Sylvester Granted Leave To Study at Michigan U.

Walter R. Sylvester, an instructor in the CSTC Conservation department for the past four years, has requested a leave of absence from his duties at Central State, to take part in research work for the University of Michigan.

Mr. Sylvester will be a member of a four man research team which will study the resources of four counties in the northern portion of Michigan's lower peninsula. Work on the project, which is expected to take two or three years for completion, will be on a full time basis only during the summer months. Mr. Sylvester announced he would continue the work part time during the regular school session, while studying for his doctor's degree.

The research is under the supervision of the Department of Conservation, which is a part of the University of Michigan's new School of Natural Resources. Funds for the study were given to the school by the Charles Lathrop Pack Forestry Foundation.

Ye Ole Editor Closes Shop

With this issue, another year of publishing the Pointer comes to a close. For some of us it is the last time we will see a Pointer "put to bed." It'll seem unusual not to be in the "know" around CSTC come next year.

Monday nights, in particular, will seem empty and hollow without the clatter and bang of the typewriters and the reporters bustling in with stories, even though the drain on the resources, due to cokes, was hard.

However in leaving, I'd like to take this opportunity to thank all those whose help was invaluable to me this semester. They include the excellent staff members, whose help made the job simple; the fine co-operating faculty and students who dropped us "hot tips" on news; President Hansen, our "acc" reporter; my coffee critics, and last but not least, Miss Bertha Glennon, the editorial adviser, and Robert S. Lewis, (not Louis) who kept careful surveillance over our funds.

To Frank De Guire, the editor for next year, I send my heartiest congratulations and the firm hope that he may meet with the same kind of co-operation and help that it has been my fortune to receive this semester.

Dr. Wiewel and Mr. Schmeckle were sitting in a boat out in the middle of the Wolf River last weekend when Dr. Wiewel suddenly jumped up out of his seat and said, "Quick, Fred, that little red and green thing you let me borrow for my line, how much does one cost?"

"Oh, you mean the bobber? I think they cost ten cents."

"Then I owe you a dime. The darned thing just sank."

An hour passed in silence. Suddenly Dr. Wiewel yawned, leaned back against the side of the boat, took a deep breath, and said, "Say Fred, I don't think I ever told you about last summer when I was trout fishing on Lake Michigan and my boat capsized."

"No, you didn't, Bernard. Sounds exciting though."

"Exciting! I'll say! There I was a mile out in the lake battling the waves. Just one more mile, I thought, and then I'd be safe. But my arms grew weaker, my head began to get dizzy!"

"Gee, how did you ever make it back to shore?"

"My head began to swim so I just lay back and relaxed and let it carry me in."

Two more uninterrupted hours passed and then Mr. Schmeckle said, "Well, Bernard, the sun started to go down. What do you say we pull up anchor and head for home?"

"Sure has been a wonderful day, just sitting here basking in the sunshine and breathing in this wonderful fresh air, hasn't it, Fred?" said Dr. Wiewel as he started pulling up the anchor.

"Sure has been, for us anyway, but I feel kind of sorry for those poor fellows in that boat over near the bridge. I've been watching them all day and it seems like just about every time they'd get settled down they'd have to jump up and pull in another of those bothersome north-erns."

"Yeah, I guess we just live right, Fred," said Dr. Wiewel as he pulled the anchor out of the water and dropped it through the bottom of the boat.

Paging through the October, 1950, issue of the Reader's Digest we ran into the following very timely quote: "There is no security on this earth. There is only opportunity."

President Hansen Will Give Welcome May 19

The High School Senior Day program of CSTC will open on Saturday, May 19, at 10 o'clock with organ melodies by Frank Wesley, followed by a welcome from President William C. Hansen. It is expected that seniors from several high schools in this area will be guests of the college.

Talks on educational opportunities will be given by the directors of the teacher training division. From 11:30 to 12, a tour of the campus will be taken, including the main college, the Training School, Nelson Hall, Delzell Hall and the Rural Demonstration school. A luncheon will be served at 12 noon in the Training School.

Housing and employment conferences will be held from 1 to 1:30, headed by Dean Elizabeth Pfiffner and Dean Herbert Steiner. From 1:30 to dismissal time at 3, conferences on the planning of courses will be conducted by the division directors and department chairmen.

Wayland Club Elects Emil Richetto President

Emil Richetto, a junior in the secondary division, was elected president of Wayland club for next year at a meeting held last Thursday night. Other officers are Connie Gage, vice-president and Shirley Sonnenberg, secretary-treasurer.

A discussion was held about the activities of freshman week next fall, and tentative plans were made for a picnic to be held on May 24.

FAMILIAR FACES

While peeping past the open door of the girls' Lounge the other day, we were pleasantly surprised to see the honored Senior for this week, Miss Barbara Lewis, playing a furious game of ping-pong. We made a quick sweep of the room, saw that there were no teachers around, and cautiously ambled in.

Barbara was very cooperative. "Well, my name is Barbara Lewis, of course, and I was born on September 9, 1929, in Augusta, Wisconsin, and my telephone number is 2282!"

We made a mental note of the number and asked for more scholastic information.

"I'm in Secondary Education, majoring in mathematics and minoring in English and biology. I'm president of Tau Gamma Beta sorority; a member of Sigma Tau Delta, na-Barb's spent all four years here at CSTC and she was listed on the Dean's honor roll this semester. She also wrote a poem which was published in "Words Worth" and she writes regularly for the Pointer."

Barbara lost her twelfth game and finally decided to give up. We asked her about the future.

"I've got a job already teaching at the Columbus, Wisconsin, high school next fall in the math and English departments."

As we collected our notes and walked for the door, Barbara slipped on her coat and suggested that the gang go over to the track meet. Said Barbara, "I just love trackmen!"

Traveling Classroom One Feature of Summer School

The enrollment and registration for the Summer Session of 1951 will take place on Monday, June 18. The session will extend from June 18 to July 27.

The college bus will be the classroom for 26 students for three weeks of the six week session. A trip through the northeastern part of the United States and Canada has been planned co-operatively by the geography and English departments under the direction of Raymond E. Specht and Norman E. Knutzen.

A new person will be on the teaching staff this summer. Miss Hannah Haroldson, high school librarian at Merrill, Wisconsin, will be teaching a library science course. This course, provided to train teacher-librarians for high schools not employing a full-time librarian, is concerned with the development of the school library as a method in education. It will present the essentials of school library organization, administration, book selection and cataloging. Its completion entitles a student to the library certificate required of secondary school teachers who have charge of high school libraries.

Raymond M. Rightsell will be director of the summer session. Miss Monica Bainter will be acting dean of women.

NOTICE

All students who are planning to enroll in the upper elementary division are requested to see Miss Susan Colman as soon as possible and make application.

Nelson Chosen President Of Alpha Kappa Rho Frat

The new officers for Alpha Kappa Rho were elected at the Peter J. Michelsen home on Monday, May 7.

The officers for next semester are: Barbara Nelson, president; Beverly Mueller, secretary; Suzanne Swanke, treasurer; and Muriel Held, vice-president.

To the Graduating Seniors

Your graduation is near. You feel that your ties to the college will soon be broken.

Yes, there is a change from student to alumnus; but the bond is no less strong in the one relationship than in the other. There is this difference:

Heretofore you have received. Central State Teachers College has trained you. It has found jobs for many of you. As Alumni, you may give. You give by using the training you have received. You may also make returns by taking part in the Alumni Association of the college.

The association welcomes you, the Class of June, 1951, into its ever widening circles, and to an active part in them.

Purpose and Organization of CSTC Alumni Association Is Explained

The purpose of the association is to strive for the welfare of the college and to promote a mutually beneficial relationship between the college and its alumni. By virtue of his degree or diploma every CSTC graduate is eligible to membership in the association. Membership includes four classes: active, inactive, associate and honorary. Active members include all graduates who pay the annual dues; inactive members include all other alumni; associate members include college faculty members not included in the above classes; honorary members are chosen by the executive committee of the association.

The officers include a president, one or more vice-presidents and an executive secretary. All officers serve for two years. The president is elected by the board of directors; the vice presidents are appointed by the president, with the approval of the executive committee; and the executive secretary is elected by the board.

Board of Directors

The board of directors consists of five members elected by the active members by postal ballot.

The executive committee includes the president, the executive secretary and the board of directors. It directs the program of the association and acts for it in case of emergencies.

The annual business meeting is held during the week of the college commencement, at which time annual reports are given and the graduating class and honorary members are welcomed into the association.

Class reunions are expected to be held during the commencement week, and a luncheon meeting is held on Homecoming day.

The annual dues are one dollar payable before July 1, but alumni are urged to pay their dues when the annual roll call of active members is conducted.

An Alumni bulletin or newsletter will be published in accordance with the financial status of the association. In lieu of a bulletin, four issues of the POINTER have been sent to active members and additional alumni. A list of the active members for 1950-51 and 1951-52 appears in this issue. All active members are urged to renew their membership, if they have not done so. We welcome the new members and cordially invite the class of 1951 to become affiliated as active members.

In Appreciation

Working with the POINTER staff and advisers to bring you the special alumni POINTERS has been a most gratifying experience. The editors have been exceptionally gracious in giving full coverage to alumni news copy. To each one who has helped in any way, I express my sincere and deep appreciation.

Faculty Director Cites Workshop Participation

I want to take this opportunity to thank the college students and faculty who have participated in the Radio Workshop during the school year. It is through your efforts in dramatics, Round Table, music, talks, and others that our year of broadcasting has been a success.

Special mention goes to Mr. Kremen of the faculty, who has had charge of the College Round Table. Maurice Mead and Edward Furstenberg are to be congratulated for the excellent work they have done in the past year. They have promoted a high class series of radio programs made possible through the hearty cooperation of a number of students who chose radio as an extra curricular activity.

Directors Elected

Mrs. Helen Eagleburger and Carl Strassburg, both members of the class of 1950 and teachers in Stevens Point, have been elected to serve as directors for three years. They will succeed Doris Ockerlander '48, Wausau, and Dr. Frank Klement '35, Milwaukee, whose terms expire June 30, 1951. Continuing directors are Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner '29, CSTC dean of women, Mrs. Raymond Gotham '36, Stevens Point, and William Golomski '48, St. Louis, Mo.

Annual Business Meeting

There will be a buffet supper at Hotel Whiting at 6:30, followed by the annual business meeting on Thursday, June 7, the evening before Commencement. Mrs. Grace Robertson '38, Stevens Point, is general chairman of arrangements. The committee is planning an interesting program for the occasion and we hope that many will take this opportunity to come back and share with us another evening of CSTC fellowship. Reservations will be sent out within a week. The cost of the supper will be $1.75 per plate.

Since the college will have its name changed to Central State College this fall, an amendment to our constitution is in order to change the name of our association accordingly. This announcement constitutes a notification to the active members, so that the amendment may be presented at the meeting.

GREETINGS TO FELLOW ALUMNI:

To those of you who are able to come back for our alumni meeting, I extend a hearty welcome and trust you may have an enjoyable time. To those unable to be here, I extend greetings of the college and hope you may join us for Homecoming next fall or on some other alumni occasion in the near future. I wish our Alumni Association might make more rapid progress. I think it would be interesting and helpful to you as well as to us.

We can announce that Central State Teachers College is now a member of the North Central Association. This will be good news to you. Along with the other state teachers colleges, we are now authorized to grant Liberal Arts Degrees, so can provide opportunities for students in this area to obtain a four year liberal arts education at or near their home. You may also have noticed that we will shortly be called a State College, instead of State Teachers College. That will not necessarily change our primary function. Our main objective will still be the training of teachers.

The above information is of help to you in guiding any students toward your college. Again, our best wishes to you and to your continued success in whatever you are doing.

Wm. C. Hansen, President

May 25 Is Deadline for SSCQ Test Applications

The deadline for receipt of Selective Service College Qualification Test applications has been extended to May 25 by selective service. Educational Testing Service announced the hands of Educational Testing today. All applications must be in Service by May 25, 1951. This applies to the July 12 date for those students whose religious beliefs prevent their taking the test on a Saturday, as well as to the June 16 and June 30 testings. Applications are no longer being processed for the May 26 administration and no further tickets can be issued for May 26.

Stores Open on Night Beginning in September

Stores in Stevens Point are adopting new hours for night shoppers, it was announced by the Chamber of Commerce this week. Beginning Sept. 10, stores will be open on Monday night instead of the usual Friday night. They will not open until noon on Monday, but will remain open straight through until nine on Monday nights.

This will be a great convenience to the schools in Stevens Point, especially to the athletic departments. Now, the many supporters of the various athletic teams will be able to see the games on Friday night, whereas work made it impossible for them to do so before.

Signs of the Times —

A Review of Four Years at CSTC

By Harry Johnson

Four year veterans of CSTC will, in time to come, be carried back to the years of 1947 to 1951 by visions of the gleaming "ruptured ducks" on khaki hold-overs — never-ending registration lines and multi-colored red tape — seemingly fierce instructors — majestic upper-classmen — and a cluster of stately buildings and campus.

The enigmatic educational experience progressed and we survived those surprise quizzes — "impossible" assignments — innumerable reports and papers — ominous finals and subsequent cramming — and the reward, or reprimand, in the form of the "almighty" grade.

Four years were gaily interspersed with victorious and eventful Homecomings — formals and Training School hops — aesthetic Style Shows — banquets and conversations over a steaming cup of cold coffee — trips to the Health Office for a liberal dosage of those little, white "cure-alls" — occasional "shoot 'em ups" at the theaters — and athletic exhibitions.

We investigated numerous extra-curricular offerings — the mystic working of the impressive medium of radio — neglected deadlines and late copy — grease paint and footlights — candle-light initiations — the brotherhood of Thursday night meetings — and lung exercises in the band and choruses.

Four years of mental mayhem in that inevitable geography lab — among the complexities of numbers — the pennings of the world's great — the year's sentence at the Training School — organized physical exertion and sweat socks — Tuesday night bridge, poker or pinball — and amongst the odious offerings of the chemistry lab.

All these, and many more, will be signs to remember — priceless years — all capped in the black gowns of mourning for the passing of four wonderful years.

Both Series and Players Knotted Up as Feuding Frats Fight for "Jug"

The annual little world series between the Chi Deltas and the Phi Sigs is proving to be as knock down, drag out an affair as it was heralded. At present, the series is knotted up at one game apiece. Highlight of the first two games has been the heavy hitting of both clubs, with the Phi Sigs having a slight edge in this department. "Titch" Roberts has been the Phi Sig mainstay in the hurling department while the Paulsen brothers and Dick Kussman have handled the mound duties for the Chi Deltas.

The first game of the series went to the Chi Deltas, 9 to 6. Ragged fielding and Roberts' wildness led to the Chi Delta victory. The second game, a thriller from the words

The Phi Sigs took a lead in the series, by besting the Chi Deltas, 5-4 in a game played Monday night. Ralph Roberts was the winning hurler, while John Mallow absorbed the loss. Bob McMahon blasted a four bagger for the winners and Bud Fiegle did the same for the losers.

"play ball," saw the Phi Sigs pile up a sizeable lead only to have the Chi Delters tie it up in the sixth inning.

Promotion Day Exercises Will Be Held on June 4

The College Junior high school will have its Promotion Day exercises on Monday, June 4, at 2:10 p.m. Miss May Roach will be the principal speaker. The program will open with a processional, after which Kay Groaton, president of the 8th grade, will deliver a welcome address. This will be followed by a piano solo by Susan Anderson.

Miss Roach, acting director of the rural division, will then give her speech. Miss Roach's address will be followed by another piano solo after which Dr. R. E. Gotham, director of the Training school, will present the students with their certificates of promotion. The singing of "Auld Lang Syne" by the entire group will close the program.

Then, in the top of the seventh, the Epsilon boys took effect of Paulson's wildness and combined this with a couple of round trippers to put the game on ice.

The series is for the best three out of five. This still leaves two games that must definitely be played. For those who crave softball at its exciting best, we suggest you watch the bulletin boards for the date and place of future games.

Track, Golf, Tennis Teams to Engage In State Meets at La Crosse, Saturday

Central State's spring sports squads have been sharpening up the past week, in preparation for the state finals, which will be held at La Crosse on Saturday.

Coach Frank Crow's track team, which has shown a noticeable lack of depth so far this season, will be out to gain their points through a large group of firsts. Main threats in the Pointer attack are fleet Ed Jacobsen in the mile and two mile and "Tex" Polzin in the jumping and several of the field events. Several other fellows also have a chance of coping a first and others are sure point winners. All in all, things don't look too bad for the Pointers.

The tennis squad, under Coach Bernard F. Wiewel, has been improving with each meet and hope to score some points against the powerhouses of the league.

Coach James R. Hicks' golf team hopes to improve on their fifth place finish of last year. The team has a lot of last year's golfers back and has been posting some low scores this season. They'll have to be reckoned with at life meet.

FIFTH QUARTER

It is difficult to believe that the time for the last edition has rolled around. When we stop to take a glance over the happenings of the last year, we wonder if we'll survive the coming 12 months. May 19, 1950 — Korea was an unheard of peninsula. But now, May 19, 1951 a period of grave emergency exists. Parallel it with 1940, if simulations of wars are possible.

We have seen the effects of the war, or perhaps the use of the word emergency would conform to political requirements, on our sports here at Central State. Next fall undoubtedly we'll be hit harder. If the national guard units are called, the loss not only to our athletic teams but to our entire enrollment will be most severely felt. So it is with a feeling of insecurity that we close the ledger of the current school year and look to the coming one.

In closing we would like to extend thanks to the coaching staff for cooperating in bringing the news to our readers. Thanks are also due to the players and readers for their helpful suggestions. We also want to thank Tom Butler, sports editor of the Stevens Point Daily Journal, for the help he has so generously given.

In Salt Lake City, Utah, there is always a friendly gathering of University of Utah students in the Annex Cafeteria. Nation Wide Rejoicing of Norsemen As National Independence Observed

The sons and daughters of fjorded Norway were a mite bit depressed two months ago when the Pointer gave the wily and good-natured Irishmen a spread on St. Patrick's Day.

To prove once and for all that the Pointer tries to be as fair to all nationalities (despite the fact that O'Brien and Glennon work for us) as we possibly can — it gives us gr-at pleasure to bring the following startling facts to your attention:

Today, believe it or not, is Norwegian Independence Day. Yes, 137 years ago Norway declared itself independent of Sweden and adopted a constitution.

Columbus Takes Second

And if you have any idea that Columbus discovered America, you're wrong. Absolutely. Just ask Miss Isaacson or Doc Tolo, and they'll tell you Leif Ericson came upon these fair shores before poor Christopher grew out of short pants.

And don't be a bit surprised if you happen to hear the vibrant strains of "Ja, vi elsker dette landet" echoing up and down the halls today. It's just Maestro "Ach, ja" Michelsen and his "Norwegi singers" voicing their pride in their native land with Norway's national anthem. According to the eminent Norwegian scholar, "Sir Harry" Johnson, the translation of the song is "Yes, we love our homeland."

Americans of Norwegian descent all over the United States today are celebrating the birth of their homeland. The most extensive festival is held in Chicago where 70,000 descendants of daring Vikings and hardy explorers gather to sing, dance and make merry on Norway's Fourth of July. Festivities begin in the morning at Humboldt Park with a parade of two or three thousand costumed Norwegian children. The afternoon is given over to patriotic speaking, national games, athletic sports, folk singing and dancing.

Folk Songs Sung

The Norse maennerchoir assist in the singing of anthems and folk songs with a timbre and artistic power worthy of the fatherland of Grieg. When the celebrating is over, every Norseman has re-lived the life of Eric the Red and son Leif Ericson and returns home with new sense of pride in his fatherland.

We hope that the Norwegians of CSTC will also feel such a renewal of pride today, and we wish them all a happy Independence Day.

Coffee Confab

By Chuck

This being the last issue of the Pointer, we would like to ask two questions. First, What did we do for Central State this year? Second, What did Central State do for us? In answering these questions, we find, sadly enough, that Central State did its part, but we, as a student body, have neglected Central State.

To give just a few examples, take for instance the attendance at extra-curricular activities. The crowds at the football and basketball games were shameful. Mr. Burroughs reported that the student attendance at dramatic programs was one sixth of what it should have been after deductions were made for excusable absences. The student attendance at the annual Glee Club Spring Concert was almost nil. This same record repeats itself throughout the other activities. We have also found, in talking to faculty members, that even the record of participation in school activities is very poor.

We could talk for hours upon our shortcomings, but it all adds up to a phrase that is loosely used and not taken to heart, "poor school spirit!"

The year is coming to a quick close, but it is not too late to change our attitude. Let's make a resolution to improve next year. This summer we can examine our records and plan for a better year. Those of us that come in contact with people planning to enroll here next fall can give school spirit a big boost by "talking up" CSTC. "Talking up" means to let them know about the things they will become proud of here at Central State. It means that we should give them the "scoop" on what they can do to help CSTC and thus be proud of their school. Pride builds school spirit!

In conclusion, we would like to make an appeal to the student body to "talk up" CSTC and help build up school pride.

This week's quote summarizes Coffee Confab's purpose: "I dogmatize and am contradicted, and in this conflict of opinions I find delight" — Dr. Samuel Johnson.

College Library Becomes Official Depository for Government Documents

Notification was received Monday morning from Congressman Reid F. Murray that the college library has been designated an official depository for United States Government documents.

Librarian Nelis R. Kampenga has long considered the possibility of the college becoming a depository, but because of the 14 depositories in Wisconsin already named, it was thought the state's quota was closed; however, Dr. Clifford Lord, director of the State Historical society, informed Mr. Kampenga that this congressional district was one of the few in the state that did not have a depository and therefore was entitled to one.

A letter of application dated May 4 was sent to Congressman Murray, in which the following reasons for making application were stated: The centrally located position of this institution, both from the standpoint of geography and population; the fact that at present our library acts as a regional library for this district; the expanded curriculum at Central State, that now offers a liberal arts degree; the assurance of a new library building to be constructed in the coming biennium 1951-53.

The federal documents will be deposited only on a selected basis. A complete file of government documents would be too immense to handle.

In commenting on the development Mr. Kampenga said he was very much pleased that the Central State library had been so favored, and was sure it would be of great value in the new curriculum program, and would add immensely to the prestige of the college.

Dr. Doudna Reports from Lima, Peru

Dr. Quincy Doudna, dean of administration, has sent the Pointer the following letter. Dr. Doudna, on leave from CSTC, is working in the education division of the Institute of Inter-American Affairs and is in Lima, Peru.

"There are so many things to tell about this experience that it is hard to decide what would be of most interest to our students at home. Perhaps it will be best to tell you about the work here in the Instituto Pedagógico Nacional de Varones where I have my office at the present time. I am working here as an advisor to the Director and staff."

"We have agreed to build a new Normal School which should be ready in less than two years. We have selected the site and hope to start building this winter.

"This school is the only truly public Normal School, the rest being managed by religious orders. There are about 200 students in the Normal School.

"We also have a complete grade school starting with kindergarten, and a complete high school. It is evident from these figures that facilities for practice teaching, in terms of enrollment at least, are much better than in our own college at home. There are probably about 75 seniors (or less) every year, so all should have ample opportunity to do regular practice teaching throughout the year. Unfortunately the school does not make wise use of the facilities in this respect.

"Teachers here, except in the Demonstration School, are employed mostly by the hour. For example, a doctor or lawyer in the city of Lima may teach two hours a week here, but a teacher may teach a few hours here and a few hours in each of several other schools. It is obvious then that there is no faculty in the North American sense, but rather a collection of teachers and others (mostly others) who have little if any interest in the school beyond the few hours that they work here. They simply 'blow into their classes, blow off to them and blow.'"

"So far I have discovered no extra-curricular activities, no school band or musical organizations of any sort, and no evidence of what we call 'college life' — not even 'Operation week-end.'"

"You will be interested, I think, in the examinations here. As I understand it, the 'Director of Studies' who corresponds roughly to Miss Roach for example (no one could correspond to Miss Roach, except roughly) prepares the examinations in co-operation with various assistants. The basis is the syllabus of the course which the teacher has presented at the beginning of the year.

"The examinations in practice teaching are especially interesting. You who are struggling with your student teaching problems now, can be thankful that you do not need to stake your future on one class which you teach in front of an examining board of 10 or 12 students and 60 or 70 other students. I watched these examinations in December before school closed. I could not understand as much Spanish then as I do now, but I did not need to understand the words to realize that the students were getting a terrific browbeating during the examination. The class would last about 40 minutes or until the local Dr. Gotham decided it had gone on long enough, in which case he would order the class stopped perhaps in the middle of a sentence.

"Classes were held in the front of the Auditorium with the various administrative officials (10 or 12 of them) sitting at a long table right beside the class. Watching the class as indicated were some 75 other students. When the class ended, each of the members of the 'Jury' asked the hapless student why he did this and why he did not do that and why he pronounced this word in that way and what his purpose was in doing something or not doing something. After the other 11 had got the student practically to the verge of a nervous breakdown, the local Dr. Gotham as Chairman of the proceed-rent editor, and Charles Hodgdon, former business manager.

Dr. Harold M. Tolo, Iris adviser, made the presentation of pins to George Greathouse, Iris editor, Ruth Schein, advertising manager and Alvin Long, business manager.

Freshmen Receive Awards
Awards were given to the outstanding freshman students in the field of speech work. Leland M. Burroughs, speech department head, named Sally Scribner as the outstanding freshman woman in speech and Willis Zick as the outstanding man.

Peter J. Michelson presented the four year awards in the band, Girl's Glee club and Mixed Chorus as well as the past president's awards. Betty Mehne received an award for four years in all three organizations. Other award winners included band members, Nancy Boehme and Betty Gilbertson. Bob Bestul received a past president's pin for the band, as did Nancie Goebel for Girl's Glee club and Harriet Marking for the Mixed Chorus.

Hirzy Award to Miller
The Colonel Ferdinand Hirzy award to the outstanding athlete of the year was presented to Norbert Miller by Miss Susan Colman. Colonel Hirzy is an alumnus of CSTC.

Coach Quandt announced the basketball letter winners and the men were presented awards in connection with their number of years of participation. The winners were Gene Polzin, Bill Wagner, co-captains of the team, Walt Samelstad, Chet Polka, Bob Anderson, Don Schneiders, Phil Jones, Fred Schadeewald, Roger English, Gerald Rued, Norbert Miller, Ray Zwolinski and Gerald Baerenwald, manager. Warren Hamele was presented with a cheerleading letter.

Edgar W. Pieper, physical education instructor, presented the intramural awards to the winners in the touch football, basketball and volleyball leagues. The Ramblers took first place in football followed by the Klaks. The Ramblers also took first in basketball followed by the Chi Deltas and the Spikers captured the laurels in volleyball. Individual medals were awarded to each member of the winning teams.

Tau Gams Give Pictures
Tau Gamma Beta sorority presented to the college three pictures by a Wisconsin artist, in honor of former president Frank S. Hyer. Phyllis Peterson made the presentation and President Hansen accepted them for the college.

Two other awards were given at an earlier date. Lorraine Zeman received the Primary scholarship award as the outstanding young girl in the primary division. Delores Jones has received a past president's pin from the Women's Recreation association.
