The Pointer Celebrates Its Sixty-Fifth Year

Bloodmobile
Picture Feature

This is the 65th year that the Pointer has been in existence. In December, 1895, the Normal Pointer, a monthly publication, was first published with Jay S. Hamilton, editor-in-chief, at the head of the eight-man editorial staff.

The first editorial expressed the purpose of the school paper which has remained much the same through these 65 years since its birth. Here is that editorial:

"We present to you the first issue of our school paper. We believe as students that the advantages to be derived from the publication of this paper are many. The literary work which the publication of a school paper involves is most beneficial to the student. The art of giving our thoughts full and clean expression is not easily acquired; but by persistent effort and practice we believe that every student of our school can acquire efficiency in this, and we hope that this paper will be a source of help to each student in acquiring this ability. Our first contributions may fall short of the desired end; but we sincerely trust that each succeeding effort will show a marked improvement. This paper, we believe, will add greater interest to our work, and by giving our universal support to it we shall establish a fellowship which will be a source of satisfaction to us all; and when we leave school and enter upon our duties of life, we shall look back to this labor as one of the most helpful, if not the most pleasant of our school work.

enough to give them the full worth of their money. Every businessman advertising in the Pointer is desirous of having the student's patronage, and he is justly entitled to first consideration and loyal support of every Normal student. We appreciate the patronage of our friends and hope the Normal Pointer will be the means of making many lasting acquaintances.

"Progressive people usually read the ads in the periodicals they take. Libraries now-a-days usually bind up the advertisements with the reading matter. Why? Because they are a constituent part of the periodical. Moral: Read the ads.

"With all becoming modesty, it is well, perhaps, not to be out of place to remark that no professor has scratched his pen upon the pages of the present issue of the Normal Pointer. It is not with undue pride that this fact is brought out, nor does it carry with it any intimation that the journalistic efforts of the faculty are to be repudiated, but this point which is merely an incident of the first issue, and perhaps, of many isolated issues to follow, only exemplifies the idea that animated those who first thought of carrying on a Normal journal, that it should be distinctively a student paper whose columns would be freely open to the faculty for the display of literary productions, or the promulgation of sage advice; and contributions from the faculty in these or other classes of literary effort are even courted; but to paraphrase Lincoln's famous tribute to the republican form of government, The Pointer will be a paper of the students, by the students and for the students of the Wisconsin Sixth State Normal. Its politics and finances are wholly under student control."

College Theater Plans Tryouts For "Antigone"

Tryout for the two act tragedy "Antigone" will be held December 13 and 14 at 7 p.m. in the auditorium.

Mr. William Dawson, director, states that all students including freshmen are eligible to try out. "Antigone" was written by Jean Anouilh in 1943. It was based on the original Greek trilogy by Sophocles concerning the cursed family of Theban rulers founded by Oedipus. The modern version follows the original very closely.

Critics look upon "Antigone" as the greatest of all Sophocles' plays.

It was produced on Broadway in 1946 and Kathleen Cornell and Sir Cedric Harwick starred in it. The play calls for eight men and four women and is scheduled for production February 15, 16, and 17.

For those students worried about exams, Mr. Dawson says there will be no rehearsal immediately before and during the exam period.

CSC Presents Christmas Program On Channel 7

"Christmas Greeting from Central State" will be featured Tuesday, December 20, at 3 p. m. on WSAU-TV, Channel 7, Wausau. The CSC Radio-TV Workshop is sponsoring the program.

Dave Jeffers will be announcer for the program. Featured on the program will be the Men's Glee club quartet, Charles Ross, Ken Schmidt, William Zeigler, and Dale Maher, singing "White Christmas." Mary Boeyink, soloist, has chosen a selection from "Christmas Cantata."

Nancy Muenster, representing the home economics department, will present "Gift Wrapping." Sally Jensen, speech department, will give a Christmas dramatic reading. The art department will demonstrate easy-to-make Christmas tree decorations.

Group singing of "Silent Night" will conclude the program.

MR. ROBERT MURRAY

Choir and Choraliers Combine Voices For Handel's "Messiah"

The combined voices of the College choir and Point Choraliers will present the Christmas portion of Handel's "Messiah" in college auditorium December 11 at 8 p.m.

Soloists for this year's performance will be Mrs. Perry Saito, Stevens Point, soprano; Frisella Lundberg, Waupaca, alto; George Lorenz, Waupaca, tenor; and Mr. Wendell Orr, CSC music faculty, bass.

Mr. Robert J. Murray will conduct the program and Miss Maija Jekabson will accompany the combined choirs on the organ.

"The Messiah" is a wonderful work and the solos and choruses of the Christmas portion are delightful to hear. Be sure to attend the stirring performance of "The Messiah" on December 11.

"The Red and the Black"

Tonight the first three showings of "The Red and the Black" will be held at the Library theater. There will also be three showings tomorrow. Based on Stendhal's romantic novel, the movie is in color and has French dialog with English subtitles.

It is the story of an opportunist's career and also of a class society in 19th century France where an "outsider" found the going rough because of his background. Gerard Philippe stars as Julien Sorel, ambitious son of a provincial carpenter. Danielle Darrieux appears as the married woman, Louise de Renal, with whom he has his first affair. Antonella Lualdi and Pierre Jourdan have the supporting roles. The production was directed by Claude Autant-Lara.

Anniversary Message

The Pointer is celebrating its sixty-fifth anniversary. The writer has been an interested reader of the Pointer for more than one-third of that time, in fact for twenty-two years. The paper has been a real service to the college in our opinion. What does it do? It serves as the college community newspaper, it alerts students to important college events which are to take place and then in many cases reports on the events for the benefit of participants and others. It has been a motivation for interested students to try their hand at writing stories which will make interesting reading. It serves as a voice of the student body or of student organizations, and in some cases of individual students. Perhaps more use could be made of it along this line, but it should never be used for a small group of individuals to air their personal gripes in issue after issue without an occasional opportunity for the student body as a whole to indicate its opinion of these criticisms. No one objects to criticisms if they are of a constructive nature and there has always been opportunity in the Pointer for that. In fact it has been open to students for presenting ideas that have not always been well thought out. The Pointer for the year serves as a detailed record of events which are a part of college life. In that respect it is more informative than the college annual, the Iris, but of course it cannot be made as interesting because the Iris has its pictorial value.

Our congratulations to the Pointer on its sixty-fifth anniversary and best wishes for its success in years ahead, and our commendation to the many fine students who have served as editors, business managers and news writers for the Pointer.

We State Our Policy

While reading a history of the Pointer from its birth 65 years ago, I found the following editorial in the October 21, 1937 issue of the Pointer. It was written by Theodore J. Ketterl, editor. Since it concerns a problem which also faces the 1960-61 Pointer staff, I felt it was worth repeating.

"Because of some criticism in the past, intended for the Student Opinion column, which we feel is unmerited, we, the Pointer staff and its executives, wish to make our policy clear to the student body. Such a policy once explained, should correct any misguided opinions you may have.

"In the first place, do not get the idea that we dislike criticism; such is not the case. We welcome all and every bit of criticism you may have, but keep it free of personal rancor and prejudice. Give us constructive, friendly criticism and we assure you we will take it to heart.

"All school organizations are welcome to a place in the Pointer. If you feel you are being slighted we suggest you appoint a publicity representative to see that we get any news you have to offer. It is understood, of course, that it is the editor's prerogative to print any and such stories as they feel are the most interesting, to the student body as a whole.

"The purpose of our paper is to print news. We hope you understand it is not a medium through which to carry on a personal feud of any kind. Respect our policy in this respect.

"We are honestly striving to give you the best Pointer we know how to give. Cooperate with us and help us with our task."

Hail To Mr. Omernik

Even though there are those who do not agree with the sentiments of the writers of recent letters to the editors, those letters seemed to have stirred the students of CSC to express their opinions.

There is no doubt that the food served by the Food Service is unsatisfactory, both in quantity of serving and quality, but it was gratifying to see a student who would put his thoughts in writing. Perhaps something might be done about the situation if enough letters are received in protest of the "food." Why don't you write a letter today? All letters must be signed, but we will withhold the name upon request.

It was refreshing to see that Mr. Omernik's letter was being discussed for days following its appearance in the Pointer. Mr. Omernik has graced the Pointer with a follow-up on his first letter. I encourage everyone to read it. In this issue we also have a letter condemning the Poet's Corner, and another condemning Mr. Omernik.

To comment on the letter concerning Miss Wilson, I might add that she has won national recognition for her poetry. Therefore, I consider it to be "above-average."

Why don't you get into the swing of things? Write your letter, either praising or condemning your favorite subject, sign it, and send it to the Pointer via our mailbox — today.

L. A. H.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Since this column seems to be the sounding board for anyone who feels the need to "sound off," I'd like to express my views on the "Poet's Corner."

The general public, over the last few years, has been made very cautious when determining whether or not they like a piece of art. They were taught to look for an inner or deeper meaning and not only at the surface before making a criticism. As far as I'm concerned, I cannot find either an immediate or secondary significance in Miss Wilson's poems. Of course, it is possible that they are perhaps too "deep" for an average sophomore. I am inclined to believe, however, that too many people hide behind the skirts of the real impressionists.

This same group of people has degraded the Beatniks, who in the beginning, were a sincere congregation searching for individuality but now find their group infiltrated with charlatans.

I am not insisting or suggesting that everyone making an attempt at any form of art should be a professional at first because this is ridiculous, but I do think that when an individual's work is made open to the public it should be above average.

Campus Groups Start Glamour Series

Members of the Home Ec club, College Women association, and the College Union started an annual glamour series.

Their program is free to all students who wish to attend. At each of these programs there will be a professional model who will talk about and demonstrate the whys and hows of little things that give a woman the confidence she would enjoy.

An acquisition of the basics of charm which can be useful in everyday life is the objective of this series. The programs look very exciting to any young woman who is interested in personal poise and appearance. These programs will be held as follows:

December 5 — College Fashions with Miss Helen Wright from Simplicity Patterns. She spoke on various types of clothing for various types of bodies.

February 21 — Style show from Campbell's featuring spring fashions. A professional model from Patricia Stevens' Modeling school will talk on makeup and hair styles.

March 15 — Our own ladies from the Home Ec club will exhibit their acquired skills by displaying their own creations. A Patricia Stevens' model will talk on poise and posture.

April 23 — This will be the last of the College Women Glamour series. It is their desire to make this the best program of all.

"The Prom" will be the topic of conversation with both the young women and men welcome to attend. The style show will be entirely on prom fashions for men and women. The model will also discuss date problems.

Student's Wives Elect Officers, Plan Party

At the November meeting of the Students' Wives club, officers for the second semester were elected as follows: Mrs. Wm. Hodgson, president; Mrs. Don O'Neil, vice-president; Mrs. David Jorgenson, secretary; Mrs. Erwin Jankowski, treasurer.

Mrs. Samuel Burgess, who has been serving as president of the Students' Wives club since its organization in May, 1959, will remain on the board as past president.

Following the business meeting, Dr. Robert Rifeleman spoke on "Hypnotism for Childbirth." Dr. Rifeleman dispelled many foolish notions about hypnotism, and cautioned against accepting hypnotism by any person other than a medically trained hypnotist.

The next meeting will be a "Husband and Wife Christmas party" on Saturday, December 10, from 6:30 p. m. to 12:00 midnight, in the College Union lounge. A pot-luck turkey dinner will be served at 7:00 p. m. and all married students are invited to attend. Each couple is asked to bring a "dish to pass," and 50 cents will be charged per person to cover the expenses of the evening. For reservations, please call Mrs. Don O'Neil — Diamond 4-7085 before December 7. Mr. and Mrs. O'Neil are planning special entertainment and the evening will conclude with dancing.

Robert Omernik—

I too, do not wish to be a blindly conforming student, however, I am in complete disagreement with your method of approach.

The whole first paragraph of your letter should have been deleted. All it shows the readers is your apparent lack of self-confidence. Then you begin the second by definitely stating your wish to criticize, but as you so unctuously put it "blast" campus groups. That is the best way to win friends and influence people you know.

All you are accomplishing by this method is to arouse hostility against yourself or worse yet, laughter. And if the people who read your letter laugh at it they are not necessarily ignorant, but individualism certainly is defeated.

Have you ever thought of employing a little tact (the art of securing advantages without arousing hostility)? One of the better methods is by example. If your cause to further the idea of your personal record is bright with instances of self-confident individualistic actions, then hurrah for you. People respect a person for consistently practicing what he believes without making a big show of it. If a person is really worth being noticed as an individual — he will be.

Needless to say, I could go on but I am sure this will give you the general idea of my feelings regarding your letter.

Congratulations for calling this matter to student attention, but happen forbid your method of approach.

Billie Lee Brown

ED. NOTE TO MR. OMERNIK:

The remark that you take offense at did not infer that you had no right to criticize extracurricular activities, but that your comments were not as valid as they would have been if you were a member of organizations and knew of their problems.

LAI, JAJ.

Dear Editors:

I'd like to thank you for printing my letter in the last issue, since it shows that you are not afraid to publish something of this nature. But my only complaint is your incomplete dossier about me. Yes it's true that the only organization that lists me as a dues paying member is the Newman Club, and even then I rarely attend the meetings.

If you go through the letter again, however, you'll find that the four major groups that I knocked were the student body itself, the faculty, the education department, and the Pointer itself.

Now if you'll check with all the instructors I've had these past years you'll find that I'd never missed a class; I am in the process of completing the required 20 credits the secondary department has established; and I also read the Pointer every two weeks, although that's nothing to brag about.

The point I'm trying to make is this: since when does membership in organizations give or deprive a student of the right to criticize? If you'll check the letter again you'll notice that my references to student organizations appeared with the part that pertained to the Pointer itself, and how the Pointer specializes in organization news.

Of course, you could have intended that last remark so the fraternities and sororities would side with you, as if I care. And then it could be that the sororities and fraternities with their faculty advisors, as many students here think, do happen to be running the whole campus, including the Pointer itself!

Yours truly, Robert Omernik

P. S. — In your attempts at becoming a great journalist, I'd suggest you emulate some magazine other than Time; unless, that is, you like that particular type of journalism style. In other words, come out and say what that little remark was supposed to mean, or are you afraid to back yourself up?

I. S. O. News

I am sure you have heard about the fact that Central State college has an organization by the name of International Students Organization. What is this organization's ambition?

We came here from all over the world, America, Africa, Asia, and Europe to gain an education and take it back to our nations. This is what we are trying to do now but we can get better results and have a better way of gaining it if we get together and discuss our different cultures and problems. We can help each other and enjoy being together. We can also be proud that, for the first time in CSC's history, we have built up a most effective International Students organization. CSC will always associate us with this particular year at CSC.

So far this year, the International Students organization has tried to show what they can do. This year was the first year the I. S. O. entered a float in the Homecoming parade. We think our float was a success even though it didn't win a prize. Our second big project was the showing of the film "Wonderful World," to a crowd of about 30 people.

We are always looking for new members, so anyone interested in joining, please do.

A. Zorothy
President of I. S. O.

Older Students Form New Club

Calling all derelicts! Are we derelicts or refugees? Whatever the classification, a group of older students in school feel there is a need for an opportunity to get together to hash over their unique position as a college student.

If you are a student in a position which seems to separate you from the average student, we invite you to attend our meetings.

"Hansel and Gretel" Called Worthwhile

By Sigrid Burgmann

It was the consensus of those who attended the opera, "Hansel and Gretel", that Pat Van Sant and Faith Bidgood were outstanding in their roles of Hansel and Gretel respectively. Their singing was superb, but they not only sang; they also acted. They were supposed to be children so they acted like it. It made their roles much more realistic. Not much can be said for the acting of the other characters. Except for Connie Smoodie, there was little other acting.

Ann Trinrud, the mother, seemed to know her part but was somewhat unsure of her entrances. The same can be said for Merle Colburn, the father, except that he was not only unsure of his entrances but his part on the whole for that matter.

The sandman and the dew fairy were minor but important parts played by Dottie Corn. Just what did she have to say, though? Dottie's tone was good, but half of what she said was lost.

Connie Smoodie, as the witch, gave a very realistic portrayal and really looked the part. Any one in the audience would have hated to run into her on a dark night.

The gingerbread players did a fine job. They had a small part but without it the opera would not have been complete.

Without the accompanist the opera would not have been. Kathy Carstens is to be applauded for the magnificent performance she turned in.

In reviewing the physical aspects of the opera, there can be nothing but praise. The costumes, settings, lighting, and make-up were beyond compare. That the oven door didn't close completely and then fell off altogether in the last act could have happened anywhere. Even the Met goofs. In the second act the cuckoo sound was very natural and added much effect to the scene.

Even though it wasn't perfect (and then what is) one cannot be too critical. We weren't watching professionals. In the long run we can overlook the individual mistakes if the final product is good. As a whole the opera was worthwhile seeing and something no one should have missed.

Union Board Plans Christmas Dance

By Elmae Omernik

With festive smiles
And sly beguiles,
The damsels fair
Will greet you there!

With mery jests
As holiday guests,
The gentlemen of CSC
Say be there, as well we!

Where?

At the annual Christmas Dance sponsored by the Union Board Social committee. A holiday air will prevail, so don your face with a wreath of smiles, your voice with the tinkling of silver bells, and your dress in a festive fashion. Larry Woodbury will provide the music for your light-stepping gaities. That merry hour is the evening of Saturday, Dec. 17, from 9 to the bewitching hour!

With evergreens a-shining
And bells a-chiming,
The mood will be merry —
So do not tarry.

But come alone and choose a mate,
Or come together with a date.
It's a Christmas Dance full of spirit,
Alas and alack! if you should miss it!

David Ehlerl Receives Vita-Craft Scholarship

David G. Ehlerl, a sophomore from Wisconsin Rapids, has received a Vita Craft Scholarship in the amount of $100. As a college student representing the Vita Craft company, Dave has done an exceptional job. He received the award for outstanding achievements during summer sales activities.

This unique scholarship plan was developed by Mr. G. S. Slough who is a graduate of Baker University and the Kansas City Schol of Law. During his undergraduate years, Mr. Slough found it difficult to earn an adequate income while going to school. By discovering opportunities in the sales field, he was able to finance his education. It was at his request that this program to give assistance with tuition and other college expenses was initiated.

W.R.A. News

The Women's Recreation association welcomes you. Every college woman is a member of this organization. We have begun volleyball tournament games and trampolines and would like you to join us on Wednesday evenings at 6:30. The synchronized swim group and modern dance group meet at 6:30 on Monday evenings.

After Christmas we will be forming basketball and badminton teams. Watch the Pointer, WRA bulletin board in the main building, and the bulletin board in the physical education building for notices.

The officers of WRA will be glad to answer any questions you may have concerning our activities. They are Maxine Albrecht, president, Betty Kuczarski, vice-president, Joan Boeynk, secretary, and Marie Pumper, treasurer.

Waldorf-Astoria hotel, New York City, El Rancho hotel in Delver, or the Hotel Stanton in Chicago, have nothing over our Steiner hall in Stevens Point.

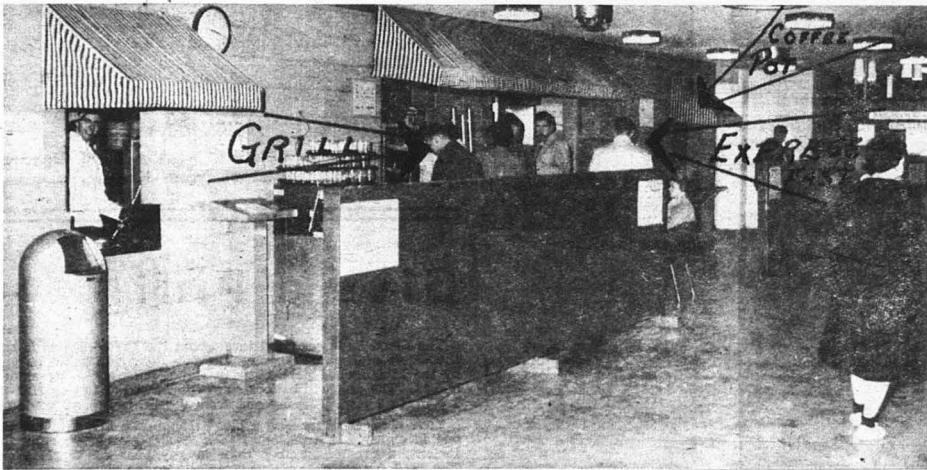

Although one can only gain entrance or exit through one door, there is, I am sure, a good reason. The Hotel Stanton probably opens all its doors because they have vacant rooms. Steiner hall doesn't. Why? Because I live in Steiner hall.

My room is very comfortable and compact. There is only one small problem. When the beds are released from the walls, there is an aisle about a foot wide in which visitors and occupants must walk to go from one side of the room to the other. Many mornings I have stumbled out of bed and stubbed my little toe on the projected part of the bed. But, I don't complain. Why? Because I live in Steiner hall.

Elevators and escalators are the coming rage in most large buildings, with the exception of Steiner hall. But then, we at Steiner wouldn't want an escalator. It would end all the fun we have running up and down all those four flights of stairs several times daily, with all our books. I seem to be forgetting that I do live in Steiner hall.

Do we have rules, or do we have rules? I don't appreciate the rules we have regarding quiet hours, restricting late minutes or hours, or the "one-clean-sheet-a-week" policy, but very seldom do I complain. You see, I live at Steiner hall. It is my "home away from home."

Did I hear you say that you are moving off campus next semester?

"Forty-third in line and 4 1/2 minutes later a hamburger in my hand!"

This comment was heard by one of the many students who has used and appreciated the greater efficiency of the new express line in the Union Snack Bar.

This system is designed to get food and beverages to students in the least amount of time possible and with the minimum of confusion. For those of you who want grilled items, sandwiches, or other dinner-type item, you fill out a slip, hand it in at the solid-dishes window and when you arrive at the cashier, the food is ready for you without any time spent in extra waiting.

The express line, located to the right of the cashier, will hurriedly accommodate those who want coke, juice, chips, milk, cones, malts, sundaes, and coffee when the Coffee Pot is closed. You need no slips for this line. If no one is present to wait on you, there is a bell alongside the cashier to ring for service.

A new system has also been set up at the Coffee Pot window. You can now obtain egg and ham salad sandwiches and sweet rolls as well as coffee.

The Coffee Pot is open every day from 8 a. m. to 1:30 p. m.

A Visit to the Bloodmobile

ROBERT ORGISH, Jr., 1116 Church Street, registers at the last Bloodmobile visit here. Mrs. O. L. Sorey, left, and Mrs. J. P. Gannon receive his card.

MRS. NORMAN Rosholt receives Bob's coat.

BOB GIVES the vital statistics to Mrs. Richard Rothman, who records them on the proper forms.

GETTING TO hold hands with the nurse is one of the pleasures. Here, Mrs. W. J. Timmons takes Bob's pulse and temperature.

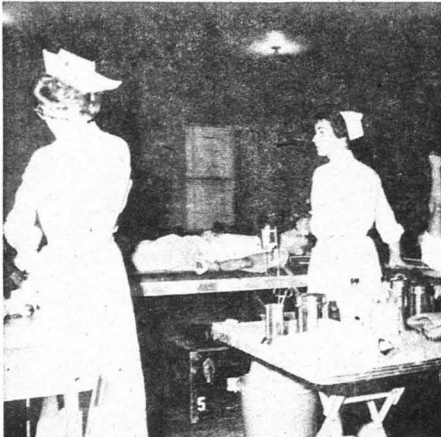

A DELICIOUS glass of orange juice is next on the menu. The nurse is Mrs. Arthur Dean.

MRS. EDMUND BUKOLT takes a blood test, and asks Bob questions about recent illnesses.

Give a Pint!

The Blood Bank program throughout the United States is saving thousands of lives each year. Stevens Point will again be visited by the Bloodmobile next Tuesday and Wednesday — December 13 and 14. The unit will be located at the American Legion Hall from 1 p. m. to 7 p. m. Tuesday and from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Wednesday.

Your chances of needing a blood transfusion this year are about one in eighty. In 1958, more than 2,000,000 Americans got transfusions, a greater number than in any year of World War II. The need for blood is rising steadily because of the increased use of new hospital aids, the heart-lung pump and the artificial kidney. The heart-lung pump, used for open-heart surgery, must be primed with 12 to 15 pints of blood everytime it is used, while the artificial kidney machines require 8 pints for priming.

Figures from two years ago show that almost forty-four per cent (44%) of transfusions were for a single pint of blood, as compared with the over-all average of two and three-tenths (2 3/10) pints. So you can see, there are times when only one pint of blood can make a great deal of difference, even of life or death, to a patient.

The prevailing average price for ordinary types of blood is $25 per pint. At some hospitals, patients may replace blood on the hospital's terms. This may be on a pint-for-pint basis, but it may be as high as five pints for one. Some hospitals make a charge even if you replace the blood they gave you, and they quadruple the charge if you don't.

Because we have a Red Cross blood bank, Portage County residents received almost 1000 pints of blood last year — of the type needed and when needed. This blood — which had a market value of $25,000 — cost the sick and injured nothing but the administration and processing charge. Because we are part of the Red Cross Blood program, any person, Portage County resident or not, will get the blood he needs — free — no matter where he is hospitalized.

A goal of 300 pints of blood from the students of CSC was set by Bob Kiefert, student chairman of the Blood Drive. To obtain this goal, Bob has enlisted the aid of the fraternities and sororities of the school, in addition to other members of the student body. There is a contest to see which group can obtain the highest percentage of their membership donating blood. A trophy will be awarded to the winning group.

CSC Swamps Lakeland 107-54

The Pointers established a new "record" in the fieldhouse with a 107-54 victory over Lakeland. The "old" record set on Nov. 26, 1960 when the Pointers scored 96 points against the Alumni.

Every player on Coach Quandt's team had a part in breaking the 100 mark. A fast break attack was set up by Buck Wickman, Sammy Sampson and Bill Kuse.

Wickman, freshman from Preble, led the CSC scoring with 20 points. Kuse had 18 and Wojtusik had — point. An unusual fact, despite the high score, the Pointers had only three players in double figures.

Siasefi

With the end of the recent quest for venison, the forces of the Siasefi are once again at full strength and they are in pursuit of more academically oriented endeavors such as capturing fair maidens.

Along this line is a scheduled burning of low grade slips which were erroneously sent to several members of the organization. Socially, activities planned for the near future are a Christmas party at the Stevens Point Country club and a Siasefi ski meet scheduled on Rib mountain if it should by chance happen to snow.

Plans are also being formulated for the publication of a "Dis-appointer". For those students in the dark as to the nature of this publication, it is basically concerned with the presentation of such problems that students may feel exist on and around campus and wish to write about. Anyone wishing to contribute articles may do so by placing them in the Siasefi mailbox.

Also a plea to CSC students. Please offer up a prayer for Quandt's "questionable chargers"—they may be in need of them.

Mr. Nells Kampenga, head librarian, spoke to Alpha Kappa Lambda at the last meeting about the possibility of securing a separate room in the library building to circulate conservation books.

Two years ago AKL set up a library book fund in honor of Walter Sylvester, a deceased conservation instructor here at the college. Today, over 100 books are to be found in this book fund and the circulation of these books is limited by the present method of distribution.

At the present time, a place of distribution is being considered in the library basement and only future time will tell if AKL is to have a room to circulate their books.

The crowd shoot is to be held on December 10. Rides will leave the northeast entrance of the school at 1:00. Mr. Raymond Specht is to accompany the group to the Poynette Game farm where he will take pictures of the group and write a feature story as to the reason people and groups like ours shoot crows at the game farm. Watch for the date of Mr. Specht's feature article in this paper.

Coffee and doughnuts were served at the close of the meeting.

REVELLE

Greetings to all of you out there in dog land. At our last 550 meeting it was decided to have our Christmas party on December 16. Plans are already being laid for a fabulous feed, spectacular entertainment, and perhaps a bit of brew. It should be quite a surprise since no one who went last year can remember what it was like. Although there was stiff opposition from the married members, it was voted to be a stag affair. (You'll have to wait until the "Orgy," girls.)

All in all, the 550's had a good Thanksgiving except for a few of our more zealous deer hunters. This season's addition to our trophy case includes three guernsey cows, a Chev radiator, 2 lost MPs, 7 game wardens, 1 education prof., 193 empty cases of beer and a Marilyn Monroe billboard. Nice going fellows.

Sophs' Skating Party A Success

The sophomore class, sponsored a roller skating party on Sunday, November 20, and everyone there reported having a wonderful time. A few of the students had never been on skates, or hadn't for some time, but all those skating really seemed like pros by the end of the evening. Approximately 150 attended the party.

A highlight of the evening was the entertainment furnished by "The Incompletes". The fellows really were terrific and should be watched. They are members of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. Good luck fellows.

Watch for the next sophomore class-sponsored roller skating party. Miss Mildred Davis has been telling us she'll be on skates at that one!

Many thanks again to Miss Davis and Miss Marjorie Schelfhout for being chaperones. They certainly added a great deal to the affair.

Room for Many Persons on Summer European Tour

In early June 1962, a group of 40 will join Mr. Peter Kroner and Miss Pauline Isaacson for a study Tour of Europe. Each student may register for 6-8 credits.

He will receive his assignments, syllabi, texts, and suggestions for reference reading by March 1, 1962. By the time he leaves Stevens Point by bus in early June, he will have completed the groundwork for his field study.

Further sessions en route on the liner, United States, will augment his preparation, but he will have plenty of time, too, for ship-board recreational activities.

The group will land at Le Havre and proceed at once to Paris. The days in Paris will include a side trip to Versailles. Then this tentative itinerary and some of the "sights":

June 11, 1962 — Night train to Zurich. Proceed to Lucerne next afternoon.

June 14 — Morning train to Lugano. Afternoon to Milan. See Da Vinci's "Last Supper".

June 15 — Night train Milan, Rome. Opera at Baths of Caracalla. Sistine Chapel.

June 19 — Rome to Florence. Medici Palace.

June 21 — Florence to Venice. St. Mark's.

June 23 — Night train to Vienna. Opera. Schonbrunn Castle.

June 26 — Night train to Salzburg. Maraonette Theatre.

June 29 — To Munich via Berchtesgaden. Nymphenberg Castle, Opera.

July 1 — To Nurnberg. Side trip to Rothenburg, medieval city.

July 3 — Night train to Frankfurt and Bonn.

July 4 — Proceed to Cologne by Rhine.

July 6 — Train to Amsterdam.

July 10 — To London via Bruges and Ostend. Side trip to Stratford-on-Avon. See a play in the Memorial Theatre.

July 15 — To Southampton and liner, United States.

July 21 — Arrive Stevens Point.

On Campus for the equivalent of three weeks of classes the travelers will work on culminating activities.

Cost of the tour is set at $950.00 for all travel, rooms in good hotels, and all breakfasts, all sightseeing, and theatre tickets. Tuition, of course will be extra as will two meals daily for most of the 35 days in Europe.

Additional persons interested may sign with Miss Isaacson or with Mr. Kroner.

Chemistry 100a Finally Gets Lab

After a long wait, Section 6 of Chemistry 100a finally got into the laboratory. Apparently they became thoroughly tired of just sitting, and consequently, they are going at their lab work with gusto.

The old photo lab has been converted into a physical chemistry lab. The conversion was completed about a month ago, and the lab is now in business. It is all "dolled up" with a new coat of paint, new desks (locally made) and fluorescent lighting. Perhaps the only drawback is its size — too small to be completely adequate. But every little bit of room helps!

Home Ec Club

Home Ec club members toured Nigbor's Furs on the afternoon of November 21. Formal initiation of new members was held at the monthly meeting that night. President Margaret Epple conducted the initiation ceremony which was held in the Union lounge. New members include: Carmen Andersen, Fox Lake; Marcia Anderson, Lakewood; Barbara Balza, Appleton; Liola Chemel, Pound; Della DeKaster, New Franken; Gloria Frye, Hortonville; Bette Gerndt, Suring; Thelma Hanson, Rosholt; JoEllen Holz, Hales Corners; Joanna Kabcinski, Crivitz; Martha Madison, DeKalb, Illinois; Ann Mathison, Stevens Point; Sue Moser, Milwaukee; Mary Kay Pearson, Stevens Point; Mary Alice Poelchak, Wausaukee; Cathy Pratt, Plainfield; Mary Ann Riske, Manawa; Virginia Roth, Random Lake; Carol Ann Schmuhl, Markesan; JoAnne Schwabach, Stevens Point; Mary Seyfert, Eagle River; Nonalee Swalheim, De Forest; Janet Taylor, Columbus; Virginia Tillou, Mayville; Helen Topping, Westfield; Dalene Williams, Plainfield; Claudia Yelk, Marshall; and Bonnie Zahn, Gillett. CSC Profiles

By Dale Whitney

Judith Ungrodt

Dear Judy: It seems like four months rather than four years ago since you graduated from good ol' Medford High. We here at home have kept close tabs on what you've been doing at CSC and need to say, we are proud to claim you as our own hometown gal.

JUDY UNGRODT

Your mom came over to visit us the other day, and told us that you are giving a senior recital on December 19. I'm sure going to try to make it to Point that day, to hear it and to help you celebrate your 21st birthday at the same time. It should be an exciting climax to your work as a music major at CSC. I thought it was wonderful when you won the Faulhaber scholarship for outstanding work in music and when you were elected vice-president of Alpha Kappa Rho, but this Senior Recital is the best of all. We never had any doubts that you would do a good job, though, as we always liked to hear you play the piano when you were at home.

I wonder where you find the time for everything you do. When you were just a freshman, I remember an article in our local paper which said that you had taken part in 3 plays that year: "All My Sons," "Sabrina Fair," and "This Property is Condemned." Our pastor was happy to hear that you also joined L.S.A. and became so active in it as vice-president one year and as membership director. The girls at school are all buzzing about your national sorority Alpha Sigma Alpha. We know that you are president of it now and we wish you would still be there when a bunch of us start college next year because we're all interested in joining.

I also heard via the grapevine that after you get your Bachelor of Music Degree in June, you're thinking of entering Eastman School of Music at Rochester, New York, to study music theory. Whew! What an undertaking that will be. But knowing you as I do, you'll come out on top there, too. Since you're practice teaching at the campus school right now, you'll have a good background when you go out to capture your first teaching job. We'd like to see you come back to Medford to teach, but knowing how you like Point, I suppose you'll go to some town about the size.

Well I guess I'd better close and do some homework for a change. When you come home for Christmas, don't forget to call me and we'll have a long bag session. If I can't make it the 19th, all the luck in the world to you Judy. You deserve no less than that.

Love, Sally

Fraternity Features

Sigma Phi Epsilon was recently notified that it was promoted to a completely operational chapter which is one step from the top of the ladder. In order to reach the top, we must obtain the highest grade point of all the fraternities on campus. To do this, we have set up a study table in the library for our activities and pledges.

The second annual Tau Gamma Sig Epsilon banquet took place December 4, 1960, in the St. Stans' Church basement. Ron Perry and Bob Check are the Sig Epsilon co-chairmen for this event.

"Bear" Kiefert has been appointed student chairman of the Red Cross Bloodmobile drive which will take place December 13 and 14.

The Sig Eps have challenged all fraternities and sororities on the campus to see who will have the highest percentage of their members as donors to the Bloodmobile. A trophy will be awarded to the organization with the highest percentage of members donating. For more information, see Bob Kiefert.

Alpha Beta Rho

The active members and prospective pledges of Alpha Beta Rho entertained friends and guests of the fraternity at a celebration party on Friday, November 4, in honor of our recent victory in the Homecoming Queen election. The evening proved to be one of fun and dancing.

Our pledge master for the first semester is Ron Novak. He is in charge of 12 pledges initiated on Tuesday, November 15, who will again hold the traditional Alpha Beta Rho Sweater Dance this semester. The pledges, who started their pledging Tuesday, November 22, with a hike to the Red Rooster for a brief gathering and refreshments, are Dick Mayer, John Osterman, Ken Bushford, Bob Shinliffing, Mary Degenette, Bill Storm, Sherman Vandriese, Dan Graikowski, Wesley Stafford, Craig Schwartz, Dan Moran and Charles Fisher.

JERRY MADDEN

Today the Pointer Profiles wishes to present a review of a recent movie called "The CSC Success Story."

Its featured star is Jerry Madden. The supporting cast is made up of the members of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

The story is of a scientific nature. Its main theme shows how a young man, after attending the University of Wisconsin for one year, came to Central State to become a top student in the fields of math, physics, and chemistry.

Friends, this movie has everything. You will experience feelings of sympathy and sorrow as you watch our star going through the rigors of TKE pledging. Soon after, though, your mood will change to one of joy as you see our man becoming Outstanding Pledge of his class and then step up to the office of vice-president for two consecutive years.

The next part of the film is quiet and complacent. These scenes include Sigma Zeta meetings over which Jerry presides as president. Also relaxing are those scenes of Interfraternity Council meetings which show our man as the Council's vice-president. Your heart will pound with excitement as you see 25 high school freshmen from P. J. Jacobs bearing down on our star as he makes a desperate attempt to defeat them in a well-known game called "algebra."

You'll laugh with Jerry as he engages in those activities which he most enjoys — fraternity football and softball and other sports of all kinds.

Your heart will swell with pride as you listen to the music of the CSC orchestra accompanying Jerry as he walks to the stage to receive his teaching degree.

So don't miss it, ladies and gentlemen. "The CSC Success Story" in progress whenever Jerry Madden crosses your path.

RELIGIOUS NEWS

L. S. A.

Lutheran Student association met Thursday, November 17, in the Union lounge for a regular meeting. The evening's program consisted of a talent show, which was made up of LSA members. Dave Dobbe served as master of ceremonies; Student Pastor and Mrs. Fred Masted and Mr. John Knutson served as judges. A trophy was awarded to Dick VanderBloemen for being the best talent of the evening. However, LSA would like to commend everyone who took part in the show.

LSA will meet Thursday, December 8, for its regular monthly meeting. On Thursday, December 15, LSA will join the other religious groups on campus for a caroling party.

Wesley

Wesley met for its regular monthly meeting Thursday, November 10, at Wesley house. The meeting was opened with a short worship service.

Mr. Orland E. Radke, dean of men, was our guest speaker. He gave a talk on the subject "College Life and You."

The weekend of November 11-13, Lela Jahn, Jerry Caldwell, Penne Rude, Bill Storm, Dave Bennett, J. A. Net Young, Barb Fritsch, Sigrid Burgmann, Sandy Hollerup, and George Packard attended the Wisconsin Methodist Student Movement Fall conference at Pine Lake camp. Lela was selected to go to the United Nations in New York and to Washington, D.C., sometime in February as one of Wisconsin's representatives in preparation for the spring mock U. N. session at Carroll College.

Honorary Fraternity

Alpha Kappa Rho

The regular monthly meeting of Alpha Kappa Rho, honorary music fraternity, was held on Wednesday, November 16, at 6:30 p.m., in the music department. A business meeting, led by President Curtiss Eddy, was held during which two new members, Dave Grude and Phil Beavers, were initiated. Plans were also made for an All-Music Department Christmas party sponsored by Alpha Kappa Rho. Members of Alpha Kap may go carolling as a group in addition to that.

The evening's program included presentation of a topic concerning Chinese music by Dr. T. K. Chang of the CSC Geography department. Dr. Chang traced the origin and development of Chinese music and its place in the arts, explaining present trends and singing a few examples. The program concluded as the group listened to a recording of modern Chinese songs.

Gamma Delta

The Gamma Delta weekend was held December 2, 3, and 4. Roller skating at the Lo-Nor Friday night started the weekend, with Saturday being the day for general discussion, volleyball and other activities. Sunday the newly formed Gamma Delta choir sang at the 10:30 service. The annual banquet, held at St. Paul's Lutheran church will bring the weekend to a close. General chairman Gordon Schalan did a fine job of organizing the event, another highlight will be the showing of the newly released Gamma Delta film "Time Out" which has been produced as a result of projects carried out by Gamma Delta chapters throughout the United States.

A discussion centering around the Book of Revelation proved to be very interesting. November 17, The discussion was led by Pastor Dake, the chapter advisor. Further discussions are being planned and will be announced. All interested students are welcome to join in and to the discussions.

With Christmas only a few weeks away, caroling and general Christmas cheer will take hold of all groups on campus. Gamma Delta will also be very busy in spreading good cheer.

All attending the convention are looking forward to Winter camp, which will be held in Stevens Point in February.

U. C. C. F.

UCCF which is United Campus Christian fellowship is a newly organized religious group on campus this year. Before this year this group was known as Trigon. It is composed of students from the Presbyterian, Evangelical and Reformed, Evangelical United Brethren and United Church of Christ churches. It is affiliated with other campuses in the state and the University at Madison. We had a conference at Madison several weeks ago and a regional council was formed composed of members from nearly all the campuses. Joan Dahl and Dr. Guy Gibson, from here were elected to this council.

We have had several interesting meetings this year with enjoyable programs and have many more planned for next semester. We also have sponsored two study groups this semester and plan to sponsor possibly four next semester. We are now having a study group on the play "St. Joan" which will prepare us for the presentation of the play in January.

The officers of UCCF are: Joan Dahl, president; Glenn Ehler, vice-president; Janice Mitchell, secretary; and Robert Paul, treasurer. The faculty and adult advisors are: Dr. Guy Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Faust, Mrs. Hugo Marple, and the Rev. Mr. Meyer and the Rev. Mr. Pfauman.

You

Spring walked with you
You awakened my sleeping mind
Annd.. warmed the earth
Frozen with fear.
Where only withered stalks
Silently stood.
Now birds sing
Where my voice left off.

Sleep

The soft clear
Tinkling of a bell soft warm
down
Come, Lindy, come.
I'm coming.

Tired Thoughts

Not mine to walk the flowered path.
Nor lie aside smooth flowing streams.
No lazy day to pass away.

Not mine to gaze seaward - skyward.
Not mine to know rest serene.
But mine to know
the storm
clutching fingers

gasping
a thousand clanking wheels

Noise - clanking - voices

Stop STOP

Crying - weeping
Thoughts of sleeping
Tomorrow whispers
It's coming soon.

Poetry should be read aloud to be more fully appreciated. The pauses, loudness, softness, rhythm can be heard, and as we listen, we add the visual images from our own imagination.

Congratulations are in order for the new actives of CSC sororities! The hectic days of pledging now completed, new actives are enjoying the wonderful experience of sorority sisterhood.

Last week was "help week" for all Omega Mu Chi pledges. Friday, December 2, the pledges endured their last day of pledging. Activities were brought to a climax with a special "final test" that evening planned by the actives.

Formal initiation of new actives was held Sunday evening at Mrs. Clayton's home. Miss Hill and Mrs. Gotham attended as guests. Miss Hill showed slides of Homecoming and of some of her summer experiences.

New Omeg actives are Helen Feite, Madeline Jones, Judy Brown, Bonnie Tuszka, Nancy Franzoi, Charlene Bliesoe, and Mary Trantow.

Omeg actives are frantically working on articles to be sold at the Omeg bazaar which will be held in the home ec parlor on December 15.

Miss Mary Krasny was congratulated on her recent engagement.

Psi Delta Psi climaxed its fall pledging season with the initiation ceremony and dinner on Saturday, December 3. Following the initiation ceremony held in the Union conference room, a dinner party was held at the home of Gertrude Ann West. A Christmas party is being planned for the last Tuesday before Christmas vacation. A Christmas project, that of providing Christmas gifts for a needy family, is also being carried out by the sorority.

Congratulations to new active Dale Whitney on her engagement to Jerry Gussert, Green Bay.

Tau Gamma Beta has welcomed as new actives four former "Muds," Marlene Johnson, Sally Silverman, Carolyn Bohl, and Mary Cook. Their formal initiation was held Sunday, December 4, in the Union. Before they completed their "obstacle course," they graciously entertained the actives at Mrs. Gordon Haferbecker's home with an Oriental party.

Last Sunday the Tau Gams and Sig Eps had their annual post-Thanksgiving—pre-Christmas banquet at St. Stanislaus school. A delicious meal was served followed by entertainment and dancing.

On November 15, Alpha Sigma Alpha celebrated their Founders' day. This national sorority was founded 59 years ago at Longwood college in Farmville, Virginia. It was at first limited exclusively to teachers' colleges but has since expanded to include all accredited colleges. Central State's local chapter, Gamma Beta, joined the national group five years ago. It was originally the Psi Beta Psi sorority on this campus.

Gamma Beta acknowledged the national anniversary with a meeting and party at the Home Management house. Hostesses, who served a delicious "Key Lime pie," were Miss Maija Jakobsons, advisor, and patronesses Miss Elvira Thomson, Mrs. Edgar Pierson, Miss Vivian Kellogg, and Mrs. Nels Reppen.

Professional Groups

Sigma Mu Tau

Sigma Mu Tau, the professional group for future medical technologists, held its November meeting in the staff room at St. Michael's hospital. Dr. Grinvalsky, pathologist at St. Michael's, and Sister Angelica, director of the laboratory, were introduced to the group. Dr. Grinvalsky showed slides and spoke on the history and development of pathocorrelation of medical technology and the emergence and as part of the medical team. The remaining part of the program consisted of a tour through the laboratory, after which, refreshments were served.

The officers of Sigma Mu Tau for this year are: Judy Jesse, president; Nancy Franzoi, vice-president; Lou Ann Dombrowski, secretary; Lois Kankelfitz, treasurer; Sally Smyrski, program chairman.

All those in this profession and those interested are invited to attend our meetings.

Sigma Zeta

At the November meeting of Sigma Zeta, 23 members were initiated into the national honorary science fraternity on campus. These members included: James Bray, Thomas Bredow, Kendall Butt, David Chesemore, Nyles Eskritt, Roger Glocke, Gloria Jeckle, Leslie Jorgenson, Laurie Johnson, Lois Kankelfitz, Ronald Laessig, Barbara Landsverk, Thomas Leo, E. Bruce Lind, Terry Messing, Joe Miller, Gregory Nessman, Barbara Norton, Douglas Radtke, Donald Rulf, William Scharf, Carol Young, and Paul O'Nestli.

President Jerry Madden, presided at the initiation ceremony.

Twelve associate members were also introduced. These included: James Chester, Roland Junker, Robert Kilcoyne, Nadine Nass, Jane Nehrbass, Richard Newton, Gerald Polcyn, Craig Schwartz, Kim Stien, Victor Thalacker, Shirley Wagner and Jean Henn.

An illustrated talk was presented by Mr. Kenneth Swedberg of the biology department on the Oregon forests.

BITS & TATTERS

Prosecutor: Now tell the jury the truth. Why did you shoot your husband with a bow and arrow?

Defendant: I didn't want to wake the children.

Pappa Bear: "Who's been drinking my beer?"

Mama Bear: "Who's been drinking my beer?"

Baby Bear: "Bart!"

"Maw, it shore is too bad about our two daughters layin' up thar in that cemetery." "Shore is, Paw. Sometimes I wish they wuz dead!"

Then there was the moron who poisoned his father and mother, then pleaded for mercy on the grounds that he was an orphan.

While strolling through his ark, Noah encountered two snakes.

"Why aren't you multiplying?" he asked them.

"We can't, Noah, we're adders," they explained.

Noah put them on a table and left, ordering them to multiply. Sure enough, in a week they had multiplied.

"How did you do it?" Noah asked.

"Well, the table you put us on was a log table."

Beneath this stone lies Murphy.

They buried him today.

He lived the life of Riley.

While Riley was away.

The first College Woman's association Parents day took place as scheduled Sunday, November 27. Girls working on the event were glad to see parents and their daughters show up for the afternoon of entertainment, open house and the buffet supper. Entertainment consisted of the Men's Glee club banquet and also the "Incompletes", a new vocal group on campus.
