

SENIOR BALL SATURDAY NIGHT

"Mr. Pim" To Be Given Two Nights

Both Performances Are Open To The Public

As a result of board action last week concerning the presentation of A. A. Milne's three-act comedy, Mr. Pim Passes By, College Theater has announced that the play will be given two nights, Dec. 13 and 14. Tickets will be on sale for the public sometime this week, the prices being 25c for adults and 15c for high school students. Passes for CSTC students will be issued, upon presentation of their activity tickets, special passes to be forfeited at the door. The business manager will arrange for the issuance of these passes to students later in the week. Each member of the faculty will also be given a pass to permit him to see the performance gratis, and these passes, both student and faculty, will be accepted at the door either night.

Set Nears Completion

Scenic Director Don Krider and Stage Manager Merville Merverden report that, minus a few details, the "Mr. Pim" set has reached completion, while the most difficult problem yet remaining concerns the lighting plot to be worked out effectively. "Property man" Poggemiller has "dug up" the necessary furniture and properties to adorn the set, and Publicity Manager Sonnenberg is handling the advertising very effectively. All present indications point to success for College Theater's first major production of the year.

High School Play Tourney Friday

Friday afternoon, December 8, the second playoff in the contest series for High Schools of this section of the state will be held in the College Auditorium, beginning at 2:00 p. m. Colby High School, whose play, "The Patchwork Quilt", won first place in the District Contest held here two weeks ago will compete with the winners of the LaCrosse and Oshkosh district for the opportunity to represent the northern part of the state in the State Contest which will be held this year at the new University Theater at Madison.

Last year the State Contest was staged by College Theater on CSTC's stage, but due to the increased advantages of the University Theater, the State Contest will be held there this year.

The student body is cordially invited to attend this program of three one-acts. A small admission charge will be made at the door,

McDonald To Talk On War Conditions

Robert Scott McDonald, former student at Central State, will speak in assembly on his observations of how the metropolitan centers behave when in war. First hand experiences of this summer offer an excellent background for what is to be said. Mr. McDonald's observations should be of interest to all students because he went to Europe to see the things that would in all probability be anticipated by a young person of college age.

This summer Mr. McDonald sailed for an extended tour to Scotland, Ireland, and England. He had planned to travel on bicycle through the islands, and to stay at youth hostels enroute, but due to the declaration of war on September 1, he was detained in Scotland. He spent considerable time in Edinborough and later stayed in London.

In June 1935, Bob graduated from the High School Department of C.S.T.C. with a B.E. degree. While here, he was active in the Chi Delta Rho fraternity, and is now an active Chi Delt alum. His professional training was taken at the University of Wisconsin from which he graduated with an LL.B. For about a year, McDonald has been a practicing attorney in the city of Stevens Point.

Several organizations in the city have heard Mr. McDonald speak, and every one has been very enthusiastic in its comments. Because of the favorable criticism offered, the college student body is anticipating an interesting assembly hour.

Christmas Cantata Presented Tonight

The combined efforts of the Twilight Music Club and the Central State Men's Glee Club have gone into the presentation of Clokey's Christmas cantata, "When the Christ Child Came," to be given tonight in the College Auditorium. The cantata deals with the nativity and is being treated in a different manner than the usual presentation—it is shorter but is made very effective. About forty persons, consisting of a part of the Men's Glee Club and the Twilight Music Club, will make up a mixed chorus for their cantata, and several soloists will be featured during the program which starts at 8:00.

Grand March To Be Led By O'Doherty And Schwingle

With a glare of light we usher in the Dance of Tomorrow under the able leadership of Jerry O'Doherty and Evelyn Schwingle, his Queen. The Senior Ball will open the winter social season in true fashion. Jerry has gained this great recognition through virtue of his election to the presidency of the Senior Class. In Miss Schwingle, his Queen, we see a girl outstanding in our institution of C.S.T.C.

"The Dance of Tomorrow"

The dance this year has been named to represent its theme, that of the New York World's Fair. The theme is to be worked out with the use of a gigantic crystal ball located in the center of the room—the trylon and perisphere will be worked into a suitable set-up near the stage. At the lower end of the gym, a gigantic "coke-bar" will be found, all adding up to a magnificent arrangement throughout. The chairman of the decoration committee reports that the plans have so far proved that the dance this year will be one of the grandest affairs ever.

Eddie Theissen Takes Over

Eddie Theissen, the grand band of Wisconsin, will take care, we are sure, in admirable form, of the assignment of music presentation.

Sigma Tau Delta Adopts New Plans

This year Sigma Tau Delta, the honorary literary society, has adopted a new program. Each month the members will submit contributions of literature that will be sent to chapters of Sigma Tau Delta in several other colleges. They will select the best contribution of the month. In May, prizes, which will consist of a membership to the Book of the Month Club, will be presented to the winners. In December the contributions will consist of verse; in January, narrative prose; in February, book review; in March, verse; in April, expository, impressionistic, or descriptive prose. Chapters in Carrol College, Lake Forest College, Whitewater, DeKalb, and Illinois Normal College will be the judges in this contest.

Initiation for Sigma Tau Delta pledges has been postponed from Monday night to Wednesday at seven o'clock.

EACH PENNY COUNTS

Year after year when the Christmas season arrives, we see advertising promoted by the W.A.T.A. for the sale of its seals. We are urged by mail and by personal representatives to do our part, small as it may be, in this work. Year after year when the campaign is in full swing, we meet those who do not understand why their little bit is needed. Are you one of them?

The "seal sale pennies" are used to foster a work that is of vital importance to each of us. Already much good has resulted, and it is hoped that much more will be accomplished with the aid of people throughout the country.

What services are performed with the "seal sale pennies"? The functions of the W.A.T.A. are to cooperate and to stimulate. Through the mediums of its Medical, Social Service, and Nursing Departments, a concentrated effort is made to reduce the number of deaths caused by tuberculosis. Individuals, official health agencies, and communities lend their support. The death rate in Wisconsin in 1937 dropped from 33.1 to 29.6 in 1938, with indications that 1939 may set a new record.

The physicians employed in the Medical Department receive and interpret X-ray films, about half of which are sent in by private physicians throughout the state. The cases are carefully studied, and the diagnosis and recommendations returned to the attending physician. Time is saved for the inexperienced medic, and the diagnosis has a greater possibility of accuracy. The Social Service Department deals with the sanatoriums, and the T.B. clinics. The former attempts to reduce the spread of T.B. by isolation and to help the patient fight the active disease. The clinic aims to catch the disease in its early stages and so get at the root of the trouble. The Social Service and the Nursing Departments work together a great deal, but the nurses also have the responsibility of making individual calls to homes—and these are increasing in number.

Taken all in all, the work undertaken is valuable to American life in general, and to us as individual citizens. Isn't its protection and help worth a few of our pennies? Is it not fair that it be encouraged to expand its efforts?

Shootin' from the Lip

The football season is over; winter has announced its intention of visiting our land, and now to top off all these sad events, term papers are staring us in the face. We can understand that football must give its men a rest, and that winter must come due to the make-up of the universe, but why the inevitability of term papers?

Certainly the papers are supposed to show results of painstaking research and the stench of burnt midnight oil combined to make the student adept at gleaning hidden material from a number of authoritative volumes as well as an authority on his chosen topic. Also the student is supposed to learn the technique of writing these which are so necessary for degrees beyond those obtainable in an ordinary liberal arts college.

We'll grant that each of these desired results is fine. Yes, they are wonderful if attained. The question is "Are these ends achieved?" You know the answer. In eight out of ten cases the answer is "Emphatically, no!" Surprising? Certainly not. Years of experience have shown that the end is not worth the means in more cases than not. From the students' angle, the chief desire is a good mark in the course that requires the paper. If this mark can be obtained without hours of extra labor: if a student can obtain from a friend a paper that has already run the gauntlet and came out with an "A", what would be the object in being conscientious and doing a lot of work entirely unnecessary?

Thus the student thinks (generally, mind you), and the massive piles of manuscripts that pile on the instructors' desk show his thoughts. These papers in practically every instance prove to be page on page of plagiarism under the more polite term, research. How can it be otherwise? Except in cases which call for answers to form letter questions and first hand experiments, the ideas presented are all a rehash of statements expressed by someone else.

Then too, there is the matter of recognition for work well done by those few who actually do work long and hard endeavoring to turn in a fine piece of work. Only the instructor or perhaps only his assistant get to read the papers. With fifty or sixty papers to be perused and graded, how can their worth be judged properly and their content graded right? It is practically a physical impossibility for an instructor to read and grade all papers. If the work is left to an assistant, as is many times the case, the author, I should say writer, of a paper is a victim of inexperience and indulgences in personalities. Oftentimes "A" papers have been cast aside with lowly "B's" because of this. The student realizes all this and his work is bound to show it. So we say, "Why term papers?"

If term papers are absolutely essential, why aren't the courses charted like many at the universities where an extra credit hour is given for a good piece of work?

Says Dr. Lawyer, instructor in Nonsmoking Science at Pennsylvucky Subnormal, "If all the term papers I have received in the last 22 years were stacked one on the other, they would make a great fire!"

A CHANGE OF LOCAL COLORING

I knew a lass, her eyes were blue,
 Her lips were red,
 Her teeth were white,
 And her hair was of a golden hue.
 But now, alas! Her lips are blue,
 Her eyes are red,
 Her hair is white,
 And her teeth are of a golden hue.
 For Father-Time, the mean old thing,
 Has changed the local coloring.

POINT DOWNS STOUT IN THRILLER

Open Season With 26 To 25 Victory

In a closely fought battle, Point came through in the final minutes to beat a rugged Stout aggregation. It was a typical early season game; ragged, rough, and fast. The bare was on the floor a great deal of the time and that mid-season polish was not around.

Stout lead the entire first half, paced by the rangy pivot man Warner, who rung up nine points. Point's shooting from the floor was ragged and the half ended with Kotal's boys on the short end of a 20 to 14 score.

Pointers Come Back

The Pointers came back the second half and played Stout even to the closing minutes of play. With two minutes left in the game, Slats Seffern sank a sucker shot, to make the score 24 to 25 in favor of Stout. After several seconds of fast play, Hank Warner popped one in from the free throw line, giving Point a 26 to 25 victory.

LAST NIGHT'S GAME
Coach Kotal's basketball team dropped a 46-35 decision to St. Norberts last night. After getting off to an early lead, the Pointer's offense bogged and the home team piled up enough points to sew up the game. Terzynski copped the scoring honors with nineteen points. Pete poured in six buckets and seven free throws. Point's starting lineup included Warner and Terzynski, forwards; Seffern, center; Bohan and Van Dyke, guards; Bagnell, Olk, Anderson, Stein, Belongia, Klake, and Trankle also saw action.

Hank Warner lead the scoring with nine points and Tony Anderson starred on defensive. Warman and Murphy lead the losers.

By Jim Duecker "ON THE BALL" And Mason Atwood

It seems that Louis (Polecat) Pozlusny was quite a hero when he went home for the holidays. He couldn't figure out who was spreading the bull, until someone told him that Dr. Kulidas had been sending news to the "Chicago Heights Star". Well you've got it coming, Louie.

Some of the boys have been bragging about their prowess with a bowling ball and in a short time they will be given a chance to prove themselves. A match between the "Chi Deltis" and "Phi Sigs" is being arranged, and should come off before the Christmas holidays. The teams are evenly matched and there should be lots of life and pepper. This is the first series between the two teams and will become a yearly event.

The boys are having quite a time with "Romeo Joe Goodrich." Joe is having woman trouble and is consistently asking for advice. It seems that he has too many girlfriends and can't make up his mind. Make up your own mind, Joe. Don't believe anything the gang around school tells you.

Coach Kotal is trying to book a game with the "Gamble All Stars" of Thorp. Chet Rinka, former Point star, plays with Thorp along with Preboski, formerly of the Oshkosh All-Stars. If the game goes through it should be a treat to see Chet in action again. In a game that he played against the Oshkosh All-Stars last year, he was picked as the outstanding man on the floor, by the Minneapolis sports writers. This is quite an honor and Chet deserves it.

Our college basketball fans might take a lesson from some of our Training School pupils when it comes to cheering. We noticed some budding cheerleaders among this group. Keep it up boys, the players appreciate the support. With a little more practice, Andy will be leading the college cheering section.

On Friday of this week the basketball team will travel to Menominee for a return game with Stout. The boys got a bad scare last Monday night and are looking forward to a bigger margin of victory.

FACULTY NEWS

The faculty of C.S.T.C. and their wives have set Tuesday evenings at 7:30 for general recreation in the College Gym. Thus far the activities have been confined to badminton, but volley ball and ping pong tournaments are being planned.

Those already proficient at the art of coinciding racquet and bird are Mr. Morrison, Dr. H. Tolo, Mary Jane Van Deraa, Dr. Pierson, Adele Davidoff and Mr. L. Burroughs. These all do declare that their informal Tuesday evening tournaments are most invigorating and enjoyable.

SOCIAL DANCING

Did you know that Central State Teachers' College in Stevens Point, our own college, has social dancing in the gym on Thursday nights? Well, they do. Dancing starts at 8:15—good music (all the latest orchestras on the phonograph). But there's a catch—the phonograph needs records and needles; so from now on a fee of five cents will be charged for admission. Come on down—lots of fun—no dates necessary.

PROGRESSIVE CLUB

The Progressive Club is sponsoring a movie benefit for the purpose of purchasing motion picture equipment for the college. The feature will be "Spain In Arms", to be presented at the Lyric Theater on December 21 to 22. Central State appreciates the efforts of this growing organization.

Mr. J. Burman will be the main speaker at the club's regular meeting, Tuesday evening, December 12. The Progressives are scheduling the following speakers for January and February: Congressman Reid Murray, Assemblyman Paul Alfonsi, former floorleader in the State Assembly, Senator Phil Nelson, Assemblyman John T. Kostuck, Assemblyman Julius Sperbraker, and Senator Fred R. Fisher of the twenty-first Senatorial district.

"HOME EC" CLUB

The Home Ec club will entertain its members at the annual Christmas party, Monday evening, December 11, at South Sims Cottage.

Rollie McManners is confined to the hospital at Black River Falls with a slight touch of pneumonia. Rollie, the president of the Grammar Round Table, took with him his infectious laugh and happy smile. His absence from C.S.T.C. halls is felt and we are looking forward to seeing him again.

Mr. Oscar Neale gave a speech at the School Board Convention at Princeton, Green Lake County, on November 27.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Steiner and Nancy spent Thanksgiving week-end with John and Bob Steiner in Madison.

Miss Mae Roach is going to talk to the N.Y.A. Center for girls on December 7.

PRIMARY COUNCIL

The annual Christmas project of the Primary Council is now under way. As in previous years, the girls in the primary department will each contribute ten cents toward the Christmas fund. The sum of their collection will be given to the Stevens Point chapter of the Red Cross.

LIBRARY NOTE

Another W.P.A. project is being carried on at C.S.T.C. The library workroom is being remodeled so that the floor will be level between the text book library and the library office. More shelving will be put in to provide for much needed space for books.

RURAL LIFE CLUB

The Rural Life Club held the first regular meeting of this month on Monday, the fourth. The speaker of the evening was Mr. Herling who gave a talk on "Propaganda". A skit on propaganda was also given by Warren Lensemire and Mary K. Copper.

The few members of the Rural Life Club who missed the regular scheduled meeting on Monday night to attend a game which all of us would have enjoyed seeing, had the time of the game not been changed to our date, will no doubt be interested to know that the program was very interesting and instructing.

SPORTS - IN - SHORTS

Badminton enthusiasts—There is mixed badminton on Wednesday evening at 7:15. Come out and have fun like the badminton players had last year.

On Tuesday and Thursday from five to six after school there is badminton for women.

There's still time to pay your ten cents to Miss Davidoff for ping pong. The new equipment won't be put in use until all have paid. Hurry!

Students and faculty of C.S.T.C. are invited to attend the "Open House" of the newly established College Radio workshop, located on the basement floor. "Open House" will be held from 2:00 to 5:00 P.M. on Friday, December 8th.

THE MUSIC PARADE

Our last band broadcast, which was conducted by student directors, namely Phil Dakin, Betty Johnson, Izzie Mannis, Bill Miller, and Eileen Atkins, went over quite well in spite of the absence of Mr. Michelsen, who was enjoying (?) the program from his bedside. We were sorry he had to "cut" his class—especially at a time like this. Everyone was happy to see him back in school the next day.

The mixed chorus, composed of about thirty-five members, gave its first broadcast of the season Monday afternoon. From all reports the program came over well. Ula Mae, able accompanist, insisted on playing "Holiday" up to the time of the broadcast, and Art Stapel paced the floor for fear she might forget to stop before they went on the air.

Art is doing a fine piece of work with his chorus and we hope to hear from them again in the near future.

Rollie McManners, our jovial bass player, has left quite a gap in the band since his absence due to illness. We all wish him a speedy recovery and hope that Rollie will be seen rushing down the halls again real soon.

John Yurkovitch is selling Christmas trees to earn money for his second semester tuition. It's refreshing to see a fellow who wants to come to school badly enough to really earn his way. More power to ya, John.

A few weeks ago we candidly reminded the students of Oshkosh that we didn't appreciate their methods of handling the people from opposing schools, especially at their homecoming dance. Up to now we have been very secret about our actions. However we now confess that we did send them (post paid) a few annotated copies of a Pointer which expressed our views. It seems a few of these copies found the hand of some ingenious student who took the liberty of putting them in some conspicuous places on the Oshkosh campus. The Dean of Women, who was in the main responsible for our hurried evacuation, was put in a somewhat torrid position. As a compensating act, she has been persuaded to allow the students of Oshkosh to have a sweater and skirt dance on condition that the boys also wear ties and shirts. (She didn't mention the girls) Perhaps Gus and Smithee set the precedent with their ankle sox and sports attire—Sybeldon introduced the sweater angle—All of which leads us to believe that the students from C.S.T.C. opened a new and fascinating world to the students of Oshkosh. Score one for Point.

Senior Ball This Saturday Night

Dancing will be from nine to one o'clock. In the receiving line, in addition to the King and Queen and the chairman Norman Benson and Joyce Sullivan, will appear Regent and Mrs. W. S. Delzell, Dean and Mrs. Steiner, and Pres. and Mrs. E. T. Smith.

Committees Report

All the committees in reporting show that they have worked to their greatest extent. Norman Benson, the general chairman, makes the statement that no expense has been spared and the dance is to be the greatest ever. Evelyn Sonnenberg and Joe Ophoven report that with all the combined ideas of several of our campus's greatest individualists, they have what they think is the most original idea that has ever been used for any ball ever given on the campus. The reports of all other chairmen have brought to light the fact that it will take a long time and much hard work to equal this grand party to be given Saturday night. So get your tickets; the Senior Class wishes to extend a whole-hearted invitation to you all.

however, as has been the policy of the Forensic Association in past years to help defray expenses.

Contest Handled by Stage NYA

Members of the NYA stage crew, with the help of other College Theater members have made the arrangements for these two contests this year. Joe Ophoven, Contest Manager, with the aid of Barbara Gerdes, Theater Secretary, has handled all correspondence and arranged for the provision of necessary properties and the like, while Don Krider has taken care of the managing of the stage. Norman Benson and Clarence Solberg have acted as stage hands, and lighting effects have been handled by Earle Siebert.

We urge you to turn out for these plays—you'd be surprised at the quality of work some of our high schools really put out. The plays are varied types—some are heavy and emotional, while others are light comedies or fantasies.

Two Freshmen Win Trip To Chicago

Debate Tourney Is Materializing

The Forensic Society reports that replies have been received from colleges in nine out thirteen states asked to participate in the Wisconsin Valley Debate Tournament which is to be held at the college on February 22, 23, and 24. Replies have been received from men's and women's divisions in colleges in Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Indiana, Missouri, Illinois, North Dakota, Iowa, and Ohio. Trophy awards will be presented to the winners of this tournament.

A debate tourney is to be held here between Central State and Eau Claire teams either the 9th or 16th of December, and an individual tournament will follow to determine the varsity teams to represent Central State later in the season.

No "No-Cut Days" At The University

This came from the University of Wisconsin:

Students have petitioned successfully to abolish no-cut days before and after vacations. Heretofore, the students had to have a special permit to be excused. There were so many excuses requested that the office couldn't cope with the number. Now the administrative body at the University has discontinued the penalties connected with cutting classes before and after a vacation period until next fall when they will meet again to decide on definite future plans.

BOWLERS WANTED

It seems that there are a great number of students in our College who are bowling enthusiasts. Everyone you talk to is either bragging about his average or moaning about the number of splits. As long as everyone is bowling how about forming a college league? We should be able to find eight teams to bowl some night of the week. Anybody interested get in contact with Franz Arvold or the Pointer office. If you find the men we'll arrange for the alleys.
