Spectrum Club Holds Union Board Inquiry

An inquiry into the Union Board budget was made last week in a program sponsored by the Spectrum Club. In the inquiry, Alan Babler, Union Board president and Larry Haak, treasurer, answered pertinent questions concerning the use of funds and policies.

Jim Jablonski, Spectrum Club president and moderator for the program, pointed out that each student on this campus pays $14.00 to the Student Activity Fund each semester. Of this amount, 75c is allocated to the Union Board for setting up the budget.

Among the questions raised was allotting funds for "Greek Week," and whether or not this was concerned with only a specialized group instead of the student body as a whole? Babler answered that it was not definitely planned whether or not they were going to sponsor a "Greek Week" as yet, but if they did, it would definitely involve the whole student body, since they would all participate in the programs and entertainment planned throughout that week.

Along with this question someone asked if the Union Board would help International Student Organization from that same standpoint, and the reply was that anyone can come before them and suggest ideas, even if they are not included in the budget because the budget is flexible.

Another question concerned the $150 allocated for bridge lessons. Haak replied that this money goes to the instructor who comes in once a week for 15 weeks and charges $10 for each lesson. He also stated that these lessons are open for all the students.

Another item aired was that of publicity folder, for which $200 has been allocated. In response, Babler pointed out that this would contain the pictures of committee members and their duties to make the students aware of who the committees are if they have any questions. It would also help new students who are unfamiliar with the Union Board. Babler also pointed out that most campuses use these folders.

Another item brought up was the "disappearance" of the music listening room and its records. The answer given said that the records had been put in storage and that since space was needed to better facilitate the Union and Food Service during the interim when the new building is being set up, the music listening room was "sacrificed" for the time being, since only a few people could use it at a time.

With this statement, the Union Board president also said that a cultural committee has also been set up, which will work separately from the social committee.

One student asked whether or not the election of Union Board members was democratic, to which Babler said that there were some things in the structure of the Union Board which he would be interested in seeing changed. (Members are now elected among themselves, instead of the student body as a whole voting for them.) However, it was also brought up that they know what experience the students working with them have, and perhaps democracy should be sacrificed for experience.

The $400 allotted to the Ski Club was also questioned. Babler said that it was started by the Union Board with the hopes that it would become an independent organization. At this time, it has 58 members and that any income goes back into it for buying equipment.

Babler's last statement was that the Union as it exists now is not able to service the amount of students on campus, but that it tries to include as much as possible with its facilities.

Parking Areas Listed, Permits Are Available

In order to make better use of available parking space, the following plan for the parking of privately owned vehicles will be put into effect on Dec. 1, 1963.

1. Parking lots located at the Main Building and at the Science Building will be designated as reserved parking for faculty and staff.
2. Parking lots at Delzell Hall and the College Union will be designated for faculty staff and student parking.
3. Parking lots at the residence halls will be designated for resident student parking.
4. The parking lot at the Physical Education building may be used by both students and faculty.

All persons using the campus parking areas are required to obtain parking permits. Students are urged to register at the Business Office and pick up their permits as soon as possible. The permits are available now, free of cost. Yellow permits will be issued to faculty and staff; red permits will be issued to resident students, and green to commuting students.

The permits should be affixed on the inside of the rear window on the lower right hand side. They have an adhesive surface and require moistening only. The parking areas will be policed to enforce the new plan.

Anderson Narrates Audubon Film Series

William A. Anderson narrates the Audubon film series, "Designs for Survival," this evening at 8 p.m. in the college auditorium. The film depicts the constant struggle in nature to better adapt to its environment in a "design for survival."

Four Sororities Entertain WSC Women At Tea

New and interested Wisconsin State College women will be guests at the "Sisters We" Inter-Sorority Tea from 3:5 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 24 in the College Union Lounge.

In an effort to acquaint interested women with the sorority members and ask questions, the four campus sororities will ban together for this annual event.

In charge of the table and refreshments are Alpha Sigma Alpha; publicity and invitations, Delta Zeta; name tags and fall decoration theme, Omega Mu Chi, and Psi Delta Psi, program.

The program will be presented twice throughout the afternoon. Each sorority will contribute to the program by presenting readings, songs or instrumental numbers.

Students Read Selections For Reading Hour

A second Reading Hour, directed by Dr. Mary Elizabeth Thompson, will be held at 8 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 21 in the Union Lounge.

Master of ceremonies for the program sponsored by the speech department is Jim Shaw.

Selections include "The Bells of St. Mary's" read by Diane Hahs; "The Blizzard," Nanette Wanichuk; "Romance," Pat Werner; "The Marriage Trap," Kathy Wurtz; "For Esme With Love and Squalor," Dennis Rybick; "Mothers Improve With Age," Kathy Kaiser; "Makes the Whole World 'Kin,'" Laura Stusarski; "Eulogy of John Brown," Ron Sweet, and "How the Captain Saved the Day," Richard Dehn.

Also included from the Chamber Theater is "Cheaper by the Dozen," presented by Gail Treau, Bob Galecki, Alice Schilling and Connie Seiple.

Cookies, coffee and conversation will follow.

Social Committee Sponsors Annual Thanksgiving Dance

"The quiet nights we did the town, the day we tore the goal post down..." Yes, you will have these "Moments to Remember" at the Annual Thanksgiving Dance, 8:11-30 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 23 in the College Union. Again this year "Moments to Remember" is sponsored by the Union Board Social Committee.

"The memories that we have shared will linger through the year..." Yes, come and join us as we review through pictures the joys and sorrows we have shared already this year at Wisconsin State College, Stevens Point.

The music for our stroll down memory lane will be furnished by Lynn Wynch and his dance band. Everyone will be attired in his "Sunday best" so that he is suitably dressed for this stately stroll. Admission is 75c per couple.

Lack Of Interest

Wisconsin State College here has a student enrollment of approximately 2,800. Yet only about 25 students are conscientious enough in finding out where 75c out of $14.00 goes each semester from the Student Activity Fund!

I am referring to the money allocated to the Union Board! The Spectrum Club held an open meeting for the benefit of the student body in which questions could be asked of the Union Board members. Since this meeting involved the money of all the students, why did only 25 show up?

Each day students say, "What's the Union doing with all the money they get?" They sit there wondering, but they never seem to make it to the meeting where they can find their answers.

Maybe students grip just to have something to say. Does money come so easy to college students that they don't want to know where 75c of their money goes? This I can't believe — especially when it is multiplied by 2,800!

As Alan Babler, president of the Union Board, said, "The biggest gap in the Union Board is the lack of student interest."

Why was it that no one ran against Babler for Union Board president? Why did no one respond rapidly for the position of Winter Carnival chairman? Sure it takes time and effort, but talking won't get things done — doing will!

Letters To The Editor

A Letter to the Editor:

I wish to comment on The Pointer of today, especially in comparison with the old Pointer and on the topic of organization news.

I believe that The Pointer of today is a far cry from The Pointer that I first started to read when I began my school career at WSC in January of 1961.

I remember when you could pick up a copy of The Pointer and could read such interesting articles as The Hawk's Nest and Reveille. As I can also remember being able to read the news of the various organizations as it was written by the organizations, not as it was destroyed by the staff.

I personally believe that organization news should be printed verbatim and that there should be more emphasis on organization news.

This news is important to the organizations, and it should be printed, regardless of what organization is submitting it and regardless of whether the staff thinks that it is of interest to the other students.

If the organizations take the time to submit material to The Pointer then it must be of interest to someone and must be worthy of being printed.

The Editor's Comment said for organizations to look at their material to see if it will be of interest to the rest of the students. I am sure that the material submitted by the organizations (non-Greek as well as Greek) will be just as interesting to the student body as the weight of pocket watches, the meaning of the term idiot, and sunken ships named Endeavor.

Submit a copy of the old Pointer to the students and see which is thought to be better; the old Pointer or this new Weekly Reader that is put in our mailboxes each week.
GEORGE FRICKE

Letter to the Editor:

I would like to see a movement started on this campus by all organizations to have their billboards removed from the second floor of "Old Main" and to have their placed in either the Union Snack Bar or in the tunnel.

This is due to the fact that very few students now have cause to go to the second floor of "Old Main."

This makes it inconvenient for people to view the notices on these bulletin boards.

The tunnel or the Union would be the most ideal place for the organizations' bulletin board.

CHARLES E. OLSON

Letter to the Editor:

An "alcoholic" speaks out. It was a big disappointment for me to find evidence in the last POINTER, of a freshman who is more naive and disillusioned than the average. The morals of the average college student are not in such bad shape as some people think. To the uninformed person from a sheltered background some aspects of college life might seem immoral.

There are many good and decent things here at WSC. The average student goes to dances, plays, films, and other extracurricular activities including an occasional night out drinking. Does this mean he can't enjoy a book or a sunset? I fail to see where being a college student forces you to become an "educated drunk." We aren't all a bunch of confirmed alcoholics because we patronize bars. There are a minority of student who do nothing but drink. Do not judge us by these people.

We do not go out to drown our sorrows. If I felt low, I wouldn't head for a group of happy, laughing people. We go out to have fun and release the tension built up during a week of study and concentration. There would be many more cases of nervous breakdown and suicide among college student if it weren't for beer bars.

We don't care if you don't chose to patronize bars; it is your decision to make. We do, however, resent having our decision criticized or attempts to change them by the uninformed. If this is your attitude, you had better stay home and listen to the patter of rain on the roof."

When you begin to look at college life less emotionally, your stay in college will be much more enjoyable.

If Jean Roach's only approach to decisions adult students make is to withdraw, perhaps she should transfer to a nice, isolated convent.

JIM MAAS

Letter to the Editor:

I would like to submit a complaint concerning the exorbitant prices and low quality of food in the college union.

But first I would like to ask these questions: 1. Is the college union owned and run by the student body for its benefit as I've been told or is it simply a tool of Ace Foods used to reap personal monetary gains from many of our not so well heeled students?

For examples of the complaint registered above I would like first to submit a simple hamburger. The next time you purchase one in the union take a little look at what you are getting for a quarter. I'd venture to say that once these hamburgers are fried or boiled in grease (once I had an extremely tasty one that was fried in bacon grease) they are not more than about 1/5 of an inch (unless you are fortunate and get a real meaty one).

And how about liquids? Should a seven ounce cup of milk or coke sell for a dime when a quart of bulk milk like the union purchases couldn't sell for more than 17 cents.

Also I'd like to find out how the ready-made sandwiches are kept. On a Monday a couple of weeks ago I purchased two egg sandwiches, apparently left over from the preceding Friday, which were rotten. I could list other students who have had similar experiences with these prepared sandwiches made with mayonnaise and left unrefrigerated to rot and mold.

I wonder if the college union food department could pass an unannounced State Board of Health inspection.

Indignant Student

Thanksgiving Dinner Served By Candlelight

A Thanksgiving Dinner away from home will be served by candlelight today, Nov. 21 at the College Union for those students holding semester meal tickets.

The special Thanksgiving Dinner menu will include roast Turkey with sage dressing, potatoes and gravy, apple ring garnish with a wide assortment of salads to be topped off with mince-meat or pumpkin pie ala mode

Due to overcrowded facilities, no dinner tickets which have been purchased through the Kenel will be accepted. Students from Steiner, Nelson and Delzell Residence Halls are asked to plan to eat at 4:15 p.m. in order to avoid congestion. Students from Pray-Sims and Hyer Residence Halls and any off-campus students holding semester meal tickets are asked to plan to eat at 5:15 p.m.

Focus

by Sue Stanke

Happiness, to many students, is just a thing called Joe's. Or, Fill's. Or any other local pub.

WSC students are just as determined as the rest of the populace to maintain a consumption rate of the foamy that makes Wisconsin the wonder and the darling of the brewer's of America.

Many, strange, and varied are the creatures that haunt the local bars. And Thursday evening is the night when all are out in full force, whether they have to hoof it, hitch-hike, are lucky enough to own a car or know who does, or (in case of bad weather or fallen arches) call a taxi. But go they will, and go they must! This is date-bait night, when whether a gal will stay home and watch television this week-end, or spend it with some gay blade, wineing and dining, will be decided by how the smile beams, the dance go, and the beer flows. "People-watching" becomes the favorite game.

There's maudlin Marv — he's been here since 3:30 p.m., getting an early start. His girl just ditched him, and anyone who enters is bound to get cornered and told the whole sad story of how his girl did him wrong. He's the one with the cherry nose and bucolic burp.

Flaming Flora is the butterfly emerged from the cocoon. All week she walks around campus looking dragged out and defeated in sweatshirt and cutoffs. On Thursday evening — viola! — ala Loretta Young style, she makes a grand entrance in stretch slacks and mohair sweater, hair a bewitching blonde (ala Miss Clair), Ipana smile flashing off and on like neon. This girl promises more than she's willing to give, and is out for all she can get.

Smiling Sam is the unshaven, young man in bluejeans and sunglasses, sitting in the corner, beaming brightly, though just a trifle alcoholically, at all who passes by, like a benign Buddha. This is the guy who knows who came with who, who's ditching who, that Jane just left, and whether Harry intends to make the scene tonight. For a beer, he'll tell you who that tall, curly-haired guy in the black H.I.S. slacks is — the one standing against the wall, talking to Joe.

One-drink Darlene always livens up the evening. This is the young miss who's been brought up on milk — and should have stuck with it. She is alternately happy, happy, happy, or in the midst of a quiet crying jag.

Fraternity friendship is at its height on Thursday evening. Impromptu chorus groups spring up in various locales — "Melancholy baby" is a perennial favorite of songs they love to sing — usually off-key.

There is always one rip-snorting, whoop-it-up, set-em-up-for-everybody, glorious exhibitionist who does what he hadn't oughter on Thursday evening. And it's always the quietest, nicest, most conservative and most unexpected person who is the star attraction — the one who insists on singing "A Hundred Bottles of Beer on the Wall" — all hundred choruses, and travels from booth to table to bar, being undeniably, deliciously, funny and drunk. He doesn't show his face Friday morning in the Union.

Good, bad, and indifferent — whatever one's reaction to Wisconsin firefighter, one must admit — it produces amazing effects.

Robert Rosenthal, Philosophy Teacher Gives Last Lecture

Robert Rosenthal, instructor of philosophy, will present the next of the Last Lecture Series at 7 p.m. Monday, Nov. 25, in rooms 21-22 of the College Union.

"Criticism and Love" is the title of Rosenthal's topic. In the last Lecture Series, the speaker presents a lecture which he considers significant to himself and the world.

WRA Ends Volleyball Tournament

WRA's Round-Robin Volleyball Tournament ended Monday, Nov. 11.

Captain Kay Stein led her able teammates to the 1963 championship with smashing victories throughout the tournament. Her winning squad included the following: Fran Gudericki, Sandy Howden, Karen Janny, Joan Abel, Esme Patterson, Sherril Romine, Carol Nelson and Mary Ellen Nolan.

In second place, losing out by only one-half game, was a team led by Iris Scheel. It consisted of Carole Steinke, Karen Guth, Mary Beach, Nadeen Thompson, Sue Marzynski, Barb Zurowski and Rita Rozmerynowski.

Several new sports activities are in progress at present for the WRA. Among these is synchronized swimming. Members can now ease their tension in the pool by swimming to music.

Pointers Basketball Preview

by Mike Sibilsky & Joe Kryszak
What's the score for the 1963-1964 Pointer basketball team as it looks forward to another challenging season?

Head coach Bob Krueger, in his second season at the helm, points out that this is definitely a rebuilding year for his cagers. Seven lettermen, including four regulars (Jark Ulwelling, John Krueger, Bill Nelson and Dick Ritzenthaler) plus top-flight reserves Jim Hansen and Dennis Bohman have been lost through graduation or for other reasons. This leaves Coach Krueger with only five lettermen, plus numerous Jayvee squad members, around which to mold another winning team.

Coach Krueger says that all positions are "open" as of this date, with no players assured of a starting berth.

He feels that the toughest opposition will be had from Platteville, which lost only one starter from last year's team, followed by the Titans of Oshkosh, to whom our Pointers finished second in the WSCC with a 9-3 record. Next in line, according to Krueger, will be La Crosse, which tied Point for second in the previous campaign.

The schedule will be demanding, especially in the first week, when the Pointers play four games. The first of these is the always-tough contest against the Alumni on Saturday, Nov. 30.

Dionysius, who was the tyrant of Syracuse, Sicily, for 38 years, never allowed his barber to cut his hair or trim his beard with scissors or a razor. All barbering had to be done with glowing hot coals. This unique tonsorial activity was due to the tyrant's mortal fear of assassination and of any edged tool near his scalp or throat. For the sake of this fear he was willing to undergo a scorching ordeal daily — the like of which has never been experienced by mortal man. However he did escape assassination.

Other backs who did well at their respective positions were fullback George Rivers (fourth in rushing) with 471 yards in 91 atmpmts. Also, quarterback Larry Balousek (third in passing) with 43 completions in 98 attempts for 652 yards and 5 TD's.
