

Debate Team Back From Minnesota

CSTC debaters returned last Wednesday afternoon from St. Paul, Minnesota, where they competed on Monday and Tuesday, March 10 and 11, in the annual Northwest tournament at St. Thomas and Macalester colleges.

All three CSTC teams were among the 80 eliminated. A total of 96 teams took part in the tournament with eight women's and eight men's teams placing. Among the larger schools which competed were the University of Minnesota, Marquette University, Indiana University, University of Michigan and Temple University of Philadelphia. This tournament marked the end of this year's debate season.

Cooking Class Holds Dinner, Plans Another

One of the most active classes at CSTC—the Sophomore cooking class under the guidance of Miss Helen Meston—is planning and has planned two very interesting formal dinners. The first of these dinners was given on Tuesday evening, March 18, at 6 o'clock.

The class is divided into two sections—those who serve the dinner and those who attend and eat it. This first dinner was served "Russian" style which is the most formal type of serving.

General chairman for the dinner was Lorraine Meyer and the committee was composed of Dolores Norby, Mary Noble, John Mallen, Robert Judge, Pat Jones and Rosemary Ramsay. Their "guests" for the evening were Marjorie Schrank, Pat Lavers, Elaine Becker, Fern Horn, Elaine Nelson and Lois Carpenter with Gunda Morris as their hostess.

This was the menu prepared and served by Miss Meyer and her committee: Vealbirds, baked stuffed potatoes, glazed carrots, tomato and spinach salad with French dressing, parkerhouse rolls, grape conserve, peach meringues, mints, coffee and nuts.

The dinner was certainly enjoyed by all and on April 1 the second half of the class will have a chance to display its cooking ability to the others.

Girls Glee Club Plans An Assembly Concert

The Girls' Glee club consisting of approximately 50 voices will present an assembly concert for the student body on Tuesday, March 25, at 10 o'clock.

The variety program will consist of the following selections: "The Lord's Prayer", by Albert Malatti; "Beauty is Born with the Coming of Dawn", by Earl Blakeslee; "Sundown", Richard Hagerman; "Rossignolet", Johannes Don Jon, flute solo by Marjorie Kohler; "Jealousy", Gates, soprano solo by Esther Davidson; "Music of Life", Noble Cain; "Clair de Lune", Claude Debussy; "The Nightingale", Peter Tschaikowsky; "Deep Purple", DeRose, piano solo by Rosemary Nelson; "Penance", reading by Doris Ockerlander; "Hallelujah", Vincent Youmans; "Peter", Homer Whitford; "Night and Day", Cole Porter.

On March 19, the Girls' Glee club travelled to Adams-Friendship where they presented a concert. This evening the Glee club plans to travel to Port Edwards. The girls will hold their annual Glee club banquet at the Presbyterian church sometime in April.

Round Table to Talk On Theme of Labor

This week on Thursday, the "College Roundtable" presented by the Radio Workshop will discuss the legislation proposed by Senator Labor. This debate is a phase of the "Labor and Management" theme.

Continuing its journey around the world, the "Music Album" will present selections from Persia and Turkey, on Friday, March 21.

The interview with Miss Leona Bovee and Mrs. Laura Gehrke of Nelson Hall, which was scheduled for last week, was postponed and the two will appear over "Our College Program" on Monday, March 24.

A children's broadcast will be the theme for the "Books and Authors" program on Tuesday. Jean Walker will give reviews for "Yes and No Stories" a book by George and Helen Papashvly.

"The Dream of Michael", by Rowe Coullih Krulertich will be the script presented on Wednesday by the "Radio Workshop Players."

Although that concludes the weekly broadcasting preview, there are plans a brewin' in the Workshop for the Better Radio Listening Conference on April 26.

Prospective Planning Under Way As Seniors Have Job Interviews

That wonderful season of prospective planning seems to have arrived at the Training school. Educators from the surrounding communities have visited the school and discussed positions with teachers-to-be. Among the visitors at the school in the last week were W. F. Waterpool, superintendent of schools at Marinette, who came to interview primary teachers; M. M. Lanphere of Stratford; Principal Monroe F. Manley of Shiocton, who interviewed candidates for high school teaching positions. Mr. Manley is considering Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Speidel, Calvin Rasmussen and Jessie Rustad for teaching positions in the Shiocton schools. Robert Becker, principal of the Westboro public schools, interviewed candidates as did Ward Kujath, superintendent of schools at Waupun.

Many Have Accepted Jobs

A number of CSTC'ers who are now practice teaching have already accepted positions for the next year. Joyce Kopitzke will teach first grade at Escanaba, Michigan. James Sullivan will teach science and coach athletics at Glidden, Wisconsin. For the remainder of this year, Clarence Mayer will teach chemistry, physics and general science at Stratford High school.

Several Are Considering

Rosemary Nelson is considering a position in the music department of the Medford grade and high school. Also considering a position teaching music and English in the Superior public schools is Catherine Firkus. Grant Thayer and Carl Torkelson are being considered for positions in the mathematics department of the Racine High school. Mr. Torkelson is also being considered for a mathematics position in the Milwaukee School of Engineering. Jack Perry is being considered for a position in the Westboro schools.

Some at P. J. Jacobs High

Among the new students doing their practice work at the P. J. Jacobs High school are Alan Fonstad, who is teaching English and Donald Leton, who is teaching geography.

As a means of keeping tab on CSTC's grads throughout the state, an interesting map of Wisconsin is being maintained in Dr. Raymond C. Gotham's office. A colored dot for each student who is now teaching is placed at the city of his employment. A blue dot represents a primary teacher, intermediate and upper elementary are green, rural teachers are designated by yellow dots, secondary are red and alumni will be purple.

Camp Positions Available

Requests have come to the Training school office for Home Economics candidates who are available for positions this summer at Girl Scout Camps. Any students interested should contact Dr. Gotham. There are also openings for men in the field of YMCA work. Dr. Gotham states that he has received an announcement of a teaching position in New Jersey and anyone who would desire the position should contact the Training school office.

Dr. Gotham will judge an oratorical contest today at the P. J. Jacobs High school at 1:30 p.m. Contestants from surrounding high schools are entered in the contest.

NOTICE

MATH TEACHER WANTED: Either a math major or minor is wanted to teach algebra, geometry and trigonometry in a nearby school for the remainder of the year. The salary is very good. Contact Dr. Gotham at the Training school office.

Student Housing Problem Will be Worse in Fall

Schmeckle to Attend Science Meeting

Fred J. Schmeckle, instructor in chemistry and head of the conservation department at CSTC, will travel to Chicago, Illinois, this coming Saturday, March 22, to attend a meeting of the Elementary and Secondary Science Branch of the National Education Association. The meeting is for the purpose of discussing curricula and the place science courses have in elementary and secondary education.

Mr. Schmeckle will also attend a meeting of the National Conservation Committee which will convene at the Continental Hotel in Chicago on Thursday and Friday, March 27 and 28. This committee will work on plans for a program of conservation education in the United States.

Dr. Lawrence Palmer of Cornell University and Dr. Eickberry of the University of Ohio will be speakers at the meeting.

Pointers 20 Years Ago Ran True to Form

Some of the old, old Pointers have a number of very interesting and amusing stories in them. So here are a few to show what students did and thought of back in those days.

Taken from the Pointer, April, 1917:

For Value Received

"The Girls' basketball tournament this year was up to the standard from reports. The editor, along with his bachelor friends, being excluded from the game, is unable to give the tournament a write-up worthy of excellent work done by the girls.

"We would advise the 'open door' for boys of the school to the tournament. The mistakes of the past on the part of the boys, if made by them, should be forgiven. Give the boys a chance and you will not be sorry for the 'open door' policy for all athletic games, for which each student has given his two dollars."

Just Life

Taken from the front page of the Pointer in January 1917:

"A student enters school without anyone's consent, and he generally leaves it with the consent of all. He starts as a greenhorn; he ends with another kind of horn. If he studies, he is the teacher's pet; if he does not he is a dummy. If he spends his money, he is a fool; if he does not, he is a tightwad. If he goes out for athletics, he is green; if he does not, he is yellow. If he goes to church, he is a hypocrite; if he doesn't, he is a sinner. If he gets through exams, he is a grafter; if he doesn't, he is a flunker. If he speaks to all, he is trying to become popular; if he doesn't, he is a snob. If he quits school at a premature date, he is a slacker; if he finishes school, he is a 'fish.' If he is popular, then he has a swell head; if he isn't, he is a nobody. Finally, if he becomes friendly with a girl, he is moony; if he doesn't, he is loony."

"So what is the use of living at all? Way back in 1917, it is evident that the students became discouraged with life as they do today."

NOTICE

The Leadership and Training program for Scouts is held in the Training school gym every Tuesday evening. The first meeting was held on March 18.

Any young men interested in this program should get in touch with the Leadership and Training Committee consisting of Dr. Raymond C. Gotham, Quincy Doudna, Arol C. Epple and Robert S. Lewis.

(Correction: In last week's Pointer, Dr. Reppen was incorrectly stated as a member of this committee.)

Dormites Must Sign Up By Tomorrow, Mar. 21

The ever-pressing problem of housing for students is proving to be an even greater headache here at Central State Teachers college with the expected increase in enrollment due to come next fall. Deans Elizabeth Pfiffner and Herbert R. Steiner urge all students who definitely plan on attending college next fall to register for rooms immediately.

Nelson Hall residents have until tomorrow, March 21, to sign up for their rooms for next year. After this date all rooms unreserved will be opened to any other women now attending Central State Teachers college until April 1. If there are any vacancies after April 1, they will then be available to any new students desiring a room in the dormitory, and as Miss Leona Bovee, Nelson Hall director says, "First come, first served."

Deposit Required on Rooms

To assure protection for the householder, all college women registering for rooms in private homes are requested to make a deposit of five dollars just as women who register for rooms at Nelson Hall are required to do.

Rooms for light housekeeping will be exceedingly difficult to find, due to the demand made for them by married students. At the present time there are seldom, if any, rooms vacant, for they are passed from one

Facts Received From Vets Contact Man

A total of 1,596,969 veterans were attending school on Jan. 31 under the educational provisions of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (G. I. Bill), according to information received from Wallace R. McDonald, Veterans' Contact representative at CSTC. At the same time, 112,540 disabled veterans were attending school under Public Law 16 (Vocational Rehabilitation Act).

The number of veterans studying in educational institutions under the G. I. Bill increased nearly 79 times during the past 18 months, while those studying under Public Law 16 increased more than 11 times during the same space of time.

Veterans Administration is sending thousands of letters to World War II veterans holding National Service Life Insurance policies, asking their help in straightening out their insurance accounts.

The letters are being sent to veterans whose policies apparently have lapsed. They state in part, "—without regard to what the records of the Veterans Administration presently indicate, YOUR POLICY IS NOT LAPSED IF YOU HAVE REMITTED YOUR PREMIUMS REGULARLY."

Student veterans and other former GI's who brought souvenir firearms into this country must register them with the commissioner of Internal Revenue, according to the U. S. Treasury Department.

Veterans Administration is cooperating with the Treasury Department in bringing this message to the more than 14,000,000 veterans of World War II.

While not objecting to veterans' owning trophies, the government is attempting to prevent such weapons from falling into the hands of criminals. Weapons will be rendered harmless by a process which will not impair their value as trophies.

"January Thaw" Playing Tonight

Eau Claire Group to Give Exchange Play

Tonight, March 20, the Eau Claire State Teachers college will present the play "January Thaw", by William Roos in the college auditorium here. This is an exchange performance and a good evening's entertainment is expected, so a large crowd should turn out. Faculty members and students will be admitted on their activity tickets.

Our own College Theatre group is beginning work on "Hay Fever" by Noel Coward. Tryouts were held on Tuesday evening, March 18, and will also be held this afternoon at four o'clock in Room 207. Anyone interested in trying out for a part should attend this meeting.

Technical help on properties, makeup, and staging is also needed. Volunteers for this type of work should contact Robert S. Lewis.

This play is to be presented on Wednesday, April 30, and Thursday, May 1. Later the cast will travel to Eau Claire to complete the exchange. This is interesting work and a good turnout of volunteers will be expected.

Glee Club Will Sing At Local High School

On Friday, March 21, at one p.m., the Glee club will present a concert at the P. J. Jacobs High school in Stevens Point. The following Sunday the Glee club will travel to Merrill, where they will present an evening concert at St. Stephen's Evangelical Lutheran church.

On Tuesday evening, March 18, the Men's Glee club travelled to Wisconsin Rapids where they sang a concert at the First Congregational church in that city.

NOTICE

Some evening in April the Social Calendar Committee is planning a meeting of representatives of all organizations which desire a date scheduled for the 1947-48 school calendar. Will all organizations concerned please make plans for the activities that they would like to have scheduled so that when your representatives come to the meeting they will be qualified to speak for your group.

The committee hopes to put a printed copy of the calendar in the hands of every student by next September, so if your organization wants to be listed, make your plans immediately.

The race for second place was thrown wide open as the Phi Sigs took two out of three from the Chi Deltas and the Moxon House quint lost two out of three to the Faculty. Schoettel and Grover hit 513 apiece to lead the Phi Sigs in their win over their inter-fraternity rivals.

To Name CSTC's Letter Winners

Central State's 1946-47 basketball letter winners will be announced in the near future. Coach George R. Berg has submitted a list of eligible letter men to the Athletic Committee for its approval. The list will be published following the Committee's action.

Gizmos Stretch Lead In Bowling League

Team	W	L
Gizmos	14	4
Spartans	9	6
Schlitz	7	8
Papermakers	6	9
Boozers	6	9

With basketball shelved away officially for another season, Central State's two bowling leagues have edged themselves into the sports limelight. In the Veterans' Bowling league the Gizmos are riding high in first place. The Gizmo aggregation took two games out of three last week to extend their lead by five games. The Spartans remained idle but managed to retain their second place berth.

The Schlitz keggers dropped two out of three but managed to keep their third place position by a shaky one game lead. The Boozers meanwhile took the Papermakers for two games and a fourth place tie in the league.

Duchac, bowling his first night in the Veterans' league, took scoring honors with an individual high game and a high series. His high game was 206 and his total for the three games was 501 with a 167 average.

ATHLETIC DIRECTORS ASK FOR SINGLE TEACHERS CONFERENCE

Tentative Schedule Made for Track Team

A tentative track schedule was outlined at an official conference meeting attended by Coach Berg last week.

May 31 is the date set for the state meet which will be held in Milwaukee. All 10 schools of the conference are scheduled to be represented at this meet.

Two other meets for which dates have not been set, as yet, are a triangle meet at Eau Claire with Stout, Stevens Point and Eau Claire participating and another meet at Oshkosh with Whitewater, Stevens Point and Oshkosh taking part.

There are no dates set as yet for the tennis and golf tournaments but, several lively meets are being planned. The golf matches will be played with teams consisting of five men with the four top scores being used. The winning team will be presented a trophy at the final tournament and the top individual will receive a medal.

The Fifth Quarter

Without a doubt Point basketball fans found their greatest thrill of the season in the Panthers winning over Neenah last Thursday night.

What a game!!
Brekke saw about six minutes of action in that game but this reporter says he wouldn't have swapped them for the whole first half.

There was a mad house over at Klink's during those last five minutes except during that crucial moment, when, had the proverbial pin been dropped, it would have sounded like an explosion.

One of the radios in the back room broke down just as the game was going into the overtime. The ensuing stampede for the nearest radio could only be compared to chow call at Ft. Dix.

The Purdue bleacher disaster of several weeks ago has awakened the WIAA to the fact that seating capacity at many of the high school basketball tournaments has been far inadequate. The sectional tournament especially has been hard put to find seating facilities and for this reason the secretary of the WIAA, Paul Neverman, suggested that it be held at the University of Wisconsin field house where the state meet is held. However, our friend Harry Stuhl-dreher couldn't see it, his reason being that the Madison sectional winner would play two games at the field house which would be too much of an advantage over their opponent.

The Purple and Gold basketball league wound up their season last night with the championship playoffs being held over at the Training school gym. Ernie Link's Price County team met Bob Cook's Rural Life for this last event of the season.

The College bowling league really turned the heat on last week. Chuck Larsen slammed home a 220 single game and was followed by Robbins-208, Minton-202 and Formella-201. High series were Formella's 556, and Sturm's 536.

Berg Picked as Head Of League Publicity

At a Conference meeting of the State Teachers College coaches held in Madison on Friday, March 14, Coach George R. Berg was named Conference Publicity Director. It will be Coach Berg's task to compile all of the conference scores and standings, and to give the Conference ample publicity throughout the state.

The conference athletic directors went on record as favoring the combination of the Northern and Southern divisions of the present Conference into a single league for football and basketball starting in 1948. Final approval, however, lies with the faculty athletic committees who will probably take up the matter at the fall meeting of the conference in November.

The coaches also recommended that the conference recognize a champion in football and basketball.

HOUSING

family to another before a vacancy notice can even be listed.

With the ratio of men and women students enrolled at CSTC almost three to one, the housing problem for college men is even of a much greater concern. As a result, the number of available rooms for men students is considerably smaller in proportion to those open to women students.

Dean Steiner reports that with the exception of the Training school for housing V-5 students, all men at the present time are being housed in private homes, and even V-5 students are gradually going into private homes. Before the war, many college men indulged in light house-keeping, but most men students now are either boarders and roomers or are married and live in apartments or trailer houses.

Although Dean Steiner sounds an optimistic note in assuring college men housing quarters for the present time and also for the coming fall, he states that all rooms near the college are taken and quite a few names for room reservations are on the waiting list.

There are many rooms available to men students but they are located at such a distance from the college that the time element in traveling to and from classes makes them impractical for boarding students. The following excerpt from a letter to Dean Steiner depicts the impracticality of locating students away from college and also shows the manner in which some people attempt to exploit college students: "I live 15 miles out of town but the school bus goes by my place every day. I could take five men and give them room and board at $15 a week per person. Four men would double up and one would sleep single."

This letter is not a representation of the majority but only a slight minority, since most householders are doing their best to help house and board college men. It is Dean Steiner's job to list these householders and keep the list available for students coming in or moving to other locations. It is his job also to decide on whether or not housing facilities meet the proper qualifications for housing men students. Although added to his already busy schedule of classes, Dean Steiner finds placing men students in suitable rooming places both "interesting and enjoyable."

do not actually state that a Corsage is required by regulations, the impression is given to the effect that it is a widespread tradition. All personnel are advised to provide a Corsage for their Date when attending a Dance, Formal, M1947.

5. Money. (Also Moolah, Dough, Cash, etc.)

The average pay of the troops in this theater of operations is $65.00 when transferred into the native currency. Attendance at a Dance, Formal, M1947, will cost an individual from one to ten days' pay. For this expenditure, troops will receive virtually nothing in return in the line of entertainment, as will be explained in the following section.

C. Prescribed Conduct for the Dance, Formal, M1947:

1. Personnel under this command will at all times conduct themselves as gentlemen when in attendance at a Dance, Formal, M1947. This is in keeping with the current policy of maintaining friendly relations with the native populace in this theater of operations.

2. Although refreshments are customarily dispensed in paper containers, some functions may have soft drinks served in glass containers known as Bottles. Under no circumstances will personnel under this command throw said Bottles at the Band or Orchestra to show their displeasure at their musical efforts. Throwing of paper containers is allowed under current regulations.

3. Firearms will not be required for attendance at the Dance, Formal, M1947. Trench knives and brass knuckles may be carried, but caution is urged governing the use of said weapons. Under most circumstances, the natives will maintain an air of dignity and decorum. Troops under this command are expected to do likewise.

Chi Delta Rho

Bill Golomski acted as master of ceremonies at the traditional formal initiation of the Chi Delta Rho fraternity held last Saturday evening at the Belmont Hotel. A steak dinner was served, followed by speeches by guest speaker Dean Herbert Steiner, Dr. Harold M. Tolo and Gilbert W. Faust, faculty advisers.

President Percy Voight and pledgemaster Guy Roberts complimented the actives and pledges on the orderliness of the recent pledging season. The dinner was terminated by both actives and pledges singing the fraternity song which was led by Carl Strasbourg.

Are CSTC's Co-eds Gold-Diggers?

Whether CSTC's co-eds are gold diggers is a question which must be handled with great tact wherever the discussion of it arises. For one who proceeds with the proper amount of prudence, the wise answer would be "Yes and no, some are and some aren't," or some equally indefinite reply. However, this writer, under the protective cloak of anonymity, will throw caution to the winds and proceed to air a personal viewpoint on the subject.

One must realize that, when speaking of gold-digging trouble in connection with the average male student at CSTC, one can hardly speak in terms of fur coats and jewelry. Since a large percentage of said students are attending school on $65.00 a month or thereabouts, it would seem more suitable to talk of cokes and corsages.

How often a girl will hint gently while gazing upon something she desires. These objects range from candy bars to perfume and trinkets. "Oh, look at the DARLING earrings! Would I like to have a pair like that!" The oh-ing and ah-ing is carried to the Nth degree, until the probably not so unsuspecting male decides that he will earn her eternal gratitude by making this small purchase. This outlook is in grave error, in the respect that these events have a habit of occurring and occurring. And occurring.

A well-known authority on horses and women states that this tendency in the female of the species is an inherited instinct—similar to the tendency of monarchs to demand tribute in testimony of allegiance. If this were the case, would it not be cheaper in the long run to forestall at-breaks of this nature by voluntary but inexpensive gifts at short intervals? A package of gum, a flower (in season) for her hair, or a small remembrance on some trivial anniversary that she wouldn't expect you to remember should help the cause. This would probably be much cheaper in the long run, and it would make you compare favorably with the other fellows who never do the "little things" which make one so near and dear to the "weaker" sex's heart.

In defense of the ladies, now, there is also a good deal to be said. Girls who walk many long, cold blocks because their date hasn't a car, girls who are willing to spend quiet, economical evenings at home, or even girls who are content with a show and a coke, or even a coke, in fact, any girls who show consideration and thought for your financial condition cannot be called gold-diggers. So, men, if your gal fits into one of the categories above, and many at CSTC do, then your wallet is safe, cuz she's not a gold-digger.
