Alpha Kappa Lambda Makes Social Debut with Dinner, Ball and Show

Alpha Kappa Lambda, known as the Association of Conservation Leaders, is having its first social event since the club organized last year. The occasion will be in the form of a venison steak dinner to be held at Nelson Hall and a Sportsmen's Ball and Floor show at the Training School gym on Thursday, December 11, for members and their guests.

The speaker for the evening will be Charles F. Watson, formerly with the faculty but now retired. Mr. Watson contributed great interest and enthusiasm in forming the Conservation major at this college. His talk on the conservation of our natural resources will be fitting. Attire for the evening will be sportsmen's clothes.

Dinner Program

The program for the venison steak dinner at Nelson Hall will consist of 1) The introduction of the Conservation Hymn with Joe Moravec at the piano and the Firemen's Band singing. (This is a premiere of Joe Moravec's song which he has written and composed for Alpha Kappa Lambda.) 2) The Fireman's Band — men of unusual song — a group of men popularly known as the town's best singing group will sing their theme song "The Fireman's Band" and "White Christmas" at their first public appearance; 3) Earl Dryfoose will play Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" and other selections styled for good listening; 4) The introduction of the honorary members of Alpha Kappa Lambda; 5) Speaker for the evening, Mr. Watson.

Ball and Floorshow

The program for the Sportsmen's Ball and Floorshow at the Training school gym will include the following: Dancing from 8 to 11 p.m.; floor show—9:30 to 10:15 p.m.: 1) Fancy Decorations.—ballroom style by Pearl Fischer and Mary Ann Tepp to "Begin the Beguine"; 2) Keyboard studies—by Earl Dryfoose; 3) Barber Shop Scene with songs sung by the Fireman's Band, selections: "Let the Rest of the World Go By," "Sweet Sixteen," "Someone's in the Kitchen with Dinah," "For Me and (See SOCIAL DEBUT, page 4)

'After Graduation Day', Ball Theme; Golomski, Walker Lead Grand March

The Home Ec kitchen provided a homey background for these married couples attending CSTC. Lillian Korzilius watches Duaine Counsell feed Ed Korzilius with a wooden spoon, as Wanda Counsell and Bernice and Ralph Eschenbauch look on.

A mortar board upon which a college "prof" is presenting that cherished diploma to a senior student will be spotlighted on the stage to carry out an "After Graduation Day" theme at the Senior Ball, Saturday evening, December 6. The big dance will be held in the Training school gym from 8:45 p.m. until 12:45 p.m.

Also carrying out the motif of the dance will be diplomas suspended from the center of the ceiling by purple and gold streamers. Each diploma will bear the name of a senior in this year's graduating class.

Howard Paul, his piano and orchestra, will provide music for the evening of dancing.

Bill Golomski, president of the senior class, and his dark-haired, vivacious partner, Jean Walker, will lead the grand march. Second in line will be Harvin Abrahamson, vice-president, and his wife.

Chaperones for the dance are Mr. and Mrs. James R. Hicks and Mr. and Mrs. Leland M. Burroughs. Special guests include Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson S. Delzell, Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert R. Steiner, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond M. Rightsell, Miss Sue Colman, Mr. and Mrs. Quincy Doudna and Dr. Raymond E. Gotham.

Committees Appointed

Several large committees have been appointed by the president to help make this dance a success. Committee chairmen are: Decoration co-chairmen, Catherine Daniels and Roberta Shepard; band, James Schoettel; ballroom, Fred Kalkofen; publicity, Orval Moser; refreshments, Evelyn Markward; checkroom, Warren Soeteber; ticket printing, Loyal Sargent; ticket sales, Lynn Feutz and Bob Hanson; programs, Doris Ockerlander; invitations, Jim Stoltenberg; grand march, Harvin Abrahamson; and general chairman, Bill Golomski.

From Booties to Balls

For your convenience in avoiding the Christmas rush the Home Economics club is sponsoring its annual Christmas Sale today, beginning at 9 a.m., opposite the side entrance of the auditorium on second floor.

The earlier you come, the greater your choice, and a word to the wise is sufficient! Everything from baby booties to popcorn balls and candy will be displayed.

New Band Uniforms

Peter J. Michelsen, director of the music department, announced recently that 75 new uniforms have been ordered for the college band. The uniforms will be available some time in March for the annual spring concert. They will be made of blue whipcord with gold braid trimming and a gold pointer with the letters CSTC on the sleeve.

Cost of the set has been estimated at $3,000 or approximately $40 per uniform. The music department will bear over half the cost of the new uniforms from funds raised by concerts and alumni contributions. President William C. Hansen stated that the remainder of the expenses would be defrayed by funds from the college budget.

The complete outfitting will include pants, coat and cap similar to the old uniforms which are now 16 years old. Included are a drum-major's suit and spare uniforms to compensate for size differences.

TAKE 'SEASONED' ADVICE, MARRIED LIFE'S ALL RIGHT

It's indeed a busy life for CSTC's six married couples, all of whom are students here. "It's a war of nerves," says Wanda Counsell as she dashes off to type a letter to the engraver of the Iris of which she is editor.

"Oh, brother!" is Lillian Korzilius's only comment.

The Korziliuses, who are veterans of four years of wedded bliss, met in Ashland back when Lillian was in high school and Ed was a freshman in college there. In two years of school they have had only two classes together, one being organic chemistry in which Lillian is instructor and her husband was one of the pupils.

Lillian does all of their housework in addition to holding a job. Living with her mother has been the solution of their housing problem.

"Ed built nearly all of our furniture," Lillian proudly explains. Ed is a conservation major and Lillian is majoring in home ec.

"Going to school when you're married is no trouble at all," claim Mr. and Mrs. George Bishop, who live in a trailer on Jefferson street. George, who designed and built their studio couch which folds out into a bed, gives piano lessons in his spare time. He plans on transferring next year so he can major in religion. They have all of their classes together with the exception of gym.

Mr. and Mrs. Bishop claim their meal schedule to be highly successful. "I get breakfast," explains George, "and Winifred gets lunch. Then I wash the dishes for the day while she gets supper, and we do the supper dishes together."

The Bishops celebrated their fourth wedding anniversary on Thanksgiving.

The Counsells, who have been married for three and a half years, have gone to school together ever since the eighth grade. Married life is fine according to Duaine, who explains, "You don't have to worry about dates this way."

"Getting meals is about a 50-50 proposition," says Duaine, "but our biggest problem is who's going to do the dishes."

"It's a good way of applying psychology," Wanda says. "It's so interesting studying my husband's behavior reaction when I cook something new."

Wanda is majoring in primary, while Duaine is a geography major.

It Won't Stay on The Wall

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Breslin's biggest difficulty was in "trying to make the Kem-tone stay on the wall." They have no classes together, but hope to have next semester. They met in high school in Wausau when Mrs. Breslin was Kay Prey.

"He threw a book at me in high (See MARRIED COUPLES, page 4)

Schmeckle Tells All-- Rightsell Non-Committal

The "era of good feeling" that Fred J. Schmeckle seems to be exhibiting in at present is because of a precious ("deer") situation.

At the drop of a sight, Mr. Schmeckle will tell you of the eight point, 200-pound buck that he downed in the Necedah area on one of the first days of deer season. It seems that the head of the conservation department has become an arch-conservative and has solved the problem of the present high cost of steaks.

The recent arrival of the radar equipment at CSTC did not help Raymond E. Rightsell, physics instructor, in sighting a suitable quarry during deer season, as he returned from the hunt empty handed. This is an unusual occurrence since Mr. Rightsell has in former years been "lucky".

The Pointer staff wishes to congratulate Mr. Schmeckle and console Mr. Rightsell. In the same breath they wish to notify the former that a Pointer banquet will be held some time in the spring, and that never on such an occasion have they had the privilege of eating venison for the main course.

Coming Year Will See Many New Changes in Curriculum

Many new changes have been made to the curriculum for this coming year.

In the chemistry department those students who have had no chemistry in high school will be accommodated by having a new freshmen course in fundamental inorganic and organic chemistry, Chemistry 100a and Chemistry 100b, each earning 5 credits. In addition, another course, qualitative analysis, also a 5 credit course is being offered as a continuation for these courses for those students majoring in chemistry.

However, those students who have had one year of high school chemistry and two years of high school mathematics will be able to take Chemistry 109a and 109b, general chemistry and qualitative analysis, each five credit courses. In this way those students with high school chemistry will have a head start in getting their chemistry majors. A chemistry major consists of a minimum of 34 credits, from the following courses: 109a-109b (or 100a, 100b, and 106); 121a-121b (Organic Chemistry); 210a-210b (Quantitative Analysis); 215a (Physical Chemistry).

A minor in chemistry, consisting of 20 credits, will include courses, 100a-100b or 109a-109b, together with 10 credits selected from the other offerings of the department.

Biology Changes

Curriculum changes and revisions in the biology department are as follows: Biology 110 — Heredity and Eugenics (new course) — three credits; Biology 124 — Physiology (Replaces 203 and 204) — four credits; Biology 214 — Comparative Anatomy (Displaces 201) — four credits; Biology 216 — Botany (Replaces 119-120 — five credits; Biology 220 — Ecology (new course) — three credits; Biology 209 — Principles of Public Health — three credits; Biology 102 — Health Hygiene (formerly physiology and Hygiene) — two credits.

A major in biology shall consist of 30 credits, including courses 103, 104, 124, 214, and 216. At least 12 credits to be of Senior college grade; i. e., two hundred series.

A minor in biology shall consist of 20 credits including courses 103, 104, and 124.

Crowns Heads Senior Class at St. Norbert's

According to the latest issue of the St. Norbert College Times, Byron C. Crowns, former student at CSTC, has been elected president of the senior class at St. Norbert's.

Mr. Crowns, who hails from Neokosa, has about equally divided his college attendance between CSTC and St. Norbert's. After graduating next June with a major in English and philosophy, he intends to enter the Law-School at the University of Wisconsin, where his brother and sister are now enrolled.

While attending CSTC Byron was a prominent figure in many of the campus affairs and his elevation to the position of Senior class president at St. Norbert's is of little surprise to his former classmates.

Here's The Lineup---

The general enrollment report of the Wisconsin State Teachers colleges as prepared by CSTC contains statistics of interest and striking importance to all those registered in a State Teachers college, particularly those intending to become teachers.

Milwaukee State has the highest enrollment with 1773 registered there. LaCrosse follows with 1097 students enrolled. Stevens Point is fifth in line with 881 as their total enrollment figure. The total of the combined teachers colleges is 7932. Of these 3317 are freshmen, 2733 are sophomores, 1086 are juniors, and only 796 are seniors. These statistics show how few people the teaching field has to rely upon to relieve the teaching shortage this fall. Remember that it is possible that fewer than three-fourths of this total will eventually go into the teaching job, since many seniors have other plans.

The total number of persons enrolled in the Secondary Division (2376) far outnumbers the registration in any other division. Next highest according to enrollment is the combined elementary field with 869 people. The physical education division at LaCrosse (416), the commercial division at Whitewater (373), the agricultural division at Platteville and River Falls (355) and the rural division (303) are the only ones which have come anywhere near the peak, and these are vastly different from the top ranking ones.

Seniors in the Secondary division total 355, while those in combined elementary number 151. Secondary division has the highest registration in all years—freshman, sophomore, junior and senior.

This resumé of enrollments in Wisconsin Teachers colleges gives an overall picture of what can be expected in the alleviation of the teacher shortage in our state. As has been suggested by teacher training directors, it would be wise for some people who can and may desire to do so, to change from a division which is crowded to one where the demand is heavier and the supply of trained teachers smaller. Some of us may do well to think it over and then act promptly.

Eight Schools Compete In One-Act Play Contest

The Inter-District One-act Play Contest was held in the college auditorium on Tuesday, November 25. Eight high schools were well-represented by a variety of plays.

The plays that received "A" ratings were: "Wonder Hat" — La Crosse; "El Cristo" — Greenwood; "Which is the Way to Boston" — Shawano; and "I'm a Fool" — Gresham.

The "B" ratings were given to: "Neighbors"—Wauzeka; "Why I'm a Bachelor" — Luxemburg; "The Blue Teapot" — Scandinavia; and "Not Such a Goose" — Soldiers Grove.

Judge of the one-act plays was Miss Olive Toussaint of the speech department at Kaukauna High school.

The schools that received "A" ratings will present their plays at the final contest which is to be held in Madison.

Dr. Gotham Attends Placement Meeting

During the holidays Dr. Raymond E. Gotham attended the conference of the National Institutional Teachers Training association held in the conference rooms of the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago on November 28 and 29.

This is an association of all of the placement officials of the teacher training institutions of the country.

The main problem discussed was that of the present teacher shortage and ways in which this situation could be corrected.

At this meeting evidence was presented that in the past few years a great number of students, who might ordinarily enter the teaching profession, were attracted by the better opportunities offered them in a high-gear industrial system. The present-day focus on better working conditions and increased salaries for teachers will undoubtedly balance the situation.

The factor was emphasized that it is a desire on the part of the people in the teaching profession to select those students who are interested more in service than they are in the other attractions of the profession.

Enrollment Statistics

Dr. Arthur S. Lyness, registrar, recently submitted the following information regarding CSTC enrollment for the various counties in Wisconsin:

At this time last year 6% of the students at CSTC were from outside Wisconsin. Now this percentage has dropped to 3.6%. The college now has students from 57 of the 71 counties of Wisconsin. As would be expected, Portage county leads the list with the largest number, 31%.

Seventy-eight per cent of this year's student body come from 15 counties of Wisconsin. These counties, listed in order with the one having the largest number of students first, are as follows: Portage, Marathon, Wood, Waupaca, Clark, Shawano, Langlade, Lincoln, Waushara, Vilas, Fond du Lac, Marquette, Price, Taylor, Oneida.

Among CSTC students this year there are 12.7% from Marathon county, 10% from Wood county, 6.2% from Waupaca county, Clark and Shawano counties have tied for fifth with 3% each. Even though the total college enrollment is larger this year than last at CSTC, the number of students from Portage county is a little smaller. All the counties of Wisconsin not listed above are represented by less than 10 students each.

NOTICE

Students planning on taking Science Education 225 during the second semester this year, should report to Fred J. Schmeckel and Raymond M. Rightsell some time this week.

Raymond M. Rightsell Director Division of Secondary Education

NOTICE TO SENIORS

All seniors should have one glass print, two and one half inches wide and three inches long, with a head size of one and one half inches from the top of the head to the chin. Five application pictures are also needed for Training School credentials. These should not be larger than three by four inches.

The pictures must be in the Iris office by Friday, Dec. 5. There will be a box on the desk marked "Senior pictures" where you can drop them. They should be in an envelope with your name on it.

The Iris office is now located on the west end of the first floor in the mathematics office.

COMMENTS

After several months of preparation and two full dress rehearsals, the first appearance of the new juvenile, who tips the scales at 7 lbs. 11 oz., shows great promise of gain in both weight and popularity. In the first act the star appears in the nude, creating quite a sensation. The little darling gets a big hand and the first aria is greeted enthusiastically. From here on the child wonder gives a lusty and boisterous performance. After playing a week at St. Michael's Hospital, the show will move to the CSTC Trailer Camp, where there will be a continuous performance day and night. It is hoped, rather wishfully, that the night shows will be less noisy than the matinees. Reservations should be made in advance.

Congratulations Mr. and Mrs. Steeves, and welcome to the campus, Lynette Lea!

It Was a Fight But Abner Got Ketched

Daisy Mae finally caught her man. It was a fight to the finish, but Little Abner proved himself a most willing and gallant captive at the Sadie Hawkins Dance held in the Training school gym, Friday evening, November 21.

The Training school gym was transformed into a typical "Dog Patch". Bales of straw provided seats for those not actively engaged in the "chase". "Skunk Hollow", contrary to its reputation, attracted many spectators. A huge box was the hollow wherein a proud skunk was perched on a pillow. Also present was "Pappy's Woodshed" where Mammy issued numerous beatings throughout the evening. To be avoided was "Bachelor's Bottleneck" and "Suicide Cliff" where bachelors of previous years succumbed to their "cruel fate". Many couples dared their way to "Teetering Rock" in the balcony in spite of the suspending danger. Notorious characters such as Salome and Maryryn Sam were present in the form of figures hung from the balcony. Daisy Mae and Little Abner were definitely the couple of the evening, however, as they were spotlighted on the curtain. "Kick-a-poo Joy Juice" (coke) and "preserved turnips" (doughnuts) were sold during the course of the evening.

Miss Miriam Moser, faculty adviser, supervised the playing of recorded music, and Jean Walker conducted the contests. Dick Linnell and Leonard Meshak won the prizes in the stamping contest while Ralph Roberts yodeled his way to first place in the yodeling contest. Awards for the best costumes went to Mrs. Mae Butz and Bill Golomski. Dolores Jelinek gave the signals for the "race" in which the women came out in first place with the men as close "runners-up".

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crow and Dr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Lyness were the chaperones. Other guests were President and Mrs. William Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sylvester, Mrs. Elizabeth Piffner and daughter Mary, and Dr. Raymond E. Gotham.

Committee chairmen were: Decorations, Betty Richardson and Althea Boorman; refreshments, Janice Sisley; publicity, Mary Connor; tickets, Phyllis Kasper, and cleanup, Ina Wood.

O V E R A COKE

Here's one for "Can You Top This?" One CSTC coed pulled this stunt during hunting season and as she's still here to tell it we won't mention names. But here is what occurred. This young lady went hunting with a fur coat on that she wouldn't get cold. As if that weren't enough, her arms were too tired so she couldn't even lift a gun to defend herself!

No Game Wardens in sight— Riding home on the bus for Thanksgiving vacation this conversation was heard between a girl and a young boy sitting on her lap. (The bus was crowded.)

Boy: Do you ever go deer hunting? Girl: Yes. Boy: My daddy says that the best time to hunt is at night with a light. He gets a deer every day — they come to the place where he always puts salt. The Truth—no? People, like boats, toot loudest when they are in a fog. It's an Irish Proverb—

Three kinds of men fail to understand women—Young men, old men and middle-aged men. Conquest of the O'Connors— There seems to be an abundance of good luck in the O'Connor family as both Pat and his father got their bucks this season. Now the question is—What's Katie doing?

Who knows the recipe? Love is like hash. You have to have confidence in it to enjoy it. M.E.

Call out the SPCA— Joe: "Fishing?" Moe: "Nope. Just drowning worms."

You can tell Christmas is coming because— People get dreamy when "White Christmas" is played on the radio.

Downtown, people are pricing articles and counting money. Gals are bein' extra nice to their fellas.

Christmas carols are being sung in the Nelson Hall dining room. (You add your own bit.....) You're "it" —

There's George Stevens who runs around with his unused deer tag, and when meeting a girl says, "May I tag you, deer?" What some people won't do for a line!

Thanks— The Pointer staff was very much pleased with the gift pie received from Sigma Tau Delta on Monday night.

They are Thankful— Thanksgiving day was an eventful one for Charles Bart and Don Setzorn. Charles acquired a wife in Buffalo, New York, and Don's wife in Marshfield gave birth to a son on that day.

(It's very possible that some interesting deer tales have been omitted. If you have an extraordinary yarn to spin bring it to the Pointer office and if it passes the judges it will be printed.)

Omega Plans Knitting Bazaar For December 9

The aura of "busy-ness" which has surrounded several "knitting" maidens at Klink's and points east and west is no longer a mystery. In fact the pink booties and blue baby sweaters which were taking shape have been devised for all CSTC shoppers.

For many weeks Omega Mu Chorus has been planning a knitting bazaar which will start at 9 a.m. on Tuesday, December 9, (only 11 shopping days till Christmas) and will continue throughout the day.

Among the hand-knit articles to be sold (with various sizes for men, women and children) will be mittens, caps, sweaters, gloves and scarves, besides many other useful articles of all descriptions and colors.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Radio Workshop A synopsis of the coming annual Christmas concert to be given December 14 and 15 will be presented by Peter J. Michelsen, head of the music department, on the "Our College" program Monday, December 8.

A fanciful trip to Ireland is in store for the listeners on the "Our Book Corner" program Tuesday, December 9. The story "Shawnee and the Gander" by Bennett will be presented, with Elizabeth Allen as narrator.

The Radio Workshop Players, under the direction of Daryl Fonstad, will present their weekly play on Wednesday, December 10.

The College Round Table on Thursday, December 11, and the Music Album on Friday, December 12, will round out next week's schedule.

The Wisconsin Association for Better Radio Listening, dedicated to the purpose which its name implies, issues each month a list of highly recommended programs. It is interesting to note that the Radio Workshop programs, Tuesday through Friday, are on this recommended list.

Wesley Foundation LSA members were guests of the Wesley Foundation on Thursday, November 20. Following a short devotional program and a welcome by Fred Stassel, the group was entertained by a movie depicting the Iowa-Wisconsin Football game. The game was interpreted by Coach George R. Berg, while Arol C. Epple acted as projectionist. Get-acquainted games such as "Who's Your Neighbor?" were played under the direction of Fred Stassel. A lunch of cake and coffee concluded the evening.

Plan your time to include the Penny Fair which Wesley is sponsoring December 4. Remember it's at 7:30 p.m. at the Methodist church. Rob the Piggy Bank, skip a coke, and come.

Sigma Zeta Fourteen students became members of Sigma Zeta, honorary science society, on Wednesday evening, November 19. Those who were initiated as actives are: Merlin Brunner, Lynn Feutz, John Judd and Mary Juettan. Those who became associate members are: Elroy Gotter, Severino Gomez, Don Guzman, John Schuren, Leonard Rohde, Frances Hoffmann, Thomas Madsen, Beatrice Peplinski, Lorraine Meyer and Frank Silva.

Juniors and Seniors with at least 12 semester hours in the academic sciences or mathematics and who have a two point scholastic average are eligible, providing their major is in this field. Sophomores are eligible for associate membership if they presented, with Elizabeth Allen as narrator.

CSTC Tips Rhinelander Twice As Locals Show Strong Team

The CSTC Pointers completely dominated the play in their second game against the Rhinelander Legionnaires Monday night, at P. J. Jacobs High school gym, as they rolled to a 52-40 win, their second straight over the Rhinelander team.

Some very fine ball handling on the part of the Quandtmen along with very good rebound work kept the local team ahead throughout the contest.

The big scoring guns of the first game between the two teams, Tom Curry and Joe Haidvogl, were covered well, but sharp shooting on the part of the rest of the team rolled up the score for the CSTC boys.

The Central Staters jumped into an early lead and led 28-16 at half time. They held this lead throughout the second half, matching the Legionnaires point for point.

The Central State Band, under the direction of Peter J. Michelsen, provided music for the almost packed stands between the halves and during the time-outs.

Open Season With Win

With Tom Curry and Joe Haidvogl putting in 35 points between them the Central Staters opened their 1947-48 cage season, with a 55-46 win over the Rhinelander Shorty Legionnaires last Wednesday night at Rhinelander.

Haidvogl counted 18 points on eight field goals and a brace of charity tosses, while Curry tipped in 17 more on seven baskets and three gift heaves.

Two former CSTC stars, Ray Terzynski and Ray Warren, paced the losers with 12 and 15 points respectively.

Collegiates Win

A field goal in the last 10 seconds of the game by Henry Becker gave the Collegiates a 37-36 win over the Wisconsin Rapids Pre-Way team in the preliminary game Monday night.

The Collegiates rolled into an early first half lead but the Pre-Ways came back strong in the second half and had a lead with but 10 seconds to go. It was then that Becker came through with his clutch basket and gave the game to the Central State team.

Grover-Nauta moved back into first place in the College Bowling League as they swept a three game series from the Chi Delts.

Continental Clothing in the meantime dropped one of their games to the Brunswick team and now find themselves in second place.

The Phi Sigs dropped three games to the Lyric Theatre, but still remained firmly in third place.

The Faculty took two of three games from Hannon-Bach to move into a tie for seventh place.

Grover-Nauta hit high series and singles game of the evening with a 2356 series and 830 singles. The Chi Delts, with a 2346 second high series, also cracked an 830 singles game. The Faculty rolled a 2249 series and 810 singles for the third best honors.

Grover cracked the pins for a 617 series to lead the rest in the individual bowling. Other high series were hit by Priboda—556; Specht—530; Minton—524.

Priboda rolled the high singles game with a 236 game. Other high games were rolled by Grover—223; Formella—212; Specht—211; Langton—201; Minton 200.

Locals Land 3 Gridders On All-Conference Team

Central State Teachers college was represented by three players on the 1947 State Teachers College All-Conference team for the southern division this year.

Two of the Central Staters, Dick Parsons and Jim Koehn, are repeaters from last year while Joe Haidvogl captured an end berth for CSTC. Haidvogl received honorable mention last year.

The All-Conference selections were made by the coaches of the conference at a recent meeting held at Minneapolis.

It was also decided at the meeting that the conference would operate as one and not as two separate divisions as it has in the past. Each team will play the teams in its own half and two from the opposite division. The championship will be decided by percentages.

Thinclads Travel for Two Weekend Games

The CSTC basketball team will get their first taste of inter-collegiate basketball this weekend, when they travel to Stout on Friday, December 5, and to Eau Claire State Teachers college on Saturday, December 6.

The local team looked very impressive in their games with the Rhinelander Legionnaires, but they still have not been up against college competition as yet.

Big Joe Haidvogl, honorary captain of last year's squad, and little Tom Curry, Freshman sensation from Tomah, have provided the big scoring punch for the Quandtmen thus far in the campaign. In the first game at Rhinelander they teamed up for 35 points between them.

Stout and Eau Claire are of unknown quality this year, but both are expected to be plenty tough.

NOTICE

All seniors are reminded to turn in their information blanks which are to be used for the preparation of credentials. School officials are writing in, asking for credentials at the present time. The necessary pictures for credentials should be included.

CURRICULUM

changes are as follows: (A) A major in geography shall consist of a total of 32 credits including the following: a) Geography 100a-100b, 10 credits; b) Regional courses required: Geography 107 and 109, six credits; Geography 110 and 113, five credits; c) Additional required courses: Geography 204, Geography 207, six credits; d) The additional five credits to complete a major may be selected from the courses numbered 20 in the course offering of the catalogue.

It is strongly recommended that all geography majors and minors select Education 231 as an elective in the junior or senior year.

(B) A minor in geography shall consist of the following: a) Geography 100a and 100b, 10 credits; b) Geography 109 and 110 or 107, six credits; c) Additional credits may be selected from any of the other offerings in the field to a minimum of 20. (C) It is recommended that 100a-100b or 101 be taken as a prerequisite to all regional geography courses.

In the home economics course, Color and Design, previously a two credit course has been changed to a three credit course.

In the speech department, Speech 220 and 221, Fundamentals of Stage Craft and Stage Design, each two credit courses, have been deleted from the curriculum. The following courses have been arranged to take the place of these two:—Speech 215, Introductory Dramatic Production, and Speech 216, Advanced Dramatic Production—each carrying three credits. In addition, one may earn a maximum of four credits in Speech 226 for participation in forensics, dramatics and radio during the four year college course.

In the mathematics department, Mathematics 207—Differential Calculus and Mathematics 208—Integral Calculus—have been reduced from senior to junior college with the numbers 131 and 132. A new three credit course, Calculus 219 has been added to the mathematics curriculum. In addition, Differential Equations 220, earning three credits, will be offered. Another course, Mathematics 120, Elementary Surveying, three credits, with the prerequisite Mathematics 116 or 118 has been added to the curriculum especially for majors in the field of conservation. This course does not apply toward a major or minor in mathematics.

A major in the mathematics department will require 31 credit hours instead of 28 as previously required.

ORGANIZATIONS

meet the above requirements but need only eight semester hours of completed work. They may participate in chapter activities but are ineligible to vote or hold office.

After the initiation ceremony, Raymond M. Rightsell gave an interesting talk on "Newton and Universal Gravitation."

 Omega Mu Chi

A cheery fire and candle-glow from 18 tables of "Court Whist" softly accented the Nelson Hall room as Omega Mu Chi sorority entertained Tau Gamma Beta sorority on Tuesday evening, December 2. Prizes were awarded for the "Court Whist" wizards.

A little white snowman flanked by lighted tapers and pine-branches decorated the table from which refreshments were served. The same snowman beckoned guests in the invitations sent out by the sorority.

Committees for the party were: Decoration, Wanda Cusnell, chairman, Virginia Hansen, Marne Guth, Mary Ellen Greiner; invitations, Margaret Hull, chairman, Marilyn Bobbe, Mary Jane Rankin; entertainment, Margaret Roberts, chairman, Virginia Henthorne, Doris Yeager, Esther Davidson; refreshments, Pat Jones, chairman, Janet Dupre, Jean Fumelle and Gerry Roberts.

Miss Bertha Glennon, Mrs. Mary Samter and Miss Harriet Wright are Omega advisers.

Visual Aid Room Made Available

A new visual education room has been recently made available to pupils of the Training school. In the past, only the auditorium had been equipped for this service.

The new equipment includes dark shades, sound-proofing, etc. This room, which is on the first floor, will be for the use of single classes from kindergarten through the sixth grade.

SOCIAL DEBUT

My Gal," "Whiffenpoof Song," "She's Too Fat Polka," "Souise Family," "Shanty Town." 4) Jitterbugs—Mickey Rybickie and Don Vetter with their striking modern swing with oomph; 5) "Caledonia the Kid"—Joe Moravec playing and singing "Caledonia" and also playing "Swing" and "Boogie Woogie." Members of the orchestra for the evening will be: Joe Moravec—leader, William Ludwig, Rudolph Kohta, Jim Cory, Robert Brehm, Robert Herman, Donald Douglas and John Wierzenski.

Fireman's Band

Master of Ceremonies for the venison steak dinner will be George Sappenfield and Master of Ceremonies for the Sportsmen's Ball and Floor Show will be Tony Isherwood, whose co-partner will be Wally Ludwig.

It is hoped by the members of Alpha Kappa Lambda that the Sportsmen's Ball and dinner will be the beginning of an annual event on the social calendar for the club.

school," says Kay, pointing an accusing finger at Jack.

"Wasn't it the other way around?" asks Jack.

"No, don't you remember—I you hit me on the head with it."

"Well, anyway, we sat across from each other in home room."

The Breslins have been married four months and live in the Joyhouse on Clark street.

The Eschenbachs, who also live in the Joyhouse, find married life "just fine, but not much different from going to school when we were single."

Ralph is majoring in geography and plans on teaching in Alaska. They met at the veteran's homecoming celebration last summer and have been married exactly three months and two weeks.

The last of the married couples, Mr. and Mrs. John Paulson, have been married for three months.

"John does almost all of the cooking," Mrs. Paulson, the former Elizabeth Johnson, reveals, but quickly adds, "I suppose I shouldn't admit that. After all I am a home ec major. John plans on transferring to the University next year so he can go into engineering."
