

Pan-Hell Dance Will End Pledging Season

Highlighting the pledging season of the five Greek social organizations on the campus will be the Pan-Hell semi-formal dance to be held on Saturday, November 10, in the Training school gym from 9 to 12:30 o'clock.

The dance, which is given in honor of the new actives of the organizations, will be preceded by formal dinners given by each fraternity and sorority.

Music for the dance will be provided by Searl Pickett and his orchestra. Chosen for the theme this year is an old favorite, "Red Sails in the Sunset."

Committees for the dance are the following: Chi Delta Rho, tickets and programs, with Frank DeGulre, chairman; Phi Sigma Epsilon, orchestra, with Frank Wesley, chairman; Tau Gamma Beta, decorations, Mary Lund, chairman; Omega Mu Chi, invitations, Letitia Brunner, chairman. Psi Beta Psi secured the hall.

Dinners Being Planned

The organizations are busily making plans for their annual fall Pan-Hell dinners. Each dinner will be preceded by formal initiation ceremonies for the new members.

Tau Gamma Beta sorority and Chi Delta Rho fraternity will both hold their dinners at the Hesser Hotel. The Tau Gamma dinner is scheduled for 6:15 p.m., with Bernice Dehlinger acting as general chairman. Other committees include the following: Decorations, Kay Leahy, chairman, Virginia Marros, Norma Mayer and Eleanor Curtis; entertainment, Ethel Farris, chairman, Mary Lund and Margaret Jones; transportation, Barbara Bea, chairman, Wilma Schmeckle, invitations, Sylvia Abrahamson.

Roland Krueger is in charge of the Chi Delt dinner, which will begin at 6:15 p.m. The other committees are: Invitations, Don Olsen and Charles Hodgden; initiation, Al Long, chairman, John Mallow, Frank De Gulre, Jim Mulady, Fred Schade-

Fifty-One Newmanites To Be Initiated Soon

Fifty-one prospective new members will participate in the initiation activities of the Newman club at tonight's meeting in the Rural Assembly. The pledges include: Joan Domack, Charlene Kabat, Lois Schlottman, Grace Collins, Betty Zahradka, Violeta Colina, Bertha Rodriguez, Dorothy Palmer, Jean Wagner, June Curran, Beulah Huettl, Virginia Briscoe, Lois Langford, Marcella Lang, Ruth Ann Charlesworth, Felisa Borja, Margaret Yentz, Patricia Giese, Janet Bergelin, Joe Obe, Bernie Ampe, Stan Karls, Agnes Stashek, Margaret Leitner, Joan Lensemire, Russell Roberts, Mary Ann Rozak.

Misses Keyser, Moser Attend Phy Ed Meet

Miss Jessemae Keyser and Miss Miriam Moser of Central State's physical education department participated in a physical education conference sponsored by the state department of public instruction at Medford on Saturday, October 27.

The morning sessions were given over to demonstrations in which basic skills essential to play were pointed out. Miss Keyser was in charge of the volleyball demonstration, stressing skills, principles and girls' rules.

In the first half of the afternoon, time was given for individual help in problems of special interest. Miss Moser and Miss Keyser served as group discussion leaders.

wald; decorations, Bob Johnson, chairman, Jerry Jelinek, Ed Jacobson; transportation, Bob Flint; program, Gordon Fairbert, chairman, Bill Cook, Marilyn Gilbert; toastmaster, Bill Cable.

The Country Spa will be the scene of the Psi Beta Psi sorority dinner. Mary Baumer and Mary Panke are handling invitations; decorations, Marlene Zastrow, chairman, Carol Edmond, Eldora Reineking, Marjorie Lawrie, Rosemary Boote; program, Nancy Pautz, chairman, Kathryn Allen, Arline Meister, Beverly Ziebarth; reservations, Beverly Mueller, chairman, Vivian Hoffman; transportation, Marilyn Schilling, chairman, Dorothy Kuhnke.

Phi Sig Dinner at Sky Club.

Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity will have its dinner at the Sky Club, with Frank Schmidler acting as toastmaster. Howard Kumbler is general chairman and the committees are: Entertainment, Marvin Mayer, chairman, Pat O'Brien and Dick Turzenski; decorations, Frank Wesley, chairman, Steve Bogaczyk, Jim Goetz; transportation, Jerry Bartosz.

Betty Crook is general chairman of the Omega Mu Chi sorority dinner to be held at the Sunrise. Committees include: Transportation, Shirley Jacobson; invitations, Joan Fehrenbach, chairman, Joan Jersey, Jackie Piehl; entertainment, Jean Sarbacker, chairman, Joann Cuff, Sharon Sutton; Food, Margie Denson. Toastmaster will be Muriel Held.

Actors Offer Comedy, Drama In Presenting 3 One-Act Plays

Help Wanted-Iris

Work on the Iris, Central State's yearbook, has begun. The editorial staff has been meeting every Monday evening in the Iris office to plan layouts and copy for the annual.

Because of various reasons, the staff this year needs many more members. Industrious students who like to work and who have a lot of useful ideas will be greatly welcomed on the '52 staff.

The Iris offers a variety of positions, so that almost anyone may find something of interest. People are needed to write copy, identify pictures, type, take pictures, and lay out the book. Others are needed in getting advertisements and in the business management. Still others are needed to draw pictures and plan the art work.

This is an opportunity for freshmen and sophomores to acquire an extra-curricular activity and to be in line for executive positions next year, says Norma Mayer, editor of the yearbook.

Anyone who would like to work on the '52 Iris staff is asked to write an application to the Iris editor stating what kind of work he is interested in and what previous experience he has had in yearbook work. These applications should be in at the Iris office by November 15.

Final Performance Tonight at 8

The final curtain will rise tonight on three one-act plays directed by students who have completed Miss Pauline Isaacson's play production class. The plays, a serious drama and two comedies, were given last night by Central State actors before a large audience of college and high school students and townspeople. They will be repeated tonight in the college auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock.

In the "Man in the Bowler Hat" John is played by Jerry Boettcher and his wife Mary, by Eleanor Curtis. Two ordinary people, they find themselves in the midst of a very exciting adventure. The rest of the cast includes: Hero, Bob Gruling; Heroine, Winnifred Pierre; Villain, Dave Silverman; Bad Man, Bill Gage; and Man in the Bowler Hat, Willis Zick. The play director is Patricia Skowronski and technical director is Anita Domack.

The Student Council Elects Its Officers

Election of new officers highlighted a recent meeting of the Student Council. Al Long was chosen vice-president, Harold Schumacher, secretary, and Chuck Hodgdon, treasurer. Bill Cable is president of the Council.

President William C. Hansen spoke on the achievements of the Student Council in the past years. Kenneth W. Boylan, who resigned as adviser this year, also spoke. Replacing Mr. Boylan as adviser is Dr. Roland A. Trytten.

The NSA will be discussed at the next meeting, with Louis Jacoboski as guest speaker. All students are urged to attend and take part in the discussion.

Directors of the three one-act plays being presented in the auditorium for the last time tonight are, standing left to right: Dorotheanne Rebella, Suzanne Swanke, Richard Francis and Mary Miller Seated in the same order are Patricia Skowronski and Anita Domack.

Glimpses of America, New, Old, Sketches of Paris Feature Miss Skinner's Dramatic Presentation

Cornelia Otis Skinner has proved herself to be one of the most outstanding entertainers ever to appear in Stevens Point. She fulfilled the usually exaggerated expectations of a critical audience.

A gifted and highly versatile individual, Miss Skinner presented an excellent program of "Character Sketches" at the Emerson school auditorium on October 25 before a crowd of over 900 persons. She appeared under the sponsorship of the entertainment committee of Central State college. The committee is composed of Robert S. Lewis, chairman, Miss Pauline Isaacson, Miss Helen Heel and Frank W. Crow.

Using only a small table and two chairs as stage props, the tall, attractive actress, gowned in a black formal, peopled the stage with an imaginative assortment of characters from many different environments.

Miss Skinner's first sketch, "A Box of Powder" showed the frustrations which can be incurred when one is buying a box of face powder in a city beauty salon. In her second sketch, "Hotel Porch," Miss Skinner very convincingly portrayed a domineering old lady. "Geneology," the next sketch, satirized the pride people take in their ancestry.

Following a brief intermission, Miss Skinner resumed her character sketches with a presentation entitled "Home Work." She then concluded her program with a group of sketches entitled "The Yearly Invasion," which had as a setting the city of Paris. In this selection she changed characters by the adroit fashioning of a scarlet cloth into hats to fit the mood of the person being portrayed.

Miss Skinner was enthusiastically received by her Stevens Point audience composed of college students and townspeople.

Annual Tour Taken By Geography Students

The geography field trip, which is an annual tour of the distinctive geographical regions of the state, was taken by 30 geography and geology students on October 24. The trip was made in the college bus under the direction of Raymond E. Specht.

The day long tour started from the college and proceeded to Wisconsin Rapids, Adams, Necedah, New Lisbon and Richland Center. At Tower Hill State Park the bus stopped and the students had lunch. While there, they were given an historical account of the background of the park. Following this, they visited the Frank Lloyd Wright farm which is near Tower Hill Park.

The Cave of the Mounds at Dodgeville was a highlight of the tour, as was the beautiful Devil's Lake State Park.

The three geographic regions which were studied were the glacial lake plain, which is the sandy flat land of central Wisconsin; the southwestern upland, which is the region of river valleys where the floods bring havoc each year; and the terminal moraine.

Mr. Specht made use of the loud speaking system on the bus as he gave a running description of the terrain.

Annual Convocation Will Be Held Friday at 10

The annual convocation will be held this Friday at 10 o'clock in the auditorium, with the entire faculty appearing in academic attire. The various types of gowns and the colors in the hoods which will be worn denote degrees and alma maters, respectively.

President William C. Hansen will give the main address. Music will be played by the college band under the direction of Peter J. Michelsen. Selections include "Pomp and Circumstance," by Charles J. Roberts, "Naughty Marietta," by Victor Herbert and "Pomp and Circumstance," by Elgar.

Dick Jenkins, a high school student and son of Dean Warren G. Jenkins, will play a cello solo, "Ave Maria," preceding President Hansen's address.

All students and especially the freshmen are urged to attend this assembly.

Schmeckle Speaks on "Conservation at Home"

"Conservation at Home" is the title of the address which Fred J. Schmeckle, director of conservation education here at Central State, presented at a meeting of the Marshfield Woman's club on Tuesday, November 6.

An especially beautiful colored film was shown in connection with Mr. Schmeckle's address.

Mr. Schmeckle, who is regarded nationally as an authority on conservation problems, is chairman of the All-State Conservation Curriculum committee and is director of the national committee on Policies in Conservation Education.

Youth! Awake and Think

We want to call special attention to an article entitled "Portrait of the Younger Generation" which appears in the November 5 issue of Time magazine. This report makes some very thought provoking statements concerning what we think about religion, sex, government, war, marriage, jobs, ambitions and many other subjects.

This article should be read by every student. In general, "Time" reports that American youth is silent, fatalistic, security-minded, conservative, grave, morally confused, tolerant of almost anything and blaming no one for its troubles.

The Pointer is interested in hearing what your reaction is to this report. Next week we would like to publish a report by the students of Central State, so let us have your views on this subject.

Opportunity Knocked!

The Cornelia Otis Skinner assembly presented on October 25 under the auspices of the college assembly committee was, all who attended will agree, just about the finest entertainment of its type. In spite of that fact and also the fact that it cost the students nothing extra, whatsoever, over 200 members of the student body failed to obtain their tickets and attend the assembly.

It is inconceivable to us why such a large number of students did not take advantage of this wonderful opportunity to hear and see such a gifted artist as Miss Skinner. The price of admission to one of her regular performances would be considerably more than it was for this one. A little more appreciation should be shown for the money and effort that was spent in bringing programs like this to our college.

Another matter concerning the assembly was brought to our attention through numerous comments by students, faculty members and townspeople. That matter was the appearance of students attending the assembly.

A number of girls were observed chewing gum at a terrific rate as they were walking down the aisle, wearing blue jeans. "This sort of appearance certainly is not becoming a young woman of college age.

The boys are in for their share of criticism, too. A program of this type should be a dress-up affair for the fellows as well as the girls, especially if the fellows have dates. This doesn't mean it has to be really formal, but certainly not blue jeans and a sweat shirt.

Another outstanding artist in the person of Henry Scott, pianist, has been engaged for an assembly later in the semester. Let's make sure that everyone, if it is at all possible, attends this program.

FAMILIAR FACES

This week's subject is a blonde senior, Jeanette Holm, whose calm, composed features are very familiar to most students here. She is a secondary from Tigerton, majoring in chemistry, with math and biology minors. Jeanette is active in LSA — she is their treasurer this year — and holds the secretary's position in the senior class. For two and a half years she has been a member of Sigma Zeta, honorary science fraternity, and has attended their annual convention twice.

"I'm looking forward to my third one," she says with a few stray giggles, "which is about all one person can take!"

President of Tau Gam's Jeanette's main activity, however, is Tau Gamma Beta sorority. She was elected president last spring for pictures in the student lounge, which we placed there in his honor."

Because of her position, she is a member of Pan-Hell council and Inter-Sorority council. Last spring Jeanette received the Spindler award and is wearing the pendant for her senior year. It is given to a junior Tau Gam by the seniors and advisers of the sorority for exceptional qualities of citizenship and service.

Too Busy for Hobbies
Jeanette claims that she's too busy for hobbies. One of her main interests now is practice teaching chemistry at the high school. Her students have sent her to the books many times by asking most imaginative questions.

"Now," she says, "they want to know about the atomic-hydrogen torch. Always trying to stump the teacher!"

She is quite used to kids, however, since she comes from a family of five, one that boasts an unusual variety of hair shades — two blondes, two brunettes and one redhead. This is the first year that she's the only Holm in school. Cousin Norv and sister Liz graduated last year. Jeanette would like to teach, but isn't planning on making a fortune. Liz is teaching now and already has had to borrow $10 from her "supposed-to-be-struggling" student sister!

Director Michelsen Gets Requests for Concerts

Peter J. Michelsen reports that several requests have been received for concerts to be played by the Central State band. Woodruff, Adams-Friendship, Marathon and Wabeno have asked for concerts this fall.

Mr. Michelsen ordinarily doesn't take his band on tour until the spring season rolls around, but this year he will have to get the band in concert shape a little ahead of time.

Roach, Dr. Warren G. Jenkins and Dr. Nels O. Heppen.

Miss Gladys Van Arsdale, president of the Wisconsin Association of Childhood Education, presided at the luncheon meeting of that group at the Schroeder Hotel.

Mrs. Mildred Williams acted as chairman of the kindergarten-primary section which met Thursday afternoon.

Miss Gertie Hanson presided at the Geographers' luncheon, which was held at the Lakota restaurant Friday noon. Raymond E. Specht was secretary of the geography sectional which met that afternoon at the Milwaukee Public Museum.

Dr. Raymond E. Gotham participated as a member of a panel in teacher education.

The "Scoop" Shovel

Welcome back! Several things have taken a turn for the worse since we last went to press — namely the weather. Those who left last Wednesday amid balmy breezes returned on snowshoes amid howling gales. Most disgusted of all were the Wisconsin Homecoming fans who froze for three and a half quarters and then left before the only score was made — in the last 53 seconds.

Speaking of football, our team has some explaining to do. The WSC bus returned from the Oshkosh game with the team inside and the Girls Glee club sign posted on the outside. Were you traveling incognito or did you have traveling companions, fellows?

Doc Tolo commented in a recent lecture: "Some of our college girls pursue learning while others learn pursuing."

Harry S. has rolled out the red carpet for the visiting British royalty, but he has nothing on WSC hospitality. Cornelia Otis Skinner's performance here was climaxed by a magnificent spectacle staged by the Chi Delt pledges. Replete with Alpine hats and signs, the boys ushered Miss Skinner from the door of the Emerson auditorium to her taxi under an archway of pledge paddles all accompanied with frequent bowing. When Miss Skinner arrived at the door of her carriage, she turned and in royal fashion curtsied so coyly that "Liz" and "Phil" would have been green with envy.

Romance blooms under the snows of winter. The latest has it that Barbara (for Queen) Hanson is pinned to Ray "Andy" Anderson.

In the engagement department, Al Shelley, a senior here at WSC, is "ringed" to Florence Jurczak, who is employed at the Hardware Mutual Insurance.

The stork dashed in last week to tell us that Fred and Helen LaLeike are the proud parents of a daughter, Susan Jane, who was born October 15 at 8:27 a.m. and weighed in at 6 lbs. 10 1/2 oz. Both Helen and Fred were seniors here last year. Fred, a former Pointer editor, is now teaching at Harvard, Illinois.

The following is uttered by a dejected probationer who has just religiously read Jones' "How to Improve Study Habits."

I serve a purpose in this school
On which no man can frown.
I gently enter inner class
And keep the average down.

A new word has been added to the jargon of courtship — "There's 'pinned,' 'betrotted,' 'engaged,' etc. Ask Ethel Farris what "braceleted" means.

The following definitions have been lifted from their profound context — a seventh grade test at the Training school on the "Courtship of Miles Standish."

- 1 — courtship — (This drew a variety of definitions)
  - a taking to or taking out of someone.
  - the friendship of two or more people.
  - love and adventures.
  - a wedding.
  - a poem.
  - life and dogs.
- 2 — stripling — young trees
  - what Miles Standish had hanging on the walls of his cabin.
- 3 — narrative — an old poem that descended from the natives.

The smoke from the midnight oil is making us sleepy, so as they say in Geography 101 — Abyssinia.

Workshop Bulletin

When the Radio Workshop meets this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the radio studios, Miss Gertie Hanson will speak on "Writing for Radio."

The Workshop's recording of D. C. Everest's speech, "Getting Along with People," was broadcast over the entire state network Wednesday, October 31, at 11 o'clock by the State Radio Council. The speech was given by Mr. Everest, head of the Marathon Paper Co. in an assembly here last semester.

Sigma Theta Epsilon Nat'l Religious Frat Organized on Campus

A chapter of Sigma Theta Epsilon, national religious fraternity, has been organized on the Central State campus with 35 charter members, including five honorary members. The fraternity has chapters at many of the larger colleges and universities throughout the United States, but at present the local chapter is the only one in Wisconsin.

The name, Sigma Theta Epsilon, signifies "Workers Together with God through the Church," and, although of Methodist preference, it is open to men of all faiths. The purpose of the organization is to promote a closer Christian fellowship, and further the development of high moral standards in college men to the betterment of student life.

The organizational meeting was held early in September at which time Edwin Heuer was elected president. The other officers include Robert Gilbert, vice president; Kelly Douglas, secretary-treasurer; Dave Butler, pledge-master; and Gordon Sorenson, chaplain.

Help Week, Not Hell Week

An effective pledge week will be carried out by each member doing constructive work in the community. STE pledging activities will be distinguished by the slogan "Help Week" instead of "Hell Week."

A banquet is being planned with a committee composed of Edward McCandless, Charles Kellogg and Charles Robinson in charge.

Honorary members of the new fraternity are Dr. Jans Vander Graf, Dr. Arthur S. Lyness, Robert S. Lewis, Arrol C. Epple and Donald Warner.

List of Charter Members

Newmanites' Convention Declared as a Success

A wonderful success was proclaimed for the Newman Club Regional Convention held at Central State, October 19-21. "Newmanism Functioning" was the general theme, and delegates came from a number of Wisconsin and Minnesota colleges to discuss the problems represented by the theme.

Ronald Nelson, chairman of the north central province, said a few words on the National Federation, and Patrick Ritchie of the University of Minnesota gave a resume of the national convention held in New Hampshire.

Mary Pfiffner served as toast-mistress at the Saturday evening dinner at St. Stanislaus' church hall, and Miss May Roach commented on the convention highlights. The main speaker at the Saturday evening dinner was Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas O'Shaughnessy, pastor of St. James' Catholic church at Wausau. Special recognition was given to Henry Drescher, WSC Regional chairman, for his outstanding work in planning for the convention.

Central State Honors Ted Fritsch Former Football Player of College

Ted Fritsch, Central State's most famous griddier, was honored at day long activities last Wednesday, October 31, which was designated, "Ted Fritsch Day" by the Student Council.

A pep assembly at 2:30 p.m. started things rolling, with Ted being well received by the small, but enthusiastic, crowd in attendance. President William C. Hansen greeted Fritsch on behalf of the college. Ed Facklam, an old friend, told of his early acquaintance with Ted, and then introduced him to the audience.

His usual jovial self, the former star griddier said he was very much honored to be given such recognition on that day, for in addition to its being Halloween it was also his birthday.

A special dinner, sponsored by the S club, was given at the Campus Cafe at 5 p.m. Mr. Hansen, Dean Herbert R. Steiner and Bill Cable, student council president, gave short talks, and Fritsch, related some of his more humorous experiences in pro football.

"A Fine College Citizen"
 Ceremonies between the halves of the Point-Platteville game topped off the day. President Hansen paid tribute to Fritsch, who he said "was a fine citizen of this college community for four years." He then added, "We've had five Fritsches here at Stevens Point and all five were a credit to the Fritsch family."

Jim Cashin, a teammate of Ted's on past Pointer teams, reminisced about the "old days" and remarked that 1938 "seems a long, long time ago." He then introduced the guest of honor.

Students Give Football Memo
 Fritsch was presented with a football on which was inscribed, "Central State, Ted Fritsch Day, Oct. '51." Charles Hodgdon, Pointer sports editor, presented the ball on behalf of the student body as a memento of the day. Chuck also had a corsage for Ted's wife, who, however, was unable to come. As Ted explained, "She's home taking care of a future fallback for Stevens Point."

In a serious vein Fritsch thanked the people of Stevens Point and told them, "I've never forgotten the fact that I spent four swell years here."

Then there are the unseen heroes of the line. It was plenty cold, but they were hot.

What do the felias mean when they say a great guy bowed out? It is hard to put into words, but when a man gives his all to build young men as Coach Hale Quandt has, the objective becomes inevitable. Besides helping the boys physically, he almost puts them through school! He runs an employment service, finds the boys housing and keeps check on their grades.

Coach Quandt came to us in 1947 from Tomah High School where he was highly successful. His success continued here, and after building in 1947 and 1948, he produced a championship team in 1949. Since then the team has hit a decline, as is typical of the years following a championship. Now, still a lover of boys and sports, he has decided to shift his burden and share the work with a new coach. Our hat goes off to you, Coach Hale Quandt! Keep up the fine work!

Ted Fritsch Day was a success from all reports. It made the sports pages across the nation, from Los Angeles to New York, via the AP wire.

We would like to extend a hearty welcome to Coach John Roberts who has begun some of his duties here.

He made an Informal debut Monday morning by giving the first hour men's physical education class a few extra basketballs to fight for in pre-class practice.

Central State Gridders Bow Out 1951 Season

Coach Hale Quandt and his boys bowed out of the 1951 football season by tying Oshkosh 0 to 0 and losing a heartbreaker to Platteville 7 to 6.

The luckless Pointers found it hard to score in both games. They were at the season's low at Oshkosh, only to recover the following week in order to have fate rob them of a victory from a strong Platteville eleven here.

The Oshkosh game was one of little action as both teams failed to score or give out with any sensational plays.

However, in the season's final the Pointers thrilled a crowd of "Ted Fritsch Day" fans with long runs and vicious body contact. The Ole statue of liberty play was the plan on which the Pointers scored from the Platteville thirty-five. Byron Purchatzke carried the ball all the way. Al "Junior" Due missed the extra point. This proved to be tragic because in the second quarter Marquardt pushed over from the eight yard line and Aucler converted.

The other highlights of this game were line plunges by Dave Bliese, hard and fast running in Platteville's secondary by Purchatzke and Herman, and long kickoff returns, highlighted by Kenny Koehn's run into Platteville territory.

Platteville's tossing was done by Dale Marquardt, 175 pound right halfback, who was a thorn in the Pointer's side all night.

Jacobson Third in Cross-Country Race

Ed Jacobson, unattached runner from Central State, placed third in the Wisconsin Amateur Athletic union cross-country race held in Milwaukee on Saturday, November 3.

William Inda and Donald McLaughlin from the University of Wisconsin crossed the finish line with joined hands to share first and second places.

The other WSC runner, Les Carlson, finished in seventeenth place.

STANDINGS INCOMPLETE

Three games were postponed in the State conference last week. As a result, the final standings are not ready for publication. They will be in next week's issue.

Link Calls 'Em

Here we are back at Central State after the weekend at Madison, and what a weekend it was. The Badgers did their usually fine job on the gridiron, though it took members of the old guard to do it. Special mention should be given to a freshman, Don Voss, who is destined for stardom as a terrific end.

We noticed many visiting students from Central State at the Wisconsin Homecoming this weekend. They told me they were in Madison to winterize (add alcohol, that is) and they weren't kidding. (Was I shocked?)

This weekend, we find the Badgers out to revenge last year's defeat by Pennsylvania. After hearing that little William and Mary defeated the Quakers, we are very sure that the powerful Badgers will do the same. We vote the Badgers in by 14 points; snow or no snow.

Illinois Will Lose by 1
 The game that most of us here in Wisconsin will be listening to is the Illinois-Iowa game. Iowa has just what is needed to defeat the Illini, determination and desire, which was shown last week as they came from behind to tie the Minnesota (20-20) with three 4th period tallies. We may be foolish but we like the Iowa Hawkeyes by 1.

The Minnesota Gophers will be trying for their first Big 10 victory this weekend and have chosen Indiana as their foe. The boys from Indiana have a fairly good team, as we observed this past weekend, and should be able to spoil the Saturday for the Gophers. The Hoosiers by 6.

NW Over Purdue

Northwestern returns to Evanston this weekend to do battle with the Purdue Boilermakers. This is a hard game to pick when you find a team like Northwestern losing to the Badgers 41-0 one weekend and then losing 3-0 to a powerful Ohio State team. Northwestern being up and down from one weekend to the next we pick a stable Purdue team to win by 10.

Michigan travels east this weekend to play the Big Red of Cornell. Both of these teams went down in defeat this weekend and will be itching to return to the win column. We're going to pick the Wolverines to defeat the boys from the east by 15 points on the basis that we feel the Big Ten is a far better conference (Continued on page 4)

Goerke Park is covered with snow, football equipment is being put away and the sounds of basketballs resound in the gym. However, we just can't leave football without a few last comments.

It was a luckless season — no other word will fit. We just didn't get a break this season. Coach Quandt did a great job. The boys played hard and with lots of fight, but, as the result of a bad break or two in each game, the season's record turned out to be a nightmare. We lost one game by seven points, one by six and one by one. The rest were ties. We weren't even lucky enough to get another the last Wednesday so we could set a record of the number of ties in one season.

No matter what the record book says or what fair weather fans say, to the coach and to the boys, plus some of the "knowing" fans, the season was a success.

It came to a grand finale when the boys on the team presented a cigarette lighter to their coach after the Platteville game. Yes, Coach Hale Quandt had coached his last football game as head coach. The felias knew that a "great guy" was bowing out of the spotlight. They had tried with everything they had to present him with a victory but Lady Luck wasn't with them.

However, the bad luck didn't mean much because Coach knew the team gave all they had.

To mention just a few examples: Did you ever see our backfield run so hard? Dave Bliese was pounding the line furiously. Bryan Purchatzke was the best we have seen him this year, and even Ken Kochi almost handed Coach the ball game and himself a thrill when he carried the ball back on a kickoff. He chose to cut to the left, however, and the only man between him and the goal tackled him.

Coach Quandt Announces Basketball Season Open

No sooner does the echo of cheering in Goerke Park die out, than the college gymnasium begins to resound with bouncing basketballs.

Coach Hale Quandt is looking forward to a good season and it is rumored that he has an "ace up his sleeve."

The Pointers finished sixth in the Wisconsin State college conference last year winning five out of twelve games.

Coach Quandt has eight returning lettermen and quite a few "six-footers" among newcomers. The lettermen are Guards Walt Samelstad, Ray Anderson and Nubbs Miller. Forwards Chet Polka and Phil Jones, Centers Bill Warner, Fred Schade-wald and Ray Zwolinski.

The "newcomers" haven't been announced as yet.

Ohio State to Beat Pitt
Homecoming time at Pittsburgh will find the Panthers facing the Ohio State Buckeyes. Pittsburgh has had a very tough schedule so far and has lost most of their games. With these two factors in view, it's almost impossible to think that they could beat Ohio State, though they will give them a good game. Ohio State by 7.

Klacks Are Class of Intramural League

Games played two weeks ago in the intramural touch football league found the Klacks continuing their winning ways at the expense of the Ramblers, squeaking past them by a slim margin of 6 to 0. In the Thursday game, the Klacks overpowered the Graham Crackers 19 to 0 to take over undisputed possession of first place. The Phi Sigs forfeited their remaining games and in so doing cut the league membership down to three teams.
