Summer Field Trip to Tour Western Lands

Horace Greeley once said, "Go west, young man, go west." This year's summer school field trip, under the direction of Robert S. Lewis and Norman E. Knutzen, is following his advice.

Twenty-two days will be spent traveling from June 21 until July 11. A week's preparation and two weeks' culmination on campus are also required for the trip which gives six college credits. Summer school starts on June 15 and ends July 23.

Tour Black Hills

Starting on June 21 from Stevens Point, the bus will travel to Minneapolis and on to the Black Hills, where members of the tour will see Mount Rushmore, a granite cliff from which is carved the heads of four former presidents. From here they'll go to Cheyenne, Wyoming, and Denver, Colorado. Here they'll attend a performance at the Red Rock Amphitheater in the Rockies where famous singers and orchestras often perform. The Garden of the Gods, Will Rogers' Memorial, Pike's Peak and the Royal Gorge will be next on the agenda.

When they get to Laramie, Wyoming, Mr. Lewis hopes to hold a class at the University of Wyoming. Dr. Clarence Jayne, dean of the summer session there, used to teach here at CSC.

Will Visit Yellowstone

From Laramie the trip will continue to Rock Springs, Wyoming, and then to Grand Teton National Park.

College Organizations Elect New Officers

Tau Gamma Beta sorority elected officers for the second semester at a recent meeting held at the home of Miss Gladys Van Arsdale, a sorority adviser.

Barbara Nelson is the new sorority president. Other officers are: Mary Brittnacher, vice-president; Lynette Olson, recording secretary; Mary Bartlett, corresponding secretary; Joy Lane, treasurer, a hold-over officer.

Ruth Ann Charlesworth, alumnae representative; Lou Breyman, press representative; Joyce Moll, Pan-Hellenic representative; Eleanor Curtis, inter-sorority representative, a hold-over officer, and Betty Kusserow, historian. Assisting hostess was Miss Cecilia Winkler, adviser.

Omega Mu Chi sorority installed its new officers at the home of Sally Scribner on Tuesday evening, January 20. They are president, Margie Benson; vice-president, Sharon Sutton; recording secretary, Ardis Raath; corresponding secretary, Jo Jersey; historian, Judy Clayton; press representative, Cleo Gilbert; chaplain, Diane Albrightson; Pan-Hellenic representative, Sally Scribner.

Officers serving the second semester of a year term are treasurer, Jean Sarbacker; assistant treasurer, Pat Rickel; alum secretary, Betty Crook, and inter-sorority representative, Sarah Connor.

Rural Life held its election last Monday evening and elected the following officers for the second semester: President, Roy Habeck; vice-president, Willis Teetzel; secretary, Phyllis Hazelwood; and treasurer, Jeanette Needham.

The honorary music fraternity, Alpha Kappa Rho, recently elected new officers. They are Lee Miller, president; Fred Stepheanek, vice-president; Claire Mueller, secretary; and Lavern Anderson, treasurer.

New officers for the Newman club will take office at the next meeting. They are as follows: President, William Groessl; vice-president, Jim Schuh; secretary, Grace Collins; and treasurer, Leona Foch.

On July 3 and 4, the party is scheduled to be at Yellowstone National Park.

The group will return through the wheat country of Bismarck and Fargo, North Dakota, to the iron mines of Hibbing and Virginia, Minn., and to the ore docks of Duluth and Superior. From here the band of travelers will journey to Stevens Point.

The expense, excluding meals, is $190 for the trip. For further information concerning the trip inquire at Mr. Lewis' office.

CSC Will Play Host To High School for Annual Band Clinic

Between 500 and 600 high school students and band directors are expected from Central Wisconsin and beyond on this Saturday, January 24, for the annual band clinic to be held at CSC. The college band, under the direction of Peter J. Michelson, will play the state festival music selections in classes A, B, C, and D.

Several former band members have been invited to play in the program. Among them are Fred Parfrey, Beaver Dam; Marjorie Kohler, Weyauwega; Raymond Rozelle, Athens; Nancie Boehme, Port Edwards; William Moline, Tomah; Norman Hinkley, Portage; La Vern Olingy, Park Falls; Jack Perry, Winneconne; James Wheelan, Plainfield; Mrs. Lee Miller, Stevens Point; Carman Lane, Abundale; John Fitzgerald, Port Edwards; Victor Lee, Thorpe; Jack Whitney, Oconto Falls; Sam Winch, Adams-Friendship; Walter Peterson, Marathon.

Ed Wotruba, Stevens Point, and Rodger Hornig, Wisconsin Rapids, are also invited, although they are not graduates.

The program will begin at 9:30 a.m. A noon luncheon will be served the visiting schools in the band room, with CSC students as hosts. The luncheon co-chairmen are Diane Albrightson and Nancy Court.

At 1 p.m. the playing will resume and continue until all the numbers are completed.

NOTICE

Because of semester exams and registration for the second semester, the next issue of the Pointer will not be published until February 12 (Lincoln's Birthday).

DESPITE THAWS, hail and sleet our own CSC stands magnificent in the snow which surrounds it. Winter or summer, rain or shine, the glory of the old administration building still outshines our newer edifices.

Coming Assembly to Present Ceremonial Dances of Indian Laubins to Appear on February 5

Registration Plans and Course Changes Stated

Dr. Quincy Doudna, dean of administration, announces that Monday, February 2, and Tuesday, February 3, have been set for registration for the second semester.

There have been some course changes. Freshman physical education for both men and women will now meet two times instead of three times a week. This is necessitated by the lack of adequate gym facilities and a need to offer physical education minors more courses.

President William C. Hansen will teach a class in School Administration next semester if there is sufficient demand for it. The class, which will meet twice a week, is for those who have had teaching experience.

Miss Rita Youmans, director of Home Economics, has reported that the regular junior or senior class in Housing and Sanitation has now been changed to "Housing" and offered for sophomores. This semester the Housing class will include family finance and home management. Home economics girls will also receive credit for living in the new Home Management residence house beginning next semester. They expect to move in about March 6.

The following changes in the timetable have also been announced, due to the great number of conflicts students were experiencing. Art 212b will be held at 1:15 M., Tu., Th.; Geography 113 will be held at 10:05 M., W.; History 213 will be held at 2:10 on Tu., Th.; Home Ec 128 will be held at 3:05 on M., W., F.

"Le CSC" Night Club To Open on February 7

Come one, come all! — Delight yourself at "Le CSC" night club, under the auspices of the Freshman class of Central State college. Make your reservations now for the grand opening on February 7 at P. J. Jacobs gym. The gala affair will last from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Those four glorious hours will thrill you as you've never been thrilled before. They will be filled with laughter and gaiety, the soft tinkling of coke bottles, and the melodic strains of Monsieur Russ

Laubins to Appear on February 5

The presentation of ancient American Indian ceremonial dances by Reginald and Gladys Laubin on Thursday, February 5, at 8 p.m. in the CSC auditorium will spotlight the 1953 calendar of events.

The Laubins have just returned from a European tour in which they appeared in various capitals from London to Paris to Rome. They are recognized the world over as America's foremost interpreters of Indian dances. Besides being acclaimed by critics, educators, and laymen, they are endorsed by staffs of national museums and the Department of Indian Affairs.

18 Seniors Accept Teaching Positions

At the close of this semester the following 18 seniors have already signed teaching contracts: Nancy Peutz from Wausau has accepted a position in the primary grades at Appleton; Delores Plainse, Milwaukee, Home Ec, in grades 9-12 at Denmark, Wis.; Joyce Pinkerton, Stevens Point, fourth grade, Iron Mountain, Mich.; Beverly Mueller Guzman, Stevens Point, kindergarten at Lincoln school here; Kathleen Leahy, Stevens Point, second or third grade, Neenah.

Dorothy Thompson, Curtis, kindergarten, Menomonee Falls; Elmo Korn, Winter, Chippewa Falls Northern colony; Harriet Korn, Winter, Chippewa Falls Northern colony; Eunice Bauer, Wausau, fourth or fifth grade, Appleton; Helen Isberner, Wausau, Appleton; Joyce Moll, Junction City, third grade, Appleton; Beverly Ziebart, Green Bay, fourth or fifth grade, Beloit.

Alice Mae Kleist, Portage, High school girls' phys. ed., history, and perhaps English, Elcho; Arlene Altenberg, Stevens Point, kindergarten, Howe School, Wisconsin Rapids; Janice Gruen, Mosinee, sixth grade, Mineral Point; Mary Lund, Eagle River, primary grades, Beloit.

Nelson's orchestra, Marshfield. "Garcon," head waiter, will be on hand to serve you.

Tickets may be purchased for couples at $1.50; stag, ninety cents. All are invited.

Arlene Golomski is chairman of decorations and advertisements, with Jim Stasko and Frank Brocker assisting her. Jim Schuh is chairman of entertainment. Homer Plumb, president of the Freshman class, is in general charge of arrangements.

Lived Among Siouxs

In order to gain perfection in their dances the Laubins have lived among the Sioux at Standing Rock, S. D., where the Dakota division of the Sioux adopted them. Since then the Laubins have been referred to as being "more Indian than the Indian." They believed that they couldn't dance like the Indian unless they thought alike. They found in the ceremonies of the warrior and hunting tribes the inspiration for their dances. Mr. and Mrs. Laubin also lived among the Crow Indians in Montana and, while with the Cherokee in North Carolina, participated in a great Cherokee pageant.

The Laubins, arrayed in full, colorful regalia, are a breathtaking sight. As they prance and twirl and chant, one seems to become intoxicated with their beauty. Their performance will be an unforgettable one.

Robert S. Lewis, chairman of the CSC assembly committee, reminds all students that seats available after 7:45 o'clock will be filled by townpeople.

A Play Coming

Also on the calendar for the coming semester are the University of Minnesota players with their presentation of Eugene O'Neill's "Ah, Wilderness" on March 28, at 8 p.m. in the CSC auditorium. "Lectures on Stained Glass" will be given by Mr. Metcalf on April 16 and 17. Mr. Metcalf will also lecture to the art and history classes while he is here.

Bearded Men All Ready For Woodchoppers Ball

Those heavily bearded men running around the halls of CSC are not escaped convicts but are merely getting prepared for the Woodchoppers Ball to be held at the Training School gym on February 2 from 9 until 12 o'clock.

Dancing and the added feature of a floor show will be part of the evening's fun.

Tickets which are purchased at the advance sale are $1 per couple. Those bought at the door will be $1.25 and single tickets are 65 cents.

Every man and gal in school is invited to attend Alpha Kappa Lambda's big shindig on the Monday night of February 2.

The Rage of Reason:

Cure for Exam Troubles

The scourge of final exams is upon us. Professors, wielding huge bull-whips, stalk up and down the halls. A fiendish delight dances in their eyes. They stay awake nights, dreaming up glorious combination of essay tests, objective tests, lab tests, and test tests.

The poor, red-eyed, cringing students, who have sown their wild oats for the past 17 weeks, have reaped a harvest of scattered facts and classroom sestas. They wander about helplessly, yet hopefully, seeking the shortcut to happiness (a copy of the exam).

Don't you feel sorry for the poor-students? Hmm?

We can't understand why the profs are so fiendishly happy; for they have to correct those stup-, those exams, and, after all, exams also test the profs' teaching abilities. (Now, what could have made us say a crazy thing like that!)

Attention! Flash! The following report is hot off the wires of the Central Associated Press: "The record office, having made an extensive study of the students' social life on highway 10 (east) and in various other gathering points of our intelligensia, reports that they have ordered an extra large amount of pink slips." Perhaps the nurse ought to order more pink pills, too, Ugh!

We have been criticized lately for presenting too gloomy a picture in these columns. And, perhaps, the above may also appear quite gloomy. Therefore, we therefore the following message of cheerful advice and inspiration is presented with the hope that students and faculty alike may drain this jug of truths to the dregs and thus be able to face the strenuous labors of social life during the second semester (hig!):

There is no knowledge so valuable as common sense. Thousands have grown gray in the acquisition of learning (plenty of proof of that right around here), without ever getting the slightest idea of what makes humans tick-tock-tick-tock-tick. (Ops! Darn that cheap wrist watch of ours!)

Books can never teach common sense. (Don't worry if you haven't studied all year.) Common sense is worth more than all the lore of antiquity. (See, Plato and Aristotle aren't worth a plugged nickel.) A man may starve with his head full of Latin or Greek (We suppose French, too, Miss Davis), while a single grain of common sense operates like the presence of the prophet of old upon the widow's cruse. (What a sentence! It ought to be good; we hooked it.)

The fortunate individual who is born with this desirable quality bears a charmed existence (He gets sick during finals) and glides along in the voyage of life with an ease that surprises his companions (and parents).

There is a thriftiness about such persons which is almost miraculous. Like those plants that spring up in the crevices of the rocks (their heads), they flourish in the midst of barrenness. (You ain't kidding there, brother!)

So, you see, all you have to do is make good use of our "good old horse sense" and finals will present nary a worry. You'll pass with flying colors if you —

- 1. Abstain from the drudgery of study.
2. Remove from your cranium the mustiness of knowledge.
3. And merely apply common sense.

Happy finals!

FAMILIAR FACES

This week's familiar face is a local boy, Frank Wesley, of the famous musical Wesley family. Frank is a senior in Secondary with an English major and music-math minor.

A Phi Sig, Frank lives just two houses away from his fraternity house. He was born in Antigo on September 24, 1931, and, ever since 1941, has called Stevens Point home. Frank has four sisters — Maryanne, a sophomore at CSC, Jean, a senior at P. J. Jacobs High school, Tootsie, a seventh grader at St. Stephen's school, and little Peggy, who is in kindergarten at the Training School.

He has one brother, Joe, a sophomore at P. J. Jacobs. The amazing thing is that every member of the Wesley family (including Pop and Mom, but excluding Peggy) is able to play one if not more than one musical instrument.

At present this is Frank's second year of being bandmaster at Rudolph high school with 42 young, blooming musicians under his watchful eye. He is also choir director at St. Phillip's Church in Rudolph and church organist at St. Stan's here in town. As this does not take all his time, he belongs to Alpha Kappa Rho, Radio Workshop, Newman club and Men's Glee club. Last year he was president of the college band.

Whither Goes Thou?

By Bernadette Polivka
College is funny
Don't you believe it?
You just get an interest
And then have to leave it.
A Freshman is quiet and quite unaffected.
A Sophomore's studious and sometimes dejected.
A Junior's romancing, and is it perfected!
The next year means work and guess who's elected!

After seeing the movie "Lost Continent," we still haven't gotten down to normal. After living in the wierd and unreal for that horrible hour and a half we can promise nothing for the week. Therefore, there's a little of everything in this week's stew.

The cannibal mother had quite a problem with Junior and dragged him to a baby specialist. "Something's the matter with the boy," she told the doctor. "He just won't eat anybody!" Maybe Junior knew what had happened to his father:

"I shouldn't have eaten that missionary."
Said the cannibal with a frown.
"For this gastritis tells me,
You can't keep a good man down."

Those student teachers at the Training school surely are teaching new nursery rhymes to the kids. We overheard one teaching this to the first graders:
"Little Miss Muffet sat on a tuffet Eating her curves away."

Because this is the time of year when the mumps and measles prevail, we thought it would be a good idea to distinguish between the two for once and for all. With mumps you're shut up, but with measles you usually break out.

Flash — "Bruno" has confessed. Our limerick man Bruno is none other than CSC's biology instructor, Dr. Arthur S. Lyness. Remember Bruno wrote about the girl from Racine.

In another week or two, some of the kids in chemistry regretfully will be through with those thrilling, suspense-filled labs. Here's to them:
"A green little chemist
On a green little day
Mixed some green little chemicals
In a green little way.
The green little grasses
Now tenderly wave
O'er the green little chemist's
Green little grave."

Something new has been added! Bob Flint and Frank DeGuire are going to take Home Economics! Yesir, the two gentlemen in question have signed to take Miss Youman's Sociology 210 class next semester. Its descriptive title is "Social Problems of the Home and Family." It looks like a bright future for Messrs. Flint and DeGuire!

Here's just a little something to let you know that this is the end:
"I like a lawyer; even more
I prefer a physician,
But I admit I'd die
Before I'd send for a mortician."

Sigma Tau Initiates Pledges in Ceremony

Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity, held an initiation ceremony in the student lounge Wednesday evening, January 14. As a climax to three weeks of pledging, Kathryn Stankevich, Shirley Kubisiak, Bernadette Polivka, Sally Scribner, Ruth Tallmadge, Amy Kampenga, Joanne Wysocki, Jerry Boettcher, and Dave Ross took formal pledges as new members. Suzanne Tate, unable to attend because of illness, has also been admitted to the fraternity.

During a candlelight service the pledges formed a semi-circle before a table decorated in cardinal and black, the Sigma Tau colors. Jack Pockep, president, opened the initiation service during which he and Florence Payne, Maryjo Reznicek and Lee Miller read and administered the traditional pledges.

When the pledges had taken the final oath, a rose, symbol of Sigma Tau, was presented to each, and each was congratulated personally by the actives and by Miss B — the Glennon, special guest of the occasion.

The remainder of the meeting was spent in reading aloud literary selections written by the new members during their season of pledging.

Accomplishments of Radio Workshop Told

In case you wonder what goes on in the lower regions where the Radio Workshop holds forth — this is to inform you that they do accomplish things.

During the first semester, the CSC Radio Workshop produced 40 programs which were broadcast throughout Wisconsin. Twenty-five of these programs, lectures by Norman E. Knutzen, were broadcast over the ten stations of WHA, the state AM-FM network. The lectures, which were those actually given by Mr. Knutzen in his survey course on American Literature, were heard in this area on WLBL (AM) and WHRM (FM).

Also produced was a series of programs designed to better acquaint the people of Central Wisconsin with CSC. The "Know Your College" programs were heard on the local station, WSPT, and on WTCH, Shawano.

A new series of program entitled "The Music Album" is now being broadcast each Sunday at 1 o'clock on WPHL, Wisconsin Rapids. The series may be broadcast over other stations later in the year.

All workshop productions are tape recorded.

Student director of the workshop is David Silverman and assistants are Jim Randlett and Jim Stasko. Miss Gertie Hanson is the workshop director.

Future Teachers of America Reorganized

Future Teachers of America, F.T.A., an organization to acquaint the students with the teaching profession before they get out into the field and to help them solve problems facing them, has been reorganized here at CSC. At a January 19 meeting, election of officers was held and the following were elected: Mary Brittinauer, president; Don Benz, vice-president; Mary Raschka, treasurer; Arlon Parkin, secretary; and Arline Meister, librarian.

Plans are being made for future programs. Those students who want to join FTA should contact Burdette W. Eagon, sixth grade supervisor at the Training school, adviser for the group, or any of the officers. All prospective teachers are invited to join.

Boston Forest Is Asset to College

Central State college has a valuable asset in the Boston Forest located about eight miles south of Stevens Point, just off highway 51.

The forest was started in 1936 and at that time the land was barren and not suitable for agriculture. There were 50 acres to begin with, which were divided four ways. The college received a 20-acre plot and three other educational foundations received 20 acres each.

Forest Covers 20 Acres
The planting of young trees was begun immediately and continued annually until about four or five years ago when the entire 20 acres was covered with trees. There were five species of trees planted: jack pine, white pine, Norway (red) pine, Scotch pine, and white spruce.

To date no fire has damaged the plantation. The only damage has been inflicted by insects and disease. Many of the Scotch pine have been destroyed by what is believed to be the jack pine blister rust.

This 20-acre plot has given the CSC conservation department an excellent outdoor laboratory. At first it gave the students a chance to gain practical experience in tree planting. In later years, it served as a demonstration of the effectiveness of the forest in holding the soil. Still more recently it has afforded junior foresters some actual experience in pruning.

Forestry Class Prunes
Many of the boughs which were used in the school during the Christmas season came from this forest. They were the results of an afternoon of pruning by Fred J. Schmeckle's forestry class.

Until the AAA was disbanded a short time ago, the college was receiving $7.50 per acre each year for converting the land into forest. Last year an offer was made to purchase the tract at $135.00 per acre. This shows an increase in value from almost nothing 16 years ago to $135 per acre today. A neat profit, one might say. This is a good example of money growing on trees.

Doudnas Entertain Seniors in Primary

Dr. and Mrs. Quincy Doudna entertained seniors in the Primary division at their home in Park Ridge on Friday evening, January 16.

Faculty guests included Miss Doris Davis, Mrs. Phyllis Ravey, Miss Mary Elizabeth Smith, Mrs. Mildred Williams and Miss Rita Youmans.

THE LUCKY FIRST five who will move into the Home Management house at 1103 Main street early in March are Eleanor Curtis, Phyllis Jarnick, Mary Pfiffner, Glenna Clark and Ann E. sen. They will live with Miss Rita Youmans, Home Ec director for a six week period in this home, a recent college purchase which replaces Simms Home Ec Cottage.

Pointers Face Rugged Foes in Coming Games

Three conference teams and one non-loop foe will furnish opposition to the Pointers as CSC's basketball squad heads into the second half of its 1952-53 schedule. The first three contests will be home affairs for the 1 as as they entertain Platteville, January 24, Lawrence College, January 26, and Milwaukee, February 2. The Pointers will then take to the road to meet Whitewater on February 7. Platteville is the only one of the group which has not been up against the Pointers this season.

Platteville proves to be a big obstacle in the path of the Quantmen. They have yet to taste defeat in conference play, having a 4-0 loop record and a 6-3 over-all rating. The Pioneers, coached by John Barth, will bring a crew which sports six lettermen, including high scoring Rudy Van Fleet, a speedy senior guard from Viola. The Pointers, of course, will be out to loosen the Pioneer's hold on first place.

Play Lawrence Again

The Pointers next will entertain Lawrence in a non-conference rematch. The Vikes bested the Quantmen on their own floor in their first meeting, but the Pointers hope to be able to use their own home-court advantage to winning ends and come off the floor with a victory in their pockets.

Then it will be back to conference play again for the Pointers as they clash with the Green Gulls of Milwaukee on the P. J. Jacobs floor. The locals had to resort to a last-minute scoring spurge to best the Gulls in their first meeting earlier this season. Coached by Russ Re-

Travel to Whitewater

On February 7 the Purple and Gold will journey to Whitewater to meet the hapless Quakers. Thus far the Quakers, coached by Bob Weigandt, have been able to win but one game while losing nine. In conference play to date they have a 0-5 standing.

Coach Quandt and his charges will be out to add to the better side of their present 8-1 record, to be sure. If the Pointers can squeeze through the next few games they could be right on top with the best of them.

Eau Claire Closes Fast; Nips Pointers

Eau Claire State College overcame a 10 point deficit in the final period to squeeze by the Pointers Thursday, January 15, 71-69, in P. J. Jacobs gym. It was the Pointers' second Wisconsin State College conference defeat of the season.

The Bugold quintet was never ahead of the locals until the final five minutes of the game. The Purple and Gold led, 17-13, at the end of the first quarter, 38-33, at the half, and 59-49, starting the final stanza.

Both teams got off to a slow start. Almost four minutes had elapsed before the Pointers scored a field goal. Eau Claire got its first two-pointer after seven minutes were gone. The locals built up an early 11-4 lead but the Eau Claire men fought back to within four points of the Pointers at the first quarter mark.

Point Leads at Half

The second quarter found Point getting the jump on the visitors as they gradually built up to a 34-24 lead, but toward the end of the first half two quick Bugold buckets narrowed the margin to five markers at the intermission.

The third stanza saw the Pointers hold their own and even pull further ahead. Baskets by Bechard, Roloff, and Schadewald helped the Pointers pull to a 10 point lead, going into the fatal final stanza.

Bugolds Stall

The Quantmen were held scoreless from the field as Eau Claire rang up six straight points starting the final quarter. The visitors took advantage of the Pointers' inability to score from the floor and went ahead by two at 64-62. With Eau Claire's 6'8" center, Roger Hanson, scoring on tip-ins and handling rebounds, along with the scoring attack of Stan Du Frane, the Bugolds took the lead once more at 71-69 and then successfully stalled out the remainder of the game. The Pointers took one shot with only seconds remaining, but couldn't come through to blow their one last chance.

Top point-getter of the evening was Du Frane, Bugold forward, with 27 points, with 13 for Eau Claire, Scrapy Bob Bostad was tops for the Pointers with 15 points. He was followed closely by Roloff with 15 and Thompson with 10 markers.

Through the Hoop

Jerry Boldig Tigerton is the home town of six-foot three-inch Jerry Boldig. Jerry plays a forward position and is shooting for his second letter in the hoop sport. Probably his best showing of the year was made against Milwaukee when he helped spark the Pointers to a come-back victory.

Boldig

Jerry is a sophomore in the Letters and Science division. He is 19 years old and makes Delzell Hall his college home. During the summer Jerry was a baseball pitcher for Morris, where he compiled a very creditable 16-1 record last season.

Erv Redding Scrapy Erv Redding hails from Stevens Point. Playing two years on the High school varsity squad at P. J. Jacobs, Erv was a starting guard in last year's Wisconsin State Tournament. Erv stands 5'7 1/2" and is completing his first year in college ball. He is an efficient ball handler and scores most of his points on medium and long shots.

Redding

Letters and Science is Erv's division here at CSC. He is 19 years old.

Ken Roloff Freshman Ken Roloff, 18 years old, stands an even six feet. Ken has played all three positions on the squad, feeling equally at home at guard, forward, or center. In the last few games he has operated from the guard slot and has come through with some fine long shots.

Roloff

Ken is enrolled in the Letters and Science division and makes Delzell Hall his Point home. He won his first CSC letter this fall while playing offensive end of the football squad.

Side Lines

The big sports news of last week was, of course, the banning of the two-platoon football system. Football coaches across the nation were stunned at the NCAA action, more so because of the tremendous job of rebuilding that awaits them in the coming months than because of the effects on the game the new ruling may have. Many coaches, particularly those of the large schools, have a lot of planning and revising to do before they can begin spring drills.

The new system almost completely eliminates the highly specialized offensive or defensive man, putting the emphasis back on the all-around "iron man" player. The rule change was put in effect, so say the officials, to aid the small schools. Many such schools have had to drop the sport because of the high expenses they incurred trying to keep pace with the larger football "machines."

How will the rule change affect the CSC brand of football? The Pointers, last season, used the two-platoon system almost exclusively under the coaching of John Roberts. It will take next year's Midron season to bring out the answer. Only trial and error will tell how readily CSC's footballers can adapt themselves to playing full-time. It looks as if Coach Roberts has a big task ahead of him.

It seems that CSC has found another sports hero. "Sluggo" Jim Shirank entertained the Marshfield Golden Gloves tournament on short notice last Saturday, January 17, and made his bout even shorter as he knocked his LaCrosse opponent down twice. The last time to stay, in 32 seconds of the first round! Jim boxes in the 157 pound class and fought his second bout of the tournament last night.

Also entered in the Marshfield tourney is Bill Schweinler. After days and days of training and a week of eating salads in order to get his weight down, Bill went to the bouts last Saturday, all set to go, only to find he had drawn a bye. He fought his first bout last night.

For those who do not already know, Coach Quandt is interviewed every Sunday at 12:30 over station WSP.T. Mr. Quandt gives his summaries of Pointer basketball games played during the week, along with comments on Pointers foes yet to be played.

Good Ball, Weak Foe Results in CSC Win

Displaying a brand of basketball which at times looked exceptionally good, the Pointers tucked away their third conference win in five starts Saturday night, January 17 in P. J. Jacobs gym. The Quantmen had a relatively easy time coming out on the top end of a 78-61 score, with the Blue Devils of Stout Institute suffering the setback.

Forward Bill Kieffer of Stout grabbed scoring honors for the evening. He pumped in six field goals while making good on 11 of 17 charity attempts for 23 points.

"Moose" Scores 17 Pointer center Bob Blomley was the high-point man for the locals, hitting for six buckets and five free-throws. Forward Bob Bostad collected five baskets and the same number of free tosses for 15 points.

After grabbing a 9-6 lead early in the game, the Pointers were never headed, leading at the quarter, 21-14. Coach Hale Quandt's charges picked up 18 more to Stout's 13 in the second period, extending their advantage to 39-27. The end of the third period found the Pointers out front, 55-37. Only in the final canto did the Stoutmen outscore the home team, hitting for 24 points to Central State's 23, finishing the game with Point out front, 78-61.

The Pointer aggregation used the fast break effectively, continually swarming down the floor with but a lone enemy defender to stop them.

The Pointers made good 30 of their 65 shots for a terrific 46.1 percentage. They also added 18 of 32 charity attempts. The visitors were able to sink only 19 of 69 shots from the floor for a mediocre .275. They fared a little better from the free-throw line, making 23 of 40.

Recruit Officer Of Marines to Be Here in February

Marine 1st Lt. Paul F. Stephenson will be at Central State February 4 and 5 for the purpose of interviewing prospective applicants for the Marine Officers candidate programs.

Freshmen, sophomores and juniors from 18-25 with a good academic standing are eligible for the Platoon Leaders class. Those accepted will have two six week's summer training periods, with pay, at the Marine base, Parris Island, South Carolina.

The Officer candidate course is open to college seniors age 20-27. After graduation the accepted applicants will undergo a ten week training period at Quantico, Virginia, after which they will receive the commission of Second Lieutenant in the U. S. Marine Corp Reserve.

Both of these programs offer the student draft deferment, thereby enabling him to obtain his degree, with no meetings and no interference with his academic work, and a chance for a commission in the Marines upon graduation from Central State.

Members serve the same length of time as a draftee — two years on active duty and six years in the Reserve.

There will be no obligation whatever to those attending this meeting and any questions the students want to ask regarding Civil Service will be gladly answered.

Ski Club Organized

About 20 students interested in skiing have formed a CSC Ski club. Anyone, students or faculty members, professionals or mere amateurs, are invited to join.

Transportation will be provided to Rib Mountain on weekends, and instructors will be provided for beginners. There will also be skiing at Iverson Park.

The club plans on having insignia to identify their club. Meetings will be held on Thursdays that alternate with the Thursday religious meetings.

Fred Schadewald has been elected president. John Thomas, vice-president, and Marjorie Gerhard, secretary-treasurer. Dues are $3 a year ($1.50 a semester). Anyone wishing further information should keep an eye on the main bulletin board for notices.

High School Debate Meet Here February

The Wisconsin High School Forensic association will hold its district debate meet here on Saturday, February 7. Director is A. P. Wicklund, superintendent of schools at Nekeosa.

The program will begin with a general meeting in the morning at which President William C. Hansen will give a word of welcome. This will be followed by two rounds of debate. A speech dinner at Nelson Hall is scheduled next, with three of the participating schools giving dinner speeches, as was done last year. The final rounds and decisions will be held in the afternoon.

Burroughs Is Arranger

Leland M. Burroughs will act as chairman of local arrangements, with college students assisting. About 15 students interested in forensic work will serve as room chairmen and time-keepers, and will help with other duties.

Tentatively about 14 schools in this district have signified their intention of entering the debate contest.

The schedule is set up ahead of time with symbols or letters. Each team draws a letter to know when and where it will appear. The judges, CSC faculty member chosen by Mr. Wicklund, will also draw letters to determine which groups they are to judge.

Debate in Classrooms

The affirmative teams will remain in specific classrooms and the negative teams will travel from room to room, debating.

The teams selected will then represent this district in the sectional tournament to be held here on February 14. E. C. Marquardt, Wausau, will be chairman of the sectional debate. Oshkosh, La Crosse, Eau Claire and Stevens Point districts will participate in the sectional tournament.

Inquiring Reporter Asks:

How About Intercollegiate Boxing?

The boys interviewed by this week's inquiring reporter all answered in the affirmative to the question, "What do you think about having intercollegiate boxing at CSC?" The few girls interviewed did not seem to think it such a wonderful idea. The following opinions were uncovered:

Mark Schommer: "I'd be the first one to go out."
Bill Schweinler: "I'd go out right behind him."

John Anderson: "I think it would be a good idea if they could get enough boys out. A lot of guys around here are in the golden gloves already."

Gene Weber: "A great idea because so many guys around here like to box."

Jerry Munderloh: "I'd like to see it because it puts a guy's body in good condition and any sport that does this is tops with me."

Elmer Fox: "I like boxing because it sharpens a guy's coordination and it makes him more mentally alert."

Rita Czerniewski: "I don't think it's a good idea. As it is, the boys spend a great deal of time and energy on too many other activities. Their studies would benefit by those few precious minutes."

Sally Connor: "What is it?"
Jeanette Diver: "It depends... it would be fun to watch, though!"
Margie Benson: "Yes, do have it. It sounds like fun."
Mary Lund and Shirley Sonnenberg: "We definitely do not think that intercollegiate boxing should be. It is too barbaric!"
