

Homecoming Week Begins

Homecoming 1961 will begin Friday, October 6 with the Queens dance. Campaigning will then start in earnest on Monday, October 9 and will culminate with elections Friday, October 13. During the interim there will be a variety of activities designed to bring spirit into homecoming. A list of these are included for your convenience in hopes that you the students will take part in all of them and make this an outstanding week of the school year.

The following accounts have been included to give you an inside look at the queen candidates. Have fun and be sure to vote for your favorite on next Friday.

Each of the following accounts are exactly as they were written by the publicity directors of the sponsoring organizations and in no way reflect or represent the Pointer's support of any of the candidates.

Miss Sue Holthusen is the Homecoming queen candidate sponsored by Alpha Beta Rho fraternity. Sue is a native of Stevens Point and a graduate of P. J. Jacobs high school. While attending high school she was public relations manager for the Stevens Point Youth council; it was with this distinguished job she went on to the office of vice president of the Wisconsin Youth Council. Sue later became president of the Stevens Point Youth council. It was with the outstanding job of treasurer that she went on to become acting president of the Wisconsin Youth committee. Her most recent honors were State Cherry Pie Baking champion in 1959 and being selected a delegate to the White House Conference on Children and Youth.

Sue is a member of Omega Mu Chi sorority at Central State college. She is vice president of the freshman class and presently is editor of the student handbook. Sue is a Home Economics major and a Sociology minor here at college. Some other activities are: a member of L.S.A. and Home Economics club. Sue is also doing an outstanding job as a representative on the Student council.

Homecoming is always one of the highlights of the school year. School spirit, excitement and fun are usually at their highest. The most exciting event of the Homecoming weekend is probably the election of the queen.

This year, as in the past, Sigma Phi Epsilon will be represented in the campaign. The chosen candidate for 1961 is Miss Ann Maddente. Ann is a nineteen-year-old sophomore from Milwaukee, Wisconsin. She is attending CSC on a U.N.I.O. scholarship. As the picture proves, Ann is one of the most charming candidates for queen CSC ever had. A sparkling smile and a cheerful "Hello" are ever ready to greet you.

Some of the characteristics that students look for in a queen are leadership and service to the school. Ann is an active member of the Tau Gamma Beta sorority and the Newman Club. She makes good use of her radiant, welcoming smile by donning a cheerleader's uniform and urging CSC to victory. Miss Maddente is also a member of the Pointer staff.

Ann participates in many sport activities. She loves to bowl and on a cool autumn day enjoys horseback riding along a winding crystalline stream.

This Homecoming will be the Aquinas club's first entry of a queen candidate in the Homecoming activities. In doing so the Aquinas club has chosen for their candidate the very pleasant and attractive Carol Smith.

Carol is originally from Madison. She moved to Stevens Point in 1957 and attended P. J. Jacobs high school. After graduating from high school in 1960 Carol entered CSC and now is a sophomore majoring in foreign language.

Carol is recognized on campus by her vivid personality and her well featured appearance. She is 5'7" in height, has brown hair, flashing blue eyes, and a very becoming smile.

She is active in various organizations on campus which include Omega Mu Chi sorority, Outing club, and Wesley House. The students remember Carol's spirited cheerleading from last year and can look forward to seeing her doing a fine job at cheerleading again this year.

Carol's extracurricular activities are many and varied but her favorites lie in the sport of swimming and in the hobby of sewing. Much of the attractive apparel Carol wears originates from her creative sewing hobby. She also does part-time secretarial work for the county superintendent at the local court house.

The Aquinas members are proud and fortunate to have a swell gal like Carol for their queen-candidate and will give their full support to making Carol the Homecoming queen of 1961.

Carol and the Aquinas members wish other organizations and their queen candidates the best of luck in the coming Homecoming campaign.

Carol's campaign managers are Bernie Lewandowski, Bill Lock, and Mike Stroda.

The Phi Sig queen candidate for 1961 is Jan Wanke, a sophomore from Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin. Jan is a music major and is very active in band and choir as well as other extracurricular activities. She is 5'6" with a brown hair and hazel eyes and a smile for everyone. The Phi Sig are very proud of their candidate and are certain she would make an excellent queen.

Tau Kappa Epsilon has selected Miss Helen Vaughn as its Homecoming queen candidate for 1961. Helen is a sophomore, majoring in sociology and speech. She hails Omega Mu Chi as her sorority. Helen handles the finances for A.W.S. as she has been electing treasurer, and also serves on its governing board. Helen is an active participant in Wesley Foundation. No doubt, you've seen our queen candidate cheering our team to victory as a member of the 1961-62 cheering squad. Helen is a symbol of the true spirit and patriotism of CSC.

Mary Kay Pearson graduated from P. J. Jacobs High School in 1960. She was active in numerous clubs in high school and is continuing her busy ways at Central State. She is currently in the Home Ec. club, the Newman club, and the Omegra sorority. Her intended major is Home Economics which she plans to teach some day.

The "S" club is a proud group to have Mary Kay as their candidate.

These girls will be presented at the Queen's Dance October 6. The election of the Homecoming queen will be held October 13, and the winner will be presented at a special assembly that evening. Remember to vote and to take part in Homecoming for it is your celebration.

Assembly Committee Announces Outstanding Programs For Year

The college assembly committee is pleased to announce the forthcoming attractions for the school year. These programs are of the highest professional caliber and should prove to be of interest to the entire student body.

William Worthy, former special overseas correspondent in Russia, China and Africa for CBS News, who broke the Soviet "Radio Curtain" in 1955 by being the first American reporter since the start of the cold war in 1947 to broadcast from Moscow, will speak at the college union lounge on Monday, October 23 at 8 p.m. Mr. Worthy also will be on campus Monday and Tuesday, October 23-24, for informal talks and seminars. Recently he has made several trips to Cuba to report on the Castro revolution. He was on assignment from Time Inc. in connection with the filming of a Latin American television documentary entitled "Yankees No!"

The Goldovsky Grand Opera Theater will present Rossini's delightful, operatic satire, "The Barber of Seville" at the college fieldhouse on Tuesday evening, October 31. Conducted and supervised by Boris Goldovsky of Metropolitan Opera fame, the opera will be performed in English by a company of 50, with outstanding singers, orchestra and chorus.

The first American tour of Theatre Outlook Ltd. of England will bring this outstanding theater group to the college campus December 6-7. Shakespeare's "Coriolanus" and R. B. Sheridan's "The School For Scandal" are the plays to be performed in the college auditorium. In England, Theatre Outlook's policy has been to present repertory programs consisting of a combination of great standard works of the theatre and challenging new plays, believing that a living art needs both its past and its future, each enriching the other. The company's brilliant director, Eric Salmon, was a visiting lecturer in the experimental theater program at the University of Wisconsin last year.

Basil Rathbone, one of the most popular and best loved theatrical personages of our time, will present "An Evening of Readings" on Thursday evening, March 15, 1962 at Pacelli High School Auditorium. Mr. Rathbone will include readings from Shakespeare, Dickens, Shelley Poe and others.

Willy Ley, famed authority on rockets and space travel, will lecture during the afternoon and evening of April 9. A pioneer authority in this field, Mr. Ley is the author of "Rockets, Missiles and Space Travel," "The Exploration of Mars," and "The Conquest of Space." His books (Continued on page 4, column 3)

Speech Department To Present "The Madwoman Of Chaillot"

Jack McKenzie portraying a rag picker, Pat Brandt as Irma, Beata Sowka as Countess Aurelia, and Larry Cook as Pierre will play the lead roles in "The Madwoman of Chaillot" at Central State College October 25, 26, 27.

Settings of a sidewalk cafe and a cellar apartment will provide the background for this play. The sets, especially for this production, are under the direction of the theater's new technical director, Dr. Alice Peet.

The viewer is taken to a little known place in Paris called Chaillot (Shilo) where he eavesdrops on the conversations of unscrupulous men. Convinced that oil lies under the city of Paris, they plot to blow up the city to gain the oil proceeds. The attempts of the madwoman and her friends try to foil the conspirators' plans and restore beauty and safety to Paris.

John Giraudoux's "Madwoman," a rollicking fantasy, is a mixture of drama and satirical comedy. Giraudoux wrote the play in 1944. With this play is the "highwater mark" of his career. He claimed success as a writer in the modern school and as a novelist. Other writings include "Tiger at the Gates," "Electra," and "Judith."

William M. Dawson, assistant professor of Speech, will direct the entire production.

Other characterizations in the play are: waiter, Dave Jeffers; little man, Virgil Strehlow; prospector, David Lundberg; presi-

Students may pick up their tickets by presenting their ID card at the college book shop between October 18-26. There is no additional charge for students.

Second Film In Current Series To Be Shown

"My Uncle," a French film starring Jacques Tati, director and star of the comedy, "Mr. Hulot's Holiday," will be shown October 5 and 6 at 3:30, 6:30 and 8:30 p.m. in the College Library Theater.

The public is invited to attend this showing, for which a season ticket may be purchased at the door. "The Bolshoi Ballet" coming October 19-20, and the "Seventh Seal," November 3-4, are included in this ticket.

Has It Gotten You?

It would appear that a past epidemic is again manifesting its presence on the campus of CSC and as always it has the same old symptoms, apparent student disinterest in any thing which might disturb their "intellectual complacency." While members of this campus have never been too receptive to the efforts of various groups who attempt to raise the intellectual and cultural standards of the college thru the presentation of outstanding lecturers, artists and actors, it is especially disturbing to note such a lackadaisical attitude as was exemplified thru their attendance at the lecture and coffee hours featuring Professor Kermit Eby.

It is rather ironical that he should have delivered his lecture entitled "What It Means To Be A Student" on the night when so many students found the local pubs or the Union snack bar a more stimulating place to be. I am sure that those who did attend found that Professor Eby's most important contribution to the members of this college was not his own personal values and ideology but rather that he challenged us to dare to think and to be creative in relation to the world around us. It is this type of stimulation that is needed at CSC and in the world if man is to learn to better understand his fellow man and thus provide some hope for the future. It is too bad that the majority of students missed this lecture for they might have found out why they are supposedly attending college.

Put Your Spirit Into Homecoming

As has always been true, you only get out of something that which you put into it. This is especially true in relation to activities here on the campus of CSC. A full week of activities are planned for homecoming and will only be a success if everyone joins in and gives a little of themselves to the school. So get out and take part and if you can't be a leader be a follower but at any rate do your best to make this homecoming the best one ever and one that will make the "alumni" glad they returned.

Political Forum "Conservatism"

by James E. Tarvid
 Vice-president Nixon abdicated as Republican party chief last Wednesday. His decision to run for governor in California precludes his nomination as Republican presidential candidate in 1964.

If he loses the governorship, few people will be willing to trust one who cannot win his own state as governor as his own candidate for president. Barry Goldwater can now begin sharpening his sword for his impending duel with Nelson Rockefeller. Since this once inconsequential group is now a major contender for political power, it is important that we know how the "conservatives" operate.

The name reactionary rather than "conservative" should have been adapted. These people aren't trying to conserve anything. John Dos Passos, a leading "conservative" spokesman, stated when business abdicated in 1929, liberal bureaucracy replaced it. Goldwater's thesis is "Our economy is the foundation of American society" . . . His aim is one of greatly diminished government and union power so that business may be "free." In a speech before the DAR last year, Goldwater admits a "preoccupation with the conditions and attitudes as they existed in the days of President McKinley" concerning our relations with Latin America. Their appeal has been to the chauvinistic attitude of the American people. By eliminating the political and social foundations, at least theoretically, the "conservative has reduced the purpose of America's existence to economic competition with foreign nations, primarily Russia. Since this is not the easiest thing to hand the American people the "conservative reintroduces social and religious considerations. The "conservatives" maintain that Communism is atheistic materialism. But what has an economic system to do with religion? Early Christian communities were undoubtedly communal in nature.

The "conservative" states, "Since we are Christians we should oppose Communism because it is atheistic. Communism is bad because it is materialistic; it lies to us, it confiscates personal property. Communism is a threat to American." The "conservative" continues, "Communism is socialistic. Liberals are socialistic. Many Liberals are Communists, therefore, Liberals are bad for this country and must be eliminated."

From this argument, one sees that "conservatives" are materialistic also. One hears it every Sunday from R. K. Scott on the Mutual Network. Buckley, in Up From Liberalism, attempts to establish the "conservative" case by discrediting the Liberals, rather than establish "conservatism." Abuse is not an uncom-

Placement Process Started

Due to an increase in the fields of Education and Letters and Sciences, the Placement Office has begun the process of preparing a file and credentials for the CSC graduates earlier than usual.

On the first day of school, a meeting of all education seniors was held, at which time all necessary forms were distributed. Those students filling them out early can be sure of prompt placement services, while those delaying this responsibility may not have their credentials when needed.

To prepare complete credentials, seven credential pictures 2 1/2 inches by 3 1/2 inches are needed. In addition, there should also be included two glossy prints of the same size. The student's name should be on the back of each picture and brought to the Placement Office early to be attached to the credentials.

Graduates from the new School of Applied Arts and Sciences will receive the same placement services as those in education or letters and science division.

A complete listing of all Letters and Science graduates will be published in The Pointer in the very near future.

Changes in Administrative Policy

Several new additions to the school have been made in the administration department. These changes of policy include some of the following:

"The week preceding semester examinations and the period of semester examinations shall be considered as a closed period." By a "closed period" the school means that in this period of time, no activities, practices, or rehearsals shall be participated in or sponsored for public presentation by the college. Also, this means that no organized meetings or social activities shall be sponsored by any college organization in the above period.

This year, some additional designations are being used in the grading system. Besides the familiar "A" thru "F" letters, we also have the following:

S — indicates that the student's work is satisfactory.

W — (withdrawn) indicates that a course was dropped between the second and fifth weeks.

WP — (withdrawn passing) means that a student discontinued a course after the fifth week, but he also was doing passing work.

WF — (withdrawn failing) means same as above except that the person was failing.

Inc. (incomplete) indicates that the student's work is a course is incomplete.

The only designation of the ones listed above that is used in the computation of your report cards is the "WF," which is treated as a "F."

The grade point average tells a student whether or not he is doing good work in his courses, and also is used in determining eligibility for honors, admission to divisions, and membership in certain organizations.

An incomplete may be made up, but it must be corrected within the first six weeks of the next semester or it automatically becomes a failure. Some instructors will grant extensions of this period in exceptional cases.

Any student who voluntarily leaves the college at any time without filing the necessary withdrawal papers will be considered as still registered and will receive an "F" in each of his courses.

In the event that a student does withdraw from the college, his grades will not be recorded for that semester.

Campus Carousel

by Jean Droeger

He paused at the entrance to the alley, cast a furtive glance behind, and pulled the collar of his turtleneck sweater over his cheek. The night was carbon-black except beneath street lights which illuminated sheer veils of surrounding mist.

He shivered, then began picking his way through the alley toward the dim green of a far-off neon light. His eyes strained to discern blacker-than-black outlines of objects strewn in his path. The soles of his dirty tennis shoes made soft plopping noises as he walked. Once his foot struck a tin can and sent it careening against an invisible garbage can, piercing the quiet with a false, tiny note. He jumped into the shadows, but all became silent once more. He shifted his "Writing with a Purpose" text to his right hand and stole on. He was much closer to the green light now and he could see that the snake-like tubes of the sign spelled "The Pit."

When he reached the door of the ancient building, he paused and glanced backward. A sigh of relief — no one in sight! — A stream of confused thoughts rushed through his brain. His crevices bristled as he thought of the ID card in his hip pocket that proved he was only a minor. The muted sound of voices inside was audible, but he heard only the loud buzzing of insects clinging to the neon sign above his head. A sudden feeling of bravado surged through his veins and he opened the moldy door and stepped inside.

Dimly aware of tables and people, he strode to the bar and shakily demanded, "I want a fifth." The shifty bartender glared at him. "A fifth of what?" He swallowed and mumbled, "A fifth of school spirit."

(To those mystery fans who perhaps were expecting a pool of blood or Dick Tracy himself go my condolences.) But the point is, you wouldn't have to be twenty-one to buy school spirit — that is, if you could buy it.

School spirit is a pretty intangible thing. You read signs about it and hear people talk about it. Everyone has his own idea and definition of it. To me, it is a pride and enthusiasm in one's school. Attending athletic events and "backing the team" seem to be the focal point when discussing school spirit. These things are important; through them we can demonstrate our loyalty and support of our college to others. But these things are not all important.

School spirit includes a pride in all other phases of college life. Take a look at our student union, for example — which means also viewing the panorama of dirty dishes, crumpled papers, and empty pop bottles. Here is a realistic drama in 3-D, cinemascope, and technicolor that runs longer than "Gone with the Wind." "Ben Hur," and all the other four-hour spectacles put together. The stars — you — who would "climb the highest bleacher" for the CSC basketball team but won't walk ten feet to the nearest wastebasket with your soiled napkins.

School spirit is pride in the faculty. Teachers are the nucleus of college so be proud of them! You say that they are slave drivers who ruin your health by forcing you to stay up all night to get your work done? (Your psychology course calls this rationalization.) So you have to really work in your courses; don't be afraid to admit the fact that you are learning a great deal. Be proud if our standards are a little higher than those at some other colleges. Even the most insipid student must feel an ever-so-fine tinge of pride when a transfer mentions "what a snafu" things were at the "other" campus.

Even away from the campus, you are a testimonial for your college. Wherever you go, whether on a field trip or a summer job, people will be impressed or unimpressed by not only you — but also your school. Bad opinions formed in this manner may often be unjustified, but unfair in regard to a school. There are hundreds of people whom you'll meet that will never tour our campus or even catch a glimpse of it. Don't be afraid to demonstrate pride and enthusiasm for your college!

School spirit has to come from within. It doesn't grow from half-hearted waving of a pennant at a football game. But I think that everyone has a tiny drop of school spirit somewhere within himself. Look for it! Refine it, develop it! Distill your own particular brand of school spirit!

I hope that you mystery fans are not still disappointed. Perhaps I drew a few drops of blood from some anti-school spirit students. And maybe we could run a Dick Tracy strip in the next issue . . .

Let's close with a line that can apply to more than just chemistry experiments or math problems: Wisdom is knowing what to do. Knowledge is knowing how to do it. Success is doing it.

Twenty-one New Faculty Members At CSC

Twenty-one new faculty members met their classes for the first time when CSC began its 67th year in September. The increase in faculty members is due to the large increase in enrollment. Eleven of these twenty-one will replace retired or resigned instructors. To allow you to become acquainted with these instructors, here is a little about each one:

Dr. Paul Bennett, formerly of Arizona is an associate professor of English. He received his A.B. degree from the University of Akron and his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Bennett succeeds Miss Donna Schaefer.

Convocation A Success

The Convocation Program, a tradition at Central State — overlooked for the past five years, was reinstated into the calendar of our academic year on Tuesday, September 26, 1961 at the field house.

The ceremony began with a very impressive procession of the faculty of Central State College donned in their respective caps and gowns.

Following the procession, Dr. Gordon Haferbecker explained the purpose of a convocation as the official dedication of our school year. Dr. Haferbecker announced as of October 1 two new schools would be in existence as follows: Dr. Paul Yambert will head the School of Applied Arts and Science, and Dr. Burdette Eagan will head the School of Education.

Dr. Haferbecker introduced Mr. N. E. Masterson who spoke on the role which the Coordinating Committee plays in higher education. Mr. John Thomson was introduced, and gave a very enlightening talk which included three important suggestions for success in college. Mr. Thomson stressed the importance of being prepared for our world of change by getting into the lifetime habit of reading and studying.

Following a vocal solo by Mr. R. J. Murray entitled Channel Firing, President William C. Hansen gave the Convocation Address. President Hansen spoke on three aspects of college life (1) what college expects of students; (2) what the student can expect from the college, and, (3) the importance of a college education.

The Alma Mater was led by Mr. Murray, and the Recessional was played by Maija Jekabsons.

Former Student Joins CSC Biology Department

William Scharf, graduate of CSC in 1961, is back with us as a faculty assistant to the biology department. Bill has a major in biology and a minor in conservation. Thus far, he hopes to go to a university for graduate study after his year appointment term here is terminated. Anyone who knows the overcrowded situation in the biology department classes can well imagine how much a person like Bill is appreciated. He is a "first" here at the college in his appointment to the department. Congratulations to Bill!

Change In History Department

Have any of you noticed the people hurrying to classes in the west end of the building this year? It seems that there have been quite a few. About 1200 students are enrolled in History classes this semester.

The office in the west end of the basement belong to eight full time faculty members, all of whom have their Ph.D.'s in history. Frank W. Crow, Ph.D., a member of the faculty for 15 years, succeeds Frederick A. Kremple, Ph.D., as head of the history department.

CSC Profile

Since 1958 CSC has been plus one very active student in the person of Ron Johanhaneckt. Ron came to Central State college the fall after he graduated from Waupaca high school in Waupaca, Wisconsin. Tall Ron graduated eleventh in his class.

All during his high school days the only major things that occupied Ron's mind were sports. He participated in baseball, basketball, volleyball, and was on the football team for four years.

Ron chose General Science as his college major. To become real informed, he also chose three minors of math, history, and geography.

Even with that tough schedule of major and minors, he managed to get in quite a few extra-curricular activities. The first year Ron pledged himself to the Tekes (Tau Kappa Epsilon) and is still with the group in this, his senior year. As a freshman he was their Sergeant-at-Arms. In his Sophomore and Junior years his position was changed to Historian. Ron also started out well in his class. He was elected vice president both his sophomore and junior years which brought him into Student council as their representative. In Student council Ron became treasurer as a Junior and this year is the president.

In addition to doing so much for Student council he is the Chairman of Homecoming, is active in Curling Club, and also in Intramural sports.

Ron is undecided about his future. He does know that he would like to become part of the business world, and definitely does not want to be a teacher. He may join the service and he chose the Coast Guard above the others.

Ron holds high his opinion of undergradmen. He says, "I'm all for them. They show lots of school spirit." He adds to that, "Don't forget the social life. It is half of your college life and shouldn't be left out." He defines social life as not only dates, but belonging to clubs, running for a class office, going to activities and really backing the school.

Ron just takes things as they come and that's the way he feels life should be for everyone.

Several additional events will be announced at a later date. The assembly committees has put forth a great effort in bringing to this campus this series of stellar attractions. These programs add much to the cultural environment on our campus and all students should support this series through their attendance.

Members of the assembly committee are: Mr. George Becker, Mr. William Dawson, Mr. Guy Gibson, Miss Gladys Ishida, Miss Hildegard Kuse and Mr. Paul Wallace, chairman.

In addition the Speech department has planned a variety of events for the year all of which are free to students upon presentation of their I.D. cards.

A three act play entitled "The Madwoman of Chaillot" is scheduled for October 25, 26, 27 and two plays are planned for the second semester. They are "Arms and the Man" and "The Death of A Salesman."

Other events planned are as follows: Saturday, November 4, District Drama contest featuring one-act plays by area high schools, November 18, Sectional Drama contest, November 20, a reading hour to be held in the College Union lounge, December 2, State Drama contest featuring the best one-act plays of the state high schools and a reading hour on January 9 in the Union lounge.

All of these programs are for the benefit of the student body in order to create a more appreciative response to the world of art and deserve more attention than has been generated in the past.

Plans Made For Junior Prom

On Monday, September 25 the first junior class meeting of the 61-62 year was held. All the officers were present. That included president Gary Schroepfer, vice-president Dave Staton, secretary Kathy Hobbs, treasurer Beaulah Poulter and student council representatives Dotty Doran and Cheryl Winkler.

Roberta Slater and Sue Jones, co-chairmen of the jacket committee reported the sale of jackets was quite successful. They said jackets are now on sale in the Kennel.

The financial report of the movie Cat on a Hot Tin Roof was read. A movie committee was established to bring more Hollywood movies to this campus. The class decided that the next movie should be Alfred Hitchcock's color movie North by Northwest with Cary Grant and Eva Marie Sant. This movie will be shown October 19 and 20 in the Union.

The Junior Prom was discussed. Gary Schroepfer said that this year the king of the prom would be elected. In the past the president of the class automatically became king. It is changed to create greater interest in the prom.

Members of the band committee discussed the possibility of the Tommy Dorsey, Glenn Miller, Harry James, Count Basie, Les Brown or Benny Goodman orchestra for the prom. However, no band was specifically selected. The members said they wish to work closely with Mr. Keith G. Briscoe of the College Union. Members of the committee are Bruce Wittenwyler, Hank Dumke, Jim Dienst, Kathy Hobbs, Kim Stien, Perry Wagner, and Gary Schroepfer.

At the next meeting the band and the theme of the prom will be discussed. The meeting will be held at 4:30 Wednesday, Oct. 18 in room 24 of the Union.

Monthly, a deputation team, led by Bill Kroll, holds worship service at the Portage County Infirmary. The deputation team is a new innovation on campus, with its primary objective being to include as many people as possible in the participation of worship services.

U. C. C. F.

The United Campus Christian Fellowship has reconvened for the year by holding a coffee hour for new student. They also held a dinner meeting which featured a lecture by Dean Radke and a picnic September 28 at Iverson park.

Plans for the future include the formation of a panel comprised of several ministers who will discuss the proposed church merger of Blake.

This year's officers are as follows: Joan Dahl, president; Tom Keough, vice-president; Faith Bidgood, secretary, and Dan Juravec, treasurer. Advisers are Dr. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Faust, Mrs. Hugo Marple, Rev. Goidan Meyer, Rev. Pffafman and Rev. Lester Meyer.

Books By Prof. Eby

Now Available

Three books by Professor Kermit Eby, who was a recent guest lecturer at CSC, are on sale at the college bookstore. They are as follows:

"The God In You"; "The Paradoxes of Democracy" and "For Brethren Only". In addition, he has written several other books which may be ordered on request.

In his lectures Professor Eby discussed parts of these books and related their formulation to his early experiences as a religious secretarian. He also based one of his coffee hour discussions on a book called "The Confession of An Ex-Organization Man" in which he describes the process by which he has reached his present frame of mind in regard to the world today and the problems that confront man and his existence in the age of automation. These books deal with matters that are pertinent to all people and are well worth the time spent in reading them.

Alpha Beta Rho

Alpha Beta Rho is joining in Homecoming spirit by taking active part in this year's election. They have selected as candidate for Homecoming queen Miss Sue Holthusen, a member of Omega Mu Chi sorority. Daniel Jirovec will act as campaign manager. Daniel ran, Ken Rushford, Ron Berki, and Bill Horvath will be Homecoming committees. In charge of the "Yell Like Hell" test will be Robert Edwards and Robert Schwarz, while half proceedings at the game will be under the direction of Daniel Jirovec.

Alpha Beta Rho would like to end its thanks to Craig Schertz and Tom Kowalski who worked so hard on the booth at the Pointer Jubilee. Many endorsed the cider that was given away.

The annual pledge party, Homecoming banquet, fraternity fall, and the "bottle hunt" are some of the coming events Alpha Beta Rho members are looking forward to.

Phi Sigma Epsilon

The Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity is beginning its 31st year as active fraternity at CSC and is already engaged in several activities. Formal initiation was held for 19 pledges September 24 ending the total active membership to 38.

This year the Phi Sigs are in charge of the Queen's dance to be held October 6 and urge everyone to start out homecoming early by attending this dance and electing the queen candidates. A selection for this year is a Wanke.

The fraternity also held a pledge party September 26 and on two more before pledge day.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

The officers of Tau Kappa Epsilon for this school are: president, Dave Jeffers; vice-president, Jack Kasper; pledge trainer, James Maloney; secretary, Bill Bauer; treasurer, Bill Wagner; sergeant at arms, Bill Herman; chaplain, John Hartman; and historian, Art Rouse.

The week of September 25 to October 1 is Help for the Teke pledges. The week's activities include the traditional dress-up for classes by the pledges and turn-about night. Turn about night, Formal initiation is Sunday, October 1. Pledges participating in the activities are James Benbow, Conrad Borman, Paul Drake, Garry Michaels, Ed Prill, Gary Schaefer, and Butch West.

The pledges this year have tried to reverse the entire week's activities by harassing the active members. The policy of Tau Kappa Epsilon forbids any public harassment of the pledges but it fails to say the pledges can't take the light bulbs, food, or clothes from the apartments or rooms of the actives. Generally speaking the week has proved to be quite interesting with all the reversal of activities.

October 24 the Big-Little Brother party was held at Club 10. The Tekes and their dates paid tribute to Miss Sue Nobles and Miss Karen Benson who have become pinned to Fraters William O'Garra and Robert Johnson respectively. This was done in the traditional manner of the presenting of a red carnation corsage and the singing of the Teke Sweetheart Song.

Saturday the Tekes took their new Bell to the Oshkosh game. The trip, as well as the game, was a general success.

Aquinas Club

Four Aquinas members, David Andrews, Fred Straub, Robert Trebatoski and John Wagner attended the biennial Phi Kappa Theta national convention at French Lick, Indiana. Aquinas hopes to become a chapter of Phi Kappa Theta. The four members came back with many new ideas to go along with the present plans for a very active year.

The officers, who will direct the Aquinas club for the coming year are: David Andrews, president; John Wagner, vice president; Fred Straub, secretary and Bernard Lewandowski, treasurer.

Aquinas opened the year by sponsoring a dance after the CSC-Lakeland football game. At the dance the official Aquinas crest was displayed for the first time.

Aquinas participated in the Pointer Jubilee with its booth. Given away were pens with attached booklets giving information about Aquinas. Anyone who is interested in Aquinas and wishes to have one of these booklets can contact one of the members.

Aquinas is proud to announce that one of its alumni, Charles Polcyn, has been accepted into the Peace Corps. Charlie will receive eleven weeks of training in California and then will be sent to Nigeria.

Sisters, We

Homecoming! That's the foremost thought in the mind of every sorority member on campus. It's a wonderful time to meet or become re-acquainted with alums. It's excitement; it certainly is the highlight of the fall season. However, no one is more aware of the great amount of work involved in the successful planning and carrying out of the week's activities than the Greek members on campus. Their work will surely be rewarded though as Homecoming 1961 becomes the most memorable one ever and the Pointers roll over the Cardinals.

Alpha Sigma Alpha

The Alpha Sigs participated in the "Pointer Jubilee" on September 22. "Ring a Leg" was enjoyed by all who attended. Garters were awarded as prizes to all winners.

"Tea House of the Alpha Moon" was the theme of our fall rush party. Hostesses were Pat Van Sant and Mary Alice Pociask who were dressed in Japanese costumes. Rushees were entertained by Pat Van Sant's vocal solo, a piano selection presented by Joan Dahl, humorous readings given by Henrietta Bunczak, and songs by Sharon Moesch. Japanese dolls were given as gifts to the rushees. Rush chairman, Dottie Doran, was in charge of the party.

The annual Alpha Sigma Harvest Festival, "Dogpatch," was held on September 29 in the College union cafeteria. Traditional Daisy Mae or Dogpatch costumes were worn by sorority members. The program featured a pantomime by Joan Dahl; songs by Faith Eldgood and Sharon Moesch; reading of a hillbilly letter to her son in the army by Marilyn Kott; and the singing of the sorority song. Committee members included Pat Van Sant, chairman; Marilyn Kott, entertainment; Mary Alice Pociask, decorations; Ann Trinrud, chapters; and Faye Lightfuss.

Omega Mu Chi

With Homecoming only two weeks away the Omegas are busily working on their float. Committees have been appointed to take care of various parts of the float. The guest line has been decided upon and invitations are ready for the mail.

The Omegas attended the Student Convocation which was held at the field house. The girls also sponsored a booth at the Pointer Jubilee. Each freshman who entered the booth was given a key with a number on it. At eleven o'clock there was a drawing and the person with the lucky number won a $3 gift certificate to be used in the College Union.

Plans are being made for an informal get-together Friday night starting the evening off with a fish fry.

Psi Delta Psi

Psi Delta Psi started its year with a meeting on September 12 to make plans for the Activities Assembly. Their booth for the Pointer Jubilee featured a corn guessing contest which was won by Mike Bielewicz and Tom Dowdski.

Officers for the year are as follows: Emilie Kimpel, president; Josephine Andree, vice-president-secretary; LaVerne Splitt, treasurer; Laurie Johnson, editor; Ardis Werner, chaplain; and Carol Kozickowski, rush chairman.

The fall rushing party was held in the Union Lounge on Sunday, September 24. The theme of the event which featured a chili supper was "A Trip Through Old Mexico." Sigrid Burgman was general chairman of the party with Ardis Werner in charge of decorations.

Tau Gamma Beta chose a theme for their float at their September 19 meeting under the direction of Janice Mitchell and Shirley Wagner. Float decorations are being planned by Judy Friedrichsen, Mary Jo Rice, Diane Michlig and Pat Vanden Langenberg. Club DuBay has been chosen as the site of the annual Homecoming dinner. Carol Young and Carol Miller are co-chairmen of the event. A guest list has been prepared and plans are being made to help with the annual Gab Board. An alumni letter has been sent out by Genevieve Green, Janet Taylor, Kay Rasmussen, and Joanne Schwebach.

"House of Freaks" was the theme of the booth entered at the Pointer Jubilee. Lois were given as favors and "Tau Gamma Tidbits" were given out telling about the history and activities of the sorority.

All members have received copies of the budget as prepared by Nadine Nass, treasurer. Karen Splitt is organizing a quartet. Members attended the Freshman Convocation as a group attired in white blazers. A picnic was held September 26 at Iverson Park. Arrangements were made by Nancy Vanden Heuvel and Mary Styza.

The Tau Gammas wish to congratulate Ann Maddente for being selected as a candidate for Homecoming queen by the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. They also wish to announce the recent engagements of Nancy Vanden Heuvel and Ann Martin.
