Band Homecoming Activities Here on Saturday and Sunday

This weekend will be a busy and important one for the CSTC band. Mixed chorus members and alumni. The annual Band Homecoming and concert, directed by the Band Alumni association and given with the assistance of the college music department, under the direction of Peter J. Michelson, will be held here at the college Saturday and Sunday.

Highlight of the weekend will be the Homecoming Concert presented at 3 p. m. on Sunday in the college auditorium.

Members of the band and alumni will begin rehearsing Saturday morning. Noon lunch will be served in the band room for this group and practice will continue during the afternoon, when the band and alumni will combine with the Mixed chorus to make a group of about 140 participants.

A Homecoming banquet held at 6:15 o'clock at St. Paul's Methodist church will be the Saturday evening feature. Band members, alums and special faculty guests will attend.

Sunday morning will not be forgotten in the homecoming activities. Alpha Kappa Rho, honorary music fraternity, is planning a breakfast for its present members and alumni at 9 a. m. at the Hotel Whiting.

The Sunday afternoon concert program, with guest directors is as follows:

Band: March, "Band of America" by Paul Lavell, directed by Ralph Abrahamson, president of the alumni band; Selection, "South Pacific," by Richard Rogers, directed by Walter Peterson, president of the college band; "Humoresque" by Anton Dvorak, directed by Raymond Rozelle; March, "Brass Pageantry," by Acton Ostling, directed by Jack Perry; Overture, "William Tell," G. Antonio Rossini; March, "Our United States," Frank Ventra, directed by Fred Parfrey.

Chorus and Band: "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise," Lockhart-Sietz; "Cool Water," Nolan, Richard Schmidt, soloist, and director, John Whitney; "Battle Hymn of the Republic," Peter Wilhousky.

Band: "Tournament of Trumpets," David Bennett; "Elsa's Procession to the Cathedral," Richard Wagner; "The Yankee Doodle Blues," George Gershwin; "Swanee," George Gershwin, directed by Rollie McManners; "Czardas," V. Monti; March, "Joyce's 71st Regiment," Boyer-Lake, directed by Kenneth Slaranok.

Mixed Chorus, Organ and Band: "God in Nature," P. Mascagni, Joan

Fehrenbach, soloist, and Grace Peterson, director; "My God and I," J. B. Sergei; "Bless This House," May H. Brahe; Grace Peterson, organist.

Though this is the fifth Homecoming concert to be given here at CSTC the band alumni association now in charge was organized only last year with Ralph Abrahamson, Medford, as its president and Gerald Eyer, Port Edward, as secretary-treasurer.

Students, faculty and the public are invited to attend this Sunday concert. Tickets may be obtained free of charge from any of the business firms that are sponsoring this concert. A complete list of these sponsors will be found on the main bulletin board.

Deans Steiner and Pfiffner Announce Senior Honor List

Nineteen Students Nominated

Deans Elizabeth Pfiffner and Herbert R. Steiner have announced their 1949-50 Honor List composed of 19 seniors who have made outstanding records at Central State Teachers college.

Carol Collins, Stevens Point; Mary Connor, Auburndale; Ruth Finch, Stevens Point; Phyllis Kasper, Land O'Lakes; Joann Kenney, Marshfield; Marjorie Kohler, Stevens Point; Hildegard Kuse, Medford; Janice Sisley, Phelps; Reuben Beilke, Merrill; Melvin Berg, Milwaukee; Richard Bernt, Wausau; James Koehn, Little Chute; Harold Humke, Greenwood; Rudolph Kohta, Phelps; Irving Korth, Antigo; Robert Morgan, Marathon; George Negley, Crivitz; Carl Strassburg, Merrill; and Arthur Witalison, Sister Bay, comprise the list of students who have met the specified qualifications.

A student to qualify for this recognition must fulfill the following requirements:

1. An honor student must have earned a 2. or better scholarship record.
2. He must have shown evidence of major participation in extra-curricular fields for at least two years.
3. He must have made some outstanding contribution to the organization or organizations to which he belonged — not mere membership.
4. He must have been a student at CSTC for at least two years.

Inquiries were made of sponsors of school and community organizations to assist the deans in making this selection.

The deans commented that there were several others who qualified in one area or another but did not meet all the qualification measurements.

Glee Club Presents Annual Spring Concert

The fourteenth annual spring concert of the Men's Glee club, under the direction of Norman E. Knutzen, was presented to an enthusiastic audience of townspeople and students last Monday evening in the college auditorium.

The Wittenberg High school choir appeared on the program as guests of the Glee Club. Charlotte Reichel, director of the choir, is a graduate of CSTC. Margaret Sihler was accompanist for the group.

The Wittenberg mixed quartet sang "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot." The choir sang "Cherubim Song Number 7" by Bortniansky, "The Lord is a Mighty God" by Mendelssohn, "Springtime" by Strickland and "The Firefly," Friml. One baritone solo number was presented, "Let All My Life Be Music" by Spross.

Ken Veselak presented Miss Reichel a corsage on behalf of the Glee club in appreciation of the assistance of the choir.

Senior Day Scheduled For Friday, March 31st

The annual Senior Day observance is scheduled for Friday, March 31. This event is designed to interest capable high school seniors who are considering entering the teaching profession.

The program begins at 10:15 a. m. with registration and ends at 3:15 p. m. with several of the visitors appearing on the "College of the Air" program in the Workshop studios. The intervening period has been liberally interspersed with music, guided tours, a social hour lunch and individual conferences.

Last year over 300 seniors appeared on the campus from high schools in the central part of the state. An equal number is expected this year.

Students List Transfer Plans

This past week your roving reporter has been busy collecting facts from CSTC students who plan to transfer to some other school next year. The following is the result.

Dolores Kosbab is transferring to the University of Wisconsin to major in dramatics and English; Betty Artz and Angie Wittman will go to the Madison General Hospital where they will take up X-ray technology; Helen Olson is also going to Madison General but she is going for technician training; Ann Ziegler is going to attend La Crosse state teachers for a physical education major.

Joanne LeRoux will take an occupational therapy course at Wisconsin; Rosemary Leahy is going to Wisconsin, also, with a journalism major in mind; Mary Pfiffner and Joanne Altenburg plan on attending Mount Mary college in Milwaukee to major in home economics.

Getting over to the male side of the ledger: Larry Eagleburger will attend Wisconsin where he hopes to earn a law degree; Ashley Slomann and Carl Brill are planning to attend the U at Madison, also, with a commerce major in mind; Don Schulz, Don Swetz and Ray Skupniewicz will also go to Wisconsin.

Registrars Ass'n Elects Dr. Doudna President

Dr. Quincy Doudna, registrar and dean of administration at CSTC, was elected president of the State Teachers College Association of Registrars and Deans, at a meeting held on Friday, March 17, at Madison. Dr. Leonard Haas of Eau Claire was named secretary.

but for a medical degree; Roy Laszewski plans to take a general course there.

David Varney and Bob Lewis are going to Marquette, where they will take a business economics course; David Van Hecke is also going to Marquette but with a medical degree as his goal; Bill "Skipper" Worzalla will attend the University of Minnesota next year and enter into the business administration field; Ralph Lillie is transferring next year but he is undecided as to where he will transfer or what he will take up.

School Administrators And Supervisors Meet At CSTC on March 29

The second annual School Administrators and Supervisors conference will be held in CSTC's auditorium Wednesday, March 29.

The program is scheduled to open at nine o'clock with organ melodies by students from the music department. This will be followed by the registration of those who attend.

Speeches are to be given by R. F. Lewis, First Assistant State Superintendent of Madison; Dr. Glen C. Eye, chairman of the North Central Evaluation committee and Assemblyman W. W. Clark, chairman of the interior sub-committee on education.

A discussion by Arthur Jorgenson of the State Conservation department, M. N. Taylor of Trees for Tomorrow, Inc. and Fred J. Schmeckel of the CSTC faculty will follow Assemblyman Clark's speech.

Open Letter

To the student body:

This is to announce that the sign contest sponsored by the Student Council has been extended until March 29.

Extra prizes by the Stevens Point Chamber of Commerce will be awarded as well as the $10 prize donated by the Student Council.

There are quite a few entries in but not enough as yet to make the contest worthwhile. Enter now. Everyone has a chance to win first, second or third prize.

When the design is chosen, Alpha Kappa Lambda will take over the constructing of the sign. Upon completion of it, a dedication ceremony will be scheduled.

Thanks, on behalf of the Student Council, to all who have cooperated to make this contest possible.

John Kowaleski
President, Student Council

Twenty-Four Enrolled In Social Dancing Class

"Let's rumba!" Don't be surprised if you hear that said at the next school dance. Twenty-four college men and women are enrolled in the new social dancing class which is sponsored by the CSTC Women's Physical Education department.

Ronald Craig, an Arthur Murray representative, donates his time for the one hour class which meets every Monday at 12:15. The dancing class under the leadership of Miss Adeline Levin, physical education director, Mary Lund and Mickey Rybicki, students, and Mr. Craig, have been studying the rumba, waltz, and the fox trot.

Conservation Classes Under Dr. Wiewel Visit Wood Industries

Dr. Bernard F. Wiewel's conservation classes will leave on a field trip today that is expected to take them through Waupaca, New London, Marion and Tigerton. The purpose of the trip is to see how wood is used by industries other than the pulpwood industry.

The group will visit the American Plywood company at New London in the morning. There they will gain some idea of the way wood is handled in the plywood industry. At one o'clock they will tour the Rogers and Johnson plant at Marion, which manufactures chester boxes and excelsior. The Tigerton Lumber company has invited them to go through their mill later in the afternoon, from the saw room to the dry

Rochester Completes Advanced Training

Midshipman Carl W. Rochester, a former CSTC student who attended school here for two years as part of his naval training, has completed the advanced air training phase as a student carrier pilot at the Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Cabanis Field, Corpus Christi, Texas.

A native of Badger, Wisconsin, Rochester has been especially trained to fly carrier type aircraft. In completing his work at Pensacola, Florida, the final stage of his flight training, he will learn to land a fighter plane aboard a carrier at sea.

Are We On or Off?

The news that has crackled over the ether for the past several weeks is the announcement that Station WBLB will cease operations as of July 1, 1950. The order was ostensibly made in the interests of economy although it comes at a time when the state radio council's network is being expanded.

The radio service of WBLB, a State Department of Agriculture station, was instituted in 1922. Its studios are located in the Training school building of the college and its transmitter is near Auburndale. WBLB has long been a favorite with the people in the heartland of Wisconsin because of its timely market reports, newscasts, weather reports, good music, lack for commercials and the fact that it is a local station — a voice of central Wisconsin.

Our concern at C. S. T. C. is the fate of the Radio Workshop of the college. The Workshop offers the facilities to study radio production methods. It gives students a chance to learn to write and adapt radio scripts, to participate in radio dramatics and to gain experience in control operation. The fruition of their work is their thirty minutes of radio time daily over WBLB. Remove the time on the air and the incentive to work to capacity is removed also. The whole structure becomes a pretense without program time.

When WBLB goes, the Workshop outlet goes with it. What happens then? The Workshop has been assured of all the time it needs, but here is the catch. About fifteen hundred dollars is needed to broadcast by transcription or wire through Auburndale. The necessary facilities may be provided by act of the state legislature, or an act of God may provide it for us. Without making an attempt to be pessimistic, it would seem that we are over a barrel.

Local people seem to feel that old demon "centralization" is behind the WBLB move. The eleven man state radio council has seven men from the state university, the Governor serving as the eighth member, which leaves room for three outsiders. In short, our chances are the same as those of the proverbial snowball.

We have two clear-cut paths open to us. Either we sit tight and see what else may happen or we follow the lead of the Chamber of Commerce and fight the move to close the radio station. Governor Rennebohm also has some courses of action to choose from. Which one will you choose, Governor?

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Radio Workshop

A variety of interesting programs will be presented during the following week, by the Radio Workshop staff. Today the College Round Table will discuss the problem of giving Spain economic support. Maurice Mead, Ed Furstenberg and the Round Table group, under the leadership of Frederick A. Krepmele, will be on the air over WBLB at 3:15.

Friday, music lovers will be able to hear the "Firebird Suite" by Stravinsky. This program — the Music Album — is under the direction of Daryl Fonstad and Maurice Mead.

Next week will see a full schedule. Monday, the Campus Varieties will present another CSTC interview by Pete Thomas. Tuesday Arlene Kromroy will tell the listeners of our Book Corner another story, "Slip, the Story of a Little Fox." Wednesday the Radio Workshop Players will present the production, "The Tenth Generation." Daryl Fonstad will be in charge of production.

These are the productions which can be heard every day at 3:15. If you would like some after dinner music, tune in at 1 o'clock and listen to Organ Melodies by Gilbert Faust, Frank Wesley, Muriel Held or Mrs. S. G. Peterson.

LSA

Dr. Roland A. Trytten will lead a discussion on the Book of Ephesians at a meeting of the LSA at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Beverly Ziebarth will give the devotions to open the program. Good music will be provided by the men's quartet and Dick Schmidt will lead the group in hymn singing.

Fred Hubbard will conduct a few games at the close of the meeting. A lunch will be served.

Omega Mu Chi

In a traditional candle light ceremony Sunday evening, nine college women pledged themselves to Omega Mu Chi sorority. The new pledges are Bette Artz, Letitia Brunner, Virginia Fischer, Eleanor Hummel, Jean Dobeck, Jane Mueller, Joyce Pinkerton, Jean Sarbacher, and Carol Woodford. Each was given a Phi pledge pin.

The occasion of the ceremony was the Pledge Dessert given for the new pledges, at 6:30 o'clock, in the Presbyterian church parlors. Mrs. Palmer Taylor, a patroness, poured at the dessert which was served after the pedging ceremony.

The tables were decorated with lavender and yellow streamers and Greek symbols. The centerpiece was a large upright silver Omeg emblem which shimmered in the candle light.

Kay Pierce opened the program with a piano selection which was followed by a solo, "Over the Rainbow" by Julie Dean. Dolores Kosbach then gave a humorous reading, "The Waltz," by Dorothy Parker. President Esther Berndt was mistress of ceremonies and after a short speech introduced Mrs. Frank W. Crow a charter member. Mrs. Crow spoke on the origin and history of Omega Mu Chi. Julie Dean, vice-president and pledge chairman, spoke briefly to the pledges about pledging and their various duties.

Guests present at the party were Miss Bertha Glennon and Mrs. Albert E. Harris, honorary members; Mrs. Crow, charter member; Mrs. Mary Samter, adviser; and Mrs. Earl Kidder, Mrs. Charles Cashin, and Mrs. Palmer Taylor, patronesses.

Committees for the party were: decorations, Beverly Berg, chairman, Joyce Kruger and Ginny Gmeiner; entertainment, Joann Kenney; food, Arlene Kromroy, chairman, Ann Phelan, Jackie Hall and Mary Schadowald; invitations, Helen Offerdahl and Dolores Kosbach; transportation, Muriel Held, chairman, Jean Robertson, Esther Berndt, Molly Knope and Ruth Finch; clean-up, Natalie Hoglund, Nancy Sannes, Esther Berndt, Kay Pierce and Bev Tib-

"Just Like Home"

Home Ec Majors Learn by Doing

When a visitor rings the doorbell at the home economics cottage, he unknowingly sets off certain chain reactions within the building. First, the arrow next to the words, "Front door," in the little box above the kitchen sink blinks on and off at the girl working there. The girl in the kitchen then cocks her head and listens for footsteps before putting down her work. Finally she dries her hands, streaks out of the kitchen and into the hall in time to see a sister home ec hurrying toward the door. When the giggling has subsided, the glass door swings open to give the visitor his first glimpse of what is certainly one of the most unusual spots on the campus to the uninitiated.

Before she graduates, every girl majoring in home economics must live in the cottage for a specified period of time. Right now, Phoebe St. John, Dorothy Schmidt, Lorraine Goth and Lillian Douglass live there with Miss Bessie May Allen, home economics director. The girls moved in between semesters and will remain until the end of the school year.

Opportunity To Practice

Concerning the purpose of the cottage, Miss Allen says, "Living here gives the girls the opportunity to practice what they've learned. The girls take care of the washing, cooking, and cleaning by themselves, but if they do have trouble, they come to me."

One might think that any book-learned system of housekeeping could easily be ruined by two factors not present in the cottage — namely, husbands and children.

However, Miss Allen points out, "Some home economics cottages have either a baby or runabout child. In cases like that the director doesn't teach; she stays at the cottage and takes care of the child while the girls are in class. Last year, however, we had two married couples living here. The husbands got along just fine. One time I mentioned that they did everything but iron and the very next day I saw one fellow doing his own ironing!"

Victorian Decor

But back to the visitor left at the front door. First impressions of the

Deans' Former Offices Will Have New Tenants

The former office of Dr. Warren G. Jenkins on the first floor near the east door has now been occupied by Peter J. Michelsen, director of music.

Dr. Nels O. Reppen will soon move into the vacated office of Dean Herbert R. Steiner, after some renovations have been made. This will enable Dr. Reppen's old office, which is quite a large room, to be converted into a small classroom or a discussion room.

cottage often appeal to the nose. This time the visitor sniffed the sweet fragrance of gingerbread in the air. Evidently these girls learn more in cooking class than how to boil an egg! A glance around will also prove that they learn more than just cooking. The living room is Victorian decor at its worst but cleanliness at its best. The room appears bright and charming only because it is in perfect order. The dining room also is improved by the cleverly patterned drapes on the windows.

"Those drapes," Lillian Douglass explained, "were made by the girls before us. We'd like to fix up the living room but that isn't in our budget right now. We follow that thing faithfully. Each of us puts in $5.50 a week for food and other living expenses. The state pays for the gas, coal, telephone and other utilities. The state also sees that our equipment is kept up."

They Live Upstairs

Just to clear a few points up, Phoebe offered, "We girls live in two rooms upstairs. Miss Allen has an apartment up there too. And, yes, we can have company whenever we want to as long as the budget holds out. It's just like living at home!"

But just how is the place kept running in such good order?

Letters to the Editor

The following letter arrived from John Stanton, a former CSTC student, now of Minneapolis, Minnesota:

Dear Editor:

It is getting close to the time when I will be leaving Minneapolis so I had better send in my contribution for the Pointers which I have been receiving so faithfully since last fall, even if I have not paid for them as yet.

Up until the second or third week in January, I shared my copy with Wally Voight and Paul Olson, whom some of you will remember. They were attending the Beck School for Radio Announcers until that time. The last I heard of them, Wally had a job in a station down in Virginia, just north of the Georgia line. Paul hadn't found a job for sure when I last saw him, but he had had several auditions, so maybe by now he is working, too.

I have a job with the Milwaukee Railroad with headquarters in Tacoma, Washington. When I get through with school I will be heading that way. At the present time I am trying to pass the speed of 20 words per minute in code. (The last test I had one error, which was one too many). I passed the machine sending test they have here just the other day (12 words a

Can't Stop To Concentrate

If you have a problem that irks you, seek a referendum. That's what the UW co-eds are doing to liberalize the curfew hours on the university campus. A committee of 12 girls is circulating petitions, and three student political parties are plugging for the liberalization of the co-ed hours. The women want the hours changed from 10:30 to 11 on week nights and from 12:30 to 1 on week ends. Seems not all the women are in favor of the change. Their reason — No excuse then for getting in early when the dates are dull. Here is opportunity for some enterprising students to start a date bureau offering escorts with entertaining and sparkling personalities.

A suggestion to help you get along in this complex world of mechanical gadgets. Take a course in "How To Meet People" and then go out door-to-door helping frustrated housewives use their new can-opener which also watches the baby and puts out the dog if adjusted the right way.

There are even ways to get rid of the obnoxious tie that some one — dear or otherwise — gave you for a gift. Just send it to Horsley's International Necktie Exchange at 605 Union Street, Seattle, Washington. Mention your preferences and you will receive a tie in return that will suit you perfectly. They even go so far as to include a pedigree with the tie showing who owned the cravat on previous occasions.

Your writer had a glimpse of the "It" that was advertised in the Pointer "ears" last week. From appearances, "It" has possibilities, so keep an eye out for "It."

Some vital statistics — just so we won't get out of practice.

Barbara Clark, a dormite, is engaged to Earl A. Baylank, an accountant in the paper mill at Mosinee. Barbara is from Mosinee also. No plans to report.

Maxine Buchanan recently became engaged to Fred Bollhofer, an X-ray technician at the Wesley Memorial Hospital in Chicago.

William "Red" Edwards and Dolores Skowen have announced their wedding day to be April 15. (They can attend the Junior prom before going on their weekend honeymoon.)

Would you like to know the solution to writing the ideal theme? A student in one of the freshman English classes came forth with a theme describing a conversation between two giraffes. For those of you who aren't up on your studies in zoology, the giraffe is one of these rare creatures who cannot bore other animals with his chatter. Thus, the theme was composed:

Send the paper to my address here in Minneapolis, and I will have it sent on from here when I have an address out west.

1950 Football Schedule Posted; Includes Game In West Virginia

The 1950 football schedule for CSTC has been posted by head coach Hale F. Quandt and it offers one of the finest schedules in years.

Highlighting the schedule is the grand finale of the season which pits the Pointers against West Liberty State college of West Liberty, West Virginia. The game is to be played there on November 11. It is the longest trip the college has ever made and should be a great one.

The Pointers open their season on September 16, playing an exhibition game against the powerful semi-pro Merrill Foxes, members of the Wisconsin State League. Then on September 23 they travel to Houghton, Michigan, for another non-conference game against Houghton Tech. They open their conference season against La Crosse on September 30, the team they shared the conference title with last year. N indicates a night game, D a day game.

The complete schedule:

- Sat. Sept. 16 — Merrill Foxes — there — N
- Sat. Sept. 23 — Houghton Tech — there — D
- Fri. Sept. 30 — La Crosse — there — N
- Mon. Oct. 9 — Whitewater — here — N
- Sat. Oct. 14 — River Falls — here — D (Homecoming)
- Sat. Oct. 21 — Milwaukee — there — D
- Mon. Oct. 28 — Oshkosh — here — D
- Wed. Nov. 1 — Platteville — there — N
- Sat. Nov. 11 — West Liberty State — there — D

be quite content, but soon he would become restless and would then proceed to make things annoying for all concerned.

About this time of the year it is equally easy for us students to develop a similar attitude toward school. One has a tendency to take for granted the things he enjoys, and to enlarge the adverse qualities that might prove taxing.

It really isn't bad — as the cross-eyed lady said, — "It's all in the way you look at things."

Our recent trip to Southern Illinois university at Carbondale served as, if you'll pardon the expression, an "eye-opener." Many facilities here at CSTC are superior to those taken for granted by much larger schools. Our auditorium is one of the best in the state. The comfortable administration building here may be aged, but it is surrounded by a beautiful campus. (Shovel off the snow and look!) Ask one of the residents of Nelson Hall for an honest opinion of the comforts they enjoy there, and I'll bet my only quarter on their favorable recommendation.

Our two cafes offer superior food for as reasonable a price as can be found at any school. Then, too, the faculty-student relationship couldn't be duplicated at a much larger college. Perhaps this is due to the absence of the mercenary element that is prevalent in other professions.

There are countless other things too — just imbibe in a little self-enumeration.

If we appreciated our school more, I don't think the native Pointers would have to get their children off the side streets Friday afternoon early, for fear of having them trampled under the hurrying feet of the suit-case student on his way home for the week-end.

Dutch's Men's Shop is back in first place in the College Bowling league as a result of winning a trio from the Campus Cafe. The AKL and Phi Sigs met, with the former capturing a pair to move into second place. Other pairings saw the Tune-Inn's take a pair from Recreation Alleys; Recreation Restaurant dropped three to the Chi Delts as did the Brunswick to Knudtson's Stores.

Dutch's posted high team honors on a 2550 series and 898 single. Campus Cafe's 2459 and 872 and AKL's 2459 and 875 were the other high team scores posted.

Harold Pinther rolled a 554 series to lead the parade in that department. Other high totals were rolled by H. Peterson, 546; Conacher, 534; Alderton, 525; Stenz, 520; W. Christian, 516; and Kulick, 515.

Pinther also bowled the high single game, hitting for 228, followed by Stenz with 207.

Meeting of Conference Governing Committee Gives Stout Title Share

There are three champions instead of two for the 1949 football campaign in the State Teacher's college conference. That was the official decision handed down by the conference governing committee at their semi-annual meeting held at Madison last weekend.

The ruling came about when it was discovered that River Falls used an ineligible man in its game with Stout last fall. As a result, the game was awarded to Stout, giving them a 5-1 record, thus sharing the conference title with La Crosse and Stevens Point.

This was only one of the matters discussed when the faculty representatives from the various teachers colleges met, with Dr. Edgar F. Pierson, CSTC, presiding. The committee awarded the conference basketball championship and trophy for basketball to River Falls. The scheduling of basketball games was also discussed and it was decided that a maximum of 21 games was to be allowed for the colleges from now on. This, however, doesn't affect post season games. Schools were also served notices to have the officials for their football games under contract by May 1, so the committee can approve them and also avoid unnecessary argument later in the season.

A new slate of officers was also elected for the years of 1950-51. They include Floyd Krause, Eau Claire, to succeed Dr. Pierson as president; W. H. Atwood of Milwaukee as vice-president and Dwight Chinnock of Stout as secretary-treasurer.

The affair honoring varsity players of CSTC, and also the High school, was sponsored by the local Kiwanis Club and Junior Chamber of Commerce at the American Legion Hall.

Sport fans who can not take in the Milwaukee Sportshow will have a chance to see a display of similar caliber at Wisconsin Rapids this week-end. A wild life display, stage show, and sporting goods exhibit will be featured.

Nate De Long ended the season with 861 points to his credit. His last fling at the record books netted him 23 points in a game in which River Falls was defeated by East Central Oklahoma. This loss eliminated the Teachers from the N.A.I.B. tournament.

The third annual Extramural tournament of the Midland Conference, including St. Norbert college was held last week-end. The "lunch hour" athletes competed in basketball, volleyball, ping pong and bowling. Each school sent its top intramural team and they matched talents with the opposition. It wouldn't be a bad idea if the Teachers colleges adopted a similar plan. All the institutions possess extensive intramural setups and it would not be too difficult to match the respective champs of the various Teachers colleges in a tournament.

In the Rumor Department — Hub Maikowski, who coached Milwaukee Messmer High school to four cage championships in five years, has been reported headed for St. Norbert college to replace Orv Dermody, who left the Knights to become a football assistant at Marquette university.

Coaches Complain That Spring Is Here, But The Weather Doesn't Know It

Spring football practice has started with chalk talks at the Training school gym in the evenings. Quite a few old and familiar faces are back on the football roster. CSTC will place an experienced team on the field and will need one to retain the championship in the high-powered teachers conference.

The coaches handling the spring sports seem to be very disappointed in the spring weather. They seem to think, as most people do, that because spring is here, the snow should leave. Coach James R. Hicks says he's almost tempted to drop golf and start a skiing club.

The tennis squad, under Bernard F. Wiewel, coach, will be starting inside workouts in a few days.

The track team has been undergoing a series of stiff workouts in the Training school gym. The boys are doing their best in the cramped quarters of the gym. Coach Frank W. Crow has his eyes peeled for a hurdler and a few dash men. The weight division looks pretty good and the pole vault and high jump seems strong. The track team should be a power to reckon with this conference season.

NOTICE TO FRESHMEN

Under the supervision of Miss Harriet Wright, members of Tests and Measurements classes will administer a series of tests to freshmen who are interested in finding out more about their general and specific abilities and interests. If you are interested in taking these tests, you may leave your name and schedule of free hours in Miss Wright's office, Room 117, in the box provided for that purpose. You will be assigned to a section and notified of the time of the first test.

CAN'T STOP

This brings to mind your writer's high school days. A favorite punishment of the principal at that time was to have his students write themes of a specified number of words, depending on the nature of the misdemeanor. One girl wrote of her lost cat. This composition ran something like this: "I had a little kitty. One day it got lost. I went looking for my kitty. I called, 'Here kitty, here kitty' — and so on for five hundred words — but my poor kitty never came home!" The principal accepted the theme and handed it back with the notation referring to two hundred and some odd missing commas. (The writer of this column will not be responsible for any themes of this nature that are handed in after this issue of the Pointer.)

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of all organization presidents and advisers tomorrow at 10 o'clock in Room 115. Please be prompt.

NOTICE

Because of the coming Easter vacation, next week's Pointer will be the last until April 20. If there is a notice that you wish published, get it to the Pointer office by Monday evening, March 27.

betts. Ruth Finch was general chairman for the party.

Alpha Kappa Rho

Betty Gilbertson, Marjorie Kohler, Barbara Clark, Muriel Held, Suzanne Swanke, Betty Mehne and Bob Bestul became active members of Alpha Kappa Rho at a meeting held on Tuesday night, March 14.

At the business meeting plans were discussed for the band homecoming breakfast to be held at the Hotel Whiting on Sunday morning, March 26.

The entertainment for the evening was handled by the pledges.

Alpha Psi Omega

Preparations for the forthcoming production, "Years Ago," which will be presented May 3 and 4, were begun by Alpha Psi Omega, dramatic fraternity, last week. At a meeting in James R. Hicks office the following appointments were made to take care of the technical work.

Ed Furstenberg, president of Alpha Psi, will be production manager; Maurice Mead, stage manager; Phyllis Kasper and Janice Sisley, publicity; Jean Robertson and Fred Brewer, properties; Donna Alderton, costumes; Don Helgerson, Fred Wenzel, Bill Joans and Arlene Kromroy, scenery; Phyllis Mykleby, make-up. Mr. Hicks will serve as adviser for the group.

YWCA

The initiation ceremony for new YWCA members was held in the dorm rec room, Thursday evening, March 16.

Before the initiation ceremony the group participated in games led by Ruth Finch and in square dancing called by Betty Mehne. Refreshments were served by Colleen Schroeder and Bev Tibbetts.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, March 30 at Miss Miriam Moser's apartment, 1037 Main street, Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner will serve a discussion on marriage.

Young Republican Club

Fred Wenzel was elected chairman of the Young Republican club at its regular meeting on Thursday, March 16. Other officers named were Bertram Dorniz, vice-chairman, and Skippy Worzalla, secretary-treasurer.

John Cattanaeh presented the ratified constitution to the group and it was accepted. Cattanaeh brought the constitution from Janesville where it had been accepted by the state branch of the Young Republican organization.

A discussion of plans for the state convention to be held in Janesville on May 6 and 7 was held. A motion that the club petition Governor Rennebohm in regard to the taking of radio station WLBL off the air was presented by Davies. A committee was appointed to look into this matter.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday, March 30 at 7:30 o'clock in Room 115. Anyone interested is urged to attend.

Tau Gamma Beta

Nineteen co-eds became pledges of Tau Gamma Beta sorority at a pledge ceremony at Nelson Hall, Sunday evening, March 19, at 7 o'clock.

Sylvia Abrahamson, Joanne Altentburg, Barbara Bauman, Jeanne Brenner, Maxine Buchanan, Bernice Dehlinger, Phyllis Gertschen, Janice Gruen, Elizabeth Holm, Phyllis Jar-nick, Kathleen Leahy, Rosemary Leahy, Mary Lund, Joyce Moll, Barbara Nelson, Dolores Newhall, Marjorie Paul, Mary Pfiffner and Wilma Schmeckle were presented pledge pins by their big sisters at this ceremony.

A dessert luncheon was served buffet style following the pledge ceremony. Joan Winter, sorority president, poured at the serving table, which was decorated for the occasion in a St. Patrick's Day theme. A three-towered gold castle surrounded by a simulated moat stood on an "emerald isle" in the center of the table. Twin tapers flanked the castle, illuminating it and the golden shamrocks strewn over the isle.

At the conclusion of the luncheon, Barbara Bea, representing the pledge co-chairmen, listed the duties the pledges are to follow for the next two weeks. The pledges then held a meeting of their group and elected Mary Pfiffner to be pledge president. Under the leadership of Mary the pledges nominated chairmen to be in charge of activities during the pledging season.

Carol Collins was the general chairman for the pledge party. Her committees included: Invitations, Katie O'Connor, chairman, Norma Mayer, Romona Byrne: food, Janice Sisley, chairman, Eileen Dahnert, Carol Emmerich, Phyllis Peterson; decorations, Phyllis Kasper, chairman, Ila Williamson, Bev Barnes.

Wesley Foundation

This evening at 7:30, the Wesley Foundation will meet in Wesley Hall at St. Paul's Methodist church. Rev. Jans J. Vander Graff will head a discussion on social problems confronting young people today. A period of recreation and some refreshments follow on the agenda.

WSGA

WSGA will sponsor an Easter assembly on Tuesday, April 4. Rev. Orvis M. Hanson of Trinity Lutheran church will be guest speaker and WSGA members will take part in the program.

"Well," answered Phoebe, "there are four positions — mistress, cook, upstairs girl, and dining room girl. All the duties are divided. That includes the cleaning, the furnace and so on. Everyone has a chance to take care of the furnace," because we change off each week."

"The furnace," Phoebe continued, "is all right up to a point, but now and then the heat decides to take a look at the outside. Sometime that is going to happen when we have a formal dinner party or company."

"And then there's the finnamahinky in the fireplace," laughed Lillian. "It's a little door in the bottom of the fireplace that's always dropping down into the furnace. One time a girl had to sift the ashes for an hour to find it. Course it might help if we remembered just how to fasten the darn thing."

However, in spite of the minor problems that seem to crop up every now and then, a visitor could do worse than to just "stay awhile" — with all that good food prepared by four expert cooks at the home ec cottage.

History Students Enjoy Journey to Chicago and Van Gogh Art Exhibit

History students who went to Chicago last week-end especially to view the Van Gogh art exhibit called the trip interesting, educational and enjoyable. Frederick A. Krempel of the faculty was sponsor for the trip.

The group arrived in Chicago and registered at the Stevens Hotel Friday evening. On Saturday morning, the roving CSTC'ers went to the Art Institute where they fulfilled the major objective of the trip, seeing the Van Gogh art exhibit. They also paid particular attention to the works of the modern French artists.

In the afternoon the students separated into groups to explore Chicago. In the evening some of them saw the opera "Aida" produced by the San Carlos Opera company while others attended the Chicago Symphony concert conducted by Tauno Hannekanen and featuring Dorothy Larsen, soprano, as guest soloist.

The Field Museum of Natural History was visited on Sunday afternoon with special emphasis on the anthropological exhibits. But the Egyptian Room, the Babylonian Room, the gem display and the marine life exhibit also proved to be very interesting.

Students who went on the trip were: Gerald Foster, Leonard Jacoboski, Louis Jacoboski, Donald Bednarek, Ferdinand Hirzy, Frank DeGuire, Edward Pliska, Barbara Bauman, Rosemary Leahy, Virginia Marros, Maxine Buchanan, Lawrence Eagleburger, Donald Jaeschke, Melvyn Carlson, Donald Petranek, Bill Koch, George Boneske and Irving Mozuch.

kiln and wood working plant. It is hoped that it will also be possible to make arrangements with some shingle mill so that the class will have an opportunity to gain some knowledge of this industry while on the trip.

Dr. Wiewel hopes that a trip of this type will give the students a good cross-section of the wood using industries other than the pulp-wood.
