

Assembly Features

Lecture, Orchestra

Edwin M. Dill, lecturer, will appear today in the morning assembly. The college orchestra, directed by Prof. Peter J. Michelsen, will play a short concert before the appearance of Mr. Dill.

College Theater Play Appears Next Week

The College Theater will show one of the most outstanding plays written in the last 50 years, "The Importance of Being Earnest", by Oscar Wilde on Mar. 17 and 18. It has been proclaimed as the most famous of the modern artificial comedies, revolving gaily and wittily around the most ingenious case of "manufactured" mistaken identity ever put into a play. The chief plot element is that of the invention of a mythical character made by a young man who wishes to put off on someone else his own shortcomings.

The humor is typical of Oscar Wilde, who, in all of his plays, carries his audience with the actors to a satisfied state when all the "difficulties" of the plot are ironed out.

The cast is as follows:

Myron Ropella .... Algernon Moncrieff
John Yurkovich ..... Lane
Ted Meyer ..... John Worthing
Phyllis Gikling .... Gwendolen Fairfax
Janette Van Natta .... Cecily Cardew
Eleanor Ruehti ..... Miss Prism
Stanley Zielanis ... Rev. Canon Chasuble
John Verrill ..... Merriman

Final tryouts for Submerged will be held today at 3 P. M. in Mr. Jenkins room.

New Field Worker In C.S.T.C. Library

Ralph Hagedorn, graduate of Northwestern College at Watertown, is doing field work in Central State Teachers College library for the month of March. He spent the month of February in the library of the Theological Seminary at Thiensville, Wisconsin. Hagedorn will return to the Wisconsin Library school in April and will be graduated in June. Miss Edith Neff, who worked in this library during the month of February has gone on to the La Crosse Public Library for the month of April. All Wisconsin Library school students do two months of field work in various libraries.

Mens Glee Club Returns From Trip

The Mens Chorus of this college returned last Friday evening from a four day concert tour of seven northern cities. Ten programs were presented during the tour. The cities at which the club sang were Antigo, Tomahawk, Crandon, Rhineland, Eagle River, Iron River, Stambough, and Phelps.

Home Concert 31st

President Hyer has received several very complimentary letters from the above cities praising Director N. E. Knutzen and the club. A copy of the Antigo paper containing a very favorable story of the programs presented there was received by Mr. Knutzen. This information, in addition to the enthusiastic stories of chorus members, indicates that the tour was highly successful. The club has been requested to return next year to Antigo, Rhineland, and Tomahawk.

Full practice time is being given to the development of the program for the Home Concert to be held on Wednesday, March 31. Mr. Knutzen plans on taking the entire personnel of the club to Oshkosh, on May 3 to participate in the Wisconsin Association of Glee Clubs Concert.

College Has Efficient Photography Club

Although in existence but slightly over two years, the Photo Club has definitely placed itself as one of the most active groups on the campus this season.

The purpose of the group since it was started in 1934 by Clifford Malchow, present Iris Editor, has been to encourage the art of photography among the students in school. Outside speakers or actual photographic work are presented at weekly meetings so that members can consistently improve in their work and keep up on new methods.

In the actual routine work the members are constantly developing, printing and enlarging their pictures in the fully equipped dark room which is located just off the chemistry laboratories in the basement.

The officers at the present time of this very progressive and worth while club are:

Pres: Bill Miller
Vice Pres: Earl Shearier
Sec: Ethel Stoltenburg
Treas: Ralph Anderson

Phi Sigs Announce Movie Benefit Week

Phi Sigma Epsilon Fraternity is sponsoring a movie benefit week beginning Sunday, March 14. The pictures scheduled for the week are "Lloyds of London" and "Holy Terror," Sunday and Monday, "She's Dangerous" and "Espionage," Tuesday, "Garden of Allah" and "Nancy Steele Missing," Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, and "Ambassador Bill" and "Stolen Holiday", Saturday. All those who are planning to attend these features are urged to purchase tickets from members of Phi Sigma Epsilon.

Collegeers Quartet To Present Concert

The college quartet will present a concert at the Montello Methodist Church on Friday evening, March 19. A varied program of secular, humorous, and sacred music will be given.

This group, consisting of Thoburn Peterson, Kirkwood Likes, Gordon Cowles, and William Clements has been quite active during the school year. Baraboo, White lake, and Green lake are several of the towns at which concerts have been sung.

Mr. Leland M. Burroughs of the college faculty will make the trip with the quartet. He will present two groups of his well-known original readings.

Advertising Essay Contest Sponsored

An all expense trip to New York City, plus a total of $1,000 in cash prizes, is being offered to students in a prize competition for essays on "How Advertising Benefits the Consumer", by Advertising Age, the National Newspaper of Advertising. The contest is being sponsored to induce college men and women to give more intelligent and careful thought to the functions and value of advertising in the social and economic life of the nation. Special emphasis is to be placed upon personal experience as to the merits of advertising in judging the submitted essays. They are limited to 1,000 words and must be mailed to Contest Secretary, Advertising Age, 100 E. Ohio Street, Chicago, before midnight, May 1, 1937.

Senator Presents Bill For New Gymnasium

The faculty and students of Central State were highly surprised and pleased last Monday to hear that Senator Herman J. Severson had just introduced a bill, No. 143-S, asking for a "Nonlapsable appropriation of $150,000 for a new gymnasium at Stevens Point Teachers College." This is something in which the whole school ought to be greatly interested, for its passage would certainly mean much to Central State.

Bands Answer Invitation To 4th Music Festival

George Cartmill, who is in charge of the fourth annual music festival to be held at the college on Friday April 23rd, reports that several bands have already registered their desire to participate. Letters have been sent out to many high schools and it is expected that the affair will be highly successful. More than 30 orchestras and bands have taken part yearly in previous festivals.

In judging the presentations there will be no division or placement of the organizations. Each band will play three numbers of its own choice. Their rendition will be criticized by a competent judge and the sealed criticisms will be given the directors.

It is expected that this year's festival will be the biggest ever. Recognition of the other festivals has spread throughout the state and gained much favor.

Prof. Peter J. Michelsen has just accepted invitations to assist in judging the Illinois State Tournament and the Iowa State Tournament, both of which will be held in May. A recognized authority in all phases of band work, Mr. Michelsen has often participated as judge. This will be the eleventh year he has judged for the state of Illinois.

Debate Squad Finishes Season

The C. S. T. C. squad returned from St. Paul, Minn. last Thursday after having taken part in the Annual Midwest Debate tournament which was held there March 1, 2, and 3.

All of the Stevens Point teams were eliminated at the end of the

Burying The Booster Game

The total net proceeds of last week's game were $11, about enough for one sweater. Perhaps it would be better to buy eleven dollars worth of peanuts and treat the team. They would at least all share in the reward then.

There was just a handful of townspeople at the Booster game Saturday. Even those who can be regularly depended upon to turn out to see Central State's teams in action were not there. Was there no interest because the Pointers had already cinched the championship? Or were they averse to helping the athletic fund?

It can hardly be the second, so it must be assumed that it was the first.

This is a hard thing to say, but it would be better if we were to have some mediocre teams for a few years. The students could then come to a game prepared to encourage their men by a cheer. They all feel a defeat or a win as seriously as the team does. The townspeople, too would feel that their support meant something. It is principally because of their lack of support that Saturday's benefit performance was such a failure.

Saluting The Singers

The Mens Glee Club turned in a wonderful piece of work last week in its annual tour. The organization was warmly received in all the cities where it stopped, and several return engagements have already been asked for.

Professor Norman E. Knutzen organized the club in the fall of 1933. By the end of the year, the membership had reached 26. The tour consisted of a one-day two-concert trip.

The next year the enrollment reached 40 and there was a three day trip.

In '35-'36 there was an eight day tour made by 30 men. The enrollment of the club was 60. Toward the end of last year, the club became one of the charter members of the Wisconsin Chapter of the Associated Glee Clubs of America.

This year the club has about 60 members again, and already two long trips have been completed. Mr. Knutzen, by his untiring efforts, has built up an admirable reputation for the college in this field. As in athletics and in band, Central State is rising to the top in the production of glee clubs.

Here is one of the letters that President Hyer received lately concerning the organization's recent tour. It comes from Mr. J. F. Luther, principal of the Antigo High School.

Dear President Hyer:

In behalf of our high school and many of our town's people who heard the concerts given yesterday by your college glee club, I feel obliged to write you a letter of commendation.

I believe that you and your

Medical Service Functioning Well

The medical service offered to college students this year resulted in a splendid health record for the school. Not only has it acted as a check upon colds and lesser ailments, but it has also provided an effective check upon the spread of such contagious diseases as scarlet fever. Although several cases have occurred among students of the college, this disease has not spread among the general student body, due largely to the effective efforts of Dr. Marrs and Miss Mary Neuberger, school nurse, in controlling the cases which were discovered.

Take Advantage Of Service

During last month over 131 calls at the school office of the health service resulted in treatment by the nurse or the doctor. Personal calls were made at over 35 homes where college students needed medical attention, and in addition to the above mentioned cases, the school service has treated sicknesses occurring in the training schools, the demonstration school, and in Nelson Hall. The result of the work in all divisions of the school has shown its success in coping with the illnesses or injuries which have been reported.

Dr. Marrs urges all students to take advantage of the services offered. It was established to handle all cases concerning college students but unless cases of sickness or injury are reported the office can take no action. When the service was inaugurated this fall, President Hyer advised all people to make as much use of it as possible. The service has handled, on the average, from 12 to 15 cases a day and the record maintained has been a splendid one, but both the members of the health service and the school administration have asked that the students call their attention to any sickness or injury as soon as it appears. Dr. Marrs emphasizes the importance of the students' actions in making the service successful in handling the medical problems of the school. The hearty cooperation of the student body is requested.

school are to be congratulated on having such a fine delegation representing your school. These two concerts were exceptionally well accepted here in Antigo. Mr. Knutzen has done an unusually fine piece of work with these boys and so I believe is very deserving of much credit for the high type of work that these boys are doing.

Our faculty and students were so well pleased that I am sure a return engagement next year will be very much desired.

I am writing you this with the belief that an occasional comment of this kind is desired by one in your position and is certainly merited by Mr. Knutzen and his boys.

Yours truly, J. F. Luther, Principal Junior-Senior High School

sixth round. The squad won nine debates in all during those first six rounds. All teams which lost more than one debate during these first six rounds were eliminated and that accounted for the high fatality and the fact that there were only 12 out of 72 men's teams entered that survived these rounds.

There were 108 teams in all entered in the tournament and of these 72 were men's teams and 36 were girls' teams. The men's section of the tournament was held at St. Thomas college and the girls' debated at St. Catherine's college.

Those who made the trip were Phyllis Gikling and Shirley Webster, Doris George and Kathryn Becker, Bob Hoffman and Ben Laschkewitsh, and George Hyer and Jim Murat. The squad was accompanied by Coach L. M. Burroughs and Miss Susan B. Coleman of the faculty.

The final debate, which will be presented by Phyllis Gikling and Shirley Webster and was to have been heard by the Rotary club last Monday, was postponed, but will be given some time within the near future.

ON THE AIR

The scheduled radio meeting was held on Friday afternoon. A general discussion of the problems of the radio staff was carried on and an organized meeting was planned for Tuesday, March 9.

There are still many vacancies on the radio staff, particularly in the positions of script and continuity writers. Any students who would like to write script for radio programs are urged to try for these positions.

Students are also urged to participate in the roving reporter questionnaire programs on Tuesdays. It's your big chance to be on the radio—so ask for your opportunity!

Anyone who has questions which could be asked on these programs may put them in the Pointer Office mail box.

If you are interested in the Radio staff, watch the main bulletin board for notices of meetings.

Bloc Meets Tonight

The Bloc club will meet at the home of Clifford Malehow at 426 Center Street tonight and the discussion, which will be led by guest speaker C. C. Evans of the faculty, will center around the topic of eugenics. At the last meeting of Bloc, which was held at the home of James L. Murat at 713 S. Division Street. Professor Warren Jenkins led an interesting discussion on the proposed Supreme Court change.

Final Trout Today

Final tryouts of "Submerged" will be held today at 3 o'clock. Two parts as yet have to be filled. All boys are urged to try out for these parts; several technical positions also remain open.

Young Progressives Meet Tonite

A meeting of the Young Progressives will be held at the home of Edward Lightbody tonight at 8:00. All members are urged to attend as there will be a very important discussion about future policies. Entertainment will be provided for members and their friends after the business meeting.

Faithful Team Supporters

The Misses Gladys Malinovsky, Mary-an Lutsey, and Ruth Nason journeyed to Oshkosh last Friday afternoon to see the Oshkosh-Point basketball game. They stayed overnight with friends and returned home late Saturday afternoon. Although the game was a disappointment, the girls reported a lovely time.

Members Admitted To Pep Club

Ruth Smith, Grace Morgan, Geradine Pagenkoff, and Zorka Maleseviech were elected to membership in the newly organized Pep Club at a meeting held last Thursday morning in the Girls' Recreation Room. The full quota of thirty members is now reached, but girls interested in joining are asked to sign the waiting list from which new members will be selected whenever a vacancy arises.

Plans for the remainder of the year were discussed as well as arrangements for the game with Stout Saturday night.

Sigma Tau Delta Meets

Sigma Tau Delta, English fraternity, met Wednesday evening, at the home of Miss Mary Hanna, 1008 Main Street.

The committee in charge was Mr. Smith, Marie Patterson, and Eva Rae Guerin.

The general topic discussed was Modern Drama, and the following program was presented: Talk on Drama, Miss Mildred Davis; "Of Thee I Sing" and "Pinafore", Jean Redemann; and presentation of "Of Thee I Sing."

Nelson Hall Notes

By NELLIE of NELSON HALL

Miss Margery Hovie spent the weekend at Nelson Hall. Miss Hovie was the guest of Miss Marie Gigstad.

Several of the dormites have attended rushing parties the past week. By the way, what happens when room-mates pledge rival sororities? How about it Evelyn and Katherine?

Miss Edna Earle startled customers of the College Eat Shop when she inquired "What does a man do in a day?" But, it wasn't as exciting as one might think, being merely a diet problem for a Home Ec. class.

Miss Richardson drove to Madison Saturday, returning Sunday evening.

George N. Hyer and Nelson Hall may claim to be namesakes of the same god-father.

A new caller at the dormitory is Leonard Olson. All in all, though, Sam and Ben still have the championship. They spend more time at the Hall than any other collegian; Ted Menzel, not excepted.

Show Let-Down In Oshkosh Trip

Booster Game An Easy Victory For The Pointers

With their third straight southern division championship already cinched, Coach Eddie Kotal's Central State Teachers College cagers showed a reversal of form Friday night and bowed to Bob Kolf's Oshkosh Teachers 31-21 in their final conference game of the season at Oshkosh.

Pointers Trail At Half

The Oshkosh five enjoyed an "on" night while the Pointers were held to a measly six field goals and furthermore were off on their gift shots, missing 16 out of 25. Lautenschlager, center, scored 13 points and Winkler, guard, made five baskets and a free throw for 11 points.

At the half the score stood at 10-9 with the Pointers on the short end. Nimz, Rinka, Warner, and Johnston scored all of the Pointers markers in first half while Anderson made a field goal during the second period to enter this select group.

Johnston High

In the booster game, Saturday night, the Pointers easily romped over the Stout cagers by the score of 62 to 35. The outcome of the game was entirely in the hands of the Kotalmen and at no time was the game even close.

Johnston had another field day scoring six field goals and five free throws for a total of seventeen points. Nimz followed with sixteen points while high point man for Stout was Ruud with five field goals and two free throws for twelve points.

Chi Delts Trip Hawkeyes, 31-30

The Chi Delt entry in the intramural league won the championship game, Monday afternoon, 31 to 30 victory over the Hawkeyes. The game was exceedingly rough and the officials found it hard to keep the contest under control. With less than nine seconds left to play, Menzel was awarded two gift shots. He made both of these and then when the ball was passed in after the second free throw, Menzel intercepted it and dropped in a basket to place the Chi Delts on top. A protest was made over some technicality of the above mentioned basket and the final four and a half seconds of the game were not played. However, the tilt will be counted as the championship affair although according to the timer, the entire game was not played. The box score of the game:

Why Engine Should Be Called "She"

The following amusing letter from a "Japanese Lady" appears in the Shipping Register of San Francisco:

"Sometime ago you publish in your voluble paper article on female shipping steamer. I have thought to write you about female engine on train. You know why? Yes, they call she for many because.

"They wear jacket with yokes, pins, hangers, straps, shields, and stays. They have apron, also lap. They have not only shoes, but have pumps. Also hose and 'drag train (passenger and freight) behind; behind all time. They attract men with puffs and mufflers and when draft too strong petticoat goes up. This also attract. Sometime they foam and refuse to work, when they should be switched. They need guiding — it always require manager. They require a man to feed them. When abuse are given, they quickly make a scrap. They are steadier when coupled up, but my cousin say they terrible expense. Is not enough reason?"

Michelsen Attends Bandmasters' Meet

Prof. Peter J. Michelsen, head of the music department here, returned last Sunday night from a three day convention of the American Bandmasters Association held at the Hotel Schroeder in Milwaukee. This was the first time it was held in Wisconsin and was considered the most successful in the past eight years.

Membership in this association is considered the highest achievement in band work. To obtain membership one must pass a strict examination and perform an outstanding feat in the field of music. Only 82 members from the United States and Canada belong, and only one new member was taken in at the convention, Bandmaster Prescott of the University of Minnesota. Two honorary members from England and three actives from Canada were present. Eminent leaders in music, including E. F. Goldman, Percy Grainger and Frank Simon attended and directed several band numbers. Mr. Michelsen, who was admitted to the association in 1932, also had the honor of directing the convention symphony band in one number. Throughout the convention the band men were entertained with banquets and dinners.

The association sets the standard for band work in the U. S. and Canada. Compositions for band work usually are not published until they pass the association. Meetings are held annually in a different state each time. A fact of special interest brought out at the convention was that Wisconsin is one of the four outstanding states in school band music, the others being Illinois, Iowa, and Michigan. Of the 36,000 high school bands in the country, 350 are in Wisconsin.

An old Dutchman, returning to Holland was asked by a friend what in his estimation was the strangest thing he had noticed, and he replied:

"The United States has many wonderful things, but the strangest is a drink called the cocktail — and here is how they make it: They put in whisky to make it strong, then water to make it weak; gin to make it hot and ice to make it cold; lemon to make it sour, sugar to make it sweet; then they say, 'Here's to you,' and drink it themselves."

I married a widow who had a grown daughter. My father visited our house very often and fell in love with my step-daughter and married her. So my father became my son-in-law, and my step-daughter my mother, because she was my father's wife. Sometime afterwards my wife had a son. He is my father's brother-in-law and my uncle, for he is the brother of my step-mother. My father's wife, namely my stepmother, had a son. He is, of course, my brother, and in the meantime my grandchild, for he is the son of my daughter. My wife is my grandmother because she is my mother's mother. I am my wife's husband and grandchild at the same time, and as the husband of a person's grandmother is his grandfather I am my own grandfather!

Chi Delts Take Second Straight

In the second game of the intra-fraternity basketball series, the Phi Sigs, Saturday afternoon, lost their second straight to the Chi Delts by the large score of 56 to 18. The game was marked by the stellar work of "Joe Indian" Theisen and "Daddy Long Legs" Hyer, guard and center respectively on the winning five. The final game of the series will be played today at 4 P. M. The box score of the game:

Ask for these new books before some one else gets them. They have just been put into circulation.

A History of the United States Navy, by Dudley W. Knox.

If you are interested in joining the navy, read the history of the Navy from its birth in the stirring days of the Revolutionary War to the London Naval Treaty of 1936. Captain Knox tells of the many services rendered by the Navy during the Revolutionary War, the War of 1812, the Civil War, the Spanish-American War, and the World War. This is a chance to learn about the Navy before entering it.

The American Army in France, by Major General James G. Harbord.

Here is a book describing America's part in the World War. No man is better fitted than Major General Harbord to write the whole story of the American Expeditionary force. In the words of General Pershing, "He is a keen observer. He has decided talent for writing, and what he says in his new book will, without a doubt, be a valuable contribution to the history of Americans in Arms and, as such, should be extremely interesting to the American public". American history students should read this.

Drums along the Mohawk, Walter D. Edmonds.

This splendid historical novel of the forgotten pioneers of the Mohawk Valley during the Revolutionary War does not take the personalities of the characters for granted. This book is known for its living characters—the horse-faced Mrs. McKlennar, Lana, the eighteen-year old bride, and Gilbert Martin, the husband, and many others. Here is a book that gives us a foundation for a true philosophy of national life.

Anne of England, M. R. Hopkinson

If you think of Anne as a stoutheaded lady, wearing many jewels, read this book and learn about this remarkable person. Mrs. Hopkinson attempts to describe Anne Stuart as she really was, with all her mistakes and failings, but with extraordinary personal courage, from contemporary journals and letters so that students will gain a truer picture of Anne.

Great Short Stories of the World, Clark & Lieber.

For you students who haven't time to finish a novel, read some of these short stories. This volume is one of the Bonibooks. The book contains 177 short stories, by as many authors, covering 5,000 years and 35 different literatures. There is a biographical and critical note on each author. It is also invaluable to any students who are interested in the development of the short story.

From The Students

Stevens Point, Wis. March 8, 1937

Dear Editor,

The letter appearing in the last edition of the Pointer under the column Student Opinion and signed by a number of college students deserves a little attention. Its charges and assumptions have merited the following discussion which I sincerely wish you to print.

To the "Signers" of the above-mentioned letter:

I should like, first of all, to impart some information that you seem to be lacking in respect to several questions with which you have taken issue. I refer to the question of "proper authorities", and to your proposal of a "lock on the said case". The former is a "dead issue" settled long before your intellect conceived its existence. The latter had been "patented" before you decided to "invent" it. There is no issue here.

Then you proceed to elaborate upon your security from "legal action". This deserves but one comment and that is: Al Capone, too, thought he was secure.

Your discussion of the Young Progressive Club which follows the above "elaboration", is evidence of your ability to overlook matters of importance. I advise you to re-read the list of signers and officers. You seem, me thinks, to be holding a sieve instead of a basin without holes.

The last paragraph of your letter contains the statement that "—it appears as though some have taken it upon themselves to be guardians of this institution and intend to continue as such". Who are the some? Can they be those who signed the letter? If so, what qualifications and right have they to assume this position? If not, to whom do the "signers" refer and what qualifications do they harbor? These questions deserve answers. These "guardians" seem to be little known publicly by that name. This paper should be their means of communication in stating the answers to the above questions. Will they answer? Their honor demands it! It is expected!

Sincerely, BENJAMIN KORDUS

ANOTHER COMMENT

To the Pointer

Please publish this letter in the next issue of the Pointer as a bit of student opinion. I wish to take this opportunity to thank you for your kind consideration of my last article, and for this space.

Defense of Political Activity for Students

Wake up young America! Listen and read what we are telling you. The younger generation of Americans must take more interest in their government and current affairs if they are to continue to rule themselves in the future. You cannot expect to take care of yourselves if you take no interest in your affairs. That is why we are trying to bring to your attention the things we post. These things are of vital interest to all Americans, strikes, politics, reforms, of many kinds, and general news of interest to all.

We wish to see the younger people interested in some form of activities which will serve to enlighten them on subjects of general vital importance. For instance the issue before us now, the supreme court question. Too long has young America shown a lack of interest in such affairs. Even though we cannot all vote or exercise our citizenship rights because of age, we can learn to take an interest so that when the time comes we will be prepared to take an active part in our government. We cannot all be politicians nor do we all sophy of life. He tries to picture each author from Rousseau to Thomas Hardy as free from bias as possible. He sets his opinions down with clarity and force—so that the whole is unified by this idea of discovering man's place in a swiftly changing world.

wish to be, but that should not stop our interests.

Our group has caused much comment of late by its articles, and this is what we want. Some have opposed us and some have praised us, while some have taken no interest. This is the group that should interest themselves in present day affairs which affect the daily lives of all of us. There are many who will not agree with us, but just the same this is America, and we still possess the right to express our opinions in any way which is not objectionable to decency and good Americanism.

A new bulletin board is to be erected soon, and this will be expressly for our use to do with as we please, as long as we do not conflict with the administration. On this board from time to time there will be articles of interest posted for all to read, and if anyone does not agree with the contents of the material posted, I personally ask that they come to me about it. We have slept too long! We will not sleep again, nor shall we permit the student body to assume the "what's the use" or "why are you so interested in this or that", because we are going to try to get every American interested in his or her government. Later I will have more to say about the aims of our group, and in the meantime I invite discussion from all sides.

EDWARD LIGHTBODY

The following letter was received Tuesday from an interested Pointer reader. He comments on the discussion that is being carried on in the Pointer's columns, and has a good criticism to make. Both parties could profit by it.—(Editors Note.)

Dear Sir:

I noticed that some of your students express their opinions in your columns, and these are very instructive and informative. I get it from the opinion expressed in one of the letters the other day that there is an active political group in the school, and from a later article that there is a group which opposes them.

My reason for writing is to comment on these letters, and to express my opinion about each. For this I hope you will not take me to task too much, for once I held the same kind of a position that you now hold, and I think that I can fully appreciate your position. Also if you wish I would like you to publish this letter as the students up there might appreciate the fact that they are drawing the attention of outsiders to their school. That is as it should be, and I hope that they continue on their course.

The first letter seemed to indicate that some material had been moved from the bulletin board, and the author wrote as though he did not approve of the act. I believe that he is right in protesting against such actions on the part of students, and that he is right in using the smiles which he used to describe the objectors. The letter has been signed by several more students, and this too augurs well for the institution as it shows that students do take an interest in public affairs.

Again I was pleased to see that there was someone who did not approve of all that was said, but I was indeed surprised to find out that the person who wrote it indulged in personalities, and that he did not have the common decency to make a direct contribution to the argument, but rather indulged in generalities.

I will be watching your paper from time to time as I am interested in all student affairs. In the future I hope to see more opinions from the students, but I hope that they will be constructive. May I hear from you, and if you would, I would like you to send me a copy of my letter when you print it. I thank you, and hope to hear from you soon.

(Signed) William H. Winthrop

Bits and Bites . . .

While on the recent band tour, this writer had occasion to talk with quite a few people in the towns that were visited. He was surprised at the opinion that many of them have concerning Central State Teachers College. It seems that many of them still consider it the same as a normal school.

It is hard to know just where to begin to change this impression. First of all, perhaps the name of the school itself can be mentioned. This is a college. The name was changed some years ago. The real difference that exists between the college and the normal school is that the college grants a degree.

Central State, like the other teachers colleges, no longer has any one year courses. They are all two, three, or four year courses. Four year graduates are granted degrees. The high school course is of four years duration, and each of the other courses, while they vary in length, may also be taken for four years, each then ending with the granting of a degree.

The high school department has always had the largest individual enrollment. In 1930-31 the percentage of students in this department was 31%. The percentages for the succeeding years were 37%, 43%, 49%, 57%, and last year, 1935-36, the number reached 63%. Exact figures for this year cannot be determined until the end, but the amount is already well over 60%.

Preparatory Curriculum

In this phenomenal rise can be seen the real reason why Central State is performing such an important mission to the students who attend the college.

A study of the curriculum offered for this high school department will reveal that nearly all of the courses, excepting those in education, are the same as those which are generally taken as pre-medical or pre-legal work. The first and second years in particular are most closely parallel to the university courses offered in preparation for their graduate schools. Consequently, many persons have taken advantage of the economy that can be affected by attending this school for several years before transferring to the university. Another advantage is that the transition from high school life to college and university life is not so abrupt when one attends a small college.

This has brought up another subject which has been mentioned frequently before but has never been very clearly defined. It is the matter of transferring credits. As the situation stands at present, there is a working agreement with the university by which all graduates from Central state are admitted to the graduate school on the same basis as students who graduated from the university itself. With regard to undergraduates, no definite agreement has been made. But the University has never yet failed to accept an undergraduate's credits if the course were chosen properly and carried through with a "fair" degree of success. There is no reason to believe that this practice will change. So while there is no definite arrangement with the University with regard to the transference of undergraduate credits, past experience would indicate that there is no need at all for any hesitation based on that fear.

Athletic Champions

The real growth of Central State began some years back with the coming of President Hyer. He brought in to the curriculum changes which have tended to make this school more desirable. But in addition and perhaps equally as important is the way he has brought up the standard of the extra-curricular activities. It cannot be denied that these draw many students to Central State.

Consider first the quality of our athletics. Championships have become almost proverbial with Coach Kotal. This school certainly has attraction for aspiring athletes.

Tops In Music

Consider next the high quality of our musical organizations. The band completed a highly successful tour under the direction of Peter J. Michelsen. Just last week the Mens Glee Club, led by Norman E. Knutzen, returned from a long trip. Then, too, there are the numerous other musical courses and groups, all of which are highly attractive to aspiring musicians. Central State has become known for the work of its musical efforts. Consider also our debate teams, which are handled by Leland M. Burroughs. They meet and defeat many teams from the strongest schools in the Middle West.

All of these activities, because of their high level, draw students to Central State. President Hyer deserves a maximum of credit for this advance. May he continue to make Central State grow and improve!

Greek Activities

Phi Sigma Epsilon

An informal rushing party was held at the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity house on Sunday evening March 7.

Card games and impromptu entertainment was enjoyed during the evening. Ping pong was played in the recreation room.

After the party a special business meeting of Phi Sigma Epsilon was held.

Tau Gamma Beta

A four o'clock tea was given by Tau Gamma Beta sorority Saturday afternoon at the home of Laura Jane Rose-nov, 1013 Wisconsin Street. Spring colors were predominant with yellow daffodils and tall yellow tapers. Mrs. Frank N. Spindler, the first patroness, and Mrs. Edward L. Kotal, present patroness of the sorority, poured. There were fourteen guests at the tea. Jean Mailer and Lois Richards were the alumnae present.

Omega Mu Chi

A formal dinner party was enjoyed by members of Omega Mu Chi sorority and their guests Sunday evening in the private dining room of the Hotel Whiting. Twelve guests were present. Mrs. Erwin A. Schwahn and Mrs. Harold Tolo, honorary members, Mrs. Charles H. Cashin, patroness, and Miss Susan Colman were also guests for the evening.

Preceding the dinner a mock cocktail party was held at the home of Betty Jacobs, 117 Church street. A miniature bar was set up with Marjorie Jacobs, Kathleen Wolf, Virginia Behnke, Isabel Dolke and Dorothy Literski assisting and serving canapes.

Betty Jacobs was in general charge of arrangements for the party, assisted by Valeria Dernbach and Gene Connor.

Chi Delta Rho

The Chi Delta Rho fraternity entertained at a smoker given in the main dining room of the Hotel Whiting on Sunday evening, March seventh. Eighteen rushees were guests of the fraternity.

Card games were played during the evening, after which a lunch of ice cream and cake was enjoyed.

Many alumni were present for the smoker. Norman E. Knutzen and Raymond M. Rightsell, fraternity advisors, also attended.

Greek Organizations Announce Pledges

Pledging began in all of its horror on Tuesday night, March 9. The boys are carrying their paddles; the girls are busy making beds and running errands. The actives reign supreme as Misses and Sirs. A pledge's life is a hard one, but all agree that it is more fun than any other part of their college career.

The sororities and fraternities announce the following pledges to their groups:

Omega Mu Chi:

Betty Wolf, Margie Rogers, Mary Hoppen, Evelyn Schwingel, Peggy Glennon, Grace Melchoir, Dorothy Dernbach, Maryan Lutsey, Florence Quast, Eleanor Ruchti, Lorraine Duescher.

Tau Gamma Beta:

Iris Forbes, Betty Richards, Mavis Preville, Anne Mainland, Jeannette Fierek, Claire Williams, Katherine Houg, Eleanor Breden, Gene Warzenik, Marguerite Benn, Gladys Greve, Ruth Behnke, Jane Johnson.

Phi Sigma Epsilon:

Marvin Olson, Robert Pfiffner, Carlyle Sturm, Phil Thorson, Ted Meyer, John Yurkovitch, Dick Stoeger, Joe Bloom, Bjorn Christianson, George Hubbard, Ed Durand, Gerald Eyer, John Felix, Park Joy, Robert La Haye, Robert Hager.

Chi Delta Rho:

Fe Bohan, James Walch, James Duecker, Woodrow Lucas, Granville Zimmer, George Lawrence, Francis Weingartner, Paul Rusch, Dearborn Spindler, Clyde Brunner, Carsten Paulson.
