

'36 MARDI GRAS TUESDAY EVE.

Band Trip Plans
Nearly Set

The itinerary of the annual band trip has been worked out and is now complete except for a few minor details. Professor Michelsen has been working very hard on this important part of the musical activities at C. S. T. C., and the extent and result of his efforts is shown in the next paragraphs.

Nine Stops Scheduled

Monday, March 3, is the day set for the beginning of the tour. The caravan will start in the morning and arrive at Portage for dinner. The band will then play an afternoon concert, starting at 1:20 p. m. Baraboo is the next stop. An evening concert will be presented there.

BURROUGHS-ZYLKA
REEDAL - WATSON
TO WHITEWATER

The team of Jack Burroughs and Michael Zylka and the women's team of Jane Reedal and Virginia Watson are leaving tomorrow for our sister State Teachers College in Whitewater, Wisconsin, to participate in the invitational Inner-State Debate Tournament.

The Tournament will last two days, starting Friday afternoon. The program will consist of two rounds of debate, dinner Friday evening as the guests of the Whitewater Forensic Association, and an All-College Mixer dance Friday evening with the visiting debaters and coaches as guests. A third and fourth round of debating will begin the Saturday activities at nine o'clock in the morning. The concluding round will begin at one-thirty and the tournament will conclude at two-thirty, when the results will be announced.

Trophies Offered

The Whitewater Kiwanis have donated awards for meritorious work. In addition to a team trophy, there will be individual awards given to the debaters in each division whom their opponents decide have done the outstanding work. The facilities of Station WCLC of Janesville will be extended to the tournament.

This is the last tournament before the grand tournament of the season at St. Thomas College of St. Paul, Minneapolis the first week in March.

POTENTIAL QUEENS-

CONTENDERS

Round and round she goes an' where she stops nobody knows'; "Singie hi-de-hi"; "You can believe it or not"; These are just a few of the headliners at the big Mardi Gras Main Show next Tuesday night. Major Bowes, the Mills Brothers, the Pickens Sisters, Uncle Ezra, and Robert Ripley are the titles of some of the programs listed. Altogether there will be twelve big acts, including those by the faculty men and the faculty women. The main show starts at 7:30 sharp and thus begins the big night of carnival.

C.S.T.C. Students Are Generous
Contributors; Library Fines
Ante On The Upgrade

The first semester of last year students paid into the library $57.00 in fines for not returning library books when due. The ante the first semester of this year increased to $64.44. During the second semester of last year the amount of money forfeited to the library for fines and paid into the treasury of the State of Wisconsin was $74.00. The student loss for the semester we are now beginning lies with the future.

Nor is it in money alone that the students lose for this thing which is avoidable. The keeping of records, sending of notices, collecting fines and checking fine list requires hours of librarians' time which could be used in giving students assistance in their work in the library.

Fines May Be Increased

Library regulations are made for one purpose and one purpose only and that is to insure the greatest service to the largest number of people.

A system of fines is the only method of maintaining and regulating book loans and if delinquencies continue at the present rate it will be necessary to raise substantially all fines for overdue books, as is done in many colleges.

Such action may be necessary because of the increased need and use of books by students. Some idea of the growing load on the library may be obtained

SHOW-MASKED BALL;
KING-QUEEN CON-
TESTS FEATURE*BERARD COPES PFIFFNER
REYNOLDS CONTEST
KINGSHIP

Coronation at 10:30

At 9:00 the Castilians will begin playing in the new gymnasium, which will be decorated to suit the occasion. Horns, balloons, clappers, and serpentine will be in abundance to aid in the riot making.

The coronation of the king and queen of the Mardi Gras is to take place at 10:30. In accordance with the precedent established last year no one will be admitted to the dance without a costume. Prizes will be awarded to the best costumed group, and to the prettiest and to the funniest individual costumes.

BREMMER-DAMON
HEAD '36 IRIS

Francis Bremmer will assume the duties of managing editor in charge of make-up, and Nina Belle Damon will be in charge of the literary portion of the '36 Iris year book, Thos. A. Rogers, Iris faculty adviser, announced late yesterday.

Mr. Bremmer and Miss Damon have been appointed in the new Iris set-up made necessary by the departure of Mr. Shorey on Mar. 5 (See page 5 col. 1).

Mr. Bremmer is a member of the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity, and an assistant sports editor on the Pointer. He will retain his Pointer connections, it is believed.

Miss Damon is an officer in the Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary English Society.

TAU GAMS INITIATE NEW FACULTY MEMBERS

The Tau Gamme Beta sorority recently added two very distinguished members to its roll. At a special ceremony at the home of Miss Ruth Rice, 704 Main Street, Miss Beatrice Richardson and Miss Mildred Davis were initiated into honorary membership of the sorority.

The Tau Gams are very glad to welcome these new members and hope to enjoy the benefits of their interest and association. Mrs. E. T. Smith, who was one of the sorority's first patronesses, was also formally reinstalled into her former position.

These ceremonies were followed by a banquet at the Pal, at which Mr. Edward Kotal and Mrs. Frank Hyer, patronesses, and Miss Jessie Jones, faculty advisor, were guests of honor.

Campbell's Expands

Campbell's Ladies Shop, announces a new addition in the form of a children's basement shop. This new addition, decorated in a modernistic motif, will be designated as the Jack and Jill Shop. The Formal Opening is scheduled for the early part of next week. With the addition of this new department Campbell's becomes one of the most complete ladies shops in Wisconsin. College students are invited to drop in and look this new shop over.

Date Stamp Changed

An instance of student cooperation has come recently in the suggestion by several that books be stamped date due on the date slip instead of date loaned. It was pointed out that it would be much easier to recall when to return books if they were stamped with the date due. This change had been under consideration for some time and student suggestion was the determining factor of its instant adoption this semester.

The library is bending every effort for the best in library service. Students may help immeasurably by observing the following suggestions.

1. Bring all books back to the library when due. This makes the book available for the other fellow.

NEWSPAPERS GET 46.7% OF ADVERTISING MONEY

CHICAGO.—Milton J. Blair, vice president of the J. Walter Thompson company, advertising agency, told members of the Chicago Purchasing Agents' association here recently that 46.7 per cent of money spent for advertising in 1934 went to buy newspaper space.

To illustrate the "effectiveness of large scale advertising, Blair cited results shown by the leading grocery products manufacturers. The analysis revealed that the corporation with the largest advertising expenditure in relation to sales volume also showed the largest percentage of profit per dollar of sales.

"Advertising creates sales volume and mass production, and lowered manufacturing costs result," he said. "Thus, instead of increasing the price, advertising has actually lowered the price you would pay if this business building force were not employed.

"The advertising of bread costs less than the wrapper to keep it fresh and clean. The advertising expense of the whole canned goods industry is estimated to be one-tenth of a cent per can."—Publisher's Auxiliary

Editor's Mail Box

February 10, 1936

Editor of Pointer:

The Freshmen Class meeting, held on February 10, 1936, was indeed a tragic one—one that is a disgrace to the Freshmen Class.

A condition now exists, in the Freshmen class, where a minority rules the majority. This condition should not characterize any meeting. To those who walked out of that meeting I say to

R. K. Richardson—There is an over-tendency today to transfer responsibility from shoulders that ought fairly to bear much of it, whether in society or in education. The individual ignoramus, sinner, or shirk, has an alibi always; if the fault be in the realm of personal behavior, blame society, parents, the profit-motive, or what not, and, if it be scholastic, blame the teacher. There is much in this, but it is overdue, and I disavow such responsibility.

Challenge Student

H. H. Foster—Present to students real living problems on their intellectual level, problems that challenge to active study and thought, train them in the tactics for solution, and inspire as well as instruct. . . . Possibly it might be well to graduate only after a student has acquired the power to study, regardless of the time spent in acquiring that power.—Beloit Round Table.

you, "It didn't do any good". A majority walked out of that meeting; a majority that could have expressed the will of the class, if they would have stayed. That walkout did not better or strengthen the class. You will never obtain success through those methods. Important business should have received our undivided attention during that meeting, but it did not. This was because of the disagreeableness of distinct factions in the class. Factions walked out when they should have stayed and upheld their cause, whatever it may have been.

It is very hard for our president, who is a very capable and well liked gentleman, to take charge of a meeting when the members are continually walking out, and when there is no resemblance of order.

At our next meeting let us not have a demonstration of "walker outers", but

F. E. R. A. PROJECT OF INTERMEDIATES

Social Studies Four, in the Intermediate Grades, has no textbook. The material covered in the course is "Transportation and Communication." So Miss Diehl, head of the Intermediate Department, utilized some of her F. E. R. A. work for the making of an exhaustive file of material on the subjects. Verona Lau (who did the greater part of the work) and Jane Smith took care of the research for the project.

School Library Is Source

The entire Training School Library was used as the source of material. The work consisted in filing and cataloging on cards every possible available book, article, picture, etc., on land, water, and air transportation and on all the kinds of communication. Each phase of the study was treated from the time of its beginning to its present condition. The Training School Library was used in order that the references obtained should be such that a student in the fourth grade could read and understand them. However, in addition, references are given for use by the teacher.

Along with this work, special holidays of the year, such as Halloween, Christmas, St. Valentine's Day, etc., were catalogued. These cards also give information both about written selections on the subject and where to find suitable pictures.

Students Make Slides

The course, as based on these references, was highly successful. In water communication, in particular, the students became so interested in the work that they even drew and painted slides on glass which can be projected on the screen for the benefit of later classes.

This file is open to student use, and for any one who is entering the field, it should be highly useful.

(This is the third in the Pointer series of articles about useful F. E. R. A. Projects. The first was the "Placement Charts" of Millicent Wilson. The second was the "Classification of Teacher's Grades" by Anna Mae Hartman and Ruth Will. Others will follow.)

may they come prepared to stand their ground. May we have a meeting that will be a credit to and not a detriment to the Freshmen Class.

MAULE'S WELL

When Matthew Maule owned the land upon which the House of Seven Gables now stands, he built a small house on it and dug a well which became famous for its clear and delicious water. This land was next to the Pyncheon estate.

Matthew Maule was a poor man of humble station; the Pyncheons, however, were very rich and exceedingly haughty. To hold intercourse with any of such low caste as the Maules would have been an unbearable degradation. Nevertheless, the Pyncheons desired Maule's land to be added to their estate and were determined to get it at any cost. They especially wanted the use of the famous well and its wonderful water whose qualities were almost unbelievable. So the old Colonel contested the right to this piece of territory. Because his claim was unlawful and because he knew that Maule had some knowledge of mesmerism, Colonel Pyncheon contrived to get him hanged as a wizard. Maule's property, then, was added to the Pyncheon desmesne.

A few years later, the Colonel built a mansion, seven-gabled, the type of house prevalent at that time, and purposed to live there. There was much speculation as to the wisdom of this plan among those who knew of the feud between the two families. Disconcerting rumors prophetic of coming evil spread everywhere. All were agreed that the Pyncheons would pay dearly for their transgression. Colonel Pyncheon scoffed at these trifling reports—Matthew Maule was dead, the wonderful well was his. What could happen? But a queer thing has happened to the water of that well—it has lost its deliciousness, its miraculous powers are "gone, it is bitter. People have testified to an unpleasant taste of peculiar acidity left in the mouth after drinking it. Some old maids say it is imprudent to drink of it; it has become tainted with the guilt of the Colonel.

Clifford Pyncheon, a descendant of the Colonel, was wont to stand by this well. He is even now gazing into its transparent depths in pensive reverie. He has stood long near that sunken spot—a still, dark figure, lost in deep contemplation of the well beneath him. What is so absorbing? What does he watch so intently? Why, it is a picture, there, at the bottom of Maule's well! What can it be? It is becoming more distinct now. What is that gloomy wooden building? Can it be a jail? See all the people standing about, gesturing, talking, waiting—waiting for what? The door opens! Through it walks a small man, shoulders sagging, eyes cast down, broken in spirit. He walks as if in a dream, forgetful of the cautious, fearful crowd. How slowly, painfully, resignedly he walks!

They enter a market place crowded with people, who make way for these three figures. He is led to a scaffold. What has he done? What are they going to do? They're tying a rope around his neck! They're going to hang him! He starts in terror. Oh, how wild he looks! He grasps frantically at the rope, trying desperately to tear it off. He struggles madly, savagely, violently, with the terrible strength of intense terror as the guards tie his hands. The awful sensation of a rough, thick rope tightening about his neck brings him back to horrible reality. His spasm of raging delirium passes. His shoulders sag, his head falls, he stands there in the appalling stillness of utter despair.

Who is that tall man moving towards the scaffold? How stern and cruel he looks! What hate and suppressed passion gleam in his dark eyes! Suddenly, as the guards tighten the rope, the little man straightens. His eyes shine fiercely, and he points an accusing finger at the disdainful man in front of him.

"God will give him blood to drink."
"Clifford! Did you mutter those awful words?" The crowd shudders. The man starts, momentarily daunted. Then he recovers his poise and smiles scornfully, at the man writhing in the convulsive, stifling agonies of his death.

Society Notes

Phi Sigs Hold Open House

Last Friday evening, February 14, was the scene of an unusual and very delightful party held at the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity house, 823 Main St. The gathering was in the nature of an "open house," and from thirty-five to forty people were present to enjoy the hospitality of the Phi Sigs.

Entertainment during the evening consisted of cards, dancing, various stunts and musical numbers by guests and members alike. Towards the close of the evening a lunch was served.

This first "open house" was so successful that the fraternity plans to hold another similar evening in the near future.

Sigma Zeta Will Meet Tonight

Tonight at 7:30 Sigma Zeta fraternity will hold an important meeting in Mr. Roger's room. Besides the regular meeting, pictures for the Iris will be taken at 8:00 o'clock, so all members are urged to attend.

The program for the evening will consist of short talks on science by the new members who were initiated in the beginning of January. The new members are: Alicia Jones, Maxine Miner, Illa Rodger, Fern Van Vuren, Anita McVey, Margery McCulloch, Ellyer F. Bassler, Russel Way, Alvin Bucholz, Mabel Solberg and William Theisen.

Sigma Zeta Dance Pleases

The crowd at the dance sponsored by Sigma Zeta last Friday night was comparatively small; but those who did attend reported that it was a very nice party. We don't know whether to blame the lack of attendance on the Phi Sigs, the cold weather, or the game at the Rapids; at any rate those absent missed a swell dance. The Castilians played and were in tip-top form.

Loyola to Meet Tonight

Loyola Club will convene tonight in the rural assembly, at 7:30 o'clock.

Special guests of the evening will be Father Kools and Father Casey of St. Stephen's parish. A musical and dramatic program of special merit will comprise the evening's entertainment.

All members should be present as the Iris pictures will be taken at 8:30.

Rathke Rural Life Speaker

At the regular meeting of Rural Life on Monday Wilburt Rathke gave a most instructive and entertaining description of the Civilian Conservation Corps as he learned to know that project through ten months experience in the one at Townsend, Wisconsin. At the close of his talk, he invited his audience to ask any question which came to them. The interest was evidenced by the discussion which followed.

Other numbers on the program included piano solos by Gretchen Johnson and a reading by Lor-

NELSON HALL NOTES

Those who left town over the week-end were:

Clark, Wausau; J. Livingston, Cornwall, Plainfield; Paulson, Mercer, Schultz, Marshfield; Sturm, Wachtl, Jenkin, Mosinee; Veeder, Friendship; J. and B. Connor, Auburndale; Mudock, Gresham; Vangilder, Wittenburg; Kratz, Wausau; Piehl and Rosemark, Rhinelander; Murgatroyd, Vesper; Maguire, Holder; Baier, Nekosoa; Frase, Colby; Mairiel, Owen; Baird, Medford; Knutzen, Iola; Newhouse, Marathon; Graunke, Auburndale; Garren, Iola; Schell, Amherst; Cook, Waupaca.

Miss Jane Livingston is entertaining a teacher from Almond, Wis., Miss Thelma Hanson. She is observing classes in the college.

We are glad to see that the furniture of the living room is being replaced. It gives us a place to entertain our friends.

St. Valentine's Day was a busy day for the mail-men who came to Nelson Hall—One would think to look at all the packages that Christmas was here again.

One of our efficient Home Economics Students was seen broadening her knowledge along the household line in the form of throwing in wood over at Herrick's Friday afternoon! Some sport, we call it!

Many of the dorm girls are buying spring hats. We wonder if they think the spring fashion is to wear spring hats with ear muffs!

Enthusiasm regarding the Mardi Gras is gaining prestige rapidly at the "bull-sessions" of those who live in the dorm. One of the biggest questions on issue is "What shall I wear to the Mardi-Gras?"

PLATTEVILLE NEXT POINT FOE

KOTALMEN CLASH WITH VETERAN FOE TOMORROW EVENING

Pointers Seek Twelfth Straight Victory. Invaders Are No Setup

Central State Teachers' college basketball team will resume activities on the hard court Friday evening, clashing with Coach L. J. Leith's Platteville team in the new gym. Platteville's conference record shows a pair of victories, both over the tail-end Whitewater five, and three defeats, inflicted by Oshkosh, Stevens Point, and Milwaukee in the order named. The Pointers whipped the Miners 40-27 almost a month ago on the latter's court. However, the Kotalmen were hot that night and Platteville's ace scorer, Bill Gardner, was unable to play due to an infection.

INTRAMURAL TEAM BEING ORGANIZED FOR LEAGUE PLAY

Plans are being completed for the organizing of a school basketball league for those not taking part in varsity basketball. Any team desiring to enter the school league should contact Coach Kotal as soon as possible. No qualifications are necessary and the students are urged to play. Teams in the league at the present are the Bluejays, Olsons Diners, the Hawkeys, the Chi Deltas, and Phi Sigs, the Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, and the Seniors. A schedule will soon be drawn up and will appear in next week's Pointer.

SPORT SHOTS

Point vs. Platteville

The Pointers will be out after their twelfth cage win in a row tomorrow evening but Platteville won't make it an easy task by any means. The Miners have a team made up entirely of veterans, led by the high scoring Gardner and Rhemstedt. Two weeks ago Milwaukee barely licked Platteville by four points. Therefore don't be too surprised if Butch Leith's team makes a battle of it every inch of the way. Last year the Pointers met a greatly under-rated Platteville team here under almost the same conditions. The Pointers had the title cinched while the Miners were well down in the standings. Yet Stevens Point was extremely fortunate to escape with an overtime victory.

How Come?

The omission of the name of Stevens Point from the Olympic basketball trials for the Sixth district has caused considerable comment around the State. Frank McCormick, chairman of the district cage committee announced that teams representing Wisconsin would be Carroll, Milwaukee Teachers, University of Wisconsin, Marquette, and Lawrence. We are curious as to just why he chose those teams, and not the Pointers. Milwaukee has lost four games, Lawrence has been trounced four times in the Mid-West Conference, and Carroll hasn't fared much better. Of course Wisconsin and Marquette should be invited, although their respective records could stand a lot of improvement. The Pointers have won 11 consecutive games, are undefeated in conference play, have defeated Milwaukee, have trounced River Falls, Northern Division leader, twice, and seem well on the way to their third conference title in four years. Yet our dear friend, Mr. McCormick, has the nerve to invite teams like Carroll, Lawrence, and Milwaukee in preference to Stevens Point. Upon what have these selections been based? Surely not long victory strings and undefeated records.

WHITEWATER GAME POSTPONED - CAUSES SCHEDULE CHANGES

Whitewater Will Play Here In March To End Conference Play

The Whitewater Teachers basketball team was forced to cancel its scheduled games at Stevens Point last week end because of the weather. Roads in the southern part of the state were almost impassable due to a series of blizzards and high winds.

The cancelled games will probably be played during the first week in March, thereby causing the season to last a week longer than originally planned. Also, it means that the Pointers will close the conference season at home, instead of down in Milwaukee. The postponement left Stevens Point without any game last week.

Weather Played Havoc

Platteville was also forced to cancel its two games scheduled in Milwaukee last week. The Platteville team was supposed to meet Milwaukee Teachers and Concordia College. The Concordia team played the Milwaukee Teachers last Friday, instead of in March as was originally planned, and Milwaukee won quite handily, 40-22. The Green Gull-Platteville game will probably be played March 6.

C.S.T.C. Students Are Generous Contributors

Pay Fines Promptly

2. If you get on the fine list pay fines promptly. This gives librarians more time to help students in the library and speeds up service at the charging desk.

3. Bring to the library all books, either reference or text, that are found. This saves some student money and makes the books available for all.

4. So far as possible, draw two week books from the library before or after the rush hour when reserve books are going out.

5. Call for text books at the scheduled time.

6. Write your name in your text books on front cover in space provided.

MILWAUKEE MEETS OSHKOSH FRIDAY IN CRITICAL GAME

Milwaukee Teachers College quintet journeys to Oshkosh tomorrow to meet the Kolffmen in the outstanding game in the state this week. The outcome of this game has a crucial bearing on the standings. Should Oshkosh trim the Green Gulls and the Pointers tip Platteville tomorrow, Stevens Point could lose its last two games and still tie for title. Milwaukee defeated Oshkosh a month ago at Baker fieldhouse in Milwaukee by a score of 30-23. However, the Penwellmen were forced to come from behind to win, so maybe Oshkosh, playing on its own court, can turn the trick and make things easier for Stevens Point.

Falcons Finally Lose

In the Northern Division, Friday, the league-leading River Falls cagers entertain La Crosse, while Eau Claire plays host to the lowly Stout five.

Last Friday Superior handed River Falls its first conference setback, 37-35, but could not hold down Walter Herkal, high scoring forward, who scored sixteen times to give him a total of 102 points in six league games.

PUG POINTERS

Inman Whipple, C. S. T. C. semi-finalist entry in the Golden Gloves Tourney recently concluded at Wisconsin Rapids, was defeated on points by Hugh O'Donnell, a CCC pug. O'Donnell had won two previous bouts, one a thirty second knock-out. Whipple fought a very clever fight, being pitted against a resourceful antagonist, who later in the evening won the middleweight championship. According to Jimmie McGuire, local trainer and Eddie Kotal, the judge's decision was an eye-lash affair which might have been rendered either way. Anyway, "Whip" is flashing a nifty medal.

Boxing coach, Warren Jenkins, and athletic director, Kotal, are busy making plans for an inter-school boxing tournament to be held in about three weeks, or as soon as the current basketball season is ended.

The meet is open to all men students in school of all weights. From the contestants a squad and team will be chosen to represent C. S. T. C. in intercollegiate matches against Platteville, Superior, St. Norbert's and Milwaukee.

Experience is not necessary to compete in the tourney. It is hoped by Coach Jenkins that there will be a large turnout and much interest shown.

Shorey To Teach In Illinois

Arba J. Shorey, a prominent senior in C. S. T. C., has just accepted a teaching position in the Elmhurst, Ill. High School, to become effective on March 5th. His endeavors will be in the social science field, which is Mr. Shorey's major. The Elmhurst High School is under the superintendency of Mr. V. L. Beggs, and it is affiliated with the Chicago School system.

Mr. Shorey will be leaving for his newly achieved position on March fifth, the next day after he returns from the Intra-State Debate Tournament at St. Thomas College in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Most Prominent Student

Arba Shorey has been one of the most outstanding students of C. S. T. C. since his enrollment four years ago as a freshman. His first honor was winning the Hixzy Award which is given to the freshman with the highest scholastic average.

The history of Arba Shorey's record here in C. S. T. C. shows the calibre of student he is. We find he has the editorship of the Iris this year, president of Phi Sigma Epsilon Fraternity, president of the Forum, president of Bloc, Editor of the Student Directory, a member of Sigma Tau Delta Honorary English Fraternity, and he has been active in Ex-temporaneous speaking and debate. Mr. Shorey is an excellent student, and one of whom C. S. T. C. can be justly proud.

MEN'S CHORUS DANCE

The Mens' Chorus will sponsor the school dance after the Plattville game tomorrow night. One of the popular bands on the campus will play. Admission prices will be as posted.

Mr. Knutzen has been holding at least three regular practices a week with the chorus. The plans for the trip are practically complete, and it looks now as though the group will have a double trip comprising an actual week. The details will follow on a later issue.

Do Your Voting Now!

Tickets for both the Mardi Gras dance and the main show have been on sale the past week and the popularity voting has begun. At the present time Dorothy Richards and Joe Pfiffner are leading the contest. Other king and queen contenders are Ruth Schwahn, Betty Schwahn, Barbara Fulton, Web. Berard, Red Reynolds and Oscar Copes.

On The Air

Last Monday's "College Radio Hour" seemed to have a new "twang". It seemed to have taken on a new atmosphere, (I'll find the right word yet), nevertheless, the program has been completely reorganized. This is certainly true, and to the hour's advantage.

"Swingle" did an excellent job in "wringing" those new tunes from the orchestra but where did that viola come from? (Let's hear more of it.)

Ray Weingartner made his debut as vocalist with the band and really possesses a lovely voice, (a member of the "Three Kings" by the way).

"Around the College Campus" brought the Phi Sigma Epsilon Fraternity to the microphone lime-light with the "March of Phi Sigma Epsilon" depicting the interesting career of the organization. It was really an interesting piece of work.

Next Monday's "Around the College Campus" will bring the science departments (chemistry) to the microphone and also each week starting next Monday Prof. Wilbur Glover will discuss some timely topic of interest. Next weeks topic for discussion is the present Ethiopian Situation, with comments both pro and con.

The "Three Kings" are gradually making a name for themselves, and of course the "Clean Winged Hearth" broadcast every Thursday is turning out some splendid pieces of work.

Schedule:

Monday—3:30-4:00—
"College Radio Hour"
Tuesday—11:15-11:30—
"Three Kings"
Thursday—3:00-3:30—

SHOTS AT RANDOM

GLEANINGS:—
SUNDRY and DEVIOUS

After listening to Major Bowes AMATEURS I'm convinced there are people on the ether who should be under it.

Sign in a Texas restaurant—"If the steak is too tough for you, get out. This is no place for weaklings."

Bargains are hard to drive. Especially when they are $10 drivers.

A little Boston girl, hearing her mother say that a dog belonging to one of the neighbors was missing, remarked: "I guess, mother, the dog nappers got it."

Seems like the best ten years of a woman's life are between 28 and 30.

Son in college was applying pressure for more money from home. "I cannot understand why you call yourself a kind father," he wrote, "when you haven't sent me a check in three weeks. What kind of kindness do you call that?"

The father replied: "Dear Son—That's unremitting kindness."

DEBATERS SHOREY HYER UP BEFORE LAW COURT

Face Judge and Jury

Last Thursday the men's team of Arba Shorey and George Hyer left Stevens Point for Wisconsin Rapids where they boarded the "Hiawatha" for Chicago, Ill. to participate in debates with several Universities of that city.

They were scheduled to participate in a non-decision debate with the University of Chicago, but due to a conflict in the arrangements this debate did not go through as arranged. Later this same day, however, the team was entertained by this institution.

At Mundelein College Friday

The first debate of the day was had with the graduate division of De Paul University. The interesting part about this non-decision was the fact that the debate was held in a model court room which is a part of the law school there. Hyer and Shorey had to plead their cases before a judge and jury. According to Arba, "It was the most interesting debate in which I have ever participated."

Friday evening they were invited to uphold the affirmative side of the Supreme Court question in a formal debate at Mundelein College, a Catholic women's institution in Evanston.

Band Trip Plans Nearly Set

The balance of the tour is as follows: Tuesday afternoon Weyauwega; Tuesday evening, New London; Wednesday evening, Green Bay; and Thursday evening, Shawano. Wednesday and Thursday afternoon are open as yet, but they will both be filled, for several opportunities are available for them. It is possible that Friday morning will be occupied with a concert at Clintonville. If this does not materialize, the band will return Friday morning.

Some of the famous numbers which will be played in the concerts are "Slavonic Rhapsody," "March and Procession of Bacchus," "Safari," "Sven Dufva," "Kunihild" and the "Bridal Song." In addition, Mr. Michelsen has promised to play several requests for each school.

Four freshmen have prepared solos for use on the tour. Kenneth Storandt will play several clarinet solos. "Stork" placed first in the national tournament which was held last year in Madison, as did also Arnold Jindrick and Frederick Parfrey. Fred will play the flute and piccolo solos, and Arnold will entertain with his cornet solos. Bill Fisher, who placed first in the state tournaments last year, but who did not attend the national meet, will several newcomers. The lettermen are Captain Disrude, Bill Gardner, Rhemstedt, and Koch. In addition Falk of the 1933-34 team and Hopkins of three years ago are in school once more and are seeing considerable action. Coach Leidl has a high scoring five this year as one can readily note by a glance at the conference scoring records. Platteville has three men among the eight leading scorers in the Southern Division and its ace forward, Bill Gardner, has averaged 11 points a game.

Reserve Power Strengthened

The Pointers are out after No. 12 in their victory cahin, and also are seeking their sixth consecutive conference triumph. Due to the weatherman, last week's game with Whitewater was called off, so Stevens Point has played but one game in the past three weeks.

play several baritone solos. A bass quartet has also been arranged. In addition, there will be several entertaining variety numbers.

The school bus will be used to transport part of the band members during the trip. The rest will be taken care of by private cars. Mr. Michelsen asks that anyone who has the use of a car to offer should get in touch with his immediately.

However, Coach Eddie Kotal has kept the boys hard at work so as to avoid any possible staleness. The squad in is fine shape and is anxious to resume its pursuit of another championship.

Kotal's reserve strength received quite a boost during the past week when Irv Larsen and Frank Gordon reported for practice. Larsen possesses a good eye and is effective on rebounds, so he may prove a valuable addition going down the home stretch. He was ineligible the first semester because of late enrollment, but has kept in good condition by playing in one of the city's numerous amateur leagues. Gordon has just recovered from a badly sprained ankle received in practice several weeks ago.
