

Christmas Concert Tonight And Thursday

CROATIAN ENSEMBLE AT THURSDAY'S ASSEMBLY

Thursday morning, December 19, The Croatian Tamburitza Ensemble will present the exotic music of Jugo-Slavia at ten o'clock in the college auditorium.

The program of this company comprises, besides the Yugoslav members, many selections from the well-known composers. There are also the latest popular airs played with verve and zest. Folk songs sung to orchestral accompaniment, vocal duets and solos, descriptive numbers and quaint dances from Croatia are unusual and favorite features. Clad in their picturesque native costumes, these spirited musicians form a striking picture and present a program of notable charm.

In Jugoslavia, it is the custom for families to assemble and furnish their own music and entertainment. For many years Charles Elias, Sr. and his family played together the music they so dearly loved. Later this family migrated to America. Here, their music was found to be so beautiful and novel and their long years of playing together had produced such perfection of ensemble playing, that they were persuaded to enter the professional field. The company now consists of four members: Charles Elias, Jr., Director, Martha Elias, Anne Elias and Mary Filipovich. All are accomplished musicians on the tamburitza as well as other well known instruments, being graduates of musical colleges of America.

Play Boys To Swing Out At New Year's Party

The College Playboys have announced that they are playing for a New Year's Eve party at the Hotel Wausau on December 31.

The Playboys have played for two college functions and have had other engagements in and outside the city. This is the biggest job the boys have tackled and they feel that it is the "stepping stone" for more and bigger jobs.

They plan to use a girl vocalist for that evening. Frank Pliner said, "We are trying out a girl from Stevens Point, but if she doesn't work out satisfactorily we will use a girl from Milwaukee."

They are hoping for a large crowd and expect to see a lot of their college friends there that night.

SENIOR BALL IS WELL ATTENDED

King Gerald Torkelson and Queen Kay Tyler reigned over the annual Senior Ball held at the Training School gym last Saturday evening.

Dancing began at nine to the rhythm of Bill Benson and his orchestra who ceiling was decorated with a green net, were placed on the deck of a ship. The along the walls were painted fish of all sizes, shapes, and colors.

The grand march got under way at eleven led by the king and queen and immediately followed by the General Chairman, Jack Vincent, and his partner, Shirley Fonstad.

The Chaperons were President and Mrs. W. C. Hansen, Regent and Mrs. W. S. Delzell, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Evans.

Mixed Chorus Features Tenth Annual Concert, Program Is Announced

As a unique feature of the 10th annual Christmas concert to be presented on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, December 18 and 19, by the Music Department, the Men's Glee Club and the Girls' Glee Club will unite to form a Mixed Chorus, comprised of nearly one hundred and fifty voices. Music enthusiasts of the college and surrounding localities will have the opportunity to hear both organizations sing together. In former years there was a smaller mixed chorus, student directed, of about thirty voices. The college orchestra will accompany them.

Directors, Michelsen and Knutzen
Mr. Peter J. Michelsen, head of the Music Department, will direct the Girls' Glee Club and conduct the College Orchestra. Mr. Norman E. Knutzen will be the director of the Men's Glee Club. Two numbers by the mixed chorus will be directed by Mr. Knutzen and two by Mr. Michelsen.

Carols—Before Program
Christmas carols will be played on the marimba, vibraphone, and chimes beginning at seven o'clock before the concert proper. Members of both glee clubs attired in formal evening dress will form the processional at eight o'clock.

Rogers Attends Chicago Exposition

For the first time, the National Chemical Exposition was held in Chicago, December 11 to the 15th, inclusive, at the Stevens Hotel. All former conventions have been held in New York.

Mr. Thomas A. Rogers of the chemistry department attended this exposition on Friday and Saturday.

The National Chemical Exposition is a well rounded program designed to stimulate the rapid growth of applied chemistry in all industries. It is a project of the Chicago Section of the American Chemical Society and managed by Marcus W. Hinson. It is a truly National Exposition and an estimated 10,000 attended the one this past week-end.

The exposition had four major features.

The commercial exhibits occupied approximately 32,000 square feet in the Exhibition Hall. Over 100 of the leading companies of the nation displayed the latest in chemicals, chemical and process machinery and laboratory apparatus. The new, the novel, the modern, the latest, the improved, the spectacular applications of chemistry held the spotlight.

Educational and scientific exhibits displayed the latest in chemical progress and stimulated an exchange of ideas. Research foundations, universities, and others supplied many of the educational exhibits.

About fifteen or twenty of the very latest educational films were shown during these five days.

The National Industrial Chemical Conference dealt with the general subject of applied chemistry, in contrast to pure research.

Report Decrease In State Debt

The state and its political sub-divisions owe approximately $148,000,000, the state department of taxation reported Wednesday. This is about $1,947,000 below last year.

The state's only current obligation is $1,183,700 due the teachers' retirement fund for Civil War debts, but the counties owe more than $72,000,000.

Highways and bridges and schools are the principal source of indebtedness. Local communities borrowed for sewer and sewage disposal plants, for poor relief, for public buildings, for refunding, for corporate purposes, and for parks.

Debts for poor relief increased $2,058, refunding $821,932, and corporate purposes $2,095,000, but all other obligations, except small increases for public buildings and miscellaneous, decreased during 1939.

".... Christmas Concert"

For the past several years the annual Christmas program presented by the combined music clubs of the college has ushered in the Yuletide season at Central State. Those of us who have had the opportunity to attend or participate in these concerts know the genuine spirit which prevails. There is no better way in which the true Christmas "feeling" can be expressed. "Music is the voice of Heaven," it has been said. At this time of the year the beautiful hymns and carols sung by the glee clubs are unequalled for their creation of an atmosphere of "attributive reverence." The thoughts expressed in them carry the Christian doctrine to the heart of every listener. A quiet communion with God in a little chapel somewhere in a deep forest could bring no being closer to his Creator. "in music the heart speaks," and when the heart speaks we know He is close to us.

Round 'n About

"It's Christmasy both inside and out," I heard some one say as she stepped from a fairytale of snowflakes into one of tall lighted Christmas trees in the lower hall. "The present generation," as the saying goes, "doesn't like sentimentality." But most of us believe the Christmas Season to be one exception. It is tied up with our earliest recollections of home, and is of our faith.

Christmas and the Christmas ideal, "Peace on earth, good will toward men," does not permeate the world this year. But each one tries to capture the message of Christmas Angels and may it sound and resound in our hearts and mingle with the carols. There is nothing more lovely in all our college experience than that concert just before leaving the campus for the holidays. To go home with the Hallelujah Chorus still ringing in our ears is the gift of the Music Organizations to the students. And we truly appreciate it.

STUDENT SPARRING

(Ed. Note: This department is conducted for the purpose of stimulating the expression of opinions advanced by students and faculty members of the college. The right of editing and rejecting contributions is reserved.)

Dear Editor:

Much propaganda or "What-ever-you-want-to-call-it" has been cluttering up our bulletin-boards recently. All this, however, has been mere child's play compared to my peeve at the present moment. Have any of you students or faculty noticed the Pointer bulletin board?

Why do people continually deface property or decorate as they might consider it? To touch up the portrait of the Republican presidential nominee, then scratch out the whole face with a huge "x" is an unpardonable act for which someone should be severely reprimanded.

A Democrat

P. S. Let's be teachers, not childish pranksters.

Dear Editor:

In response to last week's article concerning the case of the upper classman and the little freshman. I should like to state my views.

First, I should like to know whose business besides the above mentioned is it? No one's, I am sure. Why is it some unemotional candidate for an old maid's home has to poke his or her nose into other people's business and in this case smash the beautiful bubble of their sense of happy privacy?

If they thought before their companionship was innocently sweet and pure, they now no doubt think it a crime and feel ashamed—unjustly so.

The writer has no idea of the embarrassment he has caused in exploding his little bomb. How must the two mentioned feel to have their own business spread the length and breadth of school?

It is too bad, I think, that people can't hold sacred other people's personal doings above their own claim for fame by seeing their own brainstorms in print. I say brainstorms because it was no writing, not even good reading.

I feel sorry for both you and your victims; you for the enemies you have made and they for the anguish you have caused them. Do you think that they want now to be seen even standing together? I think you have spoiled something that humans hold close to them and should not be shouted about.

Next, when you feel duty bound, think of this old and hallowed rule "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you"—but don't feel sorry for others to the extent that you must write asetic public statements to their effect. Go see them instead and make it easily and happily done.—Better yet, keep your's and other's business separate.

Howard Stimm (and unashamed to sign his name.)

EXCHANGE BITS

There have been many suggestions as to the original purpose of decorating houses with greens at Christmas time. Among the Romans it was customary to present people with green sprays for the sake of good luck in the New Year. Some people suggest that the greens carry a blessing into the homes.

In many of the ancient Christmas songs, holly is considered the man's plant, while ivy is the woman's. The idea is whether the master or the mistress rule the household. The holly wreaths of today with their star of light in the center is a symbol of the Joyful Mysteries of the Incarnation.

Ripon College Days.

Dropped into one of the elite cushioned sewers the other day and heard a fellow kidding someone about Hitler being alright. Three fellows tore into him like a football tackle on his first date with a freshman. Judas Prust, if there was any resemblance between his face and a totem pole when he got up, it was coincidental. The fellow explained, gosh, I was only k-k-kidding, I don't like Hitler." "Hitler," echoed the three attackers, "We thought you said Heil."

FINE ACTING MARKS THEATER PRODUCTION

By MARCELLE MARTINI

Frank Vosper's LOVE FROM A STRANGER, directed by Mr. Leland M. Burroughs and presented on Wednesday and Thursday by the College Theater, was one of the best three-act plays the organization has given. Certainly it was the longest. The first two acts, especially, were long, drawn-out, and slow moving; however, if you could sustain your interest to the last act, it was well rewarded.

Iris Precourt's portrayal of Cecily Harrington, the victim of a murderer's cunning artifice and her cleverness of outwitting him, was especially dramatic and skillfully portrayed. Those who have seen Iris in high school presentations have already observed her aptitude and feel that she is living up to her high standards of dramatic art.

Bob Handeside, who took the part of Bruce Lovell, the murderer, also displayed near-professional ability. Other members of the cast who contributed to the success of the play were Isla Wood, Ruth Nobel, Jim Unger, Ray Minton, Hanna Kaufman, and Gordon Bentle.

The lighting and stage properties were effective, but the most important and outstanding element was the acting. The psychological theme of the play was very difficult to dramatize; the players presented an outstanding performance.

Rogers Rates Quote In "Modern Medicine"

The following article appeared in a recent issue of Modern Medicine:

The possibilities of that paradoxical vegetable, the soybean, in the realm of nutrition, are beyond conservative prediction, it was recently stated by Thomas A. Rogers, head of the chemistry department at the Central State Teachers College, Stevens Point, Wisconsin. The paradoxical nature of the soybean lies in the fact that, though a vegetable, it possesses proteins of greater value and richer proportion of essential components than most animal foods. Green and edible soybeans contain indispensable amino acids whereas other bean proteins must be supplemented by meat or other expensive protein. There are 466 kinds of edible soybeans, though only seventeen have been selected by agronomists as fit for food in the highest sense."

Wreathes of holly and mistletoe to whoever is responsible for creating the splendid Christmas atmosphere which pervades our alma mater. This last week before vacation is one which figures prominently in the year's activities at C.S. T.C. and with all its activities, tree decorating, Christmas parties, and the evening concerts of Christmas music, should bring one to realize how fortunate we are to live in a country which permits the celebration of the birthday of the King.

If you but smile.

The girls on second at the dorm are keeping their bags packed in case the bath tub floods any more. After several incipient tidal waves due to faulty shut-offs, the climax came Saturday night when the faucet simply refused to shut off at all. After the water got several feet down the hall, help was finally summoned. In the excitement the housekeeper forgot to warn the girls of the approach of a man into their sanctum, and the alarm wasn't given until one of the girls spied him coming down the hall and too late the spectators in various stages of array, made a mad dash into the first open door...

ORGANIZATIONS

A Very Merry Christmas

PRIMARY COUNCIL

The recreation room at the dorm was the scene of a lively Christmas party, December 9, when the primaries met to exchange some holiday spirit. Prizes were awarded to the high and low scorers in bunco. Gertrude Rondeau's solo, "Gesù Bambino," was followed by group singing.

Christmas gifts were presented to the teachers in the primary department: Miss Colman, Miss Tobias, Miss Van Arsdale, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Finch, Mrs. Pfiffner, and Miss Carlsen were also present. Each primary was presented with a Christmas greeting by Miss Colman.

Lunch — chifti, crackers, and coffee were served.

The food committee included Lucille Weiher, Ruth Burnett, and Bernice Dawes. Natalie Weissner, Betty Moyer, and Patty Markee had charge of the entertainment.

SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB

The Social Science Club held its regular meeting Wednesday, December 11. An informal discussion was held and it was decided that an Alumni banquet will be held the Saturday noon of Homecoming, next fall. They also decided to send a round-robin letter to the Alumni.

HOME EC PARTY

The Home Ec girls held their annual Christmas party Monday evening in the Recreation Room at Nelson Hall.

Several games were played after which a delicious Baked Cranberry pudding and coffee were served.

Instead of the usual exchange of gifts each girl brought a dime as her contribution to a fund which will be used to purchase food to aid some needy family.

GAMMA DELTA

Gamma Delta entertained all the Lutheran students of the College at a Christmas party held Sunday evening at St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

An amusing "Get-Acquainted" game put the guests in a jovial mood and a dice game called "Santa Claus" added to the fun.

After a scripture reading by Rev. Ludwig everyone sang Christmas carols.

The high light of the evening was the distribution of presents by "Santa Claus". A delicious lunch of cookies, ice cream and coffee was served.

NEWMAN CLUB

'Midst the jingling of sleigh bells about twenty-five Newmans made their way out to the Park Ridge district Thursday night, December 12, on a sleigh-ride party. The cold night air drove them back earlier than usual. Miss La Vigne joined the group at theingham Tea Room for chili.

RURAL LIFE

Christmas With Father, a play, was presented before the Rural Life Meeting on Monday evening, December 16. The cast included: Helen Firkus, Marie Collins, Alice Mussey, Rozella Berg, Clarence Meinhardt, Courtney Halverson, Arlene Prentice, and Phillip Stoltenberg. A reading, Why the Chimes Rang was given by Bess Chylek, accompanied by Mary Barrett and Roy Hendrick on the violins. Rural Life Chorus led by Leota Brandt sang Christmas carols accompanied by Betty Grover on the piano, Mary Barrett and Roy Hendrick on violins. Santa Claus came and distributed gifts to the members.

BAND PARTY

Sixty-seven members of the college band were entertained at an annual Christmas party at the Training School on Monday evening, December 16. Music by the Play Boys was a special feature. Gifts were exchanged, followed by refreshments. Mr. P. J. Michelson, director, was guest and chaperon.

PHI SIG PARTY

Members of Phi Sigma Epsilon and their girl friends enjoyed a Christmas party last Sunday night at the newly remodeled recreation room in the basement of the chapter house. Non-members living at the house were also invited.

Card playing and dancing were the major events of the evening. A light lunch was served after which Santa Claus, in the person of Bud Menzel, sans costume, gave out presents.

Decorated trees adorned the corners and mistletoe hung from selected spots about the room.

Mrs. Klein, the house mother, and Mr. Burroughs were invited as chaperones.

Bud Menzel, Don Aucutt and Bob Becker were the committee in charge of the party.

Rooms At Training School Get Decorations

A miniature house with Santa and his reindeer on the roof, found in the first grade room, is the highlight of the Christmas decorations in the Training School. The house, which is white with blue shutters, is over five feet high and about ten feet square. Riding over the snow-covered roof is Santa with his teams of reindeer. A red chimney emerges through the peak of the roof. A wreath hangs in the window. An evergreen appears to be growing just outside the door.

Many of the windows are decorated with holly, candles, and trees, made by the Art students.

A crib stands in the corner of the Junior High assembly; a large Christmas tree decorates the front of the room.

With such beautiful symbols of joy and peace, one cannot help feeling the Yuletide Spirit.

CHRISTMAS DAY

This is the day of the children
The day when Infinite Love
Out of the silence of ages
A message sends from above.

Love is the heavenly message
Borne on the wings of song,
"Peace and good will," the chorus,
Sing, the celestial throng.

List to the song of the angels,
Hear how the heavens ring,
Wise men kneel at a manger
To honor the newborn king.

Ring out the angelic message,
The heavenly anthem prolong,
Join me the chorus—ceraphic,
Heart and soul in the song.

CHRISTMAS TREE PETALS

The candles grow on Christmas trees
Wee buds of red and white
And green and blue and purple hue.
Oh, blossomy gardens bright
Are all the parlors of the land
On happy Christmas night.

And in our glad hearts shine anew
Candles of hope and courage, too.

SHIVERS

The moon is frozen
Icy white.
The air cracks.
The road, white and hard,
Crunches with each footfall.
I look out through
A tiny clear spot I've made
On the frosted window with my breath,
And thank God
That there is warmth
To make me shiver.

DECEMBER RAIN

The drip of slow rain on mid-December
night,
As unnatural as the life I live alone!
If there must be storm, there should be might,
And snow or sleet-sheets and the wind's
slow moan.
Danger and the challenge rouse defense
Against the crippling clutch of season's strength,
And sure seclusion is but stark pretense
When jostling strangers serve to ease time's length.
For 'tho' their dampness penetrates the soul,
The freezing drops are gentle in their fall;
Each one enchants me as it takes its toll,
And empty shelter shuts me off from all.
'Ere ice will form from that December
rain,
I'll haste to open wide my doors again.

—Zella Loomer

"For Unto You Is Born This Day . . ."

1. And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.
2. (And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.)
3. And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.
4. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judaea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David;)
5. To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.
6. And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.
7. And she brought forth her first-born son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.
8. And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.
9. And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.
10. And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.
11. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, which is Christ the Lord.
12. And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.
13. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,
14. Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.
15. And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.
16. And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

Luke, Chapter 2.

CHRISTMAS TIME

At Christmas time, if I forget,
Some heart with grief and woe beset
May fail to see that stars above
Are shining proof of God's dear love,
Some children small, to me most dear,
May saddened be and caused a tear.

If I forget at Christmas time
To sing the Christmas hymns sublime,
Some one may think I've lost my voice,
Or, I keep silent just from choice.
Ah, no, my heart the music swells
And quivers with the Christmas bells.

At Christmas time I would forget
All hate and envy, care and fret,
I would forget my woe and care,
The joy I have with others share.
Let me remember others' needs
And practice only kindly deeds
At Christmas Time.

GIFTS

Outside, the stars, inside, the lights,
More glowing than on other nights,
And each small house is fragrant now
With holly wreath, and cedar bough,
And Love, in visible vestments takes
New shining forms new gracious shapes.

In red be-ribboned gifts it walks,
Through written words it lives and talks;
Our tongues are all too slow to tell
The Love our warm vestments know so well.
Lord, may our gifts tomorrow say
To others what our hearts would say.

Lord, may they be the symbols of Thy great, undying, boundless love:
Thy greatest love of all the earth:
A fire, kindled at Thy birth,
An unquenched fire, burning yet,
Lest our forgetful hearts forget.

—Grace Noll Crowell

CHRISTMAS—1935

There's a meaning in the legend
Of the Angels' song of old,
When the shepherds of Judea
Heard the wondrous story told.

There's effulgence in the star glow,
Seen by Wise Men from afar,
Who to the eastward journeyed,
Led, unerring, by the Star.

There's a halo in the manger
Where the infant Savior lay,
Blessed hope of brighter future,
Radiant harbinger of day.

May we hear the heavenly chorus,
Glimpse the glory from above,
Welcome blessed Christmas season,
Emblem of the Father's love.

I joined the surging, seething mass
Of early Christmas shoppers.
I meant to dodge them, but alas!
I joined the surging, seething mass.
They push and crowd and try to pass,
These chronic "window goppers!"

Of early Christmas shoppers.

WINTER LANDSCAPE

A single star pins up the mantling clouds;
Wan, tiny winds, that whine like lost
souls in the dark,
Lay ghostly fingers on my cheek.
From out a cleft that runs across the sky
The moon looks down. It paints with deeper blue
Upon the blue white snow shadows grotesque
And fanciful in form, that have no semblance
To the common things they spring from.
No life or sign of life is here to break
the silence;
And strange things walk aboard,
That held communion with another world.

CHRISTMAS

Over the rim of the Arctic,
Hushed in the glacial night,
Deep in the tropic jungle,
Fragrant with flowers bright,
Wherever mankind dwelleth,
Wherever hope fires burn—
There the spirit of Christmas
Each year doth return.

Lifting the head of the downcast,
Brightening the face of gloom—
A light, undimmed by the ages,
Shines from a rock-hewn tomb.
Basking in ageless glory,
Children of light are we,
Led by the Christmas Spirit
Toward what we hope to be.

Runkel Is Technical Director Of Dramatics At Madison West

Phil Runkel of Wausau, who graduated in 1939 from C.S.T.C., is now an active member of the faculty of the West High School in Madison. He is technical director for all play productions and recently staged the production, WHAT A LIFE, a three act comedy presented by the West High School.

As a student at C.S.T.C. Runkel did much to organize and was the first president of College Theater. He directed many theater productions which included A PENNY A DAY, one of his own plays.

Partly due to Phil's intense efforts a project was granted to remodel the auditorium stage, the plans for this work being drawn by Runkel himself. The switchboard now in use on the stage was designed and co-built by Runkel and Don Colby, now on our faculty. This instrument has been accredited one of the best for its size and cost ever built for the amateur stage.

GUARDS COME HOME FOR THE HOLIDAYS

The national guards are coming home for Christmas! Starting at noon on the 21st of this month, trains are scheduled to leave Camp Beauregard, Louisiana, every 30 minutes for all points north, until everyone is literally packed in.

Uncle Sam is really being an uncle to his favorite nephews this month in presenting them with their pay checks earlier in order that they may spend the holidays at home. All those with the price of a railroad ticket and the stomach to face sub-zero weather can hang their stocking up Christmas eve under the home portals.

ROWLAND'S ASSEMBLY IS WELL RECEIVED THURSDAY

Edward Rowlands, the world's foremost autograph collector, presented the assembly Thursday with a most interesting account of his hobby. Among his 2,492 autographs, which were obtained during vacations and leaves of absence from his work at the Mellon National Bank at Pittsburgh, are included those of President Roosevelt, Katherine Hepburn, Amelia Earhart, Chief Justice Hughes, Walt Disney, Shirley Temple, Jack Benny, Thomas A. Dewey, Alec Templeton, Rachmoninoff, Gershwin. His first autograph was that of Lily Pons. Unique in his collection is the hoof print of Man o' War. Mr. Rowlands cited the three requisites for autograph collectors: courage, patience, and salesmanship.

Making a study of others' hobbies is his new hobby now. One collector has an accumulation of 2,124 pints of water from streams and rivers from all parts of the world.

Mr. Rowlands expressed the opinion that everyone should have a hobby. It provides entertainment for leisure time and it gives the person an opportunity to become more interesting to others.

Matanuska Farmers Work At Army Air Base

Defense Measure Boosts Wages To New High

Nearly 100 of the 140 colonists at Matanuska valley in Alaska left their farms to work at the U. S. army base in Anchorage this summer, turning their land over to the supervision of neighbors or permitting it to "grow up in weeds."

This shift came about because many of the farmers are not doing well. The small percentage that stayed on the farms are averaging a cash income of from $1,200 to $3,000 a year. Wages on the Anchorage air base run from $216 a month for common labor, on up, with rough carpenters drawing $360.

W. A. Rockie, director of soil studies and conservation, stated, "A small, undetermined number of radicals are working to belittle the government efforts in the Matanuska valley and to make relief a permanent racket."

These "radicals" have been publishing an anonymous mimeographed paper under the nom. de plume of "The Ice Worm." The publication has made the tearing down of the government management its principal aim.

Rockie divided the population roughly into three classifications:

1. Those paying their bills.
2. "A bunch of weak-willed men" being led along by the "radicals" in hopes of getting something for nothing.
3. The "radicals" who have defied efforts of authorities for two years to learn their individual identities.

ST. MARY'S BOWS TO POINTERS

FROM THE LOCKER ROOM

by
Jimmy Kulidas & Jimmy Hanig

Ray Warren seems to be the answer to a coach's prayer. To date Ray has been a consistently high scorer and bids fair to be one of the best cagers to play on Central State's hardwood court. Ray was high scorer for the Pointers in both of the games during the weekend. The entire squad seems to think that the game against Northern Michigan Teachers at Marquette, Michigan was the roughest encountered to date. Mr. Schmeckle and Coach Kotal took their cars on the trip. Ten boys travelled as representatives of C.S.T.C. Captain Pete Terzynski left the game early in the second half Saturday night but managed to score ten points. The Pointers have scored 100 points in their last two games to the opposition's 54. Bob Olk sank seven straight free throws without a miss in the game with Northern State. The whole team made 18 out of 21. Milwaukee State Teachers powerful quintet will furnish the opposition for the Purple and Gold cagers in the first game following vacation. It will be the opening of the conference race. The Green Gulls are favorite to win the championship for the second year in succession. They have defeated River Falls, Carroll, Chicago Teachers, and Moorhead Minnesota Teachers thus far. They defeated Chicago Teachers 37-25 and two days later a powerful De Paul team had trouble defeating the Chicago pedagogues 40-43. This shows the power of the Penwell men. Whitewater was defeated by Mission House College 41-36. Purdue was the original hard luck team of the season: They lost to Ohio State in the last 19 seconds, 17-14; Wisconsin nosed them out in the last 6 seconds and Indiana eked out a win in the last 13 seconds of play. Don Hutson has given close friends the impression that this would be his last season with any Pro team. Jim Hanig and Louis Posluszny attended the University of Wisconsin Annual Football Banquet at Madison last week and were fortunate enough to get an introduction to Jimmy Crowley, the Fordham University Coach. Now that the athletic program is under way down in Louisiana Jimmy Huckle and Bob Bishop, former C.S.T.C. athletes, will have a chance to show the southern folks how we play football up in these here Northern States. Bob Larson was home on a furlough from the Air Corps. Bob represented the college in the squared circle about three years ago. The boxers are shaking the mothballs off their equipment and are beginning to pound themselves into shape; which reminds us that the students are in line for some fine entertainment shortly after vacation. Here are some statistics taken from the Central State-Luther game which was played last Tuesday night.

Point had an average of 25.5 on shots and a 64.2 average on free throws. Luther made 21.7 per cent of their shots and 55.5 percent of their free throws. Here are our predictions of the outcome on the Bowl games that will be played on New Year's Day. Rose Bowl: Stanford over Nebraska Cotton Bowl: Texas A. & M. will beat Fordham. Sugar Bowl: Boston College will take Tennessee. Orange Bowl: Georgetown will emerge victorious over Mississippi State. The law of averages says that the East will defeat the West in the annual shrine game in San Francisco. Here is wishing you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Menzel Gives Ringmen Preliminary Workouts

Although the regular boxing season won't get under way until after Christmas, boxers who have aspirations in that field have already had one workout under the tutelage of Coach Menzel. Early workouts are confined largely to rope skipping, shadow boxing, and calisthenics. Prospects for a successful season are fairly good although some pretty fair men were lost through graduation. Two of the best who will not be reporting back are Lewie Drobnick and Louie Lang. These two boys always contributed some outstanding fighting in their bouts. Lang was a vicious fighter while Drobnick was more the polished boxer.

The first contest of the year will be a school tournament of elimination by means of which the best boxer in his re-

Sixth Straight Win For Central State

Displaying a fast break and a fine brand of basketball with a deadly shooting eye the C.S.T.C. cagers achieved their sixth straight victory last night by securing a decisive 45 to 33 victory over St. Mary's College of Winona, Minnesota.

The Pointers jumped into the lead and were never headed. They led at the half 31 to 21. Coach Kotal started a lineup consisting of two regulars and three second stringers in the second half and this combination added to the total points and held the Minnesotians to six points. The substitutes played the last five minutes. St. Mary's exhibited a very good style of ball but wasn't able to hit the hoop.

Pete and Ray Terzynski led the Kotalmen in scoring by securing nine points apiece. Bob Olk scored seven points and Bagnell and Helixon came through with six apiece. The scoring honors for the evening went to Barrett of St. Mary's who accumulated a total of 10 points.

The Purple and Gold cagers play Stout at Menominee Thursday night and the Rhinelander city team Friday night.

Every year finds Central State putting on some of the finest amateur bouts in the collegiate circle. In the course of the last two years Point boxers have won a total of thirty-seven bouts while losing thirty-one. We can say with all sincerity that there has never been a fan who has gone away from the fights who was not entirely satisfied.

Those fellows who took part in the boxing last year are as follows: Norm Halla, 175 lb; Dan Young, 170 lb; Jim Hanig, 160 lb; Rolly Rades, 158 lb; Howie Stimm, 145 lb; Len Ropella, 135 lb; Clarence Tohm, 130 lb; and Ken Brenner, 125 lb.

Michelsen Again In Charge Of College Decorations

Christmas spirit is really in the air at C.S.T.C. as is evidenced by the beautiful decorations that were arranged during the week-end by the music department, under the direction of Peter J. Michelsen who has been in charge of the decorating for many years. Twelve enormous Christmas trees gayly decorate each hallway and the auditorium, thus creating a Christmas atmosphere throughout the building.

Each room seems to have something that suggests Christmas. Under the supervision of Miss Carlsten the art room is very gay with its many Christmas displays, among them a very interesting collection from Swedish Christmas festivals. It includes plaques and pictures portraying a Swedish Christmas in its myths and traditions. Christmas cards which picture the Swedish Christmas elf and bright red Swedish candelabras add to the display. A plaque of the famous Bambino by Michelangelo surrounded by evergreen boughs and red candles add much to the Christmas theme. A table of Christmas annuals from other countries and a display of Christmas favors made by the art students complete the gay picture.

Miss Mansur and Miss Mason have a very interesting collection of Christmas books under a beautifully decorated tree in a corner of the reading room and a large tree adorns a corner of the rural assembly.

Guards Begin Sports Program In South

Football activities for the Guardsmen in Louisiana has, of necessity, been little more than a topic of discussion this fall. Now, however, while the rest of us are thinking basketball the boys down South are just beginning to organize football, volley ball, and softball teams. Up to now the boys have been busy with their drills and maneuvers to have any time for actual participation in any of the sports mentioned. Then too, there was the problem of lack of equipment to be coped with; coaching material had not been sought out and playing fields had not been planned. There was a great deal of natural interest and the need for recreation was recognized. Under the direction of Capt. G.J. Burlingame the program has now assumed definite life and in a short time the Guardsmen will be pursuing that field of athletics in which each is best adapted. There must be a wealth of potential material down there and no doubt some classy units will be welded together. Watch the Southern schools grab up some of the more accomplished performers.

Jim Hanig and Louis Poslusny attended the University of Wisconsin Annual Football Banquet at Madison last week and were fortunate enough to get an introduction to Jimmy Crowley, the Fordham University Coach. Now that the athletic program is under way down in Louisiana Jimmy Huckle and Bob Bishop, former C.S.T.C. athletes, will have a chance to show the southern folks how we play football up in these here Northern States. Bob Larson was home on a furlough from the Air Corps. Bob represented the college in the squared circle about three years ago. The boxers are shaking the mothballs off their equipment and are beginning to pound themselves into shape; which reminds us that the students are in line for some fine entertainment shortly after vacation. Here are some statistics taken from the Central State-Luther game which was played last Tuesday night.

Point had an average of 25.5 on shots and a 64.2 average on free throws. Luther made 21.7 per cent of their shots and 55.5 percent of their free throws. Here are our predictions of the outcome on the Bowl games that will be played on New Year's Day: Rose Bowl: Stanford over Nebraska Cotton Bowl: Texas A. & M. will beat Fordham. Sugar Bowl: Boston College will take Tennessee. Orange Bowl: Georgetown will emerge victorious over Mississippi State. The law of averages says that the East will defeat the West in the annual shrine game in San Francisco. Here is wishing you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Menzel Gives Ringmen Preliminary Workouts

Although the regular boxing season won't get under way until after Christmas, boxers who have aspirations in that field have already had one workout under the tutelage of Coach Menzel. Early workouts are confined largely to rope skipping, shadow boxing, and calisthenics. Prospects for a successful season are fairly good although some pretty fair men were lost through graduation. Two of the best who will not be reporting back are Lewie Drobnick and Louie Lang. These two boys always contributed some outstanding fighting in their bouts. Lang was a vicious fighter while Drobnick was more the polished boxer.

The first contest of the year will be a school tournament of elimination by means of which the best boxer in his re-

Sixth Straight Win For Central State

Displaying a fast break and a fine brand of basketball with a deadly shooting eye the C.S.T.C. cagers achieved their sixth straight victory last night by securing a decisive 45 to 33 victory over St. Mary's College of Winona, Minnesota.

The Pointers jumped into the lead and were never headed. They led at the half 31 to 21. Coach Kotal started a lineup consisting of two regulars and three second stringers in the second half and this combination added to the total points and held the Minnesotians to six points. The substitutes played the last five minutes. St. Mary's exhibited a very good style of ball but wasn't able to hit the hoop.

Pete and Ray Terzynski led the Kotalmen in scoring by securing nine points apiece. Bob Olk scored seven points and Bagnell and Helixon came through with six apiece. The scoring honors for the evening went to Barrett of St. Mary's who accumulated a total of 10 points.

The Purple and Gold cagers play Stout at Menominee Thursday night and the Rhinelander city team Friday night.

Bob Larson On Short Visit From Alabama

Second Lieutenant Robert Larson of the United States Air Corps reserve, a former Central State student, visited friends and relatives in Stevens Point the first part of the week. While at C.S.T.C. "Bob" was a member of the Men's Glee Club and Chi Delta Rho fraternity. He was a member of the 1937-38 boxing team and participated in intra-mural sports.

Training at Dallas, Randolph, Kelly Larson received his primary training at Love Field, Dallas, Texas, from which he was transferred to Randolph Field, May 14. Military training was a major part of his first three weeks at the "West Point of the Air," and eleven weeks were spent in various types of military flying. At Kelly Field his work consisted of basic combat, formation, and instrument flying. He received his commission and the traditional "Wings" October 4. Since that time he has been instructing at Kelly Field where he had five cadets under his supervision.

Every year finds Central State putting on some of the finest amateur bouts in the collegiate circle. Michelsen Again In Charge
Of College Decorations

Christmas spirit is really in the air at C.S.T.C. as is evidenced by the beautiful decorations that were arranged during the week-end by the music department, under the direction of Peter J. Michelsen who has been in charge of the decorating for many years. Twelve enormous Christmas trees gayly decorate each hallway and the auditorium, thus creating a Christmas atmosphere throughout the building.

Each room seems to have something that suggests Christmas. Under the supervision of Miss Carlsten the art room is very gay with its many Christmas displays, among them a very interesting collection from Swedish Christmas festivals. It includes plaques and pictures portraying a Swedish Christmas in its myths and traditions. Christmas cards which picture the Swedish Christmas elf and bright red Swedish candelabras add to the display. A plaque of the famous Bambino by Michelangelo surrounded by evergreen boughs and red candles add much to the Christmas theme. A table of Christmas annuals from other countries and a display of Christmas favors made by the art students complete the gay picture.

Miss Mansur and Miss Mason have a very interesting collection of Christmas books under a beautifully decorated tree in a corner of the reading room and a large tree adorns a corner of the rural assembly.

Guards Begin Sports
Program In South

Football activities for the Guardsmen in Louisiana has, of necessity, been little more than a topic of discussion this fall. Now, however, while the rest of us are thinking basketball the boys down South are just beginning to organize football, volley ball, and softball teams. Up to now the boys have been to busy with their drills and maneuvers to have any time for actual participation in any of the sports mentioned. Then too, there was the problem of lack of equipment to be coped with; coaching material had not been sought out and playing fields had not been planned. There was a great deal of natural interest and the need for recreation was recognized. Under the direction of Capt. G.J. Burlingame the program has now assumed definite life and in a short time the Guardsmen will be pursuing that field of athletics in which each is best adapted. There must be a wealth of potential material down there and no doubt some classy units will be welded together. Watch the Southern schools grab up some of the more accomplished performers.

Conductor Condemns Swing And Jazz Music

To Sir Thomas Beecham, eminent English symphony orchestra conductor, swing and jazz—"bah! they are the most degraded manifestation of human aberration."

"Furthermore, among peoples of the Orient and the jungle they have ruined white prestige," he said in an interview.

Sir Thomas appeared as a guest conductor with the St. Louis symphony orchestra recently.
