TOMEWAUKEE Social Organizations POINTERS HOST

FOUR GRIDDERS IN LAST HOME GAME

The Central State gridders will play host for the last time this season as they engage the Green Gulls of Milwaukee Saturday. The Peds have the same rating in the con-ference as the Pointers, having beaten Oshkosh and losing to Platteville and Whitewater. As a basis of their past performances, this game rates a tossup" and should be one of the typical games which these two schools usually play.

The Klugemen come to town seeking revenge of last year's 21 to 19 defeat administered by the Purple and Gold. Two mainstays of last year's team, Ray Krozka, crashing end, and Bob Eckenrod, flashy quarterback, were lost through gradua-tion. With this exception, the Wave's team remains intact. Kenny Buehler, who is well known for his exploits on the hardcourts, will in all probability not see action at halfback, as he sustained an injury to his ankle recently. Ken Keough, George Ja-blonski, Norm Geske, and Stan Drejer make up the outstanding returning lettermen.

The Pointers came out of the St. Cloud game nursing various in-juries, but should be in shape Saturday. Coach Kotal definitely wants to win this one, so as to give the gridders an even break in the con-ference standings. Playing before a home crowd, the Pointers should close the season with a win. Co-Capts. Ken Parr and Teddy Fritsch, Frankie Koehn and Roy Otto, will play their final home game of their careers for their Alma Mater.

Tea For Mrs. Jonas Was Happy Occasion

One of the happiest social events of the year for a small group of people on the campus occurred last Wednesday afternoon in the reception and dining rooms of the Home Economics Department. The occasion was a tea given by the women of the faculty under the leadership of Miss Meston to honor Mrs. Frances Jonas, who is now in her twenty-fifth year of service in the maintenance division at Central

The table in the dining room was beautifully arranged with tall white tapers on each side of a large bouquet of flowers from Mrs. Jonas' own garden, but the center of interest was a huge cake which had been artistically decorated for the

Music Department Presents Symphony

The 62 piece Wisconsin Symphony orchestra will give two concerts in Stevens Point on November 27. These will be given afternoon and evening, in the afternoon at the P. J. Jacobs High School and in the evening at the C.S.T.C. auditorium.

This is the first time that the Wisconsin Symphony orchestra has played here. It is known nationally for its "Music Under the Stars" series at Milwaukee's Washington park. These park concerts are so popular that only New York's Lewisohn Stadium concerts and the Hollywood Bowl concerts draw larger crowds. At Washington park audiences range from 25,000 to 50,000 for a single Each winter the orchestra is also heard in a concert series at the Milwaukee Auditorium.

The orchestra concerts have been an important part of Milwaukee's musical life since 1935. The visits to the cities of the state are more recent. Last season 25 Wisconsin cities had concerts by the Wisconsin Symphony.

Included in the orchestra's personnel are outstanding musicians of the state many of whom are widely known through their work in theaters, on the concert stage and for recordings.

Among the many tributes paid to the orchestra are those of Andre Kostelanetz who recently conducted the orchestra at a concert in Washington park at which his wife, Lily Pons, appeared as soloist.

"I enjoy working with young people. You're so, much smarter than we were," says she. Mrs. Jelinek always has fun wherever she goes and after you know her, you can readily understand that.

Her ultimate hope is to live in the country and have a garden (she loves flowers). But right now her ambition is bent toward making our "dining room" a success. And we say "More power to her."

Announce Pledge Lists

Rushing week is over and yesterday the fraternities and sororities began the pledging period. From now until November 29th actives will have at their command pledges to run their errands, press their trousers (or skirts), shine their shoes, do sundry other tasks and otherwise entertain them. The misery of the pledges will end at the Pan-Hellen c dance on Saturday evening, Noveraber 29th, at Hotel Whiting.

Hallowe'en was the theme of the second rushing party given by the Tau Gamma Beta sorority. Rushees and guests were intertained at a buffet supper at the Wilson Delzell home Thursday night. Cards were played to conclude the evening's entertainment.

Tuesday evening prospective pledges, actives and guests attended a pledge dinner at the Colonial Room of the Point Cafe. The following are Tau Gam Pledges: Marie Collins, Margaret Clark, Bernice Gliszinski, Gwendolyn Herrick, Evelyn Mastey, Charlotte Wiese, Mar-jorie Prey, Thelma Parrott, Alva Thompson.

Omega Mu Chi sorority entertained its rushees and special guests at a formal dinner at the Hotel Whiting on Friday evening. A colonial theme was carried out; the rushees were presented with novelty sachets. Preceding the dinner, Mrs. A. E. Harris and Miss H. Bentson were formally initiated into the sorority as honorary members. Omeg pledges are: Violet Joyce, Gertrude Quinn, Dorothy Quinn and Harriet

Chi Delta Rho fraternity held a steak dinner for its second rushing party Thursday evening at the Colonial Room of the Point Cafe. Speakers were Mr. Knutzen, Dr. Tolo and Mr. Harris. Cards were played to end the evening. Chi Delt pledges are: Gregory Lodginski, Guy Roberts, Don Becker, Jay Swett, Bob Schunk and Louis Erdman.

Rushees and guests of Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity were entertained at a smoker at the fraternity house Thursday night. Phi Sigma Epsilon is pledging: Jim Brown, Duane Phaneuf and Mertz Peterson.

RURAL LIFE

Last Monday night, October 20, members of the Rural Life Club enjoyed a social meeting. Preceding the dancing, the group gathered in the Rural Assembly for singing. Music for the dancing, which was held in the gym, was furnished by Johnny Check and his orchestra. Mixers, directed by Mr. Parks, added variety and spirit to a very enjoyable program. At the close of the evening delightful refreshments, appropriate for the Hallowe'en season, were served.

STUDENTS IN A DEMOCRACY . . .

Several members of the faculty and student body have remarked to this department about the conduct of the students at the lecture in the assembly last Thursday. The walking in and out of the room and the rustling of the books and papers during the course of the lecture is certainly not in keeping with the best rules of etiquette. If we do not care to listen to the lecture ourselves, let us at least keep quiet in order that others may hear. A guest lecturer is not like a teacher; he cannot stop his speech and rap for order when his audience becomes noisy. He can only keep on speaking and form an opinion of his hosts. How our ears will burn when someone asks Dr. Chyle about our school:

Then, too, the action of the student who even went so far as to challenge the speaker to answer antagonistic questions calls for comment. Dr. Chyle was kind enough to offer to answer questions from the floor. Being a guest, he did not expect to be asked any questions which would require a defensive answer. Certainly he did not expect that he would be heckled for the answer to any question which he considered it best to leave unanswered. The attitude of the heckler was definitely out of order. As two faculty members (names furnished on request) have stated: "I surely hope that Dr. Chyle does not judge our whole school by that one student".

In a democracy, we may think and say as we please, but society gives its approval to those who conform to the common principles of right and wrong. It is wrong and is certainly neither smart nor intelligent to cast aside the rules of courtesy in order to exercise the right of freedom of speech.

main issue discussed was in reference to pep assemblies. A majority of the faculty and the student body realize the weakness of this type of Assembly at C.S.T.C. The homecoming pep rally given by the W.A.A. members was received with much acclaim. Next Saturday Point will meet Milwaukee State on Schmeekle Field. There is a possibility of having a Pep meeting on Friday. Stay for the Central State's dressing room was a quiet place a few minutes after the Pointers had absorbed a 20-14 defeat at the hands of St. Cloud's Huskies—The Kotalmen didn't have anything to cheer about but their heads were held high. They were defeated, yes, but they were defeated by a great unbeaten football team and that softened the how a bit. Roy Otto, our mighty tackle who took the Huskie's best socks all afternoon without a rest, said: "We sure wanted to win that one—We gave them everything we had but it wasn't enough. We knew we were in quite a ball game and I think St. Cloud feels the same way. This was just St. Clouds game. They outplayed us and deserved to win'". . The Minnesota collegians were quite happy over their victory. They extended their winning streak to six straight and avenged last year's 12-6 defeat suffered at the hands of the Purple and Gold gridders. . . Incidentally, Central State was the first team to cross the Huskies' goal line twice this season. Previous to this Mankato was the only aggregation to score on them. . . The Huskies have two of the finest backs in the middle west in Louis Filippi and Don Klein. These two boys can do almost anything with the ball. They are triple threats. They excel in running. Opponents have difficulty in bringing them down. The way Filippi ran last Saturday, Coach Bierman of the the teachers conference of the state of

We would like to tell the sports writers of the Student Voice that the score of the game was 19-13 and that the Pointers weren't depending too much on their performance against Eau Claire to carry them to victory. They were out to avenge last year's disastrous defeat at the hands of the Quakers. Platteville will win the championship in our conference.

Huskies Have No Defeats—Still!

The Central State Teachers College eleven travelled to Minnesota and failed in their quest to hand the St. Cloud gridders their first defeat of the season. St. Cloud, using a powerful running attack, defeated the Pointers 20-14 to hand them their third setback of the season.

The Huskies led 13-0 at half-time on touchdowns by Filippi and Co-Capt. Don Klein, aided by a kick from placement by Teas for the extra point.

At the start of the third quarter, Central State recovered a fumble on the St. Cloud eleven yard line and Koehn scored from the four with Fritsch kicking the extra point. St. Cloud came right back to score on a 28 yard pass from Fillippi to Kes-

In the fourth quarter Central State recovered another St. Cloud Fumble on the 11 and turned it into a touchdown with Fritsch going over. Fritsch also kicked the extra point. St. Cloud made 15 first downs to Point's five.
