Pupils To Give Plays At College Monday

College Theater To Stage Training School One-Acts

Mary D. Bradford Junior High School will present three one-act plays on Monday, February 24, at 7:30 o'clock in the College Auditorium. Members of college theater and Mrs. Cutnaw have been instrumental in preparing their presentation. Barbara Gerdes will direct Three's a Crowd; Lawrence Jozwiak and Elmer Bathke, Major for a Day; and The Ring and the Look, will be directed by Betty Hannon. Scenery and stage technicians will be provided by college theater for the production. Earle Siebert, production manager has chosen Clarence Solberg, stage manager, Bob Burkman, light technician, Jim Unger, properties manager and Florence Kaplan, make-up manager. They will have many assistants to work with them.

The plays are open to the public. A small admission fee will be charged.

Author States Lack Of Knowledge Not To Blame

In the February 1 issue of the news bulletin of the INSTITUTE OF INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION there appeared among several articles one called "Education And The Present Crisis" by Norman Angell. Several members of the Pointer staff had the good fortune to read this review of the position of the educationalists concerning the present crisis. Following are a few excerpts from Angell's article.

"What are the facts of the present situation which should most concern educationalists?"

"Among such facts, I suggest, are these:

"The most learned generation the world has ever known seems to be in a fair way of proving itself the most foolish and cruel, the most destructive of its happiness. Never before in history have men had at their disposal so much accumulated know-

"A LITTLE AMERICAN ANALYZES THE NATIONAL EMERGENCY"

A letter written recently for the public opinion column of the Stevens Point Daily Journal by Dearborn Spindler, C.S.T.C. alumnus now teaching at the P. J. Jacobs High School, has been turned into a nationally publicized analysis of what the youth of America think about the Lend-Lease bill which is now before the Senate of the United States. The letter was recognized by the Journal as an expression of one of the vast majority of American youth who have "a deep sense of faith in and loyalty for" their country, and was published in the editorial column of the January 27 issue. Since that time the article has been reprinted in leading newspapers all over the country. On Thursday, February 6, Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana submitted Dearborn's 'editorial-article' to be published in the Congressional Record.

Following is the text of the article as it appeared in the Journal editorial and the Record:

"As the President's lend-lease bill is debated in Congress and all over the land in private homes, public meetings, and personal arguments, it becomes more and more evident that sooner or later we are going to be asked, or forced to make a momentous decision. *** ** Are we willing to go to war to insure a British victory?"

"Are we? I say we are not. I say this because I do not believe that a British victory is necessary for the preservation of our United States and its government.

"My reasons for this belief are these. The United States is a strong Nation of 130,000,000 people, with nearly unlimited resources, both financial and material, with more power, more ships, more armed strength in the making, than any power, or even possibly, combination of powers on this earth. There is no question about our productive capacity, once we get started. There is no question about our military genius once we get started. There is no question about the patriotism and loyalty of our people, once we are unified in one common desire. The United States, when fully armed, unified, and determined, will be unconquerable in this hemisphere. Most military men are unanimous in this opinion. Then is a British victory essential to our national existence? It seems not. We can protect ourselves. We are not some weak, colonial power that needs to have the armies of some other nation do its fighting for it. We are not hemmed in by strong enemies that menace our national life. We are at least partially protected by several thousand miles of ocean that is constantly patrolled by a continually growing Navy, soon second to none, or to combinations of any. We do not have to have Great Britain fight our wars for us. We can start our own, and finish our own, when we feel that we have some reason for fighting.

"If some 40,000,000 Englishmen, with a comparatively small army, and an excellent navy and air force that has to do empire as well as home duty, can hold the combined powers of Germany and Italy at bay on their side of the 20-mile-wide English Channel, 130,000,000 Americans, with the powers at their command, and multiplying armed forces of huge numbers, can hold the German military machine and its allies off indefinitely, across the 3,000 miles of ocean that separates our country from Europe, if necessity arises.

"I want to see the British win; I am in favor of giving them all aid that is compatible with our own interests and existing laws set up by our own Congress in a time of comparative lucidity and cool-headedness. But I am not willing to die for them. I do not think they are dying for us, or fighting for us. I think they love their country and are fighting for it and themselves. They would naturally appreciate our help, and are asking for it now in the form of ships and credits and planes. Soon they are going to ask for it in the form of armies, men, and our blood. They admit they cannot win the war without continental invasion. They are not capable alone of this invasion. We are the only power in the world that is a logical ally in this monstrous attempt. We might succeed, but only after untold numbers of us have been killed and we have sacrificed our civil liberties at home in a tremendous nationalistic effort that would last for years. The cost is too great for the return.

"Over She Goes!" An Aerial Acrobatic Maneuver by an Army Air Corps Pilot

A slow roll, one of the many aerial acrobatic maneuvers taught at Randolph Field, Texas, home of the U. S. Army Air Corps Primary Flying School, is being executed by one of Uncle Sam's Flying Cadets in the secondary phase of his course in military aviation.

These gyrations in the clouds include loops, spins, slow rolls, snap rolls, Immelmann turns, and vertical reverses; they are taught each Flying Cadet not for the theatrical effect, the aerial stunt may have upon the spectators on the ground, but to teach the student pilot the use of the plane's controls while the ship is in unusual positions. After a few hours of these acrobatics, the Flying Cadet feels just as much at home while in inverted flight as he does while flying in normal position.

Flying Cadets are between 20 and 27 years of age, are paid $75 per month, and are given uniforms, food and lodging together with best of medical care.

STUDENT SPARRING

Dear Mr. Editor:

Your editorial "H. R. 1776," which appeared in the February 12th issue of The Pointer, left me in complete bewilderment. The first paragraph dwells on the fact that the Democrats voted for the passage of the Lend-Lease bill but the Republicans voted against it. In the latter part of the editorial it is stated that "If, however, England is successfully invaded, it would be wise indeed to have an army and a navy large enough to protect our shores." The editorialist put this reader in a "blackout." Did the editorialist mean to show his opposition to the Lend-Lease bill, to the Democrats, or did he mean to bring out the need and desirability of the bill?

Is it necessary for us American citizens, at this critical time, to be concerned with such petty statements as: "... it is quite apparent that party lines have been drawn quite closely..." etc.? Would it not be more significant to study and analyze the contents of the Lend-Lease bill since a majority of the people in the United States have shown their approval of the bill?

Are we going to sit back and wait until England is "successfully invaded" before we build an army and a navy? Are we going to miss the opportunity of arming England now? Has it ever occurred to the editorialist that if we do not arm England now we bring our own necks closer to the execution block, for in England's downfall we would no longer have a question of "shedding American blood for European freedom," but rather that of shedding American blood for American freedom?

Let's look at the situation, not as Republicans and Democrats, but as straight forward, clear-thinking Americans. The speaker was wise who said: "I'd rather turn over the 'blank check' to President Roosevelt than to Adolph Hitler."

Hannah Kaufman

"If the lease-lend bill is passed I think that we will soon be facing the fact of war, the decision that we will have to make. Every step in greater and greater aid to Britain is another stride toward doing the complete job. Since I cannot help but believe that entering the war would be a terrible mistake, with untold misery and bloodshed as its only reward, and since I believe that every 'further aid to Britain' measure is a further push toward this fateful plunge, I am unequivocally against it and every measure of its type."

Sword's Points

by Sherman Sword

Ready to go again to beat the deadline with another batch of the week's wash.

Overheard ... Heard a fellow in the hall the other day asking about the coming Pan-Hellenic dance. His query was "Is this dance formal or can I wear my own clothes?"

Lincoln ... A belated Lincoln story designed to show that the Great Emancipator really did have a keen sense of humor: General McClellan, impatient with Lincoln's order that detailed reports from the front be dispatched to the White House without fail, sent him the following telegram:

President Abraham Lincoln
 Washington D. C.

We have just captured six cows.
 What shall we do with them?

George B. McClellan

Lincoln sent back the following immediate answer:

General George B. McClellan
 Army of the Potomac

As to the six cows captured—milk them.

Billions ... Construction of the famed but ill-fated Maginot Line in France is estimated to have cost three billion dollars. If you'd like an idea of that much money remember that one billion one-dollar bills, laid end to end, would stretch around the world 46 times!

We ain't so much ... Of all the forgetfulness of man, the most universal lapse of memory is that we're living on a star.

Stickler ... No one claimed last week's bath-tub stopper so this week the prize is a round-trip all-expense tour to Plover on a tandem bicycle. In order to figure this one out, it is necessary to assume (Continued on page 3, col. 3)

ORGANIZATIONS

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

Officers for Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatic fraternity elected on Thursday evening, February 13 are as follows:

- Earle Siebert—Director
- Bob Burkman—Sub-Director
- Janet Poggemiller—Secretary-Treasurer
- Lawrence Jozwiak—Publicity Manager

Informal pledge rites were administered to Gerald Hierl, Jack Ackerman, Iris Precourt, Clarence Solberg and Evelyn Murgatroyd. Initiation services will be held March 13 in the College Theater office.

L. S. A.

Sunday evening, the First English Lutheran Parish House was the scene of a Valentine Social given by the L.S.A. for the Gamma Delta and all Lutheran students. Many very interesting and entertaining games were played. The party ended with refreshments and group singing.

At our next business meeting, February 20, at 7:30, we shall adopt our new Constitution. Rev. James Saunders gave a very inspirational talk on "Unrealized Treasures" at our last meeting.

EXCHANGE BITS

A fine of $730 on an overdue book, "Aucassin and Nicolette," was waived by the University of Texas library, for it was glad to get back the fifty-cent copy of this book after forty years of waiting.

December in the Colleges.

Know Your English

We'll begin with box; the plural is boxes.
 But the plural of ox should be oxen, not oxes.
 One fowl is a goose, but two are called geese.
 Yet the plural of mouse should never be meesse.
 You may find a live mouse, or a whole nest of mice.
 But the plural of house is houses, not hicc.
 If the plural of man is also called men, Why shouldn't the plural of pan be called pen?
 The cow in the plural may be called cows or kine,
 But a bow if repeated is never called bine.
 If I speak of a foot and you show me two feet,
 And I give you a boot, would a pair be called beet?
 If one is a tooth and a whole set are teeth.
 Why shouldn't the plural of booth be called beeth?
 If the singular's this and the plural is these.
 Should the plural of kiss be written keesse?
 Then one would be that and two would be those.
 Yet hat in the plural would never be hose.
 And the plural of cat is cats, and not cose.
 We speak of a brother and also of brethren,
 But tho' we say mother, we never say methren;
 Then the masculine pronouns are he, his and him,
 But imagine the feminine she, shis and shim!
 So the English, I think, we all must agree
 Is the funniest language we ever did see.

W. A. A.

On Wednesday, February 12th, the members of the W. A. A. held a party in the gym and recreation room. After the two exciting basketball games, the girls were greatly satisfied with the snack that was served. The regular business meeting was held and the girls were given their appointments for Play Day.

YWCA PARTY

The "y-dubs" held a Valentine party Thursday evening in the dorm recreation room. Red hearts were the chief decoration in accordance with the spirit of the day. Everyone participated in a song contest in which the titles had to include the word heart. Other games suited to the occasion were played and prizes awarded.

At the conclusion of the party, Iris pictures were taken.

"21" ELECTS OFFICERS

The "Friendly 21" held its regular meeting Tuesday night in the recreation room at Nelson Hall. The following were elected to hold office for the new semester:

- President .....Anthony Schwartz
- Vice President .....Ella Beach
- Secretary .....Dorothy Mott
- Club Reporter .....Roy Handrick

Various amendments were added to the club's by-laws and a discussion was held on the question of what is the experienced teacher's place in college life. The group was entertained by the committee with various games and a delightful valentine lunch.

ANNUAL DEBATE TOURNEY THIS WEEK

(Continued on page 5, col. 2) must be able to alternate sides, affirmative and negative, on the question. They will have an opportunity to participate in eight rounds of debate, Thursday at 2:00, 3:30, 7:30, and 9:00 P. M. The same schedule will be repeated Friday, February 21. After the eighth round four to eight teams will be selected on the basis of their preliminary record to continue the tournament Saturday, February 22. A single loss will eliminate a team after the eighth round. Each school is asked to bring one judge for each two teams.

Banquet at Nelson Hall

A banquet will be held at Nelson Hall at 6 P. M. Friday. Since one of the important features of these forensic tournaments is college fellowship, the banquet will be held on the second day to give all contestants and coaches an opportunity to attend.

Mr. Leland Burroughs is the director for both divisions. This is a comparatively new enterprise, having only been started last spring when eleven colleges were represented. This year fifteen colleges will meet in the tournament.

Jerry's and Glendy's COLLABORATION CORNER

This said that the best laid plans of mice and men go flooey—this column is no exception! Our original intentions—if you hearken back to the first issue—were to present to you miscellaneous bits from here and there—with an occasional bit of gossip. The scale is a bit lopsided... with gossip weighing heavily. Don't be surprised if in a fit of defending our initial purpose we do insert something other than gossip. So... with this off our minds for a few issued we dish out the following info.

Bob Burkman just dropped into the Pointer office and upon a little interrogation revealed that the only reason he's staying away from Pat Markee these nights is that he has a cold... quite a communicable affliction we understand!

Last Valentine's Day a certain Miss Gerdes received a bunch of roses from our dear editor. The thing which surprised us... (Florist's error, of course)... was that the floral valentine was addressed to BARBARA SIEBERT!

Isla Mae Wood says that people are beginning to call her "Certo" because she's always in a jam!... Alice Worzalla, former C.S.T.C. student, was placed on the semester honor roll at the College of St. Teresa, Winona, Minnesota.

The Carroll Echo wants to know who Madame Bombi is and why? That's not a bad question but they ought to add Yehudi, Curbstone Cuties, and the little man who wasn't there... Certain people have been falling all over themselves and us in an effort to get their names in this column. "Double Dribble" of the Stoutonia has the system and we think we might just as well cash in. If you want your name in the price is a coke—just one coke. Any takers?

Bob Unger, one of C.S.T.C.'s bright and shining lights out in the field who is teaching his first year at Alma Center, is engaged to a girl... in Alma Center.

Ginger Nelson swears it's gonna be just one man from now on. The current male is Joe Palmer. Poor guy... wonder how long he'll last... Frisch and Andre are the "great romance" of Dr. Reppen's 10:05 Econ class.

Ethel Hill, Corrine Sandmire, and Edith Einfeldt were back for the weekend. Edie has bought herself a '41 Ford De Luxe... Gordie Lewison crashed a dance at the Black and White Hall Friday night with three girls...

D. J. Raddant has had two phone calls in less than a week... McManners has been giving Betty Lowe a whirl... We wonder just what time Linda Born did get in from that big party she went home for last weekend. We've never seen anyone quite as bushed as she was when she got back to school...

There has certainly been a labor turnover at the Eat Shop lately. Wonder what the trouble is???... Did you hear about the Wooden Wedding at Polonia last week? Two Poles got married!... The cleverest valentine we heard about this year was the one Doug Fonstad, one of C.S.T.C.'s guards down in Louisiana, sent back to Marcelle Martini. It was a small imitation cotton bale filled with pralines from New Orleans.

Eileen Owen spent last weekend in Milwaukee visiting Neal O'Brien who is now attending Marquette... Dick Hanson is leaving school sometime this week for Alaska where he has a job waiting. We sort of envy him...

Again we seal this document with the weekly bit of advice: "One should eat to live, not live to eat"—Franklin

SWORD'S POINTS

A man standing on the bank (left bank) of a river, saw a boat approaching through the fog and mist. Able to discern only that there were three men in the boat, he called out, "Are you black or white?" One of the boatmen answered but the man on shore was unable to hear him. The second man in the boat shouted, "He says he's white and he is white; and I'm white, too." The third man then shouted, "They both lied; they're black and I'm white." Who was black and who was white? Send in your answers with the top of a 1941 Pontiac or a reasonably exact facsimile thereof.

Some improvement... A freshman who got an "F" on a quiz complained to the instructor that he had studied the wrong assignment and asked him to "fix it up". The obliging prof said he'd do his best, kept the paper overnight and returned it to the student graded "F plus" ... !!

Brevity... Listening to Earle tell staff members to "get all the facts but be brief" reminds me of the story of the British fledgling reporter who had been reprimanded for his overlong accounts and told to be brief. His next story was turned in as follows:

A shocking incident occurred last night. Sir Reggy Blank, a guest at Lady Bring's ball, complained of feeling ill, took his hat, his coat, his departure, no notice of his friends, a taxi, a pistol from his pocket and, finally, his life. Nice chap. Regrets and all that.

Caboose... It's fitting that mention of Hitler be hung on the end of the column even if it is this suggestion for an epitaph for der fuehrer's tombstone: This is definitely my last territorial demand.

See you next week—

MANSUR ANNOUNCES NEW LIST OF CURRENT BOOKS

Miss Mansur, librarian, wishes to recommend the following books which have recently been added to our library. For Whom the Bell Tolls—by Ernest Hemingway. Into this great new novel Hemingway has poured the fullness of his experience, the perfection of his art. It is a novel of wartime Spain, in which a young American and a Spanish girl live a lifetime of love and courage in four momentous days. It speaks with final and unforgettable power for the truth.

In these superbly real men and women of this book,—sharing days of heightened excitement, deeper and richer experiences than most lifetimes hold. Hemingway seems to have embraced all human experience, the conflict of life itself, not only martial, but spiritual and emotional. All that he has written before point toward the achievement of this work of art, a novel that carries the rare, perfected shine of enduring greatness.

Bright dialogue, cockeyed humor, and clever mystery story plot make Murder is a Serious Business — by Elizabeth Dean, one of the most successful first novels in recent years. Emma Marsh was more interested in Amos Currier's unique collection of antiques than she was in Amos as a person. Murder interfered with the making of an inventory in Amos's (Continued on page 5, col. 2)

Gym Antics

Well, here's our new dope on these basket-plunkers. It seems the P. P. M.'s went right in there last Wednesday at 1:45, closing the day at 2:40 day and licked the previously undefeated Stooges. Both teams lost no time in making points because they certainly flew thick and fast there for awhile. Of course, there is always a sufficient amount of cheering to make it all the more exciting.

The singles and doubles badminton tournaments are made out and all participants please play your matches right away before you acquire spring fever.

Speaking of badminton flashes perhaps you onlookers would be interested to know that Messrs. Winsor and Faust certainly do their stuff. The aforementioned duo never fail to show up at girl's badminton. We suppose they like to impress us with their ability.

Be sure to watch that exhibition game Thursday before the game with Oshkosh.

Miss Adele Davidoff has announced that the teams to present the mixed badminton exhibition during the halves of the Oshkosh-Point game here Thursday will be: Jean Meydam with Leonard Ropella; and Myron Kufel with Florence Theisen.

As soon as enough players turn out for mixed badminton, the tournament will be started. The girls' single tournament and men's singles are under way.

Hawks And NYA'S Lead In Intramurals

The Hawks and the N.Y.A.'s continued to be on top in their respective league's as the results of victories over their opponents last week. The Hawks defeated the Phi Sig No. II team 13-8 and the N.Y.A. quintet defeated the previously unbeaten Independents 36-24 in a game preceding the C.S.T.C.-Whitewater encounter. Solie led the Hawks to victory by scoring six points. Ken Parr's 12 points and Loy Mullarkey's 8 points proved to be the big factor in the N.Y.A.-Independent battle. Chet Johnson led the non-fraternity boys with 12 points. The score at the half was 18-17 in favor of the N.Y.A.'s.

The results of the other two games played in the National League are: Owls 7, Finns 6; Flashes 19, Sizzlers 10. The Bandits forfeited to the Robins. The Owls moved into undisputed second place as the result of their victory over the Finns. Green led the Owls, with five points. Caskey and Anderson scored two points apiece for the Finns. Bob Schunk led the Flashes to victory by sending four baskets and a free throw through the hoop. Emert Lange paced the Sizzlers with six points.

The American League results are: Freshmen 26, Log Rollers 22; Rags

All of the boxing matches tonight will be broadcast over the Wisconsin Rapids station WFHR starting at 8 o'clock. . . The fight between Joe Kalina and Sanches will be the first fight of the evening. Joe says that he will go in their fighting and avenge last year's defeat at the hands of the classy Mexican pugilist. . . The boys had quite a time when they went to the Rapids and fought in the elimination bouts three weeks ago. . . Eight victories and four defeats was the result. . . Four of them were by K.O.'s. . . A trip to Chicago and participation in the "Tournament of Champions" is in store for each youth who is crowned champ tonight. . . Here is hoping that a couple of our boys receive that honor. . . Len Ropella, Gordy Lewison and Emert Lange are the favorites to fight it out for the ping pong championship. There are plenty of classy performers entered and competition will be very keen. Don't be surprised if the above boys don't come through. . . The Superior State Teachers College newspaper "The Peptomist" had the following headline on the sports page. "Vengeful Jackets Poised To Knock Hell Out of La Crosse". . . The layout editor of the Pointer is looking into its possibilities. . . You have to give them credit because the Yellowjackets came through with a 61 to 30 victory. By the way the Superior quintet defeated the University of Minnesota second team 46 to 36. . . A game between Milwaukee State and Superior would be something to watch. . . Also a match between the above teams and the University of Wisconsin would be interesting. . . Clarence Benke, former student manager of C.S.T.C.'s athletic teams will leave for Pensacola, Florida, to train for the Naval Air Corps. . . Ripon, Duluth Teachers, Superior, St. Olafs and Whitewater are possible opponents for the coming boxing season. . . It is rumored that C.S.T.C. will be represented on the diamond this spring. If this is so, a good baseball team will be the result, because there is very good material available. . . Indiana is going to defeat Wisconsin next Monday night. . . If the C.S.T.C. cagers win their two remaining games they will wind up the season with 15 victories and 3 defeats which is a record to be proud of in any man's league. . .

Kalina, Brenner, Tohm, Young In Semi-Finals

Joe Kalina, Kenny Brenner, Clarence Tohm, and Danny Young will represent the colors of C.S.T.C. in the semi-finals of the Golden Glove boxing tournament in the Lincoln High School Field House of Wisconsin Rapids tonight.

Joe Kalina will fight Sanchez in the 112 lb. class. Joe defeated Bud Wruck of Devils Lake in his first encounter and drew a bye for the next round. His longer reach and better condition helped him to easily outpoint Wruck. Sanchez knocked out Joe last year and he is out for revenge tonight.

Kenny Brenner will encounter Gamache at 127 lbs. In his first fight Kenny defeated Gil Layton former golden glove champ and then came back after an hour rest to K. O. Bud Hammes with a terrific left hook to the solar plexus.

Clarence Tohm will meet Chief Brownagle in a 135 lb. match. Tohm scored a K. O. victory over Vesely of Devils Lake in his first bout when he caught the C.C.C. boy with a right cross to the jaw and put him away for the count.

Dan Young will box Widdersheik in the 175 lb. weight. In his first fight "Dynamite" Dan won a decision over Chief Lonetree, a rugged Indian from Nekoosa. After an hour rest Dan returned for his second match to K. O. Krause of Curtiss with a right cross to the chin.

If the boys win the above matches they will fight for the championship later in the evening.

Orland Radke, Len Ropella, Howie Stimm, and Jay Swett were eliminated from further competition.

Radke fought a very clever fight but lost a close decision to Bob Soule, golden glove veteran from Tomah.

Len Ropella won an easy decision over Gandeo of Devils Lake in his first bout. Len returned later in the evening to score a K. O. victory over Arnold Brown. He also returned to Wisconsin Rapids last week to fight another bout and lost a very close decision to Bob Kurtz who is favored to cop the 135 lb. title.

Howie Stimm lost his first round and then fought Bill Clark on even terms but lost a close decisions to Clark.

Jay Swett fought a very close bout with Butch Nelson of Tomahawk. Both boys tired in the third round and Nelson was awarded the decision.

The Point boxers have a very good chance to cop the team trophy.

Rock Garden Leads CSTC Bowling Loop

With six weeks of competition remaining in the C.S.T.C. Bowling League, the Schlice's Rock Garden aggregation continues to lead the circuit. They increased their lead to four games over the second place Phi Sig's by defeating the Faculty Team No. I two games out of three last Thursday night. The South Side Alleys were the scene of action. The Faculty Team No. II dropped the Phi Sig's deeper into second place by drubbing them three games and the Independents took two out of three games from the United Cigars to come within striking distance of third place.

Louis "Polecak Posluszny was high man for the evening. The Rock Garden keglar marked scores of 163-209-186 for a total score. His 209 game was the highest single game score for the night. Gerry Holm of the Independent's posted scores of 192-178-167 for a score of 537 and Leon Kalkofen of the league leaders came through with a 513 total with games of 180-178-155.

The Rock Garden's travelled to Iola last Sunday and encountered the best bowlers of that city. They were defeated by a score of 2,550 to 2,525. Frankie Koehn was high man with a total score of 557.

Ping Pong Tourney Will Start Today

The boys elimination ping pong tournament will start today when a field of thirty two swing into action in the first round. Best three out of five games will prevail in the first and second rounds and the best four out of seven games will prevail in the fourth round and finals.

Gordy Lewison and Emert Lange are pre-tourney favorites to reach the semi-finals in the upper bracket. Len Ropella is the favorite to reach the finals in the lower bracket.

Murder is a Serious Business sparkles with genuine humor and is enriched by bits of antiquarian lore scattered throughout.

Another book is Richard Halliburton's His Story of His Life's Adventure. It is an unusual form of autobiography. Here Richard Halliburton's life unfolds like a dream. It grows and develops through success and disappointment. It ends in a tragedy that is itself in character—from the start that he had resolved not to die in bed. The many facts of magnetic personality stand out in sharp relief. Here youth speaks to youth in universal tongue.

POINTERS TRIM WHITEWATER BY SCORE OF 52-46

Tratt High Scorer With 22 Points; P. Terzinski Leads Point Tallying

The Stevens Point cagers defeated the Whitewater basketeers Wednesday night by the score of 52 to 46. The game, played before a good crowd in the P.J. Jacobs gym, was close throughout. It was the Pointers fourth conference victory and their second over the Purple and White cagers.

Coach Kotal started an entirely different lineup composed of Helixon and Fritsch forwards, Fisher center and Posluszny and Olk guards. This team traded basket for basket with the Agnewmen, but after about ten minutes of play the men who have started all previous games entered the game. They seemed over-anxious and as a result their passing and shooting was very spotty. They were behind at half time 23 to 21.

With Pete Terzynski hitting the hoop with constant one-hand push shots the Pointers forged into a short lead and never relinquished it. Ray Warren poured in vital points near the end of the game with some neat rebounds.

Tratt, Whitewater forward, was high point man for the night making 22 points on 9 field goals and 4 free throws. Al Farina, midget forward, was held to 3 field goals. Pete Terzynski led the Kotalmen with 15 points.

Ray Terzynski suffered a bad sprain to his ankle when he fell after taking a rebound underneath the Whitewater basket. He probably will not see action against Oshkosh.

Van Dyke And Olk In Final Home Game

In quest of their fifth conference victory of the season Central State cagers will engage the Oshkosh Teachers here Thursday night. The game is slated to get under way at 8 P. M., and is the final home game of the year.

In January, the Pointers eked out a close 52 to 50 decision played at Oshkosh. Their floor however, is a distinct handicap because of its unusual demensions. The Titans, arch-rivals of the Pointers, are out to avenge the earlier defeat. Because of the intense rivalry, the records can not judge the outcome of the fray. The Point, however, is a slight favorite.

The game Thursday night will mark the final home appearance on the hard courts of two star guards, Bob Olk and LaVern VanDyke.

Leading the Oshkosh aggregation will be Spear, high scoring forward, and Myer, stellar guard. The Kolfmen will be handicapped by the loss of their star guard, Dick Ratzburn, who suffered a skull fracture in a recent practice.

Intramural Sports Are Popular With College Students

The men's sports program that is being offered this year by Mr. Kotal and Mr. Menzel has proven to be very popular. A total of 651 men turned out for sports during the first semester. Here is the data: Horse-shoe Tournament 30, Six man football 64, Fall softball 130, Intramural basketball 160, Varsity basketball 40, Bowling 40, Mixed Badminton 20, and Varsity Football 70.

The interest shown in this program and the manner in which coaches Kotal and Menzel have carried it on gives C.S.T.C. one of the finest athletic set-ups in the state.

RADIO

The Business and Professional Womens Club of Stevens Point is sponsoring a series of radio programs on the subject of "Our Foreign Relations". On February 10, a discussion on the question was given by Margaret Becher and Don Krider; on February 17, by Evelyn Murgatroyd and Ruth Stelter. On February 24, a talk will be given by Dr. H. Tolo. Arrangements for the programs were made by Miss Loomer.

Ed Szymanski scored 15 points to led the Frosh to victory over the Log Rollers who played with four men and put up a good fight before losing in the closing minutes of play. Lonsdorf garnered 12 points for the losers. The Rags rang up their first victory of the season when they defeated the last place Chiefs. Bob Menzel scored 12 points for the winners; Rasmussen put in four baskets for the losers. A well balanced Phi Sig Five defeated their fraternity rivals, the Chi Delts. The Chi Delts held their superior and much taller opponents on even terms during the first half but succumbed during the last stanza to lose the game. Ropella scored 11 points for the losers and every man in the Phi Sig lineup contributed to the total.

Thirteen Ways You May Become A Model Student

1. Go to at least four shows a week—shows are educational and you are likely to see something that will help you in class.
2. Get at least twelve hours of sleep each night—sleep is very important—all should be sacrificed for sleep including the first hour class.
3. Enter class five minutes late—this method has been proved a good way to get yourself before the eyes of the public.
4. Join all of the clubs in school—in this way you get yourself in practically all the pictures in the annual.
5. Slam your locker doors hard—this is another way of attracting attention to yourself.
6. Chew gum at all times—gum chewing exercises your jaw and thereby improves your speaking ability.
7. Leave your gum in the drinking fountain.—the other students thereby obtain free Spearment water.
8. Spend at least one hour a day talking in the halls—this is a good way to meet many people.
9. Go out for refreshment after each class—you need a lift after spending fifty minutes in class.
10. Whistle in the halls—there is nothing like striking up a little cheer.
11. Don't prepare your lessons—the art of bluffing is a great asset to life.
12. Play your radio loud and constantly—thereby the students in the next room get the benefit of free radio music.
13. Run in the halls—all students need exercise while going to and from class.

son, a brilliant writer, with a style both vivid and unostentatiously cultured starts with a delightful dissertation on the art of sight-seeing in general and specifically in regard to Belgium. There are four chapters, one each on Burges, Ghent, Brussels, and Antwerp, which come under the head of "Belgium for the Tourist", and then a series of chapters on the smaller towns, villages, and odd corners, called "Belgium for the Belgians." There is a complete appendix, dealing informatively with architecture, art, and religion, also the book is magnificently illustrated.

This is in no sense a guide book. Hugh Gibson calls it "an attempt to write the sort of book I wish somebody had written for me years ago."

ledge, so many records, libraries, books, encyclopedias, card indices, newspapers, schools, colleges, universities, lectures, teachers, professors; never before in history have men possessed such amazing instruments (e. g. the radio) for the exchanges of information and ideas. Never before has nation been able to speak to nation, instantaneously across the width of the earth, as nations can speak today.

"Yet as the result of it all men seem less capable of managing their society than they were twenty-five hundred years ago in, say, Athens which had very few books indeed and no newspapers, no radios, no printing, and twenty-five hundred years less of accumulated knowledge than we have....."

"If the world has nearly destroyed itself, it is not from lack of knowledge in the sense that we lack the knowledge to cure cancer or release atomic energy (this last, incidently, being a piece of knowledge which would probably finish off civilized mankind) but is due to the fact that the mass of men have not applied to public policy knowledge which they already possess, which is indeed of almost universal possession, deducible from the facts of everyday life...."

"In other words, the democracies of Continental Europe have for the time being perished because they rejected the truth which we proclaim in our churches every Sunday, the truth that we are members one of another, that the corporate body of civilization, if it is to defend itself, must assume the obligation to defend any one of its members that is the victim of evil violence....."
