

Beauty Of Autumn Is Viewed On Campus

Autumn holds a special meaning for the faculty and students at Central State Teachers' college. It is a time of reunion when old friends and new meet to talk over the summer's events, and to plan for the coming year.

In spring everyone is anxious to step out and use the energy which the new outburst of life gives, but when fall brings a promise of winter, all are glad to be together by a common hearth.

Someone once said, "If we could grow old as beautifully as the year, no complaints would be registered." Look at the maple tree on the lawn at Nelson Hall. It turned a brilliant yellow over night.

Over on the campus, other maples reflect it in various shades of the same yellow. Or stop to notice the hydrangeas by the sun-dial in front of the college. A pink such as they boast has never been duplicated in dye.

Inter-Sorority Tea To Be On Thursday

An old tradition of the college will be broken this week. In past years, each of the two social sororities has put on a fall tea for the students, faculty and faculty wives. This year there will be only one tea put on jointly by the Omega Mu Chi and the Tau Gamma Beta sororities. The tea will be held on Thursday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. in the Home Economics parlors. All of the college students (including the men), faculty members and their wives are invited.

The committees are: General chairmen: Jeanie Glenzer and Marlys Reed; refreshments: Edythe Ofstun, Gertrude Heike, Dolores Rondeau and Bess Jones; decorations: Marjorie Stimm, Helen Lundgren, Helen Jacobson, and Dorothy Davids; invitations: Joan Joosten, Joyce Rathke, Audrey Priem; publicity: Kay Hansen, Betty Pohlman, Shirlee Tobias; clean up: Doreen Short and Ellen Gordon.

The oak trees are like statesmen: they grow old less spectacularly. A deep burgundy is the most vivid color they wear.

The climbing vines, which everyone is glad to see back on the college walls, reflect the deep richness of the oak trees. They proudly carry their colors upward for all to see.

The only way to really experience autumn, however, is to be out with it. One should walk down a sidewalk that curves through the campus and scuff the leaves with his feet. He should look up to watch the clouds pass by on a special blue sky found only in the fall.

A red leaf comes slowly spiraling down toward the ground, and gently brushes one's face in a gesture of good-by. And high in the yellow maple a squirrel chatters noisily as he tells the world he is all ready for winter.

Superstitious Students Beware Fateful Day

Careful! Don't walk under that ladder! Watch out for that black cat! Don't be in such a hurry reaching across the table that you knock over the salt. Why? If you haven't guessed yet, take a peek at your calendar. That's right, next Friday is the 13th.

It's that fateful day which the teachers reserve for tests and the students reserve for four-leaf-clovers. Mr. Rightsell's physics class is dreading it already. Who is to be the unlucky person called to the board that day? The Home Ec's in particular should watch out. That's the day they put the wrong sleeve in the wrong hole every time they try; or they burn their cooking.

This is not the first generation to suffer from the horrors of Friday the 13. For years great minds have searched for ways to avoid the jinx. Some CSTC scientists have pondered over the problem and have come up with several solutions. First it's possible to stay in bed all day with the

Betty Pohlman To Head New Student Council

Students, Faculty May Attend H. S. Games

College students will be admitted to the P. J. Jacobs High school football games on presentation of activity tickets. These will be honored only at the gate next to the Armory so all college students should enter by this gate. All faculty members will be admitted on presentation of athletic tickets. They should also use the Armory entrance.

This arrangement was made by the Athletic Committee and a portion of the fees allocated from the student activity fund is being used to secure the admission of college students to the football games.

The home schedule for Stevens Point High School games is as follows: Oct. 13—Wausau, Oct. 20—Nekoosa, Oct. 27—Wisconsin Rapids.

College Theater Will Present Play Soon

College Theater is once again in motion. This year's first production will be "The Bride Wore Red Pyjamas." The cast consists of: Benson, Lloyd Anderson; Lord Percy, Max Kopchinski; Virginia Richter, Bernice Winn; Mrs. Richter, Kay Hansen; Gerry, Dick Olk.

The play will be presented October 26, as an assembly program. It promises to be entertaining. Leland M. Burroughs is directing the play and Warren G. Jenkins is director of the technical staff, which will be announced later.

Aids In War Effort

Onion sacks filled with milk weed pods form an important contribution to the war effort made by the Intermediate department of the Training school.

The buoyancy of the milk weed makes it valuable when used in making life jackets for men of our fighting forces who must take their chances on the ocean. The pods are brought to school in bags, are dried, and then sold to the county agent.

Two sacks each filled with 800 pods are enough for one life jacket. "Two sacks filled, one life saved," is the motto of the boys and girls engaged in this work.

They feel that they have saved at least nine lives since school started, because 18 bags of milkweed have been collected.

Another patriotic work the fourth, fifth and sixth graders are working on is paper caps, menu cards with Halloween decorations and napkins for the wounded soldiers in the hospitals.

Rose Marie Howes Is Chosen Vice-President

Betty Pohlman was elected president of the 1944-45 Student Council at a meeting held last Monday evening. Other officers elected at this meeting are: Rose Marie Howes, vice-president, Kay Hansen, secretary-treasurer, Marjorie Stimm, publicity manager, and Bob Cashin, assembly chairman.

Names of Members Announced

The 1944-45 members of Student Council, who were elected on October 5, are as follows: Senior class: Rose Marie Howes, Betty Pohlman, Jeannie Glenzer and Irene Mork. Junior class: Alice Blake, Amenzo Warden, Edward Nigbor and Marjorie Stimm.

Sophomore class: Catherine Firkus, Arleen Sicklinger, Bess Jones and Kay Hansen. Freshman class: Delores Jelinek, Robert Cashin, Lorraine Peters and Patricia Nelson.

Primary division: Lucille Dunn, Secondary division: Margaret Johnson, Intermediate division: Marion Grossman, Rural division: Helen Braatz.

Plans Made For Stamp Day

The Student Council made plans for Stamp Day which is to be continued this year, beginning on Tuesday, October 17. The booth will be on the second floor outside the side entrance to the auditorium. Every college student should remember to buy a stamp.

The Council also made plans for the election of class officers. Petitions for nomination may be secured at the main office. Nomination papers should be filed at the main office by Wednesday, October 18, at 4 p.m. Elections will be held on Friday, October 20.

The officers to be elected in each class are: president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer. Every student may sign one paper for each of these officers in his class. Nomination papers must be signed by one-fourth of the nominee's class.

The number of signers in the case of each class is as follows: 11 Seniors, 7 Juniors, 7 Sophomores and 28 Freshmen.

Instructions Given For Blood Donors

The college bus will call for blood donors at the Normal avenue entrance to CSTC on Monday, October 16, at 3:45 p.m., and on Wednesday, October 18, at the same time.

Students who are donating blood are instructed to eat a light noon meal and to abstain from all foods containing fat or sugar for four hours before going to the center at St. Peter's auditorium. A fruit, such as an apple, may be eaten without harm.

Published weekly except holidays and examination periods, at Stevens Point by students of the Central Wisconsin State Teachers College. Subscription Price $2.00 per year. Entered as second-class matter May 26, 1927, at the post office at Stevens Point, Wisconsin, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Rules Adopted

For the benefit of students of CSTC the Pointer is printing the following resolutions, which were adopted by the Social Committee at a meeting on March 3, 1944:

Regulations should include the following items:

1. All events should be scheduled at least two weeks in advance with the proper person. Events which are not properly scheduled will not be recognized by the College. Rehearsals must also be scheduled.
2. All applications for calendar listing must have the approval of a faculty sponsor.
3. All applications for major social events must have the approval of the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women.
4. Applications for events and rehearsals involving the use of the auditorium must be approved by the Auditorium Manager.
5. Applications for events involving the use of either gymnasium must be approved by the Directors of Physical Education.
6. Applications for events in the Training School must be approved by the Principal of the Training School.
7. The person in charge of scheduling shall have the authority to refuse to schedule any event if those conditions are not met.
8. Situations not covered by those regulations are to be governed by action of the Social Committee.
9. Application blanks should be available at the Main Office.
10. All outside groups should schedule their functions through the President of the College in accordance with the foregoing regulations.

Dorm Diary

Monday, October 2: Today brings the promise of a short week. To the practice teachers it brings a double relief. One less lesson plan to write.

This week too, we have sad news for you. Toby is dead! He died, so Elvira Lindow says, from malnutrition. Dear, dear. She didn't take as good care of him as she does of some hims. We'll tell you now that Toby was a cactus.

Tuesday, October 3: The card bug has bitten several girls on second floor. All available decks of cards were routed out, and a very enthusiastic, four-handed game of solitaire resulted. One roommate came out of it with a scratched hand.

The floors were rather deserted the first part of the evening as the Sororities got under way. We hear they're planning on boosting the social calendar up quite a bit.

Wednesday, October 4: Like many hostesses there comes a time when we like our home to ourselves. So we've had no guests for dinner, no teas, no nuthin'. Our social chairman warns us of a costume party for Halloween, so costumes are in order!

Thursday, October 5: Such a bustle around here today. Everyone is cleaning her room the last minute, or packing her suitcase. From the number of textbooks we see going along, this weekend won't be all the vacation its cracked up to seem. A few girls are staying over. Miss Rose Barber is headed toward Madison way.

Sunday, October 8: Here we are again, amid inquiries of "Did you have fun?" "What did you do all weekend?" "Say, I had a date!"

Yes, everyone came back with all (?) her school work done, and a lot of sleep behind her. We have a brand new aunt at the dorm. Mary Lou Hutchins is now Aunt Mary, and it's a boy.

Aer. M. 3/c John Mase visited CSTC recently. Johnnie is stationed at Minneapolis as a naval weather man. His job is forecasting flying weather. "It seems pretty good to be back here drinking one of Merv's cokes again," Johnnie said.

T/Sgt Earl Siebert visited the POINTER office just as the first edition was taking shape. Earl edited the Pointer during 1940-41, and he said it felt grand to be back again. T/Sgt Siebert was accompanied by his wife, the former Barbara Gerdes, who also graduated from CSTC, and their young son, Mike. Earl is stationed at San Antonio, Texas. His job is keeping the army well informed about the progress of the war.

Lt. Joe Bloom, who landed in New York aboard the Gripsholm, called Dean Herbert R. Steiner long distance recently. Lt. Bloom, who was wounded in action, is being moved to a western hospital. Joe said that he couldn't express how grand it was to be back in the USA again.

Lt. Joe Kresh, stationed somewhere in Dutch New Guinea, writes this interesting letter to one of the members of the faculty:

"One can't possibly imagine how much equipment and property an Army unit actually has to lug along until you've loaded and unloaded the stuff aboard and off a ship, and for good measure lug it some more at some New Guinea jungle haven.

"Too many people forget that the basis of all warfare is the infantry—take it away and you don't have a thing. All the other branches of service directly or indirectly support the infantry. It's not glamorous or dashing, but it's all important. You can

ETIQUETIPS

There are 38 fellows in school. Is that news? Oh, boy, is it!

Don't rush, females, but you musn't be bashful either. Don't let the poor males feel lost and alone. Let them know we're glad they're here.

With such a large class of freshmen in proportion to the other classes this year, it's a little harder to get acquainted than before, but if everyone says "Hi" to everyone else, soon the halls and classrooms will be full of familiar faces. Well, maybe they won't be full, but at least that's the quickest way to get acquainted! Let's all try it.

shell and bomb a place 'til the cows come home, but it's of no avail unless you can occupy the place. That's why the infantry is known as the queen of battle. We artillery men are very proud of our branch of service, but we all take our hats off to the doughboy. And I speak from experience too."

Major Bill Miller, formerly of the Flying Tigers, has written a textbook on teaching gunnery.

Petty Officer Bill Carnahan is teaching Physical Education to U-12's at Marquette University. Cupid adds a note here, and says that Betty Jean Ascher and Bill were married September 23.

Bill Parks and Don Peterson have been commissioned Ensigns in the Navy.

Don Walker of the Marines is now stationed in Two Rivers, Md. Don graduated from Kalamazoo Teachers College this June with very high honors.

S/Sgt. James F. Duecker, a graduate and former athlete of CSTC, was recently awarded the Air Medal with one Oak Leaf Cluster for "coolness, courage and skill" displayed in the air while defending his heavy bomber against the threat of attack by enemy fighters. Sgt. Duecker's group is a unit of the 3rd Bombardment Division which was recently awarded a presidential citation for its achievements on the first AAF shuttle bombing flight.

S/Sgt. Duecker, who recently broadcast a word picture of his bombing missions from London, said after the broadcast: "I don't know which scared me the most, the flak over Caen, or facing the mike telling the folks back home about it."

STUDENT OPINION

To Whom It May Concern

It is usually agreed that when a young man or woman has become old enough to go to college, that along with his added years he has also acquired an adult viewpoint. Apparently there are exceptions to this rule.

The college student who shouted "How" when Mrs. Angus Look-around appeared on the stage last Thursday, not only exposed his own lack of taste, but also degraded CSTC.

It so happened that Mrs. Look-around had the kindness to place herself at the convenience of the college in arranging her lecture. She certainly had the right to expect common courtesy.

Let us hope that an incident of this kind will never happen again. O.L.F.

Chit 'n Chat

by Marge

Hurry up, girls,—only three more days to get your Christmas packages off to your one and only over-seas. Be sure to enclose some home-made cookies or fudge. You know how men appreciate that domestic touch.

Golly, what a week-end! There sure weren't many kids around Point. Betty Pohlman, of course, had her reason for staying in town; that is that Norm came home. Next week-end he isn't coming. Imagine that—she is going to Madison to see him.

Ellen Gordon also had a visitor over the week-end. His name was Phil and he hailed from Baraboo.

Romance is budding among the Freshman, namely Dale Nelson and Jean Markee. You can be sure to find them at the Eat Shop any afternoon after 3:00.

By the way, have you noticed the poster with the beautiful blonde recently erected on the darkroom door? What we can't figure out is why Pflugardt and Pasternacki should choose a blonde to adorn their sanctum when we were so sure all along that brunettes only met with their approval.

Tests in CSTC have a bad habit of popping up on Fridays, so if any are scheduled for that day, prepare to flunk them, especially if a certain black animal has crossed your path recently. Perhaps the powers-that-be could be persuaded to cancel exams that day. You know that is the 13th.

Speaking of the 13th, that will be a red-letter day for one of the faculty, Dean Elizabeth Pfiffner, as October 13th is her birthday. We want to take this opportunity to wish her a very happy one, for even if Mrs. Pfiffner's birthday has a rather unlucky combination of day and date, college women are really lucky to have her as their dean.

Barbara Felker came into the POINTER office Monday with her eyes as big as saucers. "Guëss what!" she gasped, "I've got a baby sister!" Barbara was an only girl up until now, so she's very happy to have a "kid" sister.

Now that we get free admittance to the local high school football games upon presentation of our activity tickets let's all be out to see Point beat Rapids, what do you say? (Gee, there are some Rapids kids in school, aren't there?)

Well, it's just about that time again, so we'd better run along. Bye now! Don't forget the tea tomorrow afternoon.

Housing Rules Made

The housing committee, headed by Dean Elizabeth Pfiffner, has set up the following rules for quiet and closing hours:

On school nights, Sunday through Thursday, quiet hours are to be observed after 8 p.m.; weekend nights after 11 p.m.

Every girl should be in by 10:30 on school nights. On Friday and Saturday evenings they are allowed until 12:30. Juniors whose grade point average is 1.3, and Seniors whose averages are no lower than 1.5 have their choice for one additional 12 o'clock per on Sunday or Wednesday nights. Girls who attend a formal party sponsored by a CSTC organization will be granted two o'clock pers. If any exception to these regulations are made, they must be approved by the Dean of Women or by the landlady.

All guests in private homes are expected to leave by 10:30 unless given special permission by the landlady.

Novel Seating Arrangement

What goes on in Dr. Harold M. Tolo's room? Nothing new has been added, no, it's just the novel V seating arrangement in room 259. Upon asking Dr. Tolo the reasons for this "V for Victory" arrangement, he said there were several. First, it is just something different; then the freshmen students found they could become better acquainted if they could look at each other instead of at the "Prof" himself; and lastly, students feel freer to respond if they see that they have an audience.

Perhaps a circular seating arrangement could be suggested to serve the same purposes, or are the classes too large!!! Who knows but maybe next week students in Room 259 will be going in circles. One never knows what will happen next. Something different is always welcome, Dr. Tolo.

FATEFUL DAY

covers over your head. Of course, if you don't like this method, you might brave classes.

When in class, however, sit up straight and look intelligent, even if it is a struggle. If you slump in your seat and hide behind a book, the curious teacher will peer all the harder to see who you are. That's when the trouble begins! You might also spend the morning hunting for four-leaved-clovers to ward off the jinx.

If you don't care to take these suggestions just go ahead and see what happens. It might make life around here a little more interesting, but don't say that we didn't warn you!

Picnic Is Successful

A very successful WAA picnic was held last Wednesday night, "Successful" meaning everyone was full and then some. This Wednesday night the first WAA business meeting will be held. Students who are at all interested in joining WAA don't forget to come tonight — 7 o'clock in the college recreation room.

"I was particularly happy to see children in the audience," commented Mrs. Angus F. Lookaround when approached by a POINTER reporter after her lecture last Thursday.

In her lecture Mrs. Lookaround presented the life of the Indian before the discovery of America, and the changes made in Indian ways by the invasion of the white man. She also showed many articles of Indian handiwork.

After the lecture Mrs. Lookaround was kept busy for a half hour autographing books and showing her Indian articles to the students and faculty members.

The Indian costume Mrs. Lookaround wore had been made and given to her, she explained, by an Indian woman who wanted to show her appreciation for the work done among the Indians. "I shall wear it till it falls to pieces," she said.

Initiation Planned

Initiation of new members was planned for Thursday, October 26, at a meeting of the Newman club, held last Thursday. Topics for discussion were listed and the history and purpose of the Newman club were explained by President Florence Flugaur.

After the business meeting, ice cream bars were served and Miss May Roach entertained the group with some colored slides.

INTERESTING LECTURE PRESENTED BY HEDGES

Henry M. Hedges humorously and vividly described his adventures on the island of Bora Bora during the Talk of the Hour club lecture held last Monday evening. Bora Bora is a South Sea island located near the equator and is populated by a race of Polynesian people.

On Mr. Hedges' first trip to Bora Bora he specialized in deep sea fishing and in octopus hunting. "You haven't lived till you've been in the arms of an octopus," he explained.

After the lecture, which was the last of the current series, 43 people had already signed up for the next Talk of the Hour lecture series.

SCHUBERT PROGRAM PRESENTED

Dolores Rondeau and Mary Ann Hotvedt presented the life story of Franz Schubert at a meeting of Alpha Kappa Rho held Monday evening at the home of Peter J. Michelsen. Eulah Walter sang Schubert's "Serenade" and Dolores Rondeau sang two other Schubert melodies, "Ave Maria" and "Hark, Hark the Lark!" accompanied by Mary Ann Hotvedt at the piano.

In Alaska, just as here in the States, to say Have a "Coke" is to say Pal, we're right glad you're here, just as it does in your own home. In many lands around the globe, the pause that refreshes with ice-cold Coca-Cola has become a symbol of a friendly way of living.
