

Casting Is Finished For One-act Plays

Casts for the three one-act plays to be given in the auditorium on November 18 and 19 have been announced by the student directors.

The play, "One Hundred Dollars," directed by Maryjo Reznicek will have Bill Collins, Patricia Sisel, Janet Madison, Kathleen Justman, and Barlene Zamow in its cast.

In "He," directed by Jerry Boetcher, Lewis Mittness, Eleanor Simonson, Roger Hancock, Leroy Clinton, Phillip Smith, Ted Staniszewski, Arnold Albrecht, Dale Borg, and Cyril Firgens will appear.

Glady Lehmann, who directs "The Pot Boiler," will have the following people in her play: Bill Jajlonske, Joel Weaver, Wendel Frensel, Perry Cook, Marge Gerhard, Homer Plumb and Joanne Wysocki.

The student directors are members of Miss Pauline Isaacson's advanced speech classes.

Electric Scoreboard Is Wonderful Gift

Thanks to the generosity of Calvin Korfmann, President of the Stevens Point Beverage Co., a new electric scoreboard was formally presented to the city Friday night in a brief ceremony preceding the Point-Merrill Homecoming game.

The scoreboard was made by the All-American Scoreboard Co. of Pardeeville, Wis. Its cost was near $1,500 after it was set up at Goerke Field. The scoreboard is 18 feet wide and 9 feet high and has been erected on the north east end of the field. The scoreboard gives the amount of time left to play, the quarter, home and visiting team score, the downs, and yards to go.

Four Lasses Seeking Honor Of Queen At College Homecoming

The plans for the biggest and best Homecoming on the CSC campus are rapidly taking shape. Each day one notices an increase in enthusiasm and school spirit as the big weekend, Oct. 22 — Oct. 25, draws near.

As always, one of the important highlights is the election of the Homecoming Queen. This year, unlike previous years, an independent group on the campus is sponsoring one of the queen candidates, Alice-Jean Allen. Others competing are: Felisa Borja, chosen by the "S" club, Grace Collins, representing Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, and Betty Crook, choice of Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity. Alpha Kappa Lambda conservation fraternity, is not sponsoring a candidate this year.

Alice-Jean, a sophomore from Stevens Point, is in the Letters and Science division, with an English major. President of the Modern Dance group, she is also a member of Radio Workshop, Newman club, and College Theater.

Felisa, who is from Guam, is a biology major in the Secondary Education division. A junior student, her extra-curricular activities include membership in Tau Gamma Beta sorority and Newman club. She is a council member of the Student Union and is vice-president of Nelson Hall.

Stevens Point is the home of Grace Collins, who is a junior in the division of Primary education. Grace is active in Primary Council, Newman club, and Tau Gamma Beta.

Betty hails from Wisconsin Rapids and is president of Primary council. Completing her final year at CSC, she is a member of Omega Mu Chi sorority and Wesley.

The voting for the queen candidates will take place on Thursday, October 22, in front of the library. During the Hobo Day assembly at 3 o'clock on Friday, October 23, the queen will be crowned and will then reign over the Homecoming activities. At 8 o'clock that evening, the pep rally at Schmeckle Field will feature a bonfire built by the freshmen. An informal dance will be held at Delzell Hall following the bonfire.

The big Homecoming parade is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, October 24. Earl Grow is parade marshal and any organizations that wish to have floats in the parade should contact him very soon.

The football game with Platteville at 2 o'clock will be the climax of the weekend activities. From 3:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m., the Alumni association will be hosts at the open house at Delzell Hall. All former and present CSC students are welcome. The various sororities and fraternities will be hosts to their "alums" at their annual dinners at 6 p.m. Following these activities, a dance will be held at the P. J. Jacobs gym, 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m.

The annual Homecoming concert presentation by the Men's Glee club will be held in the auditorium on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 25, at 2:30 o'clock. The group is under the direction of Norman E. Knutzen.

Robert Ullsperger, a senior in the Secondary Education division, is the Homecoming chairman. Others helping with "the Weekend" plans are: James Mulady and Rose Marie Christoffersen, co-chairmen of the publicity committee; Tom Wirkus, pep band; Earl Grow, parade marshal; Ray and Barbara Anderson, assembly program; and Jerry Boetcher, Betty Crook, and Fred Schaedewald, general assistants.

Alumni Association Sponsor Open House At Delzell

An open-house for faculty, students and alumni will be held at Delzell Hall from 3:30 to 5:30, immediately following the Homecoming game on October 24. Refreshments will be served.

The faculty alumni committee headed by Mrs. Marjorie Kerst, and the Alumni association, of which Warren E. Blodgett is president, are working together in sponsoring this affair.

Present to greet those attending will be President and Mrs. William C. Hansen, Dr. and Mrs. Quincy Doudna, Dr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Gotham, Dean John E. Roberts, Dean Elizabeth Pfiffner, Miss May Roach and Mr. Blodgett.

Arrangements for the open house will be made by the following com-

Fall Rushing Season Begun By CSC Greeks

Another season of pledging has opened on campus this fall. Pledging will begin on Monday, October 26, and end with the traditional dinners on December 5.

The official rushing opened on Sunday night, October 11, when the Psi Beta Psi sorority held its party at the home of Mrs. Warren E. Blodgett. The committees were: Invitations, Mary Ann Baumer and Jan Thurston; theme and decorations, Joan Untiedt, Donna Walrath, Mary Ann Panke and Rosemary Axtell; favors, Joyce Scheek, Mary Walrath, and Caryl Edmund; food, Radine McIntee, Bernadette Polivka, Micky McInnes and Penny Bullock; transportation, Vivian Schultz and Annette Bras; entertainment, Jan Thurston, Dorothy Germer and Mary Ann Baumer.

Omega Mu Chi will have their rushing party at the home of Mrs. Charles Cashin on Friday evening, October 16. The committees will be: Invitations, Barbara Anderson; theme and decorations, Pauline Vincent, Delores Thompson, Jan Bergelin, Joyce Zerneck, Rita Czerniewski and Dorothy Arndt; favors, Sally Scribner, Jo Gilbert, and Benita Heid; entertainment, Pat Giese, Pat Rickel and Mary Ann Raschka; food, Sally Rose, Jo Cuff, Betty Crook, Bobbie Vaughn, Marlys Haavs, Sharon Sutton and Margie Benson; transportation, Judy Clayton and Dottie Gilbertson; clean up, Shirley Sonnenberg.

Tau Gamma Beta will follow with a party at the home of Mrs. Marjorie Kerst on Sunday evening, October 18. Committees for the rushing party are: Tri-chairman, Leona and Charlotte Forth, and Felisa Borja; invitations, Rose Christoffersen and

Music Group To Entertain Here

Students and faculty are assured of some fine instrumental music when the University of Wisconsin Pro Arte Quartet comes to Central State for an assembly program on Monday evening, October 19, at 8 o'clock.

The Pro Arte Quartet has begun its annual fall tour to present the best in chamber music to northeast and northwest Wisconsin.

Leader and First Violinist Rudolf Kolisch has just returned from a triumphal summer concert series in Germany which he undertook at the request of the U. S. High Command.

Sponsors for the Wisconsin tour this fall include colleges, UW extension centers, high schools and a Wisconsin Alumni club, which cooperate with the quartet management and the Extension Division in making local arrangements.

The schedule of the quartet included Stout Institute, Menomonee, on October 12 and will include Lawrence college, Appleton, on October 25.

Student Union Board Members Appointed

Holdover Student Council members Betty Crook, Fred Schaedewald, and Kenneth Kritz, have appointed the following students to serve on the Student Union board: Seniors Jeannette Diver and Sharon Sutton; Juniors, Roy Hackbart and Felicia Borja; sophomores, Tom Wirkus and Terry Pease; and freshmen, Helen Boyce. Miss Crook, as president pro tem of the Student Council, is an ex-officio member of the board. Miss Sutton is the only member of last year's board serving again this year.

Student Union manager Ed Jacobson announced that the crowds at the Union have been very good, numbering well over 100 on many nights.

Again tonight, Central State's student swing band will play at the Union. From the large number of dancers in attendance at the band's first appearance two weeks ago, it seems quite evident that the Thursday dance (second and fourth Thursday of each month) will become a most popular college activity.

Ruth Ann Charlesworth; favors, Lynn Olsen, Felisa Borja, Delores Miller and Shirley Sheets; decorations, Mary Bartelt, Betty Kusserow, Nadine Bahr, Luella Cram and Anne Weisbrod.

Food; Phyllis Rickfort, Jane Schultz, Lou Breyman, and Lois Langfeldt; entertainment, Jo Daniel, Joy Lane, Charlene Kabot, Gloria Suckow and Mary Ann Smith; cleaning, Grace Collins, Charlotte Aronson, Nancy Court and Lois Schlottman; program, Diane Seif, Charlotte Forth and Leona Forth; transportation, Jan Schroeder.

The girls on campus are not to be outdone by the boys, who have already plunged into the rushing season. The Sigma Phi Epsilon frat had their first party on October 11 at Norman E. Knutzen's cottage. The Phi Sigs entertained their rushees in the Moose Hall on Tuesday, October 13. All the groups are going to carry out the constructive type of pledging again this season.

Music Frat Meets, Initiates Officers

Alpha Kappa Rho, honorary music fraternity, met Monday, October 5, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Michelsen for initiation of officers and a social hour.

LaVerna Anderson was installed as president. Fred Stephanek was re-elected as vice-president, Gloria Suckow is secretary, and Louella Cram, treasurer.

A former member of the organization, Robert Bestul, showed colored slides and told of experiences that he had had while in Europe.

Special guests were President and Mrs. William C. Hansen, Dr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Gotham, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Specht.

WSGA Plans Series Of Informal Mixers

The executive board of the WSGA plans to have more informal social get-togethers among students and faculty at Central State. Plans for a series of coffee hours to be held during the coming weeks were made at the monthly board meeting of the WSGA on Monday, October 5. College men and women, as well as faculty members, will be issued invitations to the coffee hours and college students will act as hosts and hostesses. Informality and sociability will be the theme. Joy Lane and Sally Rose are co-chairmen of the arrangements.

Other business transacted at the board meeting was the appointment of Beulah Huettl and Rita Czerniewski as bulletin board co-chairmen, and the appointment of Sally Miller as chairman of the Thanksgiving assembly to be held on Wednesday, November 25, at 10 o'clock.

Mary Barrows and Janice Friedrich were appointed as co-chairmen in charge of arrangements for the WSGA Homecoming float, and Rose Marie Christoffersen and Shirley Sonnenberg are in charge of making plans for the all-school programs which WSGA will sponsor this year. Radine McIntee was appointed to fill the vacancy of Senior representative on the board, with Mary Barrows and Janice Friedrich filling out the term of freshman representatives.

Due to a conflict with a civic music program, the date of the WSGA Songfest was changed to February 15.

Pompons, Fruit And Buttons To Be Sold

Purple and gold pompons for Homecoming will be sold by the Women's Recreation association beginning Wednesday, October 21. The sale will continue to Friday, October 23.

This year the WRA will erect a new booth in front of the library where the pompons will be sold for 15 cents each. Chairman in charge of the sale is Joyce Thurston. Her committee members are Sue Maynard, Mary Lou Uttermark, and Verna Tomfohrde.

AKL will sponsor the sale of Booster Buttons again this year. These purple and gold buttons will be sold prior to Homecoming.

Bill Kohls has been appointed chairman in charge of the Booster Button sale. Arlin Buchholz and Ronnie Kubisiak will make up the committee.

For the benefit of candy-lovers, the Home Economics club will sponsor a taffy apple sale on Friday, October 23. Mary Jane Wagner and Radine McIntee are in charge of the sale, which will be held outside the auditorium. The price is just 10 cents apiece.

mittees: Table decorations, Miss Edna Carlsen and Henry M. Runke; food committee, Mrs. Phyllis Ravey, Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner, Mrs. Kerst and Misses Bertha Glennon, Sybil Mason, Doris Davis; publicity committee, Miss Glennon and Burton R. Pierce.

Replacing the traditional faculty-alumni homecoming luncheon, this year's open house will be an informal social get-together for students as well as faculty and alumni. The Alumni association, rather than Nelson Hall and Delzell Hall, will sponsor the open house this year.

Halls of Ivy

Did you ever stop to think that a lot of buildings have ivy and that mortar boards come in all sizes? It isn't necessarily only a college which has "halls of ivy," any more than every person who walks across a stage under a mortar board is part of a stereotyped pattern. Each is a definite individual.

"College educated" can mean a lot of things. Upon graduation from Central State you could be the proud possessor of a degree from any one of five different divisions and with a pedigree of bachelor of arts, bachelor of science, or bachelor of education. The divisions, of course, are divided into many special branches.

Our nation spends over $2 billion a year in public and private funds on its 1,301 colleges and universities. The schools of higher education of all of the other nations of the world put together add up to this number. One boy and girl out of every six between the ages of 18 and 21 attend a college. The emphasis on education is growing and a college degree is now considered a prerequisite for many jobs.

Colleges are a strange tradition. In a way they are a social habit, something that everyone does. In another way they stand as an ideal, toward which most parents and students turn eager faces and a willing hand for work.

Today's population is made of 6,000,000 college graduates, a figure which, however, constitutes only six per cent of all the population old enough to have gone through college. 59.3% of college students are men, while 41.7% are women.

Only 29% of our college graduates have never worked to pay any part of their college education, while 71% worked their way, in whole or part.

Editor's note: The basis for this editorial was the book They Went to College by Ernest Havemann and Patricia Salter West. More timely observations on this same subject, "Is college really worth all the time and trouble?" will be forthcoming at a later date — Amen) S. M. S.

FAMILIAR FACES

A reporter's dream — to be late for an interview and to find the honored celebrity calmly and very patiently waiting (with a smile yet!)

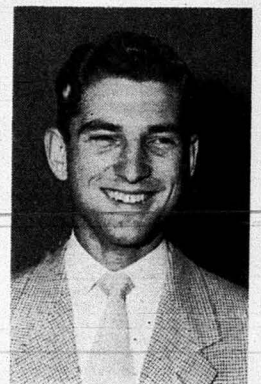

As it happened there stood Mr. Robert Uilsperger, Homecoming Chairman, though, at first, it did seem as if steam were issuing from him. Thank goodness, it was only the old radiator he was leaning against.

Then this 23-year-old Algoma lad began to talk. After high school, which he considers four wasted years for anybody, Bob worked at a plywood company for two years. Now as a senior in Secondary, he has all sorts of bizarre plans for his future, something like hunting—kodiak bear in Alaska or a jungle safari or sight-seeing in South America, all for the experience and adventure they offer. Not all are so far fetched as they may sound, though, for Bob was one of the Rose Bowlites who drove to California to see the game last year.

At present Bob is "slightly" busy with Homecoming plans. As chairman he vaguely hinted of a few surprises. Just can't wait for the big weekend.

This year Bob is putting the finishing touches on his History major and geography and social science minors. In addition to being Homecoming chairman, he's a member of the "S" club, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Pointer, Alpha Gamma, and Iris. He is on the golf team which won the state championship last year (Bob claims that he was on the team, anyway). He is first floor manager at Delzell Hall where it could be said off-handedly that the embryo for the Interfraternity Council was formed. Last year Bob's roommate was Ray Anderson, president of Phi Sigma Epsilon. This year it's Jerry Baeren-ward, also a Phi Sig. And so the formation of the council was in miniature. Bob likes clothes. Lots of them. He's also very fond of chili. His peeve against women runs something like this — "they're always doing something after being told not to."

Speaking of girls, Bob is seen escorting Pat Varney quite steadily-like. Two of the nicest, sweetest, friendliest kids—

Syncoptors' Make Debut

Central State's new dance band, the Syncoptors, just formed this year, made its first appearance Thursday night, October 1, in the Union. This band was organized by one of the members of the college band and is operating under the auspices of the music department. It will play in the Union on the Thursday evenings on which religious organizations do not meet, whenever it is possible for band members to do so.

The music for the first dance was provided by the lead sax man, Donald Chesebro, but the music department will buy more music for future appearances. Others in the band are: Cornets, La Vern Anderson, Lee Miller, Dale Loomans; Jim Anderson, Chuck Sahr, and Robert Allen; saxes, Lois Langfield, Marjory Schmal, Marie Doro, DeWayne Martin, Lonnie Doudna, and Grace Schultz; trombones, Vern Stogbauer, Bobby Reed, and Harlan Adams; piano, Gloria Suckow; drums, Tom Wirkus; and bass, Chuck Votava.

Fraternities Cooperate For Blood Donor Drive

For the first time in college history, the two fraternities on campus participated in a citywide campaign to gain donors for the Bloodbank on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. In the past, blood donors were solicited from the campus by Arol A. Epple and voluntary students.

The two fraternities, Phi Sigma Epsilon and Sigma Phi Epsilon, divided Stevens Point into two districts, and then made a house-to-house canvass for donors, their slogan for the drive being "You can't say no to a kid with polio."

Padded Cell

by Benita Held

Hi! Another Pointer, another case of writer's cramp. Let's see what we can "dig" up!

You just can't stop these CSC students — they're bound to be famous wherever (if that isn't good English, it's cuz we heard too much of M. Boswell Collins!) There are several varieties of this story, but this is the way we heard it.

Seems that Bob Bostad, Rhody Marquard, Nubbs Miller and Joe Sanks — all formerly known around here — were together at an army camp. Joe and Bo flashed some bills around — betting that they had two runners who could beat anyone in camp. A couple higher ups took them up on it. Now the four point boys are a bit richer — need we say more? Nubbs and Rhody sure did shine!

Didn't we have some unfinished business? Aha! The "safety catch" item (pinning, to you) for today was passed from Les Carlson to Joan Czerlewski — both former students here. Joan is teaching and Les now goes to Carroll college.

Here's a tip for an adventurer — business-wise. Get into the jewelry business. One particular kind of gem is in demand most of the time. Some examples of this are as follows — diamonds to: Diana Bloom from Jim Schuh, Lillie Anglam from Roger Lichtenwalner, and Marjorie Schmal from Ken Hurlbut. One of the most effective ways to get stars in the eyes! Congrats to you.

We're sure that more of these romantic things happened since last June, but either you are too quiet about them, or else we're deaf!

An interesting tidbit was heard this week — something about a nifty (to say the least!) bulletin board display for Visual Aids — Oops. Censor just stopped us — you'll have to see a class member.

Someone had a red face last week in music class. Amarylvis wanted to know, "Am I an alto or soprano?" The teacher hesitated — then said "No, you're not!"

The day has been so beautiful, can't resist closing with a thought of autumn:

"The naked hills lie wanton to the breeze,
The fields are nude, the groves unroofed,
Bare are the shivering limbs of shameless trees
What wonder is it that the corn is shocked?"
Nuff said!!

Men's Glee Club Has Power Plus Quality

An influx of a large number of new members into the Men's Glee club has given that organization, which suffered the loss of nearly three-fourths of its last year's members, a much-needed shot in the arm. The club now numbers over 60 voices.

Norman E. Kautzen, director of the group, announced that because most of the club is composed of new men, a large portion of the Glee clubs' old favorite songs would not be used this year and that the men would be singing mostly new numbers.

Gwen Fischer, a Stevens Point junior, will aid Ruth Ann Charlesworth, last year's accompanist, during the coming year.

The Glee club's first appearance this year will be their Homecoming concert on Sunday-afternoon, October 25. Two special groups within the club are working hard to be ready for Homecoming.

One group is a quartette composed of three freshmen from Gresham and Roger Schneider. The Gresham quartette, accompanied by Fred Schmeeckle to the meeting.

This year the entire state federation has set up a new scholarship of $100 to be presented to a worthy student in the conservation department.

"THIS IS STATION W9YUD calling." A hobby embraced by Dorothy Richter, freshman from Minocqua, developed into quite a large project as she set up her own "ham" short wave set in her room at Nelson Hall. (Just think! She calls home for money instead of writing!)

Freshman "Ham" Miss Richter Puts The Postman Out Of Work

There is one ham in Nelson Hall which hasn't yet been eaten in the mad scramble at dinner time. This "ham" is W9YUD, or if you don't speak pig Latin and prefer "Ham Latin," it is Dorothy Richter.

Dorothy is a freshman from Minocqua whose hobby is amateur radio. While the rest of the homesick "freshies" have been dying for mail from home, Dorothy has been visiting with her father every day via her radio set.

Right now the "ham's" main project is to get others interested in the hobby. She, Father ("Padre"), Norbert Wilger, and Bill Jablonske of Stevens Point, all fellow hams, are building a radio "shack" on the third floor of the college. "Padre" Wilger is donating the equipment for the station with the purpose in mind of interesting more students in this fascinating hobby.

According to Dorothy not many hams are Y-L's, which-in-ham-talk means "young ladies." Though she is able to broadcast all over the U. S. she has found only six other girl hams in the Mid-West.

The "rig" which Dorothy uses is portable. It consists of a receiver, transmitter, power supply, microphone, and telegraph key. It runs on approximately forty watts and can make contact all over the U.S. Some sets which are larger and therefore non-portable are run on a maximum of 1,000 watts and reach all over the globe.

Dorothy claims that perseverance, patience, and real interest are the necessary qualifications for a ham. The difficult part is understanding the code well enough to be able to send and receive 13 words per minute. This and one other test are the requirements for a "ham license." But the efforts of learning radio theory, diagramming radios, radio building and construction are well worth the trouble, says our young operator.

During her first year of hamming she has met many new friends. In speaking of the educational opportunities in radio work Dorothy is enthusiastic. In proof of this she mentioned that one evening she did her history assignment on her set for three hours with another fellow operator from Stevens Point. On numerous occasions she's gotten into round table discussions in which as many as 12 hams were participating.

Besides preventing the lonesomeness of being away from home, Dorothy's hobby is helping her to make new acquaintances on her set every day.

The Way We See It

by Two Loco Lads

We will attempt to answer just a few of the thousands of fan letters which our private secretary Susie Glutz has been unable to cope with. Thank you for your kind response. Here are a few samples.

Dear Loco Lads:
I was so busy reading your column at the dinner table that I didn't notice that my little boy had just swallowed a whole watermelon; three forks, the sugar bowl and our tom cat Moses. What can I do with him?
Answer: He sounds delicious! Put an apple in his mouth and broil him.

Dear Loco Lads:
I just read your column. It's very funny. Who wrote it for you?
Answer: We're glad you liked it. Who read it to you?

Dear Slob:
Roses is red
Violets am blue
Either youse stop writing this trash
Or it's lights out for you.
Answer:
Roses are red
Violets are blue
You can't scare us.
We use Lydia Pinkham's.

Dear Loco Lads:
I just went to my doctor. He says I have paxillamae throbmyant toxills. Tell me, is there something wrong with me?
Answer: Heavens, no. Almost everybody goes to doctors.

Dear Loco Lads:
I think my wife's trying to kill me. Yesterday morning I tasted strichnine in my Wheaties. What should I do?
Answer: Put sugar on it. It won't taste nearly as bad.

Dear Loco Lads:
Yesterday when I was passing by the Barber Shop I could have sworn that I saw William Shakespeare having his beard trimmed. Could it have really been Bill?
Answer: Impossible. Shakespeare was at the Stout game with us yesterday.

Next week your erstwhile reporters will travel via Soo Line boxcar to Hollywood to give you the inside dope on latest Cinema developments.

mites are Leland Sousek, Jim Richards, and Keith Stoehr.
An octet, composed of Homer Plumb, Ken Stewart, Ken Hurlbut, Bud Eskritt, Ellis Weaver (alternate), Jerry Boettcher, Roy Hackbart, Dave Ross, and Larry Cook, are also preparing two or three numbers for the Homecoming concert.

CSC POINTERS RACK HAPLESS STOUT, RUIN BLUE DEVIL'S HOMECOMING

Coach John Roberts had plenty of chance to see his Pointer reserves in action as the Pointers gleefully spoiled Stout's homecoming to the tune of 27-6 in an arch-light tilt at Menomonee Saturday, October 10.

The local cleat-sters racked up two fast touchdowns in the initial stanza and added another early in the second frame before Coach Roberts put in his reserves, a good number of whom played half the game. The locals racked up another TD in the third quarter, copped by a Wiemann-to-Roloff pass from 15 yards out. Stout gained their first six-pointer of the year in the final stanza against a team made up mostly of reserves.

Don Herrmann scored CSC's first marker early in the first frame as he crashed off tackle and into pay dirt from 12 yards out. John Smith, Point's bulldozing half-back, set up the second touchdown with a 46 yard jaunt before Gene Noonan capped the drive with a 19 yard burst of speed and pretzel-like twists from would be tacklers. Thief Mark Schommer swiped a Blue-Devil aerial and jogged 70 yards down the sidelines for the third counter and from then on it was just a matter of running out the clock as far as the Purple and Gold was concerned.

Linemen Bob Worzalla, Dick Schloemer, Ken Hurlbut, Jerry Munderloh, and Jim Luedtke had little trouble opening sizeable holes for backs Don Herrmann, Al Due, Jerry Yance, Roy Hackbart, Noonan, and Smith to romp through. And romp they did! CSC gained a grand total of 316 yards, 90 of which

Pointers Roll On! Quakers Next Target

The Pointers, in an attempt to gain their fifth consecutive victory, will tangle with Whitewater on Saturday, October 17, in an afternoon tilt.

The Quakers will go out to register their first victory of the 1953 season and to make their homecoming a success. The Purple and White, coached by Edgar Schwager, will try to avenge a 13-6 defeat at the hands of the 1952 Pointer edition. The Quakers' 1952 season record in all contests was two wins and four losses; their conference record was 1-3. So far this season Whitewater was beaten in a non-loop battle with Carroll College and in two conference games by identical 13-0 scores, with Platteville and Milwaukee the victors.

The Robertsmen, after a short practice session, will leave late Friday afternoon. The team will spend the night in a hotel in Fort Atkinson, traveling on to Whitewater late Saturday morning.

The Robertsmen, after a short strength when they meet the Quakers on the turf at game time. Probable starters for the Purple and the Gold in the front wall will be Mark Schommer and Ken Roloff at ends, Jim Luedtke and Jack Crook at the tackle positions, Ken Hurlbut and Jerry Munderloh or Dick Schloemer at guards, and Dave Hurlbut at center. The backfield will find Carl Wiemann mastering the reins from the quarterback position, Don "The Bull" Herrmann at fullback and Gene "Pony" Noonan and John Smith at the halfback slots.

came via passes, to 169 for the Blue-Devils. An added highlight of the evening was the fact that the locals were able to tack an extra on to three of their four TD's, two being boosted by Ken Roloff and the other by Al Due. The first attempt of the evening was blocked in the air.

Like I Said

by Bob Ullsperger
Came out of last issue predicting with only a few bumps and bruises, so let's try it again.

Wisconsin 20 Purdue 14
Here's the game Purdue fans have been pointing towards for some time. The question, "Did the right team go to the Rose Bowl last year?" will be partly answered this Saturday. From this corner it looks like the Badgers in a real close game.

Michigan 26 Indiana 13
The Spartans from Michigan will keep their winning streak intact with a victory over Indiana.

Minnesota 21 Illinois 20
This should be a dandy, but it looks like the Golden Gophers by the closest of margins.

Michigan 21 Northwestern 14
The Northwestern Wildcats have a good passing attack, but the Michigan defense will prove to be superior. Ohio State 30 Pennsylvania 13
Ohio State will rebound from its pasting by Illinois. Borton, Cassidy and Watkins will have themselves a field day.

Iowa 14 Wyoming 7
Forest Evashevski's Hawkeyes, most under-rated club in the Big Ten, are in for a busy afternoon, but we like 'em by one touchdown.

Marquette 28 Arizona 6
Marquette's "tough luck" will come to an end, and this trip will prove worthwhile.

Notre Dame 27 Pittsburgh 7
The Irish will roll and gain some measure of revenge for last year's 22-19 defeat by Pitt.

La Crosse 34 Superior 0
Who's going to stop La Crosse this season?

Stevens Point 26 Whitewater 0
John Roberts' charges should have very little difficulty in capturing their fifth straight victory.

Platteville 13 Milwaukee 7
Milwaukee, fresh from last week's victory, their first in nearly two years, are going to give "Butch" Leitl's boys a real battle come Saturday.

Green Bay 24 Baltimore 17
We feel that the Packers will finally jell and take the Colts to the stables before the home folks.

Carl Wiemann

A math major in the Secondary division, Carl is 5'9", weighs about 160, and is 21 years old. Although a native of Stevens Point, having graduated from P. J. Jacobs, Carl now calls La Crosse his home stamping grounds. Quarterbacking is Carl's gridiron profession, concentrating on excellent ball handling technique, pin-point aeriels and good, sound play-calling. He is ranked as a Junior, having spent his Frosh year at the University of Wisconsin.

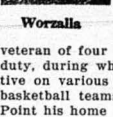

Ken Hurlbut

A member of the only brother combination on the squad, Ken anchors down a guard spot in the stellar forward barrier. He and his brother Dave, both local talent, play side by side on offense and have been providing rampaging Pointer backs plenty of straight up-the-middle holes all season. Ken is a Junior, having spent his Frosh year at Lawrence, where he picked up a major "L" in wrestling. He is 20, stands 5'9", weighs 195 and is claiming a math major in the Secondary division.

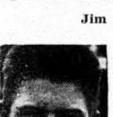

Bob Worzalla

Although he weighs 242 lbs. and stands 6' 4 1/2", big Bob Worzalla is playing his first year of collegiate ball, and from the looks of things it's a lucky break he's going to be charging with our line the next few years instead of against it. Twenty-three years old, "Animal" is a veteran of four years of active Navy duty, during which time he was active on various service football and basketball teams. Bob calls Stevens Point his home and is a history major in L and S.

Gene Noonan

Another Kaukauna gridiron product, Frosh Gene Noonan has become a stellar work-horse half-back in his initial year of collegiate experience. Ball-toting is his specialty, but Gene's sharp blocking and fierce tackling have caused CSC opponents to shudder on numerous occasions. He stands 5' 9", weighs 171, is 19 years old, is a history major in L & S. Gene won high school monograms in boxing and track as well as in football, plans to compete for a position on the Pointer wrestling eight this winter.

Jim Luedtke

Tackle Jim Luedtke is another CSC gridiron competitor who has fought his way to a starting berth in his initial season of collegiate competition. He is 18, stands 6' 1" and tips the beam at 215. Jim earned major letters in football and basketball during his Wisconsin Rapids High school term of competition. Here at Central State Jim is an L & S student majoring in Geography.

Pointers Whip Gulls 12-0 In Rugged Tilt

The Pointers capitalized on only two of the many scoring opportunities which they had, but they were enough to down a rugged Milwaukee eleven 12-0 on October 3, here at Goerke park.

The enthusiastic crowd, kept down because of the weather conditions, saw an action-packed and injury-ridden battle with the local lads completely dominating the ball. The game proved quite costly as it sidelined Dave Hurlbut, starting center, and hospitalized ace tackle Jack Crook and halfback Jim Haebig. Hurlbut sprained his right ankle. Crook had a slight brain concussion, and Haebig injured his right knee. Several others had to leave the field including many Milwaukeeans. The Pointers paced the field with an excellent running attack by rolling up 473 yards. The Pointers carried on large sustained drives and finished the evening with an excellent rushing average of 6.5 yards per try.

CSC's opportunities to cross the opponent's goal failed repeatedly. On different occasions, the Robertsmen got inside the visitor's 20-yard-line but lost the ball four times on fumbles and four times on loss of downs. The Pointers did, however, take advantage of a scoring possibility, when after an 80 yard-drive Gene Noonan plunged from the one yard line into pay dirt. The placement was blocked. The second touchdown, which followed shortly after, was gained by a Wiemann-Schommer completion which followed Wiemann's pass-interception in Gull territory.

Milwaukee's advance was held in check all night by CSC's rugged defensive unit. The Sudsville team managed to march for only drives of 26 and 25 yards; one ended in an unsuccessful field goal attempt and the other was halted on the Pointer nine. Point was forced to punt only once while the Green Gulls had to boot their way out of trouble six times.

They said the Pointers should snap back after their early-season defeat at the hands of Luther and it looks like they're really snapping back in grand style. A snap of four consecutive victories, in fact. The way the Purple and Gold have been racking up yardage against WSC foes they could have scored at least 15 extra touchdowns in the last four contests, but Lady Luck seems to say no to any easy scores and the Pointers have to continue to earn their touchdowns the hard way — by good, clean, hard, football.

This may not be perfectly ethical, but we're going to go way out on a long-range limb and predict that the Pointers will shove past White-water and Platteville fairly easily and play Eau Claire for the tie for the championship. LaCrosse should easily breeze to an undefeated season.

CSC men's bowling goes on its opening fling tonite at the South Side Arcade's alleys. Eight teams will be competing throughout the winter for money awards.

Coach Alf Harrer's cross-country thinies are now plodding with a definite goal in mind. Five long distance gallopers are pointing toward the AAU meet in Milwaukee to be held November 7 where they will compete for team honors. Coach Harrer has been holding numerous trials, both of sprint and long-distance nature, and hopes to have one or two practice matches with the Wisconsin Rapids High school team as conditioning for the big day.

Home Ec. Club Meets

The Home Economics club had their first meeting in the Home Ec. living room on Monday evening, September 28. The president, Virginia Brisco, introduced the other new officers: Vice-president, Jan Thurston; secretary, Phyllis Knop; treasurer, Mary Jane Wagner; press representative, Lois Schroeder; and state vice-president, Phyllis Rickfort. Alice Hiller was elected historian.

Committee chairmen for this semester were announced and committees were set up. Jan Schellin heads the Homecoming float committee with Audrey Pieper, Judy Johnson, Charlotte Steen, Evelyn Knutsen, Nancy Gayhart, Karla Carley, Marge Dill, and Beverly Rugg as co-workers. The management house decoration committee consists of Marge Smith, chairman, Charlotte Hale, Verna Tomforde, Joyce Zerneke, Carol Hedin, Margaret Fetterly, and Mary Lou Uttermark. The annual taffy apple sale which is held on Hobo Day was discussed and Mary Jane Wagner and Radine McIntee were named co-chairmen.

Miss Rita Youmans told about the Home Ec. club convention which is being held this year at Stout Institute in Menominee on October 16 and 17, and urged all members to attend if possible. Because of the large number of Home Ecs desiring to go to the convention, a bus may be chartered so Central State will be well represented.

ISC Officers Named

Inter-sorority officers elected on October 5 for this year are: Jackie Piehl, president; Dorothy Garner, secretary; and Ruth Ann Charlesworth, press representative.

Cornelia Stabler To Appear At Assembly

Cornelia Stabler, monologist, will appear before CSC students and faculty at an assembly on Wednesday, October 28, at 8 P.M.

The program that Miss Stabler is scheduled to do here at CSC is entitled "It's Curtain Time." In "It's Curtain Time," Miss Stabler does a series of monologues that develop into a plot that is said to be as satisfying as a three-act play. The stage is convincingly peopled with clearly defined characters who unfold a story that is full of human interest and keen suspense.

Miss Stabler is well known and her audiences reach from coast to coast. During 1952 she traveled through Europe with a U. S. O. camp show and later she gave performances in hospitals and camps throughout the United States.

The World-Telegram of New York City has this to say about her: "Miss Stabler made effective use of all her resources as mimic and monologist in a series of telling characterizations. Her sets and costumes were simple and her chatter bubbled out easily. What's more, she makes you feel the presence of unseen persons."

The appearance of Miss Stabler has been made possible through bookings by the faculty assembly committee. Robert S. Lewis, former head of the committee, has resigned as chairman because of his new work as director of the Radio Workshop. Miss Pauline Isaacson will take his place as chairman. Others on the committee are Miss Cecilia Winkler, Gilbert W. Faust and Dr. A. Harrer.

Kirkpatrick Opens Forestry Confab

Rodney C. Kirkpatrick, area supervisor for the Antigo forest fire protection district of the Wisconsin Conservation department, spoke to all Central State forestry students Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, as the opening event in an all day seminar on forest fire fighting.

Mr. Kirkpatrick stressed the need for adequate forest fire protection service and demonstrated some of the methods used by the conservation department. The students were then taken to the Mosinee district ranger station and testing grounds. At the testing grounds they started some fires and then got some first hand lessons in modern methods used in forest fire fighting.

The purpose of this meeting was to organize standby forest fire crews in this area, crews which will be trained and ready to serve the conservation department whenever they are needed.

Shades Of CBS, We Have Our "DJ's"

"The Campus Turntable" is on the air! This new disc jockey record show is produced by members of Central State's Radio Workshop and may be heard over station WSPY every Wednesday afternoon at 3:30. The show features interviews with students in various activities at Central State, and, of course, plays their favorite records. A news short is presented each week, as prepared by members of the POINTER staff, spotlighting important happenings on the campus.

Dave Silverman is "Mr. Disc-jockey," with Frank Brooker, Tom Wirkus, Ellen Elde, Diana Bloom and Jim Stasko as his able assistants. Robert S. Lewis is director of the Radio Workshop.

No Pan-Hell Dance To End Pledging This Term

There will be no Pan-Hellenic dance, as such, to end the first semester pledging. Pledging will run through December 4, with the weeks of teachers convention vacation and Thanksgiving vacation excluded.

The pledging season will end on the date of the Senior Ball, with that dance being considered as Pan-Hell. However, if the Senior class does not hold a Senior Ball, then the Greek groups will sponsor a Pan-Hellenic dance on that date.

Stasko New Prexy Of College Theatre

Jim Stasko has been named to the president's chair of College Theatre. Other new officers elected are: Vice-president, Frank Brooker; secretary, Patricia Malick; and treasurer, Gordon Biglake.

College Theatre asks that all those who signed up to help on the one-act plays and all those in the one-act play casts report to the meeting today at 7 p.m. in the Student Lounge.

Newspaper Rack In "Pointer" Office

The Pointer staff wishes to announce to faculty members and students on the campus that there is in the Pointer office a very convenient rack in which they will find publications from other colleges.

Colleges from which the Pointer gets exchanges are: Platteville, Eau Claire, Superior, La Crosse, Milwaukee, Oshkosh, Whitewater, River Falls, and Stout.

CSC'ers may feel welcome to come in and read the other college newspapers, but are asked not to take them out of the Pointer office.
