

Integration Bill for Colleges Introduced by Senate Committee

Following Governor Kohler's proposal to integrate the state's institutions of higher learning, a senate committee last week introduced a bill calling for a state university system under a single board of regents. Under its provisions, the bill would abolish four existing boards — the University of Wisconsin regents, board of state college regents, and boards of Stout Institute, Menomonie, and Wisconsin Institute of Technology at Platteville.

The new board of regents would have 14 members, not including the state superintendent of public instruction, who would serve ex-officio. Four of the regents would be appointed from the present board of university regents, four from the present state college regents, and one from the Stout board of trustees and one from the Wisconsin Institute of Technology regents. The others would be appointed at large.

The nine Wisconsin State colleges, Stout Institute at Menomonie and the responsible to the main board and a chancellor.

Proponents of the integration bill include the following arguments in urging its passage:

The bill will co-ordinate the efforts of the state's 21 institutions of higher learning and extend the advantages of the University of Wisconsin's liberal arts courses to students who can not afford to come to Madison.

Integration is a national trend. The legislator's job will be simplified if they only act on one budget submitted by one group of regents.

Educational needs will be weighed by one board, instead of four.

Famed Bunny to Visit CSC Monday - Yes, It's "Harvey"

CSC College Counter Managership Is Open

Wanted! Student to manage the college counter for the next two years, including summer sessions. Qualifications to be considered include honesty, responsibility and good judgment. Business experience and training in typing and bookkeeping are desirable. If interested, see Mr. Harris, Room 306, or Oliver Andrews at the counter.

Minnesota Actors to Give Play

Cork up "Ye olde wine bottle" so as to have a clear and steady vision and mayhap you can find an old pair of bifocals to help along. You won't want to miss a singly precious moment of Mary Chase's comedy "Harvey" which is being featured by the University of Minnesota Players on March 2 at 8 p.m. in the CSC auditorium.

A bus-load of young actors, scenery, costumes, properties, sound and lighting equipment from the University of Minnesota Theatre will bring this well-known Broadway comedy to Stevens Point.

"Harvey" is the story of an engaging bum who takes up with an imaginary and greatly oversized rabbit that he finds leaning against a lamp post. The rabbit not only becomes one of the main characters in the play, but becomes so real that theatre patrons will soon begin seeing him themselves. When the two get together, all sorts of wonderful nonsense begins, which makes this play one of the contemporary theatre's outstanding fantasy-comedies, full of whimsy and hilarity.

First Played in '44

"Harvey" first played on Broadway in 1944 starring Frank Fey and Josephine Hull. The play was so popular that following a long run there, it took to the road. A movie was made of the story and the play was produced in hundreds of school, community and summer theatres. Among the famous stars who have played the lead in "Harvey," are Joe E. Brown and Jimmy Stewart.

The University Theatre production has been staged by Kenneth L. Graham, associate director of the theatre, and the cast is a group of outstanding and experienced young actors.

Deadline of 7:45

Students are requested to be in the auditorium by 7:45, since townspeople will be allowed to fill vacant seats at that time. Robert S. Lewis, chairman of the assembly program committee, is in charge of the arrangements for "Harvey," which is sure to play to a capacity house.

Dean Steiner Ill; Classes Reassigned

Herbert R. Steiner, Dean of Men and chairman of the history department, here at CSC, has been ill at St. Michael's hospital for the past two weeks, and is expected to be absent from school for from four to six weeks more. He is unable to receive visitors at the present time, but would appreciate any notes or cards from the students.

During his absence Dr. Warren Jenkins is teaching his Constitutional History class, while Dr. Frank Crow has taken over his Representative American course and his American History class. Mrs. Leila Tolo is teaching two Modern European History classes formerly taught by Dr. Crow.

President William C. Hansen has appointed Dr. Warren Jenkins as acting Dean of Men in Mr. Steiner's absence.

Students and faculty hope that Mr. Steiner's health will be fully restored very soon so that he will again be back with them at CSC.

Warren Beck to Give Talks Today, Friday

Warren Beck, professor at Lawrence college and nationally-known author, will visit Central State college today and Friday to speak on various phases of literature. Members of Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity, will serve as special hosts to him.

Following a Sigma Tau dinner at the College Eat Shop this evening, the noted writer and teacher of English will speak to a group of people especially interested in writing, in the college auditorium. During this program, expected to begin about 7:30, Mr. Beck will discuss one of his short stories, "The Far Whistle." All alumni of Sigma Tau Delta are especially invited to this meeting.

Mr. Beck will be the guest of honor at a coffee hour this evening sponsored by Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. The event will be held in the Dezell Hall Lounge.

Mr. Beck is a Sig Ep from the Wisconsin Alpha chapter at Lawrence college.

On Friday morning at 10 o'clock, in the auditorium, the entire student body and faculty may hear Mr. Beck speak on the poet, Robert Frost, whom he knows well. CSC students were privileged to hear a lecture by Mr. Beck last year, and many are looking forward to his return.

Examples of Warren Beck's works are: the novels, "Final Score," "Pause Under the Sky," and "Into Thin Air"; the short stories, "The First Fish," "The Blue Sash," "Bound-und the Brow of the Hill," "Bound-und the Brow of the Hill," "Fancy's Line;" and the plays, "Fancy's Line;" and "Green Eyes in the Dark." Besides these forms of writing, he has written many critical articles and essays. A regular professor of English at Lawrence college, Appleton, Mr. Beck has taught at the Breadloaf School of English in Middlebury, Vermont, during the summer.

Teachers Convention Offers a Vacation

Because of the fortieth annual convention of the Central Wisconsin Teachers association at Wausau, the students of CSC will have a free day on Friday, March 6. (Thursday will be spent in mourning; socks will be worn at half mast!)

Members of the faculty who have special assignments at the convention include Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner, who is on the committee on resolutions; Robert S. Lewis, vice-president of the Audio Visual Education section and Miss Gertrude Hanson, who will speak on "Radio and Tape Recordings" at that sectional meeting. Dr. Quincy Doudna is slated to be chairman of the 1954 convention. This year's chairman is L. E. Peterson, superintendent of schools at Wittenberg.

Speaker at the morning session will be Leo K. Bishop, midwest director and national vice-president of the National Conference of Christian and Jews, and in the afternoon, Max Gilstrap, a newspaperman now assistant to the managing editor of the Christian Science Monitor. Their topics are "Moral and Spiritual Values in American Life" and "Your World and You," respectively.

New Pledge Training Program to Prevail

No more "Ispacebs," "Muds," or "Sagamos" on the Central State campus during the pledge season. The Greek groups at CSC are adopting a more modern pledge training program and dropping in near entirety the antiquated program previously carried on. The program will now follow more closely the pattern established by national groups.

Emphasis in the pledge program is to be centered around scholarship and a four-fold program planned for the betterment of the pledge, the Greek group, the school and the community. As planned the Greek pledges will all work together in doing a project for the community.

Emphasis is to be placed almost entirely on constructive pledge activities. However, there will be a short hazing period at the end of the pledge season. The traditional pledge pin and the organization colors will be worn during the entire pledge period.

The sororities and Phi Sigma Epsilon will have a pledge period of six weeks while Sigma Tau Epsilon will pledge for ten weeks. During this time all the pledges will work on the four-fold program and on individual Greek activities. The sorority pledges will begin work on pledge manuals for their respective groups.

Some of the things the pledges will be required to work into their manuals are the correct procedures for entertaining (invitations, teas, dress), correct parliamentary procedure, the history of the sorority, the sorority songs and other special sorority procedures, recognition and meaning of the other Greek symbols and the Greek alphabet.

The new pledge program has been worked out cooperatively through Intersorority and Pan-Hellenic council.

Win "Jug-o' Blood" for Your Class—DONATE!

When the Red Cross bloodmobile hits Stevens Point this trip, CSC blood donations are going to take a big upward spurt and far surpass the approximate 110 pints of Stevens Point's 600 pint quota our students have usually donated in the past. At least, that is what is hoped by Arol C. Epple who is in charge of the college donations and his physiology class who have organized the "jug-o' blood" contest.

The organized college campaign for blood which is now being waged, is not only for the purpose of getting all college students who are able, to donate, but also to serve to call public attention for the great need for donations.

If you are not anemic, if you weigh over 110 pounds and have never had jaundice — give blood.

Able freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors are urged to fill out the pledge cards in front of the library by February 27 indicating your class. The class having the highest percentage of donations will win the "traveling jug-o' blood." Let it be your class!

Another recent use of blood has been discovered which will prevent polio in young children. This fact makes the need for giving blood even greater than ever before.

Remember the slogan, "Give your blood today that others may live tomorrow."

General chairman for the class contest is Parr Eves. Committee members are Rose Christofferson, Felisa Borja, Mary Bartelt, Royce Wade, Barbara Hanson and Donna Thompson.

The place is the American Legion. The date is March 3, 4, 5. Transportation will be provided. And it doesn't hurt, but it helps.

Student Union Blues

Students have made very little use of their new Union during the past weeks. Rarely are there more than 20 students in the Union; and many times a three-handed game of bridge is the sole activity.

When compared to the steady attendance and activity at the Student Union during the first semester, this is startling news indeed.

Central State students and their Union have much in common with the stubborn little boy and his new Christmas toy. He plays with his new toy continuously for quite a while. But the novelty soon disappears. He tires of his play, discards the toy, and begs to be amused.

CSC students, so it seems, have discarded their new Union. It's really surprising its novelty has worn off so soon. Yes, it seems that the very thing the former students of this college hoped and prayed for so long has been tossed aside by the fickle student body of 1953 in less than a year.

Is our set of values too meager to realize the apparent values of a Student Union? Do we consider dorm ball sessions, house card parties, and the nightly exodus to Joe's more important than the use of a Student Union? If so, we do not deserve a Student Union.

If during the next months the present miserly use of the Student Union is continued, the Pointer will be forced to urge as an editorial policy the closing of the Student Union.

For it has been the policy of the Pointer from the start of this year to encourage the wise and intelligent use of student activity funds wherever possible (and to discourage unwise use, of course.) Needless to say, the policy of paying for the operation of an empty Student Union is not wise.

Disinterested in the Union as the majority of the student body and faculty seems to be, there are some students and faculty members who want to see a successful, well-used Union on this campus.

The members of the social committee and the Student Union board have asked the Pointer to bring the Union's plight before the students. They are willing to try almost anything to get the students in the habit of using the Union. Practical suggestions for improvement are anxiously awaited and will be warmly welcomed by them.

A plan is now being formulated by the head of the Student Union board which calls for the cooperation of all leading campus organizations. These organizations will be called upon to sponsor entertainment at the Union for one night of one week. Let's see to it that your organization fulfills its duty to the Union.

That leaves it all up to you, Central State students. If you want to keep your Student Union —

Make use of the Union yourself. You're paying for it, to the tune of $1 per semester.

Assist your Union board with active plans, constructive criticism, and practical suggestions.

FAMILIAR FACES

This week's familiar face is that of Oliver Andrews, more commonly known as "the guy who runs the counter." Ollie is a senior in Secondary with Chemistry as his major, and biology and conservation as minors.

Originally from Plymouth, Wisconsin, Ollie and his wife, Ellen, live at 635 Ellis street here in town.

Besides being in charge of the college counter, Ollie is particularly interested in athletics of all kinds. He has participated in both football and track since his arrival here as a freshman. Intramural sports and Sigma Zeta honorary science fraternity, also rate high on his list of interests.

Last semester Ollie practiced teaching chemistry at the local high school and even now rules a study hall over there "with an iron hand."

Now about the new arrival in the Andrews family . . . When interviewed before the blessed event, Ollie was asked whether he wanted a boy or a girl. He looked down the halls carefully, lowered his voice and said, "Confidentially, we're hoping for a boy." Well, the good ol' stork must have heard his plea because Wednesday, February 18, Jeffrey Oliver Andrews entered the world. (If Jeffrey had been a girl, he'd have been Beverly.) Incidentally, Mother Ellen Andrews went to CSC during the school year '49 and '50, but her name then was Ellen Green.

What the future holds for Ollie is yet unknown but he hopes it includes teaching in "some nice place."

Ollie's pet peeve is "People who complain of high prices." He is unusually fond of "my wife's cooking" and enjoys "most anything."

Kathryn Turney Garten To Present Book Review

Kathryn Turney Garten, noted book reviewer, will give her interpretation of the year's best seller, Thomas B. Costain's "The Silver Chalice," on Monday evening, March 9, at 8:15 in the college auditorium. Mrs. Garten is to be presented by the Business and Professional Woman's club of Stevens Point.

There are 100 tickets free to students upon presentation of their student activity tickets. These tickets may be secured at Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner's office or from Miss Carolyn Rolison in the main office and Miss Marie Swallow in the Training school office. To others the price of admission is $1.00.

"The Silver Chalice" has been called by reviewers "an outstanding historical novel." Most readers of the book will remember the stories they have read concerning the search for the Holy Grail. This is another story of the Grail. In Constain's story, Basil, a young Antioch silversmith is commissioned to design and fashion the chalice which was to hold the cup from which Jesus drank. He received this commission from Joseph of Arimathea. His adventures in making pilgrimages to various parts of Palestine and to Rome to view the faces of the men who will serve as models for this decoration of the chalice and his love for the granddaughter of his benefactor are told against a background of Rome and Jerusalem in the first century A.D.

Home Ec Club Elects Dahm New President

At the February meeting of the Home Ec club, officers for the second semester were installed. They are as follows: Dona Dahm, president; Delores Newhall, vice-president; Lou Breyman, secretary; and Jan Van Ornum, press representative. Miss Rita Youmans, head of the Home Economics department, is adviser for the club.

Demonstration Will Be Held in Art Room

A craft exhibit and demonstration will be held in the Art room on Thursday, March 5, by the Handcrafters, Waupun, Wisconsin, from 8:15 in the morning to 4 p.m. Student may visit are art room at any time that day, says Miss Edna Carlson, art instructor.

"Did You Know"

by Homer Plumb

Did you know that although a football game takes 60 minutes to play, the ball is in motion only 12 minutes of that time?

Did you know that the "S" in Harry S. Truman stands for exactly nothing? He has no middle name.

Did you know that the cotton gin was invented by Mrs. Nathaniel Green, and not by Eli Whitney?

Did you know that the famous 16th Century French prophet, Nostradamus, predicted over 400 years ago that Russia would invade our west coast in October, 1953? He pointed to the state of Oregon as their pathway of invasion.

Did you know that the score of the first Rose Bowl game in history was Michigan, 49, Stanford, 0? The remarkable part of the story is that Stanford refused to play after the third quarter. They knew when they were well-off!

Did you know that Bing Crosby is totally color-blind? He has never "seen" the true colors of the loud sport shirts that he has made famous.

Did you know that the legal minimum wage scale for "four-year degree" teachers in Wisconsin is only $1,200 per year? Slightly out of date!

One-Act Play Will Be Used for Recruitment

A one-act play entitled "One Hundred Dollars," by Ida Lubenski Ehrlich, is now in the process of production for use in the college recruitment program this spring.

The play is under the direction of Miss Pauline Isaacson and the cast is composed of members of Miss Isaacson's speech-216 class. The work is also part of a laboratory project in speech.

Characters in the play are as follows: Leonard Preston, Jack Pospick; Lucy Preston, his wife, Sally Connor; Ann, Lucy's sister, Phyllis Jarwick; Dora Reese, Lucy's friend, Winifred Pierre; and Mary, the maid, Eleanor Curtis.

As part of the college recruitment program, the play will be presented at assembly programs of high schools in this area. Afterwards the members of the cast will appear before high school senior classes and tell them about Central State college.

No definite dates or places have been chosen for the showing of the play as yet, but arrangements are being made by Dr. Raymond E. Gotham, chairman of the public relations committee of the college.

Swing Your Partner Friday, February 27.

You can "shake a leg" or rather both legs at the square dance on Friday, February 27, to be sponsored by WRA. The dance will be held in the college gym from 7 p.m. until you can dance no longer. Dr. Quincy Doudna will call the dances. No admission will be charged, but a silver collection will be taken.

The committee for publicity includes Mary Bartel, Rose Marie Christoffersen, Lou Breyman, Joanne Butts, Lenore Stertz, Charlotte Hale, Jo Daniels and Virginia Brisco.

Rose Marie Christoffersen, Lou Breyman and Mary Brittacher will see that there is plenty of coke on hand in case you need it.

Modern Dance Group Admits New Members

Orchestra, a modern dance group at CSC, recently admitted six new members to its organization. The new members are: Elaine Gilbertson, Janice Becker, Elaine Zellinger, Trudy Schnauffer, Ardelle Sobczak and Lenore Gaylord.

Orchestra meets every Monday night in the college gym at 7 o'clock. Members are working on some dance numbers but have not decided whether to give a recital this spring or next fall. Janet Bergelin is president of the organization, with Miss Jessie Mae Keyser as adviser.

Inquiring Reporter Asks:

Do You Favor Integration?

In asking the question — What is your opinion of Governor Kohler's proposal to integrate the state's institutions of higher learning? The inquiring reporter encountered indifference or ignorance on the part of many student. Those that had formal opinions were firm and definitely for or against the proposal.

The following opinions on this bill were voiced:

Dick Jacobus — The colleges would lose what little individuality they now have.

Al Mortenson — "Individuals are complaining about big government; now they're trying to bring it into the college systems."

Dorothy Palmer — "I'm not for it."

Gary Krueger — "If the integration bill does not improve the present system of transfer of credits, I'm against it."

Bud Schlach — "I'm agin' it." Germaine Blaskey — "I do not favor the bill. A university degree does not mean that much to me."

Mike Norcika — "I like the idea of getting a university degree."

Winifred Pierre — "It sounds to me like a good idea as far as the students are concerned, especially since the state colleges now offer liberal arts courses. Also, the bill would be economical."

Charles Klaus — "I like."

Sally Scribner — "It sounds like a good idea. It seems to me that such a bill might end some of the quibbling between the boards of regents

College Has 49 New Faces About Campus

Men's Glee Club to "Take Concert Road"

The CSC Men's Glee club is planning an extensive schedule of high school assembly concerts throughout central and southern Wisconsin this semester.

Many of these concerts have not yet been given a definite date but they will be on the calendar soon. The first tour will include concerts at New London, Shiocton, and Bear Creek on March 9.

Concerts at Wisconsin Rapids, Neokosa, Adams-Friendship, and Mauston will follow soon after.

Also in March the men will sing in Tomah at the high school and at an evening concert in that city.

Later, in April, the club will have an overnight trip to Wisconsin Dells. The singers will spend the night in that city, and present more concerts on the way home.

Wild Rose, Wautoma, Waupaca, and Hancock are also to be billed for concert programs. The dates for these concerts will be announced later.

Locally the club will sing its spring concert on the evening of April 16, and follow with the bi-annual college assembly concert on May 15. The annual Glee club banquet will be held on May 14, when next year's officers will be announced and plans for the following term released.

Tentatively, a concert at a March 29 festival at the Manitowish Navy Yard will also be on the schedule of the Men's Glee club.

Tau Gams Purchase A President's Pin

The Tau Gams have purchased a sorority pin with a guard of the Tau Gam crest attached. The pin is decorated with pearls and blue sapphires. The gold gavel on the chain was given by Mrs. Phyllis Peterson Pop of Medford. She is a former Tau Gam, graduating with the class of '51.

This pin is to be worn by the president of the sorority, each successive semester. Barbara Nelson, president of the Tau Gams, has the honor of wearing it now.

Point Teamwork Tops in Tough Tilt; Trample Terrible Titans

Playing its last home game of the season, the Pointer squad of Central State ripped past Oshkosh, 90-74, in a game played Saturday, February 21, on the P. J. Jacobs floor.

The visiting Titans showed early in the contest that they were not going to be pushed around as they opened up a 25-18 first-quarter advantage. However, the Pointers did a little "pushing" of their own and ripped the nets with 32 markers to put them ahead to stay at 50-43 at intermission time. After that the Titans were unable to score fast enough to catch up.

The Quindmen played what was perhaps one of their best home games of the year as a fighting team. Some of the younger team members had a rough time of it, but the Juniors and Sophomores on the squad found everything going their way after they once got started. Fritz Schadowald had one of his better outings as he scored 12 points and rebounded very well. Bob Blomley found his hook shot working and wound up the evening with 18 markers.

Veteran Les Thompson couldn't be stopped in the initial quarter as he rang up 11 markers and finished the evening with a total of 13. Charging Bob Bostad drove hard to lay up some sensational buckets during the course of the game. He added 15 points to his high total. Ray Anderson and Dick Bechard, both veteran guards, worked well in the back courts. Andy hit for three long shots in the tie-tale second quarter.

High scorer for either team was the Titans' Dick Verbeten. The rangy center ended up with 20 markers.

Platteville Trip to End CSC Cage Season

Fresh from a decisive win over Oshkosh, Central State's Pointers place the 6-5 conference record on the line in an attempt to avenge a 78-61 pasting when they journey to Platteville Saturday, February 28.

The game will mark the end of the 52-53 campaign and a victory will bring the Quindmen's season record to 13 wins and seven losses. The clash, however, will be a difficult one as the Pioneers boast the outstanding quintet in the state college loop and will be fighting for the championship. Coupled with this is the fact that the Pioneers will be caving on their home stamping grounds.

Expected to give the P and G cagers the biggest headaches are Zoren Rheinech and Rudy Van Fleet. Rheinech, a big pivot man from Fort Atkinson, paced Platteville in their Stevens Point outing with 19 points. Van Fleet is the "spring and holler guy" of the Pioneer contingent and is extremely fast and dangerous on a fast break.

For the travelers, Coach Quandt will undoubtedly rely on Thompson, Blomley, Anderson, Roloff, Redding, Sanks, Schadowald and Bechard. Who gets the starting nod will be a mystery until Friday night but each of these men will see plenty of action.

Redding and Blomley looked especially effective against the Oshkosh Titans and if the play of the team matches the caliber of the aforementioned in their last outing, the Pointers will be tough to stop.

Phi Sigs Maintain Slim Bowling Lead

By taking two of three games from Parkinson's, the Phi Sig kegler aggregation continues to hang on to its slim half-game lead in the college bowling league. Second-place Miller's managed to sweep a three-game series to harrass the leaders from the number two position.

Secretary-treasurer Parr Eves reminds all team captains that all "Blinds," whether bowling or non-bowling, must pay the regular bowling fee. In other words, all captains must hand in the full remittance for the five-man team.

BILL SCHROEDER

Columbus claims freshman freshman Bill Schroeder as a native son. Playing in a guard spot, he started several games in the early part of the season. Bill is 6 feet tall, lives at Delzell Hall, and is enrolled in Letters and Science. Football took up his free time last fall when he earned a letter by operating from the quarterback position.

A Stevens Point product, Joe is a 6 foot freshman guard. Also a football competitor, he has shown he can compete with the best, as he did when he scored 31 points in one recent home game. Joe was a member of last year's second-place all-state high school contingent and is enrolled in Letters and Science.

CSC Wrestlers Defeat Carroll in Final Meet

CSC's young grappling squad finished its first-year of competition Saturday afternoon, February 21, as they swamped Carroll, 28-10. The meet was staged in the Training school gym.

Point had shut out the Waukesha school in their first clash 40-0, the maximum score possible. The victory gave the Pointers an even three-three record for the season.

Coach Roberts used four regulars and four substitutes in Saturday's match, with most of the reserves collecting the defeats via falls.

Terry McMaheon, going in the 123 pound class took the least time to pin his man, turning the trick in 4:57. Terry McAuley, wrestling for his first time, had a fairly easy time disposing of his opponent. John Langston won by pinning his man at 5:15 in the 137 bout. Ralph Seefeldt ran the score to 20-0 as he pinned his man after having command of him most of the match. Dave Ross was pinned at 7:23 and Jerry Munderloh at 5:14 to make the score read 20-10. Dave Hurlbut then proceeded to dispose of his man, and Ronnie Hunter decided his man in the final match of the afternoon to add the finishing touches.

The bucketeers of Central State may be out of the running for title laurels this year, but Pointer fans will find it hard to forget the exciting brand of ball shown them time and again. Whether it was the thrill of whipping Lawrence, the record breaking 105 points scored in a futile victory effort against River Falls, or the spine-tingling last second win over Milwaukee, it makes little difference. In a season such as the one drawing to a rapid close, it is hard to distinguish the black and white record behind all the spirit and dazzling play the Pointers have exhibited.

We're talking through our hat? Attendance says no. No other Wisconsin State college conference team could even come close to the size of the enthusiastic crowd which turned out to see the Pointers play Oshkosh Saturday night. It looks as though Purple and Gold fans will have a lot to shout about in the next couple of seasons, with no one graduating this year and only three Juniors, two regulars, to graduate next season. It looks like tougher competition for Pointer foes next year.

Coach Quandt, speaking on behalf of the entire basketball squad as well as himself, would like to extend a hearty "Thanks" to all loyal Pointer fans for the much needed enthusiasm they exhibited throughout the entire handcourt season. Also, Mr. Quandt would like to send out an extra-special acknowledgment note to those four omnipresent cheerleaders, Pauline Vincent, Doris Moss, Eileen Schieb and Peggie Fiegel. Thanks a lot, kids!!!

Joe Sanks had a short-lived individual scoring record when he tallied his 31 points against Lawrence. A few years back such a record might have looked invincible, but Ken Roloff found him vulnerable to attack and broke it three weeks after it was set by pouring in his 33 against River Falls. Both players are freshmen.

The Collegiates wound up their season Saturday night by downing the Ghosts of the college intramural league, 62-57. Carl Huberty collected 16 and Ken Wasserman added 14 for the Junior varsity, while Bry Purchatzke of the Ghosts' aggregation counted 16 for the losers. The game was played as the prelude to the varsity contest.

Miss Jessima Keyser, WRA faculty adviser, will accompany the group to La Crosse.

CSC Frats and Sororities Herald Opening of Pledging Season

As the new semester began its course of events, early on the list of activities were the sorority and fraternity rushing parties.

Rushing party for Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity was held at the Frat House on Tuesday, February 24, at 8 p.m. Entertainment was provided through movies and playing cards.

Jim Wilkinson, president, spoke to the pledges. Pledgemaister was Dennis Schrank, and his committee consisted of Bob Gruling, Ray Anderson and Bob McMahon.

Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity entertained prospective members on Sunday evening, February 22, at an informal smoker at the Plattwood club.

The program for the evening included short talks by the president, Frank DeGuire, and the faculty advisers, Raymond M. Rightsell, Gilbert W. Faust and Raymond E. Specht. Bob Ullsperger showed slides of the 1953 Rose Bowl parade.

Gary Krueger, rushing chairman, was in charge of arrangements. A formal pledging ceremony and dinner will be held next Sunday evening, March 1.

The Omega Mu Chi rushing party was held at Judy Clayton's home on Friday, February 20, at 7:30. The theme for the evening was "Trip to Omega Island."

The Omega Mu Chi rushees were entertained by the Omega quartette, Carol Corliss, Jackie Piehl, Barbara Hanson, and Judy Clayton. Games were played, and prizes were awarded. Miss Susan Colman, an honorary member, was guest speaker.

Favors were name tags on paper mandolins, tropical flowers for the hair, and leis worn by the rushees. Bowls of fruit, flowers and plants, palm trees, and streamers were decorations for the gala affair. The centerpiece for the table consisted of camellias floating on water in a dark green bowl, with a tall rose candle flanking each side.

"Tournament of Roses" was the theme of the Tau Gam rushing party held at the Elvin Winkler home on Sunday evening, February 22, at 7:30 p.m. Bouquets of pink and yellow roses were placed about the room.

The rushees were presented with crowns of roses as they arrived, and they presided over the party as the Court of Queens. Joyce Moll served as Grand Marshall, and the event started with a parade as Mary Ann Smith sang "Only a Rose."

Games appropriate to the theme were played, and at half-time a returning letterman, Mrs. Monica Gill La Fleur, spoke. She is from Stevens Point and graduated in 1947. Other half-time activity was the presentation of an unusual corsage fitting the character of each letterman.

Coaches for the Tournament of Roses were Miss Cecelia Winkler, Miss Gladys Van Arsdale and Mrs. Marjorie Kerst.

Psi Beta Psi's rushing party was held at 8 p.m. Tuesday, February 24, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Specht. Guests were the 23 rushees, Mrs. Warren Blodgett, honorary member, Miss Jessiemae Keyser and Miss Mary Ullman, advisers. Mrs. Richard Guzman and Miss Elmarie Sbertole, charter members from Stevens Point. Miss Sbertole was guest speaker.

The theme was "An Oriental Holiday." Varied colored paper Chinese lanterns were hung about the room. A large mural with a jade dragon against a backdrop of blue mountains was placed on the mantle. Incense was burning in the ashtrays and a red Chinese fish barrel with Psi Beta's Greek letters stood in the living room. Dressed in oriental costume, Vivian Schultz greeted the guests.

The centerpiece was a "Pagoda Garden" composed of a red bridge over a stream, small figurines and a temple of pagoda. Red and chartreuse napkins, a white tablecloth and gold candles surrounded by poppies accented the table.

Each guest received as a favor a Coole hat. Each rushee received a small Oriental figurine as a gift from the sorority.

Confucius, represented by President Vivian Schultz, introduced the rushees. Games were led by Bonnie Kalepp, Marlene Zastrow and Arline Meister and prizes were awarded. A songfest was held, using Chinese and Japanese songs.

All Conservation Day to Feature Fourfold Lectures and Exhibits

There is a big day coming. On Wednesday, March 4, there will be an all-conservation day here at Central State college. Four highly trained specialists from the state conservation department will be on hand to give forth with their valuable information. Besides lecturing, they will bring along plenty of things to see.

Exhibits will be set up in four different rooms and along with the exhibit will be a lecture. Each exhibit and lecture will be on a different phase of conservation. The day's activities will center around the four main branches of the conservation department, namely, game management, forestry, fish management, and law enforcement, which will also stress gun and boat safety.

The stations will be set up in the following manner. Station 1 will be forestry, located in the rural assembly. Station 2 will be fish management in room 116. Station 3 will be in the auditorium, with game management as its activity. Station 4 will be in the college gym, where the law enforcement, gun and boat safety program will be set up.

The day will be divided into four periods. The morning periods will be at 10:05 and 11 o'clock. The afternoon periods will be 2:10 and 3:05. Each period the lecture will be alike at each station. This will permit all interested persons to hear four lectures.

So get hep and plan now to attend the highly educational all-conservation day at CSC.
