The contest which the Home Ec. Club of C. S. T. C. has been sponsoring has come to a close. The project was the making of several original articles for household use or wear out of flour or sugar sacks. After a conference of the officers of the club, the first prize of $25.00 has been awarded to Miss Elizabeth Sansum of Baraboo, Wisconsin, and the second prize of $15.00 goes to Florence Frater of Wild Rose.

The articles are now on display in Miss Church's sewing room. Anyone wishing to see the work should do so before next week as it will be taken down after Friday of this week.

Mary Van Hecke To Head Sigma Zeta

At a special meeting of Sigma Zeta, Tuesday morning, officers were elected for next year, as folllows: Mary Van Hecke, Master Scientist; Mr. Schmeeckle, Vice M. S.; Estelle Buhl, Recorder-Treasurer.

W. Neale has been invited to attend as the speaker for the occasion, and has accepted. This will be a special feature of the college summer school program and is scheduled for July 29.

Sigma Zeta Picnic At Wild Rose

A number of Sigma Zeta people motored to Wild Rose on a picnic trip last Thursday afternoon. The scientists visited the trout hatchery there and ate a picnic dinner in a hall at Wild Rose.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. Jones, of the University of Chicago Archaeological Survey. Dr. Jones told of the work he and his fellow workers did in excavating Indian mounds in Illinois and Iowa. The society also enjoyed a collection of photographs taken on the excavation trips.

Officers for the coming year were to be elected at this meeting, but due to the limited time this will be taken care of at a special meeting to be called later.

WIDELY KNOWN AS SCHOOL BAND DIRECTOR

Peter J. Michelsen, most widely known school band director in Wisconsin, who led the Richland Center band to first and second awards in all state contests it entered, has been engaged as director of music at Central State Teachers' College, beginning with the fall term.

Mr, Michelsen will fill the vacancy caused by the death of Frank E. Percival. He was chosen by Mr. Hyer from 58 applicants from Wisconsin and all over the United States.

Highly Recommended

The new music director for the college not only has an enviable wondering if president Hyer, that reputation throughout Wisconsin schools but will come to Stevens Frank Hyer who went to White- Point highly recommended by the state department of education. President Hyer is to be congratu-I was very interested in reading lated for having procured such a valuable addition to Central State.

A Successful Leader The Richland Center bands directed by Mr. Michelsen won six consecutive first places in state band tournaments and it was because of the outstanding qualities of this band that the system of awarding individual band honors was replaced by that of making group awards. Under the former arrangement Richland Center was such a consistent winner that competing bands had to be content with lesser honors.

The coming of Mr. Michelsen will add a man to the faculty who will not only be able to develop a fine college band but who will be able to train leaders for bands, orehestras and glee clubs from among the students who receive instructions from him. The demand today for men and women who can lead in some phase of NE more week of school! Some people are glad of the fact. others are not.

Every year a graduating class is spread over the land. Close friendships are ended forever in many cases, because people do not keep in touch with each other. Do not let your friendships lapse. When you are gone from this college forever as a student, keep in correspondence with your friends who are in the field and who are still in college. Friendship is something that keeps one from losing contact with the past. Friendship is like an insurance policy. must keep it up in order to enjoy the benefits. If neglected it is lost

When you leave this school plan to keep in touch with your classmates.

WELCOME, MR. MICHELSEN

THE students and faculty of Central State Teachers' College wish to extend a hearty welcome to Mr. Michelsen, the new music director for next year. They pledge their fullest cooperation in making his work a success.

OR the heart and content of our curriculum we take life itself, the good and rich social and individual life and its improve-This richer life in the actual social setting we propose to seek in season and out, striving throughout it all to build creative personalities in our children. We count it a kind of blasphemy to deny to any child, properly outside of an institution, his creative possibilities and these it is our duty to cherish and cultivate.

This then is our aim for the school. How soon can it be attained? In some respects it is already here. In many others it remains to be worked out. Up-to-date kindergartens and primary schools are now pretty well reconstructed. The elementary grades are everywhere being slowly remade, more or less along these lines. Secondary schools and colleges have least been influenced. It is a long time program. None among us knows exactly the best procedure. bly after all it were better thus. We live in a growing world. We nust always be progressing. Our schools, our children, and we must keep on growing.—W. H. KILPATRICK.

Milwaukee Wins At La Crosse

The tennis team from the college met a straight defeat at La Crosse last Friday.

Arthur Thompson of the Point met Shommer, who won the state championship in the first round and gave the Wisconsin champion the toughest competition of the day, losing 6-3, 7-5.

Neale and Collins, who played in the doubles, were eliminated by Bergold and Ruse of La Crosse, 6-3, 6-4.

Boyer, the other Stevens Point singles entrant, lost to Kramer of Oshokosh, 6-0, 6-3.

Students Enjoy Week-end Outing

The quiet of Lake Emily was disturbed last week-end by the clamor of the most obstreperous Leadership class of Miss Seen's Miss Carlson assisted career. most ably in quelling the exuberance of the group by providing craftwork for their edification and enjoyment. She and Miss Allen also provided means of transportation. Miss Allen returned to town Friday and went out again Sunday evening with her car to bring in the girls and their trophies. The most prized of these were the reed baskets, the pottery and knives carved out of wood. These were made under Miss Carlsten's direction. knives were used while cooking breakfast on hot stones along the beach Saturday morning soon after dawn.

Speaking of food - did you ever eat real bean hole beans, kabobs, doughboys and chowder made over a camp-fire by Miss Seen? Believe me, they are excelled by nothing but her famous fudge. The big treat for the in-door Sunday dinner was the chicken cooked by Margaret Birr. Fish was on the menu, but it didn't materialize because all the "bass" Miss Seen caught were out of season!

The weather man was kind most of the time, but he did not allow an opportunity for star study on Saturday night as planned. Chilly weather Friday forced doubling and "tripling in beds borrowing of extra hose, sweat shirts, and hot water bottles. Ruth Brabant gave a demonstration next morning on how to keep warm by divesting her person of five wool sweaters.

Nobody met with an accident so no first aid demonstration was needed, although Dorothy Johnson and Lucille Schmidt held their breath in apprehension as they sat on the bluff and watched Eleanor Worzalla take a rowing lesson.

Everybody worked as well as played. One of the hardest jobs was carrying water up a steep bank. Lauretta Farrell hopes to become famous by perfecting a device to siphon water up hill. Ann Grady objects to the idea because taking a nap in the shade near the pump when supposed to be getting water is so romantic.

Each one of the party gave a stunt. Miss Carlsten's impersonation of a Swedish woman making a call brought down the house. She arranged a treasure hunt by "flash light" Saturday night that was trailed with all the zest of third graders. Ann Grady's team won most of the prizes and Dorothy Johnson discovered the grand prize, a package of Miss Seen's favorite fruit.

Camp was broken up with an auction of left over onions, carrots, catsup and other stray edibles. All returned home happy.

There are still many shy girls left - shy about 10 years!

NELSON HALL NOTES

G'morning!

Do you feel like the characters in a real thrilling mystery story? Do you feel the atmosphere tighten as the year closes? Cheer up. the climax is about to come, and you'll be able to enjoy the sun, and automobile rides again. It doesn't seem to bother some people anyway. Oh, to have such a happy-go-lucky personality!

Several of the girls have been seeing a little bit more of the world than just the green grass of Stevens Point. Vallie Holand spent Sunday at Tomah this week end. Mina Hunt visited her sister at her cottage at Hancock. The property joins the beautiful Huckin's estate. Miss Ruth Meifert spent the week end at Wausau. Eileen Leahy, whom we usually see around the dorm, spent the week end at her home in Waupaca. Velva Funk also spent the week end in Wausau. Hilda Lukas visited friends and relatives at Wautoma. Lucille Smith's car comes in handy; Helen Jordan and she motored to La Farge this week end. Reinetta Reissinger enjoyed Saturday and Sunday at her home in Hixton. Florence Tuttle visited friends in Wausau.

Even though summer weather has come to stay, we find that measles still holds sway. Margaret Allman was surprised one morning by waking up with a permanent blush.

Alice Law is spending a few days at home recovering from a slight illness. No more measles, please!

We hope that Marcella Magin's mother will soon improve in health so that "Marcy" will be back with us again.

Were you "in on" the picnic supper Sunday evening? You missed some of those delicious eats which only the cooks of Nelson Hall know how to make if you weren't. There will be many more — don't miss them.

The electric fan which served the purpose of carrying out the lighthouse decorations at the Sophomore party has finally returned. It took some bribing of the janitors to locate it — perhaps. You've noticed them with puffing cigars—there's a reason!

We don't know whether eigars or eigarettes were offered as a reward for Miss Rowe's hammer, but it also has again mysteriously appeared.

All ready for the all school picnic — Let's go-

The meeting of the Y.W.C.A. is postponed until next week. A cabinet meeting will be held next week in order to draw up plans for next year.

Rural Life Play a Big Success

The annual play of the Department of Rural Education was presented on May 19 to a large and appreciative audience. "The Patsy," a delightful modern comedy, with its clever lines and rapid action brought about one situation after another in which were mingled laughs and surprises for the audience. The comedy was natural, the characters having the mannerisms which we see about us in everyday life.

Each student interpreted the character he represented very well and did splendid acting. Much praise was given to them. The general comment of those who attended is, "The Rural Department Play was a big success."

The students and faculty of the Rural Department appreciate the splendid co-operation given them by members of the faculty and the student body. They likewise are grateful for the generosity of Hanna's Ready To Wear and Kelley's Men's Furnishings for the loan of costumes.

W. A. A.

The weather man has smiled on the girls of late, and darkened, or brightened many complexions. The tennis courts have been busy, which means many points coming in to Ann Jeselun.

The base-ball teams are posted. Be out to every practice with your team to learn all their tricks.

The last meeting, next Wednesday, June 3, will be the installation of the officers and cabinet for next year and the awarding of numerals and letters.

By the way our dance was a success. It was more than amusing to see some of our dignified collegians merrilly tripping the circle two step to the strains of Art Miller's four piece orchestra.

LOYOLA

The threatening shower Sunday morning did not dampen the spirits of a number of fun loving members of the Loyola Club. The group gathered in cars and journeyed to Polonia to attend Mass in the largest rural Catholic church in the world. After church a bounteous picnic dinner was spread and was heartily attacked. If you want to hear any more about it-come to Loyola Club Thursday evening. Besides the regular social meeting, there will be election of officers, and a surprise. Everyone out for the last meeting!

mentioned and find that there is only one name which I knew. Jean Skinner, whom I remember as a little tot from Endeavor, Wisconsin.

You people do not realize how home sick you made me for a sight of the old school and a chance to go boat riding up the old Wisconsin River. I have lost track of the former students of Central State Teachers' College. I am wondering if you happen to have a former students' directory and if I might obtain one?

I am almost afraid to ask if Professors Collins, Culver, and Spindler are still present at the College, and also where Herrick and Steiner happen to be located.

We have a number of Wisconsin men as professors here in this college but none of them happen to be from Stevens Point.

I am sending in my subscription for the "Pointer" so that I may be able to hear what is doing at the old school once in a while."

Mr. Reid is now head of the department of poultry husbandry at the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, College Station, Texas.

In answer to Mr. Reid's letter we can say that president Hyer is the former professor Hyer. Professors Collins, Spindler, Herrick and Steiner are still with us and livelier than ever. Dr. Culver has retired and is enjoying the fruits of his labors in travelling. The old Wisconsin River is also still with us, and more beautiful than ever.

We hope that Mr. Reid will find it possible to make us a visit sometime. He will be surprised to see how greatly the school and the town have improved with age. We wish that more of the alumni would get in touch with Alma Mater and renew old ties.
