

THE WORLD RENOWNED SOUTHERNAIRES Quartet will appear here next Tuesday night in a concert, giving the students a once in a lifetime opportunity. This group has been thrilling audiences for a great many years, and it is indeed fortunate that Central State could procure them.

Board of Regents Authorizes the Granting of Liberal Arts Degree

Dr. Jenkins Is Dean of New College

President William C. Hansen of Central State last week announced the organization of a college of Letters and Science. He announced at the same time the appointment of Dr. Warren G. Jenkins as dean. These announcements followed the action of the Board of Regents authorizing the granting of Liberal Arts degrees at the State Teachers colleges.

Central State will now offer four year general courses leading to the Bachelor of Arts and the Bachelor of Science degrees. The requirements will be the same as requirements for the same degrees at the University of Wisconsin.

President Hansen said that few changes will be required in the courses now offered at the college. Most of the courses necessary for the training of teachers in recent years have been standard liberal arts courses. For this reason many young men and women have registered at the college for two to four years of liberal arts courses before going to other colleges or universities for their degrees or for professional study. These students may now receive their degrees at Central State.

Five years ago Central State organized a Junior College to take care of students who were candidates for teaching degrees. The enrollment

A bill is now before the Education Committee of the state legislature that will change the name of CSTC. The new proposed measure calls for the dropping of the word "Teachers." This would make the name of the school, Central State College. The bill would hold true for all of the state teachers colleges. Superior, which already offers the liberal arts degree, is already called Superior State College.

ment in the Junior College has averaged about four hundred students. The Junior College will now be merged in the new four year Letters and Science organization.

President Hansen said the action of the Board of Regents is in answer to the public demand that these degrees be offered at the local state colleges. He anticipates that this demand and the lower cost of living at Stevens Point will materially increase the enrollment at Central State.

Jenkins Will Organize

Dean Jenkins has been assigned the responsibility for organizing and administering the new curricula for the Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science. The Curriculum committee of the faculty has already determined that the curricula and the academic majors offered for the new degrees are to be the same as those of the University of Wisconsin.

A bulletin describing the new degrees will be published by the college before the end of the present semester. Application for enrollment in the new courses will then be accepted.

Music Notes

Arnold Jindrick, CSTC alum, who will play in the Homecoming band concert Sunday, has just been voted Sparta's "Man of the Year." When he submitted his march to Peter J. Michelsen he had no title for it. Mr. Michelsen named it "Man of the Year" in his honor.

Majorie Loberg, Nelsonville, won first place in the Chicagoland Music Festival, competing against musicians from all over the country, and playing for an audience of 125,000 people.

Big Phi Sig Style Show Coming April Fool's Day

Coming, Coming, Coming — the one and only Phi Sig Style Show! A style show to end all style shows will be given April 1. According to Jim Greathouse, publicity chairman, there will be a variety of talent from vaudeville to "opera" that should appeal to everyone — high brow or low brow, or no brow at all. The Phi Sig band will be on hand to play everything from jazz to sweet ballads, and there will be several vocals. An especially arranged performance of the opera "Das Rheingold" will also be given. The style show will feature the latest fashions to wear the year 'round on the campus — fashions which will make the smart co-ed sit up and take careful note. Of course the famous chorus line of Phi Sig beauties will also make its appearance. Ralph Roberts is the general chairman of the show.

Plan to attend. Remember the date, April Fool's day: Jim Greathouse warns that anything can happen — and probably will.

Don Helgersen Elected New President of AKL

Don Helgersen will guide the destinies of Alpha Kappa Lambda, conservation fraternity, for the coming semester. Don was elected to the post at a meeting of the AKL held Wednesday evening, February 21.

Other officers elected include Charles Kellogg, vice-president; Richard Jansen, recording secretary; Robert McMahon, treasurer.

Southernaires, Great Negro Quartet, to Sing for CSTC

The Southernaires, one of today's greatest Negro vocal ensembles, will appear in the auditorium at CSTC on Tuesday, March 13, at 8 p.m. Since their organization in 1929, they have established a reputation as outstanding performers in the radio and concert field.

The Southernaires won immediate popularity with their first radio broadcast over the National Broadcasting system 20 years ago, and they became favorites with radio listeners and on the concert stage from coast to coast. Their weekly radio broadcast is heard every Sunday at 10:30.

Program Has Variety

Their repertoire covers songs from the classics, old English folk songs, the more popular melodies of the modern composers, as well as the traditional Negro spirituals and folk songs.

Among the songs offered by the Southernaires will be "I'm Falling In Love With Someone," "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" and "Gypsy Love Song" by Herbert, "My Lindy Lou" by Strickland, "Lincoln's Gettysburg Address" by Odom, "Old Man River" by Kern, "Shallow Brown" by Grainger as well as several old traditional songs like "Old MacDonald Had A Farm," "John Henry," and "Red Rosy Bush."

A sample program of this versatile group includes the music of Franz Schubert, Felix Mendelssohn, George Frederick Handel, Victor Herbert, George Gershwin and Sigmund Romberg.

Sung on Radio

The weatherbeaten whitewashed church has become a Southernaires' trade mark in the past 20 years. This portion of their Sunday morning radio program has brought favorable comments from all over this country as well as from overseas. A short scene is injected into the program so that the audience may hear the old songs of Zion and listen to the prayer band leader. As a delightful finale, this eminent quartet presents music which gives rest and peace to everyone as they stop at that church by the side of the road.

Joseph Crawford is the tenor, John Taylor, second tenor, Mulford Lee, baritone and William Edmorrison, bass. Spencer Odom is the accompanist.

Donors will close at 8 o'clock and no one will be admitted except between numbers. A student activity ticket is necessary for admission.

Pledges' Happy End of Rushing Is Greek Formal

The culmination of fraternity and sorority rushing activities, the semi-annual Pan-Hell formal, will be held at the American Legion hall on Saturday, March 31. As always, the dance will be sponsored by the five Greek social organizations on the campus.

The price of admission to the dance will be a mere $1.50 per couple, but the dance is closed to all but members of the organizations and their guests. The dance will last from 9 to 1 o'clock.

The decorations for the dance will be made by the Psi Beta Psi sorority. The Omegas procured the hall for the occasion. Tau Gamma Beta is responsible for the invitations and the chaperones. The programs and tickets are being taken care of by the Psi Sigs. Chi Delta Rho is engaging the orchestra for the dance, but as yet a choice has not been made. George Mosey is acting as dance chairman.

Nearness to Home Reason For Fresh Choice of CSTC

From paragraphs written by the Freshmen, through the cooperation of the Freshman English teachers, Mrs. Raymond E. Specht has compiled the following interesting data on why Freshmen chose CSTC as their college. Great consolation to the suitcase student's ego is the fact that nearness to home topped the list of reasons. However, reasonable cost ranked a high second.

Many also preferred a small college, at least for the first two years, and stated that the courses were comparable to other liberal arts or professional schools and that credits would transfer easily. Promotional talks by former CSTC students and recommendations by high school teachers and friends attending the college also lured many of them to CSTC. The college's good reputation, friendliness, and fine teacher-student relationships were also great promoters.

Some Freshmen indicated their intention of becoming teachers, and a few stated specific departments which were recommended as being especially good. Conservation ranked first, then the primary department, home economics, rural division, music, athletics, chemistry, mathematics, and English.

CSTC Band, Alumni to Celebrate Annual Homecoming This Weekend

A mass of activities will descend upon all band members of CSTC when band alumni from all over the state return for the Homecoming this weekend, March 10 and 11.

Beginning on Saturday morning at 9:30 and continuing throughout the morning, the band, composed of alumni and regular members, will hold rehearsals in the college auditorium. Peter J. Michelsen, band director, invites faculty members to come in and greet their former students.

Luncheon at One

A luncheon arranged by Bob Bestul, Betty Gilbertson and Beverly Barnes will be served the entire band at 1 o'clock in the band room. During the afternoon rehearsal the band Alumni association will elect its officers for the following year and at 6 o'clock that evening the entire band will attend a banquet at St. Paul's Methodist church parlors. Ralph Abrahamson, Medford, alumni president, will be toastmaster. Guests of the band at the (See CSTC BAND, page 4)

The Fraternities Begin Annual Pledging Season

The Chi Deltas are pledging 17 members and the Phi Sigs are pledging nine members to their respective fraternities for this semester.

These men will be put through the paces until March 31, when at the Pan-Hellenic banquet and dance they will become active members of their fraternity.

The men pledging Chi Delta Rho are Jerry Boettcher, Bill Cook, Marilyn Gilbert, Bill Hoppe, Ed Jacobsen, Richard Kussman, Bernie Laabs, Dave Morgan, Jim Mulady, Gene Paulsen, Bob Paulsen, Norm Qandam, Russell Roberts, John Sandberg, Fred Schadevald, Dave Specht, and Rawley Young.

The boys hoping to become active of Phi Sigma Epsilon include Ray Anderson, George Bacon, Jerry Bartosz, Walt Brunsman, Bob Dehlinger, Bill Endle, Bob Gruling, Dennis Schrank and Ray Zwolinski.

Men's Glee Club to Sing

On Sunday, March 11, the Central State Men's Glee Club will make an appearance at the Pulaski High School. The concert which the club is to sing will be part of the dedication ceremony of the school's new gymnasium-auditorium.

George Watson, state superintendent of schools, will be the main speaker on the program.

On the return trip the group will stop at Tigerton for an evening concert.

The Glee Club is now moving into its busy season. Last Friday the group sang concerts at Minoqua and Eagle River, and Tuesday an evening concert was sung at Amherst.

Young Republicans Confer With Officials at Madison

A delegation of members of the CSTC Young Republicans club went to Madison on Monday and Tuesday of last week to speak with the officials of the state government on state matters of importance to the school.

The first problem considered was that of granting a liberal arts degree at this college. The second issue under consideration was the proposed reduction in the faculties of teachers colleges.

This second problem is of special interest and concern to the school, because a reduction of staff would result in a serious curtailment of curriculum at Central State. The proposed budget was discussed with the state budget director and the governor, and plans have been made with the legislative leaders for the Young Republicans representative to appear before the budget hearings in protest of these cuts on March 14.

The members of the party who went to Madison are Jack Moore, John Cattanach, Jim Curry, Bertram Davies, Ray Levy, Bob Flint and Ferd Hirzy.

Welcome Back! Operation Weekend

"Operation Weekend" was welcomed back to CSTC last Saturday night with the WAA sponsoring a roller skating party. From all reports, those who attended had a wonderful time, but there should have been more there. However, we feel that it is a step in the right direction.

"Operation Weekend" could be developed into something fine for the school. No longer would there have to be the cry that there is nothing to do here on weekends. The first one attempted this fall was a huge success. The party last Saturday was also worthwhile.

The steering committee of the Student Council is busy in lining up organizations to sponsor future events. It is hoped that these organizations shoulder their responsibilities and put on something for the students. It shouldn't take too much time for an organization to plan something for the weekend. And there are plenty of ideas that can be used to make them different and yet entertaining.

When members of the steering committee approach your group to enlist your aid in staging "Operation Weekend," we hope you will pitch in and make each weekend something to look forward to.

Hyer's the Facts on Faculty Cut

Tomorrow morning, Friday, March 9, at 10 o'clock the college auditorium will be the scene of an all-college assembly called for the purpose of airing the students' concern over the proposed cut in the college faculty. The assembly will seek to determine the facts of the suspension of probably six faculty members brought on by the proposed cut in the state educational budget for the Teachers Colleges.

The Governor's budget recommendations for the Teachers colleges for 1951 allow for a decrease in appropriations amounting to $229,000. This decrease must be distributed equitably among the 10 state colleges. Central State's cut will amount to an approximate $21,000. This means a lopping off of five and possibly six instructors.

Since the budget recommendations were based on an estimated 30% decrease in enrollment next fall over the fall of 1950 and failed to consider a possible increase that the new liberal arts program could bring, some kind of action — concerted student action — is demanded.

Further, since the situation has existed that faculty members have been carrying overloads in teaching and activity hours, and since the situation will finally be alleviated by the retention of every faculty member, the facts seem to indicate that any faculty cut would be unreasonable.

Because the students of Central State have an obvious and vital stake in what will happen it will be the students themselves who will conduct, and participate in, tomorrow's meeting. You owe it to yourself and to Central State to be present and to help act on this vital matter.

Jim Hyer

FAMILIAR FACES

This week's Familiar Face is another one of those slightly amazing people who seem to have a finger in every pie in school without going batty or flunking out of the business end of modern education. Dedie Rebella, or Dorotheanne, as she is known on official papers, has completed three years of such activity and promises to last one more.

Dedie is a dark-eyed girl with black curly hair. She is partly Italian and poses that takes a master's degree, so I'll settle for southern Wisconsin."

One of Dedie's most important outside activities is Tau Gamma Beta sorority. She is also a member of Sigma Tau Delta and a pledge of Alpha Psi Omega. Dedie likes her speech courses the best and is directing a play at the Training school. She played in "Years Ago" and "The Valiant" here in college.

A Baton Twirler

Others of Dedie's pastimes include baton twirling, tap-dancing, and occasionally a combination of the two, as a drum majorette. "I wish I could keep on twirling," says Dedie, "if and when I have a job, but if my students and the other teachers saw me, I'd probably get tossed off the faculty."

Dedie has also done a bit of cheerleading. For two and a half years she bounced around, until all she could see was spots. Soon she couldn't even see them. Now CSTC cheers without the professional guidance of Dedie Rebella.

As for hobbies, she says that she "has no time for such nonsense."

Works at Co-op

During her sophomore year, Dedie was one of the "barmoids" at Westy's Drug store. She now works at the Co-op. She became the advertising manager of the Pointer this semester, succeeding Elmarie Sbertole.

Dedie has one other accomplishment which should be mentioned here. She has the rare ability to make like a chicken — as far as the squawking goes. She discovered this while visiting her home, and has put it to practical use. She and her and somewhat of everything else, which makes her typically American. She was born in Illinois and moved to Mellen, her present home, when she was 12. Dedie is a junior in the secondary division, majoring in English, and minoring in speech and history.

If we don't get anything else out of our lectures, we still occasionally remember a joke. We were talking about trees when the professor asked "How far can a dog go into the woods?" Those of us who had been digging feverishly through our notes looking for the answer felt a bit foolish when he answered his own question, "Only half way, for after that he's coming out."

Moral of the week — Late one night a policeman saw a drunk down on his hands and knees searching for something beneath a street light. When the policeman inquired, the drunk told him he was looking for his watch.

"Just where did you lose it? Maybe I can help you find it," replied the officer.

"It's sh somewhere in the middle of this block," lisped the drunk.

"Well, then why in — aren't you looking for it there," roared the cop.

"Because there's so much more light here," replied the drunk.

We think that many of us are just like that drunk. Instead of meeting our problems head on, we hem and haw around, trying to sneak up on them or looking for an easier way out. A philosopher, yet!

Wesley Entertains All At School-wide Soda Popper

The Wesley foundation at Central State Teacher's college entertained all college students and faculty Wednesday, February 28, from 3 to 5 o'clock, in the student lounge.

Students drank pop, ate potato chips, and listened to various musical numbers. Gordon Sorensen, president of the organization, and Margie Benson, a member, greeted guests at the door, and the entire foundation acted as hosts and hostesses. Phyllis Jarnick and Glenna Clark were chairmen of the hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Arol C. Epple and Dr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Lyness are faculty advisers for the organization, and Rev. and Mrs. Jans Vander Graff are pastoral advisers.

Indian Service Needs Elementary Teachers

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced that there is an urgent need for Elementary Teachers in the Indian Service. The Commission announced an examination for Elementary Teachers in June 1950, but to date sufficiently qualified candidates have not been recruited.

The jobs being filled from the Commission's examination pay $3,100 a year. Applicants will not be required to take a written examination. To qualify, they must show successful completion of a full 4-year course leading to a degree from an accredited college or university, including or supplemented by 24 semester hours in education of which 12 hours must be in elementary education. Applicants whose courses do not include 2 semester hours in methods of teaching elementary grades or 2 semester hours in practice teaching of elementary grades must have had one year of teaching at the elementary level. Applications will be accepted from students who expect to complete the required courses within 90 days after filing their applications.

Never A Dull Moment — Librarians Also Have Pet Peeves

Most individuals who use the college library are aware of the industrious students at work behind the main desk, but let's really get some close-ups of them at work.

This group of students, the library assistants, is comprised of Barbara Bea, Irene Beaver, Dorothy Brown, Anita Domack, Janice Gruen, Muriel Held, Roberta Henderson, Vivian Hofman, Marilyn Knope, Catherine Konop, Nancy Pautz, Pauline Weissen, Wilbur Cox, George Krienke, Gordon Sorensen and Ray Zwolinski. A few, such as Anita Domack, Muriel Held and Roberta Henderson are veterans of several years' experience, but many are new at the job. They advance by on-the-job experience as well as by taking courses in library science.

Lead Busy Life

If you've been in the library very often, you won't accept the statement that librarians lead dull lives. The student librarians are too busy doing things to facilitate use of the library's vast resources. Although their job involves routine work such as checking books in and out, reserving books and periodicals, typing card headings and book lists, and locating books and back issues of magazines, numerous happenings from time to time serve to keep the work from being very dull. A veteran worker, for instance, recalled an incident with a friendly library-flying bat that evidently entered with good intentions; but since librarians are prejudiced against bats, he did not leave alive. The librarians frequently have to employ their Sherlock Holmes technique in the never-ending quest for books.

Librarians have pet peeves as well as anyone else does. Among those expressed were: Students asking for information they could find through their own initiative; jamming at the counter during busy times; staying in the library until the exact closing time at night; staunch insistence of not being responsible for a book; walking off with desk pencils; going "behind the stacks" without showing permits; and day-dreaming in the library — mark that, friends!

Students, Library-Conscious

The librarians have observed that students this year are more library-conscious than last year, that they are very courteous, but that many lack adequate training and experience in the use of the library.

These librarians have described their work as fascinating, satisfying, and rewarding. It promotes their own better library research, provides practical training, presents interesting experiences, and provides the satisfaction of dealing with and assisting others in the use of the library.

'51 Baseball Predictions:

Swami Turzinski and Crystal Ball Tell How They'll Stand Next Fall

By Dick Turzinski

Around this time of year a group of athletes falling in the phylm of baseball players emerge from their boudoirs to prepare for the opening day.

And also, as usual procedure, a troop of newsmen start making predictions as to the possibilities of each team.

The Pointer, not to be outdone by any of the metropolitan organs, would also like to give its readers a few choice picks for the coming baseball season. Of course, our gracious audience must bear in mind the uncertainty of the world situation which makes predicting a very hazardous job. With this in mind let us proceed to get a preview of America's favorite sport.

1st Place to Indians

Starting with the American League, our first place choice falls to the Cleveland Indians. First year manager, Al Lopez, 11-5 a 20 plus winner in pitcher Bob Lemon. Outfielder Larry Doby and catcher, Jim Hegan, gives the Indians the needed strength down the middle which is essential for a flag winning club. Also keep an eye on rookie "Suitcase" Simpson — he's better than Luke Easter.

Second place will be awarded to the New York Yankees. Manager Casey Stengel will not recover from the loss of Whitey Ford, the kid left

The St. Louis Cardinals with their midwest pitching staff will have to settle for fifth, the Chicago Cubs will win out for sixth, the Cincinnati Reds look good for seventh and the Pittsburgh Pirates will have the honor of eighth place.

CSTC Loses

The CSTC Pointers ran into a bit of bad luck at Plattville last Monday night and they bowed to the Plattville Pioneers, 72-61, in a rough and rugged basketball game. This was the sixth conference loss for the Quandtmen.

The Pointers concluded their season last night against Whitewater but the final result of the game was not known as the Pointer went to press.

A more complete account of these two final games will be published in next week's issue of the Pointer.

Intramural Basketball Ends Play With Tourney

Action in the intramural basketball league will terminate within the next two weeks. This week's play closes the regular leagues, which will be followed by the championship play-offs. The two top teams of each division will battle in a sudden death tournament to determine the 1951 intramural champ. Already assured of a place in the tournament by virtue of their won and lost records are are Ramblers, 11-0; Jays, 9-3; Cadavers, 10-1; All Stars, 9-1; Chi Dels, 8-1 and the Pubs, 8-2.

RAY ZWOLINSKI

Milwaukee State's loss and our gain is Ray Zwolinski, 6'3" forward from South Milwaukee. Ray showed his ability in high school by winning three basketball letters and four tennis letters. While Ray can be proud of his awards won in basketball and tennis he can be equally proud of his baseball ability; he was a member of the South Milwaukee American Legion baseball team that won the state championship in 1946.

While this is Ray's first year here, he is a sophomore enrolled in the Intermediate Division. Some day Ray wants to teach, but like so many other male students he knows Uncle Sam has a few plans in mind for him.

CLARENCE HERRICK

Another first year basketball player is Clarence Herrick of Minocqua. Clarence did quite well at sports while in high school by winning eleven letter awards; he won four basketball and baseball letters and three football letters. He looks like a good man to have on our team.

At the present time Clarence is enrolled in the Junior College. Later he plans to major in physical education and some day he wants to coach a basketball team. But like Ray, Clarence is at "that" age when male students receive letters which alter their plans to some extent.

PHIL JONES

From Elkhorn, Wisconsin, we have Phil Jones, sophomore guard. Phil is another all-around athlete, earning four letters in basketball and three each in baseball and football. His senior year, a fractured elbow prevented him from playing football so he turned to the manager's job and earned a manager letter.

At present Phil is enrolled in the Junior College, but with the new Liberal Arts program he's seriously thinking about a B.A. degree. Of course his plans may conflict with Uncle Sam's, but Phil said he intends to finish college at CSTC.

Belke's Lumber Co. kept their championship hopes alive and strengthened their hold on fourth place by sweeping their series with the Campus Cafe. In the league's other action the Chi Dels crept out of their cellar position by outcounting the Brunswick five in two of their three games.

hander who is currently pitching hand grenades for the United States Army. However, if the world situation should grow worse the Yanks have an ancient crew that would be immune from Uncle Sam.

Number three spot will go to the Boston Red Sox. Despite the acquisition of two top hurlers from the White Sox, the Beantowners have to contend with patching up Ted Williams elbow. Another problem from the Red Sox is to possess a determination to win. However, Lou Boudreau may be the man to change this.

Draft Hits Tiggers

Another club to feel the pinch of Uncle Sam's hand is Detroit. Prince Art Houtteman, a 19 game winner, is currently wearing khaki. It is very doubtful if the loss can be made up.

Fifth place honors will be bestowed to the Chicago White Sox. "Chico" Carresquel should be in the All-Star game come next July.

The Washington Senators by virtue of several gentlemen from south of the border will be in sixth, the Philadelphia A's in seventh and the St. Louis Browns should inhabit eighth place.

Giants Picked for First

Over in the senior circuit, Leo Durocher's boys should hit pay dirt. Three 20 game winners in the persons of Maglie, Jansen, and Hearn, backed by a strong keystone combo in Dark and Stanky is all the Bronx needs for a winner. "51" will see a flag in the Polo Grounds.

Across the East River in Bumville, a very shaky mound staff will need bolstering. The power is there but too many question marks on the hill have to be solved. Second place to Brooklyn.

The Philadelphia Phils, fresh from a championship will have to settle for third place. Curt Simmons, a 17 game winner, is in the service and manager Sawyer will have difficulty in replacing this gem.

Braves for Fourth

Number four spot goes to the Boston Braves. Despite strong pitching the infield is too slow to be considered a strong contender.

In Chicago, Illinois, there is always a friendly gathering of DePaul University students in Wangler Hall on the campus. And, as in universities everywhere, ice-cold Coca-Cola helps make these get-togethers something to remember. As a pause from the study grind, or on a Saturday night date—Coke belongs.

Ask for it either way... both trade-marks mean the same thing.

Sorority Rushing Parties

Psi Beta Holds Rushing Party at Park Ridge Home

"March Winds" was the appropriate theme for a rushing party of Psi Beta Psi sorority of Central State Teachers college held Sunday evening at the home of Mrs. John McComb, Park Ridge.

Decorations in the home included a large paper lion and lamb placed atop the mantle and on the piano was a kite scene. The rushees were given small lambs made of pipe cleaners as favors. All the guests wore hats resembling kites.

The guests were welcomed by Betty Mehne, president, who introduced the patronesses, Mrs. Herbert Bann, Mrs. McComb and Mrs. Nels O. Reppen, and the faculty advisers, Mrs. Warren Blodgett and Mrs. Raymond Specht.

Games were led by Elaine Ruffing. A solo, "If," was sung by Faith Spencer, and a trio, composed of Faith Spencer, Dorothy Omerink and Rosemary Booty, sang "I'll Be Seeing You."

Baked Alaska and coffee were served from a table decorated with daffodils and candles. Betty Mehne presided.

Committee chairmen were: Refreshments, Violet Hansen; entertainment, Muriel Neerhof; decorations, Beverly Ziebarth and invitations, Delphine Marth.

Tau Gam Sorority Entertains Rushees

Tau Gamma Beta sorority held its rushing party Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Alton Funk, 112 Lindberg avenue. Each guest was greeted and escorted from the car to the door by Eleanor Curtis and Phyllis Jarnick, appropriately dressed as doormen. A sign outside the door announcing a matinee performance was in-keeping with the theme "Tau Gam Theater."

Programs with the name Tau Gamma Beta beautifully etched on the cover by Miss Mildred Davis was given each rushee. They were also presented with a pink carnation which was arranged in a corsage tied with a blue ribbon representing the sorority's colors.

As master of ceremonies, Beverly Barnes welcomed all those to the matinee.

The members responsible for this party were the following: Entertainment committee, Bonnie Babcock, chairman, Kay Leahy and Sylvia Abrahamson; Food, Joyce Moll, chairman, Norma Mayer and Barbara Nelson. Decorations, Eileen Dahmert, chairman, Ramona Byrne and Dorotheanne Rebella. Transportation, Bernice Dehlinger, chairman, Barbara Bea and Phyllis Peterson. Invitations, Elizabeth Holm, chairman, Lila Elmer and Mary Douville. Clean-up, Mary Lund, chairman, Jean Brenner and Virginia Marros.

Letters to the Editor

Editor, The Pointer:

I would like to mention to the student body and the Student Council of Central State a situation which I consider pertinent at this time. The question is my mind is: what is the Student Council doing to acquaint the 35 new students here this semester with Central State? Are these students going to wander about the campus for the entire semester looking for things that they should have been informed about at the beginning of the semester?

As far as I can see, the lack of school spirit and school loyalty here at Central State is the direct result of the fact that we don't give the new students, in the fall and the spring, a background of the school. If we hope to develop school spirit here at Central State the best way to do it is to give new students a history of the school and its accomplishments through the years. We should try to stimulate a feeling of pride in our school and by so doing would solve the problem of student support of school functions.

It seems that, instead of creating a feeling of interest in the school, some of the so-called authorities feel that the realm of apathy the student body is in is quite all right; and that, if anyone does not care to remain in this realm, they "can always go to another school."

I would like to recommend to the Student Council, as a student of Central State, that they should try to formulate some sort of a program of orientation for next fall, that would develop interest, pride, and school spirit here at Central State.

AS WE SEE IT

Due to the world situation and its psychological effect on most young people, the CSTC student body has fallen into a semi-stupor. By this I mean they want to exclude from their lives anything that involves thinking or acting beyond the needs of absolute existence.

To get to the point, this column tried to arouse interest in the realm of world controversy; but it did not succeed. Sincerely believing that it is just that CSTC students are "fed-up" with the world situation and that it is not in reality a lack of energy, I am going to discuss local affairs. I have always wanted to believe that college students, especially CSTC students, are the most intellectually curious and the most energetic reformers of society and government. However, this year we seem to be letting the situation make a bunch of "dead beats" out of us.

The thing that seems to be keeping at least a few students interested in local affairs is just a little "ole cup of coffee." It sure is a surprise to see what a good supply of java and a smoke filled room will do to students' minds.

No matter under what circumstances this "coffee confab" takes place, the discussions and actions of this group should be of interest to the student body. The "unthinking" majority should know what the thinking minority is doing so that the majority may benefit from their action or control that action.

This column will try to report the general trend of these "coffee confabs," and the new name of this column will be just that "Coffee Confab."

Hey! What's this I hear about N.S.A.? What is it? Just more student council radicalism? Boy! School spirit sure is low! What about forming a student political organization? We need united action! What would be a good product to strengthen school spirit? Too much faculty domination! How does CSTC shape up with other schools on student council, school spirit, faculty-student relation, etcetera?

These are just a few of the topics that resound from cup to cup at a coffee confab.

My space is limited, so, until next week when we get a fresh cup of java, I am just —

Five More June Grads Accept Teaching Jobs

Additional placements of June graduates have been announced by Dr. Raymond E. Gotham. Two students from the rural division have recently accepted positions. They are Delphine Marth from Hamburg, who will teach in Shawano county and Janice Stoehr from Gresham, who has also accepted a position in Shawano county. Adeline Kijak of the primary division will teach at Eagle River. Adeline claims Edgar as her home town. Two graduates of the intermediate-upper elementary division have signed contracts for positions. They are Jacqueline Hall from Lake Tomahawk and Harriet Obinger from Woodruff, who will both teach at Marinette.

FIRE AT WILL

We heard a rumor the other day to the effect that some of Jack Ne-gaard's classmates are taking up a collection to buy him a safety belt. They're finding it very hard to get any work done because of the loud "thuds" which he makes whenever he falls off his chair.
