

NEW FACULTY MEMBERS ENGAGED

MR. HANSON AND MISS TILLESON; NEW TEACHERS

To Assist Mr. Smith And Miss Jones In The History And Biology Departments

Two new faculty members have been engaged by this college to assist in History and Biology, according to word received from president Frank S. Hyer. Due to increased enrollment and a greater demand for these courses than was anticipated, it became necessary to make these additions. The new assistants are Mr. Henry P. Hanson, B. S., M. S., who will instruct in Biology and Science, and Miss Ruby D. Tilleson, B. E., M. A., who is to instruct in History and Social Science.

Wisconsin Graduate

Mr. Hanson, a resident of Madison, comes to this school with an excellent record from the University of Wisconsin, where he received both of his degrees. His first two years of college work were taken at the La Crosse teachers college. Mr. Hanson held teaching positions in both the Richland Center and the Cambridge, Wisconsin, high schools for a two and one-half year period. Last year he was engaged temporarily by the State Teachers College at La Grand, Oregon. He has, up to the present, been taking further graduate work at the University of Wisconsin.

Southern California M. A.

Miss Tilleson, a resident of Phillips, Wisconsin, and a former student at this college, comes equally well recommended. After graduation from this College, she taught in the Wrightstown Wis. high school for a considerable period. Miss Tilleson attended the University of Southern California shortly thereafter, obtaining from that institution her Masters degree in History in 1931.

Valuable Addition

Both teachers are particularly well qualified in their lines and will be of great assistance to Mr. Smith and Miss Jones in their respective departments. The addition of these two instructors will also mean an increase in the enrollment figures, since night classes are being contemplated. There will probably be more than 40 night students from Wausau alone and as many more from the surrounding district.

Hitherto, it has been impossible to provide these night classes for local teachers because of the burden of work already imposed upon the faculty of this College.

Neusse, Leuthold Attend National Press Convention

When the Associated Collegiate Press Convention convened in conjunction with the National School Press at the La Salle Hotel in Chicago last Friday, October 13, and Saturday, October 14, Celestine Neusse, editor of the 1934 Iris, and Ed. Leuthold, business manager of the same publication, were present.

The meetings consisted of round table discussions and lectures by prominent educators and advertising men.

In the Collegiate Press division there were about two hundred men sent from most of the larger schools of the country.

Many of the colleges and universities reported they had adopted the same plan in acquiring subscriptions to the annual that we are trying this year. Every student enrolling is assessed a fee which automatically gives him a paid

Fraternity Dance In Hotel Whiting Tomorrow Eve.

Homecoming celebrations will get underway Friday night with a pre-homecoming dance in Hotel Whiting. Phi Sigma Epsilon national fraternity is sponsoring the dancing party and invitations have been sent to college alumni.

College and High school students as well as townspeople are invited. The dance is not formal and admission price is $1 per couple. College alumni who will be in Stevens Point for the homecoming celebrations are certain to add spice to the party. This is the only form of entertainment scheduled for Friday night which intimates that it will be a gala event.

subscription. Notable in the list are Michigan State, Arkansas Tech., Georgia Tech., and La Crosse Teachers' College.

LIGHT OPERA TO BE GIVEN FOR STUDENTS

The Davies Light Opera singers consisting of a group of artists who not only are excellent soloists but also very fine ensemble singers will appear in the college auditorium next Thursday night, October 26. This program will be presented in the evening due to the fact that peculiar lighting effects are necessary for its successful staging.

Present Popular Numbers

The repertoire comprises music ranging from the grave to the gay — solos, duets, quartettes: operatic excerpts given with costume, action and in the English language, also a sacred program of unusual worth. Students may expect to hear such numbers as: "The Ranger's Song", "The Kinkajou", "Following the Sun Around", "Rio Rita", "Of Thee I Sing, Baby", "The Heart Bow'd Down", "No, No, Nanette", and many other popular products of light opera.

Of the five artists who will entertain, Carroll Van Buskirk will be of especial interest to the students. Mr. Van Buskirk, who sings bass, is the husband of Kathleen Powell Van Buskirk, who attended Central State Teachers College last year. She is also a vocalist of considerable note. The Harlequin club play of last year was under her direction. In addition to this she appeared on one of the evening programs presented for the benefit of the Red Cross.

Other members of the company are: William Davies, tenor-director, Winifred Goodman, soprano, Virginia Auyer, contralto, and Marie Adolph, pianist.

Clubs, churches, lodges and other organizations before whom they have appeared have commented upon the unusual merit of the program and many return engagements have been called for.

Light Opera

According to advance information received by the Pointer, this National Broadcasting Company quintet should furnish college students with an evening of light, humorous entertainment.

MORE PROTESTS

Milwaukee seemed rather surprised when our athletic committee called them recently inquiring as to their protest if we played Graney, and then informed them one of their men, Van Roo, would also be ineligible under such circumstances. Van Roo has played one year freshman ball and one year varsity at Lawrence College and one year varsity ball on our team in '31.

Apparently they, Milwaukee and Whitewater, thought we were just more "duck soup" seeing as how we were easily beaten out of it last year. Possibly Milwaukee realized they had a man falling under similar regulations, which most likely caused them to protest before the game was played, in hopes we wouldn't discover their man; and not as Whitewater and Eau Claire did last year — protest after the game had been played.

In regard to Whitewater we can do nothing but hope that if Graney is ruled ineligible, something can be done about Mundt of Whitewater, who was a member of last year's co-championship team, who put in his fourth year of competition last year, providing freshman competition is counted as college competition. This apparently will be taken up at the annual convening of the directors of the athletic boards from the teachers colleges in the state.

Mundt played freshman ball in '29, and varsity in '31 and '32 on the Marquette team with Graney, and also played with Whitewater last year, during which year Graney did not play.

It's too late to "crow" about what happened last year, but nevertheless we are hoping the manner in which these decisions are made will be changed in some way so as to avoid the possibilities of any so-called "hard feelings" which might enter into and effect the final outcome.

Carroll and Ripon are having similar annual controversies. Last year Ripon protested the Carroll-Ripon game, Carroll's man later being ruled ineligible. This year Ripon has two men who would be ineligible under this old law. At a recent meeting of the chairmen of the conference committees, an amendment was drawn up which will allow the use of these men. The amendment will be presented to each college faculty committee.

Tough if it goes through, Carroll.

DR. JOSEPH VICTOR COLLINS

Jos. V. Collins was born on a farm 3 miles north east of Wooster, Ohio. This farm has been in the possession of his family for 114 years and he now owns 25 acres of it. He went to the country school till he was 14 years of age, after which he attended the University of Wooster for 5 years, one in the Preparatory Department. He graduated with honors, the youngest member of his class. During the year he was a Freshman he was out teaching a country school, entering again in the Spring. After graduating he taught algebra and Latin one year in the Prep Dept. of the college. Following this he became a post graduate student in Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore spending a year and a half in residence work and more than a year and a half in private study of advanced English mathematics books recommended for his reading by a member of the Johns Hopkins faculty. Leaving Baltimore without taking a degree he taught five years in Hastings College, Nebraska, and five years in Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, head of Mathematics department in each case. Both schools had a small attendance, Miami having been closed for a dozen years after the Civil War. Mr. Collins has been in this school from its opening, occupying the same room all the time. He has taught nothing but mathematics save for one term of grammar the first year.

In 1886 he received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from the University of Wooster, then offering post-graduate courses in letters and science and medicine. This degree was based largely on work done in connection with Johns Hopkins. His thesis was on the Teaching of Algebra. In it he advised in the teaching of equations that full explanation be given of the use of the axioms; that in introducing the subject, the laws for signs be taught while still using the usual arithmetic notation for numbers; that classification of quantities be made for factoring; and other proposals. These features were later made a part of the presentation of algebra in the texts he wrote, and it is believed they exercised some influence on the teaching of algebra in the country.

STUDENT

BROADCAST

Students:

Is there any reason why we should have to pay more to see a show in Stevens Point than in other theaters in Wisconsin?

The only place to go, if a fellow has a date on a week night, is to the show. Upon stepping up to the ticket window, one is confronted with thoughts of conservation in other financial outlets in order to make up the outlandish sum of 80 cents. This is too d..m much! It costs us 35 cents apiece to see shows which have been in circulation for nearly a year. This is of course all wrong.

Let us suggest a straight price of 25 cents for college students upon presentation of their student activity tickets.

If this is not possible, what do the ladies think of the "Dutch Treat", as another solution to the problem? It is being done in other schools. Why not here?

Algebra.

Mr. Collins has written numerous educational articles for such magazines as the EDUCATIONAL REVIEW, EDUCATION, SCHOOL REVIEW, SCHOOL AND SOCIETY and SCHOOL SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS. He claims to be interested in about a dozen reforms including English language metric, religious education, and standards in general education. His articles on the educational aspects of metric reform have been widely quoted in the daily press. On temperance he has written a booklet and many scores of articles, some of which have had a wide reading. His high water mark in writing was one article each in the FORUM and CURRENT HISTORY.

In 1910 Mr. Collins lost the central vision of one eye and in 1914 of the other, most likely due to an obscure poison in the system. This poison was carried to the macula or center of the eye used in reading and broke down the tissue. He thought at first he would have to give up teaching, but found he could still read on the blackboard, even without glasses. He reads fine print very slowly and with the most powerful glasses. He can not recognize people by their faces except when very close to them. Still he can see when a student 30 feet away turns his head a little to one side to read his neighbor's work. He believes his teaching has improved over what it was when he had normal vision, because he requires his students to do much more of the teaching. Also he has done more writing of articles for the reason that he can write when he can not read, and has more time for reflection. One does not need to see to write on a typewriter.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins are the parents of two children, Paul F. Collins, now President of the Operating Company of the Aviation Department of the Boston and Maine R. R., and Mrs. Irvine R. MacElwee, whose husband is chemist in charge of operations in the largest of the Congoleum plants.

GREEN WAVE STOPPED IN TOUGH TILT

Kotalmen Take Advantage Of Breaks As Milwaukee Starts Slowly

Before a record crowd of fans, including many Dads, the Pointers defeated Milwaukee at Schmeckle field, Saturday, in the locals first conference start. Taking advantage of the breaks and playing their heavier opponents off their feet the first half, the Purple and Gold showed promising strength.

Becker Again

Warren Becker and Schmidt were the offensive stars of the game. Becker made the Pointers' touchdown and place kick, besides consistently crashing through the line for long gains. His punting gave the locals the advantage throughout the game.

Schmidt, substitute halfback of Milwaukee, scored their touchdown after hitting the line and going around the ends for long gains. He is heavy and fast, proving hard to knock off his feet.

The local line played hard, beautiful football the first half, making their own breaks and taking advantage of them. Frank Menzel crashed through to block two punts and proved a hard man for the Klugemen to box in. The play of all the linemen — Broome, McDonald, Sparhawk, Slotwinski, the Menzels, and Schwahn was very good till they tired under the onslaught of fast, heavy backs, in the third and fourth quarters. Becker's high punts gave these linemen a chance to get down and smear the receiver before he could get started.

Menzel Blocks Punt

The locals first score came in the second quarter after Frank Menzel had blocked a kick which gave the Pointers the ball on the opponents' 33 yard line. Murray went around end after eluding three tacklers for six yards. Becker made it first down in two plays. After hitting the line for no gain, a place kick was called and Becker stood on his own 23 yard line and booted the ball over for those three points which later proved the margin of victory.

Beautiful Punt

The second score came after Becker had kicked 80 yards to the Milwaukee nine yard line. Schmidt fumbled and Frank Klement recovered on the eleven yard stripe as the third quarter ended. To start the final period, two plays failed to gain. Then Becker, fighting and twisting, drove over the goal line from the 11 yard marker. His attempt to convert was wide.

Milwaukee Scores

With the score 9 to 0 against them, the Klugemen started another

BILL'S BULL

The "S" Club asked me to give you fellows who are wearing high school letters and numerals a last warning to take them off before they are taken off.

Neither Graney nor Van Roo were in football suits Saturday and our pal Bud didn't take the defeat with good grace. The boys miss Graney not only for his gains with the ball, but his presence keeps them cool and confident.

The Milwaukee boys didn't seem to like the Stevens Point water which incidentally is as good as any in the U. S. Probably the lack of Blatz beer caused the ill-humor of Pape, the center, whose frequent oaths set a new premium on profanity.

Chuck Sparhawk suffered a pulled cartilage in his leg which took him out of the game but he'll probably be O. K. by next game.

The good crowds at the games help perceptibly since there are only three home games. If the boys keep on playing games like the one last week, the fans won't be disappointed.

One of our alumni, Ollie Neuberger, who played football and basketball here, has been signed to play with the Wisconsin Dells-Rapids professional football team. He played end for them last week when they defeated the Racine squad 34 to 0.

At the "S" Club meeting last week Edmund "Bucky" Miller was elected President and Ray Urbans, Secretary and Treasurer.

Hear ye! Hear ye! Do you want to earn fame and a letter? We need cheerleaders and need them bad. Male or female. That reminds me—what about these three girls who led the cheering in the Stevens Point prep school last year? Bring on the Tydol girls. Bring someone who can get pep and cheering out of a dead student body. This matter is of pregnant importance.

Saturday Upsets In Conference Games

The conference upset this week came when Stout beat Superior for the first time in six years by a 8 to 6 score. Stout did its scoring in the first quarter on two errors by the Superior punter. He was nailed behind the goal once and missed a bad pass from center on the five yard line. Superior made their touchdowns in the fourth quarter with Avis carrying the ball.

Whitewater Gets Platteville

Whitewater defeated Platteville, 7 to 0, in a poor game for their homecoming. The touchdown came on a pass from Chovan to Lambie after which Chovan placekicked the extra point.

In the second game between Oshkosh and St. Norbert's, the Teachers won 6 to 0. Barlow scored in the second quarter from the eight yard line. St. Norbert's threatened twice in the fourth quarter but failed by a fumble and an intercepted pass.

Falls Takes Eau Claire

River Falls won from Eau Claire 7 to 0 in an unimpressive victory. The touchdown came on a triple pass, Dawson to VanWinkle to Zaner from the six yard line. Kolberg placekicked the extra point. Eau Claire had the better of the game till the last quarter but lacked scoring punch.

La Crosse came from behind to beat Winona Teachers 33 to 7. Rogge's placekick gave the Winona boys a lead of 7 to 6 for a time, but four more touchdowns by La Crosse cinched the game.

WHITEWATER VERSUS POINT IN GRUDGE GAME

Agnew Stages Annual Protest. Kotal Retaliates To Bar Mundt

The big Homecoming game next Saturday features our "pals", Whitewater, in the second and last home game of the Pointers schedule. Do we want to beat Whitewater? Nothing could be sweeter. They beat us on paper last year by protesting our use of Bennie Garber. We beat them 3 to 0 on Becker's place kick after playing the strongest game a Point team had shown in years. Again this year, our friends from Whitewater collaborated with Milwaukee in protesting Graney's eligibility.

They're Tough

Whitewater was co-champion with LaCrosse last year and Coach Chick Agnew has 14 of his 18 lettermen playing this year. In 1932 the Quakers kept all conference opponents from crossing their goal line.

Last week they defeated Platteville, 7 to 0, in their homecoming. Whitewater was penalized 165 yards and played ragged ball at times. However, their game with Milwaukee two weeks ago was tough. Coach Kluge from the Beer City says that Whitewater has a real ball club with a strong line and veteran backs.

Protest Mundt

Mundt of the Quakers' 1932 squad played ball under the same conditions that Graney has been protested for. He had three years of ball including freshman ball before last year. Veterans who will probably start against the Point are Phillips, Everhardt, Chovan, and Doyle.

College Directory Now On Sale At School Counter

The faculty and student directory was placed on sale at the college counter last Monday. This handy little bulletin, edited by Cedric Vig, contains the names, city addresses, home addresses, year in college, and the telephone number of each student enrolled at this school. In addition to this, the names and addresses of the faculty members, as well as their telephone numbers can be found there.

It is largely to the credit of Mr. Vig that he has been able to put out such a neat appearing directory this year in spite of the fact that the charge for advertising had been drastically cut.

At the low cost of ten cents per copy no student can afford to be without the information contained in this book.

The proceeds from the sale go to the athletic committee, all expenses of publication having been paid by the advertisers; — patronize them.

Pointers Win From Milwaukee Elexen

er of their drives, and this one couldn't be stopped. Schmidt carried the ball around right end from the ten yard line to score. A pass, Larsen to Hochschild was good for the extra point. Score 9 to 7.

Milwaukee seemed to have shot its bolt because, for the remainder of the game, the Kotalmen gained consistently with Anderson hitting the line hard.

Although the Pointers were out-gained, 167 to 82 yards from scrimmage, they played heads up football and showed power when it was needed to score and a defense when it was needed to prevent Milwaukee's scoring. Don Abel stopped one drive when he came through to nail Schmidt for an eight yard loss on fourth down and one yard to go.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

Question: Where ought the Wisconsin-Steven Point game to be played, at Madison or Wisconsin Rapids?

Mr. Steiner: The logical place is Wis. Rapids. Very little financial advantage to either team could be derived from a Madison game. A 40-40-20 gate split would be fair.

Kenneth Olson: The game should be played at Madison. The crowd there would be as large as at Wisconsin Rapids and it would certainly help to make us known around the country.

Leonard Schuel: I think that Wisconsin Rapids was in a large measure responsible for our game last year. They (the Rapids) surely ought to be allowed to get some benefit from a return engagement.

Sue Colman: I'd like to storm around Madison, and see the University defeated on their home floor. For the benefit of our student body the game should be played at Wis. Rapids.

Sam Kingston: For personal reasons I'd like to see the game played at Madison. But it ought to be held at the Rapids.

Jug. Marsh: If we could get enough dough out of it, Madison is OK. Nice trip.

Bob Steiner: Nothing for publication.

New Governmental Documents Of Value Aquired By Library

A recent acquisition of the library of considerable importance has been made in the addition of bound volumes of the Congressional record for the years 1917 to 1924. These bound volumes covering the war years and the period immediately following the cessation of hostilities are becoming less available every year and the library has been looking for them for some time. Through a very fortunate discovery they were all secured without charge.

The receipt of these volumes completes the Congressional set in our library from 1833 to date. There is now available for the use of students and faculty every speech made on the floor of either house of Congress since 1833.

The now completed set owned by the library includes the Congressional Globe, 23rd-42nd Congress 1833-1873, 46 volumes, and the Congressional record from the 42nd Congress to the last, 1874—date.

An addition to the library of considerable value is Cotton Mathew's Magnalia Christi Americana. This book has been long out of print and was purchased thru a New York book dealer. It is a very valuable source book on Early American Biography.

Other recent acquisitions of interest are:

Epstein. — Insecurity, a challenge to America.

Hamilton.—Handicraft for girls. Heibredner. — Seven psychological.

Drury. — School Home & Co. Lumley. — Propaganda menace.

Green. — History of the English people. 5 volumes.

Mather. — Life of William Phips.

Smith. — The great critics.

The above list of books will be on the new book shelves and available for circulation in a few days.

BETWEEN ME 'N YOU

Spin's advice — Girls, when you get married don't let your husbands kiss you anytime they want to. If you do, they'll look up some new stuff.

Krumm has appointed Asher Shorey and Pete Peterson as his committee on women. If you don't know either of them, you'd better get acquainted.

Pete goes by P. Nicholas and Asher by A. Henry at the Phi Sig. fraternity house — 1011 Main St.

Heard a good definition for a politician. It goes something like this; a politician is a man who remembers when a woman is born and forgets her age.

A seventh grade answer — singular person (in grammar) is one who isn't married.

How does the whistle work, girls? 8 out of 10 reports were quite favorable.

Next week will appear qualifications for prospective "queens" — and you know what I mean.

Have any of you people gotten in on the ice cream eating contest at Taylor's? Sure a swell prize for the winner — and a long contest.

Steiner says, "If your snoring keeps you awake, sleep in another room". Whoa there (Maurice Skinn aire) not where I go to school!

Someone asked the other day, if such places as outlying taverns were places for football men to be training.

No place for want ads, but Arba Shorey is looking for a date, somebody give him a break, a girl preferably. Reward offered.

IT'S a poor plough that leaves no furrow, and a poor life that has not accumulated money in bank.

THESE COLLEGE WOMEN

Freshman

College at last — and all unpacked. I'll pledge a sorority; watch me use tact.
A freshman can't date me — he rates about zero.
Give me an upper classman or a football hero.
With my lovely clothes, french heels, and all,
I'll be the belle of every ball.
They'll rush me don't worry — watch 'em fall!

Sophomore

Back again, with my hair all newly bleached.
Not very long now till my goal shall be reached.
I'll not date a freshman, but they'll rush me at dances.
I'll pick my own men — not taking any chances.
I'll smoke cigarettes with exceeding dash.
And what matter if my talk is a bit rash?
It's part of the game, it's all in the fash!

Junior

All sophistication and knowledge in my third year;
For the Junior Promenade will soon be here.
I'll flaunt arched eyebrows and cynical airs,
I'll not date a freshman — I'll take no dares!
But with talk of Passion, religion and love
I'll win that Junior president — the dove,
And look down on all others — from above.

Senior

I'm teaching classes daily, with glasses on my nose,
And wearing low heeled shoes with dull sports clothes.
I'll talk with freshmen on the campus with grace.
My vanity is gone; I'm seen carrying a brief case.
I'm a serious thinker, eagerly looking for fame.
Some professors I know and call by first name.
So a degree I'll get — but it's all rather tame.
