School Picnic To End Social Season

Every student at C. S. T. C., if he or she so wishes, will have an opportunity to end the year with a great deal of fun by attending the "all school picnic" to be held the afternoon and evening of Wednesday May 27.

It is expected that the picnic will be held at the old water works park so that everyone can get there either by walking or riding. The lunch will be served free of charge. Posters will be placed in the halls next week and all who plan to go are asked to sign these posters in order that the eats committee may know how many to count on.

The following are the committees in charge of the various activities of the picnic: the lunch committee is headed by Miss Rowe and assisted by all of the senior Home Ec. girls, Margaret Birr, Velva Carley, Alice Falk, Helen Larson, Ellamae Newberry, Marian Kowitz, Florence Niemi, Flora Pike, Lucille Schmidt, Florence Shoaff, Laura Schoeninger, Irene Skutely, Ruth Stiller and Alice Wallington; the games will be in charge of Miss Seen and Mr. Kotal, assisted by Edna Crocker, Thurza Iverson, Crystal Joseph, Olga Leonardson, Ruth Meifert, Esther Sorenson, Albert Neuberger, Clifford Alberts, Harry Klappa, Stanley Trebatowski, Clarence Chvala, Arthur Schroeder, Carl Kitowski; Richard Marshall, John Pralgske and Lawrence Beaudin are to be responsible for the transportation of the lunch.

More Men Urged To Report For Track

There are several men reporting daily in preparation for the state track meet which is to be held at Madison, the thirtieth of May. There are a number of men who have not been out for track that are outstanding in one or two events. These men should see the Coach at once so they may start training for the state meet.

"Revolt Of Desert" Assembly Subject

George Alias, a Mesopotamian who has been living in the United States since 1920, gave an interesting talk in assembly last Thursday morning. During the World War, Mr. Alias fought with the Russian army and later went back to his native land to fight with the Christian army, headed by T. E. Lawrence.

Mr. Alias presented in a most interesting manner the story of the "Revolt of the Desert" and the work done by Mr. Lawrence.

Chi Delts Donate Student Honor Cup

Realizing the need for more competition for scholarship honors, the Chi Delta Rho fraternity has donated a student honor cup to the school. This cup will be awarded annually to the student of any class or course who carries the highest average in all of his classes for the school year. It will be awarded for the first time by President Hyer on Student Honor Day, the last Tuesday of the school year.

The trophy, a silver loving cup sixteen inches high and four inches in diameter, is mounted on an ebony base around which is a silver band. A new feature in loving cups represented in the handles which are made of green onyx.

The rules for awarding the cup are:

1. Any student enrolled in any course or year in Central State Teachers College is eligible as a competitor for the Chi Delta Rho Student Honor Cup providing he (or she) carries at least sixteen credit-hours of work for the two semesters of the year.

2. The name of the person having the highest average in all of his or her classes for the two semesters of the year will have his or her name engraved on the cup followed by the numerals of the year in which it was won.

3. The cup shall be kept in school on display in the trophy case.

4. The Chi Delta Rho fraternity may withdraw the cup from competition at any time they see fit to replace it with another cup or trophy.

The cup is on display in the trophy case.

Speech Class Holds First Annual Dinner

Another new custom has been instituted at Central State—a Speech Banquet. The first of its kind was held last evening in the parlors of the M. E. Church. Those invited included members of the Speech Classes of both semesters and those who represented the school in Forensics this year.

At six o'clock the time of gaiety started—with an excellent menu.

The program consisted of several very interesting as well as amusing numbers:

Toastmistress ..... Mrs. Fretheim

CEDRIC VIG RETAINED AS BUSINESS MANAGER

Burton Hotvedt, who will be a Junior at C. S. T. C. next year, has recently accepted the position as editor in chief of next year's Pointer. Burton will fill the position held this year by Theodore Rozelle, a June graduate.

Mr. Hotvedt, next year's editor, has done much extra-curricular work since he entered school here. He has been a member of the debate team for two years, cheer leader, associate member of Sigma Zeta (honorary science fraternity) and member of Phi Lambda Phi. He is also President of the Sophomore Class.

Being editor in chief of the Pointer Staff involves a great many hours of work every week and the use of much extra time, but its journalistic value and interesting contacts proves a reward.

Other members of the staff are selected by the editor in consultation with the faculty adviser, Mr. Rightsell. The members of next year's staff will be announced in a later issue this year or possibly not until next fall.

Cedric Vig, business manager of the Pointer this year will retain this position for the next year. Cedric is a sophomore, associate member of Sigma Zeta, secretary-treasurer of the Margaret Ashmun club. He has filled his position with the Pointer very creditably and for that reason will have it next year.

EXTRA CURRICULAR PARTICIPATION.

A statement was made during a recent assembly that opportunities to engage in extra-curricular activities and honors would be increased during the next year. In order to more evenly distribute the honors of holding the various offices, it is suggested that certain rules be made or traditionalized so that these offices will not be concentrated upon the shoulders of a few. Another reason why this should be done is one individual cannot handle a number of important positions as efficiently as he can handle one, as a general rule. Also, by having a more general participation a more general interest in the various activities of the school will follow.

Some institutions divide the various positions in extra-curricular organizations into major and minor classes. The highest position of each organization would be classed as a major position. The other positions are in the minor group. An article explaining this plan as used in one of the State Teachers' Colleges stated that students were allowed to hold either one major position or two minor positions. This plan seems to have worked out successfully where it is used. Of course, others could be devised, but if such a plan were adopted it can be seen that a considerably greater number of students will be able to participate.

The fact that ability to lead in extra-curricular activities is very important in securing a desirable teaching position should lead to some system for participation in positions of leadership by as many students as possible. The plan given above is worth considering. It may lead to a better plan.

THE KINDERGARTEN — PRIMARY FIELD

THE kindergarten-primary field of education is today passing through a stage of intense growth," says Margaret Cook Holmes, president of the Association for Childhood Education, in the May Journal of the National Education Association. "It is actively engaged in fostering and aiding research in the nursery-school movement, and is prominently identified with the new stress placed on adult education with its well known activities in the realm of parent education.

"Children are being observed and studied as never before. The teacher of the young child has the opportunity, if she but avails herself of it, to make a valuable contribution to the science of education."

President Holmes calls attention to the significant developments of the kindergarten movement within the past fifteen years, the organization of kindergarten method courses in teacher training institutions, the increased recognition of early childhood problems in psychology and educational research, the improved equipment with which the newer schools are being provided, and the increasing demand for expert supervisors of kindergarten activities.

The kindergarten will bring about a definite reorganization of the early elementary school, thinks President Holmes, just as the junior high school has brought about fundamental changes in methods and courses in the later elementary years.

The rapidly growing kindergarten offers one of the best opportunities teachers may find in the entire educational ladder, according to President Holmes, "Research, supervision, teacher training the young child, demands sympathetic, efficient, intelligent, and earnest workers.

"The rewards of educational recognition are many and to the young woman to whom the young child appeals there is promise of many opportunities for inspiring service."

The good education of youth has been extended by wise men in all ages as the fullest foundations of the happiness both of private families and of commonwealth.—BENJAMIN FRANKLIN.

HUMOR MORE OR LESS

After several months this one finally got back to Stevens Point: Mr. Kotal — "This suspense is getting terrible. I can't stand it any longer."

Doctor — "Calm yourself, my dear sir. I've brought thousands of babies into the world and never lost a father yet."

We all know that Wilbur Stowell is teaching Arithmetic in the Junior High School, but we don't all know what happens in the class. Take this one—

"Mr." Stowell — "Johnny, what are two and two?"

Johnny — "Four."

Mr. Stowell — "That's very good, Johnny."

Johnny — "Good? Me eye! That's perfect!"

An old-timer is a person who can remember when a girl promised to marry a man instead of threatening to do so.

A HELDOVER FROM CHI.

Wood. — "Where can I get hold of you to-night at about 8:00?"

Gen. — "Please don't — I'm so awfully ticklish."

Thurza — "Where can I get some hard water?"

Miss Wilson — "What do you want hard water for?"

Thurza — "I want to boil some hard-boiled eggs."

Mr. Plank returned home one day to find his wife in tears.

"Oh, Eddie, dear," she sobbed, "I made a cake for you and set it on the porch to cool and the dog ate it." "Never mind, honey," said Ed. "I'll get you another dog."

It is hard to see how fifty million husbands can be wrong — but they are!

Mr. Karnopp — "Your son is pursuing his studies in college. I suppose?"

Mr. Marshall — "I guess so. He's always behind."

Gen — "That settles it."

Ann — "What settles it?"

Gen — "The egg."

Ann — "Settles what?"

Gen — "The coffee."

Some of the students are getting tired of the "Pie Shop". As a cure we suggest a new name be applied. How about "Bean Bazaar", or "Goulash Garage".

Then there was a man who held a job for twenty years because he couldn't get a pardon.

"Oh, why was I born an actress?"

"You weren't, dearie."

NELSON HALL NOTES

'Lo, Readers,

I've just been let in on the biggest secret ever! Want to hear it? Listen! A big time is being planned for everyone on May 27. We're going to have an all-school picnic. Brush up on your horse-shoe and baseball, you big fans! This is one day when you'll be able to have a showing of talent, technique, etc. For more particulars, see Mr. Rogers. You know he always plans a good time.

Some of the girls have found that they could not vent their pent-up feelings resulting from spring fever; so a group of them deserted Nelson Hall over the week-end satisfying the "camp craze" at Lake Emily. Perhaps all of us have it but are handicapped in some way which prevents us from enjoying it. At any rate we envy the girls who have acquired that beautiful coat of tan ahead of everyone else. Some of it doesn't seem to be so comfortable — ask those who are sporting a rather red color. Olgo Leonardson, Thyrsa Iverson, Irene Miller, Reimetta Reisinger, Kate Wiggins, Kate Slowey, Esther Hawkes, Ethel Caskey, Ruth Meifert, Ardyce Bagnall, Olga Wolfgram, and Vera Hillis said that they would do it again.

The Prom season is almost over, but Nelson Hall girls are enjoying them to the end. "Dot" McLain, and Volley Holand, attended the Prom at Ephraim.

Birthday parties are not as numerous as in March or April, but the special tables seem to get longer and bigger. Esther Hawkes was surprised by a group of friends last week. The girls who enjoyed the dinner were Natalie Gorski, Crystal Joseph, Murilla Roberts, Ann Jeselun, Ethel Caskey, Erna Wegert, Ruby Hand, Helen Hammes, Frances Johnson, Gen Pulda, Alice Falk, Blanche Tyler, Pat Cowan and Ida Lahti.

The chief industries at Nelson Hall seem to be filling out picnic menus and serving lunches bi and tri daily. It's a wonder the kitchen can face a sandwich. Miss Rowe knows how to make things appetizing.

With all the gorgeous spring awakenings and attractive weather outside, some of the girls insist on taking cold. They have our sympathy, however. Alice Staffiel was indisposed on Monday with a temperature and rapid pulse. The doctor gave no decision either way but said that he would do his best "to keep it from being something". For Alice's sake, we certainly hope he will check anything that could turn into something. Even though measles usually attack only those under 10, one never can tell — actions sometimes speak louder than words.

Miss Jean Skinner has just returned from an absence of nearly a week. The girls of Nelson Hall wish to extend sympathy to Jean during her recent bereavement.

Tau Gamma Holds Twenty-second Formal

Tau Gamma Beta sorority held its twenty second annual spring formal last Thursday, May 14, at Hotel Whiting.

At a 6:30 o'clock dinner, for members of the sorority and their escorts, covers were laid for 48 in the club dining room, at tables set for six people. Pink roses were in bright contrast to the black and white and silver color scheme. The table decorations were black and white nut cups and white place cards with the sorority crest in silver. The favors were tiny silver and black enamel watch charms with the Tau Gamma Beta crest in silver, which were at the gentlemen's places at the dinner, wrapped in black and white polka-dot paper. The dance programs were small black celluloid books decorated simply with the sorority crest in silver, which were at the ladies' places at dinner. Sorority songs were sung before and after the dinner and Tommy Temple's orchestra of Appleton, which was engaged for the evening, played for dancing between courses. In a short after-dinner talk, President Frank S. Hyer, who was introduced by Miss Elizabeth Neuberger president of the sorority, spoke of the value of the social side of college life and commended the perseverance of the sorority in clinging to its purposes and ideals through 22 years.

During the dance, which was from 8:30 until midnight, attended by 87 couples, punch was served by little Marjorie Atwell in a long flowered chiffon and Ruth Nason in a long flowered organ-dy dress. Jean Mailer and Lolita Week took tickets at the door.

Chaperones for the evening were President and Mrs. Hyer, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Rogers. The committee in charge of the dance was composed of Frances Van Hecke, Pearl Merrill and Elizabeth Rogers of this city and Dorothy Justin of Fond du Lac.

Y. W. C. A.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend the weekly Y. W. C. A. meeting tonight at 7:30. Mr. Watson is to deliver an address entitled "The Reclamation of Religion to Environment". You have heard Mr. Watson over the radio, now come and here him in person.

BARNYARD GOLF TOURNAMENT

Friday, May 29, all scores must be in the hands of coach Kotal. 'Forfeits', start Tuesday, May 26, do not put this off, get your games out of the way at once.

Tennis Doubles Won By Neale - Collins

Friday's games drew to a close the second college tennis tournament. Neale and Collins were winners of first place defeating Boyer and Thompson in the finals 6-2 — 6-3. Third place will be played this week between the Marshall, Praluguske, and Adams, Meisner teams.

Gold, silver and bronze medals will be given for first, second and third places respectively. The Stevens Point Sport Shop has given a cup. The winners names will be placed on it and left in the trophy case.

LOYOLA

All Loyola members who wish to avail themselves of the splendid opportunity of attending 10 o'clock mass at the church at Polonia, and the picnic dinner afterward, on Sunday, please sign your name on the slip on our bulletin board and meet at the dorm steps at 9:30 o'clock. We would like to have your names before Friday night, that we may procure enough cars. The cost of the picnic dinner is thirty-five cents, unless you wish to furnish your own.

W. A. A.

Oh, Yes, you must have heard about the week-end, but I'll tell you the most important points so that you will know the truth of the matter. The most important event was the turtle — but wait, I'll get to that on Saturday afternoon!

Thirteen girls (No we weren't superstitious) ate a good hot supper of "Chilly" Friday night, and enjoyed the evening on the banks of Lake Emily. The 13 are: Olga Wolfram, Olga Leonardson, Ethel Caskey, Esther Hawks, Ardyce Bagnal, Irene Miller, Vera Hillis, Reimnetta Reissinger, Ruth Meifert, Thyrsa Iverson, Kate Slowey, Kate Wiggins and Miss Seen. Those that did not go don't know what they missed.

Saturday morning Ethel and Esther got up at 5 o'clock, walked about a mile over to the farm, and helped the handsome little farmer boy milk the cows. His name was Grant, and he had cows. (By the way, they did this in their dreams however.) Although nearly everybody was late for breakfast, that was because breakfast was late, and nobody cared when they set their teeth into that delicious French Toast fried in butter: Who were the cooks? Well, that would be telling, but they weren't Home Ec's. The rest of the morning was spent in various diversions with three oars, four boats, the portable (with about four records), a hike to the farm for milk and

Cedric Vig Elected Ashmun Club Pres.

On May thirteenth the Margaret Club enjoyed a picnic at Sunset Lake. Soon after arrival at the Boy Scout Camp a most palatable lunch that had been prepared by Miss Rowe was enjoyed by all.

For entertainment a baseball and bat and also a portable phonograph were produced. An extremely interesting and exciting baseball game was played — or waged — for the next hour. Meantime some not so athletically inclined, tripped over the floor of the administration building to the tune of the portable.

Due to the labors of several ambitious Margaret Ashes a fire was seen—in a natural amphitheatre. Thereupon a business meeting was called by the President. Plans were carried out for the joint Margaret Ashmun and Sigma Tau Delta Banquet to be held Wednesday, June third. A committee consisting of Miss Hussey, Mr. Allez, Miss Davis, Frances Gallagher, Kenneth Brock and Ann Jeselun was put in charge of all arrangements.

With the election of officers which ensued, Cedric Vig was elected President for '31 and '32 with Celestine Nuesse as Secretary. The Vice President is elected at the beginning of each school year.

Much credit is due to Clarence Rice and his committee for the enjoyable time had by all.

HOME ECONOMICS

The officers of the Home Economics Club of the following year have been elected. Helen Hammes will succeed Irene Skutley as president, Jennie Newsome will act as vice-president, and Katherine Wiggins was chosen as secretary-treasurer.

a little work. Who worked? Miss Seen and everyone but the cooks dug a hole to bake beans and Saturday "dinner" they sure tasted good.

In the P. M. Olga created the excitement. She went out in the yacht all by herself lonesome, and came back on shankes ponies carrying an excess of Lake Emily humus on her trousers. She had been trying the "Abe Lincoln" act, rescuing "a big snapping turtle out of the mud, but got slightly excited, so went in with him and got out in a hurry. When she finally reached camp an S. O. S. was sent out for the yacht with the only pair of oars, and the gang volunteered to the last man, except Miss Seen, and with one paddle (oar), two gallant girls, "leapt into the waiting canoe (flat bottomed row-boat) and dashed across the water. The remainder of the tribe sped rapidly around the shore. They finally found the yacht safely drifting along the shore so the gallant girls took the rudder and towed the canoe home. (You probably don't understand what happened. If not ask some of those present, but they won't be able to tell you it right either.) Now the crowning event of the day: Irene Miller grasped the turtle firmly and handed it to Ardyce. After getting to camp everyone grouped around the monstrous animal. Really the area of its back was at least 12,000 centimeters so just picture the size of the turtle, bearing the name of the brave troopers of Lake Emily. It is to be the sandwich tray of the W. A. A.

Sunday was peaceably spent, with a late breakfast of bacon and eggs cooked on stones by the sea shore. Ruth nearly had fried chicken, however Ethel beat Miss Seen two to 1 in horseshoe. Esther ran into a clothesline in the dark, and broke it on her eye. Olga L. fell in the mud. Reinetta laughed too hard and broke her stool. Thyrsa and Vera took life easy — they slept in their clothes so as to be ready for breakfast in the morning. We always knew Irene and Kate W. were all wet! But we were assured of the fact when they came back from their Sunday morning yachting.

Olga W. pulled the most delicious taffy, with lake water and sand as the lubricants. Ardyce had a caller at four bells, who woke her friends. She tried to Everyone brought home a little tan, a lot of sun-burn and many laughs.

There will be no W. A. A. dance this week end, sorry to say.
