Youth Discussion Initiated On Peace Problems

New York City—If the world's wars should be ended immediately, what would be the basis of a just and lasting settlement? How should the coming peace be organized?

To stimulate young people thinking on these questions, the Commission to Study the Organization of Peace, 8 West 40th Street, today announced the formation of a Youth-Education Committee headed by Mrs. Harvey N. Davis, wife of the President of Stevens Institute of Technology. Included are Dr. Walter Kotschnig, professor of comparative education at Smith College, Mr. Richard Fagley of the Church Peace Union, Miss Mary Jeanne McKay, President of the National Student Federation, Mrs. Harrison Thomas of the League of Nations Association, Miss Ursula Hubbard of the

Training School Hears Kostuck

Assemblyman John Kostuck addressed the students of the Junior High School in an interesting talk on our government Tuesday morning, February 26. He has represented Portage County, approximately 33,000 people, for the last ten years in the state legislature.

As an introduction to his speech, he answered a question that was uppermost in the minds of the listeners; "Why was he blind?" As a young man he lost his eyesight when dynamite exploded prematurely. He cautioned the children to beware of explosives and to learn to recognize Folk songs and ballads, duets and trios from late Broadway Musical Shows and a musical skit, "The Blue Danube", will be featured in assembly Thursday, March 7, by the Blue Danube Singers.

The program consists of two parts, one of which is the duets and trios from musical shows and operas from Hollywood and Broadway. The second part is the musical presentation of Howard Tooley's "The Blue Danube". This story, which has been taken from history depicts the feeling between Johann Strauss, Sr. and Johann, Jr. of the writing of "The Blue Danube", and also the love of Johann, Jr. for Countess Olga.

The program will be presented by the artists, Robert Fitzgerald, Edwin Skinner and Marie Arndt. The leader Mr. R. Fitzgerald is an operatic tenor and has appeared in both Light and Grand Operas. Mr. Fitzgerald who comes from a long line of musical people has also studied with many outstanding teachers as Forrest Lamont and Sebastian Anstroom. The pianist, Mr. Skinner, will also take the part of Johann Strauss, Jr. Marie Arndt, who plays the part of Countess Olga is a Mezzo-Soprano. She has played in operas and taken concert tours in United States and Canada.

This program to be presented on Thursday should be of particular interest to students and music lovers.

them, for ignorance does not always prove to be bliss.

Attends School For Blind

Mr. Kostuck attended the School for the Blind in Janesville, where there are from 100 to 150 enrolled annually. (This institution costs the state $200,000 per year.) The grades run from the kindergarten to the high school, and offer the same subjects as other high schools in these divisions. Manual training and domestic science are also offered in their teaching program. Their music department is worthy of note.

After ten years of education there, Mr. Kostuck attended the University of Wisconsin for three and a half years. Although it now has books written in the Braille system, it didn't at that time. Thus he had to depend on the help his classmates gave him.

He then taught in the Junior High School division of the School for the Blind in Stanton, Virginia.

The main purpose of his talk was to show why we must have do's and don'ts in society in order that we may live together.

Coach Drobnick's Men Open Season

Tonight at 8:00, Coach Louie Drobnick's pugilists will face the strong Keshena maulers. It is the first bout of the season and it should be fast and furious. Three men will enter the college ring for the first time in their careers, but they will be backed by several old veterans.

The team may have a hard time in the lighter weights, for the boys from Keshena have had plenty of ring experience. The top three weights should be sure victories for the Point. Coach Louie Drobnick will be under the lights himself while he battles Whitewing. Dan Young, the slugging battler, should give the crowd plenty of thrills in his bout with Len Tucker. Louie Lange, undefeated in college competition, should whip Manie Boyd, but not without a great deal of resistance. Stimm will fight Warrington, a veteran of many battles. By the looks of things Point should nose out a victory by one match.

Last year the Point broke even, losing at Keshena. A victory would be a fine start to a successful boxing season and it always helps to take the first one. More bouts will follow and we hope the season will be as successful as the last one.

Two New Books In Our Library

Doctor's orders given Robert Pinkerton were to give up his newspaper job for an outdoor life. He and his wife Kathrene did not plan to go to the sunny south but courageously prepared to leave by canoe for the Canadian woods. Upon arrival in the north woods, Mr. Pinkerton built a log cabin in which they lived for about five years. Theirs was a "Robinson Crusoe" existence. Visitors were few — some Indians and backwoodsmen, and an occasional city visitor. In this exciting and adventurous environment they brought up their child.

Mr. Pinkerton succeeded in earning a livelihood with his pen while Kathrene added to their funds by running a trap line. About these unusual experiences, Mrs. Pinkerton has written many pages which are

The Girls' Glee Club will present its formal home concert in the college auditorium at 8:00 P.M. Thursday, March 7.

Mr. Peter J. Michelsen, the director, is noted as a judge of tone. His glee club, therefore, has been carefully drilled in intonation, as well as in harmony. The sixty voices singing many different types of songs accent this concentration.

Interesting, Varied Program Offered Besides chorus numbers the glee club has a program of several special features. Those in Thursday night's concert will include a marimba duet by Miss Evelyn Schwingel, a senior from Richland Center, and Miss Dorothy Jane Raddant, a freshman from Shawano, who have been en-

Miss Charlotte Reichel, a sophomore from Shawano and the glee club's alto soloist, will sing a contralto solo. Miss Eyleene Atkins, a junior from Almond, who plays first bassoon in the band, will sing a soprano solo. A trio consisting of Miss Gertrude Rondeau, a freshman from Mosinee, Miss Ethel Hill, a senior from Washburn, and Miss Charlotte Reichel will sing two numbers. This trio has sung for many of the clubs and societies in the city this winter and was always well received. All three girls have solo

'SAVE THE JANITORS', CRIES JUNIOR WRITER

(This is the second in a series of light editorials which were written as part of an advanced composition examination last semester. The theme of the editorials was the proposal that janitors be dismissed and the students and faculty do the work.)

More bad news! Now one of Governor Heil's colonels has decided that what schools need is fewer janitors and more dirty work for the teachers and students. The only comment I have to offer on that one is—"Absurd." (Not quite the only one, though.)

In the first place, the idea is by no means new. The Egyptians tried it in 4342 B. C. My friend, Mr. Mullaney, who explored Egypt exhaustively and saw evidences of sweeping done by students (dust remaining in the corners, empty Coca Cola bottles left on tables, etc.), mentioned it in his book, "The Dismissal of Janitors in the Nile Kingdom," (Harpers Bros., 1840). So unless we are no better than the ancient Egyptians, in itself a very, very debatable point, we should not dismiss our janitors. Rather dismiss the teachers! (Omit, please, typist.)

The really staggering aspect of the whole thing is the idea of a teacher or a student (especially the latter) doing any manual labor. The last time it happened was in 1814 when the principal of the school which my friend Mr. Mullaney was attending was more surprised than pleased to find his prize pupils sweeping cobwebs from his desk. This led indirectly to the Civil War.

If the teachers are all going to become janitors, are the janitors going to be allowed to join the teachers union? If so, what then?

No, as a rank conservative, I find it necessary to put my foot down on this scheme. It has been pretty difficult to hold it up all this time anyway.—Echo Weekly.

SPORTS -IN- SHORTS

There will be a short but important meeting of the active W. A. A. members tonight, Wednesday, March 6. It will start promptly at 7:15. After the business meeting, the Food Committee for Play Day will meet at the dormitory.

Beginning Monday, March 11, there will be tumbling every Monday and Wednesday at 4 p. m. If you are interested, girls, show that you are by coming out the very first time. Tell your friends and bring them along, too.

Shaatin' from the Lip

Just about right now we Seniors (get the "we"? It makes this corner downright proud) are beginning to realize that the trivial worries we have had in the past are of minor detail as compared with that quickly-arising question of jobs. Now is the time we are beginning to worry about the mechanics and techniques of application letters, personal interviews and so on. Now is when we wonder if the four years we have spent in quest of degrees will prove fruitful. Perhaps next fall is the deadline Mom or Pop has set for our draining the family coffers. We've got to hoe our own row from then on in.

This corner had prepared a whole list of "do's" and "don'ts" for prospective teachers but we quickly realized that we perhaps would be as qualified for that as for interpreting the language of the dodo bird in the Aztec language.

However, Mr. A. J. Herrick, Principal of the Training School and chairman of the C. S. T. C. Committee on Recommendations has compiled a pamphlet offering the graduating student guidance suggestions and directions for placement. In case any of next year's prospective teachers haven't seen this pamphlet, we suggest you hie yourselves over to the Training School and get one. Perhaps you will be surprised at the wealth of information you do not have pertaining to job seeking, finding and holding.

 Bacon:—"A liar holds himself brave in the face of God, a coward in the face of men" (Letters of application, remember?)

MEGAPHONE

Back with ya, with the smell of spring in the air and everything looking like its coming to life again, but look out for that dear little March winter all of you early birds who have out your light shoes and light dresses.

We hear that there was really something the other night—that Sunny Zahn, Bud Menzel, Delores Nalan affair. After a thing like that you'll learn not to put too much trust in one of those things called a steady, Sunny.

The other day in one of the English classes at Mary D. Bradford, the students were making up similes. You all might be interested in one which was submitted—Joe Bloom is like the last bloom of summer—some stuff I say.

It seems that Frankie Koehn's age varies with whom he is talking.—The other night one of the girls asked Frank how old he was.—Says Frank, "I'm 22 to the old ones and 20 to the young ones."

Oh Boy! A Nelson Eddy on the campus! John Kelly was being initiated into the Newman club the other night and the boys asked him to sing the Star Spangled Banner and it turned out so good that the boys in the Glee Club had better watch out—So they say, but I think he will have to make a personal appearance before we all will believe in the little man.

Jim Kulidas made his debut into society the other night—he took one of the young ladies of the campus to the cinema and really made a real appearance.

Marg Becker finally found someone who can out talk her.—The other night on the Kreisler trip Connie really told her off several times and dear public it actually shut her up for all of two minutes.

The boxers have quite a theme song so I hear. Its "Just Before the Battle, Mother." We all hope it doesn't change to "Asleep in the Deep", Wednesday night.

Roger Bernstein has quite a beard that he has raised over the period of a few weeks—"To whom it may concern", says Roger, "I'm swearing off of watermelon and shaving for Lent." Some sacrifice for our dear little lad.

Lots more but these are some of the more choice bits of the week—Some of my dear friends say that its a lot of rot but any of them can write this column any time they want—all they have to do is ask for it. I'm not worrying about getting much of a vacation anyway. So long, my good and faithful friends.

Measurements for all degree graduates for gowns will be taken at the counter from Monday, March 11, 1940 to Wednesday, March 20, 1940. All gowns must be ordered during this time.

CLUB AND SOCIETY

PRIMARY DEPARTMENT

The Primary Department had as its speaker Monday evening, Miss Gladys Van Arsdale, who talked on the subject "The Kind of a Teacher I'd like to Be." She itemized a teacher's attributes into ten heads and gave detailed accounts of each.

Several committees were appointed to take charge of the annual spring Homecoming to be held April 20. The chairmen are as follows: Entertainment, Eileen Coey, Decorations, Janet Poggemiller, Speaker, Lucille Newman, and Food, Verna Luick.

Carmelita Wirkus was elected as press representative.

HOME EC

The Home Economics Club met at the Bake-Rite Bakery of Stevens Point Monday evening to make a tour of the plant. They carefully studied the processes that this company uses in the preparation of its products, particularly bread and rolls. The Bake-Rite Company is especially noted for its up to date methods and modern machinery.

RURAL LIFE

The Rural Life Club meeting Monday night was presided over by Warren Lensmire. Herbert Upright led in community singing. This was followed by a reading by Mrs. Watson.

FACULTY NOTES

President E. T. Smith will leave Thursday, March 7, for Madison where he will attend a meeting of the Board of Regents. It seems that this school is exceedingly popular if one may judge by the number of applications Mr. Smith is receiving to fill the vacancies. are none.

Frankie Koehn had a birthday last Sunday and as a special treat the good Eat Shop cooks presented him with a luscious cake topped with ONE candle. Frankie says he is old enough now to conceal his age and allows a small fluctuation of two years that he may make himself more eligible to the ladies.

* * *

Miss Sarah Anderson, who last year attended C. S. T. C. is this year a student at the University of Wisconsin. Sarah was active in dramatics at this college and is continuing with this type of activity at the "U". She holds the leading woman's role in the presentation of "Our Town", which will be given by a large number of students March 13 to 16 at the Wisconsin Union Theater.

Sarah was a participant in many school activities in C. S. T. C. She was also a member of many campus organizations including College Theater, Tau Gamma Beta Sorority, and Lutheran Students.

The Central State bowling league, a comparatively new thing around this school, finished the first round of a double round robin schedule last Thursday. These games included a hotly contested match between the Phi Sigs and Chi Delts, the two leading teams in the league. Backed by a large number of their brothers and pledges, the arch rivals put forth their best efforts with the Chi Delts winning two out of three. The Phi Sigs retained their league lead, though it was greatly reduced. In the other games the Pointer team took two out of three from Taylor Drugs and the "hot" faculty aggregation won three straight in their match with the Eat Shop.

The individual leaders remained practically the same. Koehn had an off night and lowered his average sufficiently to make the first five very close.

This week's schedule, the first of the second round, is as follows:

- Chi Delts vs. Eat Shop (+14)*
- Phi Sigs vs. Taylor Drugs (+54)
- Pointer vs. Faculty (+80)

Some of the boys on the College Basketball squad are taking a verbal beating after the game at the high school last Sunday afternoon. It seems as though the boys from the St. Pete's league were a little too hot for the Ford V 8's. Well don't worry, gang, some days you can't lay up a sucker shot. There will come a day, when you'll get even.

The boys are talking about a baseball team this spring and maybe with a little support we might find a team representing the college. There is lots of baseball talent in school and it would keep the boys in shape for the summer.

A movement has been brought forth to change the name of the faculty bowling team. It seems that a more appropriate name would be "The Hecklers". They certainly know how to get the other team "riled up" even if they don't get so many pins. If they keep going at the pace they have set the last three weeks, I am going to put my money on them to walk off with the title.

Describes Legislature

He gave a brief description of our state legislature, its composition and its work. He stated the main steps in procedure of a bill becoming a law. He showed why he thought the Reference Library ("bill factory") was one of the best of our state departments.

He concluded his talk by answering any questions that were asked. In this way we found that the Sheboygan Press has been our official state newspaper since 1933; that visitors, with very rare exceptions are always welcome in the legislature; that lobbyists have an opportunity to defend their interests at public hearings; and that the law requires only one joint session: to hear the governor's message.

When asked how he began his political career, he told about a class prophecy given at Janesville, which stated that he would some day be mayor of Stevens Point!

"We are not trying to settle the present war" Mrs. Davis pointed out. "We are not trying to tell the belligerents what their terms of settlement should be. What we hope to do is to induce young people, who will have to live through the next peace, to begin thinking about it. Can they guide themselves to avoid, in the years to come, the errors of the past? What are the paths to a lasting peace? As we see it, our job is more than keeping this country out of war. It is to discover the methods of keeping war out of the world."
