

Twenty CSTC Students Traveling To Chicago to Visit Next Weekend

Approximately 20 CSTC students will visit Chicago's museums and other places of interest on November 24, 25, and 26. Frederick A. Krempel, history instructor, is in charge of the trip and will serve as guide. This group will leave by cars from Stevens Point early Friday morning and will return Sunday evening.

The main attraction for these culture-conscious students will be the Imperial Hapsburg collection of art, which is on display at the Chicago Art Museum. They will view this art collection on Saturday afternoon.

Friday afternoon, the CSTC group will explore the Chicago Field Museum, the Planetarium, and the Aquarium, and on Sunday afternoon, the Museum of Science and Industry.

Mr. Krempel said that he hoped the group would be able to attend the production of Gounod's "Faust" to be given by the New York City Opera Company on Friday evening. Saturday evening is set aside for a concert by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

The CSTC "highbrows" will not spend all their time at museums and concerts, as some time will be allotted to sight-seeing and shopping. These 20 students will stay at the Stevens Hotel. Most of the group are students in Mr. Krempel's History 209 class, although anyone interested was invited to go.

Mr. Krempel estimates that the cost of this busy week-end will be between $25 and $30, but the cost is small compared to the value of this field trip. In the words of one who went on Mr. Krempel's field trip to Chicago last year, "It's certainly worth it — every penny."

New York Longines Symphonette Will Present Program Nov. 29

Miss Gertie Hanson

To Participate in

NCSS Sectional Meeting

Miss Gertie Hanson, CSTC geography instructor, will be one of the discussants at the sectional meetings of the National Council for Social Studies in Minneapolis Nov. 23 to 25.

Miss Hanson will lead the discussion at the sectional meeting on "Geography in Social Studies." Chairman of the section is Thomas W. Chamberlain of the University of Minnesota and the secretary is Miss Maud Broyles of the West Virginia state department of education.

Concert at Emerson Auditorium

One-Act Play Contest Held Here Tomorrow

Tomorrow, Friday, is the day for the district high school one-act play contest here in the auditorium at CSTC. All high schools that received A-ratings in their league contests are eligible to participate in this contest and it is expected that approximately 17 schools will be here.

High schools which will give their plays in the morning, beginning at 8 o'clock, are Stevens Point (P. J. Jacobs High school and St. Joseph's academy), Mosinee, Stratford, Marathon, Mattson and Wittenberg. In the afternoon, beginning at 1:30 o'clock, Antigo, Weyauwega, Birnamwood, Medford, Bowler, Greenwood and Green Lake will present their plays, and in the evening at 7 o'clock, Colby, Scandinavia, Pittsville and Endeavor.

General manager for the event is Al Moldenhauer, superintendent of schools in Mosinee. Leland M. Burroughs is in charge of local arrangements and will be assisted by the class in Speech 212 of the college. Joe Boettcher will be student manager of the tournament.

Officers and members of Alpha Psi Omega, national speech fraternity here, will assist in making the contest a success.

All the visiting schools which make reservations will attend a noon luncheon at Nelson Hall.

Each one-act play will be judged by Earl Kjer, chairman of the speech department at Eau Claire Teachers college.

The district contest will be held on Friday to enable CSTC students interested in dramatics to attend at any time during the day.

Thanksgiving Program Will Be Held Tuesday

An organ prelude by Marilyn Schilling will open the annual Thanksgiving assembly program to be presented on Tuesday, November 21, at 10 o'clock. This year's program will be sponsored by the Interfaith Council.

Rabbi Isaac Lerer, who will talk on the subject, "Thanksgiving and What It Means to the College Student," will be the main speaker of the morning.

Music for the program will be sponsored by L.S.A., which will feature a choir presenting several selections.

A scripture reading will be given and Reverend Jewel Pickett of the Baptist church will offer the closing prayer and benediction. Tuesday 10 o'clock classes will be dismissed for the assembly.

The Longines Symphonette, the New York radio symphony orchestra, will present a semi-classical musical program at the Emerson School auditorium on Wednesday, November 29, at 8 p.m. The program is sponsored by the CSTC entertainment committee and students will be admitted free of charge, by presenting their activity tickets.

The Symphonette, under the direction of Mishel Piastro, had its premiere broadcast over radio station WEAF in New York in 1941 and has been continuously on the air ever since. Now, for more than five years the Symphonette concerts have been broadcast over station WOR, New York, five times a week.

During 1948, the Symphonette made its radio debut on the Columbia Broadcasting System, and has recently completed its first five year cycle over the full C.B.S. network of 166 stations.

This magnificent concert ensemble has an established reputation in every nook and corner in the United States and Canada. Its programs have been carried by government owned radio enterprises, including that of the United States armed forces, throughout the world.

The program, which is subject to change, includes: "Marriage of Figaro Overture" by Mozart; "Passacaglia" (first performance), Handel-Thomson; "Petite Suite," Bizet; "Scherzo from 'Carmen'" (first performance) Bizet; "Ave Maria," Gounod; "Three Waltzes," Brahms; "Perpetuo Mobile," Ries.

After the intermission the following selections will be presented: (See SYMPHONETTE, page 8)

Dr. Williams Will Give Vitamin Discovery Talk

Dr. J. N. Williams, professor of biochemistry at the University of Wisconsin, will give a lecture in the college auditorium on Monday, November 27, at 8 p.m. The topic of his lecture is expected to be "Recent Discoveries in Vitamins."

This lecture will be sponsored by Sigma Zeta and the Junior College and is to be open to all college students and townspeople. Edward Furstenberg is president of the fraternity.

B-A Courteous Driver

These little pointers can mean the difference between your being a polished driver or just another driver. Watch this column for the week.

COURTESY OF THE WEEK

- DIM YOUR LIGHTS
1. All night driving in the city should be with lights on dim.
  2. Save a life — it might be your own — by dimming lights when meeting on coming traffic.

Work Is Well Underway Towards Forming Sorority, Psi Beta Psi

Preliminary work is already well underway on the formation of a new college women's sorority, Psi Beta Psi, whose charter members include Rosemary Boote, Violet Hansen, Pat Harrison, Vivian Hofman, Germaine Kranski, Delphine Marth, Betty Mehne, Arlene Meister, Beverly Mueller, Muriel Neerhof, Dorothy Omernik, Beatrice Peplinski, Jeanne Perry, Helen Reinecke, Elaine Ruffing, Elmarie Sbertole, Marcella Schantz, Joann Schwartz, Faith Spencer, Dolores Witter, Florence Zanella and Beverly Ziebarth.

The purposes of Psi Beta Psi sorority are to promote friendship and to broaden members' cultural and social life, as is stated in the charter and constitution of the group.

Mrs. Specht Patroness

Mrs. Raymond E. Specht has consented to become one of the group's patronesses. Faculty members are being approached this week to fill other honorary positions. The townspeople who have been chosen as patronesses are Mrs. Herbert R. Benn and Mrs. John McConb.

President William C. Hansen and the faculty have given their consent to the movement. Omega Mu Chi and the Tau Gamma Beta sororities have pledged their help and support.

Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner, dean of women, has especially helped the group by giving valuable suggestions and much of her time.

Betty Mehne President

Officers who were elected at the November 7 meeting include president, Betty Mehne; vice-president, Beverly Ziebarth; recording secretary, Marcella Schantz; corresponding secretary, Elmarie Sbertole; treasurer, Dolores Witter; assistant treasurer, Beverly Mueller; historian, Beatrice Peplinski; member at large, Rosemary Boote. These officers will work together in making up the Executive committee, the main governing body of the group.

Formal activities of this semester for the sorority will include the initiation, December 2, before the Senior Ball, and the inter-sorority dinner-dance, January 20.

The sorority's formal colors, peach and green, have already made their appearance in the form of ribbons being worn by all members. Pledging activities will begin the first part of next semester.

The sorority crest is being planned by the L. G. Balfour company of Madison. Legal work is being handled by Attorney R. L. Grover, Stevens Point.

Men's Glee Club Leaves Today on First Tour

After scarcely recovering from a strenuous weekend of anniversary festivities, the Men's Glee Club will start out this afternoon on the organization's first tour of the current year. Approximately 30 men will leave by bus shortly after noon and travel to Birnamwood for a concert before a joint audience of the Birnamwood and Mattson high schools. The group will then move to Laona for an evening concert at the Laona High school. Thursday night will be spent at the Laona Hotel and the following morning the men will go to Wabeno for a 10:30 a.m. concert. The final appearance will be made in Crandon before the student body of the Crandon High school; that concert is scheduled for 2:00 p.m. The club will then start the journey home and it is expected they will return sometime early Friday evening.

PROCLAMATION

Whereas the 23rd day of this month is Thanksgiving, and whereas classes will not be in session on the 23rd and 24th of this month, the POINTER staff will enjoy a week's respite from their arduous duties and retire to their respective tables for a hearty Thanksgiving meal and there will be no POINTER next week. A happy and filling Thanksgiving to you all.

November's Holidays Related

On the calendar for November, 1950, there appear three red letter days, the seventh, the eleventh and the twenty-third. The first of these days is set aside for national elections, the second in commemoration of the end of two world wars and the third for the giving of thanks.

At first glance it may appear that these three holidays are totally unrelated; other than appearing in the same month they have nothing in common. But a closer scrutiny will show that only in a democracy could these three dates appear on the calendar, and it is their appearance on the calendar that makes a democracy possible.

On the seventh of this month the voters of this country democratically elected the people they thought best suited to run their government. On the eleventh of this month the people of the United States paid homage to the men of this country who died protecting this democracy, and on the twenty-third of this month Americans will give thanks to God for many things, chief among which should be the privilege of living under a democratic way of life.

Hurrah for "Operation Week-End"

Hang onto your hats, Central Staters!

Student Council's plan — "Operation Week-End" — except for minor objections to the time for the religious meetings, is being greeted with hurrahs and approvals by both students and faculty. Widespread acceptance of the plan for keeping students here — and happy — on week-ends has exceeded the fondest hopes for its initiators in the Council, and barring any last minute catastrophes — we can think only of the H-bomb or the earthquake at the moment — Operation Week-End will be part and parcel of dear old "State" come the week-end after Thanksgiving.

So don't stuff yourself too much over the holidays, because you'll have the activities of Operation Week-End to fill whatever void is left. Picture the smooth Basket Balls at P. J. Jacobs after home games, the Saturday intramurals, ice skating followed by the Hooper club's hot lunches, and the climactic Saturday Swings at the "T" school. This is not to mention the yet controversial points of the program, the Sunday Night religious meetings and the open library. Indications that even these parts may be accepted are Newman club's tentative sanction, and Canterbury's already adopting the idea. Further, with only administration approval to come, Mr. Kampenga has strongly endorsed the open library idea.

With things moving at this accelerated speed, Student Council, too, has swung into additional action with the appointing of a steering committee including Betty Crook, Jim Hyer, Betty McGoff, Joe Boettcher, Mary Seales and Charles Robinson. These Council members are sounding out student and faculty opinion, working with the faculty-student social committee and co-ordinating ideas to bring Operation Week-End into sharper focus.

Optimistic as Student Council is, however, Jim Hyer cautioned the Council that, "such a plan, admirable though it is, will involve the participation of every student week-end. Central Staters will not be able to sit on the sidelines and be entertained constantly on week-ends — that's not the spirit of the U.S.A. or of C.S.T.C." The council agreed that, indeed, every week-end will have to roll up his sleeves, pitch in and work hard to make Operation Week-End all we want it to be.

It was Student Council opinion that the program can mean the birth of a new "freedom" here at Central State. Not freedom in the usual sense, but in the sense of a new school spirit, indeed a new attitude toward college life, and a fuller sense of the value real participation in college can mean in the building of a well-rounded teacher. Since, as Student Council recognizes, the most crying need in our nation today is better education, it follows that teachers must be complete, and that they must be active. What better way than Operation Week-End, says your Council.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Eta Rho

The Eta Rho organization held a short meeting on Tuesday evening, Nov. 7. The club, which was formerly called the E. and R. Group, decided upon a definite name, Eta Rho. The group is made up of members of the Evangelical and Reformed church.

Committees were chosen to look into the possibilities of having a party with another club, possibly this week.

WAA

Sixteen girls of the WAA played an exciting game of volleyball in the college gym at 6:30 p.m. on November 8. Flossie Zanella's team lost the game to the powerful team led by Mary Ann Petersen. The final score was 22-23 and it was the last game of the tournament, leaving a three way tie for the title.

During the business meeting, Donna Morgan was appointed to attend the State Women's Recreation Association convention in Milwaukee.

The executive board is working on a revision of the constitution, and an effective point system for awards.

Newman Club

A large gathering was very much pleased with the fine program presented by Father Thomas Mullen from Port Edwards in the auditorium last Thursday evening, under the auspices of the Newman club.

The program consisted of colored slides depicting various phases of Father Mullen's recent trip to Europe. A running narrative accompanied the pictures.

Members are urged to watch the Newman club bulletin board for notices about the next meeting.

YWCA

Initiation of all girls interested in becoming members of YWCA will be held Thursday, November 16, at Miss Miriam Moser's apartment. Girls will meet in the Nelson Hall living room at 7 p.m. Reta Fontaine and Arlene Altenburg are in charge of the initiation meeting.

**Around the Circuit**

The Superior Peptomist is sponsoring a "Calendar Girl" contest. The winner will be selected upon the merits of her picture alone. Personality or popularity is not considered. This contest is undoubtedly a good idea — certainly the winner will think so, as she has a chance to become the nation's "Esquire Calendar Girl."

Notice in the River Falls Voice — A cartoon of Chesterfields will be given to the student writing the best editorial for publication in the Voice. It must be at least 50 typewritten lines double spaced. It will be judged by the editorial staff of the Voice and their decision will be final. Editorials with school connections are especially adaptable.

On November 1 and 2, the River Falls Masquers presented the play "Three Men On A Horse." This play was about a timid greeting card poet who could tell which horse was going to win the coming race after he had been properly primed with Scotch. The antics of some of his gold-digging friends in trying to cash in on this ability made quite an entertaining play.

An editorial in the Whitewater Royal Purple may have some very important advice for every college student. This article points out that one's future in his chosen job may depend more upon his ability to get along with people than upon a high academic record.

At LaCrosse, among the newest of the campus organizations is Otyokwa, a club which places emphasis upon conservation. Membership is open to all men who have a genuine interest in conservation, as well as an appreciation for field and stream.

Platteville coeds definitely have something to look forward to. The Daisy Mae who catches Lil Abner in the Sadie Hawkins chase will have him as her date for the dance after Europe, along with the five dollars that goes with him.

Perhaps CSTC students will be interested in the following quote from the Oshkosh Advance on material for radio broadcasts. "Since there is nothing like a bit of humor to waken interest, why not collect all the old, warmed-over jokes used by faculty members and scatter them throughout the script? We feel that this feature would promote greater understanding of student problems and help radio listeners to appreciate the jolly times we have while absorbing knowledge."

Student Couples Declare —

"Nothing Better Than Marriage"

Included among the students at CSTC this semester are three married couples, all of whom were married this past summer. These two-somes are William Koch and Ruth Olson Koch, Fred La Leike and Helen Offerdahl La Leike and Ronald Buttkie and Lois Ihlenfeldt Buttkie.

Bill Koch, a star end on the Pointer football squad, graduated from Wausau High school, attended the University of Wisconsin for one year, served one year in the army and is now in his fourth year at CSTC. He is majoring in history.

Ruth Olson Koch is a graduate of Iola High school. This is her fourth year as a home economics major here.

Mr. and Mrs. Koch became acquainted as sophomores and were married in July of this year. Jim Koehn, former Pointer grid grid, now coaching at Wausaukee, and his wife took their vows alongside the Kochs in a double ceremony performed at Oshkosh by Bill's uncle. These couples then spent a double honeymoon at the Waupaca Chain O'Lakes.

Reside in Apartment

Bill and Ruth are now residing in a four apartment house on Strongs ave. They both agree that the days are much fuller than they were before they were married. Besides the customary housework and cooking, they both have the added load of practice teaching. They are very certain, however, that marriage is worth all the extra effort.

Fred La Leike, editor of the Pointer, is a 1944 graduate of Stoughton High School, an army veteran and a senior majoring in geography. Helen Offerdahl La Leike, a Stevens Point High School graduate, is also a senior, majoring in history. Despite her double role as housewife and college student, she finds time for her duties as president of Omega Mu Chi sorority and a part-time job at the public library.

summer was the result of a growing friendship which started when they were fellow freshmen. That they are very happily married is evidenced by the following statement made by Fred, "All those who are contemplating matrimony and going out every night and neglecting their studies for the sake of romance should get married as we did." A very homey and cozy little upstairs apartment on Ellis street is called home by the La Leikes. They are both very anxious to start their careers as teachers and are hoping that they will be able to find positions in the same school when they graduate in February.

Served in Navy

Ronald Buttkie, a husky 22 year old, went to high school in Waupaca, served two years in the navy and is now in his third year at CSTC. He is in the Intermediate division.

Lois Ihlenfeldt Buttkie received her high school education in Wausau, spent one year at Ripon college and is now a senior in the primary division. Ronnie has his classes arranged so that he is free every afternoon and is thus able to put in a 20 hour week at the Public Service corporation. He agrees wholeheartedly with Fred's admonition to college students and says, "You bet other students should get married; there's nothing better." The Buttkies feel that, aside from their no longer being eligible

Help! They Need Help!

More bass and tenor singers are needed to sing in the Mixed Chorus for the Christmas concert, in order to make the harmony completely balanced. According to Peter J. Michelsen, "Our balance is not quite as good as we would like to have it. We would like to have two or three more tenors and four or five more basses. If anyone is planning to come into the chorus, he should do so this week because there are only five weeks left until the concert."

Faculty Members to Take Part in Workshop

Several members of the faculty of CSTC will act as consultants in various subject matter fields at Marathon today when the Marathon county teachers hold their elementary and secondary school workshop.

CSTC instructors who will participate in the workshop are Mrs. Mary Samter, Dr. Harold M. Tolo, Miss Susan Colman, Miss Harriet Wright, Dr. Raymond E. Gotham, Arol C. Eppe, Kenneth W. Boylan, Miss Alice Hansen, Peter J. Michelsen, Burdette W. Eagon and Miss Bertha Glennon.

Found at Last!

Council's Long Lost Constitution

Discovery of the Student Council's lost constitution in Miss Syble Mason's library files has cleared up the mystery of just how far its powers extend. Article V reveals that the Student Council "shall have the power to make recommendations covering:

1. conduct of students,
2. the levying, allocating, and spending of student funds (that is, the money involved in the activity fees),
3. the election of class officers,
4. any other phases of college life.

The constitution states that "the Student Council shall also have any additional power that the president of the college wishes to confer on it, whether permanent or temporary." If it is of any timely interest, it should be known, too, "that the powers of initiative and referendum shall be reserved by the student body."

Interestingly enough, the preamble of the constitution says, "We, the students of Central State Teachers college, in order to take a more active part in our school, in order to promote school spirit, and in order to better prepare ourselves for future life (teaching), do establish this constitution." Such are the very aims of Operation Week-End which was described in last week's Pointer and which, coincidentally, the Council prepared without knowledge of the preamble statement.

Written in 1942 in the Ted Fritsch era of Central State, the constitution is indeed a far-sighted and democratic, though up-to-now little used document. Ted Fritsch, the brother of CSTC's Jim, was president of the Council at the time and, of course, is known to all football followers as a fullback with Green Bay's Packers.

STUDENT COUNCIL RECOMMENDATIONS

Highlights and recommendations of Student Council meetings to date:

1. No Junior College representation on the Student Council was recommended by Dr. Jenkins, in an answer to Jim Curry's query, Curry representing the Council in the matter.
2. Investigation and handling of possible bus trips to out-of-town athletic games was delegated to Norris Lindquist and Jim Hyer.
3. The publication and editing of a mimeographed Student Council news was delegated to Jim Hyer.
4. Cooperation with P. J. Jacobs high school in promoting Education Week was investigated and acted upon by Charles Robinson.
5. Recommendation for the purchase of new school pencil-sharpeners was made by Jim Curry and approved in Council.
6. The Young Democrats and Young Republicans were given recognition and votes of confidence.
7. Both Council and non-council representatives were appointed to the student-faculty committees. Representing the student body and having individual voting strength equal to the faculty's, these students will have a voice in determining the allocating of student funds; the hours, places, arrangements of college social events; the selection and arranging of assembly programs, entertaining and education; the scheduling of all college events; the determination of athletic policies, programs, trips. As appointed by Pres. Harry Johnson: Allocations — Frank Wesley, Art Schoff.

Entertainment — Joe Boettcher, Norma Harrington, Andy Redmann (alternate).
Social — Mary Douville, Jim Hyer
Athletics — Dick Lund, Norris Lindquist
Calendar — Roberta Henderson, Don Schulz.

8. Agreed, on Jim Hyer's motion, to petition the school administration for a mimeograph which would be made available for the use of all student organizations. President Hansen agreed to make the purchase if the Student Council would assume responsibility for its care and it was so agreed.

9. Suggested that a more democratic selection of cheerleaders be made, and invited cheerleaders to explain their present selection. Pending investigation of other teacher's colleges' policy in the matter, a definite recommendation was reserved for a future meeting.

10. Set second and fourth Mondays at 6:30 p.m. as regular Student Council meeting dates. All students are welcome to sit in at any meetings according to the Council constitution.

11. Voted to sponsor an all-college "Sweater Ball" as a part of a typical Operation Week-End.

Agreed to investigate and act upon the idea of having an ice skating rink on the Garfield school property south of the Campus Cafe for the facilitating of Operation Week-End and for general college student use.

12. Agreed on Jim Hyer's motion to investigate the possibility of joining NSA, National Student association, which organization has a program of evaluating the merits of teaching and teachers in colleges, as well as other aspects of college life, and which sends member colleges prominent speakers, authorities in their fields.

13. Recommended that the Pointer investigate the possible conversion of this and other teachers colleges into liberal arts institutions and report on this for the enlightenment of students, faculty and the public.

14. Recommended that the student members of the student-faculty athletic committee strongly recommend the purchase of new football uniforms for Central State's football team.

Mr. Heenan Favorably Impressed With CSTC Faculty and Students

When asked for his impression of CSTC, David K. Heenan, new instructor in the history department, answered, "I like the school very much, and I think it has an excellent faculty." He is also favorably impressed with the student body. Mr. Heenan is taking the place of Frank W. Crow, who received a year's leave of absence to work on his Ph.D. thesis. Mr. Heenan, who teaches 19 hours of history a week, is teaching fulltime for the first time. He did his practice teaching at the University of Wisconsin.

Mr. Heenan's college career was interrupted by the war. He worked three years for Uncle Sam in the Army Air Corps and served overseas for 16 months as a combat instructor with the 416th Bombardment Group in England, France and Germany.

Mr. Heenan was born and raised in Janesville, Wisconsin, and attended Janesville High school. He continued his education at Milton college where he received his bachelor's degree. His schooling at Milton, however, was interrupted by his three years in the army.

He then went to Washington University, St. Louis. He received his Master's degree at Washington and the past two years Mr. Heenan has

Form New Organization

A new organization has been formed on the campus. The name of this organization is the Young Democrats and the purpose is better political education. It will work with both sides of the story, bringing to students the latest developments in today's politics. Their bulletin board is next to the counter. Memberships are now available from any Young Democrat, says Louis Jacoboski.

King Peterson Chooses Miss Petersen as Queen

King Lloyd Peterson, president of the Senior class, has chosen his queen for the Senior Ball — she is Mary Ann Petersen, no relation, and a junior in the Primary division, for the big semi-formal dance which is to be held on Saturday December 2, at the American Legion hall. Various committees have been hard at work under the general direction of President Peterson.

The committees and their chairmen are as follows: Orchestra, Robert Karsten; invitations, Jeanne Brenner; hall arrangements, Allen Braem; publicity, Louis Jacoboski; decorations, Gerald Rued; refreshments, Muriel Neerhof; and tickets and programs, Bob Cook.

Twelve Students Become Members Of Honorary English Fraternity

Twelve students became active members of Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary English fraternity, at an initiation ceremony held Thursday night, November 9, at Nelson Hall.

The new members are George Greathouse, Gretchen Holstein, Shirley Jacobson, Fred La Leike, Helen La Leike, Dick Francis, Barbara Lewis, Dorthianne Rebella, Ralph Roberts, Harold Nietzel, Gerald Rued and Suzanne Swanke.

Joseph Boettcher, president of the local organization, conducted the candlelight ceremony, with the help of the actives of the society. Each of the new members received a long stemmed American beauty rose, the symbol of the National organization, at the close of the ceremony.

Harry Johnson and Joseph Boettcher were in charge of entertainment. Poems, short stories, editorials, and autobiographies which the pledges had written during their month of pledging were read. It was the duty of the new members to identify the author of each selection.

Refreshments were served by Donna Alderton, Virginia Gmeiner, Roberta Henderson and Dorothy Pre-court.

Special guests at the initiation were Miss Bertha Glennon, Norman E. Knutzen, and Leland M. Burroughs, the latter adviser of the organization.

Thanksgiving Day:

Pilgrims Give Thanks. Shall We?

To most people, Thanksgiving Day has come to mean the one day of the year when they can eat turkey, pumpkin pie, cranberries and the other traditional dishes until they can't get up from the table, and still have a good excuse. They are merely trying to eat all the food that they have, to show how thankful they are for having it.

Some may remember that the Pilgrims staged a celebration to give thanks to the Lord for bringing them through a hard winter and for giving them a plentiful harvest with which to face the next. At least the harvest was sufficient until Massasoit, chief of the Wampanoag Indians was invited. (He brought along 90 of his braves.) Even the well-filled larder of the Pilgrims shrank considerably under the demands of the great eating contest that followed. The Pilgrims just couldn't learn, however, for they continued to celebrate Thanksgiving Day.

Proclaims Day of Thanks

Since then, the custom has refused to die. In 1789, President Washington officially proclaimed Thursday, October 26, to be a day of Thanksgiving. The succeeding presidents seemed to think this proclamation was taking away some of the rights of the states, so Thanksgiving again became purely a local holiday.

In 1863, President Lincoln again declared Thanksgiving Day as a legal holiday. (Even if the Civil War was going on, the Union still had many blessings for which it could be thankful, such as a plentiful supply of food and the discovery of new sources of raw materials). From then on, the nation has paid at least lip, (perhaps stomach would be better) service to Thanksgiving Day.

Had Harvest Festivals

There are those who say that the Pilgrims did not originate Thanksgiving, although they did change its meaning. Many European countries, especially England and Holland, had harvest festivals during which, among other things, they tried to eat and drink that they might have a good harvest the next year.

Regardless of how it may have originated, Thanksgiving Day will be here again next Thursday. Perhaps we should pause briefly, if only between mouthfuls, to count the blessings which the Lord has given us this past year.

Miss Hrazdilova Speaks At Annual WSGA Banquet

Last night, Nelson Hall was the scene of the annual WSGA banquet for all women students and faculty women. Over 100 women were present. The main event of the banquet was a speech given by Miss Jirina Hrazdilova, an exchange student from Czechoslovakia, on her impressions of America.

Virginia Ann Gmeiner, who acted as toaststress, introduced the speaker. Following Miss Hrazdilova's speech, several musical selections were presented by Jean Keach and Barbara Nelson. The occasion was brought to a close with group singing.

Janice Gruen and Eleanor Curtis were general chairmen for the banquet. Their committee chairmen were as follows: Decorations, Pat Rezin; publicity, Ilse Hirzy; entertainment, Jean Ann Dobeck; tickets for Nelson Hall, Marlene Hartleb and for outside, Dolores Newhall.

NOTICE

If there are any students who would like to purchase extra tickets for the Longines Symphonette, they may obtain them from Mr. Michelsen at the price of two dollars each. There are only a few left.

Do You Think Students Should Be Encouraged to Stay Weekends?

The inquiring reporter came up with a question of current interest for this week's student opinion poll. The question, "Do you think something should be done to keep students here on week-ends, or do you think the freedom to leave on week-ends is a drawing point?" resulted in the following answers:

Helen Kolinski: "I think it is nice for students to be able to go home week-ends. Maybe it would be better if they would only go once in a while, though. Perhaps something could be worked out to encourage going home less often."

Dorothy Wotruba: "It is nice to be able to go home but I suppose that some who live too far away probably would like to have people stay here with them. Then, too, some people have jobs at home which they are able to keep by being able to go home."

John Cattanch: "If there was something going on around here on week-ends that didn't cost too much, I'd rather stay here."

Lloyd Peterson: "In my case it is necessary to go home on weekends and work in order to go to school. If there were more incentive to stay here, more people would."

Dona Dahm: "I think it should be up to each individual whether or not he stays here on week-ends. However, if a good week-end program is started I'm sure that many more students will want to stay and that will be a definite lift to the sagging school spirit."

Wilbur Cox: "A week-end program is good for the students who stay here anyway, but, in my opinion, it is an insult to a college student's intelligence to assume or pretend to know that he needs to be told whether or not it is advisable that he go home week-ends."

Frank DeGuire: "It is entirely up to them if they want to go home, but I think if a larger number of activities were provided a larger number of students would stay here."

Dave Ross: "All students should stay here if they can, because it is their duty to promote school spirit."

Gordon Fairbert: "If I could get cheaper meals over the week-end I would stay here."

Don Schumacher: "I don't think too much of the Student Council's idea. Students should be allowed to do as they please."

Nancy Goebel: "Yes, I think they have a very good idea. Give it a try and see what happens."

Ed. Heuer: "I am definitely in favor of the new week-end plans; still, the decision must be left to the individual."

Alpha Psi Omega Will Present Plays in January

On January 9 and 10, Alpha Psi Omega, dramatic fraternity, will present three one-act plays, "The Valiant," a serious drama; "Suppressed Desires," a satire; and "Curse You, Jack Dalton," a melodrama, which they have chosen to produce this semester. The playbooks have arrived and tryouts will begin immediately. Announcements concerning this will be posted on the Alpha Psi Omega bulletin board, or on Leland M. Burroughs' bulletin board. Sixty students have filled out tryout questionnaires, but Mr. Burroughs adds that anyone who desires to do so may still try out.

After preliminary studying and reading of the plays, a committee composed of members of the faculty and of the dramatic organization will select, by formal tryout, each play's cast. A production manager and members of committees for technical work will also be chosen. These productions will be coached by Alpha Psi Omega members, with Miss Pauline Isaacson and Mr. Burroughs acting as faculty advisers.

Men's Glee Club Anniversary Was Musical and Social Success

The Men's Glee Club Anniversary celebration last week-end was a musical and social success. Returning alumni got together with Norman E. Knutzen, the director, and the 1950 group, and good naturedly laughed at the changes 15 years can make in a man's appearance.

Saturday afternoon while the men were rehearsing for their anniversary concert, their wives were entertained at a tea planned by Mrs. Gilbert W. Faust, assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner.

A purple and gold frosted birthday cake took the spotlight at the dinner held at the Presbyterian church Saturday evening. The toastmasters, Gilbert W. Faust, and Edward J. Plank, introduced seven of the original members who were present, and Rudy Horn, the present president of the group, introduced other notable guests.

The president of the college, William C. Hansen, and Dean Herbert R. Steiner greeted the group, and the Glee club members, Mrs. Steiner, Mrs. Frank N. Spindler, and Mrs. William Scribner, Sr. each spoke briefly. Other speakers were Mr. Knutzen, Ken Veselak, the general chairman, and Gilbert Busch of Rhinelander, who was the first club president. A bit of musical entertainment was provided by alum Frank Kostuck, who sang two numbers.

After the dinner, an informal dance was held in the Training school gym, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

Chaperones were Mr. Knutzen, Dean and Mrs. Steiner, Mr. and Mrs. Faust, and Mrs. Spindler.

The climax of the weekend came Sunday afternoon at the concert presented by the present Glee club with the returning members.

Several alumni soloists sang for the guests in the crowded auditorium. William Theisen '34, Tom Koss, '49, Lawrence McKinnon, '48, and Carl Torkelson '50 showed by their solos that a man's singing ability can remain even after he is out of school. The strains of "Now Is the Hour" ended the concert and the reunion.

Letter to the Editor

(Editor's note: The following letter was received in answer to an editorial which appeared in the October 26 issue of the Pointer. A copy of the editorial, which was a condemnation of Life's article, "Who Teaches the Teachers?" was sent to the editors of Life magazine.)

November 10, 1950

Dear Reader:

A note to thank you for your recent comment.

It is extremely helpful to us to know what LIFE's readers think of our editorial material — whether criticism, praise or general personal reaction — and we very much appreciated hearing from you.

Sincerely yours,
D. S. Goodgion

(The following note, plus a very delicious box of California candy, came to the POINTER staff recently from Miss Frieda Schleuter, former Junior High school supervisor at the Training School. Miss Schleuter is now teaching in Ventura, California.)

Greetings!

This is for you and your Pointer staff! How I do enjoy receiving the paper. Thank you — and I hope you enjoy this "bit" of California.

Call Sylvester's Wild Life Class CSTC's Most Traveled Group

The Wild Life class is currently tabbed as "the most traveled class at CSTC." Under the supervision of Walter S. Sylvester, this group has been tramping all over the county observing wild life in the rough.

On Oct. 26, these "gypsies," under the expert guidance of Dr. and Mrs. Fred Hamerstrom, descended upon the southwest portion of Portage county to inspect the prairie chicken ranges there. Dr. Hamerstrom, who is a research biologist for the state conservation dept., and at present head of the grouse research project, explained about the prairie chicken's habits and feeding problems. Mrs. Hamerstrom, who also has a degree in Conservation, filled in what the doctor had neglected to mention.

Amid envious glances from fellow students on Nov. 7, the class departed for the State Goose Refuge near Hancock. They were directed around the Refuge by Norbert Demaske, the district game manager, and gained much knowledge from Dick Hunt, a research aid in the state water fowl project.

Mr. Hunt had two crippled geese which the class nervously handled and inspected at close range. They then paddled down into the marsh where they watched in awe as over 1,000 Canadian geese took flight.

Fred J. Schmeekle's well-thumbed little black book is full of speaking

To the Editor:

I would like very much to keep in touch with CSTC so I am asking that you place me on your mailing list. I noticed in one of the issues this fall that you would extend a subscription to any student who was drafted. The catch is that I enlisted. If you wish me to, I will be glad to send the usual subscription fee!

I am presently stationed at Fort Sheridan where I have been processed. I am waiting to find out where I will be sent for my six weeks basic training. After that I will be given an assignment. When I enlisted I requested the Corps of Engineers. The results of the testing during the processing procedure I went through backed up my request. It remains to be seen if the Army wants me for that job.

My present address is:
Rt. Robert G. Anderson
RA 17295017
Co. A, 114 Engr. C Bn.
Camp McCoy, Wis.

This address will be changed but my mail will be forwarded. I will, of course, let you know my next address.

Operetta Postponed

An operetta originally planned for November 28, to be presented by the Training school, has been postponed until a later date in the spring. All parts have not been assigned because of the illness of the music director, Miss Helen Heel, who will not resume her classes until the latter part of next week.

A concert will be presented by the training school on Monday afternoon, December 18, in the college auditorium.

Two Problems Face Coach Quandt As He Whips Cagers Into Shape

As basketball mentor, Hale Quandt, leads his 31 cagers through the second week of practice, two pressing problems must be pecked with.

First, the size of the squad must be cut down to a workable number. At the beginning of drills last week some 40 hopefuls were on hand. At the present time the squad numbers about 31 men. The second issue that must be dealt with is the lack of height on this year's Pointer squad. Right now the two tallest eligible men are Willard Herrick, a freshman forward, and Don Schneiders, junior center, both standing six feet two inches.

Guards John Meleski, Stevens Point, and Ray Anderson, White Lake and Forwards Willard Herrick, Minocqua and Phil Jones, Elkhorn.

A whole host of transfer students are working out daily with the squad. They will be eligible for competition next semester. Heading this list of newcomers are two six foot, four inch boys, Ronald Mehlum, Viroqua and Ray Zwolinski, South Milwaukee. Jack Negaard, transfer from Drake University, Jim Lawton, Viroqua; Dick Davis, Madison; Al Meyer, Madison; and Tom Ackerman, Algoma, are the other transfer students.

The Pointers will open their season on November 30 against Northland College at Ashland; the next night they will play Michigan Tech at Houghton.

FIFTH QUARTER

The talk that predominates in all the local coffee houses and beer gardens these days has to do with the Wisconsin Badgers. Probably no other team in gridiron history has been given so little credit for so much accomplished. Most of the blame can be put on sports writers and announcers. Associated Press was the latest one to attack the merits of the Badgers. One of AP's "Swamis," who could really fare much better earning a living if he sat on a nail infested board in Calcutta, said that "Wisconsin could lose 100-0 and still go to the Rose Bowl." Another Badger heckler is a windy city sports caster, Bob Elson. This Chicagoan stated a few weeks ago it would be a pity to see a weak Wisconsin eleven represent the Big Ten. Most likely Elson picked the Illinois and the Northwestern teams to beat the Badgers and he couldn't stand to see his percentages flop.

And so it is the raging wolves keep yelling from coast to coast about the "weak Wisconsin eleven."

Tom Curry, former CSTC star who starred this past football season for La Crosse, ended up tenth top scorer in the nation. "Petite" Tom had 72 points to his credit. Another La Crosse player, Ace Loomis, compiled 66 points for 14th scorer in the nation.

Don Jirschele, Clintonville's All-Conference halfback, is a brother of Dick Jirschele, who played this season for CSTC. The younger Jirschele scored seven touchdowns in one game this season. He also led the Northeastern Conference in scoring with 198 points.

Another CSTC student will make his debut in professional baseball this spring. He is Ed Heuer from Wild Rose. Eddie signed a contract to play for the Oshkosh Giants of the Wisconsin State League. Heuer worked out several times at third base when the Giants played their home games last summer and will report to the Sanford, Florida, base.

Reviewing last year's conference basketball standings, we find the champion, River Falls, will have to rebuild in order to repeat as winners. The Falcons lost valuable men through graduation, mainly Nate DeLong, Harry Gibbs, Wally Lindholm and Newman Benson.

The Oshkosh Titans, who ended up in a tie for second place with Milwaukee, have also lost heavily. Coach Kolb's "married men" including starters Doug Ritchie, Arden Luker, Dick Schumacher, Jim Adams and Fritz Lautenschlager have left the hardcourt scene. These five men were most responsible for the Titans high standing.

The Eau Claire Blugolds welcomed back eight lettermen. Included in this list are George Billmeyer, Jim Bos, Gene Musolf and Dick Emanuel. Look out for the Eau Claire outfit this season — they might have it.

Geography Class Visits Two Point Industries

Raymond E. Specht's industrial geography class, Geography 207, has visited two Stevens Point industries on field trips carried on in connection with their class work. While working on their first unit, dealing with minerals and rocks and their products, the class visited the Haertel Monument Works. Their second trip was to the Lullabye Furniture company and was made during the class study of a unit on forestry.

These field trips are being made with the purpose of familiarizing the students with various phases of industry, in preparation for a final study of some national industry of the student's choice, a study which will culminate the semester's work.

members, Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner will speak about "College Life". Refreshments will be served.

Round Table

Members of the intermediate and upper elementary divisions held their first meeting October 30. After roll call and remarks by their adviser, Miss Susan Colman, the meeting was turned over to Bill Plath, chairman.

In discussing semester programs, all seniors and juniors were urged to see Miss Colman in the very near future in order to check on and work out the proper programs in accordance with the division requirements.

It was agreed to hold all regular meetings on the last Monday of the month at 7 p.m. In case of conflict, notices will be posted regarding time or meeting changes.

New officers were elected at this meeting and are as follows: President, Richard Turzinski; vice-president, Harriet Marking; secretary-treasurer, Marvin Mayer. Louis Jacoboski was unanimously accepted as Student Council representative, having been appointed previous to the meeting by the nominating committee.

It was urged that all members of the Round Table become acquainted with their adviser and the officers. They are asked to watch the bulletin board in front of Miss Colman's office for news concerning the organization.

Wesley Foundation

Rev. George Jordan, the State M.S.M. director, was at the Wesley Foundation meeting last Thursday at St. Paul's Methodist church. He led the group discussion on "Man and His Conscience."

Janice Gruen read a short selection on Brotherhood. Eddie Heuer gave a short talk on Indians and their religion and Bob Gilbert told about Negro spirituals and their meaning.

Plans were made for selling Christmas cards and Dolores Newhall, dramatics chairman, told about the pageant which Wesley will put on before Christmas.

The meeting was closed by Arthur North, who led the devotions. He was assisted by Donald Douglas, Jean Keach and Gretchen Holstein.

WSGA

Roberta Henderson presided over the meeting of all college women held in the auditorium on November 3. She introduced the members of the WSGA executive board and then called on Janice Gruen, who told the girls about the college women's banquet to be held on Wednesday, November 15, and urged them to get their tickets. Mrs. Pfiffner told the girls about an assembly in the spring at which time Kathryn Turney Garten will speak on "The Art Of Becoming a Woman." This is to be a public relations assembly to which the seniors from surrounding high schools will be invited. The college women will act as hostesses to them and Mrs. Garten at a social hour which will follow the assembly.

After the regular meeting, Freshman girls elected Shirley Sonnenberg to represent them on the executive board of the WSGA.

Trigon

The student council's plan, "Operation Week-End," was the main topic during the business meeting of Trigon Thursday night. A member of the Student Council spoke about the plan. It was discussed and decided by all members present that Trigon will be willing to help with the plan but will be unable to change the meeting night to Sunday.

An interesting discussion on "Can We Have Fun in Religion?" was led by Margie Lawrie.

Rae Guenther was in charge of the worship. A square dance led by Ross Papke and Barbara Bea was greatly enjoyed by the members. Lunch of popcorn, apples, and cider was served. The Christmas party will be held December 14.

Gamma Delta

Initiation evening and the Gamma Delta State Convention made last week-end a busy one for Gamma Delta members. Over 50 members enjoyed the initiation banquet and entertainment last Thursday evening, and 15 members attended the convention at Madison last Saturday and Sunday.

A week and a half of pledging was brought to a happy climax when 19 pledges were received into the Gamma Delta fraternity in a vesper service last Thursday evening. Vicar Bragdon Smith delivered a short address. At the conclusion of the service, President Gordon Fairbert conducted the formal initiation of the pledges. Earlier in the evening old and new members banqueted by the light of blue and white candles, blue and white being the Gamma Delta colors. Everyone who attended was given a blue and white corsage.

Harriet Marking, accompanied by Pauline Weisen at the piano, opened the evening's entertainment by singing "A Prayer of Thanksgiving." Later in the evening she sang "O Perfect Love." Byron Moen sang "Danny Boy" with Bob Grueling at the piano. The remainder of the entertainment was provided by the pledges. Skit One, under the direction of Jerry Boettcher, presented a kindergarten discussion on football. Skit Two, led by Joy Lane, depicted the tragic story of "Pokey Hantus" in pantomime. The pledges concluded the program with a group of songs and barnyard imitations. The laurels for the evening's success belong to Eunice Rothweiler, pledge-master, Warren Hamel, toastmaster, and Mrs. Marjorie Kerst, faculty adviser.

Early Saturday morning, 15 Gamma Delta members journeyed from Stevens Point to Madison where they heard Professor Kunkel, a biochemist at the university of Wisconsin, disprove atheism by means of science. They also were taken on conducted tours of Madison, discussed various phases of student life and heard a round table discussion on finality. Eunice Rothweiler represented CSTC on the round table group. Lodging for Saturday evening was provided by various private homes and student halls. All CSTC convention representatives report an enjoyable and interesting week-end.

Sadie Hawkins Day Celebrated in Fine Style

The traditional Sadie Hawkins day was celebrated in fine style last Friday evening when 100 Dogpatch-costumed characters danced to modern music in the Training school gymnasium. The dance was sponsored by the YWCA.

The gymnasium was decorated with numerous Dogpatch characters from the Li'l Abner comic strip. Louis Jacoboski and Nancie Goebel won prizes for the best Li'l Abner and Daisy Mae costumes. Other recipients of prizes were Elizabeth Holm and Mary Ann Petersen who impersonated people from Mars.

The Dogpatchers dined on "Kickapoo Juice" (root beer) and "preserved turnips" (chocolate doughnuts).

Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Lyness and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sylvester were chaperons.

Farm and Home Program. Miss Vera Hub will have as her guest, Mr. James Schwalbach, creator of "Let's Draw" heard over the School of the Air on WHA. They will be discussing "Fun With Textile Paints At Home."

Monday, November 20

as dates, their marriage has had little effect upon their relationships with fellow students.

Summarizing the evidence to make the facts readily available to anyone who may have a vital personal interest in them, we find that all three couples are very happy and contented although marriage has increased the rigor of their daily schedules. It is necessary for them to live rather frugally in order to make ends meet, but they are all very decided in their opinion that the average student can be a successful husband or wife without sacrificing any of his or her success as a student.
