Roy Swenson, a CSTC graduate who is now in charge of Conservation Education in Milwaukee, will speak on "Our Part of the Conservation Job."

Miss Bainter Elected As Secretary Treasurer of State Physics Ass'n

Miss Monica Bainter and Raymond M. Rightsell attended the annual meeting of the Wisconsin chapter of the American Association of Physics Teachers held April 28-29 at Carroll College at Waukesha. The election of officers for the ensuing year took place on Saturday. Professor V. P. Batha of the Carroll College faculty was elected president and Miss Bainter secretary-treasurer.

Tours were arranged for the teachers through the Waukesha Motor Works, manufacturers of diesel motors, and the Dairy farms at Waukesha. Carroll College's new science hall was the scene of the convention where speeches were given and apparatus demonstrated.

give "Remarks on Wisconsin Education" was unable to attend.

Section meetings were held Friday afternoon. Leland M. Burroughs and Raymond E. Specht of CSTC participated in panel-discussion held in their two sections. The Deans of Women toured the University of Wisconsin dormitories and co-operative houses. Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner, dean of women at CSTC, served as chairman of the group.

Friday evening at the informal conference dinner Dr. Eugene H. Kleinpell, president of River Falls State Teachers college, Eugene R. McPhee, secretary of the Board of Normal School Regents, Miss May Roach, CSTC faculty member and R. F. Lewis, state department of public instruction, spoke to the group.

Alpha Psi Omega Production "Years Ago" Presented Here

"Years Ago," Ruth Gordon's Broadway play, was well received last evening as the Alpha Psi Omega cast presented its first home performance of the play in the college auditorium. Tonight's performance will begin at 8:15 o'clock in the auditorium.

Many hours of rehearsal have made the Alpha Psi Omega presentation into outstanding entertainment. Dolores Kosbab as the well-meaning and pacifying mother, Melvin Berg portraying the blustery, hard working father, and Donna Alderton as the ambitious and spunky young daughter combine to fill the play with sparkle and humor. Although Mr. Sparrow, who owns a wagon, played by Dick Francis, enters the Jones home only once, his addition gives the comedy just another round of chuckles. Punk, the unpredictable cat, also adds his bit of mischief and liveliness to the performance. Others outstanding on the cast were William Joanis and Don Douglas beaus, Dorotheanne Rebella and Elmarie Sbertole, friends of the daughters and Shirley Jacobson, the physical culturist.

Geography Faculty and Students Will Attend Eau Claire Conference

This Saturday, May 6, faculty and students of the geography department at CSTC will attend the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Council of Geography Teachers at Eau Claire. Miss Gertie Hanson and Raymond E. Specht, geography instructors, and geography majors, Alex Aschenbrenner, Don Sprise, Douglas Graham, Vernon Mauer and Rudy Horn, will represent CSTC at the meeting.

All of the schools in Wisconsin which have geography departments will be represented. Each department has been requested to prepare and bring an exhibit. The program for the day includes presentations on high school teaching and field trips by air. The highlight of the program will be a field trip in the Eau Claire area.

Clarence W. Olmsted of the University of Wisconsin is president of the Council and Henry Kolka of the geography department at Eau Claire is in charge of the arrangements for the meeting.

More placements have been made to fill out the list of seniors who have teaching positions for next year. They are as follows: Lillian Douglas, Soldiers Grove, home economics and science; Robert Bennet, Palmyra, fifth and sixth grades; George Barber, Marinette, sixth grade; Robert Rosinsky, Marinette; Frank Vedder, Merrill, general science and algebra; Lenore Arnette, a '49 graduate, Rothschild, third grade; Bette Rae Warner, Palmyra, first and second grades; Alice Eichsteadt, Tigerton, fifth and sixth grades; Frances Borek, Lindsey, first through eighth grades; and Janice Sisley, English, Clintonville.

Meet Here May 7 to 9

This weekend will bring music clubs from all over the state to the Wisconsin Federation of Music Clubs convention, to be held from May 7 to 9. Musical organizations from this city, including several college music organizations will participate. Many fine amateur and professional musicians will perform.

Of special note on the Sunday evening program to be held at CSTC is the United Choir of all local churches which will be directed by visiting conductor J. A. Brees, head of the Oshkosh State Teachers college music department. Organist for the evening is Leroy W. Fieting.

On Monday, a junior program will be given at the Hotel Whiting. A girls' ensemble from P. J. Jacobs High school, directed by Miss Dorothy Vetter, will sing "The Month of May," "Jannequin," "Lift Thine Eyes," "Mendelssohn," "Butterfly," "Jeaken," "The Little Shepherd's Song," "Watts."

At 4:30 P.M. in the CSTC auditorium the Men's Glee Club, under the direction of Norman E. Knutzen, will present a concert. Soloists will be Wallace Bartosz, Carl Torkelson and John Kowaleski. In the evening Carol Grimm, 1949 winner of Wisconsin Artists Contests, will give a piano concert.

Tuesday evening the Girls Glee Club, under the direction of Peter J. Michelsen, will participate in the convention. Their program is as follows: "A China Figure," "Gustab Klemm," "A Spirit Flower," "Campbell-Tipton," "The Winds in the South," "John Scott," "Watch and Pray," "Bernard Hamlen directed by Mr. Michelsen, and "In the Still of the Night," Cole Porter, directed by Betty Mehne, a student director. Grace Peterson will accompany the Glee Club.

ed one of the finest assemblies that we have had. Their varied programs, catchy songs and excellent solos have made the students hope for more of this type of assembly."

In a news story of the concert, the paper said: "A choral group of 42 voices, under the direction of Norman E. Knutzen, gave an exceptionally fine concert. Their selections were well received and heartily applauded by the entire student body throughout the program."

"One of the soloists, Mr. Torkelson, a bass, literally stole the show as he sang the beautiful 'Bless This House.'"

"Good Will Ambassadors" Praised by Escanaba

The following are excerpts from the April 21 edition of "The Escanaba," bi-weekly high school newspaper of Escanaba, Michigan. The Men's Glee club of CSTC recently presented a concert in that city.

This was the reaction given in the "News, Views, Thank You" column of the paper: "The Men's Glee club from Stevens Point college present-

Regents Seek Appropriations For New Buildings; Include Two Here

Construction of a $500,000 physical education building in 1952-53 and a $600,000 library in 1954-55 at Central State Teachers college was included in the six-year building program voted by the state teachers college regents at their recent meeting in Madison.

The program, for which the board will ask an appropriation of over $16,000,000 from the 1951 legislature, falls into three two-year phases. The first phase will include 40% of the projects and consists of a training school at Milwaukee, a library and training school at Platteville, physical education buildings at CSTC, River Falls and Oshkosh, a library at La Crosse and an academic building at Superior.

For 1954-55, the projects include libraries at CSTC, Milwaukee and River Falls, and an addition to the physical education building at Whitewater. The regents asked for 1956-57, library-classroom buildings at Eau Claire and Oshkosh, a training school at Whitewater, a campus school at River Falls, a science wing at Superior, a field house at La Crosse and a physical education building at Platteville.

In discussing the program, President William C. Hansen emphasized that it is only tentative, since legislative approval and appropriations are necessary for all state building.

The Red Star Ascends Over Mosinee

The civic conscious citizens of Mosinee and their recent communist coup d'etat have created a sensation in the newspapers and newsreels and over the radio.

They arranged a situation whereby the Marxian communists supposedly took over the keys to the city. The mayor became a figurehead, the chief of police was executed for failure to comply with orders, a clergyman was placed in a concentration camp because he was declared an enemy of the working class. All places of business became the property of the state. Every conceivable means was used to impress upon the people the full import of what it would be like to live under the Red Star, or at least the promoters conception of it.

Other than the nation-wide publicity given the Wisconsin River Valley town, the value of the experiment is dubious. It was a novelty to townspeople and outsiders who flocked in. The inconveniences were shrugged off because everyone knew that it was a temporary arrangement.

If the "revolution" had been kept in effect over a period of weeks, the story may have been different. We wager that a counter-revolution would have taken place and representative democracy restored to its former status.

The idea does point up the fact that people do think about the menace of extreme statism and its implications. However, we feel that one does not have to acquire cancer to realize how ravaging the disease can be.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Wesley Foundation

At a special meeting of the Wesley Foundation held Wednesday evening, April 26, officers for the coming year were elected. They are: Gordon Sorensen, president; Verna Schaefer, vice-president; Kay Pierce, secretary and Ted Dowd, treasurer. They will begin their duties by planning the May 11 Wesley meeting, "Campus Evangelism" was the theme of the Wisconsin Methodist Student Movement spring conference which was held in Waukesha, April 28, 29 and 30. The Rev. Dr. James Chubb of Nebraska was the main speaker. The conference was attended by delegates from colleges throughout the state.

At the business meeting, Saturday afternoon, Phyllis Jarneck of CSTC was elected vice-president of the State Council. It was also decided that the fall MSM conference would be held in Stevens Point.

Those attending the conference from the local Wesley Foundation were Muriel Neerhof, La Verne and Gertrude Collum, Lauretta Wallner, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Dowd, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Erdman and son, Jimmy, Charles Robinson, Wayne Leisman, Arthur North, Kay Pierce, Mary Schadewald, Dave Butler, Irene Beaver, Phyllis Jarneck, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Lyness and Mrs. Jans J. Vander Graff.

Gamma Delta

Twelve members of the CSTC Gamma Delta organization attended the third annual State Lutheran Students convention held last weekend at Oshkosh.

Two members of the group participated in panel discussions held Saturday. Ralph Storm spoke on "Science and Christian Faith" on one panel, while Doris Zimplemann was a member of the "Christian Stewardship" discussion.

Reverend William F. Ludwig, of Stevens Point, delivered the sermon at the vesper service held Saturday evening.

Highlight of Saturday's activities was the huge banquet held in the evening. Several speeches, skits, vocal selections and group singing constituted the entertainment at the banquet.

Morning worship services and an afternoon business meeting brought the convention to a very successful close on Sunday.

Primary Council

The annual luncheon for Primary

Council members, alumni and guests will be held in the Methodist Church at 12:30 o'clock on Saturday, May 6. Members of Wesley Foundation will serve the 125 persons who are expected to attend.

Miss Mary E. Willits, elementary supervisor from Neenah, will be the guest speaker. Mrs. Ruth Mack will speak in behalf of the alumni and Ruth Finch will represent the seniors. Esther Berndt will act as mistress of ceremonies and introduce the speakers and guests. Miss Susan Colman and President William C. Hansen will also give short talks. Some musical selections, vocal and piano, will be included in the program.

Ruth Finch is general chairman of the luncheon. Other committees are: Decorations, Barbara Bea, chairman; Jean Robertson, Rita Peabody, Hildegard Kuse, Kathleen Leahy and Bonnie Babcock; food, Marchita Newton, chairman, Lila Elmer and Rue Guenther; invitations, Kathleen O'Connor, chairman, Joyce West, and Nancie Goebel; entertainment, Mary Connor, chairman, Irene Morris, Joyce Rasmussen and Letitia Brunner. Ilse Hirzy is chairman of the ticket sales.

Newman Club

Marriage was the subject of a talk given to the men by Rev. Stanley Chilicki prior to the regular meeting of the Newman Club last Sunday evening. A similar talk was presented to the women on April 20.

The highlight of the business meeting was the report given by Ray Skupniewicz on the regional convention which was held at Appleton on April 21, 22, 23. The entertainment which followed consisted of two movie films. The first was the movie about the Christopher organization, "You Can Change the World." The cast included such famous stars as Jack Benny, Bob Hope, Ann Blyth, Loretta Young, Bing Crosby, and others. Father Keller, the head of the Christophers also took part. The second film was a safety movie on reckless drivers. Refreshments followed the showing of the movies. Rev. Clarke from St. Stephen's parish and David Horgan were guests.

Special plans are being made for the next meeting to be held on May 11, as the members of La Crosse State Teachers College Newman Club have been invited to attend. Rev. Wagner, also of La Crosse, has

NEW MEN'S DORM — An architect's sketch shows how CSTC's new men's dormitory will look upon completion. The building is 205 by 36 feet and will contain 40 double sleeping rooms, each 12 by 14 feet. Bids will be called for soon and it is hoped to have the dorm ready for occupancy by September, 1951, according to President William C. Hansen.

Can't Stop To Concentrate

Whither is the weather — the spring type, that is? The only evidence of the new season seen recently was two dorm girls raking the lawn in front of the dormitory. Previous to getting down to the business of cleaning up the winter's accumulation of debris, the gals played games with the cart they were using to haul away the rakings. One was apparently enjoying pushing the other in the cart — a one set of wheels affair which could be thrown out of balance very easily — so the rider learned as she found herself on the ground.

Was intrigued by the head of a small story in one of the state papers which read, "Fishing Season Open," with a subhead of, "Ice Fishing Prohibited." And so goes the world of nature adverse to the seasons. Hearsay has it that the trout are hitting good on the Tomorrow River if the fishermen can brave the cold and snow.

Ellsworth Gaulke is back at school after a stay in the St. Mary's Hospital in Wausau following an appendectomy. (No, he didn't catch it. It got away from him!)

Was walking home the other afternoon, mind in a reverie, not paying much attention to the surroundings, per usual, when a boy, scarcely higher than a nearby fire hydrant, burst out of the side door of a house and dashed across the street, humming loudly but tunelessly — dum de-dum de-dum de-dum — "Music, Music, Music." Teresa Brewer has made a hit with the younger set too!

LF/SMT — Let's Find Some More Today

People around campus always wonder just what goes on at Nelson Hall. The co-eds there would like to tell you, about one of their latest ventures.

Many of the streets of this city have been thoroughly scanned for the precious bits of red, white and black that constitute a Lucky Strike wrapper. Any number of wrappers from 1 to 176 have been found and turned in. Some people who smoke Luckies have been robbed of their wrappers before they leave the store and even before they are opened.

Some are so dirty and illegible they must be washed and dried. Wrappers of all degree of disintegration have been found and are acceptable.

Now for an explanation about this search for the red dots and the white squares. A large business concern has offered a television set to a fraternity on the campus of one of the large midwestern universities. One of these fraternity members is lucky enough to have a sister at Nelson Hall to help him out. She would like to see his fraternity win so has asked her friends to help. Almost all of the dormites have given at least one wrapper.

If you smoke Luckies or if you see a wrapper, won't you please give

Training School to Present "Tom Sawyer" Thursday May, 11

The seventh and eighth grades of the Mary D. Bradford Junior High school will present a three act operetta, "Tom Sawyer," in the college auditorium Thursday, May 11 at 7:30 p.m. The seventh grade will give a matinee performance for the Training school on Wednesday, May 10, at 1:30 in the college auditorium. The cast for the Thursday evening show, which is open to the public, will consist mainly of eighth graders.

Assisting Miss Helen Heel, Training school music supervisor, with the direction of the operetta are Grace Peterson and Beverly Barnes. Harry Hemstock will direct the instrumental selections by the Training school orchestra.

The college art department, under the direction of Miss Edna Carlsten, is assisting with the preparation of the costumes and scenery.

Tickets for the operetta are 30 cents including tax.

it to any dormite who will give it to the right person. It is both profitable and good exercise to bend over and pick these up . . . one gal found a dollar bill while she was searching.

There are two more weeks that you could help. On last count there were 1418 wrappers turned in — the goal has been set at 2000. Won't you help?

Remember:

"See a Lucky Strike wrapper and pick it up
All day long you'll have good luck
See a Lucky Strike wrapper and let it lay (Ouch!)
You'll have bad luck all that day."

AROUND THE CIRCUIT

Here are a few bits of news and views gleaned from the exchange issues of our sister colleges:

La Crosse Racquet — The spring prom sponsored by the campus Control council was held April 29 with Sonny Mason and his orchestra providing the music. Ray Kroner was king and Tom Curry, a student last year at CSTC, was one of the court.

Eau Claire Spectator — Representatives of the college were selected to compete in the national debate tournament at West Point, New York on April 27, 28 and 29 as guests of the United States Military academy.

Whitewater Royal Purple — Several interesting clinics have been planned for the summer school session. A few of them are a remedial reading clinic, a kindergarten-primary clinic, music clinic, commercial education clinic and an audiovisual education clinic. Each of these clinics will run for one day.

River Falls Student Voice — River Falls State College has a $1,950,000 claim in the 16 million dollar building program which the Board of Regents will present to the legislature next January. The program is scheduled for a six year period, 40 per cent to be completed by 1953. The buildings to be constructed are a $500,000 health and physical education building, a $600,000 library and a $500,000 campus school.

Superior Peptomist — Foolish questions, noise and fines are a big headache to librarians here.

Milwaukee Echo — A brochure to be distributed to high school students, and an open house to be held this semester are two proposed projects to further public knowledge of Milwaukee State Teachers college.

Oshkosh Advance — The annual Lyceum Society Dow-Vil contest, the counterpart of CSTC's Mardi Gras, is being held at Oshkosh today.

LESTER ELMER leader at the finish of the 220 low hurdles in the meet with St. Norbert. Kenton Stewart is behind him. Both are from CSTC.

The Fifth Quarter

New Trophy Case — Hats off to the "S" Club for their effort in securing a new trophy case. The club donated the pecunia necessary for the erection of this case and Mr. Davis served as official carpenter.

Cinder Chatter—At the start of track hostilities Coach Frank W. Crow welcomed back one of his prize dashmen in the person of Jim Luhm. Back in his days at Wautoma, Jim, or as some call him, "Lightning", participated in basketball, football and track. When Jim stopped to count the letters, he arrived at the very creditable figure of seven. He ended his high school days by winning first place in both of the dashes and a second in the broad jump during the State High meet in 1948 for class 'C' schools. That year Jim received the outstanding athletic award for Wautoma High.

Coach Crow keeps Jim busy in the hundred and two hundred twenty yard dashes and the relays. Last spring "Lightning" won his first college letter in this sport, and from all indications he's ready to repeat as a winner this spring.

Other Newcomers On The Track Squad — Kirby Krbec — He was the top high jumper in the Wisconsin Valley conference last year for Rhinelander. Kirby won the sectional meet qualifying at Wisconsin Rapids for the state meet but didn't compete at Madison because of his being the only Rhinelander representative. He has done about 5 feet 10 inches.

Oliver Andrews — Winner of the Class B shotput in last year's state high school meet.

Jim Fumelle — A freshman from Clintonville who could develop into a good pole vaulter. He reached 11 feet in high school last year.

Dick Kussman — A freshman who hails from Amherst. Dick is counted on to perform in the half mile and also the broad jump.

Coach Hicks' golfers should be attracted by the latest offer of Lloyd's of London. If you make a hole-in-one Lloyd's will pay you $400 — the policy costs $4.

The Tri-Cities professional basketball team has acquired the draft rights to Nate DeLong of River Falls. Newman Benson, DeLong's teammate, was selected by the Minneapolis Lakers.

Geography Classes Enjoy Several Field Trips

Cave of the Mounds was the destination of one section of Raymond E. Specht's geography 100b classes last Monday, May 1. The field trips, which combine business with pleasure, illustrate at first hand the geographic fundamentals learned in the classroom.

Stops were also made at Wisconsin Dells, Devils Lake State park, Madison and Little Norway.

Thirty-five students made the trip which was under the supervision of Mr. Specht. The second section will make the boat trip at the Dells next Monday, May 8.

Coach Crow's "Eskimos" Heading South for Meet

Coach Frank W. Crow's horde of "Eskimos," not that they are by their own choice, hope to find a warmer climate in the southern part of the state on Saturday when they run at Whitewater. The lawn party is a triangular affair between Stevens Point, Oshkosh, and Whitewater.

Cold weather forced the postponement of the Eau Claire meet, which was scheduled for last Thursday, and Tuesday's meet with St. Norberts wasn't run under ideal weather conditions.

A layman would arrive at the conclusion that the boys haven't had a real opportunity to exercise their legs yet.

Soil Classes to Spend Friday at LaCrosse

CSTC's soil conservation classes will spend tomorrow at La Crosse visiting the La Crosse Soil Conservation Experimental Station. The La Crosse station is one of the outstanding soil conservation stations in the country.

The classes will spend the entire day viewing soil conservation practices. One of the main points of interest will be a machine used for measuring the actual amount of land washed off by water.

CSTC Loses at Track, Tennis; Wins at Golf

The Green Knights of St. Norbert were true to their names on Tuesday afternoon when two Norbertine entries hurled the lance, known in track circles as the javelin, to win a first and a second place and take 72-59. St. Norbert was leading 64-58 going into the javelin event. The Pointers needed a first and a second to win the meet but Schlafke and Mazanc' tossed point earners to give the win to the Norbertines.

Coach Jim Roglin's crew won ten firsts to five firsts for the Pointers.

The tennis team lost to the Knights by a 6-3 score while the golf team registered a 17-1 triumph.

Dept. of Labor Releases Series of Articles on Job Opportunities

The United States Department of Labor has prepared a series of articles on present employment opportunities for college graduates. Of special interest to CSTC seniors is the information on the outlook for elementary and secondary school teachers.

For elementary teachers, the department finds a wide choice of opportunities. Last year, only one student completed elementary teacher training for every three needed; the need this year will be even greater and greater yet in the next few years. The sharpest increase in elementary school enrollments is expected in 1953 and the enrollment will continue to rise for the next 7 years and then taper off. On the basis of this estimated rate of increase, over half a million elementary teacher replacements will be required in the next 10 years.

Secondary Division Crowded

The prospects for secondary teachers is very much different. Strong competition for high school teaching positions is expected for the next few years at least, since the supply is now four times greater than the demand. The greatest oversupply is in men's physical education, social sciences, and English.

There is still demand, however, in rural areas and in such fields as home economics.

The report recommends that high school teachers should plan to get a master's degree in order to qualify for the best employment opportunities. After 1952, high school enrollments are expected to increase slowly at first then rapidly into the 1960's. Therefore the outlook for secondary teachers is not too bleak in the years to come.

Other Fields Listed

In other professional fields besides teaching, the Labor Department finds that competition will be stiff in law, journalism, personnel work, business administration, and accounting. The fields of engineering, chemistry and pharmacy are rapidly becoming overcrowded.

Prospects are good for entrants in health service. There is a current critical shortage of nurses. In medicine and dentistry, competition is keen for entrance into the schools but those able to complete training will find good opportunities. Shortages also exist in the fields of medical technology, X-ray technology, dental hygiene, physical therapy, occupational therapy and dietetics.
