

BANNER HOMECOMING EXPECTED

Theater Presents One Acts Nov. 8

College Theater's first production of the year, three one-act plays, will be given in the college auditorium Wednesday evening, November 8. This program is presented for C.S.T.C.'s students, and admission will be granted by virtue of student activity tickets presented at the door.

Student Produced

These three one-acts are being directed by College Theater members who have had experience in past productions, and all scenic, lighting, and makeup work is being supervised by College Theater members. New participants have been given jobs on the various technical phases of production, to give them an opportunity.

NICOLET WEEK OCTOBER 16 TO 21

Students of the grades and high schools of Stevens Point are contributing this week to a state-wide project of erecting a monument in honor of Jean Nicolet. He was the first white man to set foot on the soil of Wisconsin. This monument, which will be erected on the state capitol grounds at Madison, will be a gift to the state from her school children. The contribution of each student will not exceed ten cents.

The announcement concerning the program of the unveiling ceremonies will be made through the office of City Superintendent Vincent, or Principal Kraus, and County Superintendent Bannach. The children of the state will be invited to these exercises.

This program is being approved by many eminent Wisconsin leaders, and they are assisting the Executive Council of the Jean Nicolet Memorial Commission. President E. T. Smith and County Superintendent Bannach are cooperating as members of the State Advisory Board.

By a joint proclamation of Governor Heil and State Superintendent of Schools, John Callahan, schools will observe Nicolet Week from October 16th to the 21st in honor of this young discoverer and explorer who landed at Red Banks in 1634.

NOTICE!!

"Mums" for Homecoming will be sold Thursday and Friday on the second floor and Saturday at the game. Buy early. There is only a limited number this year.

Speech Class Prepares 15 Minute Programs

The Speech Class is busy preparing a series of fifteen minute radio programs which will portray the personalities of those who have made Wisconsin the state it is today. The story will be carried from the discovery of Wisconsin by Jean Nicolet up to the present time.

On Wednesday, Friday, and Monday, October 23, three scripts will be given before the class. Each script will have been written, corrected, and audited before it is presented to the radio committee. If these presentations meet with approval, a sustained program will be arranged.

INCREASED TUITION SPIKED AS RUMOR

President E. T. Smith announced that the rumor regarding the raising of tuition is unfounded. Even though the teachers' college budget should be cut there would be no point in increasing entrance fees, because all money taken in by these schools goes into the General Fund. Therefore raising tuition in our school would not directly relieve the financial situation here.

Salaries May Be Cut

The General Fund is not large enough to meet the extra expenses put on it by the legislature. There have been several new appropriations made by that body with no provision to pay them. Unless the legislature (in a special session) devises some extra taxation, there will be a cut in the Teachers' College Budget. This will probably result in a decrease in the salaries of the faculty.

PARADE, GAME, DANCES FEATURE THE WEEK-END

The biggest homecoming of years under the leadership of its able chairman, Mr. Evans, gets under way Friday night; beginning at 7:00 with a general get-together of all peppy students in the assembly. This is to be followed by the bonfire built by the freshman class at which time real pep will be built up in all individuals. When activities reach a good peak, and the fire has burned low, a snake dance and parade down into town will take place ending up finally at the Training School Gym where cider and doughnuts are to be served. The evening will be concluded in grand style with the Inter Greek Dance held at the Hotel

Peter J. Michelsen Organizes Alumni Homecoming Band

Mr. Peter J. Michelsen is again the founder of a new organization which can and should be the beginning of a great CSTC homecoming tradition. He is calling home all band grads for an Alumni Band which will be the first of its kind on the campus.

As CSTC has no established alumni organization, this association could, in a few years, become the nucleus of a successful alumni group.

We heartily approve your plan, Mr. Michelsen. We hope it will be a success.

The following letter was sent to all available prospects. It serves to explain to you the ends intended.

What is the idea? Well, here it is: A bright idea hit the bandmaster at C. S. T. C. this morning. Yes, I have an idea and here it is:

I am calling HOME all C. S. T. C. BAND GRADS to form an ALUMNI BAND for the HOME COM-ING PARADE Saturday morning and you are one of them.

Central Staters Make Good At School Of Art

Several former students of C. S. T. C. have, because of their artistic ability, transferred to the Layton School of Art, where they have distinguished themselves in that field.

Marjorie Stefle, a former member of the Primary department, graduated from "Layton" last spring, and is now a member of the teaching staff of that school.

Marvin Fryer, a '38-'39 scholarship student of the above institution, has received a part-time scholarship and is continuing his studies there.

One of C.S.T.C.'s former basketball centers, Bob Cardiff, studied at Layton also, and has entered the professional field in Milwaukee where he is working on the Federal Art Project, "Index of Design." The project is directed by Ruth Reeves, America's foremost woman designer.

A REAL WELCOME

Homecoming rolls around with the passing years, and each time we all work to make it the biggest and best event of the year not only for ourselves but for our friends of former days. This year is no exception. We want to rekindle into those who no longer fill the halls from day to day the enthusiasm and loyalty that they experienced some time before. We want them to know that we are experiencing that same feeling today. We want to impress upon them the bond that links our lives to theirs.

This year our "welcome home" should be a little more sincere—it should mean more than mere outward display of gaiety and pep, of loyalty and friendship. The feeling within ourselves should be a little more reflective. We are quite apart from the war-torn world of today, but how long with this last? How long may we continue to enjoy the privilege of being able to "welcome home" our friends on such an occasion and in such numbers?

Just amid the pleasures and the excitement of this week let's think what homecoming means to us and what it means to those who are coming back. Let's make those thoughts our goal. We don't have to lessen our joviality or slack up on our pep, but we can show our appreciation of that ambition by making our smiles more genuine, our handclaps stronger, and our friendships truer.

THE MUSIC PARADE

The College Concert Band had its annual election of officers last Thursday, October 12. The students to hold office were as follows:

- Phil Dakin President
Louie Hamel Vice President
Leota Brandt Secretary
Roland McManners Treasurer
Betty Johnson Band Sponsor
Evelyn Schwingle Press Representative

During rehearsal Friday afternoon a recording was made of the band as it played "Finale" Overture, directed by Ben Goldberg, an alumnus visitor. A few minutes later it was played back through the loud speaker and everyone heard the selection as it shouldn't be played. Every squeak and blue note was silently accounted for but the silence was much too outspoken. Intermittently each solo player slumped farther in his or her chair and our solo clarinetist had to seek shelter beneath the marimba. Small wonder!!

IN THE MAIL BOX

October 15, 1939

Dear Editor,

It seems to me that we of C.S.T.C. ought to do some serious thinking about a few of the ordinary rules of conduct that have been in question in the not too distant past.

Only recently, the topic of how to dress at school dances and other functions has been challenged. Are we any more in the right because we don't require coats or jackets at our dances, than Oshkosh is because they do? I doubt it very much! And it is certainly bad taste to brag about the fact that we do things differently.

It would be a worthwhile idea if we stopped appearing in shirts, sweaters and sweat shirts that we have sported all day and week at classes, and added the suit coat or jacket. We can be just as informal and have just as much fun without being messy and unkempt.

Imagine what a group of Oshkosh people would say if they attended one of our dances!!! Or am I too critical?

Signed, Interested

Shaatin' from the Dip

Louie Ravioli writes his pal Joe about his last football trip.

Stevens Point, Wis.
October 15, 1939

Dear Joe,

We have just pulled in from the football trip to Peoria and even though I am awful tired from the long ride I believe I will write you and tell you a few things about our trip.

We start from Point early Friday morning so of course we don't go to any classes that day. That, Joe, is one nice thing about playing football. We get a chance to cut a lot of classes without anybody getting mad.

The trip is uneventful until we get to LaSalle, Ill. We spend the night there to break up the ride a bit on account of it gets awful monotonous to ride 350 miles all in one jaunt. We stay at a fine hotel called Kaskaskia in LaSalle and of course here the fun starts. The minute we get our rooms we all rush to the elevator in order to see who gets to the stationary first. Bernstein, our big guard, shows lots of pep in cases like this. He is the first one to his room this time again and so gets the right to all the hotel stationary, soap, and the right to sleep next to the window. Parr is kind of slow this trip, so he has to watch his chance and grab the paper and soap that some of the other boys have beat him to. He also has his eye on an elevator sign in the hall but it don't fit in my grip so he leaves it there. He is plenty chagrined on account of he thinks the sign would look nice in our rooms.

After supper in the hotel we go out to see the town. Some of the boys go to the show and some go bowling but most of us are keeping an eye peeled for Judys. We are disappointed plenty Joe, on account of it looks like LaSalle is a man's town. The coach says we have to be in at eleven because Bradley is a tough outfit and we got to have plenty sleep. Surprisingly enough Joe, the boys are all in bed at 11:30.

We get up about 8:30 and have dinner about 9:30 so we can play a better game. Trankle gives us all quite a laugh at dinner when he eats a bowl of gravy and says he thinks it is his soup.

We get to Peoria about 12:00 and go right out to the field house where we put on our uniforms. We are all pleased to see that we are known as Wisconsin State down there and folks are paying $1.65 to see us play.

We are all pepped up Joe and figure if we can beat Bradley we will be plenty all right. Everyone thinks we can beat these guys and get our school in the papers. Geez, Joe, how are we to know that these truck drivers from Ill. don't share our thoughts? They have not been licked in 15 starts and do not intend to show us the kind of hospitality that would let us win even by a little bit. Hospitalize is more to the point, Joe, but they are real polite about it. They do not hit us without letting us know first. For instance one gentleman tells Bernstein thought they were. In fact, they did that he does not think Bernstein is enjoying himself enough and he should rest on the bench a little bit. On the next play Bernstein has his nose spread pretty thin over his cheeks and so the coach takes him out. I catch a few knuckles on the mouth myself once so I really struck a handful of lime down a big tackle's mouth on the next play. His language is terrific, Joe. He is real mad Joe, so he takes a poke at Roy Otto the first chance he gets. It promises to be a regular Silver Street brawl until the referee takes off his dark glasses and begins penalizing Bradley for unnecessary roughing every few minutes.

We played a good close game Joe, they were not nearly as good as we not make a single touchdown in the

The Megaphone

Well! Well! It seems like the football trip down at Bradley was a great success—in a few ways—it seems Red Smith likes 'em chubby and Ducky Van Dyke got quite a case on a little blond from Peru!

What Sophomore girl has ceased to drink Coca Cola and is spending most of her time at the Eat Shop?—Watch out Pat Cashin!

Ev Hillert was sure in the clouds this last week-end—Well, I suppose your boy friend can have only one birthday a year! How about it Ev!

I guess this column gave Jack Taylor's hat a little too much publicity last week because it seems that somebody borrowed it the next day and forgot to bring it back.

Bob Bretzke says that a man should always be the boss where a woman is concerned—What do you think about that girls?

A big week-end is expected by two of our coeds, Betty Gustin and Lillian Boe. Well anyway, people say there is nothing like an old romance.

I see Jeanette (Sophie) Van Natta doesn't limit her acting to the stage. (Well nothing like keeping them guessing).

I saw "The Women" the other day. All of the fellows hope that women don't really react that way.

Things seem to be improving considerably on the date situation. At least more girls seem to be leaving the dorm every night—

We find once in a while that gentlemen do prefer blondes. For full particulars, get in touch with "Rochester" Aucutt.

Pat Kennedy seems to be having girl trouble—He's even working on an import, Betty Berg by name. (Well Milwaukee does turn out some good ones.)

Dorothy Seick and Jerdis Halverson sure upset the dorm with their report on the Bradley game.

So long again, my good friends, be back again before you know it. You know there's nothing like Gossip.

CLUB AND SOCIETY

TAU GAMMA BETA

The alumnae members of Tau Gamma Beta Sorority entertained the sorority and its rushees at a scavenger hunt Wednesday night. Prizes were awarded to the winning group. A lunch was served at the Presbyterian Church parlors.

A formal dinner and bridge was given at the Hotel Whiting Saturday as a rushing party. Yellow chrysanthemums and tapers carried out an autumn note in decorations. Prizes at bridge were awarded to Fay Wendorf and Helen Scheinert.

The Tau Gams are pledging Margaret Johnsen, Betty Johnson, Grace Okray, Alice Wagner, Fay Wendorf.

"PHI SIGS"

The "Phi Sig House" was the scene of the fraternity's second rushing party last Thursday evening.

The boys amused themselves by playing cards and ping pong and really had a "bang-up" time. Bud Menzel was winner of high stakes (a pocket full of matches) and Doc Pierson was ping pong champion.

No kidding fellas, he's really good.

Their pledges are: Robert Baebenthor, Frank Pliner and Robert Nixon.

CHI DELTA PARTY AT IVERSON

Chi Delta Rho fraternity held its second rushing party at Iverson Lodge. Nine guests were present, and the evening was spent in more ways than one. Some of the fellas played cards for "swats", while the more musically inclined tendered to the orthophonic. Two of XAP's "little cut ups," Ted Fritsch and Ed Slotwinski proved to be the "gang" that they are born dancers—so they think, but reports have it that it was funny.

President Spindler gave a short talk and was followed up by comments from "Doc" Tolo, Mr. Knutzen, and Jim Deucker. Hot dogs and coffee climaxed the evening's fun, and as usual no one was hungry!

Pledging began Tuesday night. The fellows going "Chi Delt": Robert Abb, Elroy Florence, Allan Kingston, Jordan Korotev, Dennis Roberts, and Harry Slabesheski.

"OMEGS" GIVE DUTCH DINNER

The active members of the Omega Mu Chi sorority entertained rushees, faculty, and guests at a formal dinner at Hotel Whiting on Thursday evening, October 12.

A Dutch motif was carried out in table decorations and favors. Little Dutch boys and their little Dutch girls chaperoned, with china blue eyes, over the progress of the dinner while the placard windmills were ever so still in deference to the occasion. Grace Melchior presided over the table. Miss Sue Colman and Mrs. H. M. Tolo spoke to the "Omegas" and their guests.

Ruth Bielke, Virgene Freeman, Barbara Gerdes, Leona Kulas, and Katherine Tyler are being pledged by Omega Mu Chi.

Y.W.C.A. CANDLE LIGHT SERVICE

The Y.W.C.A. of C.S.T.C. will hold their Candle Light Initiation Service next Thursday evening, October 26, at 7:30 o'clock. The meeting will be in the Nelson Hall recreation room.

All girls who wish to become members this semester are urged to come. If you were not there last time and wish to become a member, we invite you to be present next Thursday night.

Y. DUB HAS GUEST PARTY

Over 100 girls attended the informal gathering given by the members of the Y.W.C.A. last Thursday evening.

Ethel Hill took charge of scripture reading and prayer, and a short business meeting was held.

Doris Thousand and Viola Gericke gave interesting reports on the Geneva Y.W.C.A. conference. Viola and Doris were elected by the organization to attend this conference held at College Camp on Lake Geneva in June. Charlotte Reichel sang two beautiful selections, "Smilin' Through", and "God Bless America".

Popcorn and apples were served after the meeting and everyone had fun.

ALPHA KAPPA RHO

Alpha Kappa Rho will sponsor a luncheon Saturday noon for members of the fraternity, band alumni, and members of the College Concert Band. A large turnout is expected and everyone is looking forward to seeing old friends and familiar faces.

FACULTY NOTES

On Tuesday afternoon at 1:30, Mr. O. W. Neale will speak at the Waushara County School Board Convention which will be held at Hancock.

Miss Roach will go to Antigo Wednesday Night to address the opening meeting of the Catholic Woman's Club.

DORM DRIP'S DOPE

Well, well, well, if Homecoming hasn't rolled around again! The present indications are that next week end nearly all of the girls will have more than one roommate, as many alums are expected back at dead old Nelson, and a gala time we all plan to have—if not much sleep.

A committee, headed by that peppy little Frosh Edition of the Theisen family, is working on plans for Dorm representation in the parade—so we will have a float, we hope—the Y.W.C.A. plans to decorate the Dorm in true homecoming spirit. As far as Nelson Hall is concerned, we ought to have a fairly good homecoming—that is, if the rains hold off—and didn't for the past two homecomings.

Yeh, and homecoming ought to be pretty nice for some of those Campus widows—How about it "Gussie?"

POINTERS BATTLE FOR LEAGUE LEAD

KOTAL'S GRIDDERS SET TO HALT GREEN GULLS IN HOMECOMING TILT

POINT SQUAD INTACT ON EVE OF BATTLE, KOTAL SAYS

The southern division league lead will be at stake Saturday when Coach Eddie Kotal's Pointers tangle with the highly noted Milwaukee Green Gulls in Central State's thirtieth annual homecoming tilt. Still smarting under the 31 to 0 defeat suffered last Saturday at the hands of the powerful Bradley Tech eleven, the Point squad will enter the game determined to regain its prestige as well as to avenge three successive defeats by Coach Herman Kluge's undefeated Milwaukee squad.

EDDIE KOTAL

The defending champion Milwaukee team, boasting one of its strongest squads in recent years, comes here with conference victories over Platteville and Whitewater and a closely contested battle with the classy Carroll college aggregation. Led by the veteran all-conference quarterback Bobby Eckenrod whose spectacular passing and kicking accounted for their win over Stevens Point last year, the Green Gulls this year have a squad including 15 lettermen. Outstanding with the visiting team this year along with Eckenrod are (200-pound) "Tiny" Krzoska, all-conference holdover from last year's squad, and Luther Regan, one of the most promising freshmen at the University of Wisconsin last year who transferred to Milwaukee this year and fills the fullback spot. Judging from all available reports, Regan is even better than Vince Karpowitz, all-conference fullback who withdrew from school last year. Other lettermen include Art Edwards, Larry Janski, George Lieber, Steve Vrsata and Ray Bethke, backs, Tom Kamens, Kick Tews, Stan Drejer, Otto Schultz, Charlie Jacobson, Andy Dunner and Mike Knezevich, in the line.

The Central State "cripples", including Jim Duecker, quarterback who broke his hand in scrimmage before the River Falls game, Bill Carnahan-Ernie Ruppel and LaVerne Van Dyke, halfbacks, all of whom have knee injuries, Jim Hanig, who has an ankle injury, and Frankie Koehn, who has a charley

FORMER C. S. T. C. STAR NOW WLBL SPORTSCASTER

James "Mickey" McGuire, three times all-conference halfback with the Pointers has now followed in the footsteps of Frankie Fritsch, Charlie Grimm and other athletic notables by graduating into the class of the radio sportscasters.

McGuire broadcast a description of the Central State-Stout Institute game early this season and, considering the fact that it was his initial broadcasting effort, the broadcast was highly successful.

Although no definite assurance has been received from Madison authorities guaranteeing that the remaining home games on the Point schedule will be aired, plans are underway to carry Saturday's game as well as the remaining home games.

MaGuire, "the Ted Husing of the North," is now employed as assistant coach and high school teacher at P. J. Jacobs high school here.

horse, are all expected to be in shape and ready for action Saturday, Kotal said this week.

Point practices this year have been devoted mainly to pass defense in preparation for the Gulls vaunted aerial attack. The squad scrimmaged against Milwaukee plays which were run off by freshmen.

Kotal named the following tentative starting lineup this week: Dorsha and Bohan at ends, Slotwinski and Bernstein at tackles, Otto and Hucce and guards, Parr at center, Jim Cashin at quarterback, Postuzny and Koehn at halves, and Fritsch at fullback.

Homecoming Record Very Unheartening

A homecoming edition of a College paper should, according to Hoyle, be filled with optimism and boasts of the fine athletic records held by the local school. With this in mind we decided to compile a record of Homecoming games for the past "so-many" years. Imagine our dismay when we learned that during the last twenty years the majority of the winning scores were on the wrong side of the ledger. To be more specific, S.P.N. and C.S.T.C. have won six, lost eleven, and tied two Homecoming tilts since 1919. No, we didn't make a mistake in our arithmetic. It seems that this school was financially embarrassed even before Mr. Heil took office. In 1929, according to the POINTER, a lack of funds made it necessary to play all football games away from home. Hence, no Homecoming!

However, after spending so much time on this research we feel that we ought to print the results. If it does nothing else than save some future sports-ed the disappointment that we have experienced it will be worth the space. At any rate we do not mean to cast any pessimism on Saturday's festivities. Let's go out and break that jinx and start the next twenty years with a victory! Oh yes, we nearly forgot to put in the record.

"On The Ball" --

By Mase and Jab

The boys from Bradley don't stand for any "smarting off", judging from reports on Bernstein and Reading. We noticed that both Bob and Rog have been rather quiet this week.

Congratulations to Webb Berard. We have just received word that Webb has been appointed head basketball coach at Ashland. He will continue as assistant football coach.

Listed among the casualties on the Peoria trip is "Doc" Kullidas. Jim survived the game all right but seems to have had a mishap on the return trip.

Bill Carnahan, freshman quarterback, is already making plans for the Whitewater game. Wallie Garvne, one of Carnahan's teammates at Marshfield last year, is playing left end for the Quakers.

Did you know that Point hasn't won a Homecoming game since 1934? Illinois Wesleyan, De Kalb, and Whitewater, spoiled the '35, '36 and '37 celebrations and Mankato scored a 0-0 tie last year. Let's break that jinx!

Guy Krumm has been setting quite a pace with his Kaukauna football team. Five straight wins is good work in any language. Nice work Guy!

A party of about ten Point boosters from Chicago Heights traveled to Peoria to see the game. Bohan, Postuzny, and Coach Kotal are all products of Bloom High School in the Heights. Louis P. put on quite a show for the home town fans.

WRITER RECALLS ALL-TIME C. S. T. C. FOOTBALL STARS

On the eve of this homecoming anniversary, the Pointer sports-ed was reminded of the selection of two Central State all-time all-star teams which were picked several years ago by a board consisting of H. R. Steiner, Fred Schmeckle, A. J. Herrick, R. M. Rightsell and the late Frank N. Spindler all of the college faculty.

No more appropriate time to re-list these stars of former years could possibly be found than this annual homecoming period, and so with all due respect to all of the alums' who have ever represented Central State on the gridiron, we present the following review of the all-time greats as selected arbitrarily by the above board. The first of the two teams selected was picked from players who played in the period from 1901 to 1923 while the second team consists of players in the period from 1924 to '34 with several additions added by the writer.

Old Timers

At the end posts for the old time pigskin toters we find Dan Horn of the 1920 team and Ed McCarr of the 1922 team. Carl Anschuetz of the undefeated 1920 team and Joe Pope '17 plug up those tackle spots. Ermin Smith '22 is teamed with Truman Thorson '16 at guard and Carl Whitney of the 1911 team was selected as center. In the backfield, Walter Murat of the 1905 eleven was selected as the outstanding quarterback and Harvey Schofield '10 and George Holman '20 were teamed at the halfback posts. At fullback was big Willis Zorn of the 1920 aggregation, who later gained national fame under H. A. Staggs at Chicago.

What Reserve!

Along with this first all-star eleven, the board selected the following alternates of equal rank with the above from the same period: Sydney Eagleburger of the undefeated 1920 team at quarterback; Aaron Ritchie and Ferdinand Hirzy, both of the undefeated 1920 squad also at the half back posts; Leslie Bourne of the 1924 team at fullback and Carl Blume of the 1915 eleven at center.

'24-'34 Team

Albert J. Neuberger '32 and Smith Davis '24 were paired at ends on the all-star team for the period from 1924 to 1934. At the tackle posts were Ted Menzel of the undefeated '34 team and Henry Bannach of the 1932 team. Greg Charlesworth of the class of '33 and Charles Sparhawk '34 were paired as the guards and Ben Weronke was named center. Line alternates were Myron Smith of the undefeated '29 team and Frank Menzel and Oscar Copes, both of the undefeated '34 eleven.

In the backfield, Warren Becker of the undefeated '34 team was named quarterback. Forest McDonald '32 and Fritz Vaughan '27 were paired as halves and Harold Paukert was put in the fullback spot. Woodrow Dagneau, of the undefeated '28 team, Vic Vrobel '32 and Ronald Murray of the undefeated '34 team were named as alternates.

Plus Mickey

Certainly since that time, we would be obliged to add the name of Jim "Mickey" McGuire who has starred in the Point backfield for the past three years.

And so as we celebrate this homecoming, we salute all of these "greats" of former years."

PIGSKIN PERSONALITIES

ERNIE RUPPEL

A small but smashing fullback who does a fine job at backing up the line is Ernie Ruppel. Although he weighs only 154 pounds, he combines speed with deception. Ernie is a senior who came up from Appleton High School, where he starred at football and tennis. He is an all-around athlete being, a tennis, badminton, and ping pong star. Ernie is recognized as one of the schools best dancers and does all right with the gals.

JIMMY CASHIN

Jim Cashin, a robust good looking chap, is head signal caller for the Pointers. Weighing 170 pounds, he has developed into a deadly blocker who is a ball hawk on pass defense. Jim is a home town boy and works down at the Stevens Point Journal almost every nite of the week. Though he is kept very busy working, he seems to find time for a certain blonde around school. Jim has two years left and that's good news.

FOUR FUMBLES PROVE COSTLY TO POINTERS

Four fumbles deep in its own territory proved costly to the Point squad, as it bowed to Bradley Tech 31-0 before 2500 fans at Peoria, Illinois, Saturday afternoon.

The score really does not indicate the comparative strength, for with any breaks at all the margin of defeat could have been reduced to a single touchdown — one which was fully earned on a 58 yard dash off tackle by Don Case.

Posluszny Outstanding

Louis Posluszny was again distinctly outstanding in carrying the Point offensive. Jim Cashin performed nearly the whole game at quarterback and did a fine job. Roy Otto and Greg Dorsha starred again in the line.

Bradley made nine first downs to Point's three. Five of Bradley's first downs were made by passes. Point made 65 yards, 10 by passes, and Bradley made 219 yards, of which 105 were by passing.

Homecoming History

Did you ever hear Miss Roach give a pep-talk? Of course, you have. They're as much a part of this institution as the building itself. She fills her audience with enthusiasm. Have you ever heard about the time she stirred the students to such a pitch of excitement that they decided to get up and stage a walk-out? Well, that really happened. They jumped out of their seats and were ready to fight anyone and anything. Miss Roach certainly didn't expect action like that. It was only after prolonged shouting and pleading that she was able to calm them down again. This incident took place at one of the homecomings years ago.

The tradition of celebrating homecoming dates back to about 1900. The school was built in 1894, but it wasn't until later, about 1910, that there were any football teams here. Homecomings have always centered around the football season and are usually in October. Oshkosh, one of the oldest rivals in the conference, is most often the team selected for homecoming.

Homecoming has always been about the same every year. Reunions of certain groups take place on Friday night and Saturday. Friday night there is a bonfire and a snake dance, sometimes both. The bon-fire is made on the athletic field. Last year the practice of serving refreshments in the gym was innovated. On Saturday forenoon the parade takes place. In the afternoon comes the highlight of the week-end—the football game. In former years a homecoming dance was held in the school gym, but the dancing space was inadequate for the crowd and it was then held in the Moose Temple. One year they tried having two dances at the same time, one at the Training School gym and one at the old gym. Now the dance is held at the P. J. Jacobs High School, with better music than before.

Many humorous incidents are related about former homecomings. It seems that there is one incident that stands out above all the others in the memories of the faculty. Years ago, in the parades, the floats were drawn by horses. This particular time the women of the faculty were on a hay-rack drawn by two horses. Ferdinand Hitzky thought it would be a good idea to have a cannon in the parade, so the cannon followed the hayrack. Escorting the cannon, at one side, was none other than our own Mr. Steiner, a knight in armor. The parade wended its way down Main Street, around the Square, down to the South Side, and back to the Square. Then, off went the cannon! The horses were so frightened by the noise that they started to run. Down the street went the hay-rack, with the scared teachers yelling at the tops of their voices. According to Mr. Steiner, his horse was very calm. It just stepped to one side. Mr. Steiner said, "I didn't move; I just stayed there—'til I hit the ground." But that wasn't all. The shock of the cannon was so great that it broke several windows in the buildings down town, and it was nearly two years before the controversy was settled as to who should pay for them.

In former years the faculty al-

I Saw A Homecoming

I saw a homecoming this year..... the most perfect one I've ever seen. The whole affair was so very clean and lively.....everybody seemingly in a most convivial mood. Activity reigned every minute. Events, both purposeful and well guided, gained the attention of "old Grads" and students alike.

Music is delightfully moving..... and the band of this old Alma Mater stirred up the spirit of the whole gathering. The mass banquet get-together climaxed the atmosphere of the whole reunion, — it was a wonderful influence in welding together the past with the present.

I hope Central State's homecoming may be as successful!

ways took part in the parades. That section seemed to be one of its highlights. Why it was discontinued no one seems to know.

Miss Roach tells about one year when the women of the faculty rode different kinds of vehicles; she rode a scooter (if one rides that sort of contraption). By the time she had pushed her way to the South Side and back, she said she had one well-worn shoe, and two well-worn legs.

In the past, students have stressed beauty in their floats. Now the trend seems to be in the direction of practicality and cleverness. Usually prizes are awarded at the informal dance for the best floats.

The parade has been one of the most interesting parts of past homecomings. Let's make this homecoming one to go down in history too.

Mr. Jenkins Addresses Rural Life Meeting

At the regular meeting of the "Rural Life" Monday night, Mr. Jenkins gave an interesting and instructive talk. His subject was, The European Situation As It Affects Us. He illustrated how democracy some two hundred years ago had begun in the minds of a few men, how it had gradually spread until the greater part of the world lived under that form of government, and has not been destroyed by armed force. He showed that revolutions which start and grow in the minds of men are never overcome by force, and expressed great doubt that Facism can ever be killed by overcoming any one man or group of men. People must come to the realization of what they want in government.

Major Bowes appeared in the person of Frank Splitek and conducted an amateur hour, dedicated to Stevens Point, the City of Wonderful Water. He gave a description of the city and advertised Central State Teachers College which can always supply those who are looking for first class teachers for any type of school.

portunity to become familiar with C.S.T.C.'s facilities for the staging of plays.

Henninger directs

Harlow Henninger, a Senior, is directing Engene O'Neill's ILE, a heavy drama revolving about the life of sailor folk. This play demands careful treatment throughout, and when presented effectively has much power. Evelyn Hillert has been chosen Assistant Director, and members of the cast include: Florian Sybdellon, Jerry O'Doherty, Jesse Johnson, Dorothy Brennen, Phil Anderson, Roger Olson, and Doris Abrahamson.

Mystery Thriller

Merville Meverden has undertaken the task of working up a successful presentation of Don C. Jones' INN OF RETURN. This play is powerful in itself, but depends upon the skill of one character to bring out the true effect. Joe Ophoven is assisting with the duties of directing, and members of the cast are: Charles Stoltenberg, Ken Brenner, Jack Franc, Jim Bagnell, Roger Olson, Lucille Neuman, Myrtle Morrow, and Jane Shier.

Comedy Too

Earle Siebert has chosen a fast, clever weaving comedy in LET'S HONEYMOON AGAIN by Norman Kenwill Fritsch. Troubles of marriage—the "mother-in-law menace" is perhaps the better phrase—are very humorously woven into a scream of a plot. Lillian Boe has been chosen Assistant Director, and Dorothy Raddant, Betty Smith, Duane Phaneuf, Rachael Kaplun, James Carew, and Isla Mae Wood comprise the cast.

Technical Staff Chosen

Technical Director, Earle Siebert, has chosen Jim Unger as his assistant to help carry out the responsibility for staging these three workshop plays. Norman Benson will work on lighting, and will be aided by Bob Burkman. As the plays differ so much in character, lighting for the three sets will be very interesting. Don Krider is Stage Manager, and will have Clarence Solberg, Lyle Graubusch, and Ken Brenner as his crew. Makeup Manager Madelyn Dävel will have as assistants, Margaret Murrish, Florence Kaplun, Jack Ackuman, Anna Mae Dean, Barbara Gerdes, Evelyn Hillert, Madelyn Lee, and Lillian Boe. Janet Poggemiller will take care of properties, and Mary Jane Bruener will do the necessary costuming. Auditorium Manager Franz Arvold will have charge of the programs and ushering, and John Yurkovitch will take care of advertising. Special effects will be handled by Clarence Solberg, and Business Manager Merville Meverden is in charge of the finances.

Banner Homecoming Expected This Year

Parade Saturday Morning

Saturday morning will really bring to light one of the most interesting traditions of homecoming in the form of the Parade. It is to be assembled at 9:30 on East College Avenue. Floats, the work of many organizations in the college, will be brought out in grand array. Each group hoping to win one of the prizes offered—No. 1—a silver cup and a three pound box of candy. No. 2—a banner and a three pound box of candy. No. 3—a three pound box of candy. At present the Tau Gamma Beta Sorority has possession of the silver cup, but from all reports there should be keen competition this year.

Music galore is expected—furnished by the college band, and an alumni band organization. The parade will begin on College Avenue, cross on Fremont, progress down Clark Street to the Public Square, then down Main Street, and back to the college.

Game in Afternoon

The afternoon activity commences at 2 o'clock with the interesting clash between C.S.T.C. and Milwaukee State at Schmeckle Field. From all past results of the two teams it should prove to be the best game of the year. Judging from the games throughout this season played by both teams the game should be a battle to the finish.

Homecoming Dance

The glamorous finale of the week-end will be the dance Saturday evening held at the P. J. Jacobs High School Gymnasium. Good music is to be expected by Ray Harris and his Indiana Aristocrats with fun for all. Thus ends another C.S.T.C. homecoming.

third quarter. They only made five altogether. After the game we shake their hands and say they played a fine game and they tell us we did too. So you can see there are no hard feelings except on our part.

We go back to LaSalle to spend the night and now the lid is off because there is no time we have to be in. Most of us go to a dance in a joint called the Auditorium. We have a fine time there because first we have all been to the taverns and have a few-beers. Hank Warner trips or something and falls flat on his back pockets. He says he is pushed and does not know why we laugh so loud. There are lots of sweet-looking Judys at the dance and most of the boys manage to take some home. Their girls cannot expect them to stay home and read papers all night, Joe. After all we have had a hard day. Reading makes friends real quick with an officer so he has an escort most of the evening. Cashin and Kalkofen meet up with some local sports so they do not spend any of their own dough except what Kal loses in a poker game in a gambling joint. They like the spots outside of town better so we don't see them until morning when they look awful sleepy. Posluzny and Bohan have some visitors from Chi so they do not spend any money either.

The trip home is uneventful too, Joe. Everyone is anxious to get back to Point to see their Judys because they have been gone three days. We get in about an hour ago.

I am pretty tired Joe and my jaw hurts so I will stop now.

Yours,
Louie

DEAN STEINER

TO THE ALUMNI:

Hello o' timer! Your friends here are arranging the annual home coming for this weekend. At that time the old grads will "reunite" and you will be urged by your gang to get here for all of the ceremonies. So whether your call comes from the old class of "empty ump" or from the gang that lives with you at the "Phi Delta Pooh" house you will find plenty of reason for being here. Don't forget that there is a new student body as anxious to meet you as you are to meet them.

The schedule of events is almost traditional. Plans for the day will center around a colossal parade in the morning, a football game with Milwaukee in the afternoon, and a big dance at the P. J. Jacobs High School auditorium in the evening. Come. Don't miss any of it.

Enthusiastically yours,
H. R. Steiner

PRES. SMITH

WELCOME!

One of the finest pleasures in life is to meet and greet old friends. This college is preparing to do that very thing on Friday and Saturday of this week. We hope that many of our former students will find it possible to return and we are planning to make their stay with us as enjoyable as possible.

To those who return to their "College Home", we bid a hearty welcome and extend the hope that they may so enjoy their return that they will come back to many more homecomings!

E. T. SMITH, President

MRS. FINCH

We at Nelson Hall extend a cordial invitation to all former Dormites to visit us during Homecoming weekend. We will be most happy to have you join our family and hope you will enjoy every minute of your stay with us.

C.S.T.C. Teachers Go To Madison Friday

Miss Susan E. Colman, director of Primary Education; Miss Lydia Pfeiffer, fifth grade critic; and Miss Gladys Van Arsdale, third grade critic; will go to Madison Friday to attend a Round Table Conference sponsored by the University of Wisconsin School of Education and the Progressive Education Association.

The consultations are to be divided into four groups—"The Evaluation of Pupil Development," "The Classroom Teachers and Guidance," "Democracy In The Classroom" and "The Use of Community Resources." Each panel is presided over by outstanding members in the field of education.

This conference is being held to enable a selected group of elementary and secondary teachers to discuss their problems under leaders who have specialized in these fields. These discussion groups are small, thus enabling exchange of ideas and experiences.

C.S.T.C. is fortunate to have teachers who are outstanding in education, and who are invited to participate in such a meeting.
