Dancers Enjoy Winter Wonderland At Ball

Our winter social season was formally opened Friday evening, December 12, with the annual Senior Ball set in a winter wonderland and held in the Mary D. Bradford Gymnasium.

King Ted Fritsch and Queen Velma Jacobson led the grand march followed by about fifty couples. Clarence Solberg, general chairman of the ball, and Janette Halverson were second in line. Wally Beau's orchestra provided music for the dancing.

The weather man, Skatrude and crew were in accord and the winter land was effective both inside and out.

Receiving the guests at the beginning of the party were Mr. Fritsch, Miss Jacobson, Mr. Solberg, Miss Halverson, President and Mrs. William C. Hansen, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Evans.

Presiding at the punch bowl were Marian Lash, Alberta Johnson, Crystal Twist, and Janet Tiffany.

Art Room Overflows With Christmas Spirit

You're welcome to a bit of the Christmas spirit that overflows from Miss Carlsten's art room. Many varied and colorful Christmas activities have been filling the room with hustle, bustle and good cheer for weeks.

The pounding and sawing you may have heard last week was Ray Craig constructing forms of angels. The background for the Christmas concert this year is to be the figures of Mary and the Christ-child surrounded by angels. The figures are larger than life size and Betty Pohlman, Alice Paski and Ray Craig have done a beautiful job of painting them.

On the windows of the art room are transparencies done in patterns of angels, candles and madonnas.

Instead of the usual Christmas tree is an arrangement of long-needed pine boughs around a beautiful madonna plaque of the Italian renaissance style. There are tall lighted candles among the evergreens, and nestled in the boughs are three or four shiny gold balls.

Framed in balsam is a display of Christmas cards—adorable cherubs, angelic madonnas, angels with sweet little faces, and graceful deer. In the center is a lovely little Italian bambino plaque, patterned after Della Robbia, a sculptor of the Italian renaissance.

This only begins to tell about all the decorations there. Why not drop in to the art room this week and see it for yourself. It defies description.

You Can Expect.... Christmas At Nelson

According to figures released Monday by Dr. Lyness, registrar, the average student at CSTC maintains an average grade of B. During the second semester of last year, there were 9,017 grades issued to students. Of these marks, 4,278, or 47.73% were grades of B. 1,651 of the grades were A's. This was 18.31% of the total. A mark of C was issued in 2,428 of the cases, or 26.93% of the total. 3.7% of the marks were D's, 334 of these being given out. The dreaded F was "awarded" 210 times, representing 2.33% of the total number. In 116 of the cases, or 1.29%, the semester requirements were not fulfilled in the regular time and grades of "incomplete" were issued.

In Nelson Hall too, the Christmas spirit prevades. Decorations have been made almost entirely by the dormites themselves—and in typical dorm fashion they made a party of it. The result is enchanting inside as well as out. As one walks through the corridors nearly every door bears a yuletide greeting. A tall lighted tree adorns the dining room and on Thursday night the girls at the hall will enjoy a formal Christmas dinner before attending the concert. Guests at the dinner will be the faculty members responsible for the concert.

Santa will come down the big chimney and be on deck for the annual Christmas party at 10:30 P. M.

Eleventh In Series Tonight And Thurs.

With the advent of the Yuletide season comes the eleventh annual Christmas concert presented by the Music Department of the college. It will be staged in the college auditorium on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, December 17th and 18th.

Following is the program:

Christmas carols, chimes, Ruth Michelsen; vibra harp and marimba, Dorothy Raddant; piano, Marjorie Loberg, beginning at 7:20 o'clock.

Orchestra, directed by Peter J. Michelsen, "Prayer" from "Hansel and Gretel," by Humperdinck.

Candlelight procession, "O Come All Ye Faithful".

Girls Glee Club, directed by Mr. Michelsen and accompanied by Miss Loberg: "O Pray for Peace," by Brahe-Howorth; "God of All Nature," by Tschaiakowsky, Charlotte Reichel, soloist; "Thou Wilt Keep Him in Perfect Peace," by Wesley-Ederton; "The Voice of Freedom," adapted from Rubinstein's "Kamennoi-Ostrow", Ruth Michelsen, chimes.

Tableau, "The Nativity": Vocal solo, "Cantique de Noel," Charlotte Reichel; Mary, Gertrude Rondeau; Joseph, Everett Gardner; shepherds, Sidney Berg, Erwin Pleet, and Melvin Booth; kings, Reuben Schultz, James Kulidas, and Ronnie Craig; vocal solo, "Slumber, Sweetly Slumber," Gertrude Rondeau; male quartet "We Three Kings of the Orient Are," Robert Schunk, John Lueck, Duane Phaneuf, and Robert Torkelson; mixed chorus, "Ave Maria".

Orchestra: "Pique Dame Overture," by Suppe, and "Berceuse" by Jarnefelt.

Men's Glee club, directed by Norman E. Knutzen and accompanied by Ula Mae Knutson: "Legend of the Bells," Rhodes, Eunice Milbauer, soprano soloist, and Ruth Michelsen, chimes; "Catalonian Christmas Carol," by Lefevre; "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," by Bach; "Hallelujah, Amen," by Handel.

Mixed chorus of 150 voices, directed by Mr. Knutzen and Mr. Michelsen and accompanied by Miss Knutson and Gilbert Faust: "Silent Night," by Gruber, with an echo choir; "Gesu Bambino," by Pietro Yon, soloist, Duane Phaneuf; "Lost in the Night," by F. Melius Christiansen, soloist, Gertrude Rondeau; "Hallelujah Chorus," by Handel, with orchestra accompaniment.

GAMMA DELTA

Gamma Delta held its annual Christmas party Sunday evening. In the true yuletide fashion, carols were sung and gifts distributed.

WHAT DO WE DO NOW? . . .

Well, we were going along at a pretty good clip and then the Japs had to go and tilt the machine. Now we've got to protect our rights the hard way. This writer has no fears that the hard way will be too hard for us to work out to a successful end. The hard way is expensive; it's bloody; it's the ultimate in horrors and heartbreak; but there has yet to be a way discovered which is too hard for Americans to travel its full length.

Now, where do we college students fit into this picture? Every one of us is 100% American. America is in trouble and it is our duty to do our utmost to see to it that we come out on top and right side up. Should we join the armed forces immediately? Should we go to work in defense industries? Let's not. Let's stay where we are until we're told to go someplace where we can be of some service. Let's do our level best to avail ourselves of the educational opportunities before us. Let's prepare for our part in peacetime national defense; the education of the youth of the land. Had the youth of Germany, Italy, and Japan been taught ideals of democracy and the God-given rights of man during the last 25 years, they would not be blindly following the dictates of maniacs today. With proper education, our job for tomorrow, the youth of America will never lack the ability to weigh right and wrong; to stamp out all aggression and oppression.

Therefore, let's prepare for that task until our government deems our presence necessary elsewhere. When that call to colors is sounded, however, let's answer "on the double" and do our part and more in order that when it's over, we may take another part, that of spreading the cherished ideals and enlightenment which have made America the nation she is today.

THE TALK OF THE CAMPUS

by Hannah Kaufman

Wed. Dec. 10: Mr. Harris dealt out a few suggestions to the debate students—threw in some of his personal experiences as a debate coach—touched lightly on the labor question—then turned the conversation to the present war crisis—and wound up an interesting ninety minutes. Another informal discussion is scheduled for 4 o'clock this afternoon.

It has been announced that the labor question will be discarded, and that the new question will be concerned with the eight points drawn up by Pres. Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill at their Atlantic Conference last August.

Thurs. Dec. 11: "Freedom of speech is one thing, slander is another." Add to the preceding statement the class lectures on patriotism—and you have the outcome of the Freshmen forum discussion on: HAS THE U. S. BEEN JUSTIFIED IN ITS FOREIGN POLICY?

(There was some quibbling over the whereabouts, on Dec. 7, of the U. S. Navy. So far as this department could discern, it was that which caused the perturbation.) In defense of the "accused" it must be pointed out that the program was planned before the present crisis arose. It was obvious that much of their material was thwarted and that many statements were extempore. We do feel that equivocac-tion might have been avoided if Mr. Walker had not attempted a dual role, but had acted only as moderator.

However after all is said and done, we still believe that a few people made an issue of a matter that did not deserve so much concern.

Fri. Dec. 12: Dr. Lyness explained to more than 100 students that College "Y" would be a non-denominational discussion group for the fundamental purpose of stimulating religious life on the campus. He questioned the advisability of organizing a College "Y" at C.S.T.C. The students were unanimous in their approval.—Comments were heard:

"Often prejudices are formed that have no basis. College "Y" will help to broaden our perspective." (R. Sparks)—"We must forget nationalities and creeds and be open-minded, and as college students we should be capable of so doing." (J. Unger)—"We're the ones who will be on the doorstep of tomorrow's pro-

Attended Country school in Dunn County, Dunn County Normal, and Stevens Point Normal.

Received his Ph.B. and Ph.M. degrees at the University of Wisconsin and took graduate work at Harvard.

Likes fishing, hunting, athletics, reading, theatricals, male quartet music, and travel.

Played forward and was Capt. of the Basketball team, and ran the 100 yd. dash at the Dunn County Normal.

Played football (right tackle), basketball, and was out for track while attending the Stevens Point Normal. He was also on the basketball squad at the University of Wisconsin.

Was coach at Cashton and Baldwin high schools and the Gallahad academy for six years at different intervals.

Played baseball and was soft ball pitcher on championship team at Cashton

Was a registered official with the WIAA for fifteen years and a member of the WIAA rules interpretation committee for five years. Refereed his fifteenth and last tournament the first year that Coach Eddie Kotal started to coach here.

Goes by such nicknames as "Cy" "Tunk" and "Uncle Herb".

Was a member of a male quartet here in 1906 and at the University of Wisconsin in 1912.

Taught school at Eau Galle, Wis., Field Graded School, Baldwin High School, and the Gallahad Academy for Boys at Hudson, Wis.

Was principal of the Cashton High School, Supt. of the Mauston High School and has been at the Central State Teachers College since 1918.

Was a roommate of E. A. Fromm of Fox Farm fame, and a Fraternity brother of Congressman Murray.

Met Wm. J. Bryan and Bob LaFollette, Sr.

Recalls many experiences he had while attending the Stevens Point Normal such as; the time he was kidnapped the night of the Junior Prom because he was Prom King, and the time he escaped his initiation by masquerading as a woman.

Sat through the whole service in a Mormon church before he realized that he was in the wrong church.

Was made Dean of Men with the help of a petition made out by the students of the Normal to the president.

Gives this advice to the students: IT HAS BEEN AND IT IS A SOURCE OF GREAT SATISFACTION TO ME, TO BE A MEMBER OF THIS SCHOOL COMMUNITY. IF I WERE TO EXPRESS A HOPE FOR THE FUTURE, IT WOULD BE THAT THE SAME SPIRIT OF UNITY BETWEEN STUDENTS AND STAFF WHICH HAS ALWAYS CHARACTERIZED THIS INSTITUTION CONTINUE TO PREVAIL.

STUDENT SPARRING

Christmas 1941! Yes, we all wish each other a Merry Christmas this year as in the past, but now it means a great deal more to a good many of us than it has in the past. The world at large has forgotten what Christmas really means and has gone mad as a result. The Christmas spirit must and will prevail in the world again even though in some lands it is blotted out by wars, by revolutions as in Russia, this being for only a short period of time in the eternal span of God and His Son.

We here have a great deal to get down on our knees for and to pray for in front of the crib this Christmas season. We first will pray and thank God for the things He has done for us in the past year and then we must pray that He will continue to bless us in our daily lives for personal reasons. We must not forget to pray for our country and for a victory with justice. To the men and women of a war-torn world, a victory without Christian justice as exemplified in the Christmas spirit would not be a victory at all, but just another armistice.

Each and every one of us must, and I am sure that we will, work toward a goal which will give peace to the world and not just another breathing spell between wars. This is the season when we all get the spirit of giving and of sacrifice renewed. Let us not forget to keep up this spirit after the Yule season itself is over, let us keep it going throughout the year. What ever we may be, what ever we may be doing next year or no matter where we may be, let us not forget to keep alive this wonderful feeling we now have—Peace on earth to men of good will.

Christmas Program At Training School

A Christmas program and sacred pageant was presented by the pupils of the Mary D. Bradford Junior High School Monday evening at 7:30.

"Christmas In Many Lands" was attractively produced by the pupils. This was followed by the presentation of "The Nativity" and numerous pageant scenes with carolers harmonizing in the background.

The poised and charming appearance of each character portrayed was most impressive. The artistic costumes were emphasized by the flood-lights playing upon them. The performance was one of the most effective ever to be introduced at the Junior High School. A true symbol of the Christmas spirit which prevailed!

Dope From Pils . . .

The Christmas spirit took hold as students walked into the building Monday morning and saw the trees that decorated the halls—one could appreciate them more if they had hung even one single strand of tinsel, say those that worked Saturday and Sunday on the trimming—"I never want to see another Christmas tree", was heard in a chorus after the last tree was finished. Then we can't fail to mention the stage decorations—and the work Ray Craig, Betty Pohlman, Miss Carlsen; and Alice Breske put in to have them finished for the concert. Most likely the spirit began at the Senior Ball on Friday night. The gym was decorated in a Christmas theme. As Goodrich and Wiese came in, everyone seemed surprised to see Joe—guess they thought he wouldn't do it. Then there was Isla Mae Wood and Jim Unger—Torkelson came up from Mosinee, and Jimmy Hoard, but perhaps you had better ask Donna Rae Roth about that; Clarence Tohm escorted a nurse from New London—Dick Sanborn and Ruth Chenoweth, Joe Negard and Marguerite Crummev exchanged a dance with Mr. and Mrs. Evans—Kurtzweil came in full 'fish and soup'—tails. . . . Bob Shrank was there, so were Rosemarie Howes and Frank Friday—one night campus for every 5 minutes after 2 o'clock—huh, Rosey?—Grant Thayer and Shirley Fomstad did it again—These are just some of the couples that finished off the decorations — Mistletoe is found hanging around and a lot of it is in a convenient spot—I wonder about that in the dorm living room, but so do plenty of others—Mr. Neale was teasing Isla about Melvin Booth and seemed to wonder if the presence of the mentioned is necessary—Mr. Faust, said the reason he laughed above everybody else at "Keep Em Flying" was because he was sitting in the balcony—The dormites are getting more humorous or something each day—Betty Pohlman came in one day only to find a ham bone on the middle of her bed—It's not surprising to find your clothes in someone else's closet or to find yourself in the dark when someone plans a "blackout"—Grin and bear it, is the motto, and we wouldn't change dorm life for anything—Doc Kulidas and Phil Behn collaborated in a little patriotic movement last weekend—Black Out!! Ed. Note—What! No Blitzkrieg? Well, if California can do it, why can't we?—Due to the Christmas activities and the many hours spent in helping—I'll just close this for now—Wishing everyone a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year —Pils.

FROM THE LOCKER ROOM
by
Jimmy Kulidas & Jack Rasmussen

Another year of sports on the Central State campus will enter the pages of history after this week is completed. The season of 1941 was filled with thrills and excitement and was very kind to the Pointers. Coach Eddie Kotal's basketball team came through with sixteen victories and three defeats and finished second in the conference race. The undefeated championship Green Gull five of Milwaukee State was the only aggregation to defeat the Pointers in the conference. They emerged victorious 51-48 and 61-42. Stout Institute of Menominee administered the other setback to the tune of 51-46 after suffering an earlier defeat 42-40. . . . Winona Teachers of Minnesota who reached the quarterfinals of the National Intercollegiate Tourney at Kansas City were defeated by the Kotalmen 55-30. Pete Terzynski scored 25 points to help rout the boys from the state of many lakes. The crowd was brought to its feet when Terzynski scored the winning basket against Stout with two seconds to go. . . . Captain Pete Terzynski, Ray Terzynski and Ray Warren were named on the "All-Conference" team. . . . The Central State boxing team enjoyed a successful campaign. Under the tutorage of Coach Menzel the pugilists won the team trophy at Central Wisconsin Golden Glove meet held at Wisconsin Rapids. Danny Young and Kenneth Brenner were crowned champs in their respective weights and competed in the Tournament of Champions which was held in the Chicago Stadium. Whitewater and Duluth Teachers were defeated in dual competition and the only setback was suffered at the hands of the strong Superior squad. Later in the season the Menzelmen made a great showing at the Northwest-Intercollegiate Tournament which was held at Superior. Four Central Stars—Orland Radke, Howie Stimm, Dan Young and Norman Halla lost in the finals. . . . On the gridiron the Pointers led by Co-Captains Ted Fritsch and Kenny Parr won three games and lost five. They finished third in the conference standings with two victories and two defeats. Whitewater won 19-13 and Platteville was victorious 16-7 to hand the Kotalmen their two conference setbacks. With more reserve strength and a few breaks the Purple and Gold gridders could have emerged victorious in both of the above contests. Oshkosh was beaten 6-2 and Milwaukee was drubbed 20-6 for the two loop victories. St. Cloud Teachers of Minnesota defeated the Pointers 20-14. The Huskies from Minnesota went through the season undefeated and had only 20 points scored against them. Northern Illinois Teachers of DeKalb who were co-champions of Illinois Teachers Conference handed the Central Staters their final defeat of the season. Eau Claire was defeated in the season opener 47-0. . . . The team was hit very hard by the draft and only 25 men were on the squad. They were further hampered when "All-Conference" Louie Posluszny suffered a broken leg in the season opener. Despite this handicap and the lack of reserves the boys turned in a magnificent season. . . . Ted Fritsch, Frankie Koehn, and Roy Otto were named on the all-conference team. Myron Sharkey, Ken Parr, Bill Carnahan and Fred Fink were given honorable mention. . . . Here are our predictions for the bowl games that are to be played on New Years Day. Rose Bowl—Duke to defeat Oregon State. Sugar Bowl: Missouri over Fordham. . . . Orange Bowl: Georgia will emerge victorious over Texas Christian. . . . Cotton Bowl: Texas Aggies will take Alabama. Sun Bowl: Tulsa will beat Texas Tech. If the East-West game is played the East will win. The Chicago Bears will defeat the New York Giants for the World's Professional Championship. . . . Here is wishing you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Boxing Squad Begins Preliminary Workouts

Rope skipping, shadow boxing and calisthenics are the workouts assigned to the boys who reported for boxing last Monday night. Orland Radke, Kenny Brenner, Ted Shrake, Len Ropella, Jay Swett, Clarence Tohm, Myron Sharkey, Gordon Steinfest, Glenn Hebert and Howie Stimm are the returning men from last years squad. Donald Wright, Gil Rodencal, and Dick Guzman are the only newcomers so far. Ted Fritsch and Fred Fink might decide to come out for the pugilistic sport. Captain Dan Young and Joe Kalina are the only lettermen who will not answer the gong this year. Dan was lost via the graduation route and Joe is working in Chicago.

The team is being coached by Howard Stimm and the boys are getting into shape very rapidly. The first taste of outside competition will come during the early part of February when the Pointers will defend their team title at the Central Wisconsin Golden Glove Tournament which will be held at Wisconsin Rapids.

Schwierske Tops Kegler's Scoring Thursday Night

Fritz Schwierske was the outstanding kegler last Thursday night when he bowled a 268 for a single game. This broke the previous record of a 255 game held by the star Phi Sig, Bob Becker. Fritz also held the three game mark for the night with an impressive 594.

The Phi Sigma Epsilon team increased its lead by taking the Faculty two matches out of three. The De Molay kept up its winning ways by whipping the Sport Shop in two out of three games. In the other games of the evening, the pesky Underdogs took the College Eat Shop in two games.

The battle for top honors still continues with Bob Becker taking over possession of first place in average pins per game.

GYM ANTICS

On Wednesday last WAA again came forth with one of their unusual parties. This time it was a "Boy and Girl" party. Everyone agreed that Mary Kaye Geer was the handsomest young man. All girls looked "tarzanish" in some borrowed suit. Mr. Parks appeared on the scene, and he and Alice Booth got in rhythm with a polka. Some of the gals even sent their dates corsages.

The dance clinic was acclaimed a great success by Miss Greiling. Miss E. Ludwig, the State Representative for the National Section of Women's Athletics, attended. The modern and square dances demonstrated by Nancy McKnight and Barbara Schipps respectively, were marveled at by the some forty-five spectators. The entertainers went to lunch at Nelson Hall and credit is due to Mrs. Jelinek for the wonderful luncheon.

After Christmas there will be mixed badminton. A tax of five cents will be charged for every two times one plays in order to cover the cost of rackets and birdies.

Pat Carver relates that the ping pong ladder is in full swing. Esther Moreau is up there batting for the top. S. Tobias, Miss Greiling, and others are waiting, so if you are challenged, let's play off the match and keep this tournament going.

Shuffleboard is surviving through all the sports, says Alice Grube.

Also after Christmas, basketball teams will be formed—and basketball and badminton tournaments will start.

The WAA wishes everyone a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Practice Teachers And Students To Have Party

Friday afternoon, December 19, at two o'clock the Junior Assembly will be the scene of great festivity, for that is the time of the annual Christmas party for members of the Junior High and their student teachers. A Christmas play, "The Christmas Guest", will be presented by the Junior Dramatics Club. There will be singing of Christmas carols in which the entire group will participate. There is a gift for everyone on the tree and Santa usually arrives in time to distribute them. The afternoon is brought to a happy close by a treat for the pupils from Miss Bentson, Mrs. Cutnaw, and Mr. Pierce.

Christmas Decorations

CSTC halls have again been decorated for Christmas. Mr. Michelson and his helpers transformed the college this last weekend, and the students came back to find their Alma Mater bubbling over with the holiday spirit.

Huge Christmas trees stand guard around halls, glittering with tinsel and lights.

The auditorium is in readiness for the annual concert with six Christmas trees and the painted stage decorations. The glee club and orchestra have been practising their music faithfully.

The rural assembly is decorated with a tree and boughs.

The only thing lacking is mistletoe!
