Iris Asks For Change In Finance System

Ever since the Iris has been under the present system of financing it has experienced difficulty in collecting assessments from various organizations in school. We believe this system has outlived its purpose and is out-moded. Inability to pay in some cases is justified; the groups being so constituted as to make the raising of funds a difficult problem. However, the premise upon which this system was established, was that each organization should pay according to the benefit derived therefrom. This is unsound and should be changed. Are all benefits material; are they all pecuniary? We believe not. Are not some students unable to join because of their inability to meet the added burden placed on the group by Annual obligations?

All Groups Deserve Recognition

Any organized group in school that is recognized by the college administration deserves recognition.

Tau Gams Establish Student Loan Fund

The announcement of the establishment of a student loan fund by Tau Gamma Beta sorority of the Teachers College was the highlight of the annual formal banquet of the sorority held Saturday evening at Hotel Whiting. Miss Dorothy Mullarkey, sorority president, made the announcement after welcoming the guests. The establishment of this fund marks the success of an effort begun last fall, and is the first fund of its kind to be founded by any Greek letter organization at the college. It will be called the Frank S. Hyer Student Loan Fund, in recognition of President Hyer's contributions to the school's welfare and his friendly co-operation with social organizations at the college. A certificate was presented President Hyer by Miss Mullarkey to commemorate the occasion. The fund, which has been made possible by donations from both active and alumni members, will be given to some worthy girl at the college, who will be chosen by a committee composed of the college president, the chairman of the Advanced Standings Committee and the president and treasurer of the sorority.

The Heidelberg Singers

Assembly Program Mon. Eve. Features Heidelberg Singers

On January 24, a concert will be given at Central State Teachers College by The Heidelberg Singers, an octette of male voices in which each singer is a solo artist of unusual ability in his own right. Added to this group is the popular Chicago soprano, Catherine Bennett, to sing obligatos with this very colorful ensemble.

Varied Program

Frank Bennett, famous Chicago choral director, is in personal charge, and goes on tour with the company. One of his many Chicago activities is that of co-director of The Chicago Tribune's famous Soldier's Field summer music festival held each August, which has never attracted less than 100,000 people on one evening.

Forum To Present Picture Of Judge Park To College

Thursday morning at 10:00, Bjorn Christianson, Forum President, will present a picture of Judge Park to the school in behalf of the Forum. President Hyer will accept the gift. Following this Mr. Park will speak in acknowledgment.

Mr. Park is a very important figure in Central State Teachers College History, for he is the one who is largely responsible for the college locating at Stevens Point. When the bill for the creation of a State Normal School in this city was presented in the State Assembly Mr. Park was the man who pushed it through. Because of his efforts the bill was passed in 1893 and a State Normal School was built in Stevens Point the following year.

Mens Glee Club To Go On Two-Day Tour

The Central State Mens Glee Club will leave next Wednesday afternoon for a short two-day tour of several of our northern towns. Shawano and Oconto will be the scene of Thursday's activities, with a stop-over at Shawano Wednesday night. Antigo will be host to the boys Thursday night. They will return to Stevens Point Friday afternoon after a concert at Marshfield.

Programs Student-Arranged

Large audiences are expected at all points for the Mens Glee Club is very well known in this territory. Members of the Glee Club have arranged the programs and a good share of the numbers will be directed by student Directors. The trip will be made in private cars.

Seniors Especially Desirous In Having Pres. Hyer Stay

Well Acquainted With Needs Of The School

President Frank S. Hyer will remain in charge of Central State Teachers College until July 1, 1938, according to an announcement made by Edward G. Doudna, secretary of the board of regents, last Friday morning. The decision made by a committee consisting of members of the board of regents postpones President Hyer's departure for another six months. He originally planned to leave July 1, 1937, but was later persuaded to remain until February 1, 1938.

Several factors were responsible for the decision by the board of regents. Members of the senior class at the college were especially desirous in having President Hyer stay. His signature on the diploma will mean a great deal more than that of a less known individual and he will be of great assistance with the graduation affairs.

President Hyer

Recommendation Of Candidate Deferred

President Hyer believes that he will be able to benefit the college a great deal inasmuch as 1938 is budget year and he is well acquainted with the college's needs.

GRADES ARE WHAT COUNT!

When (and if) Utopia comes to C. S. T. C., we will have fewer instructors addicted to grey hair, for very obvious reasons. But until that time we students will be responsible for many silver threads among the gold—or should instructors have brown hair? If they know what really goes on, no doubt they see red whenever the subject of grades is mentioned. For how is a mere human being to detect and evaluate what a student has learned? When we have developed the incentive to learn for the sake of knowledge, we will have brought Utopia to the very back door. Right now, we face the fact that grades are what count. So our motto is, "Even if you have to study hard—get good grades!"

From this system of thinking have developed many ridiculous and unfair practices among students. First we have the remarkable phenomenon, apple polishing. How do you polish the old apple? By chumming with the instructor, by lingering at his desk after class to ask questions, or by loudly proclaiming his pet theories, if he has any, whenever the opportunity presents itself. Next we have the habit of copying other people's written work, and turning it in as our own. If this becomes a habit, the person who copies merely gets a good exercise in typing or longhand. What does he learn?

Consider the price of themes. Do you really think term papers cost too much? Before you answer, think of the time I have to spend in changing the wording, so that I can call them my own.

Do we ever crib? Yes! Even in the class of a crib-proof instructor, one prodigy wrote a science test with his text book on his feet, and his notebook in his lap.

What is the matter with us? Is learning our goal? We want to get good grades!

From A Sister School

Our debate team returned from the tournament at Stevens Point last week-end with word that Stevens Point people actually are nice. We do not mean to insinuate by this remark that at any time they were held in dispute, but in this age when it is fashionable "to take care of yourself and let the rest of the dogs die," it is a little unusual to meet a whole school which rejects this philosophy.

The Stevens Point students showed their visitors a kind of hospitality without the "refrigerator-freeze" which characterizes hospitality-for-convention's-sake. Their smiles weren't cardboard, their handshakes weren't from the wrist rather than the shoulder, their welcomes weren't catch-words from Emily Post. Briefly, they weren't treating their guests with kindness because their president requested them to do so. They acted as they did because they themselves wanted to. Evidently, they have experienced many times the joys which come with helping people.

Date Of Semi-Annual Wis.

Bandmasters' Meet Changed

The date for the semi-annual meeting of the Wisconsin Bandmasters' Association to be held in Stevens Point has been changed from March 5 and 6 to April 2 and 3.

This has been done because of conflict with the meeting of the American Bandmasters' Association.

Band Directors' Course To Offer Varied Program

The band directors' course is going to deviate from its regular routine and offer a varied course of study next semester. The movement was started by a group of juniors and seniors who, after several conferences on the subject, drew up a list of problems which may be encountered when they enter the band directing field. Plans were drawn up and presented to Mr. Michelsen who pledged his whole-hearted cooperation.

Especially Valuable For Seniors

The course will be student directed and under the supervision of Prof. Michelsen. Included in the course will be a practice band offering a chance for students to learn the fundamentals of various instruments, band and orchestra organization, rehearsal methods, the marching band, techniques of teaching the band as a whole, and various other problems which arise in the school and community with which the bandmaster is associated.

It is the contention of the committee that this course will prove especially valuable for seniors, as the material used will be based on true life experience, and with the opening of the field this year graduates will have a better chance to cope with situations which may arise in their new positions.

Hyer . . .

acquainted with the needs of the school. Consequently, many additions and improvements will be made in the future with appropriations which President Hyer will request.

The decision as released by Mr. Dondna follows:

"The committee to choose a successor to President Hyer at Stevens Point met Friday morning, January 14, and deferred making a recommendation of a candidate to the Board, and asked President Hyer to remain temporarily in charge of the school".

Mens Glee Club

Sings In Kiwanis Show

Last Wednesday the Mens Glee Club sang in the Annual Kiwanis Show at the Fox Theater, billed as "Knut Knutzen and his Ski-Jumpers" in collaboration with his "Royal Scandinavians" otherwise known as the Castilians. They sang: "The Wav You Look To-night", "Vieni, Vieni," and "You Can't Stop Me From Dreaming" with orchestra accompaniment.

Student Loan . . .

In his response President Hyer thanked the girls for the honor in giving his name to the fund and commended them on their project. He expressed the hope that the girls receiving the loan would be conscientious in repaying it, so it could continue to function through the coming years.

"The Dress Rehearsal" To Be Given Feb. 9

The date for the operetta "The Dress Rehearsal" given by the Girls Glee Club will be February 9 instead of February 5 as stated last week.

The scene for this one act musical play is the Reception Room of Grave House Academy—a select boarding school for young ladies—just outside of Bristol, England.

Burlesque

The sedate and mid-victorian atmosphere of this English school is interrupted by a burlesque play called "Cinderella". The unsuspecting principal of the school has been led to believe the play would be one of Shakespeare's. Some real excitement is created when a visitor happens on the scene and mistakes the ragged Cinderella as an example of abuse by the principal.

The play is replete with catchy solos, duets and choruses and promises to be an outstanding success as a musical comedy.

The cast is as follows:

Miss Jones, the Principal . . . Ethel Hill
 Mlle. Epinard, French teacher . . .
 Leota Brandt
 Amy, Afterwards Cinderella . . .
 Eyleene Atkins
 Clara Wilknis, afterwards the Prince
 Marguerite Adams
 Sarah-Ann, the greedy girl
 Lorraine Amundsen
 Sophronia Spivens, the Romantic Girl
 Barbara Wake
 Martha Higgins Eleanor Theisen
 Carrie Brown La Rae Winch
 afterwards the Spiteful Sisters
 Mrs. Jarvey, the Elocution Teacher
 Ruth Behnke
 Miss Prudence Pinchbeck, a visitor . .

Miss Weber Relates Trip Through Mexico

Rural Life Club was very fortunate at the regular meeting on Monday night to have Miss Helen Weber as the guest speaker. She had made an extended trip through Mexico last summer and gave a very vivid picture of her visit in that country. She illustrated her talk with moving pictures from which one could get a good idea of the topography, vegetation, and people in that country. Of especial interest was the picture which showed Miss Weber herself landing a great salt water fish with which she had tussled for an hour.

Other numbers on the program included club singing led by Kenneth Bartels and a group of violin solos by William Knox. Ruth Knutson accompanied for club singing and Ellen Anderson was pianist for Mr. Knox. Ben Laschewitsch presented the proposed change in the collection of Iris funds to be voted upon at assembly this week.

Tau Gam Formal

The annual formal banquet and dance of Tau Gamma Beta sorority was held Saturday evening at the Hotel Whiting.

Miss Ethel McDonald acting as toastmistress at the dinner introduced the speakers, Mr. E. T. Smith, and Mr. Peter J. Michelsen. Miss McDonald also introduced the officers of the sorority, Miss Dorothy Mullarkey, president; Miss Irene Dix, vice-president; Miss Eleanore Theisen, recording secretary; Miss Jean Mailer, corresponding secretary; and Miss Margaret Miller, treasurer.

Announcement was made that a telegram had been received Saturday from Miss Mildred Davis, honorary member of the sorority, who has not returned to school since the holidays, because of injuries she received in an automobile accident. Miss Beatrice Richardson, another honorary member, was present for the evening. President and Mrs. Frank S. Hyer, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Michelsen, Mr. Leland M. Burroughs, and Miss Sue Colman were special guests at the affair, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh L. Huffman were sorority guests for the evening.

Pink and yellow snapdragons and blue forget-me-nots decorated the tables, and the coat of arms of the sorority was illuminated during the evening. The programs had decorative covers resembling mother of pearl with the coat of arms in gold and black. Sixty-four attended the dinner.

Bill Benson's orchestra of Kenosha played during the dinner and for the dance which followed. One hundred and six couples attended the dance, at which the Big Apple was featured.

Sleigh Ride Party

Forty-five members and friends of the Loyola Club enjoyed a sleigh ride party last Thursday evening. After a two-hour ride out to Iverson Park, the party ended up at the Orthman Demonstration School, where chili and crackers were served.

Nelson Hall Notes

Mrs. Cook of Waupaca visited her daughter, Dorothy, here last Sunday. Can't we have more of the mothers in to meet the crowd?

We'll have to look a long time to find someone to fill Doris Duecker's place next semester. A group of the girls held a dinner party in honor of her graduation at Dorothy Butler's last Sunday night. A gift was presented to Miss Duecker.

Have you noticed the "sweet smiles" on the faces of the girls coming out of the Dorm these last few days. We're guessing the reason is 'cause there is a new mirror hanging in the Reception Room. Here's what some of the girls have to say about it:

Jayne Akins: "It's all right. Now we can see ourselves as others see us."

Jean Dopp: "It improves the appearance of the Dormitory and helps the girls improve their appearances."

Jane Livingston: "I think it's pretty nice."

Ledah Van Gilder: "It always smiles back at me."

Betty Warren: "I sure like it. Them's my sentiments."

"Ah! Love, True Love?"—we eat, sleep, and travel to these words. You see its a favorite song in the All-Girls Glee Club Operetta.

We overheard this at the Basketball game last week. Gladys, sitting in the front row, "Oh! Am I too close to the players' bench?"—and Mr. Rightsell smilingly replied: "Oh! well, we know you like to be close to them."

Collegiate Shag Popular Dance

The Collegiate Shag is near the top among the season's popular ballroom dances, reports Thomas E. Parson, widely known dancing master whose "Popular Ballroom Dances" has just been published by Barnes & Noble.

Mr. Parson also finds the Big Apple and the Manhattan Strut as highly popular currently with those who prefer the more lively, eccentric styles and the Rhumba, The Parisian Tango, the modern Waltz and the Fox Trot as those having the biggest appeal to conservative dancers.

"Don't Strangle Your Partner"

According to Mr. Parson, the various types of dancing are basically an interpretation of the music being played. The past year or two has brought a radical change in the trend not only of the so-called "trick" dances but in the conservative styles as well. Principal influence has been the effect of the "swing" music on the movement of the body—the swifty effect of our present-day dance tunes "doing something" to the dancer with an inclination and the ability to answer to the dictates of the music played.

"Don't strangle your partner", is the first rule of dance etiquette, writes Mr. Parson. A "strong" lead does not necessarily mean that the man should grab his partner around the waist with a strangle hold. His lead can be just as strong if she is permitted to dance well away from him. The man's right hand is placed at an advantageous spot between his partner's shoulders and waistline. The lady's left hand should rest lightly on her partner's right shoulder with her left forearm following the line of his upper right arm. His left and the lady's right hand may or may not be joined, according to the style of dancing adopted.

Speaking of the Rhumba, Mr. Parson states, "It's distinguishing feature is a slightly exaggerated movement of the hips which if executed in true Rhumba fashion does not cause obvious reaction above the hips".

The book is illustrated by diagrams of steps to be taken by both gentleman and lady in seven of the most popular dances today.

Pointers Win Conference Tilt

Lead Scoring

Coach Kotal's Purple and Gold cagers won their first conference game last Friday from Platteville

Teachers College, 42 to 37. Playing without the services of Fred Nimz, who was left behind because of his lame back, the Pointers clicked from the start and were definitely superior to their opponents.

Don Johnston and Bob Olk made ten points, followed by Henry Warner with nine, the whole team playing good ball to defeat the highly touted Quakers who were pre-season favorites to finish high in the conference standings. Rhemstedt, Platteville's all-conference center, upheld his name by chalking up fourteen markers and playing a heads-up game.

SHORTS IN SPORTS

It looked like the Chet Rinka of old in the closing minutes of the St. Norberts game when he scored the last seven points.... He made a long shot from the middle of the floor that was as pretty as any ever seen around these parts.... With his improved ball handling, he should be a cinch for all-conference.... Hank Warner is the unsung hero of the year's basketball team and deserves a world of credit for his steady playing.... If the Platteville game is a criterion, the Pointers may make a tight race out of it at that.... We'll see for sure on Friday when Whitewater invades this territory.... Hockey practice is being held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week at Goerke Park.... Everyone interested is urged to try out for the team and your chance is as good as anyone's.... Volleyball will be started in the fore part of the second semester under the direction of Charlie Burch, assistant to Coach Kotal.... There will be a regular league of six teams, each one playing ten games.... The team captains will be posted on Kotal's bulletin board and they will choose their players.... The Chi Delts and Phi Sigs aren't doing so well in the St. Stephens' league but are crossing their fingers.... When they meet there'll be fireworks.

Central Staters Lose To Knights

Central State lost a thriller to St. Norberts College of West De Pere, 28 to 27, in the last non-conference game before the regular season hits its stride. The Green Knights started out as though they were going to swamp the Pointer but when the Kotalmen caught their breath the game settled to a nip and tuck battle.

The score at the half was 16 to 6 in favor of the McCormickmen but Johnston and Rinka started to click and rapidly cut down the lead. Chet Rinka clicked for the last seven points for the Staters and made another basket but was caught double-dribbling.

Rinka and Hank Warner again stood out for the Pointers with Phil McNulty acting as the spark-plug for the Knights.

Whitewater Cagers travel here Friday, January 21, to meet the Purple and the Gold in a conference game. Whitewater comes here at the top of the conference standings. They have played but one conference game defeating Platteville by a 43-38 score.

The Whitewater attack is based around two lettermen of last year, Farina, a guard, and Andrews, a forward. Farina is well known around Point for his basketball ability and his speed will require much watching to hold down his scoring. The other first stringers who will round out the starting lineup are Austin, Koenings, and Hulick. Of these, Koenings is the main scoring threat. This is his second year with Whitewater, playing the second semester of last year. During the second semester he scored 62 points in 9 games.

Wausau Holds Winter Frolic

Wausau will hold its annual Winter Frolic this Saturday and Sunday, January 22 and 23 at Rib Hill, under the auspices of the Wausau Chamber of Commerce. The festival is held yearly, visitors coming from all over Wisconsin to participate or to look at the skating, skiing and tobogganning races.

On Saturday, there will be figure skating and speed skating, the competitors' ages ranging from ten years to the senior championship. The feature of the afternoon will be a hockey game between the Wausau Lumberjacks and another well known sextet.

The ski jumping, ski racing and tobogganning will be run off on Sunday and that night prizes will be awarded for the best costumes, funniest costumes, etc.

Whipple Leads Point Fighters

Boxing Coach Inman Whipple entered five men, including himself, in a boxing card held a week ago at the Lincoln fieldhouse in Wisconsin Rapids under the auspices of the American Legion. Three of the Pointers, Whipple, John Felix, and Roman Baker, won and two, Louis Drobnick and Dan Young, came out on the short end of the count.

Whipple's man was confined to the hospital with appendicitis, forcing him to meet Drobnick whom he won from by a decision of the judges. Baker won a default from his scheduled opponent who failed to show up and Felix got the nod over Red Sullivan of Wisconsin Rapids. Young lost to Bob Ellis, Rapids C. Y. O. champion, in a bloody slugfest.

Arrangements are being made to put on an attractive card shortly after the semester ends if present plans mature.

The Tau Gam's dance was swell... See? Didn't we tell you? The Big Apple isn't losing its flavor yet... It stood three performances Saturday night... Was it St. Norberts that put the ol' pep into the spectators at the game last Wednesday, or are we finally recovering our school spirit? Anyway, it was swell!... Charlie M. and Anita M. are going strong of late. Steady stuff? ... The Dormites have taken up outdoor sports to a large extent. Didn't we see Eleanor T. and Gladys A. showing K. Thompson and D. Bremmer how, Sunday?... Did somebody say that our Editor presented someone with a diamond for Christmas?... Oh, Mr. Baker! That blond again! Nice couple, we'd say... Those two freshies, Cora Mae A. and Bill M. have most of us beat for long-time "goer-togethers"—We just heard they're going on four years. ... Did you know that Dorothy Larson has a "twin" in Stevens Point High? Coincidentally, the "twin" is George's cousin.... Good luck in your exams.... We'd write more but we have to study....

Exams! Term Papers! Notebooks! Registration!

Term papers are due. Conference notebooks are in the offing. Do students still "burn the midnight oil"? The next week will answer the question at C. S. T. C.

Examination schedules have been available in the office the past week. Examinations begin Monday, January 24th and continue through Friday.

The second semester opens Monday, January 31. One day will be devoted to registration, and late entries are as always viewed with disfavor. Students have been urged through bulletin board notices to arrange their programs and check with department heads before registration. Seniors enrolled in the High School Division are to see Mr. Smith. Freshmen of the department will report to Mr. Rightsell, while Juniors and Seniors are directed to consult one of the following: Mr. Jenkins, Dr. Tolo, Dr. Reppen.

Program in advance and save tedious waiting on Registration Day!

Debaters In Eau Claire Tournament Saturday

The debate season is in full swing. Tuesday Coach Leland M. Burroughs took two debate teams to Wittenberg to stage an exhibition debate. Debaters Laschkewitsch, Haferbecker, Alice Bentz, and Jean Redeman represented C. S. T. C. on this occasion. Jack Burroughs, class of '36, is debate coach at Wittenberg High School.

Debate Tonight

This evening the Becher sisters and debaters Verrill and Ophoven will present "Resolved that the National Labor Relations Board be empowered to settle all industrial disputes" at Buena Vista.

State Tournament—Sat.

The State Tournament at Eau Claire will be held Saturday, January 22. Four Stevens Point teams will be entered. Coach Burroughs announces he entered the line-up as follows: Laschkewitsch and Haferbecker, Becher and Becher, Bentz and Redeman. Miss Susan Coleman, Mr. H. R. Steiner, and Mr. H. M. Tolo will accompany the debaters and supply the Point quota of judges.

C. S. T. C.'s best wishes go with the debaters.

 tion in the year book. We do not believe it just to deprive them of this right nor to deplete their treasuries at the end of the year; funds that are raised can be diverted to other channels.

The number of students represented, activity in the school, and prestige added to the school should be the principal determining factors in the apportionment of space. A penalty should not be placed on any student wishing to join a particular group in which he is interested. It would, further, enable the editor to make a more democratic book.

Fifty Cents Each Semester

We are asking an additional dollar to be paid at enrollment time for your Iris, or fifty cents each semester. Because of the impossibility to discuss this problem before enrollment time last fall we are proposing one dollar the second semester this year, and thereafter fifty cents each semester.

We realize that some students do not belong to any group outside of their particular departments and classes. Is it because of financial obligations imposed? If the "yearbook" obligations were relieved, then we believe the different organizations could make membership so desirable that each student could properly find and meet his avenue of escape, enjoyment, and professional benefit.

Does Not Ask For More

In thinking about this new system please bear in mind that we are not asking for additional revenue but rather a reapportionment of the present taxes.

Financial Statement Posted

Our books are open to inspection to any student who wishes to see them. Before the end of the year the exact financial statement will be posted in a conspicuous place where students may see how and where their money was spent.

Dr. R. C. Fisher To Address Sigma Zeta

Will Demonstrate Therapeutic Surgery

To be able to perform a major operation or make an incision on any part of the body without the loss of a single drop of blood would be considered a great accomplishment. Yet, medical science has actually made this progress since the introduction of a high frequency arc to displace the old method of the knife. Operations that were considered dangerous, and often times even impossible, are now made common events in the everyday work of a doctor. The use of electricity to cure and heal afflicted parts of the body has made considerable progress in recent years. In its infancy, this modern science is being employed primarily in thermal and cauterizing respects but doctors predict that the possibilities of the therapeutic use of electricity are unlimited. It is not being rational in saying that some day many of the other branches of medical science will be revolutionized by the new use of electricity as surgery now has.

This interesting trend and progress in medical science will be the subject of a talk by Dr. R. C. Fisher before the Sigma Zeta National Honorary Science Fraternity, Thursday evening, at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. Fisher has spoken before college groups before and has proven to be popular.

Will Use Apparatus

Dr. Fisher will transport his apparatus so that members can see how albumin is coagulated, tissues are cauterized, and thermal currents used to apply heat to local part of the body. Members of Sigma Zeta need not be afraid of being used as a subject to demonstrate on as Dr. Fisher has promised to use beef steak for his demonstration.

This program is open to associate and active members of Sigma Zeta only.

Mr. Pierce Will Close Series Of Talks

Thursday, January 20th, at four o'clock B. R. Pierce, Principal of the Junior High School will close the series Modern Practices in Present Day Teaching broadcast over W. L. B. L. each week with his talk Meeting the Needs of Adolescent Youth of the Junior High School. Mr. Pierce has specialized in Junior High School work, and has, during his teaching career, come in close contact with adolescents.

THE CONTINENTAL

Singers . . .

Frank Bennet, Director

The repertoire of The Heidelberg Singers is wide and comprehensive, including popular songs, folk songs, operatic selections and many of the very highest standard of usual concert numbers. The first half of their standard programs includes the finest of choral music. For the second half, they specialize in the popular choral "hits" from the musical comedies of the day, as well as such selections dating from the late Victor Herbert.

Each being a solo artist, in addition to programming stated solos and duets, they include many ensemble selections which require fine voices for solos, duets, and trios, incidental to the entire chorus. An example is the well known 'Miserere' from the opera 'Il Trovatore', featuring tenor and soprano duet, with choral background.

Student Relates Life Of a College Student

Behold the metamorphosis of a C. S. T. C. student! On a bright sunny day in September he crawls, shakily and abashed, yet eagerly, into the sanctimonious cocoon of Central State Teachers College. This year-round wearer of St. Patrick's hue learns the dark and devious ways of Library Science, suffers the throes of Freshman Composition, marvels at the wonders of science or cracks his head on math, learns how long it took his forefathers to emerge from barbarism, and gets his map straightened by geography and sophomore fists. He misses not a football game, not an assembly meeting, not a single conference or class (except during the first week when he forgot to attend) and, more specifically, not one single school party.

Scene II, the same, yet in a way different, presents the sophomore. The greenish hue is gone from his eyes, and is replaced by a smug look of superiority, as he sees those little green objects darting hither and yon so senselessly. Alas! He is blindly oblivious of the fact that these energetic organisms are not fall so little, and not all so green. For the sophomore has his embarrassing moments, to wit: when a freshman taking the same course got a higher grade than his majesty, or when said freshie mirthfully witnessed his persecution by a Greek paddler, or when he mournfully discovered that even a Sophisticated Sophomore is looked down upon by a Sedate Senior as being an underclassman. Ye sophomore is becoming wise in the ways of the Campus. He gives up the idea that he must "crash" every school organization, and concludes that six or eight of these will do for him. How cunningly he learns to cut classes without being noticed, to crib without being caught, to make friends of the Bright Ones (if he is not one of them), and to write suitable term papers if he cannot buy, beg or borrow them. Incidentally, because he has a degree of intelligence, because he has good instructors, and in consequence because he has been bitten by the bug of curiosity and fanned by the breeze of tolerance, our specimen has learned most of what he should learn.

Scene III, the Junior! He must,

by this time be associated with some class clique, or else be dubbed a queer bird. He should, as a well developed larva, be able to stand on his feet and make his wants known at the Junior Class Election, and be able to demonstrate his woeful lack of instruction in Roberts Rules of Order. Our good friend discovers how little he knows about education, how great the responsibility and how little the thanks accorded an upperclassman, and what a lot of fun the Junior Prom would be if you could escape the task of staging it. He finds that two or three extra activities are enough. In fact, they are too many if one has to work for a living. A Junior learns to dodge extra work unless the responsibility is placed directly on his shoulders. Long ago he has learned the importance of cramming for a test, of turning in special assignments at the expense of routine work and study. Who shall say that he has not learned?

And now, who is this responsible, self-confident individual who is seen so little about the library, yet knows so well how to make use of his time? He now lives at the Training School where he revels daily with alternate grief and mirth at the ups and downs of practice teaching. Together, he and his pupils discover (and strengthen) his weaknesses as a teacher. Like an overworked horse, he feels his oats only when he is turned out to graze at the end of the term. Whereupon he stirs, comes to life, rises up with his fellow seniors to sing the Alma Mater song, receives a flip of his Purple and Gold tassel, and, resplendent in cap and gown he is welcomed by a host of friends as he steps from the cocoon of C. S. T. C. — a Bachelor of Education.
