Dr. Gotham Announces Expansion Of the College Training Program

An increase in the number of college students preparing for teaching has prompted an expansion in the college training program of CSTC according to Dr. Raymond E. Gotham, director of training.

An afternoon kindergarten has been added to accommodate the anticipated increase in the number of girls interested in primary teaching. Primary students are urged to begin piano at an early date.

Expand To Other Cities
Facilities for practice teaching in the secondary division have also been expanded. Arrangements have been made for practice teaching at P. J. Jacobs High school here in Stevens Point. In addition, practice teaching may be done in Port Edwards, Nekeosa, Wisconsin Rapids and Mosinee if the need arises.

To provide maximum opportunity for practice, initial skills are gained in the Training school. If work is satisfactory, the practice teacher will qualify for outside assignments.

More students are needed in the elementary education field, in home economics, music and physical education. It is hoped that students will plan accordingly.

Juniors who have qualified to enter a division should make sure to take one technique course during the first semester of their Junior year, says Dr. Gotham. During the second semester they should take a practice course and second technique course, thus leaving one semester of practice for the Senior year.

Dr Gotham also emphasizes the value of preparation in related extracurricular activities and related majors and minors for prospective teachers.

Boehm-Powers Program Tonight Is the First in Assembly Series

Mary Louise Boehm, concert pianist and Dudley Powers, cellist, will be featured tonight at 8 p. m. in the college auditorium, as the first program in the year's assembly series gets under way. Programs have been arranged by the assembly committee, Dr. Arthur S. Lyness, chairman.

Miss Boehm, a native Iowan, studied at Iowa State Teachers and Northwestern university, graduating from the latter institution in 1949 with high honors. In 1945 she appeared as solo artist with the Chicago Civic orchestra. Since graduation she has studied with Robert Casadiss in Great Barrington, Massachusetts and Jean Batalla of the Paris Conservatoire.

She has received an Artist-Fellow-

Student Council Extends Welcome

To CSTC Students:

The student council wishes to extend a hearty welcome to all the new and old students. We hope you will find this year very pleasant and profitable and we plan on doing everything in our power to make it this way.

The student council exists for the purpose of representing the students in the management of college affairs and life. If a council has the backing and support of the students it represents, it will be a good one. Without this it will be unable to accomplish very much.

The council meets every Thursday night from 6:15-7:15 p. m. in Room 107. Anyone who wishes may attend these meetings and take part in the discussions, but only the council members will have the right to vote on the various issues. During these meetings, the council will be only too happy to take up any personal or financial matter.

Greeks Lease Coliseum—Phi Sigs Frat House

The new Phi Sig frat house is the biggest news that has burst on the Greek scene since the war's end. The large nine room house at 1022 Normal has been leased by Phi Sigma Epsilon for nine months and now proudly bears the Greek symbols for the organization.

At present, Bob Cole, Mel Carlson, Harry Hemstock, Charles Bruce, Ralph Roberts, Wilbur Gierl, Walt Peterson, Fred Brewer, Bob Petranek and Larry McKinnon live at the house, with Cole and Peterson acting as president and secretary-treasurer, respectively. Charlie Bruce is said to act in the capacity of steward.

The house is operated on a co-operative basis with the members changing off on the menial household tasks. The man who doesn't have a class at 11 o'clock is the chef for lunch, the one meal eaten at home. No cases of indigestion have been reported as yet.

The house, which was freshly decorated by the fellows, is the scene of the regular Tuesday night frat meetings. By and large, the furniture was donated by townspeople. Of especial significance is their need for a davenport and a lamp. All in all, the campus experiment is proving to be a success. As one of the boys put it, "It's just like living at home."

Catalog Lists Class Advisers for 1949-50

According to the college catalog the class advisers for the year 1949-50 are: Senior class, Dr. Edgar F. Pierson and Dr. Roland A. Trytten; Junior class, George R. Berg and Robert S. Lewis; Sophomore class, Miss Edna Carlsten and Miss Bertha Glennon; Freshman class, Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner and Miss Mildred Davis.

Maintenance Staff Adds Many Improvements During Busy Summer

Once again CSTC's maintenance department, under the direction of Lawrence K. Davis, has put in a very busy summer improving the buildings and making them a little better for the students and faculty.

Many of the improvements can be noticed in class rooms. For example, all of the rooms have been sanded and varnished. Even the gym has received a new coat of varnish, not to mention the straight lines of paint that have been applied around and through the playing floor for the purpose of marking the out-of-bounds area. All of the offices have been refinished, giving visitors a better impression of the building.

Soft green-colored walls and white woodwork have made attractive the main office, President William C. Hansen's office, the Record office and the inner hall in front of these offices. The rural assembly has been entirely redecorated, with the walls also the soft green color and the woodwork white. Chair type desks have also been installed in place of the old stationary, two-piece seat and desk-type that were installed many years ago.

New Seats

Perhaps the most costly improvement is the installation of 640 new red "plush" seats in the auditorium. Costing more than $10,000, the seats, which were installed just before school opened, represent the best in comfort and attractiveness.

New equipment has also been added to the Home Economics department. A number of new electric ranges have been installed. A new gas pipe will give an added gas supply to the gas stoves that still remain.

A new tile floor has replaced the old wooden one in Dean Steiner's office.

Rounding out the improvements in the main building is the installation of new pipes for the water supply that supplies various parts of the building.

Two New Supervisors on Training School Staff

Dr. Raymond E. Gotham, director of the Training school, reports a complete training staff including two new members: Miss Elsie Grime, a new kindergarten supervisor, and Miss Frieda Schlueter, new supervisor of upper elementary social studies.

Miss Grime has taught for the past three years at Whittier college, Whittier, California. Her background of training and experience is extensive. She has earned her Bachelor's and Master's degrees from the primary division of the School of Education at the University of Minnesota. Her experience includes kindergarten and music teaching at Montana State Normal and the campus school of the University of Minnesota. She has taught classes in child psychology and elementary methods during the past two years in addition to her duties as kindergarten supervisor.

Powers Studied Abroad

Dudley Powers began the study of the cello at the age of 10. He has studied at the Julliard Musical Foundation in New York City and with the late Emanuel Feuermann in Switzerland. Mr. Powers joined the Chicago Symphony orchestra in 1933, becoming the principal cellist in 1944, and has appeared with that orchestra as solo artist on numerous occasions. He played with the Mischakoff String Quartet from 1935 to 1938, and the Chicago Symphony String Quartet until 1948 when he resigned to devote all of his available time to solo playing.

This concert will not be open to the public as the program is so outstanding that it is expected all 640 seats in the auditorium will be filled by students and faculty.

at the University of Minnesota. Her experience includes kindergarten and music teaching at Montana State Normal and the campus school of the University of Minnesota. She has taught classes in child psychology and elementary methods during the past two years in addition to her duties as kindergarten supervisor.

Miss Schlueter is a graduate of Southern Illinois university, Carbondale, Illinois, and has completed graduate work at the University of Minnesota. Her experience includes teaching in rural schools, elementary grades and junior high school. For the past three years she has served as teaching principal of one of the American Dependents Schools at Augsburg, Germany. She has been selected to fill the vacancy left by Miss Mary Ullman, who will spend the year completing the requirements for a doctorate at Columbia university.

Looking relieved after surviving the usual attack of writer's cramp, these fall enrollees are on their last stop (with Joseph West) before walking through that welcome exit door. Veterans, however, are being momentarily sidetracked for a short conference with George Riley.

Total Fall Enrollment at CSTC Exceeds Last by 55

The fall enrollment at CSTC at the end of the first week of classes is 891, according to the figures in the registrar's office. This number is not only an increase of 55 over the enrollment of last year at this time, but it is very near to the postwar record set in 1947. It is interesting to note that the increased enrollment represents a reversal of the general trend in other colleges and universities in the state this fall, where the number of enrollees evidently has dropped off.

The 891 students represent 550 men and 341 women, or about a five to three ratio. The female side seems to be gaining strength year by year, but the days of 1945 are gone forever, when out of 302 students, the women had a 237 to 65 edge. Divided into classes, the Freshmen enrollment of 344 is largest, followed by the Sophomores with 230, the Juniors with 157 and the Seniors with 152. There are eight special students. The number of veterans is dropping steadily, being 239 now, compared with 265 last year and 300 in 1947.

Refurnished Lounge Open to All Students

The Student Lounge with its new furnishings is again available to all students who wish for a comfortable gathering place.

Hosts and hostesses on duty at the present time include Pat Harrison, Esther Berndt, George Nicolay, Betty Gilbertson, Tom Vonash, Barbara Clark, Ila Williamson, Marjorie Finch, Joan Winter and Ed Pliska, chairman of the group.

The duties of these people are: to see that the room is attractively arranged; to pick up magazines, cards, waste paper and other materials that have been left laying around; to see that students sign out at the desk for cards, games and magazines; and to be courteous but firm in dealing with students who sleep in the lounge and insist upon using the furniture instead of the hassocks for foot rests.

It is hoped that the students will abide by the rules and at the same time make use of the facilities available for them.

Men's Glee Club in First Concert at Homecoming

The first public appearance of the Men's Glee club this year will be on Sunday, October 30, when the group, under the direction of Norman E. Knutzen, will present their annual Homecoming Concert.

Seventy-five men representing many Wisconsin towns are now rehearsing with the Glee club when it meets on Monday night and on Wednesday and Friday morning at 9 o'clock in the auditorium.

In addition to Robert Karsten, who has served as the regular accompanist, Frank Wesley and Bertram Davies of Stevens Point will also act as accompanists. Ken Veselak has been elected president of the group, Bob Ellingson, business manager and Roland Rothman, librarian.

Arrangements are now being completed for concerts to be presented at Marinette, New London, Oconto Falls, and Unity.

Advice; Needed but Not Heeded!

Advice, both good and well-meant, is what the average college student believes he needs least. Perhaps it's the paternal instinct in us, but advice is what we purport to give him in, this, the first issue of the Pointer during the 1949-50 school year.

The story is told of John P. Altgeld, one-time governor of Illinois, and his ordeal at his first formal dinner when he was faced with a bewildering array of silverware. Altgeld struggled through dinner by unobtrusive observance of the behavior of the other diners. That in essence is our message to the student body — keep your eyes and ears open and your mouth closed in your contacts outside the classroom. A good deal is learned that way.

In the classroom, be attentive and keep in mind that the instructor judges you by your written and oral response as well as your attitude and appearance.

Aside from the foregoing statements, which no one will heed, let us state that we hope we have a late fall, a mild winter and an early spring. May the weeks be short, the weekends long and may the Democrats win in 1952.

Greetings

I appreciate this opportunity to extend greetings to the students of Central State Teachers College for 1949-50, both new and former students. We are opening the year with a good enrollment and it seems to me there is evidence of a good deal of determination on the part of everyone to succeed in his work for this year. We want you to be happy college students. You can only be happy if you are successful in your college work. It is my best wish for you that you will enjoy this feeling of success in your work and will be alert to your opportunities in the college. Wm. C. Hansen, President

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Gamma Delta

Over 75 students attended the Gamma Delta "get acquainted" party at St. Paul's church parlors on September 22. A number of mixer games were played and Joe Moravec entertained with two vocal numbers of his own arrangement.

The first regular business meeting will be held early in October, and all Lutheran students, old and new, are invited to attend. An announcement of this meeting will soon be posted on the second floor bulletin board.

When the Lutheran Student association met for its first meeting of the year a large group of old and new students enjoyed a picnic supper at Iverson Park.

After the games led by vice-president, Fred Hubbard, a review of LSA aims was given by Hildegard Kuse, followed by a short talk by Dr. Roland A. Trytten, faculty adviser to the group.

Wesley Foundation

The Wesley Foundation began its year of activities with a social meeting last Thursday evening at St. Paul's Methodist church. A group of 60 participated in various games

New Housing Rules In Effect for Women

There are three new housing rules that college authorities are trying as an experiment this year, says Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner, dean of women. The rules are:

- 1). All freshmen women must be in by 10 o'clock on all school nights except Wednesday, a "late per" night for upper class women. On Wednesday, the closing hour is 11 o'clock. Occasional exceptions to this rule may be granted by the house mother or house president but must be marked "special per" on the sign-out slips.
- 2). Sign-out slips will be used in all homes after six o'clock in the evening and all day Saturday and Sunday. House presidents are responsible for turning these in to the Dean of Women's office each Monday.
- 3). If a student wishes to stay over night in a home other than her rooming house, she must secure permission to do so from her house mother and the house mother in the home where she plans to stay. Special "over night per" blanks are available in the Dean's office. This permission must be secured by five o'clock of the day it is to be used.

There will be a meeting of the house presidents in the near future to discuss the problems arising in their respective houses.

There will also be a meeting of the house mothers on October 19.

led by Bob Newton, followed by devotions and hymn singing. Gretchen Holstein entertained the group with a piano selection of her own composition.

The next meeting will be a picnic on Sunday, October 2. Plans are being made to have square dancing.

College Music Makers In Swing Once Again

Music organizations on the campus are by this time fully active and hard at work.

The convocation on Friday, September 23, marked this year's first concert appearance of the CSTC band under the direction of Peter J. Michelson. The band has been asked to give a 40 minute morning concert at the meeting of the Wisconsin Central Teachers association at Wausau on October 7.

All band uniforms have been fitted and altered so the group will now

Frosh Get Acquainted In Round of Mixers

This fall the Freshmen found their first college days packed with a round of social activities. The first big event, the Freshmen Mixer, took place in the Training school gym, September 12. The new students danced to records and met their fellow classmates.

The second event in their social calendar was a picnic on September 14 planned by the directors of Nelson Hall. Because of cold weather the lunch of barbecues, potato chips, pop, cake, and ice cream was served inside the dorm rather than on the campus.

The next event, the annual YWCA Tea, held in the Student Lounge on Thursday, September 15, was open to all students. Here the new "freshies" met some of the upper-classmen while they were enjoying cookies, mints and punch.

Friday evening, September 16, the faculty invited all students to the annual faculty reception held in the Training school gym. Cliff Hoene's orchestra of Wausau furnished music for dancing, and punch was served by the faculty wives. The faculty social committee, under the direction of Miss Gladys Van Arsdale, was largely responsible for the success of this affair.

The last big event of the busy week, a Sunday morning breakfast for Freshman women, was given at Nelson Hall by the WSGA. At this breakfast, girls met others of their own faith and then attended church with them.

And so a week of entertainment, for the purpose of acquainting freshmen with the school, the "old timers" and with each other, helped to counteract any homesick feeling.

CSTC Eating Co-op Has Largest Membership on Record This Year; 175

The CSTC Eating Co-op at the Campus Cafe has reopened its doors to students of Central State for the fourth year. This is the biggest year or what looks to be the biggest year for the organization since its beginning.

The Co-op was organized in 1946 with 110 students. This year after one week of operation it has a membership of 175 students.

This organization is operated by the students and for the students. The prime purpose of the Co-op is to give the students of Central State Teachers college good, wholesome meals at the lowest possible prices. The students pay five dollars per week for nine meals, a price which brings their boarding costs down to the barest minimum.

Meeting and Election

Each fall the week preceding the opening of the Co-op, an organization meeting is held at which the Co-op is explained to the new students who wish to become members. Also at this meeting there is an election of a board of directors consisting of three members.

The following students were elected at the organization meeting held September 15: Alex Aschenbrenner, chairman and general manager; Ellsworth Gaulke and William Bart. Aschenbrenner and Gaulke were elected for one year terms and Bart was elected for a two year term.

appear in uniform at all their concerts and at home games.

The Central Wisconsin Symphony orchestra, with members from surrounding towns and this school, started rehearsal on September 21. This year the group will feature Marjorie Loberg, a graduate of CSTC now teaching at Mishicot, as pianist.

The Girls Glee club, with a present membership of about 40, has begun work on its Christmas concert music, as has the Mixed Chorus, which now numbers about 85. Mr. Michelson states that more tenors and basses are still needed in the Mixed Chorus which meets every Tuesday and Thursday at 4 p. m. in the college auditorium.

Meet Zygmunt Prze - - - - - Aw -- Let's Call Him "Ziggy"

A lanky Freshman student attending CSTC this fall deserves special recognition. He is the lad with a mile long name and a vocabulary of such carefully pronounced words that it is easily discernable that he is not a local product. His interview with a Pointer reporter went something like this:

Reporter: I would like to know something about you, Mr. . . . Zygmunt Przedpelski . . . Zygmunt Przedpelski.

Reporter: Thanks, "Ziggy."

Zig: (Understanding smile)

Reporter: I hear that you have not been in the United States very long.

Zig: I came over here May 16, 1947, when I was fifteen, on the Batory . . . a Polish ship named after a Polish king. My mother was with me. My father and older brother have been here since 1941, working in New York," he explained.

Two of Twenty-Two Zygmunt and his mother were two of 22 Polish people not members of an organized political party who got over to the United States. He lived in Long Island, New York, and attended the South Side High school there for two years. Because of his good background he began as a Junior although he would have been only a Sophomore according to our standards.

In Poland he went to a six year grade school and on to high school where there is no elective system of subjects but a set curriculum of from eight to 10 subjects which all must take each year. Zygmunt insists that it was more difficult there, and adds that although the school year lasted approximately nine months, they had

Schmeckle on Statewide Conservation Committee

Fred J. Schmeckle was appointed chairman of this year's Statewide Conservation Curriculum committee. The committee, which met in August, has published a booklet entitled, "Guide to Conservation Education in Wisconsin Schools." The booklet, which will be used in schools throughout the state, is one of a series being published under the auspices of the state department of education. It deals with such subjects as "The Importance of Conservation," "Conservation of our Soil," "Water Conservation," "Mineral Conservation," "Forest Conservation," "Wildlife Conservation," and "Recreation, Scenic and Historic Values."

The booklet, which seems to be a very thorough and efficient discussion of the subject, is to be used as a guide in the setting up and running of school conservation departments.

To Make Field Trip

The various conservation classes will make a field trip to the Nekooosa-Edwards Paper company on October 4 and 5. The Mill, which is celebrating its 25th year of industrial forestry activities, has invited the college classes to inspect a quarter-section of forest management.

The program includes field trips and informal talks by national authorities in the field of forestry and allied industries. Members of the state conservation department will be present to demonstrate the latest methods and equipment in forest fire control. Tree planting demonstrations, thinning operations, fire-lane maintenance and a general survey of forest areas will be included.

Roy Swenson, a January 1949 graduate of CSTC, has secured a position in Milwaukee as the director of Conservation Education in the Milwaukee (See SCHMECKLE, page 4)

"Hang 'em All"

Most all of the reporter's questions were answered rather jovially, but when Zygmunt started in on politics his eyes began to flash fire. His slogan is, "If you can, hang all the Communists!" Very earnestly, and with every reason to feel that way, Zygmunt says, "I could stand a Communist some place else, but not here where people have everything. Over there I saw many of my friends disappear and learned to keep my mouth shut. Here I want to help in my own way . . . to keep people aware of that power which dominates by force."

He will be glad to talk to anyone about his experiences, so for further accounts students may look him up personally.

"I like America and its freedom," says Zygmunt, and he means to fight, if need be, to have it stay that way.

Miss Elstad Appointed New Dorm Assistant

Miss Edna Elstad, of Independence, Wisconsin, is the new assistant to Mrs. Margaret Angel, director of Nelson Hall. Miss Elstad attended La Crosse State Teachers college, after which she taught elementary school for a few years and later was employed as a bookkeeper. Some of Miss Elstad's special interests are people, good music, spirited conversation, (such as is found in Nelson Hall) and stories of travel and biography.

Nelson Hall Refurnished

Nelson Hall now has been completely refurnished with new blond steel and wood bedroom sets. In addition, the floors in all the rooms are in the process of being tiled.

Of new to the male element on the campus is the additional telephone line recently installed at Nelson Hall. They may now reach the dormites by calling 726 or 727.

Total of 112 Girls

Nelson Hall is populated by 112 girls this semester, and over 50 per cent of this number are Freshmen. The new school day closing hours for the girls at the dorm are 10 o'clock for the Freshmen and 11 o'clock for the upper classmen. A late night has been granted on Wednesday, which will be a 12 o'clock night for Juniors and Seniors, and an 11 o'clock for Sophomores and Freshmen.

One of the biggest interests this year at Nelson Hall will be the Fall Tea scheduled for Homecoming weekend, October 29.

CSTC Eleven Routs Mission House In Opener; Tie Favored Muskies

Central State opened its 1949 grid slate with an impressive 21 to 0 victory over Mission House of Plymouth on Saturday evening, September 17, at Goerke Field. Scoring in every period but the third, the Pointers collected 16 first downs while holding the Missionaries to 7. They ground out 253 yards by rushing, and netted an additional 79 through the air.

On the first play from scrimmage, John Potter, out last season because of injuries, cracked over left tackle for four yards. Left halfback Ken Kulick nosed through center for a first down on the Pointer 37. The same two alternated to move the ball to the visitors' 22 from where Walt Samelstad heaved a perfect aerial to Kulick in the end zone. Kulick booted the placement and CSTC led 7 to 0.

Koehn Sets One Up

Midway in the second period, the Pointers scored again with diminutive Jimmy Koehn setting the stage with a twisting 55 yard scamper to the Missionaries' five yard stripe. Rog English powered to the one foot line and quarterback Samelstad nudged the ball over from there. Kulick again split the uprights and the Pointers led 14 to 0 at half-time.

Mission House threatened only twice during the contest, pushing to the Pointer six yard line in the opening half and to the 11 after the kickoff in the second half. Coach Quandt's defensesmen stiffened on each occasion and kept the visitors from scoring. Point's final tally came in the fourth quarter when Potter rammed over from the two. Kulick's 35 yard run and Leichtenberg's pass to Bill Koch set the score up. Again Kulick kicked the point, and the well-earned victory was Central State's, 21 to 0.

Play for Charity

The Pointers traveled to Wausau on September 22 where they engaged the semi-pro Wausau Muskies in a Polio Benefit game. The game ended in a 0-0 deadlock.

Charity was hardly extended on the playing field, as hard tackling highlighted the sixty minute struggle. Twice Jimmy Koehn brought the crowd to its feet with near misses of passes which were touchdown bound.

The hard charging lines put a damper on the enthusiasm of the opposing backfields. The Pointers gained a good deal of experience in the game and lost nothing in prestige as the Muskies went into the game as the favorites.

Cross Country Running To Be New Fall Sport

Something new is being tried this fall at Central State and that is cross-country running under the direction of Frank W. Crow. At present the program is informal with no meets having been scheduled as yet. However, Coach Crow is contacting other colleges in an effort to draw up competition. The program is being used as a conditioner for the distance men of the track squad. Any distance or middle distance aspirants of the track squad next spring should participate.

At present four letterwinners and two point winners from last year's team are working out. The monogram winners are Chet Polka, Cliff Green, Ed Havitz and Don Olsen. The point winners are Norris Lindquist and Wilbur Cox. Jim Hyer, a trackman of last year, but ineligible for competition because of being a transfer student, is also working out with the team. Newcomers include Dick Simonson of Wittenberg, John Olson and Andrew Redmann of Milwaukee and Ray and Wally Szymanski of Marathon.

The Fifth QUARTER

Tomorrow night's conference opener promises to be a first rate performance. Let's all turn out for this one and exercise those lungs!

Did you read about Superior beating Eau Claire 13-7 and La Crosse trouncing Whitewater 33-0?

We suspect Mr. Specht will be the next radio announcer to switch to CBS. He displayed sharp humor during his capacity as announcer for the Point-Mission House game.

Dean Steiner's son-in-law, La Verne Van Dyke, has been appointed to the Wisconsin frosh football coaching staff.

Fathers and sons were pitted against each other at the Wausau Muskies-CSTC game. Bernie Laabs, coach of the Wausau aggregation, is the father of CSTC's Quinten and Bernard Laabs.

Several college men are playing in the Portage County baseball playoffs at Goerke Park. Chet Polka, Ken Kulick, Warner Christian and Bill Sanks are still playing the nation's favorite sport.

It was homecoming last Thursday night for nine Pointers at the Point-Muskies game. George Krienke, Dave Bliese, Jack Young, Jerry Scheel, Bill Koch, Charlie Hanke, Ellis Gaulke, Dick Berndt, and Jerry Jelinek all hail from Wausau.

Last year's conference winner, Eau Claire, is having trouble getting started on the right foot. They have suffered two consecutive setbacks. One defeat was at the hands of the Moorehead Teachers from Gopher Land and the other loss was to Superior.

Tom Curry is no longer playing with the Pointers. He has transferred to La Crosse State Teachers college where he will major in physical education.

We must sign off now but we'll see you on Friday night at Goerke Park.

Pointers Meet Milwaukee Gulls In First Conference Tilt Friday

Coach Hale F. Quandt and his burly eleven start playing for keeps tomorrow night when the Milwaukee Teachers invade Goerke Park. The kickoff is set for 8 o'clock. It is the first conference test for both squads.

The Pointers enter league play with one victory and a tie to their credit. Defensively little more is to be desired of the squad. The opposition has yet to cross the Purple and Gold goal line this season. On the offensive side of the ledger, the backfield is loaded with potential scoring punch. This was demonstrated during spots in the Mission House game. In the Muskies game, the powerful forward wall of the semi-pros checked most of the running plays of the Pointers.

The Green Gulls of Milwaukee opened their 1949 football season with a 19-14 loss to Carrol College of Waukesha. However ten fumbles plagued Coach Kluge's boys and this was instrumental in their defeat.

The outcome of tomorrow's curtain raiser will go a long way in determining the future status of the Pointers. If the CSTCers win, the victory will give them the added confidence they need to meet the tough Eau Claire and Superior outfits on the following week-ends.

Tennis Team Practicing For Next Spring's Games

The CSTC tennis team is getting in some early practice under student coach Bill Bart. The practice sessions will continue for about three weeks or as long as the weather holds out.

Seven veterans and three newcomers are working out in the fall practices. The members from last year, besides Bart, are Dave Case, Bob Johnson, Parr Eves, Dick Turzanski, Jim Christenson, Ken Garska and Dick Kowaleski. Newcomers include Earl Koth, Jim Benson and Bruce Brown.

Intra-Mural Touch Football and Tennis Tournament under Way

The men's intra-mural program, under the direction of physical education director George R. Berg, got off to a flying start this week with the touch football league and tennis tournament getting under way.

Eight teams comprise the football league. The names of the teams are the Gridders, Hotrods, Polecats, P. U., Pubs, Raiders, Stags and Warriors.

The league got under way Monday night. Some of the teams still lack

The College Bowling league opened its season a week ago Wednesday with ten teams taking part. Opening results saw the Nigbor Fur and Hannon Bach teams rack up a trio of wins to share first place.

The Nigbor Furs posted the high team scores, topping a 2541 series and a 901 single game. Hannon-Bach cracked out a 2294 series for second best honors in that department while an 853 single game posted by the Recreation Alleys was the runner-up score in that phase.

Turzanski posted the high individual total, bowling a 558 series. He was followed by Reed, 543; Chick, 523; Johnson, 518 and Lanigan, 504.

Lester Reed toppled the maples for a 226 single game to grab the lime-light for single games. Other games of 200 and better were rolled by Hobersee, 215; Turzanski, 210 and Christian, 205.

players and any men interested in joining a team are asked to consult the bulletin board at the foot of the center stairs and then see the captains of the respective teams.

The tennis tournament also started Monday with a straight elimination round being played down to the semi-finals. The semi-finalists will then play a round robin schedule and the man with the most wins will be declared the winner.

Seventeen men are entered in the tournament. They are Robert Johnson, Earl Korth, Eugene Miller, Ray Blaskey, Dick Turzanski, Dave Case, Jim Benson, John Gurholt, Bill Bart, Jim Christenson, Norris Lindquist, Chet Polka, Parr Eves, Ken Garska, Bruce Brown, Irv Yankee and Bud Rued.

One of the favorite off-campus gathering spots at the Ohio State University is the Pantry Cafeteria, Inc. At the Pantry, as in college shops everywhere, ice-cold Coca-Cola is always on hand to complete the enjoyment of a between-classes pause or an afternoon date. As an important part of student life—Coke belongs.

Ask for it either way... both trade-marks mean the same thing.

Miss Yonkee Describes Life At Trees for Tomorrow Camp

"We wore shorts and slacks to classes so much that when I put on a dress for church Sunday mornings, I felt queer," writes Bernice Yonkee in the Wisconsin Business Women in describing her experiences at the summer session of the Trees for Tomorrow camp at Eagle River.

Bernice, a 1949 graduate of CSTC, won the annual conservation scholarship offered by the Wisconsin Business and Professional Women's clubs which entitled her to a scholarship at the camp with all expenses paid. She was sponsored by the local BPW club.

"Students at this summer school session," she writes, "were known as campers . . . in the modern sense of the word. Even our K.P. was done for us." Bernice took four credits in botany and two in camp leadership of which she says, "Botanists collected and pressed specimens and we all learned the genus, specimen and family names of 25 trees, 50 plants, six ferns and four mosses. Once a week the entire camp was loaded into two school buses and we were taken on field trips to various points of interest."

Not All Work

All of the time was not spent in studying. Regarding extra-curricular endeavors she has this to say, "I'm afraid I don't even have the patience to row a boat while others fish. I do square dance though. And call squares. Every Friday night was square dance night." Of the food she says, "We all gained weight from the abundance of delicious food."

"Some day I hope to go back and spend an entire night watching the beavers cutting down trees and damming up the river," was one of her closing sentiments.

After summer school Bernice went

WSGA Holds Fellowship Breakfast at Dormitory

As its first social event of the year the Women's Self Governing association entertained about 65 college women at a Fellowship Breakfast at Nelson Hall on Sunday, September 18. The affair was a means of acquainting Freshman girls with the church of their choice on their first Sunday here at CSTC.

Following breakfast at Nelson Hall the girls were taken to their churches by the following upperclassmen: Mary Kearns, Rose Ann Kearns, Lorraine Goth, Mary Bemowski, Ruth Olson, Joanne La Roux, Margaret Jones, Dorothy Schmidt and Lillian Douglas.

La Verne Collum who was chairman of the affair, presided as toastmistress. Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner, adviser for the WSGA, welcomed the Freshman girls and explained the set-up of the various religious organizations here at school. Barbara Clark played Mendelssohn's "Consolation" as a piano solo.

Other committees for the breakfast included Joyce Kruger and Roberta Henderson, publicity and Hildegard Kuse, decorations.

waukee school system. His job consists of organizing and establishing conservation courses in all the high schools of Milwaukee. The city of Milwaukee has placed a 60 acre forest at his disposal for laboratory work.

Mr. Schmeckle says he is happy to announce that the Wisconsin Conservation department is now recognizing the courses offered at CSTC in conservation as fulfilling requirements for positions with the State Conservation Department.

NOTICE

Nomination papers are available in the main office for the election of class officers. The requisite number of signatures must be obtained and the papers returned to the office before 4 p. m., Wednesday, October 5. A student may sign only one paper and that must be for a member of his own class. Any nomination paper found to be irregular will not be accepted.

of the Women's Self Governing association to fill the vacancy left by Anne Huntzicker, who accepted a teaching position.

Other newly elected officers are Mary Jane Buss, vice-president, Roberta Henderson, secretary, Louise Oelrich, Junior representative and Arlene Kromroy, dorm representative.

The remaining officers and board members who were elected last year to serve this semester are: Virginia Gmeiner, treasurer; Lorraine Goth, Senior class representative; Mary Douville and Nancie Goebel, Sophomore class representatives; Harriet Hennig, dorm representative; Mary Schadewald, representative of the Stevens Point girls; Beverly Berg, representative of the house presidents; and Harriet Marking, representative of the girls working for their room and board.

Plans are now being made for a banquet for all college women to be held in November.

* * * Sigma Zeta

At the initial meeting of Sigma Zeta, honorary science fraternity, plans were made for a science club designed especially to give undergrads an opportunity to develop their interest in science. Other plans for the year were discussed. All members were requested to consult the bulletin board for committee assignments. Sigma Zeta officers for the year are: Elroy Gotter, president; Robert Morgan, vice-president; Dr. Roland A. Trytten, recorder-treasurer; and Joann Kenney, historian.

* * * YWCA

As the new women of CSTC came to the annual Freshman Tea in the Student Lounge on September 15 they were greeted by their hostesses, who are members of YWCA.

Music was furnished by records. Miss Harriet Wright loaned her phonograph to the Y Dubs for the afternoon. The bouquets of flowers were donated by Mrs. Frank W. Crow.

Phyllis Mykleby, the new president, was in charge of the tea. Other officers are: Harriet Hennig, vice president; Reta Belle Fontaine, secretary; Marjorie Finch, treasurer; Colleen Schroeder, program chairman; Lila Elmer, service chairman; Marjorie Lawrie, membership chairman and Margaret Jones, press representative. Miss Miriam Moser is faculty adviser for the group.

The Young Women's Christian association will have its first meeting in the Recreation Room at Nelson Hall.

* * * Home Economics Club

A "get-acquainted" meeting combined with a short business session constituted the first meeting of the Home Economics club.

Plans were made for special committees by Joyce Kruger, state president of Wisconsin college clubs, for the state convention here on October 15.

Formal initiation for new members will take place on Monday, October 3. Club meetings are set for every first Monday of the month.
