Opportunity For Winter Sport
Needs Contributions For Reality

Now that ear-lappers, red flannels, camel, cow and bear hide coats have been displayed in the halls for the past two weeks we have reasons to believe that winter has blown in — and how about that "hockey team" and college skating rink?

Coach Kotal and Mr. Schmeckle have promised their support in pushing a hockey team and arranging a drive for the construction of a hockey rink on the new athletic field. It would cost approximately $50 to build a hockey rink. Only college students would be allowed the use of the rink and hockey, crack the whip and other sport events could be held on the field which are prohibited on the municipal rink.

Ideas But No Money

Several suggestions have been issued relative to a way and means of raising the $50. Some say tax each student 10c., others say issue 100 tickets or there-

Christmas Vacation

With the holidays rapidly drawing nigh, students have found a source of conversation, which never fails.

Christmas vacation begins Saturday, December 19, 1931, and reaches completion Monday, January 4, 1932, inclusive. For the benefit of those who have a burning desire to skip classes directly before and after vacation, it might be well to remember that the penalty for such procedure means a condition in that course, unless excused previously by the President.

Fewer presents and more Christmas cards perhaps will be prevalent this year. Nevertheless, the Christmas spirit will be there, and President Hyer has pleased the student body by announcement of another vacation.

Before we depart, may we all wish each other the usual good cheer and a very Merry Christmas, and may Santa be as big hearted as last year.

To you and yours,
may this Christmas
bring every happiness you could possibly wish for...
a day you'd like to live over and over again!

FOR LEADERSHIP

Phi Sigma Epsilon National Fraternity Present Men
Xmas Gift

An attractive leadership plaque was presented the college in assembly this morning by the members of the Phi Sigma Epsilon national fraternity as a Christmas gift.

The award will be known as the Phi Sigma Epsilon Leadership Plaque. The gift is mounted on a handsome shield-shaped base and will be given to the best all-round male student of the college at the close of the fiscal school year. Scholastic standings, activities and leadership will determine the decision. Members of the faculty will be chosen as judges.

To Promote Leadership

It is averred that a leadership plaque will be presented annually to the school by the fraternity to promote and arouse leadership amongst the fellows. The judges and details of the award contest, including the rules, will be published in the next issue of the Pointer. All fellows enrolled in the local college are eligible for the award.

Second Fraternity Award

This leadership plaque is now the second award given by the fraternities in school. The rival

Elaborate Decorations Prepared For Celebration In New Gymnasium

The traditional Christmas Festival will begin this evening at 7:30 P. M. in the auditorium. The students, faculty and their guests will assemble and open the festival with the singing of old Christmas hymns and carols. President Hyer will continue the beautiful custom of reading Christ's Sermon on the Mount. The assembly will then march to the new gymnasium for the remainder of the program.

Decorations Complete

Art Director Giovannini has prepared beautiful, original Christmas panels for scenery, and with the aid of volunteer help has built a blue canopy, representing a starry sky. A large Christmas tree has been erected in the center of the floor, and the general decorations carried out with evergreens.

Mixed Chorus And Orchestra

The program in the gymnasium will open with the Mixed Chorus singing "Pilgrim's Chorus" from Tannhauser, by Wagner. This will be followed by the song "Christmas Morn" by Samuel R. Gaines. The School Orchestra will play the tone poem "Apple Blossoms" by Kathleen A. Roberts, and "Loin du Bal" by E. Gillet. This and the Christmas caroling, by all present, will be in charge of Professor Michelsen.

Play Prepared

Professor Norman M. Knutzen has prepared a playlet, "Christmas Fantasy," with a cast of juvenile characters. Miss Eva Seen is in charge of a group of first-graders who will present a snowflake dance. The stage setting will be "King Winters Realm."

Santa Arrives

At this stage of the evening Santa Claus will appear on the scene and novelty gifts will be distributed to everyone.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

After Christmas The Pointer plans to investigate student and faculty opinion of the present title of the school. Do you prefer Central State Teachers College to Stevens Point Teachers College? Shall it be C. S. T. C. or just Stevens Point?

C. S. T. C. Or Stevens Point?

MERRY CHRISTMAS

It is a pleasure to write of Stevens Point in the win column again. We hope that it will become a habit from now on. The basketball victory over Luther is inspiring but nothing to kindle championship hopes. A traveling team of eight men, playing three games in as many nights, is not going to provide more than a set-up for a home team in perfect trim.

Keep It Up!

The match with St. Norberts at De Pere tonight will be important, but we are waiting for the Lawrence game at Appleton January 8 before we say very much about what we have here.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Student opinion should be brought to bear on the individuals who walk out of the library stacks with choice reserved books minus the orthodox checking-out system required.

No Honor To Thieves

The privilege of access to the library stacks is too much of an asset to have jeopardized by these selfish students who are rebels to our plan of college society.

The pressure of adverse student opinion will curb this unfair practice.

HOME EC PARTY

Two prettily decorated Christmas trees, fir boughs tied with red ribbons and a brightly burning fire in the fireplace laid the scene for all the joys of a typical German Christmas celebration which was enjoyed by the seventy-five members of the Home Economics Club on Monday evening. The party was held at the John Francis Sims cottages, and was under the direction of the freshmen. Miss Loretta Robillard and her committee are to be complimented for the way in which everyone was made to have an enjoyable time.

After playing several games taxing one's knowledge of the possibilities of the alphabet, the Home Ecs settled down stringing popcorn and cranberries which will be used as decoration for the huge tree for the College Christmas party.

The girls were entertained by an appropriate festive program.

"The First Noel" — Elizabeth Sansum

"Some Historical Facts About Germany's Christmas" — Jennie Newsome

"Star of the East"; "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" and "Silent Night" — Doris Erickson and Sophia Nicolazzo.

Santa Claus, ably impersonated by Florence Frater, distributed gifts which were enjoyed by the girls. Later the presents were returned to the committee who will turn them over to the City Welfare League to be distributed as they see fit.

The group singing of carols and refreshments of German Crisps and coffee ended the annual Home Economics Club Christmas Party.

The freshman sisters proved to be such very gracious hostesses that we are confident of more good times for future Home Economics club meetings.

TAU GAMMA BETA FORMAL

More than 100 couples enjoyed a Christmas formal dancing party given at the Parish house Friday evening by Tau Gamma Beta sorority. The party was one of the prettiest of the winter, as Christmas decorations were lavishly used to give a holiday effect. At each end of the stage, where Tommy Temple's orchestra from Appleton played from nine to one o'clock, were lighted Christmas trees, glistening with silver paper icicles. Another Christmas tree was extended from the balcony in the rear of the room. Each window had its bough of evergreen covered with the silver icicles and surmounted with a red wreath. The stage front below the footlights was festooned with red and green streamers, tied with a large bow in the center, and red and green festoons and bells were draped over the doors in the parlors. The formal evening gowns of the girls, mostly of shimmering satin, were set off by the brilliant background.

Pearl Merrill was general chairman of the party, assisted by Frances Van Hecke, Frances Korbal and Catherine Krembs. Chaperones for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Kotal.

ALL SCHOOL PARTY

The all school dance given last Saturday evening by the Grammar Department was a huge success and evidently a good time was had by all. The new gym was decorated to carry out the idea of Christmas.

Dancing, which was played for by the Collegians, was held from 8:30 to 11:30, and during the intermission Catherine Ritchay, accompanied by Eileen Hanson, gave a specialty number consisting of a song and a tap dance. Both girls are sophomores in the local High school.

Dorothy McLain was general chairman of the affair.

TIRED LUTHER TEAM FALLS 41-13

POINTERS TAKE EASY CONTEST IN FIRST GAME

Frequent Substitutions Mark Uneven Game With St. Paul Five

A tired Luther five failed to give the locals the battle that was predicted, and went down to defeat, 41 to 13. What might be considered a flashing victory must be discounted by the fact that the Minnesotans had played two hard games on two successive nights before meeting the locals, and had nothing left in reserve. In the last half they could hardly drag themselves over the hardwood.

Numerous Substitutions

Coach "Eddie" Kotal sent in everyone but the managers during the progress of the game, and they all looked like first team members. We can understand Coach's predicament in selecting a varsity quintet from this mass of material. The starting lineup of Peterson, Chvala, Thompson, Baker and Alberts functioned remarkably well, but men like Cashman, Andrae and Gregory can't be left off. Central State's '31-'32 team certainly will have sufficient reserve strength.

Acting Captains

Under a new system inaugurated this year no basketball captain will be elected. The coach will appoint an acting captain for each game. "Ted" Chvala drew the opening assignment against Luther. This plan is intended to eliminate friction and any possible hard feelings and is being adopted by many coaches. An honorary captain will be elected at the end of the year.

St. Norberts Tonight

A St. Norberts team of unknown quality will be the "Teachers" next opponents (page the Journal), and will undoubtedly give the locals a harder game. Don't let the score of the game fool you. The Pointers are still an untried team — any team looks good against little opposition. They'll have to beat a team of some caliber before they get more than a "Yeah?" in here.

Sport Shops Trim Ped "B" Team

Local basket ball fans had their first opportunity to witness the Point "B" team in action Friday night, when they were defeated by the local Sport Shops 12 to 9 in a preliminary game.

"OLLIE" NEUBERGER

Coach Vic Vrobel used ten players in an effort to find a clicking combination, but was seriously handicapped by the short practice period allowed before the first game. Alumnus Stars Ollie Neuberger proved to be a serious menace under the basket for the Sport Shops, while the diminutive Shorey showed up as a real forward, when he dropped two field baskets to lead the Teachers' "B" team in scoring.

The "B" team should show decided improvement in the next week since another cut on the first squad will give Coach Vrobel more working material and experienced players.

Schedule Arranged

A full schedule is rapidly being arranged, with numerous state High Schools and other "B" teams.

Impressions

Quite a few spectators watched "Eddie" pull the Big Parade. The horn blew more often than the whistle, it seemed. There ought to be a rule against putting in more than four men at a time. Will the brunette from Gillett please correspond. Young Gregory makes more noise than the cheer leaders when he goes down the floor. Some dizzy Phi Sigs whistling in a corner. Proud fathers watching sons perform. Coach Kotal twisting his hands.

Add indoor sports; Byrne Neville dropping nickels in phonographs. Basket shooting every noon by fellows in street shoes. Tattle tale, tattle tale. Seeing the Monday matinee. (Not an advertisement.) Standing in the doorway to watch the girls go by — and vice-versa. Thumping the piano in the Rural room all hours of the day. Know any more?

No, lady, this is not the society column. Lets be sports about this thing, as it were. The fact that the Luthers beat Stout and lost to Eau Claire means — what? Make your own guess. Marquette took Milwaukee easily, but that doesn't mean that Penwell's bunch won't do things in the Conference. And Superior looked as strong as ever in defeating Duluth Teachers. How are ya, Joe?

Uneasy is the head of a football coach, to paraphrase the old expression. With Little of Wisconsin resigning, and Thistlewaite ready for the bounce any time now, and Ingwerson of Iowa resigning, it definitely proves that a coach has to have a winning team to hold his job. What wonder athletes are subsidized — the coaches have to insure success.

College Man Earns Victory In Ring Scrap

Central State's outstanding brawler outfought Johnny Taplin of Marshfield to take the decision in one of the preliminaries of the best fight card presented here yet. They call him "Duke" in the ring, and teachers call him Kazmier at school, but the boy can fight in any language. Duke has learned to keep his chin off the other fellow's glove, and has found out that taking two blows to putting in one doesn't pay.

Fights For Living

Your scribe happened to be sitting next to Duke's brother at the fights, and found that Kazmier is literally fighting his way through school. Instead of earning his way shoveling hash he earns it with his fists inside the roped arena. We believe that this is both an unusual and an original way of procuring an education. Another factor is that "Duke," with an abscessed nose, fought, even though it was against doctor's orders.

Interesting Bouts

Yes, some other fellows fought too. Irish Kennedy saved all his marbles for the last round and got the nod over Ernie Kath in the main embroglio. Nate Tillman, the Marshfield butcher boy, got all cut up again — he's a sensitive boy. A cute little blond, girls, won his fight — and did he ever look nice in his chiffon shorties!

A few interesting side-lights: Art Thompson very gravely deciding who won each round; Ernie Kath wearing his modernistic bathrobe; the fellows who ogled Tillman's girl and then faded away when he showed up; the kids at all the windows; the large number of femmes present.

It is a good thing for women that they do not have a sense of humor, for if they did, they would laugh themselves to death over the foolishness of men.

It's not too late to enter some activities. See you at practice after the holidays! Merry Christmas, everyone!

NELSON NOTES BY NAT

First of All—

The Nelson Hall family extends to everybody the brightest and happiest wishes for the holidays and for the New Year.

M a d i s o n and Milwaukee claimed Miss Margaret Mortenson and Miss Frances Korbal, respectively, this weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bachman of Valders, Wisconsin, called at Nelson Hall Sunday evening. Mrs. Bachman, formerly Marian Hougum, was a member of the Grammar Department and a Hallite.

President and Mrs. Hyer and George Hyer, Mr. and Mrs. Steiner, Miss Seen, and the Sims Cottage girls were guests at the annual Nelson Hall Christmas dinner-party Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus and Sally Claus were there in the persons of Roselind Decker, Estelle Buhl, and Thyra Iverson. Miss Rowe decorated the living room and the dining room with three beautiful Christmas trees and with wreaths and other greens. The sumptuous dinner was eaten in the glow of red candles, and after the last course was served, carols were sung by each table of girls, and the Claus family distributed the gifts. The floor was cleared, and we all enjoyed dancing. This annual affair is something we'll never forget.

Another night which will live in our minds is Thursday night, the annual Christmas Festival.
