PILOT TRAINING UNDERWAY

GROUND SCHOOL STARTED; FLYING BEGINS THIS WEEK

C.S.T.C.'s first aeronautics class has become a reality. Through the efforts of the Civil Aeronautics Authority at Washington, D. C., Central State Teachers College has become one of hundreds of colleges now giving ground training to student pilots. Begun several years ago, with the primary purpose of developing air mindedness in American youth, the C.A.A. has convinced the federal government that its program is worthwhile, and last year Congress appropriated funds sufficient to enable the smaller colleges in the country to give flight instruction to a limited number of students.

C.S.T.C. has been granted the authority to give ground training to ten selected students. These students have been chosen from a panel of applicants on the basis of physical fitness and scholastic ability.

A very strict physical examination is part of the preliminary procedure to obtain appointment, and those who were selected on the first panel and who passed the physical exam have become student pilots. A list of alternates will be considered if any student pilot drops out within a reasonable period of "test training".

R. M. Rightsell has been appointed director of the course and instructor of the ground school. Flight instruction is in charge of Archie Towle of Wausau. Mr. Towle is a highly trained flyer who has spent four thousand hours in the air as a pilot and instructor. His work has been praised by the government authorities and C.S.T.C.'s student pilots are indeed fortunate in having Archie as their flight instructor. The Alexander Airport, one of the ranking flying fields in Wisconsin, will be used for the complete training course. A new 65 horse power Taylorcraft will be used for the flying. It is a dual control, side by side seater of the light type of plane and is used almost exclusively for private flying. A minimum of 35 hours will be spent by each pilot in the air, and as a final examination to prove his worth as a pilot, each student must go through the various air maneuvers required by the C.A.A. If the student passes this test and a written examination on the technical problems of flying, he will be eligible for a private pilot's license.

A fee of $35 is all that has been required of each student. This includes the physical examination, ground and flight instruction, and an insurance policy.

Classes in ground work are being conducted by Mr. Rightsell for two hours in the evening on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Mr. Towle has announced that flight instruction will be given right along with the ground classes, and that actual flying for the students will begin the latter part of this week.

The students who have been appointed and have received their pilot certificates certifying that they are physically fit for flying are: Lennert Abrahamson, Tigerton; Blair Belongia, Mountain; Neal Brown, Almond; Lyle Grimm, Wautoma; Alton McCormick, Plover; Norbert Ruff, Blommer; Earle Siebert, Eland; Maurice Smith, Tomahawk; Jack Vincent, Stevens Point; and Norman Werner, Tomahawk.

RIVER FALLS AND ST. OLAF WIN TOURNAMENT

The first Wisconsin River Valley debate tournament sponsored by the forensic department of Central State Teachers college found River Falls State Teachers College and St. Olaf College of Northland, Minnesota on top. River Falls copped the honors in the women's division, and St. Olaf led the field in the men's division. Each of these teams won seven out of eight debates.

The CSTC women's team composed of Eleanor Ruchti and Virginia Johnson tied for second place by winning six out of eight contests.

The chairman of the Junior Prom Music committee, Duncan Seffern, today announced the signing of Stephen Swedish and his band for the annual promenade to be held on April 13. Swedish will be one of the greatest name bands to ever play on the campus of C.S.T.C.

Steve Swedish's band is noted for his smoothing effect upon dance music. One of the trade secrets of Mr. Swedish is his knack of arrangement. His seductive trombonist, Mr. Bill Boyden, is said to be uncommonly gifted in adding a twist here and a twist there until a tune that was ordinary comes out from the Swedish band as a flouncing and well developed tune. The boys in the band work together in dressing up their music and their achievements have won them high recognition throughout Wisconsin and surrounding states. They are generally accepted by the public as the greatest band in the state of Wisconsin.

Mr. Swedish is not the patent leather type of band leader. He looks a good deal like Franz Schubert in the days of his more substantial meals. He is, moreover, a musician noted for his violin playing in many organizations. Naturally he has a soothing effect upon dance music. He is of course constrained to give the addicts what they ask for, but he has never been in deep sympathy with the musical forms that cause the more conspicuous frenzies. Steve will bring with him a well balanced organization that will make the 1940 Junior Prom something never to be forgotten at C.S.T.C.

ATTEND YOUR CLASS MEETINGS!!

Class meetings, though often not the most interesting gatherings held in school, are nevertheless an essential part of school life. In order to settle routine matters, it is necessary that they be held and that everyone be in attendance. Why—?

There are certain functions that each class sponsors during the year. In the preliminary planning it is only natural for the officers to consult the class as to its desires. After the plans have been formulated, final success is dependent upon the cooperation of the whole group. Can the officers be blamed for failure of class activities if enough interest has not been displayed to enable the drawing up of more complete plans?

In addition to the matters of major importance, there are questions that come up from time to time. A few minutes spent in the class meeting, with a little organization by the one in charge and with the attention of the members, could easily make it possible to dispose of the business to the satisfaction of all concerned.

It is the easiest thing in the world to elect a president of the class, and then sit back and expect the work to be done. It is the easiest thing in the world to criticize what has or has not been accomplished. But have you done your part?

It's been reported that for reasons unknown there's just gobs of feminine pulchritude on the technical staff for the forthcoming one-act plays. . . . One Patty Walsh is being seen about more than considerably with Lillian Thompson. Rumor has it that he thinks she's plenty nice. . . . How about this idea of a Gordy Lewison Day over Scandinavia way? . . . Most of us try so hard for one date but Vanny takes the cake with Joe and Bill coming a-calling ensemble. . . . Be it known that we of the Pointer staff have been informed by Dr. Lyness of the omission of the final "S" from species. Our sincerest regrets, Dr. ! . . . Flash! Dr.

Flodin, who allegedly spends the greater part of his time absorbing volumes of data pertaining to chemistry gave the local police a boost with some sleuthing. The police brought to him an unusual bit of stone which was found upon the scene of the Normington robbery. By a process which he refuses to divulge he found fragments of glass and nitro-glycerine. The bandits haven't been apprehended yet but you can't blame Doc Flodin. . . . Plenty of nice blonds up Phelps way and Bob Unger's not kidding either. We can just ask any of the boys. . . . Ula Mae Knutzen spent considerable time on the trip looking for a "snow-snake" as in rattlesnake. — How was she to know they aren't even alive? . . . Some pretty fair stuff up here for the debates last week. In fact a few of the local even deigned to date 'em.—Winners they were, too!

ANOTHER TALE

I
 There was a certain girl
 Who came to school at Stevens Point
 And she was pretty.
 When she was a Freshman
 She had no idea that
 Someday she would teach.
 She came to School
 To have fun and make
 Social contacts
 Entirely.

II
 Like the lad of last week's story
 She did not emphasize schoolwork.
 She did not get a 1.5 even tho she was Bright.

She hid into too many
 Extra-curricular activities.
 She never turned away a Date
 She had many suitors,
 (Several each year)
 But none
 Of them lasted.
 She constantly wanted
 new ones.

III
 She smoked
 With the best of them.
 (We do not say this is wrong—merely messy)

 Women teachers shouldn't smoke!
 But then she did
 Not want to teach.
 She had entertained some
 Idea of getting married
 Before she graduated.
 But one doesn't often find a
 Husband in a teachers' college.

IV
 Soon she was a senior
 And had resigned herself
 To teach for a little while.
 She had to quit smoking
 To hold her job.
 Nite life was out of the question.
 She still couldn't find a
 Man who she thought
 Could make her happy.

V
 She found P.T.A.'s and Study clubs quite
 Different from W.A.A.'s
 And nite clubs.
 She still looked for a
 Mate
 But she hadn't the
 Knack of dealing with Small-town folk.
 So she waited and Waited for an Opportunity to leave
 Podunk.

VI
 And now the Sad part.
 I hear she's still Waiting.

HEALTH SERVICE

Among all disease causes of death tuberculosis has dropped to sixth place. But it still kills more persons between 15 and 45 than any other. These are the years when a man or woman is most needed by family and community.

Like many other great disease causes of death tuberculosis is caused by a single kind of bacillus. Cancer, the various diseases of the heart, cerebral hemorrhage and nephritis, all of which exceed tuberculosis in death totals, are degenerative diseases that accompany the gradual wearing down of the body in middle and old age. Pneumonia, like tuberculosis, is a germ disease; but unlike tuberculosis, it is caused by a score or more of germ agents of the pneumococcus family. Unlike pneumonia in which the patient dies or recovers in a few weeks, tuberculosis may cause years of disability, and be a menace to his associates even when the disease appears quiescent.

Some germ diseases, like influenza or syphilis cause more actual illness than tuberculosis, but none comes within hailing distance of tuberculosis as a cause of death. In a nutshell, then, here is the significant thing: not only is tuberculosis still first among the great disease causes of death during the most important years of life, it is also first among the more easily preventable diseases, and first among those which, if not prevented, may rage unchecked through the intimate family circle.

Knowledge by The Public is Needed

Every case of tuberculosis comes from another; every case may lead to another. When one case appears in a family, every other member of that family should be examined regardless of whether or not symptoms are present.

Early discovery, when followed by prompt and proper treatment, means early recovery. The Sanatorium should be the first rather than the last resort of the tuberculosis. No home is safe from tuberculosis until all homes are safe.

Tuberculin Sensitivity

Has been used as a means of finding early cases of pulmonary disease in the adolescent child without great cost. The small and slowly decreasing number of reactors in the first grade and the high schools, the low morbidity and mortality in both sexes below the 35-year limit, and the drop in unreported cases all support the theory that a consistent use of this method of attack should make tuberculosis a relatively rare disease in about ten years. The fewer cases there are in a community the more necessary it is to use the tuberculin test! Tuberculin testing eliminated tuberculosis among cattle. It can do the same for man using the reaction as a means of finding tuberculosis in the child's environment rather than in the child himself.

The Tuberculin test will be offered to the Students of the College in the very near future; those desiring to take the test are asked to sign at the Health Center.

OSHKOSH TIPS POINTERS; MILWAUKEE WINS TITLE

In the closing game of the season, the Pointers dropped a close game at Oshkosh Thursday night. Point trailed the entire game, and the rally during the closing minutes failed to close the gap. It was one of those games that was lost on free throws, the Point missing 18 gift shots.

Daniels, Oshkosh pivot man, led the scoring with 14 points. Hank Warner, playing his last game for the purple and the gold, led the Point attack with five "buckets." Terzinski, who holds second place in the Conference scoring, was held to eight points. Bill Peterson, came through with six points to narrow the margin of defeat.

Four Pointers played their last college game, Hank Warner, Reuben Belongia, Tony Anderson, and Fe Bohan. Four men, who we'll miss next year.

BOHAN

The defeat put Point into a tie for second place. Milwaukee went through the conference with only one defeat at the hands of Whitewater. We all admit Milwaukee had a good team, but with one or two breaks the boys from Central State could have had at least a tie. Buehler, Milwaukee, won the scoring title in the Conference and he deserves it. Milwaukee ran off with the football title making it a big year for them. We can remember when we used to do that without much effort. Well next year's another year, and you can't win all of the time.

Due to the conflict of the bowling schedule with the Oshkosh basketball game, last week's matches were postponed and will be rolled this Thursday. On last Friday, the Phi Sigs and Taylor Drugs bowled their postponed match. The Phi Sigs took three straight to retain their lead in the league. The team standings remain unchanged but there were a few changes in the individual leaders. Koehn and Becker remained in the top two positions but Baebenroth and Mailer fattened their averages enough to take over the third and fourth spots.

Friday's contest changed the handicap of two of this week's scheduled matches. These are as follows:

- Phi Sigs vs. Chi Delts (+ 8)*
 - Eat Shop vs. Faculty (+ 114)
 - Pointer vs. Taylor Drugs (+ 26)

The College All-Stars, a team composed of CSTC cagers, dropped a 67-51 decision to the Dorchester Aces Sunday evening. Chet Rinka, former Point luminary, led the Aces with 25 points. Pete Preboski former member of the Oshkosh All-Stars was also outstanding for the winners. Hank Warner was high scorer for the losers.

The third man in the ring during the Wisconsin Rapids Golden Glove Tournament was none other than our Coach, Eddie Kotal. Judging from the applause and lack of jeers, it seems that the fans enjoyed his work. Coach Kotal has been refereeing boxing matches for several years and has worked

The Consumer Store basketball team, composed mostly of CSTC students, placed fourth in the Wautoma tournament last week. Kenny Parr was selected on the All-Star Tourney team. Sunday this team lost a close game to the Hilbert All-Stars. Playing with Hilbert were Guy Krumm and Art Schroeder, former Stevens Point athletes.

Coach Louie Drobnick announced that the first bout of the boxing season will be held March 6 at the Training School Gym. The Keshena Indians will be the first victims for the Pointers and lots of action is in sight.

Several new boys will be led by old timers, like Louie Lang, Dan Young, and Jim Hanig. Norm Hala, Freshman heavyweight should really help the boys. Above the 145 lb. class the boys should have easy sledging.

COLLEGE THEATER

At a meeting held Wednesday evening in the theater office, College Theater elected its officers for the second semester. The results were as follows:

- President Joe Ophoven
- Executive Earle Siebert
- Business Manager M. Meverden
- Secretary Lillian Boe

By recent constitutional amendment the office of publicity manager was created for the purpose of stimulating public interest in College Theater productions. Formerly this office was a part of the business staff, being responsible to the business manager. As it stands now the Publicity Manager is appointed by and is responsible directly to the Board of Directors which is composed of the Executive, the Business Manager, and the two faculty advisors, Mr. Jenkins, and Mr. Burroughs. The office of official photographer is also under Board appointment. Cliff Sprague now holds that position.

Miss Susan E. Colman spent the latter part of last week at the annual National Progressive Education Conference at Chicago. Teachers and others interested in education came from all parts of United States to attend. The first half of the week was spent on a tour visiting shops, galleries, schools, missions, and hotels of the various settlements of Chicago, the NBC studios, Hull House, Chicago Tribune Building, Marshall Field Store, Rand McNally Publishing Company, and other places of interest in Chicago. During the remainder of the week outstanding educational speakers lectured to group conferences at the Palmer House and the Congress Hotel.

Miss Colman said that one of the most interesting parts of the Conference was the international program Thursday evening at which folk dances and songs of foreign lands were presented. Another outstanding point of interest was the Mexican exhibit. Added attractions were the ballet, Midsummer Night's Dream, the play, Cinderella, and concerts by the Chicago Bach Chorus and Chicago Symphony Orchestra conducted by Igor Strawinsky.

Miss Colman, after attending the Chicago Symphony concert had the opportunity to meet Mr. Igor Strawinsky, a Russian Composer, at tea.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatic fraternity, held a meeting Wednesday evening at which officers for the second semester were elected. The officers chosen to lead the organization for the remainder of the year are as follows:

- Director Madelyn Davel
- Sub-Director Barbara Gerdes
- Secretary-Treasurer Earle Siebert
- Publicity Manager Don Krider

"Alpha Psi" is only active in that it admits new members each semester who have shown outstanding work in some field of play production at Central State. Recognition is given for excellence in acting, directing, scene designing, writing plays, and the like. Therefore, it is honorary in scope, and functions only as an honorary fraternity.

Pledging of new members will begin in a few weeks, it was announced by Director Davel this week.

FORENSICS

The Forensic Society climaxed the Wisconsin River Valley Tournament by entertaining its 87 guests at an informal dinner in the Nelson Hall Dining Room Friday, February 23. The group was seated at many small tables, cleverly decorated with red and blue hatchets and stars. Mr. L. M. Burroughs, CSTC Debate Coach, declared that the hatchets were symbolic of Washington and the fact that no debater in this tournament had ever told a lie. Also, in case any of the contestants had taken their debating too seriously and were thinking subconsciously of settling with fists, there seemed to be hatchets to spare and he suggested that all those people bury one.

Coach C. D. Donaldson of Eau Claire, led the singing of Auld Lang Syne, and told his perennial joke entitled "Justice." (Ed. Note Ben Kordus is still laughing.)

Those of the faculty who judged the debates were special guests of the Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Connor, Auburndale, recently announced the marriage of their daughter, Gene, to James McGuire, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McGuire, Stevens Point. The ceremony was performed Saturday, August 12.

Mrs. McGuire was graduated from Central State Teachers College, Stevens Point, and has had charge of the English Department at the Chetek High School for the last two years. She is a member of Omega Mu Chi sorority and of Sigma Tau Delta and Sigma Zeta, honorary fraternities.

The groom is also a graduate of Central State Teachers College and has been employed as a teacher at Stevens Point High School. He has accepted the position of athletic coach in Colfax High School for the second semester and is affiliated with Chi Delta-Rho fraternity. The couple are residing in Colfax.

THE MUSIC PARADE

The band made its first trip of the season last Tuesday, February 20th to Colby for an afternoon and Greenwood for an evening concert. The band was well received by a large crowd at both communities. Visiting bands at the Greenwood concert included Thorpe, Neilsville, and Loyal.

The "Hungry 53" rated chicken dinners at both schools—small wonder we look forward to the trips. To add to the pleasure of the meals, the band members were served by some rather attractive Home Ec. girls. For further information concerning the aforesaid statement, contact "Mortimer", Pliner, or Perry.

The college bus left Greenwood about 10:30, waited for the Soo Line in Spencer for at least twenty minutes and arrived back in Point around midnight. Oh yes, in case anyone is in need of an 'end man' or a master of ceremonies, get in touch with Perry, solo cornet. He kept the passengers in the bus well entertained all the way home.

The second trip of the band will be Monday, March 4th when they will play two concerts in Antigo and one in Shawano. The girls trio, Gertrude Rondeau, soprano; Ethel Hill, mezzo-soprano; and Charlotte Reichel, contralto, will accompany the band on this trip. They will sing three selections, "Chinese Lullaby" by Reigger, "Robins in the Rain" by Noble Cain, and "Gingerbread Man". Miss Reichel will also sing a solo, "God Bless America" by Irving Berlin.

SPORTS

There will be a very extra special W.A.A. meeting Wednesday evening, February 28, at 7:15 o'clock in the recreation room. It's important that all members and prospective members be present. (The prospective members are those who have signified their desire to join the organization by signing on one of the two bulletin boards some time ago). You can expect a "sweet" surprise too.

Our many fans have requested that we announce the schedule of basketball games for the remainder of the season.

Here it is so follow closely:
February 28—Tigers vs. Bluestreaks
March 4—Trojans vs. Skyrockets
March 6—Tigers vs. Trojans
March 11—Skyrockets vs. Bluestreaks
March 13—Trojans vs. Bluestreaks and Tigers vs. Skyrockets.
March 18—Final Playoffs for Championship.

The mixed badminton tourney is progressing nicely. However, those taking part should know that all matches must be played as scheduled or they will have to be forfeited. Watch the bulletin boards carefully.

The women's badminton and ping pong tournaments should move a little faster. Do your part now! Find your opponent and arrange a time for playing. Then report the results in Miss Davidoff's office.

How about tumbling, girls? If you want it, say so to Miss Davidoff and we will try to arrange for it each week. It's great sport but we need some participants to carry it on.

It's Play Day time again and we're all working to make it more successful than ever before. We're even getting the new members to prove their worth. Have you noticed? You will.

Mr. Burroughs was in charge of the tourney, being assisted by Mr. Mott of the College Faculty. This, the first tournament of its kind at CSTC is said to have set a precedent for continuation of such a tourney from year to year. OF KINGS AND CABBAGES

From The Royal Purple

Another democratic symbol was lost in the mire of war last Tuesday. The British Treasury refused to submit the yearly budget to the public or Parliament.

Among the leaders of nations Adolph Hitler appears to be most egotistical. He drops an "I" every 53 words uttered. Chamberlain excels in modesty with an "I" every 249 words. Roosevelt's speech is sandwiched with an "I" every 100 words.

A student suicide has perpetrated an educational wrangle in Chicago. A law officer accused hard study at U. of C. the reason, and the University newsheet offered the officer a logic text.

Since 1932, the world around U. S. has consumed 3,000,000 more bales of cotton. During the same period American exports have fallen off 3,000,000 bales. From 1929 to September, 1939, the beginning of the war, Great Britain's employment increased 8.2 per cent; ours decreased 9 per cent.

POST WILL PAY $750 FOR CONFUCIUS SAYINGS

Here is your chance to win one of 167 cash prizes, totaling $750, that the Saturday Evening Post is offering to the students CSTC and other colleges throughout the country, in what promises to be one of the most timely and challenging brain teasers of recent years.

The simple rules of the contest, which opens today, are announced in an interesting and helpful eight-page pamphlet which will be mailed in any desired quantity to instructors who write to Prof. Charles E. Bellatty, head of the department of Advertising, Boston University, who is acting as chairman of the Contest Committee.

You and other students are asked to submit proverbs — phrased in your best pidgin English—which may be applied to some fact about the Saturday Evening Post's leadership in the weekly magazine field.

You don't have to buy even a single copy of the Post. Probably you are one of the 88% of American college students who already read it anyway.

The Post's pamphlet says: You don't have to know Chinese. You don't even have to be a whiz at Oriental Philosophy B-102. All you need is a little imagination and a good sharp pencil."

The pamphlet gives examples from recent newspaper advertisements, among the: "Horse win once..... luck: Horse win twice..... coincidence: Horse win every time..... BET ON HORSE!" As the Post points out, this "Chinese" proverb refers to the fact that while second and third places have changed back and forth over the years, the Post has always been first in dollar volume of advertising. The contest leaflet then lists 14 facts about the Post's leadership on which "Chinese" proverbs could be based.

Apparently inspired by the success of their recent "Chinese" campaign in metropolitan newspapers, the Post decided on the contest as a means of getting fresh material for use in future advertisements. The brightest sayings received in the contest will be so used.

Students are encouraged to send in as many proverbs as they can think of, are told that any one of them may win the $100 first prize. The other prizes are as follows: two second prizes, $50 each; four third prizes, $25 each; ten fourth prizes, $10 each; fifty fifth prizes, $5 each; one hundred sixth prizes, $1 each. There will be additional awards for acceptable sayings received early in the contest.

In addition to the cash prizes, there will be 500 Honorable Mention Awards to consist, according to the leaflet, of handsome "Campus Confucius" diplomas, with the student's name filled in. The diplomas will be awarded to all winners of cash prizes.

Besides Professor Bellatty, whose course "Criticism, Suggestion and Advice" is used in journalism and advertising classes in 400 colleges and schools throughout the country where the Post serves as a textbook, the Contest Committee includes: Alex F. Osborn, executive vice president of Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osborn, Inc.; George B. Hotchkiss, professor of Marketing at New York University; Arthur J. Brewster, head of the Department of Advertising and Selling at Syracuse University; and A. J. Gallagher, Manager of Publicity, The Curtis Publishing Company.

Requests for pamphlets and entries should not be mailed to The Saturday Evening Post, but to the Contest Committee, in care of Professor Bellatty, 685 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, Mass. The contest closes at midnight, April 5. Winners will receive checks promptly.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB ENJOYS SUCCESSFUL TRIP NORTH

The Men's Glee Club returned home Friday evening from a very successful two day trip upstate. Assembly concerts were presented at the Bowler and Antigo High Schools Thursday, and at the Eagle River High School on Friday. Thursday evening a concert was given in the high school auditorium at Phelps, where several former appearances of the club have been made. The trip was made in private cars and Director N. E. Knutzen, accompanist Ula Mae Knutson, and twenty-four members of the club comprised the group. Soloists included Russ Fredericks, Tony Klein, Duane Phaneuf, and Jerry O'Doherty. Trombone selections were played by Dick Parretts.

While at Phelps, members of the group had the opportunity of visiting the Gateway, one of Wisconsin's northern sports centers. Here the fellows enjoyed bowling, billiards, and some of the outdoor sports of the season. A Chicago snow train brought a large crowd of winter enthusiasts to the northern fun center on Friday, some of whom participated in the winter festival this week end at Eagle River.

The only thing the boys didn't like too well in the north country was the cold weather, but some of the fellows made the trip equipped with flannels and wool shirts, all of which goes to show they used good old horse sense. One very obvious thing of note in the northland, of course, was the deep snow and the over abundance of ice. In fact, they have so much ice that they build "castles" in the streets. Seriously, though, if you've never seen an ice palace at night lighted with concealed colored lights, you've missed something. The question arises: "Why can't CSTC do something like that?" An ice palace on our campus would be something, now wouldn't it. Well, anyway all this sums up to the fact that the trip was a real success.
