Spindler, Johnson To Head Iris

Smith, Haferbecker Fill Assistant Posts

Dearborn Spindler of Stevens Point and Bernard Johnson of Wisconsin Rapids have been chosen editor-in-chief and business manager, respectively, of the 1939 edition of the Iris, college year book, according to an announcement made this week by Prof. T. A. Rogers, faculty advisor. Following a new policy adopted this year La Rue Smith of Shawano and Gordon Haferbecker of Antigo were selected assistant editor and assistant business manager. Formerly these two positions were filled by individuals appointed by the editor and business manager.

Spindler, a graduate of Stevens Point High School, is one of the most active students in school. He is assistant editor of this year's Pointer, college newspaper, a member of the Mens Glee Club and the Bloc discussion group besides being an excellent student. He is the son of the late F. N. Spindler, an instructor in the education department at Central State Teachers college for many years.

4,000 Trees Planted By Conservationists

The school forest at Plover was the scene of the College Conservation Class activity last Saturday morning. Professor Schmeekle is to be congratulated on the work accomplished. More than one student confessed to having used more energy than the usual Saturday morning.

Annual Event

Tree planting is an annual conservation class event. This year four thousand trees were planted by fifty C.S.T.C. conservationists. County agent Noble and F. Trenk of the state service supervised. About two thousand Norway Pine and one thousand Scotch pine, as well as White and Jack pine were planted.

Enjoyed By All

In speaking of the day Professor Schmeekle said, "The students did an excellent job, and their teacher is very well pleased. They planted with good spirit and appeared to really enjoy the morning."

from Lincoln High School, Wisconsin Rapids, is an excellent student and a leader of many outside activities. Smith is enrolled in the high school department, a member of the College Theatre, dramatic organization, and is affiliated with other groups. He too is an excellent student. Haferbecker was

Michelsen To Judge Ann Arbor Festival

Professor Peter J. Michelsen, head of Central State's music department will go to Ann Arbor, Michigan on April 30. Mr. Michelsen who is well known for his outstanding ability as a music critic, will act as a judge at the state music festival at Ann Arbor. He has judged contests in Wisconsin, Illinois, and Michigan for several years and finds himself more in demand every year.

Annual Music Festival Pronounced Very Successful

Neenah Wins First In Friday's Competitions

Last Friday hundreds of musicians participated in another of Central State's, annual music festivals. Mr. Michelsen, head of music at C. S. T. C. and George Cartmill, festival director, pronounced this festival the most successful one ever conducted here and predict an even greater one next year.

Non-Competitive

Band directors registered early and bands, orchestras, ensembles, and soloists performed before judges throughout the day. The

Pres. Hyer, Guest Speaker Of Bloc

Bloc members consider it a pleasure to have President Hyer as their guest speaker tonight at their regular meeting, to be held in President Sim's Memorial Library.

President Hyer has intimated that he will talk on retirement.

Messrs. Dearborn Spindler and Bernard Johnson will be hosts.

Mens Glee Club To Make Short Trip

The Mens Glee Club, directed by Prof. N. E. Knutzen will go on a short trip starting Friday noon and ending Saturday morning. The men will leave for Shawano at 12:00 and will arrive at the high school to present a short program by two o'clock. From here they will proceed to Oconto where they will give a concert and remain for the night. Saturday morning the men will return home whenever they wish for no programs are scheduled for that day.

Student directors, William Larson and George Cartmill, will direct many numbers in the programs. Soloists Warren LeRoux and Thomas Faucett will sing solos.

The trip will be made in private cars.

Kohls-Bestul To Lead Grand March

Prom King Charles Kohls of Stevens Point and Miss Eleanor Bestul of Scandinavia, a former student at Central State Teachers College who is now employed at the Hardware Mutual Insurance Company, will reign at the annual Junior promenade Saturday evening, April 30. The affair will be held in the Training school gymnasium. Following Kohls and Miss Bestul in line will be Kenneth Storandt of West Salem, general chairman, and Miss Katherine Mozuch of Stevens Point, a freshman in college.

Grand March at 10:00

A decorative motif depicting a tropical scene will greet prom goers and the surroundings are bound to meet with the approval of all guests. Palm trees will be found along the walls and in the corners. Murals picturing a southern horizon and other tropical scenes constitute the wall decorations. Overhead a blue sky will look down on the festivities and a large crystal ball is to be extended from the sky. A picturesque moon appearing just above the horizon will be located over the orchestra pit while punch will be served from a grass hut.

Kraemer To Play

The prom will get under way at 8:00 and at 8:30 guests will be received by President and Mrs. F. S. Hyer, Prof. and Mrs. Charles C. Evans, Regent and Mrs. George H. Martens, Kohls, Miss Bestul, Storandt and Miss Mozuch. The grand march will commence at 10:00.

Howard Kraemer and his orchestra, featuring Alice Cooper as soloist, will furnish the music. This organization has been a favorite.

THE ENEMIES OF WILDLIFE CONSERVATION

Perhaps this subject will not be of interest to everyone but it does have an indirect bearing upon all. Our wildlife in the United States is a heritage bequeathed to us by our forefathers. It is a heritage we should and must keep, for with the death of all wild life there probably would be nothing left but desert. To those of us who fish, or hunt or do wildlife camera shots or who enjoy the great outdoors in its scenic and freshening beauty this question of the preservation of our wild life is tremendously important.

There is a definitely, stimulating, worthwhile value to be derived from participation in fishing and hunting and it will be a terrible pity if this privilege is taken away from those of us who enjoy these sports, by the thoughtlessness and carelessness of a small number of individuals.

We are speaking now of the lumber company that cuts acres of beautiful woods, leaving behind desolation and dead brush without even a "seed" crop of small growing trees left, or the mill that spews forth its poisonous fumes into the waters of some trout stream and leaves nothing but a barren piece of muddy, turbulent water, or the careless smoker who tosses a burning match or a lighted cigarette to the side of the road, leaving behind him in a few hours a roaring, devastating inferno of death-dealing smoke and fire which scorches the face of the earth with a never-healing scar.

These are the people who are enemies of any conservation movement, and the only way to curb dangerous criminals of this sort is through more stringent legislation. There have been some very splendid pieces of regulation in the forest fire line done in the last few years. But our anti stream-pollution laws are still shamefully weak in many states and the laws enacted to control the greedy lumber companies are almost laughable. It should and must become a crime of great seriousness to pollute any stream, river, or lake so that the aquatic life flourishing within it is killed. It must become a crime punishable with a prison sentence to cut any piece of land except for tillage purposes, without leaving a reasonably thick and healthy growth of small "seed-trees" from whence nature may once again cover the rapid soil with the protecting shelter of trees and brush.

Until these laws are passed and forcibly enacted we can fully expect our conservation programs now in operation to have little or no effect. For where one piece of good work is done by a group of civic-minded sportsman it is more than neutralized by the depredations of these aforementioned criminals. These people must be curbed and only through proper legislation can we do so. Therefore, we plead and hope that each and every sportsman who reads this will canvass his representatives for more effective regulation in his state for the control and supervision of these forces that are ravaging our forest and streams. Only by doing this may we hope to put a stop to their unmoral and lowly practices, which, if continued will leave us a once-beautiful America stripped of all that has made our country a wonderful and healthful place in which to live and enjoy life.

Interesting Assembly To Be Held April 28

Evans Brown, Piano-acordionist, harpist, magician extraordinary will present an hour packed with entertainment and interest in the College Auditorium on April 28. An old favorite at C. S. T. C., Mr. Brown is sure to have a real sixty minutes ready for the student body. We advise all who are interested in music, magic and fun not to miss this stellar entertainment.

mill wish to express their appreciation to Civic Club the Stevens Point, Police Department, the Junior Police Patrol, Tau Gamma Beta Sorority, Principal Kraus, C.S.T.C. Students and faculty—especially to Mr. Herriek for his last minute cooperation in donating the training school music room to be used as a room for solo performers, and to all others who cooperated to make the festival a success.

Student Opinion

In a few days we will be entering the beautiful month of May, the month of fragrant spring blossoms and beautiful spring days. It is the season of the year when our thoughts turn from the cold blustery days of winter to the beauty and warmth of nature, beauty which only God can create. May, the month of Mary is a month which should be especially dear to all of us in one way or another, for it brings with it thoughts of spring, beautiful nights and that day which we have set aside to honor our mothers. This year it falls on May eighth; may we not forget what it stands for.

In these days when so many people hold motherhood in such low esteem and when some nations honor motherhood for reasons which are a means to an end, we here in America should rededicate it and show our respect. The young generation of today should show their respect and honor to the mothers of America and to their own mothers. We too must remember that it is something which we should do at all times and not just for a day in May.

We may show some outward signs of respect by giving our mothers flowers, candy and a thousand and one other articles of material value, but we should do more than that. Our respect for our mothers demand it and honor for motherhood is something which should be a living thing and fleeting thought.

You can all honor your mothers in ways which we can not mention or talk about, but you yourself know which ways are open to honor her and these can be done without spending a penny. Think of your mother often, pray for her, write to her and tell her your sorrows, your hardships and of your victories. These things mean ever so much to her. Honor your mothers by living good clean lives, by doing your work the best you know how and by helping others when they need aid. Be not mean or little, but instead have a smile for the other fellow. These are the things which she will have cause to be proud of and which will bring her that great satisfaction that material things cannot give. Love is a living thing, material goods are only an outward manifestation of love which soon dies and of things which must all perish.

If she be alive or if she has passed to her eternal reward, these things cannot die and will continue to live after you. At this season let us try to remember these things and we will all be better for it. God bless each and every one of your mothers and grant to those that have passed away eternal life and peace.

C.S.T.C. Host To Forensic Group

Last Thursday morning C. S. T. C.'s assembly was devoted to Forensics. The program was a welcome to the high school young people assembled for the annual forensic contest.

President Hyer extended the official welcome of the College. Mr. Kraus, Principal of the local high school, and district high school forensic chairman gave a short talk. Kraus recalled his days at C. S. T. C. and the enthusiasm given debate at the time.

Professor Burroughs then presented the forensic awards to the college debaters. These were sweaters, white, the champion's color. Following debaters received awards: Margaret Beecher, Kathryn Beecher, Jean Redeman, Alice Bentz, Ben Laske, Joe Ophoven, John Verrill, Gordon Haferbecker. Laske and Beecher were named honorary captains by Coach Burroughs. Rosalie Timm received a letter.

As a surprise award, Miss Haferbecker, infant daughter of a debater was awarded a sweater.

C. S. T. C. was host to high school forensic contestants throughout the day. The visit seemed to bring high school and college closer. The contest proved of interest to many college students who were able to attend. C. S. T. C. looks forward to next year's forensic visitors.

Schmeeckle Speaks On Conservation

"Conservation" was the subject of a talk given by F. J. Schmeeckle at Boulder Junction, Friday evening. An interested audience viewed the slides which accompanied the talk. Professor Schmeeckle was introduced by Principal Keithley, a C. S. T. C. alumnus.

Pointers Easily Defeat Ripon 6<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>-1<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>

Felix, Whipple Star For Point

Ripon's Redmen fell before a vastly superior Central State boxing squad last Wednesday by the decisive margin of 6<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> to 1<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> in a card that showed little action until the final bout of the evening when Fred Nimz met Roland Horky, a Ripon football and basketball star, in a real slug fest. The highlight was John Felix's knock-out of Bob Heller after 57 seconds of the first round with a hard right to the jaw after three successive lefts. Heller was inexperienced and offered an easy target for the Point veteran who carries dynamite in both gloves.

Bob Larson drew with Bob Casati in a very close bout and Herb Schielke lost to Harold Hannaman who had a much longer reach than the Central Stater and kept punching away at him from long ranges. Bill Carley 165 pound State Teacher College champion performed before the home crowd for the second time this year and almost blasted his opponent out of the ring with his powerful left.

The results:

125 Pounds

John Felix, Stevens Point knocked out Bob Heller, Ripon in 57 seconds.

135 Pounds

Bob Casati, Ripon drew with Bob Larson, Stevens Point.

145 Pounds

Harold Hannaman, Ripon decided Herb Schielke, Stevens Point.

155 Pounds

Henry Warner, Stevens Point, took Bob Heiden, Ripon into camp by a decision.

165 Pounds

Inman Whipple Stevens Point, easily won from Gordon Oldani, Ripon.

175 Pounds

Bill Carley, Stevens Point was the judge's choice over Jim Magellas, Ripon.

Dan Young, Stevens Point, was way ahead of Ed Liesch, Ripon.

Heavy Weight

Fred Nimz, Stevens Point, out-punched Roland Horky, Ripon.

Baseball Men Start Practice

Coach Kotal is anticipating a "boom" season in track and baseball after a few years' layoff. The track team is working out daily in preparation for the track meet to be held May 28 at Whitewater. The expectations are high with approximately twenty men signed up this season. The brunt of the competition this year at Whitewater will come from Milwaukee, who holds the title from last year.

Central State should put one of the best college baseball teams in the state on the diamond this year. There is included among the players signed up many stars of the diamond from nearby cities. Practice is scheduled for every night at the Goerke park. Plans are under way for games to be played with nearby teachers colleges and city teams.

Boxing Coach Inman Whipple is trying to arrange an outdoor card with Jimmy Dodge's Neopit Indians.... He had planned to meet them tonight but the college gym is being decorated for the annual Junior Hog Raffle.... With the abundance of material in school, Central State should put a powerful aggregation on the diamond this year.... Among the more well-known stars are Jim McGuire, Al Bueholz, Chub LeGault, Chet Rinka, Bill Carley and Fred Nimz.... Ray Grandkoski and Bjorn Christenson, track co-captains, ran in the Wisconsin Rapids varsity-alumni meet last week.... Grandkoski took the mile easily and Christenson tied for first in the half-mile... Felix's man was out colder than a cucumber after John had given him his powerhouse blow... The inter-fraternity softball series will be starting soon if the good weather keeps up... The Main Street Lads are looking forward to getting back the Little Brown Jug which the Normal Boys have kept from the last four years... The winner of this series will play a team of non-fraternity men for the college championship.

Hither And Yon

Some of the largest fortunes have been made from very simple things. It is said the toy, "Dancing Jim Crow", yielded its inventor an annual income of $75,000; that another toy by John Gillin enriched him to the extent of $100,000 a year during its popularity.

The shoelace appears to be of very little value but this simple little string which holds your shoe on brought prosperity to Harvey Kennedy to the extent of $2,500,000.

When we hear the word invention we are apt to think of all kinds of complicated machinery, built by a person with some peculiar mental endowment. However, the simple rubber tip on the end of a pencil netted $100,000 a year to the man who invented it.

WILLIAM BURNS
Los Angeles Collegian

We dropped into a beer hall on Western avenue with some friends the other night about eleven o'clock. We were quite amazed to see a little girl, about four years old, playing near the table where we were sitting. She was such a cute little tyke that we couldn't help liking her, so we said to the dancer who was taking care of her:

"She surely is a cute kid; is she yours?"

"No, her father and mother are drunk over on the other side."

Just as we were recovering from this shock she added the knockout punch:

"This is the ninth child I've taken care of since the last floor show."

You can readily imagine how this floored us. If we were extremely religious, and possessed a rather moralistic nature, we would "view with alarm" this evidence of moral degradation shown by parents who would bring their children to a beer hall and then get so drunk that the dancer from the floor show had to care for them. We would consider that there was something essentially rotten in such a situation, and wonder just what the world was coming to.

Society News

The card party sponsored by Omega Mu Chi sorority last Thursday evening was a success in every sense. Nineteen tables were in play, with a prize given to the highest scorer in each group. Many faculty members, students, and outsiders were present. Later in the evening a lunch of coffee and cupeakes was served.

The Chi Delts and their guests enjoyed a picnic at Iverson Park last Friday evening. A rousing game of kitten-ball worked up an appetite for supper. After the "eats", the group sang songs around a fire-place and roasted marshmallows.

Primary Council met Monday evening, April 25. Following the business meeting, an interesting talk was given by Dr. Nixon. He spoke on modern penology.

While college folk are thinking of this week-end in terms of Prom, eighth graders of the Mary D. Bradford Junior High School look forward to the annual class party. And who is to say which affair is the more important?

Don Schmeackle, class president, is general chairman. Miss Gertie L. Hanson is class advisor. The scene of the affair is to be the library of the Training School. Decorations are to be in the modernistic vein. Ellen Zeiper is decoration chairman. Phil Runkel is student teacher decorator. La Verne Schwingel keeps busy these days too as a member of the program committee.

Attractive invitations were issued this week to student teachers and friends. The party theme is to be "Magic". The Training School looks forward to a gala Friday evening.
