

MRS. BURROUGHS CALLED BY DEATH

SCHOOL MOURNS LOSS OF FACULTY MEMBER'S WIFE

Body Taken to Indiana For Burial; Services At The House Wed. Afternoon
Mrs. Leland M. Burroughs, 1048 Clark St., whose husband is the head of the English department at this college, and who was the mother of Jack Burroughs, passed away last Tuesday morning, April 24, at 9:15 o'clock, at St. Michael's hospital. She underwent a major operation one week before her death. Her condition was considered favorable until Saturday night when pneumonia developed. Since that time her condition was serious, and it became critical Monday night.

Native of Indiana

Mrs. Burroughs, whose maiden name was Irma East, was born at Worthington, Indiana, where she spent her girlhood. She graduated from the Worthington High School. On November 27, 1913 she was united in marriage to Mr. L. M. Burroughs.

Faculty, students and alumni of Central State Teachers College join in extending to you, Professor Burroughs, Jack and Miss Neva Jane Burroughs, our sincerest sympathy in your hour of sadness.

Here since 1920

Mr. and Mrs. Burroughs resided for a year at Darlington, Indiana, where he was a high school teacher. They subsequently lived at Washington, Indiana, Kansas City, Kansas, and Rockford, Illinois, where Mr. Burroughs held similar high school teaching positions. The family came to Stevens Point in the fall of 1920 when Mr. Burroughs accepted his present position at the Teachers' College.

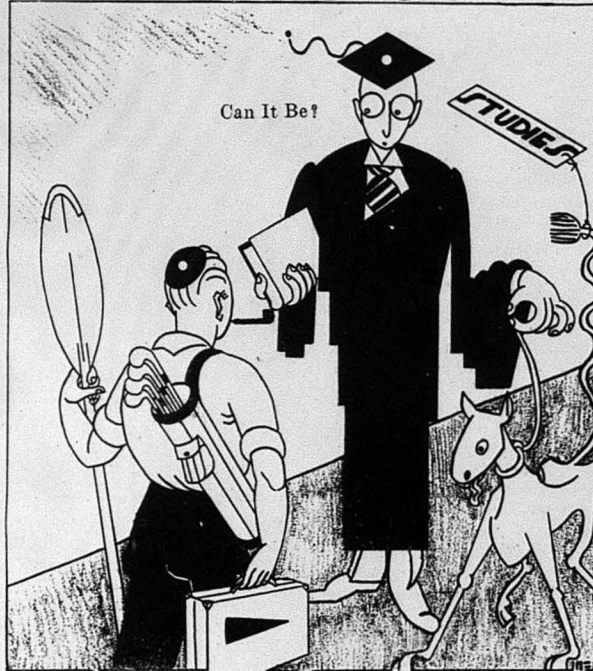

Surviving her, in addition to her husband and son Jack, is a daughter, Neva Jane, a training school student; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed East of Worthington; four brothers, Lawrence E. East of Woodward, Oklahoma, K. M. East of Long Beach, California, E. T. East of Chicago and Eldon East of Worthington, and one sister, Mrs. Walker Marshall of Bloomfield, Indiana.

Wednesday's three o'clock classes will meet today at ten o'clock.

THE FETID CALF

History, English Departments Plan Conference Here

The departments of History-Social Sciences and English, of Central State Teachers College, under the joint direction of Mr. E. T. Smith and Mr. N. E. Knutzen, are sponsoring a conference for teachers of those subjects, to be held here Saturday, May 5.

As The Pointer goes to press the number of persons who will attend cannot be estimated, for of the sixty-six invitations sent out, only about thirty have so far indicated an acceptance.

Joint Meeting

In the morning the two groups will hold a joint meeting in the main auditorium. At that time they will be addressed by President Hyer, Mr. Edgar S. Doudna, secretary of the board of regents, and Mr. J. F. Waddell, assistant state superintendent of schools.

During the noon hour a luncheon will be served at Nelson Hall. At 1:15 the two groups will reconvene to the main building where they will have separate meetings for the respective divisions.

The members of History 225 and English 225 classes are in charge of the conference and will attend the meetings.

Change Date Of Operetta To April 30

Because of unforeseen events, the Operetta "Sylvia" which was to have been presented last night, has been postponed to Monday evening, April 30. The production is under the auspices of the college Music department.

Excellent Talent

In addition to the better known musicians of the school who are taking part, a considerable amount of hitherto undiscovered talent has been uncovered and developed by the coaches. The cast and chorus include over seventy-five members. Director Michelsen is being assisted by Mr. Knutzen, Mr. Allez, Miss Carlsten, and Mr. Evans.

Admission 15c and 25c

Admission will remain at 15c and 25c. The production begins at 8:00 o'clock. From all indications at the dress rehearsal, a fine entertainment will be presented. Proceeds will be turned over to the Music Department.

An inch of rain seems to be a foot to the man who is caught in it without an umbrella.

SENIORS GIVE ANNUAL CLASS BENEFIT PLAY

Roles Exceptionally Well Cast. Rebman, Ringness Outstanding Actors

"Skidding," a comedy in three acts by Aurania Rouveral, will be presented by the Senior class in the College auditorium May 8th. According to Miss Ruby Tilleson, coach of the production, the cast is exceptionally well adapted to their parts and rehearsals are progressing very satisfactorily. "Skidding" is one of the newer plays and was a decided hit in New York, where it enjoyed a full year's continued performance. It also ran for four months in Chicago last summer.

Fast Moving Comedy

The role of Judge Hardy, which was not cast immediately, has been awarded to Charley Ross. Loretta Rebman as Mrs. Hardy and Tom Ringness as Grandpa Hardy are exceptionally good in their parts. The play centers about the Hardy family, a typical American group living in Idaho (the best state in the land, God bless her!) The myriads of problems that arise during the course of the play give rise to mirth provoking scenes with surprising regularity. The whole production moves with a rapidity that would hold the most restless audience.

Committees At Work

Ethelyn Baerwaldt heads the committee on props. The following other committee heads were chosen: Katherine Wiggins, Furniture; George Jacobs, John Olsen, and Don Blood, scenery; John Wied and Lawrence Berdell, publicity and advertising.

Ducats may be purchased from Seniors or at the supply counter. The price of admission for students is a paltry 15c and for townspeople, 25c. Edward Leuthold and Melvin Andre are in charge of tickets.

Bloc Hears Jenkins, Point City Attorney

Bloc met at the home of John Wied Thursday night. City Attorney Jenkins was the guest speaker. His discussion dealt with the historic origin of the jury; the difference between law and equity as the terms are commonly used by lawyers; the selection of a jury; and the problem of pleading before a jury.

Following the meeting, lunch was served.

MORE BRAINS WANTED

Augustus O. Thomas, a contributing editor of the Journal of Education, writes the following article which appears in the April 16 issue of that publication entitled "Our Surplus Crop".

"What is to be done with our school of educated young people?" is indeed a question which the social order of today and of tomorrow must seriously consider and find a solution for in the very near future. We feel that the article bears considerable significance and rests upon this generation of young people who are now students in college to a very large extent.

"About a generation ago a movement arose which attracted to its support the best brains of the country. The idea sprang chiefly from the newly established agricultural colleges of the West.

Based upon the theory of efficiency in production, this movement had as its purpose to make "Two blades of grass grow where one grew before."

There was never a thought of where a market was to be found for that second blade of grass. Today we have become so efficient in production that we are plowing under millions of acres, because we have the paradox of starvation in the midst of plenty.

There is a strange parallel in the effort being made to bring into the school system, through child labor laws and compulsory education, millions of children: Literally two children are going to school where only one went before.

What are we to do with the youth we turn out of our schools? No one should find fault with the effort to get all the children of all people into schools. It must be done. Every individual can be made to do something useful better through culture and training. But the query still remains: "What are we going to do with the twenty-six millions now passing through the schools? Where find a market for our product?"

It is time that resourceful men and women began to consider this serious situation. New things, useful things, must be found for these young people to do.

At this moment there are no less than three million young men and women out of school but not at work. Many of these are roaming aimlessly throughout the country, with no hope, fast losing their desire for trades or professions; some of them being well schooled in the art of crime.

This note of warning should be sounded across the land:

If the youth of today are not taken care of the country will run headlong into a catastrophe.

HOME ECS DEFEND COURSE

Each week the reader will find in these columns articles concerning the Home Economics Department contributed by the members of that group in an effort to stress the importance of and the benefits derived by individuals following such a course.

A lack of interest in the subject has been prominent during recent years, or should we say that it has been under-valued or under-estimated by those authorities forming the curriculum of college courses. At any rate, at the present time, we find that C. S. T. C. is the only Teachers College in the state offering a Major in Home Economics.

No doubt the department feels that these articles are open to discussion or criticism and welcomes answers to such effect.

ECONOMIZE AND BE THRIFTY

The depression song has been sung so often, that it is coming to be considered something of a joke. There is, however, a vital need for economy in the home, not only during depression days, but for every day.

Economy and education are very closely related. In the field of Home Economics education, economy has always been given an important position. Economy is stressed in Foods classes, by the use of left over foods. Attractive and appetizing methods for preparing economical foods are taught, and the foods themselves are prepared. Clothing courses stress this point also. Renovation projects are a part of the regular course requirements. This lesson of thrift is taught in various other classes as well.

The planning of what will be spent is as important as economy itself. A definite, well-thought out plan of spending money in advance, is called a budget. Its view is annual. The object is not so much skimming as it is proportionate, well-balanced spending of the family income.

Budgets are essential to the financial success of every estimable business. The home is in reality a business organization and should necessarily be conducted in a business like fashion.

In home budgeting, allowances are made for shelter, food, clothing, home operating expenses, savings, luxuries, and advancements — as books, magazines church, music and club dues.

The importance of the budget cannot be too strongly emphasized. It is the foundation for success in home, school, and class room life.

If Home Economics did nothing other than teach girls a scientific method of budgeting home funds, its purpose would not have failed. But its values go even further, and through its field are acquired the arts of home making, teaching, management, and economy as well.

FRANK N. SPINDLER

Prof. Arnold L. Gesell, who is to be our commencement speaker this year, was a graduate of the two year Latin course of this school, class of 1899. He is now Professor of Child Hygiene in the graduate school of Yale University and is the author of several very notable books on children and is a great researcher along this line. While he was here he was the winner of the state and inter-state oratorical contest and stood out even in those days as a scholar. He holds many degrees—Ph. B. 1903 University of Wisconsin, Ph.D. 1906 Clark University, M. D. 1915 Yale. He was married in 1909 to Beatrice Chandler and lives at 785 Edwards Street, New Haven, Conn.

He is one of our most noted graduates.

His brother, Gerhart A. Gessell, is also a graduate of this school, class of 1906, and is clerk-treasurer of the board of education of Cleveland, Ohio. He has the B. of A. degree of the University of Wisconsin 1909.

Wilma A. Gesell, sister to Arnold and Gerhart, graduated from this school, two year German course, 1903. She was married in 1907 to Matt Derge of Warren, Ohio, who is connected with the Trumbull Mfg. Company.

Janette M. Van Hecke, class of 1921, now Sister Mary Lucina, has been quite ill and is now recovering at Rosary College, River Forest, Illinois. She had previously been teaching in the 7th and 8th grades of the parochial schools of Sioux Falls, S. D.

Nell C. Gleason, class of 1917, Ph. B. University of Wisconsin, M. S. Columbia University 1930, who has been a supervisor in Milwaukee schools until recently, is recovering from a breakdown in the Wisconsin General Hospital at Madison, and all of her friends of this school and Stevens Point hope that she will make a permanent and speedy recovery and soon be restored to her work.

Maud E. Rice, class of 1922, is now Mrs. Myron E. Brink. They live at Cebu, Cebu, Philippine Island, where Mr. Brink is manager of the Philippine Refining Company. They have three children.

During the time that she was a supervisor of the private schools for the Philippine Islands she was a member of an expedition of four people on a hiking tour that made a trip up into the country of the Moros and the head-hunters. Even to this day that is considered an extremely hazardous thing to do, and Maud is one of the first and very few women who have ever accomplished it. She has a collection of spears, head-hunters' knives, and pictures which even in the Philippines are considered rare curios, and which in due time she intends to give to museums in this country. We have reason to believe that C. S. T. C. will be the recipient of some of these.

Bessie Margaret Smith, class of 1912, now Mrs. Mathew Holzinger, writes from Honolulu, H. T., and asks us to send a record of her credits to the University of Hawaii. She says in this letter: "I wish to thank you for the copies of the Pointer that come to me so often. I find it an interesting little paper."

POINT BOXERS STOP PIONEERS 7-4

PUGS AVENGE LOSS. THREE MEN KAYOED

Sparhawk Pins Julson Twice During Five Minute Wrestling Bout

Fans at the card last Saturday unanimously agreed that intercollegiate boxing is as full of excitement and fight as a Golden Gloves tournament. Every bout was fast with each boy getting in there all the time. The Pointers avenged the defeat they got at Platteville last week by winning seven of the eleven bouts. Chuck Sparhawk pinned his man in the wrestling bout twice in the five minute period which certainly set the fans roaring.

Roshak Again Kayoes Man

Stanley Roshak proved his worth as lead-off man by pounding Joslin so hard that Coach Butch Leitl threw in the towel in the second round. Roshak is fast, always in good condition, and a good boxer.

Platteville fans had their inning when Polich was awarded a decision over Lloyd after both boys fought it out toe to toe. Polich had the reach on the smaller Hayes and made Lloyd carry the fight to him. The Point boy invariably had to stop two or three punches with his chin before he could get in close.

Best Fight On Card

Charlie Torbenson gave the Purple and Gold a lead they never relinquished by winning a referee's decision over Richardson in what proved to be the fastest and classiest bout of the card. Both boys are real boxers and got in some real counters.

Russ Bepler took his match against Parr, a heavier man, by giving the fans a lesson in getting past the reach of a tall man.

Pointer Tough

Price of Platteville finally won a decision over Pete Zaborski after trying in vain to knock him out. Pete hit the mat frequently, often after hard blows but he always came up for more.

Al Zurfluh defeated Kruetz and McGuire stopped Stanton in the next two contests.

Pioneers Also Tough

The Pioneer's classiest boxer, C. Myers, finished off Art Laabs in the first round.

Web Berard defeated Beaster to chalk up another win for the Pointers. Ben Slotwinski hit the canvass when the other Myer boy connected with a right to the jaw in the first round. The windup bout saw Bruno Slotwinski take a decision from Moore after finding he couldn't knock out the chubby boy. Bruno hit him on the jaw, in

Spring Football Call Brings 40 Veterans And Newcomers

Last Friday over forty men reported to Coach Eddie Kotal for spring football training. The men have been working-out every afternoon since, from 3:30 to 4:30 on Schmeekle athletic field. Captain-elect Warren Becker is not able to be with his squad this spring because he is working in Green Bay to get enough money to return again next fall. However, most of the 1933 championship squad are back with just as much snap as ever.

Good Material

Among the new men who have been showing up well are Ed Loberg of Tigerton; George Stoeffen of City Point, Wilfred McGillivray of Pulaski, Gib Pophal of Merrill, Jim McGuire of Stevens Point, Smitty Schmidt of Nekoosa, Bud Kujawa of Rudolph, Webb Berard of Wisconsin Rapids and Bob Tardiff and Bob Steiner of Stevens Point.

Schwahn-Miller Coach

Coach Kotal is so busy with track, baseball, tennis, and boxing that he is giving Dick Schwahn and Bucky Miller, captains of the last two years' squads, charge of the gridders. Under Kotal's guidance and supervision the two men have picked teams whom they will drill on fundamentals and signals in preparation for a scrimmage May 4.

BILL'S BULL

Finals in the tennis tournament are being run off this week. No matches had been definitely scheduled when this paper went to press.

When Arb Shorey went to the formal initiation banquet of the Phi Sigs last week soup was served in those cup-like affairs with handles. Without a moment's thought the absentminded fellow put cream and sugar into his concoction thinking, no doubt that coffee was the first course at places other than fraternity houses.

Bill Zorn of Eau Claire came down to see the boxing card last week. He started arrangements for a match between the Pointers and his team. Coach Kotal sent in his list of fighters and weights and hopes to clinch the match by getting a definite date. The bouts would be staged in the open air at Schmeekle Field in the near future.

College golf enthusiasts are trying to arrange a team. The conference board decided not to include the game as a minor sport and therefore, games scheduled will be more or less individualistic. Sam Kingston and Bob Marrs are two excellent players. The team hopes to travel with the track men where they feel sure of contests.

We'd like to take this opportunity to ask Neal Rothman how the St. Louis Browns and the manly game of ping-pong are getting along. Probably spearing carp will be the next idea.

Ten new records have been put on the machine at the Coach.

the solar plexus, and everywhere else; dropping his guard, Slotwinski waited for the other boy to start, after which Bruno beat him.

A match or two with St. Norbert's will give fans a chance to see how our scrappers rate in the best fighting district of Wisconsin.

College Nine Begin Games. Preps Friday

Coach Kotal has been taking charge of the baseball team after track practice daily. In the meantime the boys practice under "Sarge" Mish. There is no question but that Kotal has a fine group of boys to work with. However, individual stars only too often fail to make a good team.

In an effort to give his men a real test, Coach Kotal has scheduled a practice game with the local high school nine. This ought to offer a chance to pick a tentative team for the game with Platteville May 5. Games are also being booked with Eau Claire, Oshkosh, and River Falls.

Mish claims that there are at least two or three good men out for every position on the nine. The pitchers haven't been getting along so well and probably will be allowed only an inning or two against the preps Friday.

A BIT OF MR. THOMPSON'S PHILOSOPHY IN VERSE

If you think you are beaten, you are,
If you think you dare not, you don't,
If you'd like to win, but think you can't
It's almost a cinch you won't.

If you think you'll lose, you're lost,
For out of the world we find
Success begins with a fellow's will;
It's all in the state of mind.

If you think you're outclassed, you are;
You've got to think high to rise,
You've got to be sure of yourself before
You ever can win a prize.

Life's battles don't always go
To the stronger or faster man;
But soon or late the man who wins
Is the one who thinks he can.

TRACK PROGRAM FILLED. FIRST MEET MAY 12th

Interclass Tournament Only Contest To Be Held Here. State Meet 25th

An intercollegiate schedule for the track team has been practically completed. May 12th sees the Pointers in a quadrangle meet at Milwaukee with Whitewater, Oshkosh, and Milwaukee. May 19th the Central State colors will fly at Whitewater in a meet including Oshkosh and Whitewater.

Meet At Madison

The state meet has been definitely set for May 25th at Madison. Any Teachers College may send down as many men as they want to compete. Last year Russ Atwood won first place in the 220 yard hurdles and Scribner and Thompson placed third in the mile and high-jump respectively. Scribner won the event two years ago and has a good chance of repeating this year.

All the track meets are scheduled out of town because our new track is not yet in shape for a pounding.

Sophs Look Good

The interclass tournament that is to come off Saturday certainly will be an event worth looking into. The Sophomores with Berard, Blom, Abel, Charles Scribner, and Brown have a good chance to take the event. The freshmen, always the unknown quantity, are led by Frank, Nugent, and Stub Brown. The Juniors have Lyman Scribner, Klement, and Tutt. Seniors are led by Myron Fritsch and Ray Kasky. Although they probably will not garner many firsts, the sophs will pile up points on seconds and thirds.

Edick-Winn

Faculty and students of Central State Teachers College were pleased to learn of the recent marriage of Bernice Edick and Ronald Winn.

The wedding service was read at the Presbyterian parsonage by the Reverend Claude Shaver of this city last Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Miss Beulah Turinski was bride's maid. Robert Broome, the groom's attendant, favored the newlyweds with a vocal solo, "I Love You Truly", accompanied at the piano by Miss Wilson. Following the services the matrimonial party enjoyed a dinner at Hotel Whiting.

The former Miss Edick, whose home town is Gillett, Wis., was a junior here. She made her college residence at Nelson Hall. In addition to being a popular young lady, Mrs. Winn enjoyed a membership in Harlequin dramatic society, and had been formally initiated into Omega Mu Chi sorority. During the 1932-33 term she ruled as queen of the annual Mardi Gras.

Ronald Winn, whose home town is Granton, Wis., is now employed at Hotel Whiting and attending school at the same time. He is a junior. Mr. Winn is a member of the "S" club, having received recognition for athletic service as a member of the basketball squad during his first year here.

The young couple will make their home in Stevens Point. Mrs. Winn will continue her college work.

The Pointer staff wishes to join with the faculty and student body in congratulating them and wishing them long and happy married life.

Chi Delta Rho Formal

Members of Chi Delta Rho and their friends enjoyed a dinner and dance at Hotel Whiting, Fri. Apr. 20. Special dinner guests were Mr. & Mrs. Rightsell, Mr. & Mrs. Hyer, Mr. & Mrs. Allez and Mr. Knutzen, of the faculty. The dinner was followed by a talk by President Hyer. Profs. Raymond Rightsell, Norman Knutzen & George Allez, advisors to the fraternity also gave short talks. FESTIVAL HELD FRIDAY, PROVES HUGE SUCCESS

College Is Host To 3,000
Visitors At Colorful
Music Program

Central State was host to more than 1,000 musicians from various high schools throughout central Wisconsin at the music festival held here Friday. Twenty-seven high school bands and eight high school orchestras participated in the event.

Concerts were held in the college and high school auditoriums during the day. Bands were heard playing and seen marching the streets of this section of the city throughout the day.

Parade Successful

The grand parade, led by the C. S. T. C. band under the direction of P. J. Michelsen, was a splendid demonstration of the abilities of the many organizations. The parade was more than a mile in length in which the various high schools participated. The bands followed in accordance with alphabetical arrangements.

As the bands played and marched through the business district of the city the event was picked up and sent over the air through the facilities of the local broadcasting station, WLBL. Following the parade the bands massed at Schmeekle Field where a group concert which was exceedingly successful was presented.

Traffic Blocked

Following this, various bands presented concerts over the air. Large crowds gathered about the streets of the city, blocking all traffic on downtown streets, to watch the bands perform. More than 2,000 visitors in addition to the prep musicians, were here for the festival. No doubt, a much larger crowd would have been present had the weather been more favorable.

Large crowds witnessed the performances at both the high school and college during the morning and afternoon performances. A capacity crowd filled evening concerts.

GRADUATES GET CONTRACTS FOR TEACHING JOBS

Ten Placements Made To Date
More Than 200 Students
Enter Applications

To date, according to information received recently from Mr. A. J. Herrick, ten graduates of this college have signed contracts for new teaching positions. Six of those ten placements are members of this year's graduating class. As is the case with other teachers colleges, placements have been rather slow.

We are not able to verify the statement, but we understand that other colleges have placed less students than has this institution.

Many Openings

Principal A. J. Herrick of the training school informs us that prospects look good. More than 200 graduates have entered applications at various places throughout the state. In several instances individuals have two or more applications out at the present time.

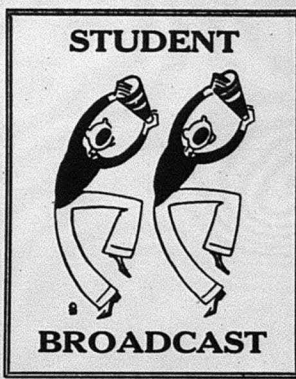

It is expected that positions will be granted more speedily during the closing weeks of school and the early summer months. School boards have remained quiet recently, probably due to financial budgeting, and because of the abundance of teachers available causing them to make their selections more slowly.

3 Rurals Placed

Among those of this year's class having signed contracts for positions are: Gerhard Holm of Tigerton — 7th and 8th grades at Mattoon, Wis.; Mary Gruber of Vesper — Rural school near Marshfield; Coryl Richardson of La Farge — Primary grades at Virginia, Wis.; Evelyn Becker of Pardeeville — Rural school near Pardeeville; Ruth Whipple of Stevens Point — Rural school in Portage county; and Curtis Tronson of Forestville — Principal of State Graded School at Sister Bay.

The alumni of C. S. T. C. who have recently been placed are: Helen Tisserand, '30 — 3rd grade at Baraboo, Wis.; Alice Feller, '28 — Primary grades at Elmhurst, Ill.; Henry Kolka, '33 — High School at Oxford, Wis.; Natalie Gorski, '33 Intermediate grades at Three Lakes, Wis.

Editor, 'Pointer' —

Allow me to present an orchid to one of our faculty members for the interest she has shown in the subject she is teaching. That member is the head of the French department, who worked untiringly for the success of the French classes' Madison trip.

Due to her efforts, representative students were given an opportunity to hear and enjoy excellent French diction by attending the play, "Blanchette" by Brioux, presented in the Bascom Hall theatre Saturday, April 14.

An orchid to you, Mlle. Davis.

Sincerely,
LE VIELLARD

Dear Editor:

"All the world hates a cheapskate". That statement, in all its triteness, can hardly be refuted.

Let there not be any confusion as to exactly what we mean by "cheapskate". We do not include in that category those who are unfortunate financially, nor those who are close figurers. The college student who does not have much money at his command is usually admired by his fellows if he stoically puts up with the situation as it exists.

The type of personality to whom we are referring is the man or woman who is too small to pay his way as he goes. It often happens that that person is not always to blame. Perhaps his parent may "shut down" on him a little too much. In the majority of instances, however, he is just too weak mentally to plan his expenditures, and too weak to suffer the consequences after his money is gone.

More specifically, there are a few persons around this college, perhaps three or four, who make it a practise to try to sneak into dances, athletic contests; who listen to any pay auditorium program from the fire escape; who make it a practise to peak into windows at dances; who watch baseball games through knotholes.

They are thoroughly undesirable citizens. They have no place in a college community. Their actions were excusable in their adolescence. But, if they are still children, they have no place in an adult society.

The only ones who are being injured by these moral weaklings are the actors themselves. They are doing things unacceptable to society, and their own prestige suffers just to the extent that they try to "dance while the other fellow pays the fiddler".

The writer of this letter hopes that the persons for whom this is intended will read it. They know who they are; they don't have to be told. If they doubt the truth of this philosophy let them inquire around a bit and see what the general reaction is.

Yours,
MINNIE.

Books On New Deal Shown In Reading Room

This week in the small alcove just to the right of the main desk in the library, where debate material has previously been kept, students will find a collection of books on display concerning "The New Deal". This display is in charge of Charles Ross and Floyd Cummings, who are enrolled in Mr. Allez' Teacher's Library Training Course.

Ross-Cummings In Charge

It is the purpose of this group of students to feature each week a selection of books on a certain topic of up-to-date material of interest to readers. Last week's edition of the Pointer gave a schedule of all of the people in charge of each of the different projects.

"Times" On Display

Some of the outstanding books of the display of this week are: Lapp's First Chapter on the New Deal; Cleveland Rodgers' The Roosevelt Program; Paul M. Mazur's American Prosperity. Besides these collections there are many others including a display of New York Times Book Reviews. These small papers give a descriptive account of the outstanding new books and topics of the day. "The New Deal" is featured in several of these.

A girl never knows how to do anything that a nice young man wants to teach her.

EXCHANGES

"Because of the illness of Sol Marshall, executive editor of the Echo Weekly, consideration of charges of graft, cheating and ineligibility in the college made by him in a front page editorial last week was postponed by the Commonwealth executive board Tuesday." (Milwaukee Echo, April 18, 1934).

Here is a very brief synopsis of the charges which Editor Marshall publicly retracted. These were published April 11, 1934, under the heading "What's Going On Here?"

"Charges that chiseling, cheating, breaking of scholastic regulations, and perhaps other forms of unfair play in financial, scholastic, and eligibility matters are prevalent at Milwaukee State with student and faculty administrators doing little or nothing to prevent or punish the guilty ones are made in a recent letter to the Echo Weekly...

"Knowledge of such unethical conduct is current among large numbers of students... Ineligible students have taken part in activities ranging from small society functions to major inter-collegiate sports...

"At present, most student and faculty heads do almost nothing when they discover 'dirty work' or when it is forced to their attention... Investigations into shady financial transactions have usually been hushed up with neither exoneration nor conviction of those involved. Students have participated in college affairs while officials looking on knew that they were ineligible but did nothing.

"An attitude has been developed throughout the college, it seems, of covering up misdeeds, presumably in order to save the college from scandal... By covering up offenses, student and faculty heads are defeating their own purpose. It would be better for Milwaukee State to let it be known that it is clean by constant purging of unclean elements...

"A central authority with power over all organizations would seem to be the remedy for this situation."

Perhaps the reason a woman's work is never done is because she employs a domestic to do it.
