SERIES VII VOL. II Stevens Point, Wis., December 4, 1952 No. 6

Here's the royalty for the Senior Ball, relaxing (or shall we say posing) in the Student Union. Hank Drechsler and Mary Pfiffner are the king and queen.

Henry Drechsler, Mary Pfiffner Are Royalty of Senior Ball

Primary Council to Play Santa Claus

An orphan asylum must be a very lonely place at Christmas time; so we of Primary Council decided. We also decided we were going to try to help make one particular orphanage in Sparta, Wisconsin, a little happier this Christmas. The primary grades of the Training school decided they would like to help, and are giving their complete Thanksgiving offering to pay for the refreshments at the orphanage school Christmas party.

But Christmas just isn't Christmas without a little present "all your own." We Primary girls decided that this is where we could help. But now we've run into trouble, for we're short of funds! Wouldn't you of CSC like to help us make Christmas merry for these little children? We're sure it would help to make your Christmas happier, too.

There will be boxes at various places around school for your contribution. We will appreciate your help.

"Blue Christmas" Will Be Theme

Blue lights amid evergreen trees and wreaths will carry out the theme, "Blue Christmas," at Delzell Union Saturday night, December 6, when Henry Drechsler, President of the Senior class and his queen, Mary Pfiffner, will reign at the Senior Ball.

Students and their guests will dance to the music of Jerry Smith and his orchestra from 9 o'clock to one.

Chaperones for the dance will be Mr. and Mrs. Arol Epple, Mr. and Mrs. Burdette Eagon and Mr. and Mrs. Quincy Doudna.

Committee chairmen and members have been working hard to make this an enjoyable evening for everyone. General co-chairmen are Mary Brittnacher and Bill Clayton; theme chairman, Joyce Moll; decorations, Glenna Clark; dance hall, Ed Heuer; orchestra, Jack Popeck; publicity, Ross Papke; invitations, Mary Pfiffner; chaperones, Helen Isberner; tickets, Barbara Nelson; furniture, Frank Hoffman; and clean-up, Arlene Altenburg.

National 4-H Award Goes to Helen Jones

Helen Jones, sophomore in the Rural division here at CSC, has been chosen as winner of a National 4-H club community relations award. Only two of these national awards are given, the other going to a boy from Georgia. Each will receive a

Heer Ye! CSC Has Hunting Hero

By Mary Lund

A young prof took a trip to Oconto, For partridges and ducks to kill pronto.

He had some tough luck And shot not a duck, Though with his new gun he did want.

This is a story of another "young prof" who, during the first days of hunting season, went on a "no luck" hunting trip with his brand new three-shot pump gun. It seems that "One Shot," as he is affectionately called by his buddies, couldn't get used to his brand new three shot pump gun. He continued to think he had his old trusty (or rusty) one shot rifle with him, usually shooting (and missing) only once instead of three times.

Another contributing factor to this young prof's empty-handed home coming is the sudden appearance of a water hole and the sudden disappearance of the young prof and his brand new three shot pump gun. After emerging and emptying the water from his brand new three-shot pump gun, "One Shot" calmly proceeded to step over a barbed wire fence. His buddies then calmly proceeded to pick him off the fence.

All in all, "One Shot Weivel" enjoyed the excursion immensely. Didn't you, Doc?

Chi Delta Rho Granted National Charter in Sigma Phi Epsilon

Chi Delta Rho fraternity, founded on this campus over 20 years ago, will become Wisconsin Delta Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon, a national fraternity, on Saturday, December 6. Announcement that the chapter has been granted a national charter was received here early this week from the fraternity's national office located in Richmond, Va.

Events planned for the coming weekend include initiation ceremonies, an installation banquet and attendance at the Senior Ball.

In commenting on the change in fraternity status, Chi Delt president, Frank De Guire said, "National affiliation has been a topic of discussion in our group for some time, and we are both happy and honored to have been picked by an organization like Sigma Phi Epsilon. It will certainly be something new for all of us, but we feel that it will benefit not only our own organization, but the school as well."

"Sig Eps." Organized The "Sig Eps." as the fraternity members are commonly called, were organized around the turn of the century at the University of Richmond in Virginia. The organization grew rapidly during the ensuing years, and at the present time there are 116 chapters located on college campuses throughout the United States. Other chapters in this district are at Lawrence college, Appleton; Carroll college, Waukesha; the University of Wisconsin and the University of Minnesota.

A number of national officers are expected to be on campus to assist with the installation. They include Grand Historian J. Russell Pratt, Western Spring, Ill. and Field Secretary Matt McBride, Richmond, Va.

Most of the weekend activities will take place on Saturday, with the initiation of the local men by initiating teams from Lawrence and Carroll colleges scheduled to take up most of the morning and afternoon.

Banquet at Whiting

The installation banquet will be held in the main dining room of the Hotel Whiting on Saturday at 6:30 p.m. The highlights will be the presentation of the charter and the installation of officers. Guests at the dinner will include the grand officers, members of the initiating teams, Quincy Doudna, dean of administration; Herbert R. Steiner, dean of men; Jerry Bartosz, president of Phi Sigma Epsilon, another campus fraternity; the fraternity advisers, Raymond M. Rightsell, Gilbert W. Faust, Raymond E. Specht and Norman E. Knutzen; and visiting delegates from the Universities of Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Mr. Knutzen is already a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon, having been initiated at Wisconsin Alpha chapter when he attended Lawrence college.

Alums Are Guests

Invitations have also been extended to Sig Ep alums, Gilbert B. Bannerman, superintendent of schools at Wausau, and Paul M. Vincent, Stevens Point superintendent of schools.

Many of the fellows will end the day's activities by attending the Senior Ball at Delzell Hall.

Additional orientation meetings will be held on Sunday afternoon.

Another Sig Ep from Lawrence who has been helping with the arrangements is Ken Hurlbut. Ken transferred to Central State this fall. Bill Clayton is general chairman for the installation. Other chairmen are Bill Anderson, invitations; Gary Krueger, initiations; Dick Kussman, housing; and Gene Paulson, reception.

Gamma Delta Will Give Variety Show

Gamma Delta, a Lutheran student group, is holding its annual Variety show on December 7, at 7:30 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran church, corner of Wyatt and Central streets.

Lester "Swede" Carlson is the production manager, assisted by Dick Bruha and Bale Rindfleisch. The program will include vocals (solo and duet), mixed duets, instrumental, character sketches, readings, impersonations, and a short play.

The Variety show was begun last year to entertain Gamma Deltans and their friends. By popular request it is being repeated this year.

Refreshments will be served. A silver collection will be taken. Anyone may attend.

Flash!
Norbert "Nubbs" Miller, charging Pointer fullback and CSC's "player of the year," has been named to the mythical Little All-American team.

Inquiring Reporter Asks:

A Morning Coffee Hour at Union?

How would you like a 10 o'clock coffee hour at the union? This question was put to a group of CSC students and faculty members. This is what they said:

Marge Gerhard — "It sounds like a good idea, but, of course, it's farther to walk."

Carl Jurgella — "It's too far to walk. I don't like coffee that well."

Charlotte Aronson — "I think having a coffee hour in the union is a wonderful idea. It offers a good opportunity for students to get acquainted."

John Miller — "I think that's a good idea, but I don't have 10 o'clock free except on Fridays."

Jim Mulady — "Well, if they only charge a nickel for coffee, it should be all right."

Eileen Schieb — "It's a good idea. If the kids support it, it should be a success."

Jim Giordana — "Yeah, sounds swell. I'll make use of it."

Bob Konopsky — "I'd like it fine. How about some classes being held there, over coffee?"

Mrs. Tolo — "Being a Norwegian,

I couldn't forego my morning cup of coffee. I also suggest a screen for us dunkers to get behind."

Mr. Crow — "It would be a good idea if there's enough business to justify it."

Many others who didn't wish to be quoted expressed desire "to have the union moved closer so they wouldn't have to walk so far" and "to have all 10 o'clock classes dismissed so everyone could take advantage of the coffee hour." Most think that having the union open at 10 o'clock for coffee and donuts is a good idea.

This idea originated chiefly because of the sad condition of union finances. In order to keep our union functioning properly, it must have sufficient funds. This would also, put to good use the coffee maker recently presented to the union by WSGA.

With Deepest Sympathy

Students and faculty wish to extend their sincere sympathy to Miss Pauline Isaacson in the recent death of her father, and to Miss Cecilia Winkler in the recent death of her sister.

The Way of Rome:

America the Invincible

American is going the way of Rome. We Americans are too sure of ourselves. Almost to a man we adhere to the doctrine of American invincibility. We are dangerously complacent: "We're first in everything. We can't be beaten. Why worry?"

We can be beaten — we can't — we can't! Let's face it. The United States is not invincible, or even in first place.

Why, we won two world wars, you say. We did not! America just happened to be on the winning side. What about next time?

We are being beaten in Korea — now! Don't let anyone tell you anything else. Our defeat may go down in the books as one of the most humiliating defeats in history.

And don't believe any of the hogwash about American blunders being responsible for Korea. We are not losing because of American policy errors. We are being beaten simply because we are not supreme. We are not almighty gods. We do not rule the world. We are not even the world's number one power.

Yet we believe in America the Invincible. Such was the way of Rome.

The Roman senators basking in the delights of their country villas would not believe the Tale of the Goth. We refuse to feel the Goth of 1932 breathing down our necks.

The complacent Romans knew of the warfare and suffering along their borders, yet feared little for their native land. Do we ever think of war as involving our homes?

The Roman mob, fed and entertained by the State, little realized the doom that hovered in the North. The thousands of American workers fed and entertained by the State see only the ever-triumphant eagle and smiling Uncle Sam.

No Roman believed the all-powerful legions could be beaten. Need we draw the comparison?

Yes, such was the way of Rome. How foolish, we say; and yet — America is going the way of Rome.

FAMILIAR FACES

Stan Karls, a junior from Madison, is a familiar figure on the campus, especially in sports. He was chosen all-conference guard in this, his last year of eligibility. In addition, he is very active in intramural sports, the city leagues and wrestling.

Stan also is a member of the "S" Club, the Glee Club, where he is a soloist, and the Newman Club, of which he is president. He works at the Union and his only worry is that the Union make enough to pay his salary.

In the summer he works with a youth group in Madison. In it are While Mr. Burroughs was tearing his hair, the cast did a good job of faking dialogue for ten minutes before Stan put in his appearance. "But I didn't have my socks on," he exclaimed. It seems he was downstairs putting on his long stockings and shorts required for his role when the curtain rose early. Out of breath from running upstairs, he finally came on stage to the relief of the others.

Stan, who sometimes answers to the name of Fat Boy, was described by some friends as being a nice guy with a short hair cut. "Yeah, a short hair cut," said Stan. And usually he doesn't shave very often. "Yeah, you can see that," said Stan. And he has a determined look. A very determined look," echoed Stan.

Stan leads a very sheltered life working as a librarian in the college. Some people wonder if he isn't writing some great research paper since he spends so much of his spare time among the stacks of huge volumes.

Stan is in the Upper Elementary Division. After he graduates, if he doesn't quit school first (he threatens to quit toward the end of each semester). He would like to teach a few years and work up into a business position, possibly a printing business of his own.

high school students interested in theater and radio, who sometimes put on plays and radio shows.

His pet peeves include drivers, especially those who don't seem to know what they are doing or that there are other cars on the road. He likes bright neckties. He has a fluorescent pink necktie of which he is especially fond. Stan drives a '36 Ford with no gas. "Yeah, remember we pushed it all over last year," he said with a grin.

Stan played a role in the play, "Twelfth Night," about a year ago.

Plans Underway For Christmas Concert

Practice is already underway for CSC's annual Christmas Concert, which is to be given in the College auditorium on Sunday and Monday evenings, December 14 and 15. Represented will be the Girls' Glee Club, Mixed Chorus and College Symphonette under the direction of Peter J. Michelson. Miss May Roach is again in charge of the Nativity scene and Miss Edna Carlsen, stage decorations.

Miss Patricia Hinz of Port Edwards will present an organ prelude before the concert.

Teachers and students from Port Edwards, Wisconsin Rapids, Nekeosa, Amherst, Athens, and Weyauwega will take part in the Symphonette.

The Sunday evening concert, December 14, will be for the production of "Tickets are now on sale at Hannon Bach's, Taylor's and Westenberger's drug stores."

How do! After the wonderful break we just had. (Thanksgiving vacation — what else?) It's hard to get back with our noses to the grindstone. Most everyone seems to look a little happier, pudgier, and more tired. Oh well, we have a couple weeks to recuperate, in preparation for Christmas vacation.

All was not wonderful and serene last week, however. We were told of an accident which occurred on Friday morning. One of our upper classmen, Jim, while looking out a window atop a 21-story building, leaned out a little too far. The obvious took place, and Jim landed on the sidewalk. A crowd gathered, and one kindly old gent rushed up and asked, "What happened? Is anybody hurt?" Jim replied, "I don't know. I just got here."

This "engaging" business is really booming — lucky kids! Recent newcomers to our list are Joann Buhndorf and Pete March, and Margaret Leitner and Lt. Robert Brost.

A group of ambitious young men from CSC have made plans to spend the Christmas holidays (when we are either snowed or lead in) in sunny California. We're green with envy! However, we wonder if Mr. Specht would be kind enough to conduct a one-week driver-training course. Nothing implied, of course, but we do want you fellows back, ornamenting our institution.

The secret is out! All you have to do is look at Bob Flint's eyes, and you know something wonderful has happened. The sparkle must mean something — and it does — a new Plymouth!

In closing, the modern definition of a much used term: Wolf — a big game hunter. A guy who enjoys life, liberty and the happiness of pursuit. So long —

Frosh Writes Home

December 3, 1932

Dear Mother, How are you? I am fine. You'll find the laundry tucked in the envelope with this letter.

My classes are terrific. Some profs even try to be funny. The other day in one particular class, only fifteen minutes after it had started, the instructor came in and said, "Today we'll discuss the one author in Barhonian literature who had the technique of writing dogmatically during the epoch struggle of 1726. You all know who I mean, so go home and read some of his stuff."

While in a lab period last week, I was examining a specimen (a lab specimen that is) and was rather confused, when the instructor came over and said, "How are you coming along?" and I replied, "Well, I've found the epophysis, the flottax, the supra parietals, and the stimatis, but I can't figure out what this thing is." My instructor looked at the whozit and said, "Well, — er — ah, — that's a common mistake; don't worry about it."

After he cleared that up for me, I slipped into my next class just before the professor locked the door. Which reminds me that two weeks ago a friend of mine didn't quite make it on time. Poor old three finger Jones.

Ah, well, enough of that. To go on with my letter, I was mulling over some dates during lecture when the instructor commented merrily, "I don't like to stress dates. All I want you to remember are the times, places, and events." This relieved my mind because I simply can't remember dates.

By the way, I hope you'll pardon the condition of this letter, 'cause my arm is stiff. We had some "health" exercises in Phy. Ed. yesterday and I wonder at what it's done for me.

Love, Your Son.

P.S. Would you please forward my tax return as soon as possible. I owe a library fine, and I'd like to get my gold watch back.

P.S. No. 2. This literary epistle was composed by Dick Tozer, Stevens Point senior, who's probably had a lot of experience writing home. — Ye Ole Editor.

Coffer Marionettes to Present Comedy—"The Imaginary Invalid"

Hi students! An unusual and exciting program is waiting for you at the CSC auditorium on Friday, December 5, at 10 a. m. Martha Miller Coffer and Jess Coffer, actor-marionettists, will present their unusual Pedal Marionettes in the three-act comedy "The Imaginary Invalid" by Moliere.

In this play, Argon, an imaginary invalid, wishes to make his daughter, Angelique, marry a physician, for his convenience; she loves Cleante and refuses, and is saved from being sent to a convent only through the machinations of the maid, Toinette, who disguises herself as a physician and brings about a permanent cure.

Pedal marionettes are something new, different, and unlike the usual marionettes which are operated from above by strings. Pedal marionettes are operated by pedals attached to a tiny platform upon which each figure is mounted. No strings are visible and the figures appear to move under their own power. The pedal marionette is exclusively identified with Coffer-Miller.

Sixty pedals and 130 strings are operated by the Coffer-Miller team while they portray the ten characters and give variation of voice to each. They use no script. The Coffers speak some 8,000 words of dialogue from memory. Their pedal marionettes are distinctive in that this is the only marionette theatre in the country today presenting only classic comedies.

The Pedal Marionette theatre was originated by Martha Miller Coffer and Jess Coffer, two professional actors. For many years they toured to universities, colleges, and artist courses all over the nation. Six years ago the Coffers gave up the stage to devote all their talent to the marionette theatre.

Mr. Coffer creates all the figures and technical operation. Mrs. Coffer makes the elaborate and historically accurate costumes and creates the hair-dos, shoes, jewels, and stage furnishings.

Everyone is welcome to come to this marionette show on Friday morning. You paid your admission when you purchased your activity ticket at the beginning of the semester. It's a program you won't want to miss.

Churches To Present Christmas Parade

The churches of Stevens Point, in cooperation with the retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce, will present a unique Christmas parade on Saturday, December 6, at 1:45 p. m. The parade will feature floats depicting the events that portray the true meaning of Christmas, the birth of Jesus Christ. A special committee known as the "Put Christ Back into Christmas" committee has been formed. This is an effort on the part of the businessmen and businesswomen to de-emphasize the commercialization of Christmas and keep alive the true meaning.

There will be approximately 13 floats in the parade. Each float will carry out a Christmas scene. As the parade passes you will be able to see the whole Christmas story pass before you. Each float is under the supervision of a different church. In addition there will be four vested choirs on floats.

The parade route will be as follows: Starting at the Soo Line depot it will go down Division street to Clark street, then proceed west on Clark to the square. From the square it will go down Main and Fremont streets to St. Michael's hospital. The parade will circle the hospital block and disband at the High School.

Bob Westfall, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, sends this message to CSC students: "I cordially invite the students of the college to enjoy this parade with the rest of the people. It should prove very inspiring and it is probably something that you haven't seen before."

Pointers to Play Milton in First Home Game; Play Winona There

Two non-conference foes will furnish the opposition for the Pointer basketball team in week-end action. The first game will be played Friday night, December 5, at Winona, Minnesota. The second game will be on Monday night, December 8, against Milton college in the P. J. Jacobs high school gym in Stevens Point at 8 p.m. The latter will be the first home contest of the Pointer's 1952-1953 season.

Winona provided some exciting moments for the Pointers last year before allowing CSC to overcome them. After trailing for a time in the first game fought at the Minnesota school, the Pointers put on a burst of power and pulled away to win, 67-52. In the second game, played on the Point floor, the locals had to extend themselves to win 72-70.

Milton Dropped First Game

Little is known about the Winona aggregation, other than that they dropped their first game in favor of Eau Claire, 85-60. The Pointers will face the Minnesotans only once this season.

The Quandtmen also faced Milton college twice last season, defeating them 73-63 and 72-65. Also, this will be the only pairing of the two teams this year.

Starters for the games are very doubtful, and the selections probably will not be certain until just before game time. However, if Coach Quandt starts the same unit as he did in the two previous games, Anderson and Bechard or Helixon will get the nod at the guard spots, Bostad and Thompson at forwards and Blomiley at the center slot. Others slated to see plenty of action in the two games will be Sanks, Redding, and Schroeder at the guard position; Schommer and Boldig at forward; and Schadewald at center.

Pointers Hope for Victory

The Pointers have high hopes of adding victories three and four to their string-and, from all indications, they should be able to do just that. They have shown that they can pour points, lots of them, through the hoop with some consistency. The balanced unit has also shown that it can overcome the pressure element and squeeze out of the tight spots. This, in addition to the games already won, should prove the Purple and Gold a mighty tough team to beat.

Pointers Start Off On the Right Foot; Beat Tech, 84-75

CSC uncorked its 1952-53 basketball season at Houghton, Michigan on Tuesday, November 25 when they solidly trounced Michigan Tech to the tune of 84-75. The entire traveling squad of 12 men saw action in the game.

Sputting to a 22-12 advantage at the first quarter, the Pointers roared on to a 46-32 lead at half-time. At the three-quarter mark the count stood at 68-52. In the final quarter the Huskies tried a full-court press to no avail and the Purple and Gold kept its lead and won by a final nine-point margin.

Bob Blomiley paced the Pointers as he poured in 19 points. Following in scoring was Ray Anderson with 16 markers. High scorer for the host team with 17 points was guard Jim Anderson.

Several Pointers showed first-game jitters and others made some mistakes which showed lack of experience, but as a unit, the team functioned very well and showed unusual early season polish. Only three players from the two teams had to leave the game because of fouls.

CSC Rolls Over Northland, 91-58

CSC's cagers had an easy time gathering their second win in as many nights as they thoroughly trounced Northland college of Ashland Wednesday night, November 26, 91-58. The game was played at Ashland.

The Quandtmen went point-happy as they completely snowed the northern opponent. Everyone on the Pointer squad saw considerable action, with everyone contributing freely to the scoring. High-point man for the locals was Joe Sanks with 13 markers. Following him were Bob Blomiley with 12 and Fred Schadewald and Jerry Boldig with 10 each. High-point getter for Northland was freshman guard, Jim Stevens with 20 markers for the night.

As a team and as individuals the Pointers showed marked improvement over their opening game played the night before at Michigan Tech. Bob Bostad, Dick Bechard, Joe Sanks, Jerry Boldig, and Bill Schroeder were among those who showed vast improvement.

The Pointers opened up with a 20-14 lead for the first quarter and then poured it on to lead at the intermission 41-24. At the three-quarter mark the spread was 27 points as the locals led 67-40 and the game ended in a 91-58 victory.

7 Pointers Are All-Conference

Point gridders honored were Nubbs Miller at fullback, Marilyn Gilbert at center, Mark Schommer at end, and Stan Karls at guard on the offensive team.

Named to the defensive unit were Bob Bostad at end, Jack Popeck at linebacker, and Bryan Purchatzke at halfback.

Optimism is running high in CSC basketball circles. General opinion, before the season got underway, was that the Pointers have outstanding possibilities for a successful season. Those two winning games now behind them, prove it, but good. Coach Quandt's outfit has shown exceptional balance, both in ball handling and point accumulation.

Point opposition will have a tough time trying to put a clamp on CSC's scorers. To do that, it will have to stop virtually everyone in a point uniform. Of the 91 points scored by the Quandt-men during the Northland game, 13 of them were earned to take scoring honors. Everyone dropped in at least three. That is balance!

Bad weather made driving hazardous, delaying the Pointer's arrival in Houghton. It was necessary for them to be on the road from 7:30 Tuesday morning to 4:30 in the afternoon. Packed snow made the roads an icy-sheet, sometimes permitting only 20-25 mile per hour speeds. In all, the trip covered better than 700 miles.

While traveling from Houghton, Mich. to Ashland, Wis. on Wednesday morning, November 26, the team invaded Bob Blomiley's home in Ironwood, Mich. After the team had seen the deer his Dad had shot, "Moose" broke out some of his mother's cookies, which he carefully doled out to each player. Leaving Bob's home, the team took in a Blomiley-conducted tour of the city before eating dinner in a downtown Ironwood restaurant.

In basketball action around the circuit, including some non-conference foes of the Pointers, Lawrence whipped Mission House 102-35 and Luther beat Platteville 78-76. Ripon was trounced by Loyola of Chicago 86-68; Eau Claire bested Winona 85-60, and Whitewater was felled by Allen-Bradley. Milwaukee Industrial team, 67-52.

Conservation Seminar To Convene Saturday

The sixth annual conservation seminar of Wisconsin Valley educators will be held at the college on Saturday, December 6. Dr. Bernard F. Wiewel is general chairman of this program. Fred J. Schmeecke will participate in the day's events also, and President William C. Hansen will give the welcoming address.

"Water as a Natural Resource" is the subject of the address to be given in the afternoon session by M. W. Kyler, Vice-President and General Manager, Wisconsin Valley Improvement Company, Wausau.

The purpose of this year's one-day seminar will be "to find definite activities associated with a school forest, which will enrich the experiences of school children."

A field trip to the Carrie Frost Memorial forest will be a high-light of the program. Addresses about the development and working plan of the forest will be given by Ted Peterson, Asst. Extension Forester, University of Wisconsin and F. B. Trenk, Extension Forester, University of Wisconsin. At noon a lumberjack lunch will be served by Trees for Tomorrow.

The college and the city public schools will be the hosts to the 100 educators who will attend this conclave.

Garden Club Donates Conservation Award

A $100 cash scholarship donated by the Wisconsin Garden club federation will be awarded to an outstanding CSC senior majoring in conservation, according to an announcement by Fred J. Schmeecke, conservation department head.

The scholarship winner will be announced at the annual banquet of Alpha Kappa Lambda, conservation fraternity. The two $50 scholarships awarded each year to outstanding seniors in conservation, through the courtesy of the Fox River Valley Garden clubs, will be announced at the same time.

Dog Patch Characters Attend Hawkins Dance

A variety of Dog Patch characters contributed to the great success of the Sadie Hawkins dance held on Friday night, November 21. Among the honored attendants were Indian Joe and his college son, George; Wolf Girl, several colorful Indians, Marrying Sam, and numerous other oddly dressed characters of Dog Patch and surrounding territories.

Prizes amounting to $10 were given to the following people: Don Smith, best-dressed "girl;" Bob Blomley and Benita Held, best dressed couple; Gene Paulson, best corsage; Fritz Schadewald, best dressed Indian.

The dance was well attended and according to conversation heard around the school, it was enjoyed by all.

Pointer Extends Contest Deadline

Due to the fact that the Pointer will not be published on December 18, and since the Pointer wishes to give everyone ample opportunity to enter their big limerick contest, the deadline date has been extended from December 12 to January 9.

Among the many fine limericks received to date is this outstanding composition from the pen of Jerry Bartosz.

There was a young miss at CSO
A teacher she wanted to be.
She took some Home Ec.
And now is a wreck.....
Ah, woe on this mat-ri-mo-ny.

See folks, it's not so hard. Bartosz can do it, so can YOU! Even faculty members can write limericks. Witness this little ditty from the hand of Mrs. Leila Tolo.

The history test almost sunk her.
She knew that the teacher would flunk her,

So she picked up her purse
And for better or worse
Spent her dime for a coffee and dunker.

Okay everybody — take advantage of the extra time — we're really looking forward to reading the loads of good limericks you're going to write.
