Position of Physics Instructor Filled

Francis E. Pratt of Mount Vernon, Iowa, has been selected as the new physics instructor at CSTC, President William C. Hansen announced today. Mr. Pratt, who began teaching on Tuesday, will fill the position left vacant by Raymond M. Rightsell, who has been granted a leave of absence to teach in the army university center at Biarritz, France.

Mr. Pratt is a graduate of Northwestern university and took an electrical engineering course at the University of Iowa. He has been engaged in research work in connection with the design and development of electronic equipment for war purposes.

Will Nominate For Student Council

Elections for Student Council will be held on Friday, October 19. Nomination papers for students who wish to serve on the Council this year must be filed with the class adviser or division director not later than Monday, October 15. A student may sign four petitions for representatives from his class and one petition for a divisional representative.

Students may secure nomination papers at the main office. Each petition must have at least 10 signers. It is important that every student give his support to this election, either as a representative of a class or division or as a promoter for a candidate. The Student Council has an important voice in school government; it is necessary that the students vote, and vote with thought.

Tau Gams Entertain Pointers To Meet Milwaukee State

Pine scented candles filled the room with an inviting aroma as guests signed their names in the guest book at the Tau Gamma Beta annual fall tea in the Home Economics parlors Wednesday afternoon. The autumn theme was carried out by a tea table beautifully arrayed with a centerpiece of fall fruit, gilded pine cones, and gold lighted tapers. Each guest was presented a favor, a colorful waxed leaf tied with ribbon.

In the receiving line were Nelda Dopp, president, Bess Jones, vice-president, Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner, dean of women, and Mrs. Mildred Williams, faculty adviser. Mrs. William C. Hansen, Miss Gladys Van Arsdale, Mrs. Robert S. Lewis and Miss Helen Meston poured.

The committees were: General Chairmen, Nelda Dopp and Bess Jones; decorations, Doris Ockerlander, Jean Woltman, Pat Thorpe and Grace Lepak; favors and posters, Jeanne Cone, Clara Winter and Mavis Dumdei; invitations, Betty Ruth Crawford, Dorothy Loberg and Mary Juetten; food, Betty Haberkorn, Monica Gill and Helen Nigbor; clean-up, Bess Jones, Doris Ockerlander and Pat Thorpe.

Girls' Glee Club Gets Underway

The Girls' Glee club has resumed practice this fall with a personnel of 80 girls, each one interested in singing.

The group made its debut singing for convocation a short while ago and will soon start practice on numbers for the Christmas concert which, judging from past years, will be worth the many hours of practice spent by the girls.

Coach George Berg's Pointers will attempt to chalk up their second straight win of the season Saturday afternoon, when they meet the formidable Milwaukee Teachers football team here at Schmeckle Field. Both Milwaukee and Stevens Point are currently unbeaten. Milwaukee, in its opening game of the season, defeated North Central college of Naperville, Illinois, 13-16, while Stevens Point, in its opening tilt, exacted a 12-0 victory from the Oshkosh Teachers team.

Milwaukee Favored

In view of its more experienced line-up, Milwaukee is favored to win. The Milwaukee team is comprised largely of the better former Milwaukee high school players, and also of a few returned veterans, former college players.

The Pointers with the experience of one game behind them, have been working hard the past week improving their weak points. Coach Berg has been concentrating on blocking, shifting about of the backfield and the perfecting of new plays. The net result will be a scrappy game, with Point the under-dog.

This Saturday's game would ordinarily have decided the winner, or one of the contenders, for the Wisconsin Teachers title.

Have Tryouts

Tryouts for cheerleaders were conducted Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock by WAA, Pat Thorpe, and LeRoy Plunkett, who were CSTC cheerleaders last year, will serve in that capacity again this year. New cheerleaders selected are Yvonne Gabelson, Roberta Shepard, Colleen (Mickey) Rybickie and Jean Fumelle.

Kay Hope Will Head 1946 Iris

DICK OLK NAMED BUSINESS MANAGER

Katherine Hope, a senior in the division of secondary education, has been chosen as editor of the Iris, college yearbook, and will direct activities of the 1946 publication. Business manager will be Dick Olk, a junior in the same division.

Katherine, who received scholastic recognition at the honors assembly last spring, is a member of the Forum, of the Pointer staff and is vice-president of Omega Mu Chi sorority. Dick, a former service man, is also a member of the Forum and is production manager of College Theater.

Assisting Katherine as associate editor will be Bess Jones, a junior in the division of secondary education. Bess is active in the Home Economics club and in WAA, of which she is a former president. She is vice-president of Tau Gamma Beta sorority and a member of Sigma Zeta and is president of the Y.W.C.A.

Bill Ritchay, a returned veteran who saw over four years of service in the South Pacific, will be assistant business manager. Other key people on the business staff will be Betty June Maki and Doris Ockerlander.

Seymour Tyler, a returned veteran from the European theater of war, will head the photographic staff of the Iris and will be assisted by Bill Hansen and Alvin Kaziak.

Other members of the Iris staff will be chosen in the near future. Advisers for the yearbook are Dr. Harold M. Tolo, chairman, Miss Bertha Glennon, editorial adviser, and Dr. Roland Trytten, photographic adviser.

Until President, William C. Hansen gave the green light signal this fall, it was not known whether it would be financially possible to publish an Iris this year. Money for financing the book comes entirely from an allocation in the student activity fund and from advertising in the book.

Attend Pep Meeting!

Music by the college band, yells led by the college cheerleaders, and school songs sung by the audience and led by Peter J. Michelsen will be the features of an assembly Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The pep meeting is in preparation for the Milwaukee-Point game on Saturday.

After the assembly there will be a meeting of the heads of all college organizations to arrange for homecoming events of Friday and Saturday, October 19 and 20.

NOTICE

Students who are interested in working on the Iris staff should see the editor or business manager this week.

Published weekly except holidays and examination periods, at Stevens Point by students of the Central Wisconsin State Teachers College. Subscription Price $2.00 per year.
Entered as second-class matter May 26, 1927, at the post office at Stevens Point, Wisconsin, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Under The Rug

with Dave

The homecoming parade and game of the local high school started ye old football spirit zinging in our veins again, and well enough, for the prospect of CSTC's homecoming looks good. Things are really popping.

To last year's cheerleading staff, Pat Thorpe and Butch Plunkett, have been added new members. Roberta Shepard, from Marshfield, Bonnie Gabelson, Mickey Rybicke, both local girls, and Jean Fumelle, from Clintonville. That gives us a team, a band, cheerleaders and lots of rootin', tootin' spectators. Put them all together, they spell—not MOTHER, but—a successful homecoming.

As to the festivities — it seems there is the possibility of a snake dance and bonfire on Friday, Oct. 19, and the game and a dance on Saturday, Oct. 20. Now to my way of thinking that stacks up nicely, as to a celebration. I am of the opinion that it would be rather foolhardy to attempt a parade with floats, etc., this year. There are few organizations large enough or able to undertake the expense and labor necessary for a float. I say, better no parade, than a poor one. What do you say? Anyway I'm all hepped up about a snake dance.

While we're on the subject of student undertakings, let's not forget the elections. A strong student body, you remember, is the result of a strong student council.

Of note to many was the recent announcement of Betty Pohlman's marriage to Norm Wanta on June 29 at Baraboo. Betty, a last year grad, and Norm were a much seen couple around here.

Congratulations also to Bill Nikolai on his marriage to Loretta Gonering. Loretta was formerly secretary in the record office and later was a student here.

Orchids to President Hansen for the fine speech he made on the "Our College" radio program last Wednesday. It was really a starting gun.

Speaking of radio, a new workshop member who's going places is Margaret Guth. Another loungeur in those parts is Art Crowns, who with Jane Miller, is cooking up some new scheme. Art, by the way seems to be enjoying the surplus of female students.

Some Quickie Shots:—

Lorraine Peters was seen blissfully strolling the campus last weekend with a new man—Bob Maki, Betty's brother. More bliss is the Betty Furstenberg, Lee Malchow twosome. Understand Kay Prey found the home town scenery specially enjoyable on her recent jaunt there. At the same time Mary Noble enjoyed local scenes with Capt. Jim Dehlinger.

We bring to your attention the honor paid to one of our faculty recently — Mr. Doudna was elected chairman of the Wisconsin Recreation council at Madison. Very nice, we say.

I think many of the faculty will agree that this is one of the loveliest falls ever seen on the campus. Wonder if Toby Tyler or Bill Hansen could be induced to take some kodachrome views. The masses of color suggest a theme for a fall formal. Wouldn't a Harvest ball be in keeping?

Newly elected officers of the Red Arrow Club of Central Wisconsin include three CSTC veterans now in school: Jack Davis, president; Raymond Bartkowiak, vice-president and Ray Benke, secretary.

The editorial staff of the Pointer had a feast Monday night. Helen Firkus contributed chicken and cake left from her sister Evelyn's wedding dinner. Evelyn, now Mrs. Andrew Olander, graduated from the three year Rural course at CSTC in 1943.

Richard Lee, ex-service man, now of the student body, goes to school in the mornings and is a salesman for Gerber's baby foods in the afternoon. The man is an authority because he and his wife, the former June Lindemann, have a two months' old baby. Mrs. Lee was a secretary in the college office a few years ago.

And speaking of babies — if a stranger walks into Nelson Hall these days, he is very likely to see Miss Barber and the Dormites sitting around with an air of domesticity, hemming — of all things — diapers! (Explanation — Red Cross layettes. Lower eyebrows). Adios.

NOTICE

A Y-Dub meeting will be held in the Student Lounge at 7:15 Thursday evening.

Alma Mater

Hail Stevens Point, the school supreme,
O Central College, thou art queen.
Hail Alma Mater, thee we love.
For thou are great, all other schools above.

Have I Met You?

How do YOU do. It's funny how we've seen so much of each other around this beautiful campus without ever having been formally introduced. I'm C. C. Squirrel, and you..... goodness, I suppose that you think I don't know you. Well, they don't call me Campus Conscience for merely burying acorns! No sir. I've been around these parts since the days when "Gibson girl" coeds spent their leisure hours reposing at the stone quarry behind the school, while their boyfriends whistled from surries rumbling by over the block pavement. It's well nigh unto 52 years that I've been watching the goings-on of this home sweet home, and I certainly have gotten an education.

It's that education that I've been thinking about lately. It seems a pity to waste all my knowledge on those few insignificant canines that bother to chase me for it, when the backbone of future America (don't look around—that's you!) could be benefiting. I've decided that the best way to reach a CSTC'er's heart (and head) is through the Pointer. (It didn't take a half century to figure that out!) The Pointer staff has sanctioned my idea to speak as the voice of experience—if I promise to keep the nutshells off the typewriter — so my first article will be printed soon.

It won't be excerpts I picked up during Mr. Evans' out-door biology lectures or "how to hold a bow" in Miss Spande's six easy lessons, but rather how to be the smoothest gal or guy this college has picked up and what to do to hold your beau!

Yes, I'm going to really live up to my C.C. (correct conduct) nickname and give you all the "si, si" things you want to know.

Watch for me — I'll be watching for you.

Junior Pointer Staff Elected

Plans are under way at Mary D. Bradford Junior High school for the Junior Pointer, a paper published at regular intervals by the students there.

John Swanson has been elected editor-in-chief, with Ann Gilfry serving as assistant editor. The position of business manager will be filled by Dale Summers.

Other appointments will be made by John Swanson in the near future.

Sigma Zeta Presents

"World of Tomorrow"

"The World of Tomorrow", a radio program, is being presented weekly by Sigma Zeta, honorary science fraternity, through Radio Workshop. One of the projects of

Home Ec Club To Be Hostess on Saturday

The girls of the Home Ec club will be hostesses on Saturday, October 15, to Home Economics students from four colleges: Stout Institute, the University of Wisconsin, Mount Mary at Milwaukee, and Milwaukee-Downer. This is the first meeting of the Wisconsin Home Economics College clubs as a college group. Previously the college organization had been associated with high school groups in the state.

Florence Bahr of Madison, president of the W.H.E.C.C., will conduct the business meeting. Bess Jones of CSTC is secretary-treasurer of the organization.

At 12:30 o'clock the group will be served a luncheon at Nelson Hall. Following the business meeting a discussion, "Planning interesting Meetings," will be carried on by representatives from each club.

Bess Jones is general chairman of the meeting. Assisting her are the following committees: Decorations, Doris Ockerlander, chairman, Marjorie Schrank, Frances Kutchenriter and Ethelyn Olson; registration and reception, Pat Thorpe and Pat Lavers; programs, Helen Firkus, chairman, Monica Gill, Eileen Leiby and Betty Maki; entertainment, Mary Asenbrener, chairman, and Marilyn Hein. A tour of the college is being planned by Betty Haberkorn.

Current Broadway Play Will Be Read

Margaret Alexander Dunn will read the current Broadway play, "I Remember Mama," in the college auditorium, on Tuesday, October 16, at 8 p.m. Many of the CSTC students will remember Mrs. Dunn's enjoyable presentation of the well known play, "The Corn is Green" which she read here two years ago.

Mrs. Dunn attended Syracuse University School of Speech, where she received her degree in Oral English. She took special work at Middlebury college and has studied interpretation of the drama with some of the country's finest coaches.

She has had a vast amount of experience on the stage, on the entertainment platform and in radio. Her fine sympathetic understanding, flexible voice, charming personality and exciting platform presence assure a program long to be remembered.

"I Remember Mama," is John Van Druten's moving and humorous adaptation of the Kathryn Forbes novel, "Mama's Bank Account". It is the story of Mama's unconquered spirit, which is always there, ready to pull her American-Norwegian family together when ever misfortune befalls them.

Students, wives of students, and faculty wives will be admitted upon presentation of activity tickets.

Sigma Zeta is to bring science to the high schools through this program, which is broadcast on Thursday at 3:15 o'clock.

The first meeting of Sigma Zeta was held Wednesday evening, September 19, in room 103 at 7:30 p.m. After the business meeting the group adjourned to the Home Economics parlors, where coffee and doughnuts were served.

WAA Elects Captains

Ramona Putnam, Tonie Tushinski, Margaret Guth and Bess Jones were elected volley-ball captains at a WAA meeting held last Wednesday night.

After the business meeting, members enjoyed a game of volleyball.

Dormites Entertain

Brilliantly colored bouquets of autumn leaves decorated the living-room at Nelson Hall on Sunday afternoon, when the Dormites entertained the students, faculty and faculty wives at their annual reception. A glowing fire in the fireplace gave the guests a cheery welcome as they entered. Vases of purple and white asters were on the tables, while the tea table was adorned with a centerpiece of yellow chrysanthemums and purple asters, flanked by yellow tapers. Fall leaves of red and yellow were scattered on the table. Piano selections were provided by Shirley Brown.

Pouring during the first hour were Miss Rose Barber, director of Nelson Hall, and Marie Eisenhammer, her student assistant. Mrs. William C. Hansen and Mrs. Walter Hetzer poured during the second hour.

Trips Planned

Under the supervision of the State Soils Conservation Department, Fred J. Schmeeckle's agriculture and conservation classes will have an opportunity to observe areas where right land usage is being practiced. On Wednesday and Thursday of this week, the classes will take planned trips to regions of the state where conservation is actually going on at the present time.

Mr. Schmeeckle feels that these trips are valuable to the students in that they provide first hand information which is not available in text books.

Student Organizations

New Members Welcomed

Joyce Rathke, president of Gamma Delta, welcomed 20 Lutheran students at a get-acquainted party on Thursday evening, September 27, at the St. Paul Lutheran church parlors. Rev. W. F. Ludwig spoke to the group about the meaning of Gamma Delta and its functions, the students were introduced, and the group adjourned after refreshments were served.

The regular business meeting of Gamma Delta was held on Thursday evening, October 4, at the church parlors. Pledging was discussed briefly and new students were asked to join. The president appointed the following people to specific duties: Bulletin board chairman, Mavis Dumdei; press representative, Lorraine Peters; pledge chairman, Pat Thorpe.

Initiated Into College Theater

Joyce Proctor, Lucille Vaughan and Janice Milton were initiated into College Theater on Wednesday night, October 3. President Marjorie Stimm opened the meeting, and Dr. Warren G. Jenkins gave a bit of the history of the organization.

A double celebration was held, for it was also the ninth birthday of the College Theater. A cake decorated with nine white candles, donated by Leland M. Burroughs, and apple cider, donated by Dr. Jenkins, were served as refreshments.

Primaries Picnic

Primary Council members had a picnic supper Monday night in the college rec room. After the lunch the girls enjoyed several games of shuffleboard and basketball.

Chairman of the food committee for the picnic was Dorothy Radtke. She was assisted by Aletha Westfahl, Joyce Kopitzke, Joyce Proctor, and Lu Tanner. The Council members were thankful to Mrs. Charles C. Evans, who helped with refreshments.

Alpha Kap Meets

Alpha Kappa Rho, honorary music fraternity, held its first meeting Monday evening, September 24, at the Peter J. Michelsen home. Plans were made for the coming semester and prospective members were considered.

The officers for the society are: Joyce Rathke, president; Eulah Walter, vice-president; Marjorie Stimm, treasurer; Mildred Ross, secretary. After the business was completed, a lunch was served.

Enjoy Hayride

Members of Wesley Foundation enjoyed a hayride party on Thursday night. After a ride to Iverson Park, Wesleyans gathered at Saint Paul's Methodist church for an hour of games directed by Rev. Clifford Fritz.

A short business meeting was held, at which plans were made for the State Student Conference, which is to be held at Stevens Point on October 19, 20 and 21.

Refreshments were served by Margaret Scott and Joyce Proctor.
