

Platteville Game Highlights Homecoming

Battle For Second Place

The gala Homecoming festivities will be highlighted Saturday afternoon at Goerke Stadium when the STC Pointers meet Platteville State Teachers in a battle for second place in the conference. The kick-off is scheduled for 2 p.m.

Toss-Up Affair

The Pointers dropped their first game of the season last week to Milwaukee, after taking their other conference game from Oshkosh. Platteville also has a record of one win and a loss, but also has a tie on their record.

The game shapes up as a toss-up affair. Both have identical offensive records in conference play, rolling up 20 points. Stevens Point has made the better defensive record having only 27 points scored against them while 30 has been tallied against Platteville's defense. The breaks or even one break might spell the difference between victory and defeat for the Pointers.

Coach George Berg and Assistant Coach Hale Quandt have been drilling their proteges hard for this contest. A lot of emphasis has been put on line plunges this week. Blocking is also being stressed for this game. This contest is the most important one of the year for the CSTC team and they are going to be playing their hearts out in an effort to win the Homecoming for CSTC.

They're Out to Ruin the Day

Platteville will be out to ruin the Homecoming for the Stevens Point team. They still have hopes of taking first place in the conference and they will be hard to stop. They have veteran aggregation and are well schooled on gridiron fundamentals. At any rate, this game will undoubtedly be the best game of the year for CSTC fans and an unusually large crowd is expected to view this spectacle.

The Platteville Teachers, CSTC's opponents Saturday, were held to a 7 tie in a game with Whitewater State Teachers college, on October 8, at Platteville.

Men's Glee Club Initiate Concert Season Sunday

The Men's Glee club, under the direction of Norman E. Knutzen, will give its first concert of the year at the college auditorium on Sunday, October 26, at 2:30 p.m. All students, faculty, alumni and townspeople are invited to this concert which is a part of the culminating activities of Homecoming.

The program for the afternoon will open with the following selections: "The Purple and the Gold," Ray Percival; "The Serenaders," Alan Folly Song; "Sleepy Lagoon," Bates-Stickles; "I Got Plenty o' Nuttin'" from "Porgy and Bess," Ershwin.

A bass solo, "The Big Bass Viol," Shannon, will be sung by Thomas Ross, followed by selected readings Doris Ockerlander. Frank Kosick, baritone, will sing "Peggy" (See GLEE CLUB, page 5)

Band Expects 60 Pieces For Year's Homecoming

Peter J. Michelsen, director of the CSTC band, expects to have a 60 piece band including 15 members of the alumni, for the Homecoming celebration this year.

The band will play both in the parade and at the game. It is disappointing to note, however, that they will not have uniforms. There is a hope, though, that by next spring the band will be in full regalia.

An alumnus, Jack Perry, who is now teaching at Melrose, recently helped to swell the uniform fund with a contribution of $5.

Help at Games

Wednesday, October 22, the first band assembly concert was well received by the student body. Earlier in the year the band played for the convocation and pep assemblies. At the football games so far this year it has helped the morale of both the players and the students with its appropriate selections. As a side line it also handled the concessions at the games.

The band has a full program planned for the rest of the school year. Soon the athletic enthusiasts will expect the band to help the Pointers through the coming basketball games as it has so willingly done in the past.

In February besides giving another assembly concert, the band will plan for its annual band clinic. This is an event at which the music for the state band contests will be played. At that time the group expects to have 100 band masters and students participating. Students from different high schools play at this meet too.

Concert Trips Anticipated

The musicians expect to go on concert trips in November. These are efficiently planned so that most of them will be evening concerts, enabling the band members to attend classes regularly.

The third week-end in April is a momentous one for the band alumni. The band homecoming dinner and dance is scheduled for April 17. The band Homecoming concert will be given April 18 in the college auditorium.

After the Homecoming concert in April, another assembly concert will be given. From then on the band will be preparing for graduation in June.

Welcome Back, Alums!

There is a kind of activity on the CSTC campus these days which is not in evidence at any other time of the year. Dozens of committees are meeting; excited groups are designing floats or devising stunts; reunions of various groups are being planned; cheerleaders are practicing.

"Yes, Alumni, you have guessed it. You were doing the things one or more years ago. Preparations for the 1947 Homecoming are well under way. The anticipation of your visit to your Alma Mater makes everyone happy and all tasks light. Students and faculty as well as friends in Stevens Point are waiting to welcome you home.

Remember the words we have sung together:

"To the banks of old Wisconsin
When the years are past and gone,
When as schoolmates we have parted,

And our lessons all are done,
We'll return and show our comrades
We're as loyal as of old,
And cheer them on to victory
"Neath the Purple and the Gold."

Chairman, Alumni Committee

Mr. Hansen Present at Chicago Education Confab

President William C. Hansen attended a meeting on teacher education held at the Palmer House, Chicago, on October 20 and 21. This meeting was under the auspices of the University of Chicago and was sponsored by Dr. William S. Gray.

Teachers colleges in seven midwestern states are included as members in this conference. Member colleges from Wisconsin are: River Falls State Teachers college, Milwaukee State Teachers college and Central State Teachers college.

Regional Supervisory Conferences Planned

A number of regional supervisory conferences have been planned by the State Department of Public Instruction to be held in various Wisconsin cities during the period from October 13 to 30. One of these conferences will be held at CSTC on Thursday, October 30.

The State Department says that these conferences are intended to serve as an opportunity for a thorough discussion of problems and questions which concern the schools within the particular region.

Letters of invitation to the October 30 conference have been sent to all school principals, superintendents and supervisors in this area.

Dr. Raymond E. Gotham will have charge of the local conference and several representatives from the State Department of Public Instruction will also attend.

Things Will Hum For Three Days

Homecoming this Friday, Saturday and Sunday will be a gala occasion according to the Student Council planners in charge of festivities.

Friday's the day when CSTCers will don their tatters and parade the halls as Hoboes in the time-honored Pointer custom. At 3 p.m. the "Hoboes" will convene at a Pep assembly at which the Homecoming queen will be crowned by the football captain. Voting for the queen took place Wednesday and candidates were presented at the band assembly on that day. Candidates at the time of the Pointer's going to press were Janet Dupre, Pat Jones, and Lucille Tosch. Also of major importance is the selection of a Hobo "king" at the assembly.

Snake Dance

The evening's activities include a snake dance down Main Street. The "snake" will end up at the North end of Schmeckle field for the bonfire, after which there will be an informal "come as you are" dance in the Training school gym until 12:30 o'clock.

The much-planned-for Homecoming parade will start at 10 on Saturday morning, with the line-up forming along College and Illinois avenues. The parade will come south to Clark Street and down to South Second street. From South Second street the line of march will go to the Square and then down Main street back to the college.

Prizes for Floats

The sum of $5 in prize money will be awarded to the most outstanding serious and humorous floats in each division. A prize of $2.50 will go to the second place winners. The winner in the serious division will receive the trophy traditionally given to the most outstanding float of the Homecoming parade. At 2 p.m. the game with Platteville, around which all activities center, will be played at Goerke Field.

According to the Dormites, Nelson (See CELEBRATIONS, page 5)

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

The signs of the times have appeared, and it would seem according to conversations snatched here and there that interest and excitement have mounted to just about the exploding point. And tomorrow it will all begin. What a time this Homecoming should be! Last year was the first Homecoming in quite a while that was reminiscent of "the good old days" and it went over big. This one should be terrific.

It wasn't always that Stevens Point was witness to these gala occasions. They, too, had a beginning. The first Pointer account of a Homecoming at this writer could find was dated October 15, 1925, when CSTC was SPN — Stevens Point Normal.

Calendar About the Same

The calendar then was similar to the present day one. Of course, they had a little more of this, and we have a little more of that; admitted. They had two dances and two parades in those days, or that year at least. They had a matinee dance on Friday, and their Pep Assembly Friday night, followed by a snake dance. Saturday morning was a grand parade — the one with the floats, and Saturday afternoon another parade from the Square to the game. Then there was the game; after that, various alum get-togethers, and to wind up the weekend a dance at Moose Hall.

Prizes were awarded to individuals and to departments for floats and stunts. In these first years of Homecomings, a variety of prizes was offered by various businessmen in town, i.e.; a Kodak, a billfold, a pearl necklace, an angelfood cake and a pair of socks. This last was won by Mr. Evans. The prizes were awarded at the dance Saturday night.

The 1926 account of Homecoming gave an illuminating and interesting history of the Homecoming tradition. It seems that many long years ago (prior to '26, that is) there were 47 very active organizations on this campus; two men's organizations and two women's organizations. The former were known as Ohi-Yesa and Arena; the latter as the Forum and Athenaeum.

Pre-Female Rule

They were bitter rivals, at least a men vs. men and women vs. women rivalry existed. To quote that '26 Pointer, "Of course the men's clubs and women's clubs didn't war upon one another, sex rivalry not having been invented in those days."

These little tisseys which were supposedly kept undercover all year long came to a climax every spring in public combat. The women were not really very demonstrative, but the men were. They gathered their grievances, concentrated their efforts and met in grand debate. The

We hope you won't be missing. (Note: This literary masterpiece was produced through the combined efforts of the Editorial and Business staffs. You will note that the above can be sung to the tune of "Yankee Doodle Dandy" if one remembers to hold the word "din" at the end of line six.)

Madison Visit Planned By Conservation Group

The Forest Products laboratory at Madison will be the goal of the conservation department as they take their first field trip of the year on Thursday, October 30.

A tour of the laboratory will enable the members of this department to see how different experimental tests are conducted in wood technology and, also, how various new wood products are tested as to their desirable traits.

Several laboratory periods have been held in the school forest near Stevens Point as an instructional aid to the work done in the class room. Through a plan known as the inventory plot plan, under the direction of Fred J. Schmeckle, the conservation department is able to observe and record the growth of individual trees.

A group of eight or 10 class members is assigned to an inventory plot which is less than an acre of the school forest. The group then measures the diameter, height and merchantable volume of each tree in this area. These data are secured and recorded every five years and from them the department can observe the growth and development of each tree as well as that of the entire forest.

A number of field trips plus a series of work days in the school forest will be the basis of this year's laboratory work.

Greek Organizations Plan Reunion Dinners

The two social sororities and the two fraternities on the campus have been especially active in planning for their Homecoming dinners to be held on October 25. Alumni of each of the four groups have been invited to the reunions and large turnouts are expected. A float for the Homecoming parade has been planned by each group.

Tau Gamma Beta sorority will be holding its Homecoming dinner at Nelson Hall at 6:30 o'clock. General chairman for this dinner is Betty Ruth Crawford.

The Omegas have combined their pledge and homecoming dinners. To be held at the Baptist church at 6:30, the Omega Mu Chi dinner has as its chairman, Helen Trewartha.

Chi Delta Rho is planning on an informal get-together with alumni at the South Side Bowling alleys immediately after the game. From here the group will go to the Modernistic for dinner where the Chi Deltas will entertain the Alumni and the wives and girl friends of the group.

Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity is also planning a reunion immediately after the game. This get-together will be held at the Belmont hotel.

AH ALUMS!

HOMECOMING YOU'LL COME!

The Team's here! The Game's here!! YOU WIN'S HERE!!!

All's complete! Hi! Sue Colman.

Junior High News

Shirley Morrissey, 8th grade, received second prize ($3.00) in the Fire Prevention contest sponsored by the Stevens Point Chamber of Commerce during fire prevention week. The contest theme was "Fire Prevention in The Home." Miss Bertha Glennon, Mrs. Paul Parkinson and Norman E. Knutzen were judges in the contest.

Dramatic club officers were chosen from the 8th and 9th grades. Officers are Barry Anderson, president; Marianne Mabe, secretary-treasurer; Rex Davis, stage manager; John Miller, advertising manager; Joan Swanson, and Robert Reed, costume directors.

Elections for the Pep club resulted with Peg Johnson, captain; Meredith Masterson and Arlene Golomski, 8th grade assistants; Lois Nelson and Don Komasa, 7th grade assistants.

Officers elected for the Student Council are Allen Summers, president; Warren Sherman, vice-president; Meredith Masterson, secretary; Robert Reed, treasurer; Spencer Coleman and Mary LaPlante, 9th grade representatives; Annette Bras and Bob Razner, 8th grade representatives; Janet Freed and Richard Gage, 7th grade representatives; Shirley Morrissey, business manager of Junior Pointer; Richard Gage, editor of Junior Pointer, Bruce Summers, assistant editor.

Class club officers for the Junior High are: Seventh grade, president, Joe Daniels; vice-president, Jacqueline Viertel; secretary, Gene Bearrow; treasurer, Gail Podeweltz. Eighth grade, Carol Crosby, president; Carl Olsen, vice-president; David Ludwig, secretary; Don Hilmer, treasurer.

Ninth grade, president, John Miller; vice-president, Norman Davies; secretary-treasurer, Edward Galla.

OVER A COKE

Prof's definition of a lecture— Words that are transferred from the note book of the instructor to the notebook of a student without going through the minds of either.

(CSTC's own product!) Casual remark heard in hall— She's going to be a school teacher, but she hasn't the class now!

Equal rights? A lad went out with his gal—kissed her goodnite an optimum number of times, then he went to his room, smoked two cigarettes and went to bed. The next morning he was called on the carpet by his landlady to explain the stick traces on the cigarettes.

"Better late than never—" It is rumored one history instructor wishes his entire class would be so kind as to grace him with their presence—even if he is late!

Have mercy— The Pointer staff gulped the brew (coffee to you) prepared by its composition editor to steady nerves after receiving this threatening note attached to a story: "This story must appear this week—remember I hold the purse strings for the Pointer!"

The story went in, honest! Seen and heard at the Chi Delt Dance Three lovely (?) ladies (Pat Thorpe, Micky Rybickie and Liz Lind), singing a bee-ut-ti-ful hill billy tune and a young man, (Ed Kowalski) with legs like Grable—will have twenty years from now—doing the hula hula. All this took place at the quiz show emceed by that brilliant master of ceremonies, Jim Cory. New logic— Lengthened skirts should make men's pockets looser.

Quote the Chicago Tribune Modern version? Little Miss Muffet—decided to rough it

In a cabin quite old and medieval. A Rounder espied her and plied her with cider, And now she's the forest's prime evil. (With apologies to J.B.)

Friday Is Set for In-Training Conference

Many replies have been received by Dr. Raymond E. Gotham from superintendents who are very much interested in the one day In-Training Conference for last year's graduates which will be held on the campus, Friday, October 24. They are very willing to release their beginning teachers for this day.

Letters are also being received from the graduates and a near-perfect attendance is expected.

Re-Visit Classes One of the purposes of this occasion is to provide an opportunity for these teachers to visit classes in the Training school and consult with the supervisors they worked with while they were here or with others in the Training school and in the college.

A second purpose for this returning to the campus is to provide the Training department with the opportunity of evaluating the effectiveness of the training program.

Problems Discussed In the morning the Training school will be in session, providing an opportunity for each teacher to observe the supervisors in the classroom. Following the class, each supervisor will be free to discuss with individuals or small groups the class observed and problems each will bring to the conference.

During the afternoon session, individual and group conferences are being planned with the Training School supervisors and members of the college faculty. The entire facilities of the college are to be made available for this conference. Those in attendance are to be the guests of the college at a noon luncheon.

Food for Thought Is Good But So Is Food

Hungry for a piece of apple pie—or a hamburger—or a dish of— But aren't you always? For the past 50 years now, hungry CSTC students have been filling these big gaps (someone said their "TRAPS") between the smatterings of knowledge, with sandwiches or pie bought at Atkins, Grassmans, Swensons, Mastens, call it what you will, it's still 1209 E. Main or "The College Eat Shop."

Y'ars and Y'ars ago, 'tis said, when the Atkins were trying to run a respectable grocery business (with delivery truck and all) we Central Staters (called "Normal students—we hope we are!) nearly drove them crazy hanging around the place.

Maybe we did clutter up the front of the store, as we seriously discussed some early teaching technique (spare the rod and spoil the child—'twas tried on us!) However, we couldn't have lounged around the Atkins back rooms, as they were filled with barrelled pickles, flour sacks, canned sardines and sugar. Affectionately dubbed the Pie Shop, the grocery kept us well supplied with candy, pencils and baloney sandwiches.

She Could Cook Too Then Mr. and Mrs. Leo Grassman became interested in the place. So interested, they bought it. Grassman's, as they naturally called it, specialized in food and drink, and 'tis said Mrs. Grassman was an excellent cook.

A change of hands gave Swensons (from Rapids) proprietorship. They ran the place for a time, and it is claimed they too turned out tasty meals. They're still living in town and any grads— wishing to renew an old acquaintances will find Mr. Swenson, a meat cutter in a grocery store some place on Strongs Ave.

Merv and Irene The present owners— Merv and Irene Masten then bought the College Eat Shop, and during the war sold it to a couple known to the students as "Andy and Eva." Now Andy and Eva Payzer are running the Moxon House, where so many of our college men stay and Mr. and Mrs. Masten again own the Eat Shop.

They probably serve about 18,000 hamburgers a year and at least 28,000 cups of coffee—and think of the rivers of gravy. Now it's not just rumored that food's good. You all have tasted those hamburgers and pieces of pie and can judge for yourselves.

"Near You"— No Sardines When we walked into the College Eat Shop the other day, some fellows were drinking cokes at the counter and "Near You" was sounding forth from the juke box, a far cry from the "Normal kids" that ate sardines as they theorized on education in Ye Old Pie Shoppe.

Much Interest Shown In College Theater

An unprecedented number of students have signed up this semester for various activities in technical work in the College Theater. A special meeting of this group was held on Monday, with Robert S. Lewis in charge.

There were 46 people who tried out for the six parts in the cast of the play, "The Silver Cord," to be given on November 19 and 20.

Leland M. Burroughs, who is director of the College Theater, decided to have a double cast for the play with one group presenting it one night and the other group the following evening.

Having a double cast has made it necessary to use two student coaches. The group of twelve was divided, and Marjorie Hales will coach for lines and stage positions for one group and Bernice Yonkee at another time for the other group. The double cast will meet with Mr. Burroughs for general rehearsals.

Each member of the play cast and the members of the technical crew are registered in Speech 226.

Pro Arte Quartet Here October 27

One of the finest string quartets in the United States, associated with the University of Wisconsin since 1940, will present a program in the college auditorium on Monday, October 27, at 8 p.m.

The Pro Arte Quartet function as a cultural institution for the state of Wisconsin. It brings the finest of string quartet music to metropolitan areas, educational institutions and small rural communities.

The playing of string quartets is a particularly exacting test of the quality of a musician. Only men who have devoted a lifetime of musical talent amounting to genius can reach the standards required and the four members of the Pro Arte Quartet are truly artists.

The group is under the leadership of Rudolf Kolisch, who, because of an earlier injury to his left hand reverses the functions of the hand in playing the violin. Albert Rahier, violin, Bernard Milosky, viola, an Ernst Friedlander, cello, are the other members.

The program will consist of classical music. There is no admission charge and townspeople as well as students and faculty are invited.

Rural Community Workshop Scheduled Here October 29

Of interest to all rural persons living around the area of Stevens Point is the announcement that a Regional Community Leadership workshop on "National Agricultural Policy and Farm Family Living" will be held at CSTC on Wednesday, October 29.

The purpose of this meeting will be to provide a means for representatives of churches, schools, rural organizations and extensions to be come better acquainted with each other and thus uncover problems of the Central Wisconsin farm family and formulate plans of action.

The workshop will open at 9:30 a.m. and will adjourn at 4 p.m. The greater part of the day's program will be held in the college auditorium, although the special discussion groups will meet on the third floor.

A tentative program for the day is as follows: 9:30 a.m.—Registration, Quincy Doudna, chairman, 9:45—Music; 10—Welcome, President Hansen; 10:15—"Farming As a Commercial Enterprise" by Sherman E. Johnson, asst. chief, Bureau of Production Economics, U.S. Dept. of Agriculture at Washington, D.C. "Farming As a Way of Life"—Father Steinhauser, Auburndale; 11:45—Adjourn for lunch; 1 p.m.—Discussion groups.

There will be seven discussion groups organized for the purpose of discussing the issues brought forth in the morning speeches; 2 p.m.—A summary panel. Representatives in various branches of rural work will appear on this panel to discuss rural problems. H. L. Eaubank of the University of Wisconsin will be chairman; 3:30—There will be a general discussion of future plans, led by M. P. Pinkerton, Portage County Agricultural agent; 4—The meeting adjourns.

Pointers Bow to Powerful Milwaukee Teachers, 20-7

The Pointers dropped their first conference game of the season and their fourth in five starts Saturday afternoon when they went down to a 20-7 defeat at the hands of Milwaukee State Teachers in a game played at Milwaukee.

The Pointers drew first blood in the game but couldn't hold the advantage and the Gulls eased away from the local team.

Lead Southern Loop

The win put Milwaukee on top in the southern half of the State Teachers College conference, with a perfect record of three wins and no defeats.

The game was sweet revenge for the Gulls. Last year they suffered their only defeat at the hands of the Bergmen and as a result they ended up in a tie for the conference championship with Stevens Point. They gained their revenge this year and are well on their way to an undisputed championship.

Pointers Score Early

The Pointers' score came in the first period, with Gordie Parsons, Jim Koehn, Tom Curry and Ken Kulick running the ball from their own 15 to the Milwaukee 38. At this point, Parson chucked a pass to Walt Kasberg who lateraled to Jim Koehn who, in turn, brought the ball to the two-yard line. "Fuzz" Emmerich plunged over for the score. The educated toe of Ken Kulick made the count 7-0 in favor of Stevens Point.

Milwaukee roared right back with a drive of their own climaxed by a 48 yard run on a lateral from Lindl to Kranz. The extra point attempt was no good and Point led 7-6 at the end of the first period.

Milwaukee scored again in the second period and their final marker in the third stanza. Both conversion attempts were good, making the final score 20-7 in favor of Milwaukee.

VA Representative Will Aid Veterans

Gilbert H. Stordock, manager in charge of the Veterans Administration office at Wausau, urges veterans enrolled at CSTC to bring their problems relative to G.I. benefits to Harold Goetkin, VA contact representative. Mr. Goetkin is located at the Guidance Center every Thursday from 9 to 3 p.m. to serve veterans and their dependents.

He will be happy to assist anyone who has questions relative to such things as G.I. insurance, dental care, out-patient treatment, hospitalization, disability compensation and G.I. loans. Mr. Stordock further urges all veterans who have as yet failed to file dental claims to do so immediately.

PLATTEVILLE Will Be Here For HOMECOMING! How About You? Stop In At KLINK'S

Now Read This!

The "younger generation" now in college is all astir this week; everyone is busy with rushing, voting on queens, building parade floats and studying history in his spare moments. Why? They are all out to show you the biggest, the most elaborate and the most exciting week-end you have ever seen since the days you planned your own here on the campus. So come back and enjoy it! To you all, do have a good time but, confidentially, don't rip up any Soo Line tracks or set fire to our Main street. The Iris is going out to get some advertisements very soon and we want the city to be all for our college groups.

Oh, by the way, on Saturday afternoon we have a ball game for you at Goerke Field, and we need each of you in those stands. BE THERE!

Brunswick	4	11	725
Faculty	4	11	690

The Continental Clothing team suffered their first two losses of the season last week when they salvaged only one game from the Chi Delts. However, they still remain in first place in the league, three full games out in front.

Grovcr Nauta stepped into undisputed second place as the result of a two out of three games victory over the Brunswick team.

Cellar Team Takes Three

The Faculty pulled a stunning upset in league play when they swept a three game series from the Lyric Theatre team. It moved the Faculty into a tie for seventh place.

The Phi Sigs took two out of three from Hannon-Bach and dumped the Hannon-Bach team into third place.

Continental rolled the high series and game for last week when they hit a 23-48 series and 839 single game. Chi Delts rolled a 2336 series and 893 game. The Faculty topped a 796 individual game.

230 Single Game

Kazmierczak took top individual honors in both series and high game blasting out a 516 series and a 230 single game. Specht tallied a 508 series and Prihoda a 505 series to be up among the pace makers. Abrahamson's 225 and Porter's 203 were the other high single games.

Where Men Are Men And Co-eds Are Glad of It

With plenty of power and experience behind them and a good deal of fight to be further exhibited, here are some of the Pointer stalwarts who will help defeat Platteville Saturday afternoon:

Gerald Haidvogel: Plays left end, weighs 220 and 6'4" from bottom to top. "Joe" played four years of ball for the local high and netted two all-conference berths for his alert defensive and offensive play.

Richard Lorenzen: Dick plugs up the left tackle spot with 225 lbs. of muscle well distributed throughout a 6'3" frame. He wore the colors of Racine High and Pensacola Naval Air Station during service years.

Clifford Robbins: Will mow Platteville down through the left guard position with the 195 lb. 5'10" hulk that fought for Mosinee High for four years. He's married, girls!

Ellsworth Gaulke: Cut up the turf and opposing players four consecutive years at Wausau High at the center spot. A handsome 195 lb. 5'9" rough customer describes "Ells."

Jack Young: Was awarded an all-conference position last year, at CSTC for his consistent hammering at the right guard position. Sorry Platteville peds will see plenty of Wausau's 180 lb. 5'7" Jack.

Frank Sliva: Another immovable man who holds the right tackle spot with 205 lbs. 5'10 1/2" of dynamite. "Fritz" mangled 'em for four years at Point High and rated an all-conference position one year.

Walter Kasberg: The strong Green Bay East team heaped right end responsibilities on very able Walt for two years. A top defensive and offensive wingman, he weighs 180 lbs. and tops a clean 6'.

Gordon Parsons: As quarterback he guides the team, in addition to many other chores, and did such a top job of last year that he cinched an all-conference bid. Parsons prepped at Schofield, making all-conference one year. Weighs 187 lbs., stands 5'11".

Thomas Curry: A lightning 142 lb. 5'7" left half who was judged all-conference and all-state while at Tomah High. After a couple of end runs Platteville will wish they had never seen this little bit of bad medicine.

James Koehn: Played four years of high school ball at Little Chute, two of them all-conference years. Last year Jim drove them crazy with his ball handling and running and was awarded an all-conference spot. Jim plays right half, weighs 140 lbs. and is 5'6" tall.

Kenneth Kulick: Played four years for Point High and made all-conference one year as a quarterback. 185 lb. 5'8" Kenny does plenty of wicked blocking and running.

The Fifth Quarter

Conference standings

	won	lost	tied
Milwaukee	3	0	0
Platteville	1	1	1
Whitewater	0	1	1
Oshkosh	0	2	0

As this is the first "Fifth Quarter" printed in the Pointer this year, we feel that a summary of this season's games is in order.

The Pointers were beaten in their first tilt by Eau Claire 12-6. Both Eau Claire tallies were scored on long runs. The first was a 90 yard run on the opening kick off and the other a 73 yard jaunt late in the second period. Except for these two lapses in the Point defense, Eau Claire was outplayed by a hard-charging Point eleven.

The game at River Falls found the Pointers much improved; nevertheless, they met defeat at the hands of the Cardinals. The final score was 12-0. The Bergmen gained our 200 yards on ground plays but lacked the scoring punch.

The CSTC gridders were victorious in their first conference game, defeating Oshkosh by a score of 13-7. Jim Koehn scored from the four yard line for one touchdown and Parsons passed to Hanke in the end zone for the other.

The following weekend Point bowed to a powerful Superior outfit 34-21. The ground play was fairly even, but Superior's was a particularly potent passing game. This proved to be the decisive factor. Incidentally, CSTC was the first team to cross the Yellow Jackets' goal line this year. Tom Curry, Point left halfback, had a 58 yard punting average that night.

Last Saturday the Green Gulls of Milwaukee defeated the local gridders in a bruising contest, 20-7. Milwaukee, playing heads-up football, capitalized on the "breaks" of the game to provide the winning margin. Outstanding for Point was the running of half-backs, Curry and Koehn, and the defensive play of center Ells Gaulke.

At the Milwaukee game there were close to 30 Point fans in the stands. Those 30 students cheered louder than the whole student body has at any home game this year. At the Oshkosh game the Point cheering section was drowned out by three grade school boys cracking peanut shells in the top row of the grand stand. Let's see if we can drown out those boys at the Homecoming game.

The bleachers should be full at the Homecoming game Saturday afternoon. A winning team is one that has the backing of the entire student body. Let's get out there and back up the boys. And don't forget. CHEER!!!

I Love My Wife But Oh, You Kid

Have you ever wondered what being a college coed was like back in the days when Peruna, the 1900 equivalent of "Nature's" (spelled backwards), was taken to "tone up the system", and the frequent use of "Say, girlie," "Oh, sugar", and "Wouldn't that jar you" was proof that a fellow had "been around"?

Let us turn back the calendar to 1910 and consider a typical Normal belle, Miss Nellie Gay, who is affectionately known as "Toady" by her friends.

Having passed the entrance test, being of "approved moral character and good bodily health," Nellie has been admitted as one of the 368 students enrolled in S.P.N., The Normal is located in Stevens Point, a growing town of 9,000 which boasts a paid fire department, gas and electrical lighting, and a free mail delivery.

The Way of All Flesh

She has arrived wearing an elegant heavily tucked shirtwaist trimmed with embroidered medallions pointed swagger shoes that "hug the foot," and a magnificent creation of lace, velvet, and ostrich plumes on her head. She has on a smart new hobble skirt, proving she is above such rude attempts at humor as:

"Hobble, hobble, little skirt, How I wonder what thou wert, Perchance, maybe a papa's pant Now for him a trifle scant." A natural color has been imparted to her lips with the aid of a Grecian lip pencil, but her cheeks are "innocent of artifice save nature's own."

This Was Back in '10

Our heroine has no housing problem, every other house in Stevens Point having a student's "Room to Let" card in the window. Her room and board are $3.25 per week. As she plans on teaching, she pays no tuition. Being a domestic science major, she is of course required to include among her many subjects manual training and construction, civics and millinery.

Nellie soon takes Normal life into her stride. She works on the Pointer, the school paper which is published monthly and contains about thirty-four pages. She becomes a sports fan, cheering enthusiastically such cheers as What's the matter with the team? They're all right! Who's all right? The team! Aren't they lalaz? A-ah! Aren't they lulus? O-o-h! Who says so? We all say so!

When Sinatra Was a Kid The heartrending ballad "Just Because She Made those Goo-Goo Eyes" becomes tops on Miss Gay's hit parade; she reads the current "Forever Amber," "He Fell in Love with his Wife." She "succumbs" to elocution lessons and learns to wear four inch chokers to help hold her head up after a hard night of study.

Let's flip the calendar pages back again and thank our lucky stars we live in 1947 where our girls wear the new dark stockings, the sensible long, straight-skirts, and the modern leg o'mutton sleeves.
