

Omega Mu Chi Entertains Rushees

Red carnation corsages were pinned on the rushees of Omega Mu Chi sorority as they were greeted Thursday evening at a party held at the home of Mrs. Earle Kidder, sorority patroness.

During the evening a musical charade and a quiz contest were conducted, and Elvira Lindow and Clarice Bergen were awarded prizes.

Lunch was served from a table decorated with a center piece of lighted flower candles floating in a crystal bowl of water and surrounded by a fan of red carnations, which were reflected in the bright glow in the mirror base. A small bouquet of red carnations flanked each side of the centerpiece. Shirlee Tobias, president, poured.

Joyce Larson La Brot, alumna, gave a short informal talk. Other guests present were Ruth Michelsen Bentz, alumna; Mrs. Charles Cashin and Mrs. Carl Jacobs, patronesses; Miss Bertha Glennon, Miss Syble Mason, and Mrs. Mary Samter, faculty advisers. Miss Susan Colman was a special guest on this occasion.

Scrapbooks Displayed In College Library

An attractive group of scrapbooks is now displayed in the reading room of the college library. These books were constructed by the Handicraft class under the supervision of Miss Edna Carlsten. A great variety of styles and materials is evidenced in the books.

Some of them have gay chintz covers, other show the dainty pastels of flowered wallpapers, while still others have covers of beautifully polished wood. Many of them are decorated with clever designs.

This display is indicative of the fine work done by the art department. College students are invited to see the display in the library.

Students Urged To Give to Red Cross

To the students of CSTC:

The Red Cross War Fund drive is on this week. Every student here should make some contribution this year, no matter how small. A box for that purpose is at the information window of the main office.

If any student can manage to give one dollar to this cause, and there should be some who can, do not put it in the box, but give it to Miss Rolfson and get an official receipt.

This is an opportunity to show just how willing we are to make a personal sacrifice in appreciation for the great ones that are being made for us each day.

Wm. C. Hansen, President

It Must Be The Weather

By Vi Lindow

(To be sung to the tune of "Will You Remember?")

For love is so sweet—in a snowstorm,
It's March, but the sun is like May.
The air has the softness of spring time—
It's likely to snow any day!

Take sunglasses, boots and umbrella,
When planning a trip to the store.
This weather demands preparation,
At least you can't say it's a bore.

So put on your new Easter bonnet,
If foolhardy pride says you must,
Be careful it's not made of iron,
Remember, the rain brings on rust.

And speaking of Easter—we're dreaming
Not only of eggs, gay and bright,
We're wishing, the same as for Christmas,
May all of your Easters be white!

Tau Gamma Beta Has Rushing Party

"George and Martha Washington" with powdered hair and appropriate costumes greeted 35 guests of Tau Gamma Beta sorority Tuesday evening, at a rushing party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold U. Brown. The party was called a "celebration for the founders of our nation."

Preceding the dessert luncheon, the theme of which was a "Salute to Cakes", interesting stories relating the origin of George and Martha Washington cakes and Lady and Lord Baltimore cakes were presented. A story about Dolly Madison explaining the origin of ice-cream was also given.

The table arrangement carried out a patriotic theme with a red floral center piece, and six white tapers studded with blue stars. Red, white and blue napkins with Tau Gamma Beta written in gold letters completed the decorations. Joyce Ann Rathke, the sorority president, poured the coffee.

Favors of colonial corsages were given to each rushee by a "colored girl", Bess Jones, representing "Topsy" of story book fame. Relay games were played and southern songs of a patriotic nature were sung.

In addition to the actives and rushees, guests included Mesdames Frank N. Spindler, and George Berg, patronesses, Mrs. Mildred Williams and Miss Gladys Van Arsdale, faculty advisers, and Mrs. Will Bode, the former Aileen Bowman, an alumna.

NOTICE!

Easter vacation will include Thursday, March 29, Friday, March 30, and Monday, April 2.

Girls' Glee Club Will Present Program

The Girls' Glee club under the direction of Peter J. Michelsen, will present a musical program Thursday morning at 10:05 in the auditorium. The program will be opened by three numbers sung by the Glee club: "The Lord's Prayer" by Albert H. Malotte, "Almighty Lord" by Peitro Mascagni and "Goin' Home" by Anton Dvorak.

Following this, Doris Ockerlander will give a reading, "In the Usual Way", after which Esther Davidson will sing a soprano solo, "A Red, Red Rose" by James Rogers.

Next a girls trio made up of Joan Joosten, Dolores Cowles and Pat Nelson will sing two numbers: "Mah Lindy Lou", by Lily Strickland and "The Younger Generation" by Copeland and Gershwin. Barbara Felker will play a piano solo, "Claire De Lune" by Debussy, and Shirley Haskins will sing a solo, "When You're Away" by Victor Herbert.

The program will close with three numbers sung by the Glee club, "Ole Ark's A-Movin'" by Nobel Cain, "Holiday for Strings" by Charles Bouelle, and "My Johann" by Eduard Grieg.

The Glee club accompanists are Barbara Felker and Mary Ann Hotvedt. Mary Ann also will accompany the soloists.

Steiner Is Grandpa

Dean Herbert R. Steiner became a proud grandfather last Wednesday, February 28, when a son was born in Milwaukee to Lt. and Mrs. Robert W. Steiner. Lt. Steiner served 14 months in the Southern Pacific as an intelligence officer with a bombing squadron aboard an aircraft carrier. At present he is stationed at San Francisco, California, at a naval air station.

Speaker Will Talk On Postwar Problems

Dr. Gabor de Besseney, an expert on postwar problems, will speak in the college auditorium Sunday afternoon at four o'clock. He comes as the fourth speaker in the Talk of the Hour club series.

He has chosen for his subject "States and Nations in the Future." His lecture will cover minority problems, united nations and united governments, and the feelings of nations towards their neighbors.

His family, educational and military background qualified Dr. de Besseney to become a diplomatic liaison officer with the Inter-Allied Commissions, and later to become administrator of a province in the East-European neutral zone. This gives him a unique background for the discussion of postwar prospects.

Writes For Magazines

Dr. de Besseney has made his home in America since 1924. For five years, he was on the staff of the New York Times. He has also written for America, The Commonwealth, Catholic World, and Current History. In fulfillment of various literary assignments, he made annual vacation trips to Europe, having also visited the war-torn countries of the present conflict.

Dr. de Basseney organized the American delegation for the Twelfth Eucharistic World Congress. He has been a Catholic spokesman at several university round tables, and was chairman of the Danubian Congress of 1938 and of the Inter-American Congress of 1939, sponsored by Fordham university.

College students will be admitted to the lecture upon presentation of their activity tickets.

Trytten To Be CSTC Chemistry Teacher

Dr. Roland A. Trytten of Ripon will join the faculty of Central State Teachers college in the autumn of 1945, as an instructor in chemistry. His work will consist largely of the classes formerly taught by Thomas A. Rogers, who died in March, 1944.

Dr. Trytten is a native of Minnesota and graduated summa cum laude from St. Olaf College. He was an inter-collegiate debater for four years at that college and member of Pi Kappa Delta, honorary fraternity. He later entered the University of Wisconsin where he completed his work for his Ph.D., while serving as a graduate assistant. Dr. Trytten is a member of Sigma Xi, honorary graduate scientific fraternity.

He spent a year with Kimberly-Clark at Neenah, Wisconsin, as a commercial chemist and for the past three years has been a teacher of chemistry in Ripon college. Dr. Trytten is married and has a young daughter. He expects to move his family to Stevens Point early in the summer.

Published weekly except holidays and examination periods, at Stevens Point by students of the Central Wisconsin State Teachers College. Subscription Price $2.00 per year.
Entered as second-class matter May 26, 1927, at the post office at Stevens Point, Wisconsin, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

STUDENT OPINION

To Whom It May Concern:

In Room 208 on the second floor are several cases containing a large collection of rocks and minerals. These rocks and minerals are of interest to students of geography and would be to others.

However, in order to examine the specimens one must clamber over numerous boxes, chairs, etc. Provided, of course, that one even knows they are there. This is definitely a deterrent to observation.

It seems that a service could be done the school and its students by moving this fine collection out where it can be observed and studied. The third floor is partly vacant and might serve as a good place.

At any rate, this matter seems worthy of consideration.

Junior High News

Elections for the second semester officers of the Mary D. Bradford Junior high were held recently. The following officers were elected: President, James Samter; vice-president, Carl Wieman; secretary, Carol Woodford; and treasurer, Eric Hedquist. The elections were directed by Robert S. Lewis.

The Junior High is now looking forward to one of its biggest events, the annual declamatory contests. The contests will consist of both humorous and serious declamations. A boy and a girl winner have always been selected and their names are engraved on cups placed in the Training school library. For the past two years it has been impossible to obtain cups, however.

The two Junior high school teams have been playing lots of basketball of late. Friday night two very exciting games were played. Training school seventh grade defeated St. Stephen's seventh by a score of 14 to 4. The M.D.B. eighth, however, was downed by St. Stephen's eighth by a score of 15 to 18.

At the beginning of the second semester, Jane Moe became editor of the Junior Pointer, a quarterly publication of the Mary D. Bradford Junior high school. Ann Gilfray is the assistant editor and Patricia Loverude is the business manager. James Samter, last semester's editor, has taken the position of Pointer correspondent.

Dorm Diary

by Janet

This is being written in Wausau this week, and at the moment school work in general seems comfortably distant. A weekend anywhere is recommended for folks who are tired of campus life.

This week, Lady Luck has been especially good to Nelson Hall girls. Alice Klake spent several delightful days in the company of an equally delightful man. Arlene Lloyd didn't sleep much Wednesday night because of a couple of phone calls from the direction of Salt Lake City. We understand April has taken on a new significance now. We don't mean several important birthdays either.

Have you heard this one? One morning not so long ago, Pat Nelson awoke at the bright hour of four to find Vi Lindow merrily up and about. Only Vi hadn't been to bed yet. It seems she just went on reading "forever" that night. And then one morning Anita Lang found a little mouse in her dresser drawer. He had evidently migrated up to more comfortable hunting grounds. While we are on this subject, did you ever hear about the time one of our illustrious seniors started to put on her golashees instead of her bedroom slippers?

We had our monthly fire drill at 3 a.m., Sunday morning... and just as that slumber party slumbered merrily on third floor.

The Dormites were hostesses to several guests the past weekend including Rose Marie Howes, who is teaching at Tomahawk and Ruth Miller, a guest of Elizabeth McLaughlin. Frances and Martha Marsolek visited Martha Halama, and Dorothy Quinn and Loretta Gotchy also dropped in to see friends.

Khaki Comments

T/Sgt. Myron (Mike) Kufel recently visited here on furlough. Sgt. Kufel has been stationed in South America and has made several trips by airplane to foreign bases. Mike's job is foretelling the weather.

Cpl. Charles Larsen, who has been stationed in Alaska, also visited CSTC recently.

Arthur Pejsa has recently been promoted from second lieutenant to first lieutenant. Lt. Pejsa has been stationed in India, where he was the pilot of a Superfortress. He is the brother of Rita Pejsa, a CSTC freshman.

Wally Bartosz, a graduate of CSTC, was recently commissioned a second lieutenant at Lowry Field, Colorado.

Major John Taylor has received the Oak Leaf Cluster to the Distinguished Flying Cross. He is commanding officer of a Liberator bombing group in England.

Gordon Steinfest of the naval air corps was killed in a plane crash near California on February 27. Gordon came from Antigo and attended CSTC.

Pfc. Posluzny Missing

PFC Anthony Posluzny, a graduate of CSTC, has been reported by the war department as missing in action in France since January 21.

James A. Stoltenberg, former CSTC student, has been promoted from ensign to lieutenant (j.g.). He is an instructor at Corpus Christi, Texas.

First Lt. Paul E. Swenson, a bombardier officer, is a member of a Liberator bomber unit in England that recently was cited for distinguished and exceptional performance on 200 missions.

Lt. Olive Livingston, an army nurse, left recently for Camp McCoy, where she will receive basic training. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Livingston, Almond, and completed a course in nursing at Madison last summer.

Lt. Sherman Sword, who is somewhere in the Philippines, mentions seeing Capt. Guy Roberts and talking over old times. He says—"Haven't heard anything of Joe Goodrich lately, but I do know that his outfit isn't awfully far away. I am hoping to catch him soon before we move on to another spot."

Ens. Orland Radke was quite surprised a few weeks ago. He was walking around an officers' club somewhere in the South Pacific and he spied Ens. Bob Rifleman. They were able to spend some time together and most of that time was spent discussing the "good ole days at CSTC."

ATTENTION SENIORS

Commencement announcements were selected at a meeting of the senior class in the auditorium last Thursday morning. The announcement selected costs 10c a piece and must be ordered from Florence Flugaur, secretary, on or before March 16. All orders must be paid for in advance. Orders for cards will not be taken by senior class officers but must be ordered individually.

Former Coast Guard "Saw The World"

This week's POINTER relates the experiences of Alvin Kaziak, another former service man now attending CSTC.

Al enlisted in the Coast Guard in Green Bay, and from there he traveled to every place imaginable. Being in service 2½ years, he really "got around".

One year was spent in beach patrol along the coast lines of northern Florida, Georgia and North Carolina. According to Al, nothing of any specially exciting interest happened here. "Once in awhile we'd see parts of wrecked ships come ashore", Al explained, "and we saw some peculiar lights on the ocean. However, it was the civilians that caused the most trouble. During the blackout we'd shoot out the lights on cars of uncooperative citizens."

Al spent four months training war dogs near Charleston, North Carolina. The training center was far removed from any civilian quarters because the dogs become very dangerous and hardly a day passed without someone being bitten.

Horses are used on beach patrols, and Al trained horses and men for sometime also. Al remarked, "Those horses surely saved a lot of hard walking. The going was really tough just after high tide."

Al next served six months on sea patrol. His particular route began at Bermuda, included the Azores, and circled up to the coast of France and back again. The specialty of his patrol was submarine lookout, and once a torpedo missed their ship by 30 feet.

"Life on shipboard wasn't bad", Al reminisced. "We had movies almost every day. I was the movie operator. Once though, off the Florida Keyes, we ran into a storm that lasted seven days. Some poor fellows couldn't even eat a cracker," Al asserted.

Al enjoys taking pictures and he has several showing the foreign spots he visited.

Boys Seek To Become Masters of Cookery

Nine aspiring young gentlemen who seek to become masters of the culinary art are Bill Sanks, Don Blaebaum, Don LaBrie, Don Summers, Darrell Benson, Wilson Delzell, Dick Toser, David Schenk and Don Marquard, of Mary D. Bradford Junior high school. They have elected to take a class in cooking and have Bernadine Peterson as their teacher.

The boys eagerly attack their project and work with a right good will. They have already prepared a very appetizing breakfast of grapefruit, scrambled eggs, toast, rice crispies and cocoa. Last Monday they served a luncheon consisting of vegetable soup, egg salad sandwiches, vegetable and fruit salad, and chocolate pudding.

The boys are very willing to do their work and most of the time they are as capable as they are eager. However, one young lad in his zeal for his work clutched an orange he

Wittich Addresses Practice Teachers

Dr. Walter Wittich, director of the Bureau of Visual Education at the University of Wisconsin, spoke last Monday to seniors teaching at the Training school on the subject of visual education in grade schools and in high school.

Illustrating his talk with several typical text films, Dr. Wittich declared that the text films should be used to bring into the classroom those experiences which are too vast or too minute for the teacher to present adequately.

Dr. Wittich pointed out that in order to get the most good from text films, the teacher must prepare the children to see the films just as carefully as she prepares them for a reading lesson.

There is a large library of text films available for rental at the University of Wisconsin, he said. These films are of the best type, and when used correctly, they are of actual help to teachers.

Student Organizations

ADVISER CHOSEN

Dr. Arthur S. Lyness was chosen as college faculty adviser for Wesley Foundation at a meeting held Thursday evening in St. Paul's Methodist church hall. After the business meeting, post-war employment and the posed Murray bill were discussed.

On Sunday evening, March 4, Wesleyans held a supper at the church, after which Mrs. C. Russell Johnson spoke on Madagascar. The next meeting is scheduled for March 15.

WORSHIP SERVICE HELD

Members of LSA observed World Student Christian Federation day of prayer with a worship service when they met on February 15. An act of penitence with responsive reading was a part of the service.

At a meeting held March 1, Rev. C. Russell Johnson continued the study of the Book of Revelations. He also displayed Bibles written in four foreign languages: Hebrew, Greek, French and Malagasy, together with Weymouth's New Testament translated into modern language.

Tentative plans are being made for the forthcoming program. It was emphasized that each member pay his semester dues at the earliest date.

THEATER PARTY ENJOYED

The members of Primary Council and the freshman girls who plan to enter the Primary division were the guests of Miss Susan Colman, director of the division of Primary Education, at a theater party held last Monday evening. The group attended "Hollywood Canteen" at the Fox theater. Popcorn was served during the movie.

was peeling so tightly that there was danger of its being squashed before he could finish it. When his teacher showed him the proper way to hold the orange he sighed sadly and said, "Gee, I guess I'll never be a very good cook."

Aside from such minor blunders, the boys are making excellent progress. They are not guilty of the sins so common to some girl cooks. They are very neat, they wear no fingernail polish, their short hair is concealed beneath white caps, they do not gossip, and they are very strict about performing their own duties.

One of their favorite tasks is scouring the sink, and they are also fond of cleaning stoves.

The boys possess another quality very rare but valuable in a good cook. This is accuracy of measurement. Every teaspoon of flour must be level to the very last grain in order that the boys feel justified in expecting a perfect product.

Although they have no love for washing the cooking dishes and they think that dish washing is not a masculine skill, the boys have accepted the inevitable. What is more, they have shortened their labors by forming an assembly line. One boy clears and stacks the dishes, another washes, another wipes and still another puts them away. Thus the work is accomplished painlessly and in a relatively short time.

NOTICE

Every student who expects to receive either a diploma or a degree at the close of this semester is expected to come to the Records office as early as possible to file a written application for graduation. Cards will be provided for this purpose in the office.

A. S. Lyness, Registrar.

CHRISTMAS FUND USED FOR SOCIAL SERVICE

For the past three years many members of the faculty have contributed the money that they would spend sending Christmas cards to other faculty members to a joint fund to be used for a social service fund. This year the money was deposited in a box placed at the information window, and the contributors signed their names to a slip of paper bearing the heading, "I chose to greet you this way. Merry Christmas!"

This manner of extending Christmas greetings was entirely voluntary and some people used other ways to extend their greetings.

This year the money collected, $22.75, has been turned over to Mrs. Mildred Williams, chairman of the faculty social committee, and will be used to purchase something for the Student Lounge.

NOTICE!

Because of League bowling this week, YWCA will go bowling on Sunday evening, March 11, instead of on Thursday as originally planned. Members who have not signed up should see Joyce Rathke.

Members who plan to attend the party should meet at the dormitory at 7 p.m. on Sunday. There will be no regular meeting on Thursday.
