OVERTIME PERIOD FATAL TO POINT

Oshkosh Noses Out Local Quint 32-28

Overtime games, and "Grandpa Jinx," who has been a member of our football and basketball squad for the past number years, made himself a prominent member in the Oshkosh game Tuesday night. In spite of a good comeback in the second half C. S. T. C. lost a hard fought game 28-32.

Coming home last week with a defeat from Whitewater, the Pointers made up their minds that they were going to beat Oshkosh. The game last week was lost on poor passing and shooting. Tuesday night's game was lost because of our incapability to make baskets.

The Pointers' scoring started in a minute of play, when Ted Chvala made a pass in shot. Pugh the outstanding r. g. made two baskets which gave Oshkosh the lead and was kept by them to the middle of the second half. The Point went into the lead when Capt. Neuberger and Chvala each made a basket. Both teams scoring, lead the game to a 26 to 26 with fourteen seconds to be played and our r. g., Alberts, managed to get under the Point's basket with no one around him. A pass from Neuberger to Alberts gave the Point a chance to score, but due to over excitement, Alberts over threw the basket, making it an over time.

The overtime started with Pelican fouling Alberts. Both shots were missed. Pugh short shot which gave Oshkosh the lead. Capt. Neuberger came back with a shot from center of the floor which tied the score 28-28. Two short shots made by Pugh made the final score 28-32. Capt. Neuberger led the scoring of the evening with 11 points, and was followed by Pugh of Oshkosh with 10 points.

In 1929 he made his Chicago debut at a young American Artists recital at Curtiss Hall and has since become one of the most popular young baritones in Chicago but as a public recitalist.

PUBLIC SPEAKERS TO PRESENT PLAY "A TAILOR MADE MAN"

Central State Loses In Listless Game

C. S. T. C. lost its third game this season to Whitewater, 29 to 11. The Purple and the Gold could not find the basket.

Whitewater held Stevens Point to two field goals. The Pointers, who could pass and score without difficulty in the game last week with Marquette, went down to play the commercial men and could not hold the ball, pass, or hit the inside of the scoring ring.

The Pointers tried hard but couldn't get in their stride. Basket making was poor. Many times they were in scoring position, but would then drop the ball, or the ball would go around the ring and drop out.

Huebner, Whitewater forward, started the scoring and with the help of Joycox and Perry ran a large score.

The Pointers will leave on a five-day trip tomorrow, during which they will play at Marquette, and Houghton, Michigan, and at Ashland, Wisconsin, in a series of non-conference games.

Iris Staff Staging Subscription Campaign

Much work is being done by the Seniors on the school annual, the Iris, which will be ready for distribution the first of June.

The publishing of such a book is an expensive undertaking, for it involves the spending of thousands of dollars. Part of this money is being collected through subscriptions and it is hoped by the staff that if students have not already subscribed with their department representatives, they do so before school closes tomorrow. There will be no extra copies of the book printed; so students must subscribe if they wish to purchase one.

Students having snap shots are requested to hand them to Marion Kowitz, or put them in the snap-shot box outside the Iris office.

Coleman, who takes the place of Mr. James Delzell, who resigned last April. Mr. Steiner has been acting head of the department since that time.

SEMESTER'S END

THE end of the first half of this college year is at hand. To those who are about to enter their last term of work the coming semester is tinged with a considerable amount of excitement, and intermingled feelings of regret and joy — regret at the prospect of leaving the institution which has been the scene of good times, friendship-forming, and of earnest labor for a period of several years — joy at the prospect of soon entering the profession for which they are fitting themselves.

To the students who entered last Fall, the coming half-year should take on a more serious aspect. They have probably found by this time that college is not the same as high school, and that what they do here is a responsibility that rests solely upon themselves. Those individuals who have not discovered this fact are in for some hard knocks. Happily, this last class is practically nil numerically.

What about those who are not new students, but are just in the midst of their courses? Well, in all likelihood, they are just to busy to think about it.

FLOWERS FOR THE BAND

CONFLICTING reports are rife concerning the fate of our band. There's an ancient and much-worn expression that goes something like this: "You can lead a horse to water, but you cannot make him drink." You can provide a college with a band leader, music, hall, uniforms, etc., but you can't make the students bring their instruments and blow them. The instant force is applied, the subject bolts.

In this case the situation seems almost hopeless. The musicians cannot be enticed, neither can they be forced. It looks like the band is about to die an unnoticed death. Less power to you, C. S. T. C.'rs!

If anyone can submit a paper showing cause for Central State not having a band it will receive prompt publication. If there is no response, requests are herewith submitted for at least a decent burial.

Why teach? Nothing that is good is too good for the child; no thought too deep; no toil too great; no work too arduous, for the welfare of the child means happier homes, better society, a purer ballot, and the perpetuity of republican institutions.

—FRANCIS W. PARKER.

Students Present Five Puppet Shows

The students in Miss Hussey's Intermediate-Junior High Literature Class presented five puppet shows in the assembly at 4:00, Wednesday afternoon. The plays were "The Leak in the Dyke," "Hiawatha's Boyhood," "Elves and the Shoemaker," "Finding of Moses" and "Moufflou."

The Primary Literature Class will present at 11:00 today the following plays "Jack and the Beanstalk," "The Three Bears," "The Miraculous Pitcher," and "The Knights of the Silver Shield."

The Training School children attended these shows.

Chi Delts Make Bow To C. S. T. C. Society

A semi-formal dance which proved to be one of the best this year was given by the new Chi Delta Rho fraternity at Hotel Whiting last Friday evening. Besides the student body of Central State, a number of townspeople and high-school students received invitations, and about seventy couples attended. Irv. Lutz' orchestra furnished music for the dancing from nine until one. This was the first important event to be staged by the Chi Delts since their recent organizing and was really their debut socially.

Vic Vrobel's connotation is that too many of the boys are practically married. You can't have a woman on your mind and keep your opponents off your neck at the same time.

He claims that one of the boys made the bus stop at the corner because it was close to his girl's home.

That's all right, Vic, but don't forget sweet little "Millie" from Milladore.

This is the time of the year when dad rejoices because he won't have to pay that ten dollars he promised Willie providing Willie would pass in all his classes.

NELSON HALL NOTES

How 'R-U?

There seems to be a new way of saying farewell and without shedding any tears either. This week has been crammed with surprises for the girls who are leaving us at the end of the semester. Vera Sargent was surprised by her friends at a special table on Thursday. It is rumored that Alta Stauffer and Ruby Curtis were to blame for the "party". The other guests at the table were: "Pat" Cowan, Esther Hawkes, Natalie Gorski, Dolores Chilsen, Esther Kuehl, "Dot" McLain, Ruth Lippke, Adeline Bellman, Margery Tardiff, Ruth Meifert, VOLLIE HOLLAND, Helen Jordan, Jennie Newsome, and Blanche Tyler. Ask any of these girls what they know about "going to college".

On Friday night Miss Martha Lockhardt was entertained at a special table. Green lighted candles formed the decorations. "Kitty" Reichart, Wilma Gutknecht, Florence Niemi, Ruby Curtis, Loretta Farrell, Bertha Freriks, and Mamie Malueg were guests.

On Saturday night, the "working force" at Nelson Hall decided to go on a strike and stage a celebration in honor of the headwaitress, Ellamae Newberry. Secret preparations were made, and little "white lies" were ready for any questions which might be asked. The plan was successful, although some of us wonder why Ellamae wore such a broad smile that night. The "force" included Miss Rowe, "Dick" Marshall, John Progulski, Helen Hammes, Ruby Hand, "Gen" Pulda, Inez Braun, Patricia Cowan, Esther Hawkes, Natalie Gorski, Frances Johnson, Blanche Tyler, Ann Jeselun, Miss Erna Weigert, and Miss Dorothy Lewis.

Yellow roses and yellow candles together with colorful place cards formed the decorations.

The hostess received notes of farewell from each guest. These won't let her forget her co-workers, at least while she is at the Home Ec. Cottage.

The usual moving of girls from the dorm to the Home Ec. Cottages and vice versa has already begun. Ellamae Newberry, Helen Larson, Velva Carley, and Florence Niemi are moving into the Cottages and Alice Falk will resume her duties as head-waitress at Nelson Hall.

Several people were guests at Nelson Hall during the week. Mrs. Dewar spent a few days with her daughter Bessie. Miss Carolyn Hanson, due to the illness in the home of Mr. Knope, is staying a few days at Nelson Hall. She is rooming with Agnes Rindal. Miss Mildred Bonas entertained two guests from Loyal, her home town, on Monday.

Excitement was caused around Nelson Hall this week by the mysterious disappearance of Amos from his accustomed habitat, much to the distress of his parents. They received a note demanding ransom. Through the skillfull efforts

Y. W. C. A.

A large group of Y. W. C. A. members and friends heard Mr. Neale speak at the regular meeting last week. Everyone enjoyed the service.

Mrs. Spindler to Speak

Mrs. Spindler speaks tonight at Y. W. C. A. on the subject of "Social Service Opportunities for College Graduates". Mrs. Spindler is unusually well prepared to discuss this topic, as she herself was engaged in social service work in New York at one time. We are looking forward to a very interesting and profitable meeting.

NOTICE!

Don't forget the Girl's Glee Club and the Orchestra when you are signing up for next semester's program! Next semester is to be a high point for these organizations. It is always expected that they will furnish entertainment at our plays for Class Day, for Commencement, and various other college functions. Besides these activities the Glee Club and Orchestra will be expected to entertain the guests who will be at our college for the State Oratorical and Extemporaneous Speaking Contest, which takes place the third Friday in March.

The Glee Club meets at 3:05 on Wednesday while the Orchestra meets at the same hour on Thursday. Each course gives one credit. Take opportunity by the hand, Pointers!! Give us a real Glee Club and Orchestra!!!

LOYOLA

A meeting of the Loyola Club was held Thursday evening January 22nd, in the Rural Assembly.

After a short business meeting, a comedy play was given. The name of the play was "$3.98"; the actresses were Patricia Cowan and Kathryn Slowey.

Mildred Mack read two selections, "Buddy and Waffles", and "The Highwayman". This was followed by another short play, "There Ain't No Trains Today", by Marie Radosovich, Margaret Martens and Helen Hammes.

A gossip game was played, with the object of acquainting the members with each other. Refreshments were served, and the rest of the evening was spent in dancing.

W. A. A.

This is the last week of this semester, needless to say, which means it is high time for any girl interested in joining W. A. A. next semester to hand her name to the President. The requirements are — one semester in school an active interest in athletics and hand your name to the President. If you feel you don't know enough about the organization, ask any of the W. A. A. members, and they will tell you more about it.

Remember to keep track of your hours of skating, as each hour gives you two points toward your awards. Some will have several points for skating this winter. The ice has lost none of its qualities or attractiveness.

Don't forget basket-ball, and especially, get into the swing of it next week.

The regular meeting of the W. A. A. was held Wednesday and the new constitution was thoroughly discussed. Our next meeting will be a social affair.

All those interested in learning how to skate please meet in the locker rooms at 9:00 A. M. Saturday morning January 31. Miss Seen will be the instructor.

On Tuesday night of this week, the annual birthday party for the "family" was held. Unusual favors added to the enjoyment of the occasion. At this event everyone's birthday is celebrated, those occurring during the same month are seated together, giving everyone a chance to meet her twin.

The smallest tables this year were March, and November, while August and October claimed the largest numbers.

I guess I'll now sign off and let you enjoy that grrr---and and glorious feeling of being all finished with exams.
