Art Class To Hold Picture Exhibition May 11-15

A splendid opportunity for Art Education is afforded in the exhibit of Fine Art Prints which will be on display May 11-15 at the Training School Gymnasium. There will be a small admission charge (10c) which will be used for the purchase of pictures for our school rooms.

There are 150 large colored reproductions of the Old and Modern Masters. Miss Carlsten, members of the Art Appreciation Class and Mr. Neale will tell you about the pictures. The exhibit is open from 9:00 A. M. to 5 P. M. during the week. All students and the general public are invited.

Iris Publication Date Nears

You will have your Iris on time this year!

Yes, if no unforeseen disaster occurs, there will be time to have all your "friends" write in your annual before school closes. If, as stated before, nothing prevents, the Iris will be distributed to students about May 20.

To Be Out About May 20

Because of the early start, work on the "Iris" is far ahead of former years. As this issue of the Pointer goes to press all but six pages of the year book are in the hands of the printing company, the Worzalla Publishing Company of Stevens Point. It takes approximately one month to print a book of the type of the "Iris", so you may plan accordingly.

Library Books To Have Homecoming Tomorrow Students To Cooperate?

ALLEZ TO DETERMINE COLLEGE LIBRARY POLICY BY RESULT

Friday of this week has been set for the annual library homecoming for books. This comes at the end of the library inventory and is particularly significant to students this year in that the future library policy regarding open or closed shelves will depend to a large extent upon their response and cooperation. Continued large book losses must, in any library, eventually lead to closed shelves with all its attendant disadvantages and inconveniences to students. The losses in the library this year are so large that something must be done and the only remedy lies with the student body.

NO QUESTIONS ASKED

A large basket will be placed outside of the library doors all day Friday into which returned books may be placed. No questions will be asked and fines will not be charged for any book returned during that day.

WILL YOU HELP?

The Library chooses this one day of the year to request the active help and assistance from students. If you have had real help and assistance from the library in your work; if you have enjoyed any special privilege; if in an emergency there has been a suspension of some rule in your (Continued on page 5, col. 1)

Petrie's "White Hussars" Please Large Crowd

Petrie's "White Hussars" entertained a capacity audience last Monday evening with a wonderfully varied concert. The ensemble consisted of two cornets, two trombones, and two singers, a baritone and a soprano.

Their opening march was startlingly well executed, and the same precision and beauty lasted throughout the program. Their novelty numbers were certainly all that anyone asking humorous entertainment could ask.

This group played here two years ago. Recently, they played at Whitewater Teachers' College, and were so well liked that they were immediately reengaged. They have also been reengaged here and will play an entertainment during the summer session.

The North Central Ruling . . .

The action of the North Central Association has little effect upon the status of this college or its graduates, leaving our position exactly as it was before.

As a student of this college for four years the writer is well aware of the influences which then, and those which have since combined to make this period a most enjoyable one. As Edgar G. Doudna, secretary of the State Board of Regents, wrote in February, after his inspection here: "President Hyer's impress is of course very noticeable at Stevens Point. There is an aggressive and enthusiastic vitality in the college that one observes almost immediately. Seriousness of purpose is everywhere manifest on the part of both faculty and students. It is evident that this college is an institution for service and that everyone is working energetically but happily to realize its purposes."

"There are a number of other things to be said about the college, but this letter is now too long. The college assembly programs, the new marking system, the excellent system of student records and credits are all worthy of comment. Above all may I commend the fine spirit and energy of the faculty." Secretary Doudna, of course, has the opportunity of comparing conditions here and elsewhere.

As a student here during a period when the college has enjoyed its most remarkable growth the writer has seen the band advance from a straggling rough and ready aggregation to a seventy-piece college concert band, remarkably organized and well uniformed, directed by conductor Peter J. Michelsen, a leader of exceptional ability, and so recognized throughout this and surrounding states.

Fifty-six men form the college chorus, under the gifted leadership of Norman E. Knutzen. An equal number of young women form the women's chorus.

An intensive forensic participation marked by exceptional success has been directed by Professor Burroughs, over a period of recent years. Today outstanding graduates of this college are carrying on in all of these endeavors in the field.

A well balanced social program provides needed social recreational facilities under faculty supervision, with student representation in a common council to plan a sane social program for the whole student body.

The Training School, with latest modern equipment, new building, and a sympathetic and able personnel has contributed in a remarkable way to the prestige of Central State.

A program of extra curricular activities finds a photo club, chapters of National Science and English clubs, four Greek letter social organizations, a Rural Life Club, Home E. club, Loyola Club, Y. W. C. A. and numerous others contributing their full share under faculty guidance to the student participation in a more complete life; truly, every student, regardless of aim or experience, can find his place in the scheme of things at Central State.

Each year the Greek letter organizations find that more and more alumni members wend their way back at Homecoming—there are ties here that these men and women have developed under the Central State system—and these ties mean something to these people.

In concluding the writer wishes to call the attention of our readers to the remarks of Channing, quoted on the editorial page, in the conclusion to the Pointer story. We feel that we have this sympathetic attitude on the part of our instructors, and we are glad to tell the world about it. There is a saying about "stone walls do not a prison make", etc., etc., similarly, marble and tile corridors do not make a college; it is the warm and genuine feeling of sympathetic understanding between students and faculty coupled with educational ideals which make for a human type of finished college graduate fit for the instruction of the young.

Art Class Sponsors Double Feature Benefits

The Art Appreciation Class is sponsoring a benefit theatre party at the Fox Theatre this week Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and at the Lyric Thursday and Friday, presenting Al Jolson in the "Singing Kid" and Robert Donat and Jean Parker in "The Ghost Goes West". The class is planning a trip to Minneapolis soon to spend the day at the Minneapolis Museum of Art at the Walker Art Gallery.

Movement To Grant Degrees Is Launched; Present Members Join Faculty

By RUTH NASON

Although there was little change in the way the Pointer was being edited, from 1922 to 1924 there were many incidents occurring which left indelible marks on the school's history.

Professor L. M. Burroughs was launching upon his career of coaching champions in forensics at Central State Teachers College. In 1923, he coached Melville Bright, who was hailed as the "Champion Orator of the Middle West." Mr. Bright won first place in the inter-state contest at Cedar Falls, Iowa, with his oration, "The Implements of Progress".

It is interesting to note the change as names become less familiar. Instead of the mothers and fathers of present day students, we see that many of our older brothers and sisters were attending school.

Madame Ernestine Shumann-Heink gave a concert in our auditorium on Wednesday, May 16, 1923. The Madame is a familiar and beloved character in Stevens Point, and her program was typical, including "The Rosary" and "Stille Nacht", two pieces for which she is justly famous.

RADIO A NOVELTY IN 1923!

A sign of the changing times and the full import of which we can grasp only now is found among the Forum notes of 1923. This organization held meetings at that time. In addition to other varied entertainment, including a piano solo by Irene Hite (now Mrs. Irene Hite Thompson), "the last meeting assumed the form of a radio concert in the Physics laboratory. Due to the kindness of Mr. Rightsell, Forum members were treated to a delightful program, consisting of a unique combination of a first class prize fight and the Zion City quartette"—How this little notation brings home to us across the short span of thirteen years the marvelous progression from a point where a group could hear radio programs through gathering in a physics laboratory to the present day "one in every home" status of radio!

He—"This cold weather chills me to the bone".

She—"You should wear a heavier hat".

Among the new faculty members this year were Miss Edna Carlsten, present art instructor, Mr. Joseph Mott; Mr. F. J. Schmeckle. Another note tells us of the opening of the New Rural Demonstration School on the North campus; also of interest is another item from this issue informing us.

PRESENT COLLEGE LIBRARY OPENS

"New students are informed that the big room on the second floor across from the main stairway, is the new library. Its use is delayed until the money can be appropriated to strengthen the supports beneath the floor."

PROFESSOR CULVER WRITES

Mr. G. E. Culver is the author of an interesting article in the December issue of The Pointer. "Teaching in the Country Half a Century Ago" is the title of this most interesting and informative essay which space does not permit reprinting here. An excerpt:

"The teacher, who was also a janitor, boarded 'around'. He apportioned his time at the different homes according to the number of pupils from each. This usually resulted in his staying longer at the homes of the poorer families. The Arctic holds no terrors for one who has occupied the "spare room" of these homes in winter. Often the water from the pitcher froze as fast as it was turned out for the morning ablution."

BURTON R. PIERCE JOINS FACULTY

In the Forum meeting (1923) Professor Collins "outlined clearly the reasons why certain men will be considered as presidential timber due to the records they have made." Also from the December, 1923 Pointer: Mr. Burton Pierce, alumnus '21 has been engaged as Junior High school critic of History, Civics, and Geography beginning Monday, Dec. 17. Mr. Pierce has been specializing in Education at Ripon and also at the University of Chicago.

3. A slow-pup is a lazy pup.

Little Boy: "Oh, mamma, see that funny man sitting on the sidewalk talking to a banana peel!"

"Never kiss a girl on the forehead."

"Why not?"

"You're liable to get a bang in the mouth."

E. T. SMITH WRITES ON HIGH SCHOOL CHANGES

"Expanding High Schools" was professor E. T. Smith's essay in the May, 1924 Pointer. Mr. Smith drew comparisons between 1890 and 1924, showing that: "only one person out of 312 was enrolled in a high school in 1890, while one out of fifty-seven was enrolled in 1920;... let pessimists derive what satisfaction they may from a perusal of growing expenditures for cosmetics or chewing gum. The faith of the American people in the value of good education is abundantly demonstrated by the hundreds of thousands who have presented themselves to our secondary schools for advanced training. There were only 202,000 high school students in 1890, while in 1920 there were 1,857,000! We pledge ourselves to a resolute optimism, seeing rainbows in statistics."

MOVEMENT TO GRANT DEGREES

An editorial contains resolutions of the Association of Wisconsin Normal School Teachers petitioning the State Legislature for authority enabling Normal Schools to grant degrees, "this association strongly supports the action of the Board of Regents in authorizing four year courses (Feb. 1923) in all departments of teacher-training work."

THE WORTH OF A TEACHER

Interesting too is a companion editorial consisting of quotations from William Ellery Channing. "The whole worth of a school lies in the teacher. You may accumulate the most expensive apparatus for instruction, but without an intellectual gifted teacher it is little better than rubbish, and such a teacher without apparatus may effect the happiest results."

What we want is a race of teachers acquainted with the philosophy of the mind, gifted men and women who shall respect human nature in the child and strive to touch and gently bring out its best powers and sympathies, and who shall devote themselves to this as an end of life."

Barbara Joy—Conductor

Pan-Hellenic to You, Sir!

So the Greeks have decided to get dignified! Yes, sir, they've even adopted a new name for themselves; from now on its the Pan-Hellenic Council, instead of merely Greek council.

This was but one of the many measures under discussion at a very special meeting of the Council, held Thursday evening, April 23, at the Phi Sig house. The main topic of the evening was the new constitution, which was formally drawn up by all the members. Incorporated in it were among others, the following stipulations:

A 1.5 grade average will be compulsory for admittance into any sorority or fraternity, and strict adherence to all Pan-Hellenic rules is expected; violation of them will subject the offending group to suspension from all social functions and pledging for a semester.

FRED KOWALSKI ILL

Fred Kowalski, a senior, has been ill the last week with blood poisoning in both feet. Fred scratched a toe in some unknown manner and infection set in, later spreading to both feet. The ailment failed to respond to treatment and necessitated special treatment at the hospital. We are happy to announce that the patient is back home again and well on the road to recovery.

JUNIOR PROM PLEASURES

Dainty, springlike, lovely, gay. These were only a few of the adjectives heard in description of the annual Junior Prom, held Friday evening, April 24 in the new college gymnasium.

The decorative theme was a comparatively simple one, yet so beautifully and cleverly carried out that no one can deny that this year's Prom was one of the prettiest parties ever given at Central State. "Poor Butterfly" was the idea around which the decorations were built. Myriads of them, in varied tones were poised on the top and walls of the gym, which were entirely covered with green and yellow streamers. Those streamers covering the ceiling were arranged in a gabled effect, through which the rosy shaded lights softly gleamed. A huge pastel butterfly formed a striking silhouette against the rear entrance, while the state was embellished with "1937" formed with large gay colored numbers.

MENTZEL-WEED HEAD RECEPTION LINE

The reception line formed sharply at nine o'clock. Receiving were Prom King Ted Menzel and his queen, Zella Weed, Prom Chairman Oscar Copes and his lady, Miss Evelyn White of Tomahawk, regent and Mrs. G. H. Martins, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Evans, and Dean and Mrs. Herbert Steiner.

At ten o'clock Ted and Billie—every inch a royal pair—took their places at the head of the grand march. Although smaller than in former years, it was a lovely sight as the gay dresses of the girls and contrasting somberness of the men formed kaleidoscope of color.

College Chorus Is Active

The Men's Chorus, under Mr. N. E. Knutzen, presented a concert at Adams last Friday. The men sang to a large and appreciative audience.

At Wittenberg Tomorrow

On Wednesday, April 29, the group presented its concert at Iola. A larger group made the latter trip. To-morrow night the men are scheduled to sing at Wittenberg.

The chorus has developed remarkably this year and has been, and is, in demand. In addition to the tour made in March the Men's Chorus has made a number of short trips. To-night the men will hold a "smoker" at the Gingham Tea room. A lunch will be served following card playing, and perhaps a little "harmonizing" will ensue.

ON THE AIR

Jack Burroughs—Conductor

Another Monday and of course another College Radio Hour. Next week be sure and be present in the college auditorium for at that time our honorary English fraternity, Sigma Tau Delta, is presenting an original modern radio playlet which will take up about fifteen minutes of the program. Sound effects have been worked out and promises to be something new for C. S. T. C. Also next Monday's Hour will feature three boys from the band (Buck, Hink, and Red) who will offer something really choice in the saxophone line. The guest artist for next Monday's program has not been announced as yet.

To-day 3:00 — "Clean Winged Hearth" — Prof. Burroughs, Knutzen

Monday 3:30-4:00—"College Radio Hour"— J. Burroughs, G. Cartmill, P. Swingle, and the band.

DORM NEWS

Mary Ann Stauffacher, who had her nose broken last week, is reported to be getting along nicely.

Miss Evelyn White of Tomahawk was the guest of Helen Piehl this weekend.

Miss Dorothy Bryce, a former dormite, spent the weekend with Billy Weed.

The Y. W. C. A. gave a silver tea in the Nelson Hall living room, Saturday afternoon. Miss Lorraine Guell president of the organization and Fay Yerke, president for next year, served.

Miss Barbara Fulton, who has been suffering with tonsillitis, has returned to school.

Of course the talk of Nelson Hall has been the Junior Prom. Now that's over, its the Phi Sig Formal. Get your dates, fellows!

By the looks of things, there'll be quite a few dormities in shape for the tennis tournaments this spring.

All you Dormites who go to the movies this week, get your tickets from the Art students. They would like to go on a trip and with your cooperation they will be able to do so.

Watch for notices of the dorm dances. Everyone is invited.

Miss Ruth Omholt and Miss Faye Cook of Eagle River spent Friday and Saturday at Nelson Hall. They were the guests of Lucille Hickcock.

SUPERIOR PUGS HERE FRIDAY

POINTERS TO SEEK REVENGE FOR LAST WEEK'S LICKING

Large Crowd Hoped For As Coach Sends Men Through Final Drills

Tomorrow evening, May 1, Coach Jenkins and his Stevens Point Teachers' College boxers will entertain the Superior State Teachers' College squad in the new gym. The matches will be the second of the season for Stevens Point, the Pointers having lost at Superior last week, 5½-2½.

LOOK FOR BATTLE

Coach Jenkins would make no predictions as to the outcome of the fight card tomorrow, but stated that his boys will give Superior a battle in an attempt to avenge last week's defeat. The Point men have been working out daily in an effort to correct the faults brought to light in the first Superior contest.

SPARHAWK ON CARD

The exact pairings have not been announced as yet. However it is expected that the lineups will be almost the same as in the first card at Superior. "Red" Miller, Point heavyweight, suffered a severe cut above his eye and will not be permitted to fight this week. Coach Jenkins stated that the burly "Chuck" Sparhawk will replace Miller in the heavyweight division tomorrow night. Larry Adams, who scored a knockout over Miller last week, will oppose Sparhawk. Coach Jenkins also announced that Jim Harding may take a place on the card in the event that Superior brings along a scrapper of Jim's weight.

CERTAIN STARTERS

Jim "Mickey" McGuire, "Webb" Berard, and Lloyd Hayes of the Point, all receiving draws up at Superior, will probably clash with the same foes. Bernie Hastreiter, possessor of the lone Point victory last week, will strive to ring up another triumph in the 115 pound class. Deane Gordon and Whipple will attempt to reverse the decisions they lost in the opening bouts of the season.

LET'S HAVE REAL CROWD

Robert Neale will perform as the third man in the ring. As the card is the first intercollegiate match of the season in Stevens Point this year it is hoped that a capacity crowd will turn out to welcome the fighters. This Superior outfit is a good one and should prove to be an excellent drawing card.

W. A. A. Play Day Occurs May 16

May 16th is the day set for the fourth annual W. A. A. "Play Day." Invitations have been sent to 18 of the surrounding high schools. Eight schools participated in the activities last year and twice that number are expected this year.

Although it rained last year and the games were carried on in the gym, everyone seemed to have a good time anyway. Mr. Weatherman can't play such a trick every year, so hope for clear weather this year.

This year the program will be changed in some ways. As usual there will be registration at 9 o'clock and a general meeting of all contestants in the new gym at 9:30. However, all of the games will be played in the morning from ten o'clock to 1 o'clock rather than continuing with games in the afternoon. After a luncheon at Nelson Hall, Miss Richardson is going to present a program of creative dancing in the college auditorium for all W. A. A. guests.

Miss Richardson says, "The program will really be an informal demonstration showing the dance as a creative activity and showing the simple elements from which it can be built. The work, as it has been carried on, stands, as a contrast to the formal sort of thing represented in the past by tap dancing and so called acrobatics. The program will contain numbers worked out in both the children's and college girls' dancing classes. They represent the idea which interests the two groups. This dancing program will close the play day activities for this year. The awards for winning in the various games will be presented at the close of the program."

Volleyball Tournament Creates Much Interest

The mixed volleyball tournament got under way Tuesday afternoon and already several teams are advancing toward the finals. After a champion has been declared and the consolation winner determined, these two teams will clash in a post tournament series. The winners of this contest will meet an all-star team to determine just who is best in this game of volleyball. Much interest has been aroused in the tournament as it is a mixed affair with four girls and five boys playing on each team. The games are played in the old gym with two conflicts held each night, the first starting at 4:00. Coach Kotal requests that the players be promptly on hand at game time so things can be run off per schedule.

Frat Boys Soon Mix In Battle For Jug

It won't be long before the Fraternity boys will be getting together for their annual soft ball series. Last year the Chi Deltas won the series and the jug, three games to two, after the Phi Sigs had taken two of the first three contests.

STARS APLENTY

It looks as though this spring's series will be another hard fought affair between two well-matched clubs. The Phi Sigs have lost John Collins, ace hurler of 1935, Guy Krumm, outfielder, and Art Nygaard, second baseman. Meanwhile the Chi Deltas have lost Nolan Gregory, Clark Lampe, and Frank Klement, infielders, and Dick Schwahn, catcher.

Among the outstanding players that will see action this year for the Chi Deltas will be Frost Bassler, hard hitting outfielder, "wild" Bob Steiner, pitcher, Al Bucholtz, infielder, and Manager Don Unferth. Probable stars for the Phi Sigs in the forthcoming series are Milt Anderson, outfielder, Francis Bremmer, outfielder, Art Hemmy, infielder, and Allen Schulz, pitcher.

BASKETBALL SPREAD

The basketball picnic, which had been put off for so long, took place yesterday. About thirty girls joined in the fun at Robertson park. After playing baseball and other games, the all tournament team was announced. They were as follows:

- | | |
|-----------------|---------------|
| Forwards | Guards |
| M. Wolf | M. Miner |
| J. Emery | B. Schwahn |
| C. Delansky | M. Walmsley |
| E. Theisen | R. Kukaniek |

When everyone had finished eating around the fire, she tramped wearily but happily back to town.

SPORT SHOTS

FISTS TO FLY TOMORROW

Anybody who enjoys plenty of fun and excitement should most certainly be present at the ring-side Friday night. We are predicting that there'll be a lot of action in that old ring and we don't expect to be disappointed. We were down in the gym a few nights ago watching "Mickey" McGuire work out and, take it from us, Mickey isn't going to be satisfied with a draw this time. After swatting the punching bag for several minutes "Mick" paused a moment and said, "If I lose it won't be because I can't punch". According to reports, McGuire's opponent, Leo Fishback, is plenty good with his mitts, so that match should be something worth the admission price alone. One time this writer was officiating a basketball game a few seasons back. Some trouble arose between the players. McGuire, one of the participants, shot a right to a heavier opponent's jaw and the unfortunate player went down for the count. If Mickey lets loose with that punch tomorrow—well, don't be one of those disgruntled fans who say, "I wish I had been there to see it." Superior had 1100 people in attendance to the Point matches; that's a mark for fans around here to shoot at. Incidentally almost half the crowd at Superior was made up of girls so you Point girls want to be present at these bouts.

BIG LEAGUE SHOW

Any person who says that interest in baseball is dying out in the younger generation should have been present at the American League picture given at the High School last Friday evening. The picture, produced by Lew Fonseca and George Moriarity, and lasting about an hour, showed all of the American League stars going through their favorite paces. About 600 people were present, and about 500 of these were high school and grade school children. And, we don't like to admit it, but the college students were conspicuous by their absence. No, we won't have to worry about the youngsters of today losing interest in the great American game. It's ourselves that we have to be concerned about.

North Central Rules Against Pointers

In November of last year this college made application for admittance to the North Central Association. Last week the college received the information that admittance had been denied. The basis for this action was incorporated in eight specific points, which are herein outlined.

PRIMARY OBJECTION—TEACHER LEAD

The administrative officials of this college, ambitious to further its standing in the educational field, and cognizant of the enormous strides forward which the college has taken in recent years along all lines, were under no obligation to join the North Central Association. The movement to join the association was undertaken because the college officials felt that the college was ready for this step, and it was one of the few things left undone in an intensive campaign to place the college standards on continuously higher levels. Although less than twenty five per cent of the high schools of this state belong to the North Central Association, the administrative officials here deemed the time ripe for another step forward, in line with progressive policies of recent years.

A close examination of the points involved discloses that the primary objection to our admittance pivots about the finances—teacher load—heavy enrollment condition, which may be explained in very few words.

In 1929 the college enrollment had but a 379 figure; there were fifty instructors to share the teaching burden; the 1930 weighted average per student (for operation) was $427. Today, with a 953 total enrollment, the above figure per student stands at $162, with forty-five instructors to share the teaching load.

TWO ALTERNATIVES

The implication is obvious—if the recommendations (if they can be taken as such) of the North Central Association are to be followed up there are several alternatives. First, cut the enrollment to make the appropriation go further; second to secure an increased appropriation with which to employ needed instructors. The first alternative is certainly of doubtful expediency; the territory served by this college extends throughout a wide radius. Shall any desirable student be denied admittance?

The "heavy-load" feature was most stressed by the report of the Association with regard to Mr. Smith, director of secondary education, and Mr. Steiner, dean of men, stating that their efficiency would be impaired by combined teaching and administrative loads, although neither Mr. Smith or Mr. Steiner admit this. The reader will note that Central State secures its appropriations from the state legislature. The forthcoming budget of this college will be presented to the legislature in October. The college faculty is the smallest in the state, in a college which ranks among the leaders in enrollment.

CURRICULUM CRITICIZED

Some of the other points mentioned in the report of the Association deal with various features of the curriculum. The statement is made that the faculty (quoting the report): "has not been brought into the evaluation of the program of the institution to the extent that is desirable". Another criticism along this line deals with the curriculum formation and its disadvantages. In President Hyer's answer to the criticism made by the Association, he says in regard to criticism of the curriculum itself:

"The fact that no student has been graduated from our division of secondary education in the past three years unless he met the requirements of the graduate school of the University of Wisconsin is evidence as to what our state university thinks of our organization. Our graduates have also been admitted to the Universities of Minnesota and Illinois, and students have gone from our college to other universities, all without loss of credit."

CO-OPERATION QUESTIONED

The criticism that "the faculty has not been brought into the evaluation of the program of the institution to the extent that is desirable", is somewhat a perplexing one, for there is not evidence upon which to base such a conclusion. If no other evidence were to be supplied, the obvious good-will of all of the faculty members toward each other, their work, and toward the students is a sufficient guarantee that such a criticism is wholly misplaced. However, strong as such evidence may be, there is other evidence to support the theory that the contentions of the Association are wholly misplaced or founded upon a complete lack of knowledge in regard to this college and its faculty staff; as President Hyer remarks, "I am at a loss to answer this criticism, since every program, every course of study, every provision for a major or a minor, every class room procedure has been wholly in the hands of the faculty working in committees... I do not believe that there is a member of our faculty who does not feel that he has the utmost freedom in his work in the college and that he has a real part not only in the making of the program of the college but in putting it in execution."

DENY ADEQUATE HEALTH PROTECTION

The final points raised by the Association deal with conditions affecting the coeds and the method of dealing with the health situation in the school at large. The criticism is based upon the need for a doctor.

The college has an infirmary and a trained, registered nurse, with an experience of fourteen years, who is authorized to make trips in a 100-mile radius to visit students reported ill. A car is provided by the college for her professional use. The nurse visits patients daily in the infirmary, in their rooms, in the hospital (across the street from the college campus) or in their homes. Regular health inspections are a part of the routine. In addition to the nurse, the college has provided for a counsellor of women at Nelson Hall; the women's physical education director assists in the health and recreation activities at Nelson Hall. In addition to this staff are the chairman of the department of home economics and two assistants. The chairman lives in the college cottages with groups of girls.

As President Hyer states, "After over thirty years of experience in colleges having a dean of women, I believe that our present arrangement with a counsellor of women, a director of physical education, a trained nurse, and a director of home life, all of whom have had the kinds of actual experience which fits them to understand the adolescent boy and girl, meets the situation more adequately than a dean of women could; these arrangements meet our situation more adequately than the criticism implies."

DORM ARRANGEMENTS DEFENDED

The Association's statements concerning the boarding arrangements for the women at Nelson Hall are based upon the fact that not all of the women eat there. Prices lower than the college could offer were put in effect by householders and others near the college; the effect of this, in the worst of the depression years, was to force Nelson Hall out of the business of supplying meals, for they could be obtained cheaper elsewhere. Quoted from President Hyer's concluding remarks:

"We have spent nearly $10,000 under WPA in renovating Nelson Hall this winter. It is now in extremely fine condition. I hope the time will soon come when it will be possible to furnish board to those who room there, but under present conditions, it would seem that we are doing the wise thing to continue its present form."
