

V. Carnival Goes "Over The Top"

Only Part Of Spring War Stamp Drive

Over the top! That's where CSTC went at the Victory Carnival last Saturday evening. The total amount of war bonds and stamps sold at the Carnival comes to $1343! The amount sold during the election of the Carnival Queen has not yet been determined.

The Carnival, which climaxed in the crowning of Queen Martha Stock by Norman E. Knutzen, was one of fun and entertainment for everyone. Most of the crowd, which began to fill the building promptly at 7 p.m., stayed for the main show in the auditorium. Afterwards a large part of the crowd attended the dance in the college gym.

The Student Council feels certain that the success of the Victory Carnival is due to the truly wonderful co-operation of every student and faculty member here at CSTC. This co-operative effort was felt not only during the preparations for the Carnival, but also during the cleaning up process which followed. Many students returned to the college Sunday afternoon to help in this task, making it light and easy. The school spirit and the feeling of unity that every college student felt during these past few weeks is another pleasant result of the Carnival.

Assembly Speaker First In Club Lecture Series

The Honorable William D. Salties will be the first in a series of speakers sponsored by the Talk of The Hour club and will appear on Monday evening, March 27, in the auditorium. The Honorable Salties is a special assistant to the attorney general of the United States and is ranked as one of the best speakers in the Middle West. His subject is a phase of post-war and business problems. The lecture will begin at 8 p.m. and is open to members of the club and to all college students. Activity tickets are to be presented by students.

Central State To Play Host To Forensic Meet

Winners Will Go On To Madison April 7

A high school district forensic contest will be held at CSTC on Wednesday, March 29. The manager of the district contest is Harry Bender, superintendent of schools at Colby, Wisconsin. Leland M. Burroughs, of the college faculty, and the three freshmen speech classes will act as hosts. The order of events is as follows:

GILBERT W. FAUST

Faust Appointed Ensign In Navy

The life of an ensign in the United States Navy was begun for Gilbert W. Faust, a member of the Central State Teachers college science department faculty since 1935, when he received his commission at the Office of Naval Officer Procurement in Milwaukee on Monday, March 20.

Mr. Faust will remain in Stevens Point until the afternoon of March 24, at which time he will leave for Fort Schuyler, New York. There he will go through a period of indoctrination, beginning on March 28.

June 1 will find Mr. Faust at Princeton University, Princeton, New York, for instruction in pre-radar. Upon completion of this, he will attend the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Boston for further study.

Prominent in College Activities

During his past nine years at CSTC, Mr. Faust has been an instructor in chemistry and physics. In connection with the field of science, he has been active in Sigma Zeta, national honorary science fraternity. Besides being prominent in the local chapter, he has the position of na-

Announce Hours For Bandage Folding

New hours for Red Cross bandage folding at the Public Service building have been announced.

The headquarters will be open from 1:00 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. from Monday through Saturday, and from 7:00 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. from Monday through Friday.

Doris Belongia serves as instructor on Saturday afternoons, and college women are urged to turn out then or at any other time during the week to devote a few hours to this worthwhile activity.

Business Meeting, auditorium, 10 a.m.; oratorical contest, rural assembly, 10:30 a.m.; non-humorous declamation contest, auditorium, 10:30 a.m.; victory speaking contest, rural assembly, 1:30 p.m.; humorous declamation contest, auditorium, 2 p.m.; extemporaneous speaking contest, rural assembly, 2:30 p.m.; extemporaneous reading contest, auditorium, 3:30 p.m.

The judges of these contests will be Norman E. Knutzen, Mr. Burroughs, Herbert R. Steiner and Harold M. Tolo; they will grade the contestants and rank them in A, B or C divisions. Those placed in the A division from this contest are permitted to go to Madison for the state contest on April 7.

Contestants and their home town will soon be posted on Mr. Burroughs' bulletin board.

Plans have been made to make this contest an "all school" affair. Students are urged to meet these people and to help show them a good time. A luncheon for the contestants is being planned for Wednesday noon.

New Catalog Obtainable At The Record Office

The new catalog, containing announcements for 1943-45, has been released. The book is a compilation of requirements, courses, activities and other information pertaining to CSTC. Among the several new and helpful features is the comprehensive index at the end of the book.

Miss Hazel Bentson was in charge of the catalog, and working on her committee were Miss Bertha Glenon, Nelis R. Kampenga, Dr. Arthur S. Lyness and Dr. Warren Jenkins.

Students may obtain copies in the record office.

No Formal Saturday

The inter-sorority formal will not be given on Saturday evening, March 25.

Exceed Red Cross Quota Set For Central State

Good news! CSTC has gone over the top on the Red Cross War Fund drive. The quota for the college was set at $350 and the present amount collected is $368. Money is still being collected and any contributions will be gratefully appreciated.

Junior Red Cross To Present Program; Will Include Two One Act Plays

"This Is Our Show" will be presented by the Junior Red Cross Chapter of the Mary D. Bradford Junior High school on Friday evening at 8 p.m. in the college auditorium. The production is for the American Red Cross, and a silver offering will be taken. The program will include:

- I. "The Fifteenth Candle", a one-act play, Barbara Bea, David Butler, Marjorie Crosby, Bertram Davies, Jean Robertson.
- II. "Traumerlei", by Schumann, piano solo, Carol Woodford.
- III. "Cavatina", by Raff, and "Dance Boheme" by Max Fischel, violin solos, Dorsey Davis, accompanied by Howard Nussebacker.
- IV. "He Got The Job", one-act play, Hugh Brown, Howard Campbell, Jim Coleman, Stephen Copps, Chan Kraus, Douglas Lange, Ralph Lillie, Terry Mabie.
- V. "Irish Lilt", dance, Jean Ann Hull, Beverly Olson, Wilma Schmeeckle, Nanette Timmer, Lavana Walters. Directed by Miss Myrtle Spande; accompanied by Mary Ann Hotvedt. Costumes supervised by Miss Emily Wilson.
- VI. Junior Red Cross Chorus, Horace Atkins, Tom Beach, Eunice Behr, Neil Bellis, Sally Benson, James Briselden, Donald Chilsen, Joan Coleman, Arley Dannenberg, Or-

Master of ceremonies: Jim Samter
Program Girls: Mary Frances Cunnaw, Norma Entzminger.

Ushers: William Foster, Bob Newton

Stage manager: Russell Pearson, assisted by Wilson Delzell, Jim Goetz, Bob Wallin.

The program is under the supervision of Miss Hazel Bentson, who is faculty adviser of the Junior Red Cross at the Training school, and Dr. Warren Jenkins, business manager of the College Theater. College students assisting are: Roger McCallum, stage; Phyllis Eckels, Kay Hansen, and Betty Pohlman, makeup.

There will be a matinee performance for school children of the city below the sixth grade on Thursday at 4 p.m. in the college auditorium.

Published weekly except holidays and examination periods, at Stevens Point by students of the Central Wisconsin State Teachers College. Subscription Price $2.00 per year.
Entered as second-class matter May 26, 1927, at the post office at Stevens Point, Wisconsin, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Chit 'n' Chat

by Jane

The carnival is an old story by now but it surely was fun. I guess a lot of people surprised a lot of people and that is what made the evening interesting. We know now that it can be done, don't we?

Interesting news is the marriage of Donna Pett to Cadet Charles Pearce on Friday, March 17. These freshmen are certainly doing all right for themselves. Congratulations to another of our freshmen, Aideen Bowman, who became engaged recently to Will Bode, a former aviation student here.

Nan Songe has discovered that Stevens Point has some worthwhile males. She has been seen in the company of Dick Becker and it certainly looked like they were having fun. Perhaps you could manage a double date with Jessie Rustad and Bernard Alberg. Pretty nice spending the weekend in Point, isn't it, Bernie?

Three cheers for our faculty!! Bet there isn't another bunch of professors in the country who would be the swell sports they were Saturday night. Hope you folks weren't too shocked.

The Army seems to be wonderful atmosphere for the writing of poetry. One GI produced the following contribution to the art after many hours of concentration, no doubt:

I wish I was a wittle egg
As wotten as could be;
I'd sit myself upon a limb,
Away up ina twee
And when some bonehead Sahgent
Would start to shout at me,
I'd frow my wotten wittle self
And splatter he with me.

He might have added this line to other GIs: "Wouldn't you?"

Charlie Wildermuth was buzzing around school for awhile last week but he loked lost. Say, it could be because Gert Rondeau wasn't at his side.

Sammy Barton and Art Pejsa have been back for a visit too, and all we can say is, "Gee, they look swell!" Sure would like to see all those fellows hit Point at once!

Amenzo Warden and Lenora Bras certainly do a fine job of setting the romantic atmosphere at school. It is good to have one couple finding seats together in the aud when assembly time comes. It is just like old times to say the least.

Someday someone ought to write a mystery about "The Case of the Vanishing Class". We were chasing one of Mr. Knutzen's all over school last week.... finally found it when the period was half over.

Bill Terrill received a call for a cozy visit with some old friends, the Draft Board. He's practically a general already, if you can believe what you hear.

There is no limit to how they let the government drain CSTC. Now they've made Gilbert Faust an ensign. Why, pretty soon we'll have such progressive education we'll be teaching ourselves. But congratulations to you Mr. Faust, we know you're happy.

A/S Fred Harrison heartily believes that doorbells are unnecessary. Maybe Maude Pounder could disconnect it before she leaves the next time!

Letters

Dear Editor:

Bouquets to CSTC's Student Council!

We, of the 97th CTD, wish to add our thanks and congratulations to CSTC with those of everyone else who fortunately attended the Carnival last Saturday night. It was a huge success and everyone enjoyed it immensely; which statement definitely includes the G.I.'s.

The entire pageant displayed talent with excellent planning and timing, and gave evidence of much hard work on the part of faculty and students alike. In addition to our expression of appreciation, may we add that we take great pride and pleasure in any degree, however small, of cooperation we extended in making the affair the success that it was.

It was great fun, wasn't it?

A/S John B. Gauthier
Group Adjutant

Dear Editor:

There were many gallons of paint used and long hours of work spent in painting the walls of the college building, and it hardly seems right to see the walls again disfigured by the tape used in fastening posters.

A little cooperation on the part of those who post signs is all that is necessary to keep our walls clean and neat. There are several bulletin boards which could be used and which would serve just as well.

A Coed

To the Students:

Usually students are all out in a body to help trim the halls with posters, decorate rooms, etc., for a celebration such as the Carnival held here Saturday. But when it comes to cleaning up the mess after it is all over, no one turns up to help the janitor.

This time it was different. Many students came and helped to clean up the building. It looked very nice. Thank you.

CSTC Janitors

What is that vision that sits on Percy Voight's dresser? Oh, but it can't be a vision; it's restricted by a frame. Right, Katie Kenney?

Jaxon Phillips, a former aviation student here and a former author of the Strictly GI column, sends his greetings from Santa Ana to friends at CSTC. He reports: "Since our classification squadron had won just about every honor that a squadron can possibly win, the student officers were selected to make up the staff of the commander of troops. The fellow who was our squadron commander was made a general in the cadet corps and is in command of the several thousand men in classification. Four of us are the troop staff members and have a rank in the cadet corps of lieutenant-general. Those are the five highest ranks that Santa Ana has to offer in classification. The catch is that we have to work from five in the a.m. to 11 in the p.m.—EVERY DAY!"

Remember to buy war stamps next Tuesday! Let's keep up the good work!

POINTERS were agreeably surprised to see A/C Charles Wildermuth roaming the halls of CSTC last week. "Chuck" seems to be recovering splendidly from the effects of his recent accident. When asked about his experiences, "Chuck" answered with a groan: "Just name any hospital in South Carolina, and I'll have been in it."

Pfc Ray Craig, who has been seeing active service in Italy, sent an interesting letter home recently. In describing conditions there, he writes: "Sometimes it was almost like the movies, such as advancing through the smoke of artillery and mortar shells that have just spit lead over your head.... We really went like a bat out of Hades when we first started fighting but now we fight over two hundred feet of ground for months. At some places we fight from living rooms to kitchens. One time we advanced two living rooms and one kitchen. We were trying to get to the jail, but boy! what a job!"

Lieut. Joe Kresh, somewhere in the Pacific, is dreaming of the time when he can fish in the streams and rivers of Wisconsin again. "They can't stop me from dreaming," he writes. "Needless to say, after building air castles for nearly three and one half years, I've attained perfection in that racket."

S/Sgt James Neuenfeldt, somewhere in England, is planning for a great reunion here at CSTC when the war is won, when all our fighting alumni can gather around a table and "swap stories and such.... Homecoming will be just what the name implies and will be the biggest and best ever."

Seaman Jack Schenk, aboard the USS San Francisco, gives us the low-down on some navy slang terms. "A 'gidunk' is a dish of ice cream (or a pint, quart, etc. of the same) A 'gigmo' is anything. (it's a word used instead of 'Thing a ma jig' or 'doodad') 'Maise' can be anything from celery to beans."

SENIORS!

Will Seniors please signify the number of graduation announcements they wish ordered by signing the list posted on the case reserved for Senior announcements by Thursday at 4:30 p.m. The case is located in front of the library.

Carol Ockerlander, president.

Woes Of Pledging
Are Here Once More

On the first day of pledging, the pledges of both sororities came to school all dressed up in their Sunday best. It all began on the night before, when Omegas and Tau Gams (without any knowledge of each other's plans) decided to have their pledges "dress up" for their first week of pledging. It was quite a contrast to former years when peculiar combinations of clothes, washed out complexions and straight hair were a "must".

The Tau Gams even added an up-sweep hair-do. Pledges used only the middle entrance and could not walk on carpets in the halls.

This is "Hell Week", and pledges have appeared in their most ugly and most unbecoming hair-dos.

Omega pledges are constantly admitting their humility as they lower their books to the floor and ask whether they can be of service to the actives they meet.

Of course notebooks kept by the hour, the traditional "Miss", pledge pins and buttons or safety pins are still in evidence as the pledging progresses.

Chinese cooking has been elevated to the dignity of a place in the Stanford university curriculum. Members of classes taking the courses under Miss Ling-fu-Yang, Chinese food researchist, turn out such delicacies as chrysanthemum pie, tiber skin eggs and Buddhist rice soup. Food economics also are taught so that 10 people can be fed on Chinese delicacies for 50 cents.

E-1 and D-2 opposed each other in the finals of the volley ball tournament. For the first time Sqd. E was favored in an athletic contest and incidentally won it. About time, we might say. Success in this contest is the sole result of Mrs. Frank Allen ("Hook-shot" Allen's wife) and Ernie Hedlund's "one and only". They are our morale builders.

Einstein couldn't have done better in building a new perpetual motion machine, but John Raatjes' Piper Cub is still bouncing out in the hangar. Rough landings, weren't they, John?

Cab service to the airport is picking up. Group Commander Herman Bolte doesn't appreciate the bus line.... trouble.... No seat, Mr. Bolte?

Eugene Hanson of Sqd. D is allergic to P.T. His shunning of physical training in the past month has earned him the dubious distinction of being a militarized 4-F.

We advise Squadron Commander Robert Brandt to watch "Checks" Chamberlain closely for shaves this week. He left his equipment in Merrill over the week-end.

Chuck Sordelet is a happy man this week. He went to Chicago over the week-end and brought back his wife. To make the occasion fitting, Monday was their first wedding anniversary. Congratulations!

Your roving reporter wishes to clarify a statement made in the last issue. We reported that Frank (the Mauler) Jaskolski presented Evelyn Pronz with a shiner. Dear reading public that's a black eye, not a diamond. Rumor again—tut! tut!

During a daily inspection of troops in ranks by the commanding officer, a colonel, the sergeant in charge got out of hand. He gave the colonel a resounding whack in the lower extremities with the broadside of a GI shoe. Instantly, before the officer could recover, a private stepped out of ranks and repeated the performance with even more vigor and technique than had the sergeant.

The subsequent court-martial properly disposed of the sergeant for his delinquency. When it came the private's turn to answer for his sins, he was questioned about his behavior.

"Sir, it was like this—when I saw the sergeant kick the colonel, I thought surely the war was over and acted accordingly."

Temporary Instructors Leave For New Jobs

With the gradual withdrawal of the 97th Training Detachment from CSTC, several of the special army instructors have also left. Among those who have gone are William Blum and Gordon Huenink, who are now teaching at Coe college in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Robert Montgomery, who has a position at Iowa State college in Ames, Iowa, and S. A. Smith, who is now at Drake University in Des Moines, Iowa, A. C. Chambers has also left, but no word has been received as to where he is located.

"A Man's a Man for A' That—There is to be no shortage of marriageable males after the war, say three University of Chicago sociologists, who point out the fact that casualties so far have been small and that medical care of the wounded has developed to the extent that more lives are being saved than ever before. These three optimistic professors figure that, even after making a liberal allowance for casualties, there will still be a man for every girl in America. But tell us, professors, won't they be either too young or too old?"—Student Life, Washington University, St. Louis, Mo.

Start Work On The 1944-45 Iris

Work has already begun on the combined 1944-45 IRIS. Pictures were taken last week of the Freshman, Sophomore and Junior classes, each of which was divided into three groups. The Forum, Rural Life club, Primary Council, Grammar Round Table and Home Economics club pictures were also taken. Corporal Robert Vennie, a former student here, was the photographer.

Individual pictures of this year's Seniors will be shown in the book, with class pictures to be taken next year and those already taken this year.

Social Science Club Debates Renegotiation

A/S Davis Chamberlin led a discussion on "The Renegotiation of War Contracts" at the regular Social Science club meeting held on Thursday evening in Dr. N. O. Reppen's office.

The topic for the next meeting on March 30 will be "Our Foreign Policy", and the discussion will be directed by Amenzio Warden.

Reads Patriotic Play

Mrs. Charles Watson read the play, THE PATRIOTS, by Sidney Kingsley, at a meeting of the Rural Life club on Monday evening in the Rural assembly. Further entertainment was offered by A/S James King, who sang several solos, accompanied by A/S George Johnson at the piano. An appreciative audience of college students from all departments attended the meeting.

Former Student Given Recognition

Esther M. Anderson, a former student of CSTC, has gained recognition through an article she wrote which was published in the March issue of THE INSTRUCTOR.

Miss Anderson is now a teacher in the fourth grade of the grade school at Phelps, Wisconsin. She attended CSTC in 1940-41 after transferring from the Eau Claire State Teachers college.

Her article featured the weaving of large paper mats suitable for use as floor mats, which were made by pupils in the fourth grade.
