepts his invitation must take part in the initiation.

The club is named in honor of a noted graduate of Stevens Point Normal, Margaret Ashmun, who is the author of many popular novels. Her books are found in almost every town library. It is considered a high honor to be elected to the organization.

In addition to the sixteen active members, four faculty members were granted honorary membership. They are the four who have recently published books, — Mr. Neale, Mr. Watson, Mr. Culver, and Mr. Smith. The student pledges who have received invitations are as follows: Selma Thorson, Isabel Hall, Alforetta Walker, Victoria Mason, Alice Falk, Margaret Engels, Frances Gallagher, Allen Hodell, Richard Kulasavage, Earl Koch, Esther Kuhl, Elizabeth Rogers, Ruth Steller, Ellamae Newberry, Floyd Higgins, Genevieve Pulda.

Informal Reception Given To Faculty

Dr. and Mrs. Robert D. Baldwin entertained the faculty members at an informal reception at their home on 710 S. Division St., Thursday evening from eight to ten o'clock. Margaret Baldwin and Virginia Watson met the guests at the door while Miss Florence Brown ushered them into the dining room where dainty sandwiches and cakes were served. Mrs. Collins acted as hostess at the tea table.

Although a great many members of the faculty had attended two functions preceding this reception, they greatly appreciated the hospitality of our President.

Double Program Well Received

Last Monday evening, a singer and a speaker entertained a large crowd in the college auditorium. Both artists' offerings were unusually well received. The first of the two was a young lady, Miss Hallye Nester, soprano, assisted by Miss Martha McCormick at the piano. The second part of the program was a lecture on "Government by Gangland" by C. Ray Hansen.

Miss Nester charmed her audience even before she began to sing. Her appearance was as pleasing as her voice. She sang two groups of songs and several encores. Her program follows:

Una voce poco faa Rossini
When Love is Kind Moore
I Passed by Your Window Taylor-Brabe
Miss Nester
Kamenoi Ostrow Rubenstein
Miss McCormick
Sylvia Speaks
Mammy's Song Ware
Jewel Song Gounod
Miss Nester

Mr. Hansen has been a Chicago lawyer and crime investigator for many years. The last few years of his life have been years full of interesting and more or less dangerous experiences. A year and a half ago he was kidnapped by a group of gangsters. He reports having spent six weeks in gangland. In his lecture he told many tales of criminal affairs in Chicago, and concluded with a statement of the relationship of this state of affairs to teaching. He claims that the teacher can do as much to give the foreign-born child the proper conception of his obligations to his fellow beings as any other person. He urged that by making school-days pleasant for those who come to the "Melting Pot," we prevent the growth of government by gangland.

Receive Many Books In College Library

The library has been receiving many new and valuable books. Among the outstanding are the following:

Thorpes Editions to Dictionary of Applied Chemistry in seven volumes.

Volumes 4-7-8-9 of Millor's, "A Comprehensive Treatise in Inorganic and Theoretical Chemistry."

Two volumes of the "History of the Feminine Costumes" of the world. This is beautifully illustrated and gives the different costumes of the various countries from 1500 B. C. to our present century.

The third volume of the "Dictionary of American Biography."

The five remaining volumes of the "Pageant of America."

Besides these reference volumes, other books of outstanding interest are: Ludwig's—July Fourteenth
George Washington Hall's — Upton Close's Eminent Asians
D. A. Willsons — Carlyle in five volumes.

Albert Beveridge — Abraham Lincoln 1809-1855.

Orders have been made for books of equal value and interest.

NOTICE!

All the 1930 graduates and all the 1931 graduates must have their photographs taken at Cook's Studio as soon as possible. The picture of the 1930 graduates must be taken by Dec. 1, and those of the 1931 graduates by Dec. 10. Make your appointments at once as the time is limited.

FALK AND MAINLAND CHOSEN TO CONTROL ANNUAL FOR 1931

Entertainment Offers Variety

There are three remaining numbers on the student entertainment course. The artists have been carefully selected, and will offer a variety of excellent entertainment.

The next number on the course is to be a play by the Coffey-Miller Players. This company has performed for many colleges and universities throughout the country. They are to present "Tea for Three" in the college auditorium on January 20th.

The third of the series of entertainments is to be of a different type. It will be a musical program by the Ramos Orchestra. This is a Mexican organization noted for its unusual type of musical entertainment. As several members of the orchestra sing as well as play, vocal numbers will be included on the program. They will appear here on March 5th.

The last number of the year's course is to be another musical entertainment. The Berger - Steindal - Aster Trio will play for us on the evening of April 25th. The Trio is accompanied by a well-known dancer, Gloria Randolph.

Students are admitted to every program upon presentation of their student entertainment tickets. Outsiders may buy season tickets for two dollars, or single tickets at seventy-five cents each.

Endeavor's P. T. A. Praised By Local

Miss Roach spoke at a meeting of the Parent Teachers Association of Endeavor last week on Wednesday, and she gives a report of the splendid work being done by that organization. This is particularly interesting to Central State Teachers College, since every member of the faculty there is an alumnus of this school. Melvin Donner is principal, Gladys Hanson has the upper grades, Edith Brown the intermediate, and Veryl Bennett the primary room.

Twenty girls formed a chorus and sang several songs exceptionally well at the evening program under the direction of Miss Hanson. Mr. Donner spoke of the plans for the year and reported that the year books for the Club would be ready during the week. The general attitude of the entire group, parents, teachers and children revealed the enthusiasm and co-operation with which these people approach their problems.

It is a real pleasure for the Pointer to record the success of former students of Central State Teachers' College.

ASSOCIATE HEADS CHOSEN FOR IRIS

As is customary each year, the Junior Class convened to elect an associate editor and business manager for the yearly publication "The Iris". Alice Falk was chosen as next year's editor and Douglas Mainland will handle the problems of a business manager.

The Iris is the college year book and the two people recently elected will engineer the production of the one for 1931.

Alice Falk is a Junior Home Economics student and has recently been elected a member of the Margaret Ashmun Club, an honorary English Society. In a recent interview she remarked, "I shall put forth my best efforts and endeavor to make the 1931 Iris as truly successful as the others have been."

Douglas Mainland represents the High School department and has been very active in several extra-curricular activities. He is well known to the students and public as a football star and a member of the Championship Football team of 1928. He exhibits an extreme interest in all forms of athletics and is at present head of the committee for the publication of a student directory. He was a member of the Pointer staff of 1928-'29.

Both students are active in all college activities and the best wishes of fellow students are with them for success in their next year's endeavors.

Forum Dance In Gym Proves Successful

The dance given by Forum last Saturday evening was a social and financial success. The party was held in the college gymnasium. Dancing began at eight-thirty, and continued until half past eleven. The attendance was very good.

The music was furnished by Jacobs' orchestra. The chaperones were Mr. Smith and Miss Jones. The committees in charge were:

Music-Floyd Higgins and Allen Hodell.

Advertising: Esther Hawkes, Marie Mollen.

Program Of Classes Will Be Rearranged

In order to help equalize the losses sustained by dismissing for former teachers' meetings, next week's program of classes will be rearranged. Monday and Tuesday, November 25th and 26th, the Thursday and Friday classes, respectively, will be run. School is to be dismissed Wednesday, November 27th, at noon.

The program on Wednesday morning is also rearranged. It shall run as follows:

8:15 — regular 8:15 classes.

9:10—1:15 Wednesday classes.

10:05—2:10 Wednesday classes.

11:00 3:05 Wednesday classes.

ANOTHER HOMECOMING IDEA

I think the suggestion in the Pointer, "A Homecoming Substitute," was an exceptionally good one, but would the students actually get excited over the dedication of a new building on the campus? I think not.

The indispensable thing about a "Homecoming" is an athletic contest. The best substitute for a football game would be a good basketball game. Oshkosh would be an excellent opponent to furnish our amusement, and we simply must have amusement.

Pep meetings, the big game, the dance! Banquets and alumni meetings. A snake-dance in winter would be great sport and top it off with a huge bonfire. Even a parade might not be out of place. Perhaps the girls would give a hockey exhibition in the afternoon. Possibly the Mardi Gras could be arranged for the same week-end. We could decorate the "whole town" and let them know that "things are happening." Get the grads interested enough to return and see what the present student body is doing. A winter homecoming would be something of innovation.

A Homecoming, by all means, if for no other reason than to develop a little spirit at Central State!
 "Tootie".

A SUGGESTION

HOW many of you readers have taken or expect to take practice teaching? One of the biggest problems a teacher has to meet in practice and of course in regular teaching, is the problem of inattention. You have written a perfectly good plan, have a perfectly good drill and type exercise, have a perfectly good critic's O. K. and still you can't put it across. Why? Because you can't get and hold the students interest. They will whisper, giggle, squirm, make spit balls, bring a "funny face" to class, and I don't know what not. You feel like giving the offenders a good shaking up, and marking them zero for the day. Still you can't use too violent methods as they only embitter the students feelings toward you. You must comply with the usual and formal modes of discipline, and work off your resentment in a "bawling out."

Perhaps even more annoying is to get up in front of an audience over whom you have no control except your personality, and have the same inattentive attitude. You must smile at their giggles and tell them a joke to get their interest. Then you progress with your talk, and they progress with their disturbances. You leave that audience labeling them the most discourteous group of people you ever met. You wonder what good education has done them. Other places you got attention, courtesy and respect from your audience; there you not only got the adverse of those qualities but you got nothing in their place.

We can all sympathize with the practice teacher, and some can sympathize with the speaker. So let us all transfer our sympathy to the speakers before our assembly.

Our student body has been acting the part of the unruly child during our recent assembly programs. I am sure any observing individual is not unaware of the fact, but merely forgetful of the other fellow's side of it. Let us initiate a new policy of courtesy to our speakers, so that they cannot dub us as an unappreciative audience. Let it not matter who the speaker is — student, faculty, or outside speaker, let us give them our undivided attention. Let us practice what we preach to our practice classes. We can all sympathize with the practice teacher facing such a problem, and some of us can with the speaker.

Let us all transfer our sympathy to the speaker in our future assembly meetings.

ONE OF US.

HUMOR

MORE OR LESS

"What do you consider a crowd at a dance?"
 "Oh, about a mile!"
 "A mile?"
 "Sure, 5280 feet."

The human brain is a wonderful organ. It starts functioning as soon as we wake up in the morning and never stops until we get to school.

Cupid is the champion gambler. He's always going around couples and saying, "I'll match you."

Miss Jones: What is the lowest form of animal life; those things that are crawling all over the earth?
 Nip Chesron: Pedestrians.

I call my girl "Insulation"; she offers so much resistance.

"The man who marries my daughter will win a prize."
 "Well, I must say, that's sporting of you."

 She — "Dont fool yourself, those are my feet."

Miller: Give me a big one. There's six of us fellows at the house.

Mr. Spindler: "There is but a step from the sublime to the ridiculous!"

Swanee: I know that. Last night I came home from the party feeling sublime, but I missed a step on the stairs and felt ridiculous.

Ralph — Gee, I'd like to take the census.

Victoria: Why?

Ralph — Because it embraces over twenty million women.

AN ODE TO MY ROMMATE

My roommate is a funny guy
 Bowed of leg and cocked of eye
 Big a da muscle, slim a da waist
 But when it comes to women, he shows good taste
 Great big hands and enormous feet
 But when it comes to women, he can't be beat.
 He wears my shirts, my ties and nose
 But mention a woman and away he goes.
 Even in his sleep he says, "Kiss me again!"
 He only likes women, he doesn't like men
 He doesn't care for studying, song or booze
 And he solves women problems with but slim clues
 But he'll prove all right for the coming season
 I know this is true for the following reason
 When other boys are left in the lurch
 On Sunday a girl friend takes him to church.

SOCIETY

NELSON HALL NOTES

Even this early in the year high school students are making plans to attend college. One of them, Miss Inez Brown from East High School, Green Bay visited Nelson Hall Saturday morning. She plans to enroll next semester. After talking to girls from her home town, visiting rooms, and inspecting everything in general, she said that February couldn't come soon enough.

Several new girls have joined our family. Miss Loretta Ferrill formerly supervising teacher in Taylor County has returned to secure her degree. Miss Mina Hunt, a freshman, has also chosen Nelson Hall as her home now. She is rooming with Miss Lavern Clark.

Miss Bessie Dewar, who left college early this fall because of illness is planning to return next semester. We all sincerely hope that she can be with us again.

Miss Helen Tisserand and Miss Elaine Perontky enjoyed the week-end in Madison.

Miss Jennie Newsome entertained her room-mate, Miss Vivian Enge, at her home in Waupaca on Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Eunice Riley was a guest at Nelson Hall Friday evening. She, together with Marion Kowitz and Lucille Schmidt then went to Wittenberg where they visited Miss Lucille Krumm who is teaching there. They returned with an alluring account of Miss Krumm's boarding place.

There is much questioning when coeds have fried chicken at their "spreads" for such delicacies are very unusual. Once in a while, however, boxes from home yield such "serump-tions" treats. This week Helen Hammes' box from home proved a treasure chest and the odor of sizzling chicken tantalized those who weren't fortunate enough to be "in on it," and delighted the many who were luckier.

Miss Hulda Wipereid entertained her sister, who lives in Iola, over the week-end.

Soon Nelson Hall will be deserted—for a time at least. Visions of an over-stuffed turkey fill nearly everyone's dreams. Some of us are checking off the days on the calendar too.

New table lists were posted last Thursday afternoon. No one ever likes to change tables but every good scout realizes the purpose and within a week or two discovers new friends who oft times prove to be co-workers out in the teaching years to come. "Changing tables" is a custom universally practiced in dormitories and Nelson Hall girls find that it is good fun after all.

The graduates at Nelson Hall are planning a formal dinner to be given on Saturday December 7th for the faculty. There are many whispered consultations going on because of this. This dinner is an annual event in which every girl graduate participates. Many under classmen also contribute their services behind the scenes.

The number of girls who spend week-ends at home is still decreasing. Adelyn Stedman and Lorna Quinn went to Amherst. Evelyn Severson and Maurine Tavis spent the week-end at Auburn-dale. Lucille Scott visited relatives in Amherst.

Lavern Clark and Jean Skinner went to their respective homes in Schofield and Endeavor. Lloyd Ravey went to Unity, Gertrude Conklin to Wausau, Irene Tweeton to Iola and Crystal Joseph to Elderon.

The Rev. Mr. Blake will speak at the Y. W. C. A. meeting, 7:30 Thursday, Nov. 21. You are welcome.

Harmonica Band To Broadcast Program

Mr. Percival is training a group of eighteen children from the Roosevelt school at Plover, as a special Harmonica Band. When Mr. J. W. MacLane was here recently, he invited Mr. Olsen, the principal of the Roosevelt School, to send a picked group of children to Chicago to broadcast a harmonica program sometime this month. Mr. Olsen has accepted the invitation and these eighteen children are rehearsing and will be taken to Chicago.

W. A. A. NOTES

Dr. Harrington's speech last week "sunk in", it seems. More girls are walking farther than the drug store for their rouge now. Saturday afternoon twelve "co-lee-jut" girls tramped to the River Pines Sanitorium and back again. Of course they stopped for eats — the good old stand-by — hot dogs! No matter how often you've eaten them, they're always better over a bonfire. Some very energetic hikers walked back through McDill and nearly were late for dinner. Their rosy cheeks made those who stayed at home wish they'd been along.

LOYOLA

Thursday evening a meeting of the Loyola Club was held in the Rural Assembly room. Miss Delores Chilsen favored the club with a vocal solo, "Mighty Lak a Rose."

This was primarily a business meeting. Plans for the year's activities were formed and committees appointed to carry out the year's program. In all probability a dance will be sponsored by the Loyola Club in the near future.

Y. W. C. A.

All the girls of the school and the women of the faculty were invited to the "Y. W. C. A." tea at the dormitory Thursday afternoon. Tea was served in the living room to a large group of girls. Dorothy Oleson, the president of the Y. W. C. A. and Alice Falk presided at the tea table. Tea, grape juice, and cakes were served.

Preceding the tea was a short program. Appropriate piano solos were played by Miss Ruth Rossalach and Miss Ruby Hand. Misses Delores Chilsen and Anita Dalton entertained with songs.

This was the first Y. W. C. A. tea of the year, but its success seems to point the way to more in the future.

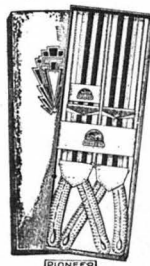

ALUMNI NOTES

Students of Central State were pleased to welcome back Miss Cornelia Iverson, a former Home Economics student, who visited here over the week-end. Miss Iverson is teaching in Taylor, Wisconsin.

Some time ago Misses Eleanor Baker and Leota Andrew were also callers in Stevens Point.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

A card expressing the thanks of the parents and sister of Chester Smith has been received. It is believed that it was their wish that the students should be thanked in this way.

The grading in front of the new training school has been completed. The lawn is terraced and is to be sown with grass in the spring. Equipment for the school is arriving rapidly. The building will soon be ready for use. It is hoped that the training department will occupy its new quarters upon the students' return after the Christmas holidays, but the date of moving depends upon the readiness of the heating plant.

The students have become so accustomed to using the east stairway that many do not seem to realize that the new stairway is now open for use.
