SMITH SPEAKS AT GATHERINGS IN MICHIGAN

Educators Of 11 Different States Convene To Discuss Problems

Professor Ernest T. Smith, director of the High school department at the local college, left for Jackson, Mich., Wednesday afternoon where he will speak this afternoon. On Friday morning he will deliver an address at Saginaw, Mich.

One Of Forty

Mr. Smith has been chosen as one of the 40 speakers selected from 11 different states who will address the various district meetings of the Michigan Education association being conducted in that state this month.

E. T. SMITH

The local professor's topic is "Newer Objectives In Education." Mr. Smith will discuss anthropology and its relation to the various units of learning. He will also illustrate human personality and contrast the personality of the individual with the culture of the human race.

District System

Unlike other states' methods of conventions and assemblies Michigan has been divided into eight districts, each district holding its own convention. At the state convention each district selects delegates who represent their districts. Michigan's method of holding its state convention and sectional gatherings has drawn considerable comment and attention from adjoining states, including Wisconsin.

Mr. Smith will visit Chicago on his return home and will arrive in Stevens Point Sunday.

Faculty Featured On College Radio Hour

The College Radio Hour, a Friday feature over station WLBL, is to present one member of the faculty on each program. The members of the faculty who will have appeared during the month of October are Clarence D. Jayne, J. V. Collins, Victor L. Thompson, May Roach and Eva Seen.

There will be no Radio Hour Nov. 6, the date of the Milwaukee convention. Alfred J. Herrick, Frank N. Spindler, Herbert R. Steiner, Ernest T. Smith, Bertha M. Hussey and Frank S. Hyer will appear before Christmas vacation.

Friday's program will contain an eulogy on Edison by two students, who will be introduced by Miss May Roach; music, under the direction of Peter J. Michelsen; a Home Economics feature; and College News, by Burton Hotvedt. Leland M. Burroughs, in charge of the programs, introduces each hour with a musical reading, accompanied by Alex Peterson on the piano.

LOCALS FACE ZORN'S TEAM AT EAU CLAIRE

An elaborate homecoming celebration is being planned at Eau Claire for Saturday when the Pointers will entertain Coach Willis Zorn's gridders.

Zorn is an alumnus of the local

Attendance Is Outstanding At Homecoming

Forgetting about football scores, the homecoming was quite a success from a display, financial and social standpoint. Perfect fall weather, with plenty of sunshine, brought hundreds to the 1931 gala celebration.

Mass Meeting

The student body spirits were uncorked Friday evening at a mass meeting in the auditorium. The band was there in full force as was the student body. Speeches were made by Prof. Spindler and Alta Stauffer. What the audience failed to pack in their cheers for the occasion was included in their laughter when John and Frank, two favorite janitors, officiated in a farce football game staged by the Phi Sig pledges. Another stunt by the W. A. A. and a one-act play by the Harlequin Club added to the zest of the evening. When the program was over the crowd poured out upon the back campus for the huge bon-fire built by a few freshmen boys.

Snake Dance

When the blaze died down the students poured into main street and down to the business section in a long, weaving, snake-dance.

Delinquent Frosh

On Friday evening after the pep meeting adjourned the crowds flocked out to a roaring bonfire, built nominally by the men of the Freshman Class. This group, a half a hundred strong, had been warned in several assemblies that this function rested with them—had been reminded in the Pointer that tradition demanded that they do this task — and a bonfire was built.

But where, where were the four score and ten when the wood was being collected — where were these fifty-odd Frosh when the oil was being poured on? Only a noble nine responded to the call — their names, as duly inscribed on the honor roll: Bob McDonald, Tom Ringness, Harris Shafton, Malcolm Parks, Willy Schwahn, Lyman Scribner, Carl Lang, Rodney Kruger and Harold Marrs.

KRYL'S THIRTY PIECE BAND TO APPEAR NOV. 2

All Stevens Point Invited To Hear Famous Band In Auditorium

Kryl's great band, on par with the musical organizations of Sousa, Creatore, Gillmore, Prymor and others, will appear in the College Auditorium Monday, November 2.

The wonderful band of thirty pieces is being brought here under a financial risk of three local men, and consequently a crowd must be forth-coming to assure success. No audience will be lacking however, in a city where interest in band work is so high. President Frank S. Hyer, Captain Ferdinand A. Hirzy and Rev. Julius Chylinski have personally signed a note for $750 to assure the appearance of Kryl and his men, and the success of the evening.

Remarkable Character

A press clipping that reaches us from Kryl's twenty-seventh annual tour quotes —

Bohumir Kryl looks just as he did when he made his first appearances before Middle West audiences more than a quarter century ago. The same thick mop of hair, with a little more gray on top of it, but no less gracefulness and energy in direction. Since Kryl stood on the platform at each concert for nearly an hour and a half, and indulged in sustained flights on the cornet, requiring no end of air pressure, it must be said that he is still sound in wind and limb. Nor has he lost any of his ability to make even a brass horn express feeling. Brass horns, by the way, were present in all shapes. One striking effect, reminding old timers of the day when bands were bands, was a bass tuba with an aperture as big as the muzzle of a 16-inch gun, and a surrounding expanse of glittering brass as big as a wash-tub, encrusted with elaborate designs in the way of harps, foliage and what not that must have meant a winter's work for a goldsmith.

Strength Evident

In the first number, "Tannhauser," by Wagner, the evening audience was given a conception of the strength of Kryl's sym-

OUR HOMECOMING

There were a number of things about our last week-end that were very pleasing, and a few features that were not very agreeable to us. We believe that it justifies a composite editorial of constructive and destructive criticism.

The down-town merchants are to be complimented on the manner in which they trimmed their windows for the occasion. When requested by a faculty representative for display recognition of the event, every business man responded heartily. The city officials are to be thanked for their decoration of the city streets for the homecoming.

Our football team receives a hand for holding a champion eleven to a small score and for playing real football for one half of a regular football game. What happened to them the second half is a question asked not only by Coach Kotal but by every one. Did the lead of a touchdown go to their heads? Admitting that Milwaukee had a heavier and more experienced line we must concede that they naturally would have a bit more power as the tussle progressed. Never the less, the manner in which our fellows dropped their vigor was chronic and appalling. In the disgust of the moment and the apparent lack of virility, Coach Kotal asked, "What have I got here, a practice ball club?" We know we have a real team and it hurts to lose ball games in the manner in which three close defeats have been handed us.

Our football team will meet Eau Claire and Platteville in homecoming games, and the men should resolve right now to ruin these celebrations in the same way that theirs was spoiled by Milwaukee.

The conduct of the students in their pep-fest down town Friday evening drew favorable comment from Stevens Point citizens. The collegians displayed plenty of enthusiasm but did not tend to rowdiness and destructiveness. The students did not show very much enthusiasm in their cheering Saturday afternoon and cannot justifiably "Wolf" over the lack of spirit on the part of the eleven. The next home game we will call for volunteers from the men of the school and form a regular cheering section in an attempt to remedy this situation.

The Omega Mu Chi, the W. A. A. and the Chi Delta Rho as well as all the other representatives in the parade are to be complimented for their beautiful exhibitions of hard work in the preparations of the remarkable floats. That display of college work also drew favorable comment from down town people.

Now that it is all over let's come up smiling and get Eau Claire!

Adeline — "Say it's past midnight. Do you think you can stay here all night?"

Vig — "Gosh, I'll have to telephone mother first."

Mr. Smith—Define the middle ages.

Char. Atwell—They use to be from 30 to 40; now they are from 50 to 70 years.

Miss Perfecto — Oh, Mr. Cigarette, turn your head away, I'm losing my wrapper.

Dr. Collins — "Why do you always add up wrongly?"

Wied — "I don't know?"

Dr. Collins — "Does anyone help you?"

Wied — "Yes, my father."

Dr. Collins — "What is he?"

Wied — "A waiter."

The pullman conductor twitched the curtains of the berth.

"How many are here?" he demanded.

"One," was the reply, "wan't to see our tickets?"

He — "What a night, what a girl, what a moon — what a combination."

She — "Heavens is that showing, too?"

Dentist — (to patient who is opening purse) — "No, don't bother to pay me in advance."

Miss Roach — "I'm not, I was only counting my money before you gave me gas."

Elmer Larson (when working at Hannon Bach's sent a shipment of ice cream by parcel post with the inscription) — college and was one of the outstanding fullbacks in the conference back in the '20's. Eau Claire battled a scoreless game with La Crosse last week. Kotal's team will leave by bus Saturday morning, for the western city.

Large Attendance For Homecoming

They gathered first at the square and then at the post office for boisterous pep meetings. Then they dispersed to sleep, to work on floats or (what have you?)

Beautiful Parade

Homecoming made its Saturday debut in a beautiful parade which reached down town about eleven in the morning. The colors of the local National Guard units, and the band headed a line of beautiful floats. The rear of the long parade was brought up by Headquarters Battery and Combat Train along with Battery D of the 2nd battalion, 120th field artillery, Wisconsin National Guard.

First prize for the beauty of floats was awarded to the Omega Mu Chi, second place to the W. A. A. and third place to the Chi Delta Rho. The Nelson Hall float received honorable mention.

Receipts High

The dance in the evening was attended by 238 boys and 276 girls and brought gate receipts of $256. The football game raised the total income of the day to $670. Half of the amount taken in will represent a profit. Although larger crowds attended the game and dance this year than last, less money was received at the athletic field because of the reduced prices.

EXCHANGES

A series of six dancing lessons given for the benefit of the young women of the Wisconsin "U" are being given at the club "Tripp Commons." We hope that the "trips" won't be too "common."

Marquette's all-nationality football team includes eleven fellows of different blood; an Austrian, a Finn, a German, a Syrian, a Bohemian, a Swede, a Greek, an Italian, an Irishman, and an Englishman.

A decision to discontinue the bonfire as a part of the Marquette Homecoming program and the scheduling of a freshman football game in its place, was made by the Marquette Athletic board.

The well known Welsh Imperial Singers, who appeared at C. S. T. C., entertained the student body at Ripon, October 13, 1931 with their program of glees, folk songs, part songs, and choruses.

The city of Madison is considering passing an ordinance prohibiting the parking of cars on the streets about the college campus, particularly in front of fraternity and sorority houses. This will be in effect between the hours of 2 A. M. and 5 A. M. Let's hope this will not discourage the young men or interrupt any of their dates.

Members Of Faculty Address Institutes

Mr. Oscar Neale, director of the rural department, and Mr. Norman M. Knutzen, professor of English, addressed the teachers institute at Eagle River, Wis. last Friday and Saturday. Mr. Neale also spoke before the Eagle River Rotary Club.

Miss May Roach, of the Rural department appeared on the program of the Western Wisconsin Teachers' Association at La Crosse last Friday. Her subject was "Improving the Rural School Through Class Room Procedure."

SOCIAL

SONG SERVICE

The Y. W. C. A. is sponsoring a Campfire Song Service tonight at Red Bridge (Robertson's Park.) All those who are interested meet at the East entrance of the College at 7:00 o'clock sharp. Miss Thyryza Iverson is in charge.

RURAL LIFE CLUB

At the regular meeting of Rural Life on Monday night Mr. Burroughs entertained a large and appreciative audience with a program of his own poetry. Mr. Styza very aptly expressed the thought of the entire membership when he said that we enjoyed the poetry and felt particularly happy in the realization that the author was a member of our own faculty.

Mr. Neale showed a group of fine slides on beauty spots in Wisconsin, many of which were localities familiar to those present.

The community music was led by Alex Peterson with Rogers Constance accompanying.

The meeting on October 29 will be a social which will be held in the gymnasium.

ROUND TABLE

A real evening is being planned for the members of the Round Table who will meet in the old gymnasium, Monday Oct. 26 at 7:30. A committee composed of Beryl Sprong, chairman, Alice Paulson, Mary Kosovec, Leone Cuff, and Vera Hillis is making arrangements for this get-together. All people enrolled in the courses for Intermediate, Grammar, and Junior High School teachers are members of the Round Table. All of our people who belong to the Iris staff are to meet with that body and to join us later.

Adeline Bellman was appointed permanent program chairman for the year. The November meeting of the Round Table is in charge of Agnes Behling, Evelyn Hougum, and Jean Morrill.

LOYOLA CLUB TO MEET

The large attendance at the last meeting of the Loyola Club warrants another banner meeting October 22. We want every Catholic student and faculty member there. Watch our bulletin board near the assembly.

HOME EC'S HELP NEEDED

The Home Economics Department working in conjunction with the Woman's Club last week canned eight quarts of tomatoes, eighteen and one half quarts of apples and 33 quarts of pears which will be distributed among the needy folks this winter.

The practice of this additional work was much worth while and the girls were happy to aid in this truly great work.

PLAN FOR FORMAL

Plans are being made by Tau Gamma Beta sorority for a winter formal to be held December 11 at the Parish House. Tommy Temple's orchestra will furnish the music.

HOMECOMING DANCES

The homecoming dances which ended the day's festivities at the Teachers college Saturday weren't victory dances, but they were peppy enough occasions, and everyone seemed to enjoy them immensely. The large crowd gathered in the new gymnasium, which was decorated with purple fringe across the ceiling, gold fringe about the balcony and a purple and gold light in the center. Ray Jacobs' orchestra played. Streamers of purple and gold also decorated the old gym, where a Marshfield orchestra held forth. More than 500 attended the dances, students, alumni, faculty, townspeople and visitors all mingling in the crowd.

MARGARET ASHMUN

Last Wednesday evening the Margaret Ashmun club held their regular monthly meeting in Miss Davis's room. The program featured Professor Knutzen who talked on "College Loyalties." Five students were asked to become members. They are Adeline Bellman, Mary Van Hecke, Roland Koyen, Ann Grady and Margaret Cochrane.

After the business meeting the members danced and refreshments were served. This is the first time that the club has done this, but plans are being made to enjoy this recreation after each meeting.

TAU GAMMA BETA

Covers were laid for 23 at a dinner of Tau Gamma Beta sorority, held Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock at Hotel Whiting as part of the homecoming festivities of the college. The place cards, candles and bouquets of roses were all pink. Sorority songs were sung before and after the dinner. The guests included active members, pledges and alumnae back for homecoming. Alumnae guests were Mrs. Ben Redic'd Mary Agnes Boyle, Sylvia Brickson and Helen Weber. Stevens Point; Laura Dicks, Monticello; Margaret Reading, Amherst; Elizabeth Rogers, Oak Park, Illinois; Dorothy Justen, Port Edwards; Immogene Smith, Marshfield; Lucille Scott, Junction City; and Irene Skutley, Eau Claire.

FRATERNITY INITIATES

The Kappa Chapter of Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity now has six new members on its record as a result of ceremonies held last Friday evening in the Varsity room.

The Phi Lambda Phi men to take the ritual of the national fraternity were Captain Ferdinand A. Hirzy, Frank Lasecki, Gregory Charlesworth, Lawrie Peterson, Arthur Thompson, and Harry Richman. Captain Hirzy was one of the organizers of the old local fraternity at the close of the war. Mr. Lasecki is a former Phi Lambda Phi president. With the exception of Charlesworth, all the other men are actives in school.

Celestine Nuesse, Arthur Thompson, and Captain Hirzy were the members in charge of the formal initiation.

SIGMA TAU DELTA ELECT

The Psi Beta chapter of Sigma Tau Delta has elected the following people to membership: Miss Hilda Lukas, Margaret Morris, Tom Smith, Natalie Gorski, Prof. Norman M. Knutzen, and Burton Hotvedt. At the present time there are thirteen actives. The roll of the English fraternity consists of F. S. Hyer, Leland M. Burroughs, Mary Hanna, Bertha Hussey, Mildred Davis, Esther Kuehl, Lyman Johnson, Frances Gallagher, Alta Stauffer, Earl Carl Koch, Agnes Gaffney, Laurin Gordon, and Mona Aanrud.

The initiation banquet will be held Tuesday evening, November third at Nelson Hall.

PRIMARY DANCE

The Primary Department will sponsor an all school dance to be given Friday evening in the new gym. The affair will be "put up" in Halloween style. Margaret Bernard is chairman of the arrangement, and promises both an orchestra and a good time.

HOMECOMING DAY RUINED, 8 TO 6

POINT SCORES IN FIRST HALF THEN TUMBLES

Milwaukee's Crushing Line Allows Backs A Goal And Safety

The alumni saw a good game, the weather was great, a goodly crowd was there, but — Stevens Point lost. The closeness of the score, 8 to 6, is not a fair measure of the difference between the two teams. The locals, after making a very creditable showing in the first half, dozed off and let a practically won game slip through their fingers.

There is no doubt that in the Milwaukee running attack the Kotalmen met the most powerful offensive they have encountered to date. La Gosh, the opponents agile quarterback, running behind perfect interference, was almost unstoppable, generally being tackled from behind.

Vrobel Scores

The big city lads muffed scoring opportunities, and the Pointers took advantage of these "breaks" to hold the score down. In fact, the locals scored their own touchdown through a Milwaukee bobble. After a Point attack had fizzled out deep in enemy territory Milwaukee elected to kick from back of her own goal line. The punter was rushed, fumbled, and Vrobel recovered for a touchdown.

The incident was duplicated later when a Milwaukee advance was checked on the four yard line. Cashman dropped back to kick, muffed it up, but a local pigskin artist flopped on the ball, averting a touchdown. This touchback proved the margin of victory for Milwaukee.

Blocking Important

The game proved one thing — blocking is essential for successful football. Milwaukee had it, and they won. Point ball-carriers were almost unassisted — Russell Atwood made his spectacular run when he reversed his field after his interference had failed to take out their men — and the Point lost. We are not inferring that faulty blocking lost the game, but it is true that good blocking would have got more first downs for C. S. T. C.

Resting For Dance

That the game was a bitter disappointment to the coaching staff is no secret. Coach "Eddie" Kotal wanted to give the Homecoming crowd a winner — but for a last period relapse he might have had one. Perhaps the boys were resting for the dance, but that isn't what they give letters for. Full credit must be given, nevertheless, for holding the strong Milwaukee team to as few points as it got. Vrobel shone in backing up the line, and Cashman provided the local's main offensive threat. The lineup:

Stevens Point	Milwaukee
Klappa L.E.	Ernst
Clausen L.T.	Pozorski
Van Roo L.G.	Deasmond
Koehl C.	Bauc
Miller R.G.	Gother
Trebatowski R.T.	Powers
Neuberger R.E.	Thiele
E. Baker Q.B.	La Gosh
Cashman R.H.B.	Van Dale
A. Baker L.H.B.	Ruhnke
R. Atwood F.B.	Boll

Substitutions: Milwaukee: Van Slate for La Gosh, La Gosh for Van Dale, Warsinski for Pozorski, Rosenberg for Ruhnke.

Stevens Point: Vrobel for R. Atwood, Scribner for Miller, Hansen for E. Baker, Gregory for A. Baker, J. Atwood for Vrobel, E. Baker for Gregory, Miller for Scribner, R. Atwood for J. Atwood, Scribner for Miller, Vrobel for E. Baker, Raener for Trebatowski, Gregory for Cashman, Schwahn for Klappa.

We've been getting a lot of the good old "razzberry" on the way we picked the winners last Saturday. We gave the Point a tie with Milwaukee as a matter of sentiment, but who would ever guess that Wisconsin would smack over Purdue, or that Ohio State had a chance with Michigan?

Not discouraged at all, we hereby present our hand-picked selection of inners, and we are willing to wager a fully embroidered poodle pacifier that we get at least 50 percent right.

C. S. T. C. will defeat Eau Claire. Stevens Point High will defeat Tomahawk.

Wisconsin will defeat Pennsylvania.

Northwestern will take Ohio State.

Michigan will defeat Illinois. Superior will win from Stout.

Milwaukee will beat River Falls. La Crosse will trim Oshkosh.

The local high school team caught a Tartar when they tackled the supposedly easy Nekoosa team. Coach Ringdahl's pennant hopefuls were held to a seven to seven tie. Incidentally Ed Manske, mainstay of former Nekoosa teams, has made the grade at Northwestern, and is now regular end for the Wildcats.

The Kotalmen have been getting some severe workouts since the Milwaukee debacle — Harry Klappa, Captain of the squad, says that he lost six pounds on Monday afternoon, the usual easy day. "Eddie" has been working the boys to prevent that sleepy last quarter feeling.

during Kryl's cornet solos. He played "Fantasia on Russian Airs," by Levy, and an encore.

CROWD EXPECTED

The appearance of Kryl's band is in keeping with the policy of the college in bringing outstanding talent to Stevens Point. A year ago the Welch singers were brought here, and this summer the Russian Chorus was presented before an over-flow audience. Fraternity pledges have had the town "billed" with large, colorful posters of Kryl for some time and a huge crowd is expected.

phonic organization. The work of the clarinet section gave many new knowledge of the possibilities in tone, range and rapidity of fingering of the instrument.

Paderewski's "Minuet," played as an encore, was featured by the cadenzas of Salvatore Tosi, clarinetist. The sweet melodies of "Vienna Forest," by Strauss, were carried by different sections, the oboe being outstanding.

Instrumentation Ideal

Kryl's instrumentation was ideal for the stirring, sensual music of "March Slav," by Tschai-kowsky. One of the most beautiful numbers was the largo from "The New World Symphony," by Dvorak, featuring a piccolo duet. During the encore the various sections played from the front of the stage. Even the drummers wended their way to the footlights and soloed.

The ease with which "Second Hungarian Rhapsody," by Liszt, was played was discouraging to amateur organizations and the work of the flutes would have been fatal to an ambitious beginner. The brass was given a chance in Sousa's "Stars and Stripes." An unusual combination as a trio of two piccolos and a bass.

See and finale from "Andrea Chenier," by Giordano, was the closing number and was final proof of the remarkable shading effects achieved by Kryl.

Horns Emphasized

Throughout the concert the wood and horns were emphasized, giving orchestral effects which have made Kryl famous.

Soloists were on a par with the band: Wanda Menning, harpiste; Matilda Mastulli, soprano; Latoava and Beuvell, aesthetic dancers, and Frances Valley, xylophone. Encores were demanded from each.

The audience sat spellbound

Edison

WILLIAM T. EVJUE

Few men have ever lived who affected the lives of the rest of mankind as profoundly as Thomas A. Edison. The famous old inventor left the world a vastly different place from the world he entered 85 years ago.

Carlyle's remark that the history of the world is simply the story of the lives of the world's greatest men seems peculiarly apt in Edison's case. Every inhabitant of a civilized nation lives under conditions that are utterly unlike what they would have been, if Edison had never lived; and the changes the man caused are permanent things that will affect the lives of people a thousand years from now as profoundly as today.

It is the fashion among highbrows to remark that Edison was never a true "scientist." He never spun theories or followed earnestly after truth; from start to finish he was an inventor, the apotheosis of the men who devise handy little gadgets to save time and labor. But what an inventor!

The world that Edison entered 85 years ago had no electric lights, it had no radio, it had no moving pictures, it had no phonographs; it had not learned how to use electricity properly, and that giant force which will some day perform all of the world's drudgery was a useless and mysterious giant.

And today? From dawn to dusk you live according to Edison. The trolley car or auto that takes you to work, the electric appliance that toasts your bread or boils your coffee, the illumination by which you work and read, the entertainment you get in the movie theater, the music that comes over the air to you at night — Edison had his hand in all of these things; if he had not lived you would not have them at all, or you would have them in a far less perfect form.

Scientist or inventor — who cares? He made the world over, and made life more comfortable and pleasant for millions on millions of people. Mankind has seldom been any more deeply in any one man's debt.

Prize Float

For two consecutive years the W. A. A. has won second prize in the annual homecoming parade. A color scheme of green and white composed the float and three girls posed with bows and arrows facing a target. Preceding the float were two girls in green and white costumes riding on horseback.

Miss Seen furnished a bit of humor to the parade by appearing in a cowboy suit astride a Shetland pony. It really would have helped had she carried the tiny animal for a while to rest it.

Archery

During Mr. Rounseville's visit to the school last Thursday, forty-four students received archery instructions. Only two boys availed themselves of the secrets of success in archery. Mr. Rounseville was assisted by faculty members and students. Miss Seen will have archery every Wednesday at the Fair Grounds. It is not any farther from school than the hockey field, consequently a large turnout is expected!

Homecoming Breakfast.

Sunday morning the W. A. A. held its annual homecoming breakfast at the Dorm. Seven alumni members were present including Esther Hawkes former president of the organization. Esther who is teaching in Rosholt, gave a short talk on some of the conditions found in high schools, relative to girls' athletics. Crystal Joseph led the W. A. A. song while Thyra Iverson acted as leader of singing during the meal. A good time was had by all!

NELSON NOTES BY NAT

For Nelson Hall and our efficient float committee which was headed by Patricia Cowan. The family certainly is proud of the award of honorable mention. The committee is to be complimented on its good work and no less should be made of the graciousness of Ventura Baird, who represented us as the "Lady of the Dorm."

Do you want to know who was back with us for Homecoming? This list includes some of our mothers and sisters, too. Here they are: Ruth Seymour, Edith Sansom, Marguerite Patten, Dorothy Robertson, Alice Falk, Sigrid Paulson, Jeannette Hanson, Lydia Drevitz, Ina Wilson, Vollie Holland, Florence Tuttle, Ann Worlund, Ethyl and Myrtle Wickes, Irene Meyer, Ann McWilliams, Kathryn Novitski, Margaret Rondeau, Hazel and Josephine Schroeder, Evelyn Sivertson, Fern Morrill, Mary Repko, Esther Hawkes, Bessie Wilson, Marian Nolan, Ruby Johnson, Alice Martin, Alice Law, Mildred Mack, Ruth Stauffer, and Mrs. Stauffer.

Mrs. Sims entertained Miss Hussey with Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Thompson at Hotel Witter, Wisconsin Rapids at Sunday dinner.

Miss Ruby Williams spent part of the week-end with Miss Leone Henrichs at the Hall. The former is a teacher at Granton and has a number of old friends at the dorm.

Miss Bessie May Allen, Miss Eva Seen, and Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Spindler were Miss Hussey's guests at dinner Saturday evening.

A number of alumnae were present at the W. A. A. Homecoming breakfast served at the Hall Sunday morning. These were: Genevieve Card and her guests, Hazel Miller and Gene Nygard, all who teach at Deerfield, Ill.; Edith Sansom, Elmhurst, Ill.; Bernice Behnke, Fremont; Ann McWilliams, Coloma; and Esther Hawkes, Rosholt.

Now that Homecoming is over we must really get down to some serious thinking about — our next vacation, of course. (??) There are many, many things on the calendar between now and then, though.
