Council of Geography Teachers Here Saturday

CSTC will play host to the Wisconsin Council of Geography teachers on Saturday, April 30.

The program will get under way at 9:30 a. m. with registration and payment of dues, followed by a 10 o'clock business meeting with Edward Ludwig, of the University of Wisconsin and president of the Council, as presiding officer.

During the 10:30 — 12:30 period, Raymond E. Specht has planned two field trips for the visitors, an industrial-tour-featuring the nearby paper mills and, weather permitting, a brief aerial tour. A dinner at Nelson Hall will conclude the morning's activities.

Two papers will be presented during the early afternoon. C. G. Stratton of River Falls State Teachers college will speak on "Mays Projections." "The Urban Geography of Wisconsin" will be discussed by Dr. Arch Gerlach of the University of Wisconsin.

At 2:45 an open discussion will be in order. A suggested topic is "The Extension of Geographic Instruction in the Secondary Schools of Wisconsin."

The committees for the local arrangements are as follows: Registration, Robert S. Lewis; field trips, Raymond E. Specht and Miss Gertie Hanson; dinner, Miss Mary Ullman; correspondence, Miss Leah Diehl and Miss Ruth Brabant.

Six Pledges Become Sigma Tau Deltas

The new members are Phyllis Kasper, Janice Sisley, Lorraine Hakes, Mary Bemowski, La Verne Collum and Burnett Burch.

The formal initiation was held in the recreation room at Nelson Hall with Mel Carlson, fraternity president, presiding. Following the initiation, the entire group of 25 went to the Country Spa for a 6:30 dinner. Mr. Carlson acted as toastmaster.

The after-dinner speaker was Miss Susan Colman, faculty fraternity member. Leland M. Burroughs, faculty adviser, was introduced to the group as were other faculty fraternity members including Miss Bertha Glennon, Miss Syble Mason and Miss Doris Ubbelohde.

The editorial board of "Flight," the annual fraternity publication of original literary contributions from CSTC students, will soon have the 1949 volume ready for printing. The volume should be ready for distribution sometime during the middle of May.

Schmeckle at Eagle River for High School Conservation Program

Today Fred J. Schmeckle left for the Trees for Tomorrow Conservation Camp at Eagle River where he will assist with the lecturing and field work of a three day conservation workshop program for high school students. This is the second of the spring series of conservation workshops.

CSTC was visited April 19 by a group of students from the Rothschild High school who are interested in conservation. They were shown the "Living Earth Series" films and were taken on a tour of Iverson Park.

The conservation department hopes that by entertaining students in this manner they will be able to create a feeling of good will between the college and future students.

Raymond E. Specht of the geography department took a five day "vacation" from class duties last week to attend a meeting at Madison for the purpose of developing a driver education program in the teachers colleges, Stout Institute and the University of Wisconsin. The confab was sponsored by the University Extension division in co-operation with the Motor Vehicle department.

The delegates received a basic course in driver education. The last day was spent in co-ordinating efforts so as to develop a universal

Central Symphony Orchestra Presents Fine Spring Concert

A spring concert was presented by the Central State Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Peter J. Michelson, on Sunday evening, April 24, in the college auditorium. The Mixed Chorus assisted the orchestra in presenting a program of high quality.

The "Overture" from Rosamunde by Schubert opened the program, followed by Haydn's "Symphony No. 100 in G (Military)." This sparkling symphony was the major work of the program and the intricate contrapuntal melodies of Haydn were done with quite a professional flair.

Mixed Chorus Performs
The Mixed Chorus concluded the first half of the program with three numbers. "Let Thy Holy Presence," a Russian number by Tshenesnokoff, in the cherubim song vein was the first of the three. A modern composition "Freedom" by Frank followed. Rodgers' "You'll Never Walk Alone" from the famous "Carousel" was final proof of the abilities of the Mixed Chorus.

State Convention of Lutheran Students to Be Held at St. Paul's

"In Thy Light We See the Light" will be the theme when the state convention of Synodical conference Lutheran students meets here at St. Paul's Lutheran church on Saturday and Sunday, April 30 and May 1. Beta chapter of Gamma Delta located at CSTC will be the host for the convalesce.

The convention will open Saturday morning at 9 a. m. with registration followed by devotional exercises and a brief address of welcome at 10 o'clock. A panel discussion, "The Relation of the Christian to the World," will be conducted by four students from visiting colleges preceding the dinner and get-acquainted period which will last from 12 to 2 p. m.

From 2 to 3:30 p. m. interest will center around the subject "Marriage and Its Meaning." The program will continue with another discussion, "Our Student Group Program." Highlight of the evening will be a banquet and candlelight vespers. The Reverend E. H. Bertermann of Wausau is the main speaker for the banquet. Bill Birk is toastmaster, and Doug Graham is song leader.

The conference will reopen Sunday morning with a Bible class at 9:15 a. m. The service of worship will be held at 10:30 o'clock. Dinner will be served in the church parlors at 12

A trumpet call ended the intermission and the concert resumed with Grieg's "Wedding Day at Troldhaugen" — the side of Grieg's own household. Lincke's immortal favorite "Glow Worm," arranged by Morton Gould, was followed by an exotic Cuban melody "La Comparsa" by Lecuona.

The program ended with "Procession of the Sardar" from Caucasian Sketches by Iwanow. As an encore the orchestra played the beloved "In the Still of the Night" by Cole Porter.

Mixed Chorus to Give Concert at Wittenberg

A trip to Wittenberg on Sunday, May 15, for an evening concert is next on the agenda for the Mixed Chorus. The chorus will travel to Wittenberg on the CSTC bus, serving the evening concert, and be served a lunch in one of the local churches before returning.

The summarization and closing devotion will last from 2 to 3 p. m.

About 150 students are expected to attend representing most of the teachers colleges in addition to delegations from the University of Wisconsin, Lawrence, Beloit, Ripon and Michigan College of Mining and Technology.

The 9:30 p. m. Vesper service on Saturday and the Sunday worship period will be open to the public. The speaker for the vespers will be the Reverend R. R. Jesse of Milwaukee. The Reverend E. C. Kiessling of Watertown has been asked to deliver the Sunday sermon.

CSTC Is Subject of Royal Purple Story

The Royal Purple, newspaper of Whitewater State Teachers college, has been running a series of informative articles on each of the Wisconsin Teachers Colleges. The April 7 issue carried a story of CSTC.

The article gave a factual description of the curriculum, buildings, organizations and publications on the campus, paying especial tribute to CSTC's major in conservation education. A picture of the main building supplemented the account.

The Royal Purple should be commended for its effort to create better relations between the sister colleges through the simple expedient of their becoming better acquainted with each other.

Hold Health and Safety Conference Here Today

The State Health and Safety Curriculum committee is meeting here today at the Training school. The purpose of the conference, which begins at 10 o'clock this morning, is to prepare a high school curriculum in the field of health and safety.

Members of the committee include Dr. E. B. Pfefferkorn of Oshkosh State Teachers college, C. J. Stefferson, Oshkosh High school, Orvus Dodsworth, superintendent of schools at Medford, Orlo W. Miller, coordinator of health and safety education of the state department of public instruction and Dr. Raymond E. Gotham of the Training school.

Mrs. Pfiffner Attends Chicago Deans' Meeting

Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner, dean of women at CSTC, recently attended a meeting of the National Association of Deans of Women at the Hotel Stevens in Chicago. The theme of the convention, attended by 565 deans, was "Achieving Common Goals in Guidance."

The trend is toward more and more education work in the schools at all levels — elementary, secondary and college.

According to Dr. Ruth Strang of Columbia university, the Teachers colleges have a dual role in guidance.

These are to help each student to develop socially, educationally, spiritually to his fullest capacity, and to send out teachers with the knowledge, skills and appreciations of guidance so that they may put this knowledge into practice in their own schools.

Aside from the interesting discussions, Mrs. Pfiffner stated that she enjoyed meeting the deans from the larger colleges and universities and learning their views on guidance.

The Central State golf team under the direction of Coach James R. Hicks made its spring debut at the Whiting Country club golf course Saturday as they lost a close 9 1/2 to 8 1/2 match to the Oshkosh golfmen. Coach Hicks seemed well pleased with the performance of the Pointers and looks with confidence to their next match with Mission House here on May 6.

Norbert Ley of Marshfield led the locals with three points followed by Scheel and Rued with two points each while Hohensee added the other half point to account for the Pointer's scoring. Poffenroth and Luft led the Titans with three points apiece.

CSTC Trackmen Beat Oshkosh Titans 70 to 52 in First Meet

Coach Frank Crow and his 1949 version of the Central State track team returned home from Oshkosh Saturday with a 70-52 victory over their downstate rivals. The meet was the first of the year for both schools and marks the successful return of a spring sport that has been missing from CSTC for some years.

Bad Weather Blamed

No records were set in Saturday's meet, a fact which can probably be blamed to the bad weather. It was pointed out by Coach Crow that the winds were so bad that the high hurdles had to be cancelled since the wind toppled them as soon as they were set up.

A total of nine first places were awarded the Point aggregation as Luhm, Olson, Polka, Curry, Warner, Polzin, Pinther, Judd, Christian, Marks, and Yahr either placed first or tied for first.

This Saturday the Pointers travel to Eau Claire to take part with Eau Claire and River Falls in a triangular meet.

CSTC Faculty Members Attend Annual Meeting Of Valley Historians

The forty-second annual meeting of the Mississippi Valley Historical association was held last Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 21-23, in Madison. Meetings of the Wisconsin Council for Social Studies and of eight other historical societies were also held.

Several CSTC faculty members took part in the activities. Those who were in attendance are Dr. Warren G. Jenkins, Dr. Harold M. Tolo, D. Nels O. Reppen, Dean Herbert R. Steiner, and Miss Gertie Hanson. The overall purpose of the Mississippi Valley Historical association is to promote the exchange of ideas. Speakers and members are from all parts of the United States. In their annual meetings everything from the mechanization of cotton picking to American diplomatic history may receive attention.

Miss Hanson commented on some of the highlights of the meeting. At a joint luncheon conference of the Mississippi Valley Historical association, the Teachers' Section of the association, and the Wisconsin Council for Social Studies, all of the faculty members in attendance heard an inspiring address by Fritz L. Hoffman of the University of Colorado. In his speech, Mr. Hoffman told his audience that the United States might take a tip from its Latin American neighbors. "We might awake to a new way of life if we could take up a little of the 'mana spirit' which prevails in Latin America. They might improve their way of life also by taking a few social patterns characteristic of our vigorous nation," he emphasized.

Miss Hanson said that she had never seen so many different kinds of cheese as she saw at this luncheon. Some of the members from other states were awe-stricken at the display and wondered about their being able to give a matching display of home products when the meeting comes to their states in future years.

Training School Artist Submits Winning Poster

In a letter received recently from James A. Schwalbach, University Extension Specialist in Art and Design, Tommy Thomas, a fifth grader at the Training school, was notified that he was one of the winners in the Farm and Home Safety Poster Contest, conducted by the Let's Draw Program and the Department of Farm Safety of the College of Agriculture.

Thomas' poster was one of 100 chosen from close to 3,000 posters that were submitted. The winning posters are to be displayed in several places throughout the midwest to promote farm and home safety.

PLAY

one of Shakespeare's most popular comedies. The scene is set in Athens in a woods near the city. The plot is as follows: Hermia and Lysander are deeply in love, but since Hermia's father desires her to marry Demetrius, the couple decides to flee. In the woods through which the lovers pass in their flight, live the fairies, ruled by Oberon and Titania.

Demetrius has discovered Hermia and Lysander's plans through Helena, who loves him, but whom he has jilted. He follows the lovers and soon discovers that Helena is following him. To soothe his anger, Oberon, the fairy king, orders Puck to put the juice of a certain flower in his eyes while he is sleeping. This juice has the power to make its recipient fall in love with the first person he sees upon awakening. Puck mistakes Lysander for Demetrius and anoints him instead. Disaster results when Lysander sees Helena first upon awakening and deserts Hermia for her.

Oberon, discovering the mistake, himself anoints Demetrius who also sees Helena first. The plot is thus complicated since both Demetrius and Lysander are pursuing Helena while poor Hermia is left with no one. Puck amends his blunder by putting into Lysander's eyes another lotion which causes him to return to his normal state and everything is straightened out.

The play ends happily when Lysander and Hermia, Demetrius and Helena celebrate their wedding feasts with the Duke of Athens, who has just married Hippolyta. Much of the comedy in the play is provided by the pranks which Puck plays on the Athenian craftsman, Bottom, and Titania, the fairy queen.

As the schedule now indicates, high school pupils will be attending the night of the first production and the college students the second. Invitations have been extended to several high schools in this area to be guests at the play.

Alpha Psi Omega urges the students, with the above synopsis of the plot as a background, to attend the play in the spirit they would any Broadway production!

First WSGA Banquet Held at Legion Hall

The first banquet of the WSGA was held Sunday evening, April 24, at the Legion Hall. Tables were gaily decked with white and yellow daisies and attractive daisy place cards to complete the spring atmosphere.

Miss May Roach, guest speaker of the evening, was introduced by Anne Huntzicker, president of WSGA. Miss Roach talked of the goals for which such an organization should strive. Gretchen Holstein sang two songs, "Moonlight" by Schumann and "Lady Moon" by Edwards, accompanied by Muriel Held.

Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner spoke of the main purpose of WSGA — to unite the three major groups of girls on the campus, the dorm girls, local girls and girls living in private homes.

Faculty advisers, Mrs. Pfiffner and Miss Miriam Moser, were given corsages as was Miss Roach.

The WSGA hopes to make this banquet an annual affair.

Dorm Refurnishing Project Completed

Antiques are a thing of the past at the dorm where a refurnishing project was recently completed. Nelson Hall's 64 bedrooms have new blond furniture at a cost of $11,500, replacing the old furniture which has been in the dorm since 1915.

The project which began two years ago culminated this year in March. In the dorm's 49 double rooms, two beds, two straight chairs, a large chest of drawers, a double desk, night table and "lounge chair have been installed.

Single furniture for the 15 single rooms has also been bought. Some of the furniture in the lounge, living room and recreation room has also been replaced.

Nelson Hall, which was built with state-appropriated money is now self-supporting, operating on a revolving fund. The recently purchased furniture was paid for from this fund.

The cost of the new furniture did not raise the room and board rates. On the contrary, rates were reduced $10 at the beginning of the second
