Stewart and Humke to Reign At Annual Junior Class Prom

Dance to Be at High School Gym

The Junior Prom, reigned over by Queen Mary Stewart of Greenwood, and King Everett Humke, will take place on Saturday, April 23, at P. J. Jacobs High school gymnasium.

The royalty will reign over this annual semi-formal affair amid southern colonial scenes. The students, faculty and guests will dance to the music of Howie Emerson and his 11 piece orchestra. These music makers from Milwaukee will entertain the dancers from a simulated southern patio from 9 to 1 o'clock.

Queen Mary Stewart, a former CSTC student who is now teaching at Abbottsford, and King Everett Humke, who also hails from Greenwood, will lead the grand march. Second in line will be vice-president John Kowaleski and Kathleen O'Connor.

The biggest event on the social calendar of the junior class is open to all students at CSTC. Tickets will cost $1.75 including tax.

Chaperones for the gala affair are Dr. and Mrs. Warren G. Jenkins and Mr. and Mrs. Nelis R. Kampenga.

Committees which are going to shape up this annual spring event known in high schools and colleges throughout the country are as follows:

Music, Bob Brehm, chairman, Phil English, Mary Kearns, Yvonne Jacobson, John Gurbholt; decorations, Carl Strassburg, chairman, Margaret Johnson, Don Mayek, Jim Hyer; chaperones, Janice Sisley, chairman, Phyllis Kasper, Anne Hantzicker; and publicity, John Kowaleski and Reuben Beilke, co-chairman, Daryl Fonstad, Don Bednarek, Alan Malm.

Tickets and program, Dick Green, chairman, Lewis Mittness, Wayne Hager, Bill Erdman; invitations, Carl Strassburg, chairman, Margaret Johnson, Don Mayek, Jim Hyer; chaperones, Janice Sisley, chairman, Phyllis Kasper, Anne Hantzicker; and publicity, John Kowaleski and Reuben Beilke, co-chairman, Daryl Fonstad, Don Bednarek, Alan Malm.

Junior class officers are Everett Humke, president; John Kowaleski, vice-president, Bob Brehm, treasurer and Jack Whitney, secretary.

Faculty advisers are Dr. Roland A. Trytten and George R. Berg.

School Leaders in Conference Tomorrow

Seniors and other interested students are reminded of the conference of school principals, supervisors and superintendents to be held at CSTC tomorrow. The conference will begin at 9 a.m. and close at 3 p.m. Many group and panel discussions will be held in the morning and they should be of interest to prospective teachers, says Dr. Raymond E. Gotham, in charge of the meeting.

Some of the questions to be discussed are "What strengths and weaknesses have you observed in the training of new teachers recently added to your staff?" and "What measures do you feel would serve to minimize or eliminate the weaknesses observed?"

In the afternoon, addresses will be given by Charles Walden, state curriculum co-ordinator and Fred R. Bishop, first assistant state superintendent, and reports will be given by the recorders of the discussion groups. At 3 p. m. there will be a general discussion of the conference theme "Better Schools through Better Teachers."

Students who attend discussions or group conferences are reminded to plan to be present for the entire session so as not to disturb the participants.

The WSGA wishes to extend "thanks" to the Phi Sig band which helped to make the recreation hour for the visiting Seniors on Senior Day such a great success.

Hill, Big Eau Pleine reservoir and its earthen dams which control the flow of water toward Stevens Point, the mills at Wisconsin Rapids and Neokosa and the many features caused by the erosive action of wind, water and glaciers.

The southern flight will cover about 210 miles of the area south of Stevens Point. It will include observations of the Upper and Lower Wisconsin Dells, Devils Lake, the Baraboo Bluffs, the powder plant and automobile ferry near Merrimac, man-made Lake Wisconsin, and one of the first canals which connect the Wisconsin River and the Fox River. Many other cultural and topographical features will be noted.

Stinson Voyager To Be Used

Both tours will be conducted in a new four-place Stinson Voyager airplane. Each passenger will be covered by insurance while in flight. The Stinson, being a high wing monoplane, offers exceptionally good visibility. The fare for the northern flight is $6.75 per passenger; for the southern flight, the price is $9.75 per passenger. Tickets may be purchased at the college book counter. Transportation to and from the airport is included in the fare for both trips. Because of the fact that the plane can carry four people, three passengers are needed for a flight in addition to the pilot. Before the take-off, each passenger will be provided with a map showing the path of flight. Weather permitting, flight operations will begin tomorrow and continue until the end of the semester. Additional information about the trips may be obtained from Mr. Harrison, who will be in Room 104 every morning from 8 to 8:10 and from 11:50 to 12 noon.

Hansens to Spend Easter in Tennessee

President and Mrs. William C. Hansen will journey to Harriman, Tennessee, during the Easter holidays, to visit Mr. Hansen's sister whom they have not seen for a long time. They will be accompanied by President Hansen's brother, V. A. Hansen of Withite.

They will start on their trip Thursday morning, April 14, and will not return until Wednesday, April 20.

Expect 30 Delegates for Sigma Zeta's National Conclave Here

Members of Zeta chapter, Sigma Zeta, national honorary science society, will play host to 10 other chapters of the organization when the delegates convene at CSTC on April 21, 22 and 23 for their annual national conclave. It is expected that approximately 30 delegates will attend.

Sigma Zeta was founded as an honorary science society at Shurtleff college, Alton, Illinois in 1925. Its objectives are the encouragement and recognition of high standards of scholarship among undergraduate college students in science and mathematics. The local chapter was organized in 1929. The insignia of the organization is a key representing an opened book and inscribed with symbols of the various sciences.

First Meeting Thursday

The first item on the agenda is a meeting of the National Council on Thursday evening, April 21. The Friday morning session will be opened by a business meeting. Student papers and projects will then be presented by the visiting chapters. The group will tour the Marathon paper mill at Rothschild on Friday afternoon. A banquet at Nelson Hall with Dr. J. E. Todd of the Institute of Paper Chemistry at Appleton as guest speaker will conclude the proceedings for the day.

Fred J. Schmeckle will show conservation movies to open Saturday's session of the conclave. The rest of the student papers will then be considered. The final business session will also be held Saturday morning. At that time the time and place of next year's national conclave will be decided upon.

Gilbert W. Faust, national Recorder-Treasurer of the organization will be in charge of the conclave and will make the necessary arrangements for the accommodations of the visitors. Greg Quinn, president of the local chapter, will assist him.

Geographers to Study Wisconsin From Air in "Flying Classroom"

One of the most unusual ideas to be developed at CSTC is a series of aerial geography tours of Wisconsin which are now being scheduled. Jack Harrison, student at CSTC, originated the plan with the assistance of Raymond E. Specht of the geography department and Paul Maher, operator of the local airport.

It was felt that by observing landforms from the air, students would obtain a much clearer understanding of the basic geographic features studied in the classroom. A trip of this sort would be interesting, have some definite value and be perfectly safe.

Harrison is Pilot

Harrison, the proponent of the idea and the pilot of the plane, has had a good deal of flying experience. He began flight training in 1939 and in 1941 was employed as a pilot and mechanic by Madison Airways. He enlisted in the Air Corps in 1942 and flew 18 missions in B-17's over Europe before being shot down over Berlin. After being liberated from a sojourn in a POW camp, he was discharged in 1946. The 25 year old flier is now an instructor at the municipal airport and a Sophomore at CSTC, after having completed one year at Platteville. He is married and has a son.

Two Trips Already Developed

Harrison states that he has developed two of the aerial trips. The northern flight will be a non-stop trip of approximately 125 miles into the region north and west of Stevens Point. Interesting features to be observed will be the local paper mills, the Wisconsin River, Wausau, Rib

Easter Recess Begins Wednesday Afternoon

Easter recess will begin at the close of afternoon classes on Wednesday, April 13, according to an announcement by President William C. Hansen. The Wednesday afternoon classes have always been cut for other recesses and it was felt that these classes should not again be dismissed.

Classes will be resumed on Tuesday morning, April 19.

Because of the Easter recess, there will be no Pointer for the next two weeks. The next Pointer will be published on April 28.

WSGA Banquet to Be Held at Legion Hall

Miss May Roach will be the speaker at an all college women's banquet to be held at the American Legion hall on Sunday, April 24, at six o'clock.

The banquet is being sponsored by the newly organized Women's Student Governing Association and is the only social event being given by the WSGA this semester.

Anne Hantzicker, president of the WSGA, will preside at the banquet and introduce the speaker. Mary Chenoweth is general chairman and has announced that tickets at $1.25 each will be sold on April 19, 20 and 21.

CSTC Social Club Sponsoring Series of "Coffee Clutches"

How many students blush when being introduced to someone, or exhibit extreme tightening of the vocal cords when making an introduction? Social poise, or the ability to perform calmly and coolly (and according to Emily Post) when confronted with a social situation, is a much neglected art, especially among students.

The CSTC social committee is endeavoring to correct this situation in a unique way. The committee is sponsoring a series of five "coffee clutches," and to each they will invite a mixed group (men, too!) of 15 or 20 students, Freshmen through Seniors, plus faculty members. Some of the group will be asked to perform the tasks which are necessary at such a social event. It will thus be excellent experience and fun too.

One Party Presented Already

One such party has already taken place in Dean Elizabeth Pfiffner's office. The guests were members of one of Miss Pauline Isaacson's speech classes, and the hosts were also members of the same class, Ralph Roberts doing the introducing and Larry McKinnon pouring. The Home Economics club provided the coffee and sweets.

The idea proved to be successful, so the committee made the plans to hold five more periodically throughout the remainder of the semester. They will all be in Mrs. Pfiffner's office and the Home Economics club will supply the food. Any CSTC student can now be prepared to receive an invitation to a "coffee clutch," and, after brushing up on a few Published weekly except holidays and examination periods, at Stevens Point by students of the Central Wisconsin State Teachers College. Subscription Price $3.00 per year.

Entered as second-class matter May 20, 1927, at the post office at Stevens Point, Wisconsin, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Prevention on a 52 Week Basis

One week out of the 52 in the year is usually set aside as national fire prevention week. We don't have any idea when that week is, but in regard to the buildings at CSTC we have to operate fire prevention on a 52 week basis. This building very definitely is not fireproof.

Now that spring has sprung and the pungent odor of burning grass and rubbish fills the air, we should be prepared for a fire drill which will demonstrate how rapidly we can evacuate the building. It is hoped that the building can be abandoned almost as quickly as the classrooms are at the conclusion of the 11 a. m. lectures.

Probably our greatest hazard is connected with the operation of the auditorium (although some firmly maintain that Freshman chemistry is the most dangerous). The auditorium, on the second floor, is frequently filled to capacity and intricate electrical hook-ups are often necessary for lighting effects. These factors combined could lead to a flash fire and resultant panic with possible loss of life.

We don't expect a fire, but we must not be lulled into a false sense of security. All rooms have, or should have, a card which states what exit is to be used in case of emergency. We should memorize those few words. The most important thing to remember when we hear "battle stations" sounded is to keep our wits about us. None of us want to feel the burning coils prematurely.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Alpha Kappa Lambda
Robert Elias, chief chemist of the Whiting-Plover paper mill, presented a summary of the conservation efforts of the Wisconsin paper mills at a meeting of Alpha Kappa Lambda, Wednesday, March 30.

Mr. Elias pointed out that the biggest problem the paper mills were now confronted with is the development of an economical method of utilizing the sulphide waste which is being dumped into rivers and streams. This waste indirectly robs the streams of their oxygen supply, thus destroying any living things in the water. Mr. Elias also stated that if a practical method were devised to use this waste product, one of Wisconsin's major pollution problems can be solved.

He concluded his presentation by quoting figures which indicate that much of Wisconsin's reforestation has been accomplished through the efforts of the paper mills in establishing a sustained-yield supply of pulpwood.

Radio Workshop
Everyone loves a weird and unusual adventure story and those who have their radios tuned to WLBL at 3:15 this afternoon will hear the Radio Workshop Players present one of the top adventure dramas, "Voyage through Darkness." The play is under the direction of Marne Guth.

Friday afternoon is set aside for better music appreciation by the Radio Workshop in a half hour program "The Music Album" produced by Daryl Fonstad and Maurice Mead.

Listeners will hear from another of the religious organizations on our campus on Monday at 3:15 when the Newman club presents a special program in a guest appearance on the "Our College" broadcast. Jerry La Fleur is president of the club.

An exciting story for children entitled "Blackface" will be narrated by Marne Guth on Tuesday, April 12. Daryl Fonstad is the announcer and Richard Kowaleski is the control operator.

With the closing of the panel discussion by the "Round Table" on Wednesday, the Radio Workshop leaves the air until classes resume on Tuesday, April 19, when the regular broadcasting schedule will be resumed.

Gamma Delta
There will be a short business meeting of Gamma Delta in the Student Lounge Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Plans for the convention and the annual Gamma Delta picnic will be discussed.

WRY CHAFF

The Mississippi Valley Historical association will hold its annual spring convention at Madison on April 14, 15 and 16. The local chapter of the "Sons of the Whiskey Rebellion" are expected to attend en-masse.

One sure sign of spring — James R. Hicks was seen toting a golf bag through the corridors the other day. There were no clubs in it, however, and we wonder just what technique he uses to perfect his drives and his profanity on the greens.

It's about time for Mrs. Robin to return to the west window sill of Room 207 to repair her nest and hatch her annual brood. You'd think that after listening to all that Shakespeare, college grammar and speech, she'd want to try something like philosophy, conservation or Renaissance history for a change.

To the committee on subversive activities — We wish to report that there are now two two-faced clocks in the college building. Last week, while the new bell system was being regulated, we were amused to see a student vigorously shake his watch in the face of an instructor who had lectured ten minutes past the usual close of the period. The same instructor proved to be a good "Joe" in the eyes of this particular class by letting his students leave ten minutes earlier next class period.

During the recent Senior Day exercises we found at least one visiting high school Senior who was favorably impressed by the way things operate around here. "Ge, they said, "They even let 'em smoke right on the campus here." Sure, sonny, just bring your diploma and your referees next fall and we'll see what we can do about culturing you up a little!

One teen-age visitor — she's destined to become an efficiency and safety engineer — remarked that she sure would want to know where the fire-escapes were on the college building. Before we could become very alarmed over her worries we would have to know if she were the type that would set the world on fire.

This has been a very full semester for our students. First, we get a new Hammond electric organ for the auditorium; now, we have it on good authority, that there is a television set out at Cooper's Corners. We don't know how good the reception is, but after two cokes — who watches?

Band Homecoming Concert Rated Very Successful

The Band Homecoming last weekend was a big success. That's the general consensus of opinion from all sides. The concert on Sunday afternoon, April 3, was played to a full college auditorium. The 75 piece band under the direction of Peter J. Michelsen played, besides those pieces on the program, two compositions by alumni of the band. The first was a "Street March" by Norman Hinkley of Prairie du Chien and the second "CSTC Unlimited" by Frank White of Barron. The composers directed the playing of their compositions.

Special mention should be given Fred Brewer, clarinet soloist, and Jack Whitney, trombone soloist, who gave truly fine performances.

The banquet for band members and alumni was held at St. Paul's Methodist church at 6 o'clock Saturday evening.

Receives Corsage
A corsage from the guests who were present at the banquet was presented to Mrs. Michelsen by Walter Peterson, president of the college band. The program was then turned over to an alum, Ralph Abrahamson of Medford, who introduced (See BAND CONCERT, page 4)

CSTC Faculty Members Tell of "Gay Nineties" Easter Customs

When life is slowly bursting forth anew in the springtime in woods, in parks, in gardens — when, as George Macdonald says, in his "Songs of the Spring Days,"

"The holy spirit of the Spring is working silently," —then comes the holy festival called Easter, observed in many denominations of the Christian church to commemorate Christ's resurrection.

Many customs, beautiful and quaint, have been and still are observed in churches and in homes. Some of the customs are typical of the nationality groups of a community while others are practiced on a nation-wide basis.

Colorful Easter observances of the period around the "nineties" can be seen in no better way than through the eyes of three college faculty members.

Egg Hunts Featured
Dean Herbert R. Steiner recalled his boyhood experiences and told of shoveling paths for the Easter bunny, of gathering moss to build a nest for the eggs, and of boiling onion peels to make a brown dye used in coloring the eggs. On Easter Sunday egg hunts were held. The hunt was followed by a "cracking" tournament. Two contestants would bring their eggs together. The victor was the one who kept his egg from cracking. Prizes stacked pretty high for the fellow who could hold his egg just so or find a tough-shelled guinea hen egg. The eggs were hard-boiled, of course, and any eggs that cracked could be ready-to-eat prizes.

Church on Sunday
"We went to church on Sunday just as we do today," Mr. Steiner said, "but there wasn't so much finery then. We had to clean up well and make a good showing. Our Easter Sunday dinner was one of ham and eggs."

More Seniors Sign Teaching Contracts

The Training school placement office reports that several Seniors have signed contracts recently.

Foster W. Diley, a 1948 graduate, is now teaching general science and is directing the band at the Wisconsin Dells High school. He has also signed there for next year.

Also at Wisconsin Dells next year will be Duaine and Wanda Council. Duaine will coach and teach civics at the High school and Wanda will teach kindergarten and grade school art.

Jeanette See will teach a primary grade at Beaver Dam. Another member of the primary division, Marjorie Lodzinski, will teach second and third grades at Marinette.

Frances Lawrence will be the teacher in the rural Globe school at Neillsville.

Patricia Jones has accepted a home economics position at the Random Lake High school.

Schwertfeger Replaces Lyness During Illness

The latest addition to the faculty of CSTC is Merlin Schwertfeger, who has taken the place of Dr. Arthur S. Lyness during the latter's illness.

Mr. Schwertfeger is from Oshkosh. He attended Oshkosh State Teachers college from September, 1938 to June, 1942, and received his Bachelor of Science degree there. During the fall of that year the army called, and Mr. Schwertfeger joined the Signal Corps. After three and a half years in radio and radar work, he received his discharge in March of 1946. In September, 1947, he enrolled at the University of Wisconsin and obtained his Master's degree in Science in January, 1949.

In addition to the various fields of science, he is greatly interested in radio, television, electronics and music.

Miss May Roach experienced many Easter seasons in the vicinity of Eau Claire, as did Mr. Steiner. Miss Roach's experiences were far different in some respects. "We had eggs for breakfast and we had more eggs for dinner; it was customary to pride oneself in eating a lot of eggs," she related. "I will always remember that I got a new dress to wear to church every Easter," Miss Roach reminisced.

For the big boys and girls, too!

After attending a third grade composition class at the Training school (purely as observers — although one college fellow did remark that it was the first class he'd been in for some time in which he felt he could actually compete —) we feel that the Pointer reporting staff could well use this advice given the young literary geniuses — "Read your paper (assignment) over to see if it sounds 'finished!'" Some of the work that comes into the Pointer office is most certainly not finished, in fact, it isn't even begun in some cases! (Spring flowers to you diligent staff members, however!)

Congratulations, Grandpa!
Mr. and Mrs. James Hanig of Wausau became the parents of a son, Michael James, on Thursday, March 31. Mrs. Hanig is the former Neva Jane Burroughs, daughter of Leland M. Burroughs of the college faculty. Both she and her husband are graduates of CSTC.

More Congratulations!
Mr. and Mrs. George Flugaur are parents of a daughter born Sunday, April 3. Mrs. Flugaur is the former Frances Hoffman. George is a Senior at CSTC.

Mechanical typists!
Remark made by composition editor of the Pointer to his assistant who had been doing some typing: "What's this story all about? Did you read it while you were typing it?"

With this brand of typist, the news would never leak out.

Miss Davies to Present "The Heiress" Reading

The American Association of University Women is sponsoring a reading in the auditorium on Wednesday evening, April 20, at 8 p.m.

Attractive and charming Barbara Davies of Minneapolis will give a reading of "The Heiress," a play based on Henry James' novel, "Washington Square."

The play had a long run in New York two years ago and it was in Chicago last fall. Basil Rathbone, of the movies, and British actress, Wendy Hiller, starred in the play.

New York Setting

As a setting for the love story, James describes New York society of 1850 in the neighborhood of Washington Square. There, in a "handsome, modern, wide-fronted house," his shy, awkward heroine, Catherine Sloper, falls deeply in love with a handsome man who woos her only because she is an heiress. Catherine's father forbids the marriage, both to save his daughter from a fortune seeker and because he has always despised her for being so plain. He succeeds in saving her from the marriage but, in doing so, dooms her to a hopeless and loveless life.

This entertainment is a gift to the community by the AAUW. Two years ago they offered Orchestras, the University of Wisconsin dance group.

All students, faculty and the public are invited to attend.

Three Pointer Teams Preparing For Oshkosh Meet on April 23

Though the snow storm of last week held practice to a minimum, CSTC's sporting activities are progressing at a rapid pace. The golf, tennis and track teams are working doubly hard in preparation for the season's opening sporting event at Oshkosh on April 23. On that date, all three teams will travel to the home of the Titans to compete in their respective contests.

According to Coach Frank W. Crow the track team is progressing nicely, although last week's snow was no help in getting the team in shape. The trackmen are beginning to show themselves and should be all set to take on Oshkosh come April 23.

coach, is quite well pleased with the candidates that he has to work with and said that by next week he should be able to release a complete list of those who will make the trip to Oshkosh on the 23.

In the golf department, Coach James R. Hicks has been holding practice four afternoons a week with 10 men. He seems well satisfied with the work-outs that have been held. The roster of golfmen include Bill Edwards, Ed Guensberg, George Hohense, Norbert Ley, Donald Mayek, Bruce Menzel, Harold Paulsen, Gerald Rued, George Phillip, and Jerry Scheel.

The schedule for all three activities is as follows:

| Alpha Kappa Lambda #2 | 29 | 46 | 706 |

Grover-Nauta increased their lead in the College Bowling League last Wednesday as they drubbed the second place Phi Sigs in three games. They now hold a 10 game edge on the rest of the pack. Nigbor Furs moved out of the cellar as they won two games from Alpha Kappa Lambda #1. Other pairings saw Brunswick win two from the Chi Deltis; Recreation Alleys two from the Campus Cafe and Hannon-Bach two from AKL #2.

The league leaders rolled the high team series of the afternoon on a 2492 series, followed by Nigbor Furs, 2442 and the Brunswick, 2440. Nigbor Furs tallied the high team game, 861, followed by Grover-Nauta with games of 841 and 840.

Alderton's 564 series was the high of the afternoon, followed by Chick, 559; Lanigan, 548; Bandow, 528; Heinz, 523; Formella, 519; Ley, 519; L. Jacoboski, 514; Reed, 511; Johnson, 510; Krause, 507 and Springer, 501.

Reed bowled the high single game of the evening with a 215 game. Other high games were by Ley, 212; Alderton, 209; Alberg, 202 and Lanigan and Heinz, 200.

The Fifth QUARTER

The first basketball season since the merger of the northern and southern division has been completed — but not with a chord of perfect harmony. An article that appeared in the Oshkosh Advance, OSTC school paper, echoed some of this discord. Below is a direct quotation taken from the Oshkosh Advance.

"Last week I told you about the merger of the Northern and Southern Conference Basketball leagues. Now I'd like to point out actual facts that the coaches of the Southern conferences have sent me.

(Games, Home and Away)

These are Personal Foul statistics:

| At Home (Two Game Totals) | |
|---------------------------|----|
| Stevens Point | 32 |
| Northern Visitors | 47 |
| Milwaukee | 53 |
| Northern Visitors | 31 |
| Oshkosh | 45 |
| Northern Visitors | 25 |
| Whitewater | 34 |
| Northern Visitors | 34 |
| Platteville | 50 |
| Northern Visitors | 48 |

"As you can see, all these totals are even in most cases. The referees were picked by the home coach and they did a pretty fair job of calling the fouls so that the visiting teams didn't have to return home with a feeling that we gave them a bad deal. Referring back to statistics of the games played at home you can also see that if the totals are uneven they are in favor of the visiting team.

| AWAY (Two Game Totals) | |
|---------------------------------|----|
| Stevens Point | 63 |
| Northern Teams | 42 |
| (Notice the 21 foul difference) | |
| Milwaukee | 60 |
| Northern Team | 38 |
| (Notice the 22 foul difference) | |
| Oshkosh | 52 |
| Northern Team | 40 |
| (Notice the 12 foul difference) | |
| Whitewater | 58 |
| Northern Team | 38 |
| (Notice the 20 foul difference) | |
| Platteville | 45 |
| Northern Team | 28 |
| (Notice the 17 foul difference) | |

"Figures talk for themselves in most cases, but I'm not going to stop with just figures. There are a few outstanding games that I'd like to tell you about.

"Quoting Coach H. F. Quandt of Stevens Point: 'In the 22 years of coaching, we never got a poorer deal than we received at Stout. I've seen HOMERS in the past, but nothing like that. Five of our men went out on fouls and two more ended the game with 4 each. THEY DIDN'T LOSE A MAN.'

"The Coach of Whitewater wanted us to see the great difference in the totals of their home games and the games away. (34-34 at home)

But away they were 58-38, that's a 20 foul difference, for only two games.

"The Titans had a bad deal at Superior. The foul column showed a 24-16 record. That's a big difference when so very few fouls are called. After the game, one of the men connected with the athletic department of Superior said, 'If we have to win ball games that way (meaning the foul refereeing) I'd rather see the school lose.'

"Well, students, I just wanted to let you know these odd facts regarding our Northern neighbors. If the fact remains that we are RUFFER in the Southern conference than they are in the Northern then why don't they let us play the game in our back yard and let them play in theirs?" Thus ended the Oshkosh Advance.

Nelson Hall to Serve Easter Dinner Tuesday

The annual formal Easter dinner at Nelson Hall will be held on Tuesday, April 12, at 5:30 o'clock.

Plans for the occasion are being made under the supervision of the following committees: Entertainment, Mary Chenoweth, Gladys Rindfleisch, Mary Douville; invitations, Marge Schrader and Carol Emmerich; hostesses, Marne Guth, Anne Huntzicker, Loretta Fenelon, Jackie Jennings; and decorations, Lucy Chappell, Lois Conachen and Beverly Tibbetts.

Guests for the dinner will include President and Mrs. William C. Hansen, Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner, Dean and Mrs. Herbert R. Steiner, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Crow, Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Sylvester, Miss Harriet Wright, Miss Adeline Levin, Miss Doris Ubbelohde, Dr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Gotham, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kerst, Miss Mary Ullman and Frederich A. Krempel.

this one, slightly "corny," might bring a chuckle.

A student, referring to one of the renowned, plaster-of-Paris busts in Room 207, related how the classic was on the verge of being classified "busted" — someone had pushed it too near the edge of the pedestal. A rescue, with no disastrous results, was effected!

Fellows (and girls, too) take note!

A phenomenon, last observed in December 1945, will darken the sky again on the night of April 12, when there will be a total eclipse of the moon, according to Dr. Charles M. Huffer, of the U. of Wisconsin astronomy department.

A newspaper article about the eclipse stated that field glasses would offer good optical assistance to view the eclipse. Imagine the shortage of field glasses for that evening! What we are curious about is what will occur during the one hour and 25 minutes of total eclipse!

Well, he tried —

I tried to kiss her by the mill
One starry summer night.
She shook her head and sweetly said,
"No, not by a d—, er, a darn site."

May the Easter bunny be good to you. Have a pleasant vacation! We, of the staff, will!

Easter Program to Be Sponsored by WSGA

The Women's Self-Governing association will sponsor an Easter assembly program in the college auditorium on Tuesday, April 12, at 10 a. m.

The program will include an opening organ selection by Muriel Held, a solo, "Palms," by Suzanne Swanke and two selections by the Girls Glee Club under the direction of Peter J. Michelsen. "The Lord Is Our Fortress," by Johannes Brahms, and "Deep River," a spiritual. Miss Swanke will be the soloist with the Glee club for the former number and Gretchen Holstein for the latter.

The Reverend Jans J. Vander Graff, of St. Paul's Methodist church, will be the main speaker for the program. Marne Guth will give a scripture reading from the Bible.

EASTER CUSTOMS

Out in northeastern Iowa in the days when settlements were still springing to life, Miss Bessie May Allen lived her first Easters. It was not customary at that time to put too much emphasis on church. Miss Allen tells that the favorite Easter dish for her, even to this day, is horse-radish and ham. "If the ground thawed sufficiently, we were able to have the horse-radish, and ham, being the only meat that would keep over the winter, always took its place at the table," she stated.

Miss Allen went on to tell about her experiences with the recognition of Easter. While she was attending high school near her home she saw more emphasis put upon attending church. As a resident of the city of New York while attending Columbia university, she had occasion to attend church services on Fifth avenue where one can find some of the world's most beautiful churches. She said that the church ceremonies were some of the most impressive that one could behold. Miss Allen complained that her first attempt to attend one of these church ceremonies ended in failure because she didn't have a courtesy ticket. For the next season she had her ticket, however, and was able to attend.

April 17 will find the college faculty and students at their respective homes or at the homes of friends or relatives. It is the hope of the Pointer staff that no one will get an overdose of vitamins from having eaten too many eggs or get a case of pneumonia from exposure while searching for some sphagnum moss.

FAMILIAR FACES

He admits that it keeps him busy but adds that he likes to work and enjoys living. The organizations in college to which he belongs are the "S" club, Chi Delta Rho and Alpha Kappa Lambda fraternities and the secondary division.

"Fuzzy" has an attitude toward life that is as simple as it is effective. "I like to have fun" says "Fuzzy," and I like the people I have met and the people I meet here at CSTC." When "Fuzzy" does anything it is because he enjoys doing it. This explains his interest in CSTC and his "striking" play on the gridiron.

And as for the future, — well, now that "Jenny" Lewis is wearing his fraternity pin, the only thing that "Fuzzy" is really concerned about is whether or not he can find a place where the fish are big and plentiful and where the hunter never comes home empty handed.

Dean Pfiffner to Hold Meeting of Householders

Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner, dean of women, will hold a meeting of the women in whose homes college girls live, today at 3 o'clock, in Room 160. Questions and suggestions will be discussed concerning problems which arise from time to time. Preparation for a new housing list for summer school and for fall will also be considered.

Following the meeting of the householders, refreshments will be served in the home economics parlors, at which time the house presidents will serve as hostesses. Beverly Berg, chairman of the house presidents, will pour.

45 Towns Represented at District Forensic Meet

In the biggest district forensic meet ever held at CSTC, 173 Senior and Junior High school students from 45 different Wisconsin cities vied with each other last Tuesday for "A" rating and the right to go to Madison for the state High school forensic meet.

Cities represented were Wisconsin Rapids, Loyal, Marathon, Wittenberg, Greenwood, Nekoosa, Athens, Stratford, Pittsville, Antigo, Merrill, Scandinavia, Wausau, Medford, Manawa, Weyauwega, Waupaca, Omro, Westfield, Rib Lake, Montello, Port Edwards, Unity, Wautoma, Mosinee, Granton, Wild Rose, Endeavor, Tigerton, Mattoon, Dorchester, Marshfield, Colby, Marion, Edgar, Gresham, Tomahawk, Adams-Friendship, Iola, Almond, Bowler, Amherst, Rosholt and Edgar.

CSTC president, William C. Hansen, welcomed the guests in a speech at 9:30 o'clock in the college assembly.

Seven "A" awards were given out among the 28 contestants entered in extemporaneous readings. Extemporaneous speakers received five "A's" among 15 contestants. A field of 19 vied in four-minute speeches and five were awarded "A" ratings. Non-humorous declamation had 31 contestants and 13 "A" awards were given in this event. Humorous declamation had 37 contestants and 10 "A's" were awarded. Original orations had 16 contestants and six "A" awards. The Non-original orations event had 27 contestants and six were awarded "A's".

A total of 52 "A" were given out among the 173 contestants.

Judges were Leland M. Burroughs, Norman E. Knutzen and Miss Pauline Isaacson of the local faculty, Miss Grace Walsh and Earl Kjer of the Eau Claire speech department.

BAND CONCERT

Frank S. Hyer, retired president of CSTC, Mr. Michelsen and President William C. Hansen. Mr. Michelsen introduced faculty guests and Mr. Hyer and President Hansen gave short talks. Frank White and Kenneth Storandt of La Crosse responded for the alumni.

Mr. Abrahamson was elected president of a newly organized Band Alumni association at a meeting Saturday afternoon, with La Verne Oligney of Park Falls as vice-president and Mr. White as secretary-treasurer. Walter Peterson was elected as student representative. The organization, with Mr. White as news editor, will publish an alumni bulletin to be sent periodically to members.

During the concert, Mr. Abrahamson, in behalf of the alumni, presented Mr. Michelsen with a record cabinet.

CSTC Grad Wins Marquette Award

William A. Golowski of Custer, a '48 graduate of CSTC, was among the 68 who received graduate scholarship and assistantship awards at Marquette university for the school year beginning next September.

Mr. Golowski received an assistantship award which affords payment to a student in return for laboratory supervision, teaching supervision or non-teaching duties.
