

PRESIDENT HANSEN ARRIVES

CHRISTMAS CONCERT TO BE GIVEN TWO NIGHTS

A mixed chorus of about one hundred fifty voices will be the special feature for the 10th annual Christmas Concert given by the College Music Department. In former years there has been a mixed chorus of about thirty members, but for the first time music enthusiasts of Stevens Point and surrounding localities will be able to hear the full chorus composed of the entire Men's Glee Club and Women's Glee Club. Because the auditorium has not been large enough to accommodate the audience, the Music Department has selected two days to present the per-formance. This year the program will be given on December 18 and 19. Christmas music will be played on chimes, marimba, and vibraharp from seven to eight o'clock before the actual performance begins. The processional will start at 8 o'clock.

There will be no admittance without tickets. Three hundred tickets will be issued for each night, which can be secured, free of charge, from the Music Department. Final announcements for securing tickets will be made later.

GREETINGS

As I assume my new responsibilities as President of Central State Teachers College, I find my mind frequently going back to some of my experiences of 1909 to 1911 when I was a student in this school. I extend greetings to you not only as your new President, but as a former student at this institution. I hope I may continue to be a student here. My objective is somewhat different now from what it was thirty years ago. I made a study of the school then, as you are doing now, with the purpose in mind of getting the best training I could for the teaching profession.

My responsibility now is to study the school to determine whether it serves faithfully the best interests of its student bodywhether it offers the maximum in training good teachers who will find a demand for their services when they finish their courses. That is what I conceive to be my job as your president.

No president can do this job alone. He can only do it through the cooperation and support of a loyal and competent faculty. Since arriving here to begin my work and for several weeks before coming here, I have had plenty of evidence of the friendly cooperation which the faculty is prepared to give. I hope that my contacts with the student body may be as friendly as have been those with the faculty. I am here to serve your interests and the interests of the boys and girls who may some day be your pupils.

Chaperones Pleased With Freshman Hop An Open Letter to the Freshman Class: May we congratulate you on the fine attitude that you showed at your first Freshman Hop last Thursday evening. We know that you were much disappointed be-cause the orchestra failed to arrive and you had to resort to orthophonic music, but you accepted the dis-appointment like good scouts. We like the sociable spirit at the dance and the friendliness that you showed to each other and to us.

May we especially congratulate your class officers, Jimmy Smith and Dan Durkee, on the initiative, responsibility, and cooperation that they exhibited in arranging and managing the Freshman Hop. We also want to thank them for their courtesies to us. Never have mere chaperones been treated more royally at any school affair.

ON PARLIAMENTARY LAW Miss Lulu M. Mansur, Librarian, announced today that the Library has added two revised editions of Parlimentary Usage, by Mrs. Emma A. Fox. This book should be of especial interest to debaters, club presidents, vice-presidents, and all those who are interested in forming new clubs or of their already established clubs. Mrs. Fox explains the laws for a con-stitution and for by-laws of the constitution, the duties of each officer, motions, voting, forms of address, recognition from the president, and information of the writing of minutes.

Mrs. Emma A. Fox, a teacher of parliamentary law, has reached the age of ninety-three, but she still continues her interest in parliamentary law and practice. She has served as official parliamentarian at conven-tions of many national and state organizations and also has been Honorary Vice President of the same club, and a member of the Detroit Board of Education

Welcome President Hansen!

We of the Pointer Staff on behalf of the student body, extend our sincere good wishes to President William C. Hansen. We hope the spirit of cooperation the students have shown in the past will be even more pronounced under our new leadership. Having himself been a student at C.S.T.C., Mr. Hansen has now returned to his old Alma Mater which we hope will continue to be his school for many years to come. We are glad to have you, Mr. Hansen. May your future here at Central State be very pleasant!

Other Editors Say . . .

It is the opinion of the Editor that many of our students very seldom have the privilege of reading editorials published in other college newspapers. Pointer editorials have at times been the target of verbal attacks of criticism, but constructive suggestions from the students have failed to come to our attention. Below are several exerpts from editorials which have appeared recently in college exchange copies. Note what they have to say.

......Unlimited cuts for all students...... plan considered practical for better and more thorough education It is the duty of the school to give the student everything it can It is not the duty of the school to compel the student to take it

-Illinois Wesleyan Argus

".....Forward America..... the American way has been brought about through advancement and discovery and learning in every line..... -The Stoutonia (Stout)

".....An editorial writer has only three alternatives from which to choose in filling this space. He can praise, blame or suggest. Since there are relatively few things to praise or suggest, and these must be handled with very great care and finesse, the editor of necessity becomes an intense critic of the school life and institutions..... -The Round Table (Beloit)

.....Dictator invasion of Balkans leaves England in a difficult position observers tend to believe Russia's aid is England's only hope England must keep control of the seas

-The Student Voice (River Falls)

".....Is the attitude of the American young people towards the pre-sent crisis reasonable?..... "College students," they say, "are the ones who are going to feel the effects of this war the most"..... they have no apparent regard for the grave situation confronting them Do they ?.....' -The Carroll Echo

WEST POINT OF THE AIR

EAGLES COME HOME TO ROOST

With a backdrop of darkling clouds, tempered by the chill winter twilight, a flight of basic trainers roars over the tower of Randolph Field's beautiful admini-stration building..... home to roost after a day of aerial maneuvers high in the Texas skies. «Over 350 of these low wing monoplanes wing aloft each day at the "West Point of the Air", from early morning until twilight, as the members of the Flying Cadet Corps soar toward their "Wings". As a vital part of the fast rolling defense program, 12,000 young eagles will fit themselves into this aerial pattern during the coming year. Their reward will be a Commission in the Air Corps and the tag line...... "The Most Perfectly Trained Pilots in the World."

I suppose if we could all have what we want for Christmas the furgiers would be rushed off their feet and it would take the automobile manufacturers until Feb-ruary to get caught up with their orders for "convertibles" with red leather up-holstery. But since most of our Christmas funds come from dimes saved here and there, we will crowd the aisles of Wool-worth's and any other place where our "little hoard" will cover all the items on our shopping list. Whether you made your list in October or are just now thinking about it, maybe it could stand some supplementary material... You really can get some "clever stuff" at the "Five and Ten". ORGANIZATIONS

NEWMAN CLUB

A proposed sleigh-ride party was the highlight of the Newman Club meeting Thursday evening. This party will be held in place of our regular meeting Thursday, December 12. Tony Schwartz has been appointed chairman of the committee. Watch the bulletin for further announcements.

A new type of discussion club sug-gested by Father Geimer will get under way after the Christmas holiday. Definite plans will be announced later.

RURAL LIFE

Highlight of the Rural Life Meeting Monday night was Mr. Steiner's talk on Vitalizing History. "Why not make history teaching interest-ing? Put life into your teaching, History isn't a dead subject; put meaning behind your words," Mr. Steiner stressed.

The meeting began with group singing led by Leota Brandt, accom-panied by Betty Grover. Plans were made for a Christmas party to be held December 16. The Rural Life Chorus sang Sweet Low Sweet Chariot. This was their first performance before the club. Kathryn Metcalf gave a humorous reading, The Waltz, by Dorothy Parker. Arles Anderson played the selection, Falling Waters, on the piano and the meeting closed with the singing of God Bless America.

SIGMA TAU DELTA

The members of Sigma Tau Delta will meet Wednesday evening, December 4, at the home of Miss Sybil Mason, 833 Ellis Street. All members are to bring their impressionistic writings.

HOME ECONOMICS MEETING The regular Home Economics meeting was held at the recreation room at Nelson Hall. The meeting consisted of plans for our twentyfifth anniversary which is December 8. The Christmas Party will be held December 16 and plans were made for Christmas charity work.

A very interesting talk was given by Miss Lonergan, Home Demonstration Agent of Portage County.

The girls in the Home Economics Cottage held a novel party last Sunday evening in the form of a candy making party. Everything from fudge to taffy to cherry puffs was made. The fellows were given aprons and were told to push up their sleeves and "dig in." They even cracked the nuts. From all reports it was quite a success.

Y.W.C.A.

Plans were made for the Y.W.C.A. Christmas party and the filling of Christmas baskets, Thursday, Nov. 28.

After the business meeting the "Y-Dubs" were priveleged to hear Miss Sybil Mason, who gave a talk on "Books."

Marcella Francis favored the audience with a tap dance.

THE POINTER

You should have seen the crowd of girls at the W.A.A. Party last Wednesday. Rousing games were played and the cleverest stunts were given. I'll bet every girl lost at least a pound of that superfluous tissue -but maybe they gained it back with the swell lunch that was served -coke, sandwiches, potato chips and pickles.

There won't be any informal dancing before Christmas because of conflicting appointments.

The Women's Bowling Leagues are really showing their stuff. Last Wednesday the top scores were Dolly Rouman 172, Chiz Reichel 149, and Nancy Steiner 148. Not bad for the fair sex. Even though the faculty scores don't skyrocket very high, nevertheless they certainly have fun. Come out again Wednesday and roll your stuff

As for basketball-well, there certainly are some freshman whizzes. To mention a few there are Eddie Lawrence, Mike Blissett, June Todd, Billie Eichhorn, Kay Laumer and a lot of others. It looks like keen competition this year if only more of you girls would come out.

Pointers Prepared To Avenge Losses To Knights In '39

Mickey McCormick's Green Knights from De Pere will invade the portals of P. J. Jacobs High School Thursday night to furnish more hardcourt competition for Kotal's recently victorious Pointers. This, the second game of the season, will find the Kotal men contacting a well-balanced quintet. As yet the Knights have met no opposition other than their freshmen squad. To date Coach McCormick has been using a lineup consisting of four up-perclass lettermen and one sopho-more. Names that will appear in the line-up are: Bob Monard and Bob Coddington, forwards; Le Florina and Fred Picard at guards; and Bill Madden, center. The De Pere team suffered a decided loss in the form of Marus Schumacher. Schumacher was a fine performer and his loss will be definitely felt.

Thursday's game will give Point fans the opportunity to make some sort of comparison between this year's aggregation and that of last year. The past basketball season found Pointers dropping two contests to St. Norberts by scores of 47-35 and 47-39.

Point's line-up will be the same as that which started against Stout.
